

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 44

The atmosphere became tense and Jonas pretended to remain ignorant.

Although Melinda and Emily were scowling at each other, Jonas remained still.

Melinda was surprised. She had always thought that Jonas was on Emily's side.

"Jonas, it's been so long since I had spent time with you at your place. Do you mind if I stay here for a while?" Emily asked, biting her bottom lip nervously.

Melinda narrowed her eyes and stared at Emily. Jonas was a little surprised too. He didn't expect Emily would make such a request. Emily was intimidated by Melinda's presence. She didn't want Jonas to fall for Melinda, so she decided to stay at Jonas's place and separate them.

"Jonas, the paparazzi have found out where I live now. I... err..." she trailed off and stopped when she caught Melinda staring at her suspiciously.

Melinda understood that Emily had come with a plan. She wondered if the paparazzi knew why she was staying here.

Jonas thought that Melinda was annoyed by Emily's presence and he groaned in frustration. Women were always hard to deal with.

"Jonas, she has been your best friend since childhood. She can stay with us for a few days. Ask Gavin to arrange a room for her," Melinda said, smirking at Emily.

Emily was shocked by Melinda's response. She was annoyed that Melinda didn't react and create problems like she had expected her to. But she couldn't refuse the offer.

Although Melinda wasn't a stunning beauty, she had an amazing personality. She could effortlessly mesmerize people with her charm.

Gavin stood in a corner and watched them talk. Melinda instructed him to arrange a room for Emily.

Emily's decision was spontaneous and she did not bring her belongings with her. Jonas bought new things for her, which lit a spark of hope in Emily's heart.

Melinda usually dressed casually at home. Emily was surprised to see Melinda walk down in a light purple gauze skirt and a pair of silver high heels during dinner. Her hair was tied into a loose bun as tendrils of hair escaped from the sides.

Jonas's breath caught in his throat when he saw Melinda. She was looking elegant and graceful.

Nelson sat in the center, while Melinda and Jonas sat at one side and Yulia and Emily sat opposite to them, casting awkward glances at each other. Queena had gone out to have dinner with friends.

Yulia was annoyed by Emily's presence. She had been frustrated ever since Melinda told her that Emily was going to stay with them for a couple of days.

Emily was a beautiful woman. She was social and could effortlessly captivate people's hearts. Yulia was insecure around her.

"Grandpa, living with strangers makes me uncomfortable."

was wiped

but she was seeing her for the first time. It had only been five didn't mean to offend you. I know that you just want to catch up with your friend.

who looked aback. It would be foolish of her to stay back after all the humiliation.

normal for you to stay at your friend's place, but my condition is..." Yulia paused and gritted her teeth.

"If you want to catch up with him, I'll move at Emily

taunts. She shook her head and ignored

Yulia is getting better. Moreover, you are always busy and hardly have the time to go out. Why don't you and Yulia take a trip around A City? There are many new places that you intentions. He wouldn't let anyone have a bad appetite. I'm sorry, I'll go back to the chopsticks and stood up on my own." Emily

made her happy. She wanted to use her last chance to go, leave right away. Don't dropped her food and stared at Yulia in not been insulted before and resisted the urge to punch Yulia in the face. But she needed to control her emotions. Otherwise, the image of politely requested Emily with her. She had no choice but to leave. She put down her bowl and chopsticks and stood up as her eyes welled she saw the triumphant look on here. I'll take you there. We can go to the mall or a never had the patience to deal with emotional dramas but he couldn't see Emily like this. Emily sniffed loudly as tears rolled Emily."

Jonas

hurt Emily. Yulia had delighted to see Jonas stand up for her. Just when supported Yulia in the beginning, she thought it would be inappropriate for her to interfere in their personal affairs. Seeing

Nelson asked as soon as Jonas hung up call was from William and he wondered if company. I'll ask the chauffeur to drive you home," he said, running his fingers managed to fix a date with him but the phone call had ruined everything. Melinda arched an eyebrow and she was wrong. She realized that something had happened in problem in the finance department. I'm going