Chapter 291 You and Kingston Were Wrong!

“In addition, do not mention Kingston again. Even if he is not dead, I will have people continue to shoot him until he is dead.”

“You...”

“In the future, you couldn’t return to City D to pay respects to Brittany. You have done your best in the past few years. She has the Irwins to pay respects to her. You and the Irwins have long been unrelated. I will not allow you to be involved again.”

Every time she was involved, he would be on tenterhooks and was worried that he would lose her completely.

Krista was disappointed. The heater was on in the room, but she felt that her whole body was trembling in the cold winter.

“Continue.”

She barely managed to spit out these words from her mouth.

“Get married immediately when you get back.”

“Marriage? Your mother doesn’t like me and has always been optimistic about the Princess of the royal family. The last time I called you, she was the one who spoke on the side, right? You must have interacted with her quite a bit during this period. Should I suspect you too?”

She mocked.

Lance was uncomfortable when hearing this. How could she doubt him?

Wasn't she clear about what he was like?

"Krista, don't be unreasonable."

"Unreasonable, so this is called being unreasonable..." She was so mad that she had nothing to say.

He could question her, but she could not do the same. "What if I refuse?"

She looked at him and clenched her hands, wondering how Lance would treat her if she was unwilling.

Lance took a deep breath when he heard that. He hardened his heart and said, "Krista, is it that I indulge you too much, so you are, now bold and lawless. I am only doing what I deserve, and you have long been mine. Is my request too much?"

"We are a couple and have been engaged early. I am also grateful that you saved me back then and gave me a chance to be reborn. So no matter what you ask of me, I should be obedient, even if your request is wrong?"

During this period, she had thought of all methods to escape.

She used her knife to block Kingston and also fell from upstairs.

She had been thinking about her fiance. She didn't want to disappoint him and understood what she was doing.

But was Lance clear about what he had done?

He had been delayed for more than ten days and finally came over to kill Kingston. He even suspected that she was no longer a virgin?

Could it be all her fault? Did he do nothing wrong?

If he had come earlier, things would not have developed to this point.

“Krista!”

Lance was unhappy with her remarks.

In the past, Krista was obedient, sensible, and would never disobey him.

But now she had changed. It was all because of Kingston.

Was Kingston so important to her?

“You’ve learned bad things from him. Did Kingston teach you to resist me like this?”

Krista felt that she had nothing to do with Kingston because she had lost a lot of important memories.

However, Lance couldn’t do it. When he thought of all that had happened back then, he was extremely concerned about Kingston and hated him.

So that he often mentioned Kingston and felt that Krista had done everything for him. This also made Krista somewhat unable to take it.

“No, I am me and have never changed. I used to feel right to listen to you. But now you are wrong, why should I listen to you?”

“I didn’t miss it. You were wrong. You and Kingston were wrong.”

Lance said stubbornly. Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 292

Chapter 292 Why Don't You Resist?

"Lance. Then I have nothing to say to you. Let me go. I want to meet Kingston. I can't approve of your current behavior. I think that killing is wrong, and Kingston should not be attacked!"

"Kingston, Kingston, and Kingston! Don't mention him in front of me!"

Lance was completely enraged. He threw her onto the bed and tore at her clothes.

"What exactly did Kingston do to you? Did he pamper you, possess your body, and occupy your soul? You are my fiancée. Why are you worried about another man? I don't allow it."

"I want you to become my wife now. Only I can possess your body!"

Lance violently tore at her clothes with brute force, making her black and blue, as if she had experienced domestic violence.

She tried her best to resist. However, it did not work because of the difference in strength between a man and a woman.

Lance forcefully tore it apart as he spoke with conviction.

"You should be obedient. Your life is mine. And you can only listen to me. Everything about you is mine! Everything!"

Krista gave up completely because she couldn't resist at all.

In that case, it would be better to save her breath.

She closed her eyes in pain and stopped struggling with her pale lips trembling.

Her tears flowed out uncontrollably from the closed eyes, sparkling and translucent.

Lance felt that she was losing her spirits little by little. He became even angrier.

“Defy me! Why don’t you resist? Did you do the same to him?”

At that, Krista only felt the pain of her heart being pierced through.

Why did they turn into this in just ten days?

With that, Lance realized something.

He was in struggle and suffering with his pale lips. He knew that he was too extreme.

But when he thought of that beast, Kingston, who had touched every inch of her skin, he could not endure it.

He believed in Krista. He knew that she had struggled. But in the end, she had no choice but to submit to tyrannical Kingston.

