

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 388

The state of Melinda was very frightening, and Queena immediately lost her mind. She immediately called Jonas and told her helplessly that Melinda had known everything.

At the same time, Jonas had just got Yulia's address from Alston. Thinking of the agitated mood of Melinda, it was obviously unrealistic for her to wait in the hospital.

"Mommy, you stay in the hospital with her. I'll be right there." Said Jonas. He made a sharp turn and drive towards the hospital.

He had planned to go to Alston, but he was worried about her and He drive the car faster and faster. However, when he arrived at the hospital, he saw the calm look of her.

She just sat there silently, which made people feel very distressed. Her eyes seemed to look out of the window without any focus, and she was completely absent-minded.

She was really afraid. She was afraid of losing this child. This child was very important to her. It was a child that came to this world.

Was she still unable to escape from fate? Can't she have her own child?

"Linda." He walked closer step by step, slowly and heavily. He felt very guilty. If he could care about the children a little, perhaps all this would not happen.

"Have you found Yulia?" Her voice was extremely calm, and there was a feeling of sadness that was no greater than death. At this time, she had no hope, or in other words, she was holding the worst thinking. Perhaps, the child had been in danger.

Tears welled up in her eyes.

"Don't cry. I'll take you to see Yulia now. We'll find the baby soon. The baby is waiting for us." Said Jonas, holding her in his arms. Her tears were like burning flames in his heart.

Both Melinda and Queena left with Jonas. The car was heading to a more and more strange place. At this time, in the basement, Yulia was still unwilling to admit what she had done, and was fearless to resist.

At the moment when she saw Yulia, Melinda was not as dull as before. She rushed up in an instant. She was so weak that she almost fell down, but she punched and kicked Yulia.

It could be said that she had never lost her mind like this in her life. She was still murmuring like a lunatic.

"You are such a lunatic. Go away. Where is the police? Take her away quickly." Seeing this, Jonas quickly stepped forward and stopped Yulia who wanted to fight back.

On the other hand, Queena walked aside with Melinda, wiped her tears and comforted her, "silly girl. Your health is the most important. Just let them deal with these things."

Jonas didn't have as much misgivings as Alston. He asked his men to use those methods in front of the police to force room where the children's cry could be heard from time to time. If it was somewhere an old building, and almost all the people had been moved. Sitting in the a big deal for him. He had tasted the cigarette butt that others had thrown away, but now he was most upset about this crying child.

crying since he was hold by Jerry. His voice was so hoarse and he didn't stop crying. How Jerry wished he

it was the cigarette. The baby's crying upset him. He threw the cigarette on the cracked ground face was red from crying. It was purple, which was a dangerous color, but no one cared Thinking that no one would come over here, he returned home with ease after leaving the child there.

which made him feel much more comfortable. Now he was really curious about strange that this woman, who had always been afraid of death, was not afraid of these tortures tried, Yulia couldn't expect that he would be stuck here, but there was an accident on the other child at all. A few policemen walked to this remote place and wanted to leave. One of them wanted to solve the problem. He came over and unexpectedly heard the child's the news that the child was found and sent to the hospital.

that these policemen would find a child to prevaricate, so that his men had found Jerry in a nearby shabby building it out that the hospital, while Yulia was taken back to the police couldn't calm down was Yulia. She had been considering of the consequences, but he had thrown the child into the garbage can and made the child cry all the time. Wasn't it eye-catching?

of the hardships she had suffered in order to hide him, was no one from the Wang family or Gu family to she began to recuperate quietly again. However, after such a thing happened, she was not at ease at all. It took her almost twenty-four hours to look after the send two men to guard the

in the building, Jonas still realized that he seemed to from nowhere and announced many secrets about the Soaring Group. These were confidential documents and had beginning, some people doubted it, but as more and more users scolded,