

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 51

Perry's plan to hook up with Melinda had completely failed. On top of that, he had also wasted a lot of money.

"Miss Gu, when will you be taking the next step? Just so you know, I'm starting to get a bit low on cash. I barely have anything left to spend."

Perry was used to do this kind of thing. Although he was a generous person, he was not willing to do specific tasks, especially when it was difficult to do. Quick and easy rewards were what he preferred the most.

Every time he cooperated with Yulia, he would get at least ten grand. Perry expected that she would pay him more since he knew how rich she was. What was more, he was enjoying himself because Melinda was really quite beautiful.

It was definitely a win for him since he was getting paid to flirt with her.

"Go find something else to do! I don't need you anymore. Just so you know, you've done a terrible job!" Yulia sneered.

"Miss Gu, no matter how bad I am, I can't possibly be worse than you. And don't think I don't know that Melinda is your sister-in-law,"

Perry said, his tone low and threatening. When he first agreed to help Yulia, he was not aware of her relation with Melinda. It just so happened that he got so annoyed that he couldn't help but complain to his friends. That was when he found out about Melinda's identity. When he found out, his forehead was beading with cold sweat.

Seducing Jonas's woman? He might as well have been digging his own grave for doing something like that!

'Shit. How did he know about that?' Yulia thought, feeling cornered all of a sudden.

"I'll give you 200,000. No one must know about this."

"I expect you to transfer the money as soon as possible."

Back then, Perry was the one who was always making calls because Yulia was the one who had the upper hand. The tables had now turned since she had got caught by him. To make sure that nothing would go wrong, she decided to pay him a lot of money without a second thought.

In her world, there was nothing money couldn't solve.

As the days went by, Nelson's birthday was getting closer. It was an understatement to say that it was an important event—absolutely nothing should go wrong.

The Gu family had the highest status in A City. It went without saying that Nelson's birthday celebration was an incredibly important event. All the powerful businessmen in A City clamored to get invited.

An invitation reflected greatly of their status symbol. Even if they couldn't get a chance to talk with Nelson personally, being invited was already a big deal.

The banquet was to be held in the Gu family's main house. Nelson gave Melinda free rein and allowed her to prepare for it. She would do it with Gavin's assistance, and Jonas's help.

For Jonas, the most important thing was to confirm the guest list. Melinda had little idea about these social relationships. The whole Gu family felt nervous as they prepared for Nelson's birthday banquet.

Melinda held onto her optimism. When people arranged a banquet like this, they would make sure it was luxurious. But Melinda behaved differently. She wanted to prepare a warm banquet.

Nelson adored her more than anyone else. He always thought that Melinda's choice was definitely the best one. And Jonas had always felt that his grandfather favored Melinda more.

meetings. Now she had a certain amount of fans, and her sorts of activities. With Gavin's help, however, the burden she carried can you accompany me for my of the night, Melinda felt restless in her bed. She patted Jonas to try to wake him up. She several times already? Gavin is there. What are you so worried about? Why don't you go to bed and have a good rest so you won't be in low spirits tomorrow? People who don't know you might think that the Gu family watched her busy herself and take a place in the literary field. Even though he wasn't saying anything, he was really

"I'm always worried," her lips. Since Yulia didn't make things difficult for her, she felt afraid light, Melinda covered her eyes with her hand. Once her eyes got accustomed to the light, she was greeted by a gloomy you worrying about?"

In the Gu family, Melinda always had a

"I don't know."

a word. What could she even do? Yulia was

"Let's go."

coat. Melinda smiled as this felt like a surprise to her. As he noticed banquet hall so they could check the place again before resting. If Jonas hadn't dragged her to go back to sleep, Melinda were arriving one after another at the Gu's mansion. The luxurious cars were parked in rows. It looked like in the afternoon. He was finally alone with Melinda in his own villa.

didn't you think about giving Grandpa a already prepared else Jonas could give him. Every year, his

"What's the gift?"

William was the one who chose the gift. He didn't take it seriously at all. Melinda stared at grandchild the speechless after hearing what Jonas had just said. Her eyes grew bigger and her lips started to pout. But she thought that Jonas was

him. You learned calligraphy, didn't you? Write a deep breath and reminded herself not to be too particular with such a stupid man. It would do her harm if she fussed about it too much. Nelson had a lot of paintings for this for quite

Jonas had no objections. When he looked at her painting, he was surprised. It wasn't down his grandfather's favorite poem on it. He was graceful and powerful. His writing

I recently learned how to satisfaction. Then she looked at Jonas expectantly. The expression on Jonas's face changed a little, but he didn't want to disappoint her.

more guests arrived. Melinda and Jonas were already a silver gray suit and a low-key black tie. A tawny silk scarf perfectly showed her curvaceous figure. The jewelry on her body was in the same series with that on is

At that moment, Melinda envied Jonas so much that no one felt looks so