It was his fault for being delayed for so long before saving her.

But ... but she shouldn’t be worried about Kingston. What did his life have to do with her?

What he couldn’t bear the most was that she said the name Kingston.

“Krista, we’ll leave in the afternoon. Have a good rest. Let’s talk about something else when we return to Phelan City.”

Krista did not respond. She only curled up and pulled the quilt over her body.

She was suddenly afraid of Lance.

She was afraid that he would go crazy and say those terrible things.

Lance went to prepare for going back. He had had no intention of leaving in the afternoon, which seemed too hasty.

But now, to avoid the long delay, he wished to immediately fly back to Phelan City,

Krista recovered from fear and looked at the bruises on her body. Her tears silently fell.

She didn't know what to do now.

She wanted to take a look at Kingston. But Lance seemed to go crazy when she mentioned that.

She also wanted to go back to Phelan City. She was Lance's fiancée. What happened between Kingston and her was just a small episode. After that, Lance's and her lives still had to jog along from day to day.

None of them could forget today's unhappiness.

However, what people were best at was self-deception and they pretended that nothing had happened.

Lance had finished packing and came to knock on the door without going in.

He knew that he had been rude, which scared her. He wanted to give her time to calm down. Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 293

Chapter 293 Is He Well?

“Krista, are you ready?”

At that, Krista opened the door.

She changed into new clothes and appeared in front of him.

“Yes.”

“Just now ... It was my fault. I was too emotional. Maybe I was too tired at work recently. Let’s go back and talk about it slowly. When we are together, we always have problems. As long as we solve it together, we will be good.”

“Well, I know .... I also did something wrong.”

Krista also apologized and gave each other a way out.

Lance let out a sigh of relief. He had been worried that she would no longer pay attention to him.

“Lance, where’s my phone? The Ortiz family is in trouble and I don’t know how it is. I want to call Aracely. If I have to go back, should tell Aracely.”

Because their relationship was better, Lance did not ask for too much. He gave her the phone and allowed her to contact Aracely.

Krista went to the bathroom and suddenly found that she did not have Kingston’s phone number.

Staying in the villa for more than ten days, but she did not know Kingston’s number.

Without the mobile signal, she couldn’t make a phone call, so she hardly ever used the phone.

She had never thought of exchanging the phone number. And she was eager to leave.

Just as she was distraught, a string of numbers suddenly popped up in her mind.

She dialed the number shakily. However, all she got was a busy signal.

She didn't know whose number it was. It suddenly appeared in the depths of her mind.

The phone rang for a long time before being answered.

"Hello. Mr. Irwin is not available recently. I'll do it for him."

"Quincy?" She was pleasantly surprised. Could she dial Kingston's number?

How could such a magical thing happen in this world? Did she have a special ability?

How could she have known that she was familiar with this number and could not forget it?

"Are you ... Ms. Compton?"

Quincy was also a little surprised.

"Where is Kingston? How is he now? Is he well?"

"He..." Quincy hesitated for a fraction of a second, making Krista nervous.

"Is ... is he still alive?"

Quincy said gravely, "I don't know. He is still in surgery. I'm outside the operating room. I don't know who did this assassination. If I knew, I would never let that person go."

Quincy was resentful.

At that, Krista was filled with guilt. All of this was done by Lance. She felt very sorry for Kingston.

"This is my number. Could you save it? And tell me any information about Kingston, please. I'm going back to Phelan City..."

"Ms. Compton, aren't you coming to meet Mr. Irwin?"

"..."

Krista felt swamped by guilt.

She did not hurt Kingston, but Kingston was attacked because of her. All that Lance did was for her.

She was more worried about Kingston than anyone else. However, if she stayed here, Lance would do something terrible. She could only return to Phelan City and seek other ways. "I can't go there. So tell me his condition, please. I will also pray for him. Nothing bad will happen. He will not die..."

She was painful when she said this.

She was willing to shorten her life by ten years and only hoped that Kingston would be safe.

"Alright, I'll tell you once the surgery is finished."

"Thank you, Quincy."

Krista hung up the phone. She looked like a rabbit with her red eyes. She was really worried about Kingston.

Then she called Aracely. Aracely would have to conduct the affairs in City D and did not return to Phelan City for some time. Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 294

Chapter 294 Carlisle

Krista asked Aracely to go to the hospital afterward. Krista was still worried and she could feel a little more at ease if Aracely went to the hospital.

After that, Krista went to the airport and soon got on the plane.

She had suffered a lot and was still frightened.

