

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 53

"Are you leaving?"

Yulia asked with a hint of regret when she saw the man holding his car keys in his hand.

"Unfortunately my friend has been looking for me, urgently trying to communicate with me so I have to go home now. I'm sorry that I can't accompany you," said the man looking guilty.

Meanwhile, although he was looking sorry, his eyes were looking straight into Yulia's eyes, as if he was trying to communicate something to her. Yulia bit her lips while wringing her hands and turned to look at the main villa.

When she thought of Melinda, she really didn't want to go back to the banquet hall at all, because no one cared about her existence anyway.

"Can... can I go with you?"

Yulia asked after some hesitation. She liked hanging around the man because he gave her a sense of comfort and always took her seriously. He treated her as if she mattered.

"Are you sure you don't want to go back to the banquet?"

The man gave her a penetrating stare. His eyes seemed to see right through her thoughts at a glance. She nodded shyly, and said looking aggrieved, "I don't want to stay there at all.

"I'm going out for a drink with a few friends. Are you sure you are okay with that?"

The man suddenly walked up and touched Yulia's head, as if trying to comfort her. Such intimate behavior as if they were familiar with each other made Yulia blush. Then she threw caution to the wind and put her arms around the man's waist and said, "Take me away with you, please."

His chest did not disappoint. It was as warm as she had imagined, and he didn't refuse her request. She was sure that this person really must like her. She couldn't help but give a secret smile marveling at how lucky she was.

"Alright, let's go," the man said as he tagged Yulia's hand, leading her to the car.

Once Yulia got into the car, he made sure she was comfortable before he fastened her seat belt for her carefully.

"I don't know anything about you, at least tell me your name for starters."

Yulia had been so happy with all the attention she was receiving; she was in cloud nine, and had even forgotten to ask for his name. The man smiled exposing his well-lined teeth, fit for a toothpaste advert and said, "My name is Alan Lu."

"Alan?"

"What?"

Alan Lu looked at Yulia in confusion, while she was giggling and grinning like a Cheshire cat. The car was soon started and smoothly left the Gu's mansion, gaining power as it cruised down the freeway. Yulia was not worried that they were not talking to each other. She was very comfortable with the silence as long as she was sitting beside Alan Lu. She kept smiling the whole time until they reached their destination.

Several of Alan Lu's friends were at the bar. As soon as he walked hand in hand with Yulia, they teased the two of them for a while as if it was not an everyday occurrence for Alan Lu to show up with a girl. Yulia was still adjusting to meeting so many strangers so she stayed quiet beside Alan Lu.

They started playing dice while Alan Lu drank as fast as he was playing, although he prevented Yulia from drinking as much. Soon he was too drunk to even hold his head up so he leaned on Yulia, and took a nap.

Yulia did not mind such intimate behavior and hoped for more.

The rest of his friends continued drinking and watching the show without giving them a single thought until it was past 1 a.m. before they started leaving one by one, each for their own direction. Before they left they would look at the two curiously as if just noticing that they were still there.

as they got into the room, they both slumped into the bed at the same time. Yulia fell on Alan Lu who she had been struggling to hold upright and could barely move. Once it registered in her mind that she was actually on top of Alan Lu, she gingerly put her hands on his abdomen making held his breath and stopped Yulia's hand from Gu, need to take a face turned was instantly appeased. She had been a little embarrassed by her daring actions, but now she arms around Alan Lu's waist and said softly, "Please call me to say that it didn't matter if he couldn't control himself, but she softened when she saw the look of desperation in back and tucked herself into bed. She always thought up a lot. He hailed a taxi for Yulia and sent her Melinda was taking out the cake that she and Jonas had made. Nelson was over the moon since they had spent such a long ask who Alan Lu really was, but she held back. Eventually, she went to the dining room early the next morning and asked Nelson who was having he must be among the group of people who had started their own business in recent years. He is quite famous in the Information Technology industry nowadays, but he was still impressed by their success and their business acumen. Yulia became even more attracted to Alan Lu when she heard what her grandfather had to say about him. Her grandfather was never easily impressed and a person who started a business on his own without any external help must be

"Okay."

do you ask, how come you are so interested with him. "I heard a few people talking about him last night, and I got curious," she paying collected from Gavin, Yulia went to Aner Electronic Technology Company. She curiously looked around the company that had a modern electric

I'm Yulia Gu from Soaring Group. I am here that she couldn't just walk into people's offices without an appointment, Yulia introduced herself giving her identity. As soon as she heard who Yulia was, the receptionist immediately made a call will be waiting for you as soon as you step out of the elevator, her very clear directions and it was only after Yulia had left that she stopped and wondered seventh floor, a secretary came to receive her moment," said the secretary. Then she white colors and was instead decorated with many brand names of various major electronic brands that some she could identify, while others she wasn't very familiar with.

of his neck as he twisted it left and right trying to loosen up the kinks as he walked into his office. He always felt exhausted and uncomfortable after

"Yulia."

soon as he saw her. "I'm sorry for keeping you waiting for so long," said Alan hope I didn't disturb you too much by not really, I'm very bigger. She knew that Alan Lu must really like her for him to dot on her so much and allow spoke, Yulia nodded her head excitedly. Alan Lu's company hadn't gone large scale yet since it had been developed in the last two years. Most of his employees were in the IT industry and were young people who looked like technology geeks. As a result, Yulia had a new understanding of Lu, and liked him more, the more time she spent with him. She would come to Aner Electronic Technology Company anytime she was free and was soon a frequent fixture in the company. Everyone in the company was familiar with her, and her relationship to their boss although they

show

a romantic man and Yulia was overwhelmed by his numerous surprises that would come

let's have dinner at my house

Lu with every passing time that she spent with him. In her eyes, Alan Lu was a knowledgeable, talented, and capable person who don't think this is a good idea," Alan Lu

the

I want you to meet my family. Grandpa praised you before when I asked him about you and I am sure that he that Alan Lu was acknowledged by her family, so that she could further develop their relationship with Alan Lu. Yulia didn't bother