Fortune Chapter 15

“Damn, this kid’s luck is too good, that scrap stone has really turned out to be green, this is simply a great bargain!”

“Yes, he’s not just lucky, his luck is simply unbelievable, a piece of scrap has turned out green and has the momentum to rise, this is the first time in Shanghai City.”

Some people who saw Ye Han buy the scrap stone just now pounded their chests and sighed, if they had picked up the stone, they would have made a lot of money, the man who had just sold Ye Han the scrap stone was also in the crowd, at this moment, his face was already a bit dark, if Ye Han’s scrap stone really rose, then he might be scolded by the senior management.

Three thousand dollars to buy this piece of scrap, who was losing out anyway?

“Little brother, don’t solve it, I’ll give you five million, how about selling this piece of raw stone?” A man finally couldn’t help but speak up when he saw Ye Han unraveling a wider and wider range of green.

“Hmph, you’re only five million, I’ll offer six million, little brother, you sell it to, right?”

“I’ll offer seven million, little brother, sell it, you definitely won’t lose.”

“Eight million, little brother, you stop now, I offer eight million, if you continue to solve it, maybe you will lose money.”

“I’ll offer nine million!”

“I’ll bid ten million!”

The people quoting were getting higher and higher, ten million, this was already a very high price, when he heard this figure Ye Han’s hand couldn’t help but shake, but he still concentrated on super controlling the stone solving machine rubbing around the original stone, now half of it had come out green, he wanted to rub out the other half completely.

At this moment, Zhou Yun’er’s head was already a bit turned around, looking at Ye Han in a daze, a scrap stone was offered at ten million, this was something she didn’t dare to imagine, this was compared to winning the lottery, the odds were much smaller.

“I bid eleven million.” Seeing the range of green coming out of the raw stone in Ye Han’s hand getting bigger and bigger, finally someone else couldn’t sink anymore, and this cry also woke Zhou Yun’er up.

“I’ll bid twelve million, I bet that this raw stone will definitely rise greatly, it’s likely to be an ice grade jadeite, twelve million is not a loss.”

“Hmph, are you the only one who has money, dude White, I bid thirteen million, little brother, stop.”

“I’ll offer fifteen million.” This time it was Zhou Yun’er who made the offer, after being awakened, she immediately made the offer, her intuition and experience told her that this piece of raw stone in Ye Han’s hand was definitely worth the price, although at first she had looked away, but after the green came out she already had a few certainties in her mind.

Fifteen million, hearing Zhou Yun'er's offer, the people present frowned, although Ye Han had almost finished solving the stone, they had no idea whether the stone was worth this price or not, in the end, they were still far behind Zhou Yun'er in terms of eyesight and experience.

So, there was a brief moment of silence as they waited for Ye Han to completely unlock the stone. Finally, half an hour later, Ye Han completely unlocked the stone and a pure green, the size of two adult fists, emerged in front of everyone's eyes, not too faint, not too bright.

This scene was on the verge of blinding the eyes of the people present.

"Whew! This is an emerald, for goodness sake! This is the finest of all emeralds! And it's two bowls' worth of emeralds!"

"I can't, I'm going crazy, emeralds can appear in Shanghai City, it's rare to see one in ten years!"

Even Zhou Yun'er had not guessed that Ye Han would unravel an emerald, he didn't know what words to use to describe his luck.

"I bid 20 million for this emerald." But just as the others were still exclaiming in amazement, someone else had already bid, and he was five million higher than Zhou Yun'er at this opening.

"I bid twenty-five million."

"Oh, an emerald, and it's so big, how can you win at twenty-five million, I'll bid thirty million."

"I'll give thirty-five million."

"Emeralds, you can't find them, I'll give you forty million, it's worth it."

"I bid forty-five million."

At this moment, listening to those crazy offers around him, Ye Han felt his heart was numb, a scrap of raw stone, and now it had been offered at forty five million, to know that he had not spent a single penny on this raw stone, it was completely picked up for nothing, moreover, Ye Han did not expect that he would have such a big harvest on this trip to the gambling market, forty five million this was to a poor boy half a month ago What a concept, it was not too much to get rich overnight.

Moreover, forty-five million was not the final bottom line for these people, the price continued to go up.

"I'll bid fifty million." Zhou Yun'er quoted, a pair of beautiful eyes just looked at Ye Han, looking wise and beautiful, she was the strong woman in the mall at this moment.

"Oh, Miss Zhou, sorry, I also have my eye on this emerald, I'll offer fifty five million." A man smiled lightly and quoted a higher price.

At that, Zhou Yun'er smiled and said; "Mr. Wang, there is no need to be polite, we all compete in the mall based on our abilities, I'll offer sixty million."

The man called Mr. Wang frowned and continued; "I bid 65 million, Miss Zhou, although emeralds are rare, your jewellery shop may not have them, why compete with me?"

Zhou Yun'er said; "Mr. Wang you are joking, we all want to do a good job with this business, I won't want to give up this emerald, I bid 70 million."

The man surnamed Wang also owns a jewellery shop, his name is Wang Kun, he and Zhou Yun'er are peers, as the saying goes, peers are enemies, this enemy fights with each other, they are better not to interfere easily, although the emerald, but also must be able to compete ah!

"Hmph, Miss Zhou is really a woman, I'll give you seventy-five million." Wang Kun coldly snorted, for Zhou Yun'er, a fellow ingrate, he had actually long been displeased.

Hearing this, Zhou Yun'er frowned, seventy-five million was already more than her estimate, if she added more, this emerald would not make much money even if it was made into a finished product, she was not too happy about Wang Kun's deliberate raising of the bar, so she looked at Ye Han, although she and Wang Kun were competing for this emerald, the item was still in Ye Han's hands.

When he came into contact with Zhou Yun'er's watery eyes, Ye Han's heart could not help but stir, "My God! This girl was discharging her energy at him, engaging in a gentle attack, thinking of this Ye Han couldn't help but roll his eyes, but no matter what this emerald was only because of Zhou Yun'er that he had the chance to get it.

"Sorry, seventy-five million dollars I will not buy, Miss Zhou, this emerald is yours." At the critical moment, Ye Han could only stand out, what if he sold it to Zhou Yun'er for $70 million for nothing, hearing Ye Han's words, Wang Kun's lungs almost exploded with anger, his gaze gave Ye Han a grim look, coldly snorted and raised his head to leave.

Ye Han and Zhou Yun'er were standing together, and when everyone saw that the emerald had been found, they were overwhelmed with emotion.
