

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 41

Right from the start, Emily had planned to have sex with Jonas after he got drunk, but she didn't expect him to leave so quickly. She tried to contact him again, but she couldn't reach him.

According to her investigation, she learned that Melinda had been staying in the villa and that she and Jonas were in a good relationship.

Nelson had been anxious about them. He was surprised as well as happy when he knew that Jonas accompanied Melinda at home.

He had a feeling that his grandson's eye for women would be better sooner or later, due to Melinda's great kindness.

The two of them couldn't know what Nelson was thinking. Three days had passed since they went to the market. During that time, they needed to restock their pantry. Thinking of how Jonas could be of use, Melinda brought him along to the nearest grocery and purchased a lot of food items.

Simultaneously, Melinda wondered how long the vacation would last. Was it okay since Jonas did not go back to the company for so long?

Back in the Gu's mansion, Nelson was ecstatic to hear the latest update. Gavin stood beside him and complimented Jonas for finally being smart.

"Well, this holiday was indeed a good way to stir up and foster feelings. It seems like I will soon have a little great-grandchild."

Nelson thought it was a wise decision to arrange a holiday trip for just the two of them. He used to believe that they would be okay with each other, but now he wanted a great-grandchild.

As the grandfather of Jonas, who was considered a man of action, Nelson was the same. He called Jonas promptly.

"Jonas, how are you doing with Mellie?"

"Not bad."

After all, they could make their rest in stride. Although Jonas was miserable, he would rather not think about that.

"That's great. You are old enough to have a kid. Do it as soon as possible. I'll wait for your good news," said Nelson. Jonas's face felt numb and quite stiff for a moment, but he returned to normal.

"I get it, Grandpa. Do you have anything else to add?"

"It's okay now. You can go back to your honeymoon and enjoy yourselves." Nelson squinted and hung up the phone. People said that the honeymoon phase was the most convenient time to start trying for a baby.

Jonas knew he had to face the fact eventually, but considering his current status with Melinda, he was afraid it would be difficult.

Somehow, he felt a little excited at the thought that he might have a child with Melinda.

person had to be tough, including Jonas. He thought it over

"Let's talk."

Melinda's room. The door was not closed, and Melinda was not writing. Instead, she was lying back on the rattan chair, looking relaxed. Her glanced at Jonas, and then stood up, pointing to Jonas was somewhat unexpected. Proud as he was, he had been ignored these days and felt humbled. 'Why did he come

"Grandpa called."

"Are we going back?"

Jonas was a bit mad, and he put on a us to make

she thought of what had

is what Grandpa

Being refused like this made him feel humiliated and is no such stipulation in our contract, child issue anymore, as it would remind her of the baby she never expected to have. She sneered and looked at Jonas sank with deep sorrow. Although he didn't like her, it was his discussion with Melinda, suddenly held back pressure Melinda with intimidation.

was not in the delivered. He wanted to share it with Melinda but found out that she was asleep. She was curled up in a fetal position, which showed that she without any comforter covering her. Jonas moved nearer and studied her carefully. It was the first time he looked at her up close in all sincerity, and he suddenly at her pale lips, Jonas fought the urge to taste them. As long as they were red and puffed the tears at the corners of her eyes. He seemed to clamp spot to watch the view outside. But what made his balcony stand out was the sizable sofa with a wooden coffee table and various kinds of

of his intake. Then he positioned himself lazily on the sofa. The salty sea breeze blew his thick wavy hair, with lot of business dealings. Since Jonas couldn't take a holiday for he bully you, Mellie?" the old man

you take good care took wholly different attitudes towards the two people. He showed great concern for Melinda, and couldn't help losing his temper in front of Jonas. For the first time, Jonas suspected that Melinda might be the real granddaughter of preside over. I have brought her finally understood why he dressed formally today. Hearing this, Nelson glowered at him but said the servant to unpack your things. Tell me what you arranged someone to help Melinda and Jonas carry the baggage back to say that they barely got along with each other lately, and she didn't go out often. She had been preoccupied with writing chapters in the