She didn't feel comfortable. And she didn't dare to rest because the moment she closed her eyes, she thought of Kingston's bloody body.

Kingston was questioning Krista why ... she wanted to kill him.

She went back with a heavy heart. She didn't even see Luck and locked herself in the room..

She wanted to calm down.

"Tell them that the Lamb family is going to hold the wedding."

Lance ordered the people beside him.

Ryan was the first to help prepare the wedding after he knew it. The whole family was busy preparing the wedding.

Krista knew nothing about this. She had fallen ill when she returned to her apartment. It was not serious. She had been having a low fever. She did not know if it was because she had not recovered completely or because she was worried.

Lance had seen her. The doctor said that she wasn't seriously ill and she got a shot and took the medicine.

Lance wanted to be with her, but Ryan called to say that he needed to deal with the aftermath of the contract. Lance had to leave for the group.

Krista didn't wake up until evening.

She was weak and her body was hot.

The cook prepared a hot porridge and sent it over. She was eating it in small bites.

She looked at her phone repeatedly, hoping to get a call from Quincy. But she was also afraid that Quincy would tell her the bad news.

She felt uneasy.

There was a noise outside.

"Mrs. Lamb, you can't ... Mr. Hamm told us that you can't go in."

"How dare you?"

Suddenly, the door was kicked open and a blonde woman rushed in. She was Lance's mother.

To be precise, she wasn't.

Lance's birth mother was someone else, and Carlisle was only his foster mother in name.

Carlisle entered angrily. She looked at Krista in disgust and directly knocked over the porridge in Krista's hand.

The porridge was extremely hot and it all spilled because of Carlisle.

Some sprinkled on the quilt and some sprinkled on Krista's body. Krista came to her senses because of the heat.

She felt that her clothes were so hot that her skin would be burned.

Krista was about to clean up, but Carlisle pulled her off the bed.

Krista was weak and she fell heavily to the ground.

"Mrs. Lamb, what are you doing? What should we do when Mr. Hamm comes back and sees this?"

"Mrs. Lamb, Ms. Compton is still sick. She can't stand such torment. Please let her go."

The servants were sincere. Knowing how important Krista was to Lance, they rushed over and tried to persuade Carlisle.

They did not dare to retaliate and could only stand in front of Krista to protect her.

When Carlisle found that she couldn't hit Krista, she was very angry. She kicked the servants over and finally grabbed Krista's hair.

“A slut like you wants to marry into our family? I know what you are thinking. You want to steal my son! You deserve to die. I should have killed you four years ago.”

After saying that, Carlisle grabbed Krista by the neck.

“Mrs. Lamb... calm down...”

Krista struggled and resisted, but she was weak. Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 295
Chapter 295 Be Obedient

Krista couldn't breathe at all so got less oxygen.

She felt suffocated, like falling into the bottom of an abyss.

Her consciousness was gradually fading. And she could not see the people around her, nor hear what Carlisle said. The people around her seemed to be crying. Was it because she was going to die?

Just when she thought she was going to die, Lance returned in time and pushed Carlisle away.

She was saved.

However, she could not help but cough.

She violently coughed while her little face flushed red. And she was extremely weak.

Lance picked her up and held her tightly in his arms.

“Krista, Krista...”

He anxiously called her name. Seeing her like this, he burned with anxiety.

“Why are you all standing there? Clean up the room and call the doctor.”

Very quickly, the room was cleaned up. Krista’s clothes were dirty and needed to be changed.

Carlisle was still in the room.

“Carlisle, please leave now.”

“Chase her away. She doesn’t deserve to be with us.”

“If you insist on chasing her away, I’ll leave with her.”

Lance looked at Carlisle coldly.

He had nothing but hatred for this woman.

It was her who had killed his natural mother!

Carlisle’s heart skipped a beat when she met his gaze.

“Don’t you dare?”

“Let’s see if I dare! Send Mrs. Lamb out. If you can’t keep an eye on the house and let anyone in, you can all pay with your lives,” Lance said to the servants.

He was extremely cold.

With that, he did not even look at Carlisle but carefully placed Krista on the bed.

The servants gathered their courage and sent Carlisle away.

“Mr. Hamm...”

Krista recovered and got back to normal breathing.

“I’m sorry. It’s my fault. Does it hurt? I’ll change your clothes and apply medicine for you.”

“The servants are innocent...”

“They are not doing well so are not innocent.”

“But...”

“Skip it. They are not worthy of your pleading. Be obedient.”

Krista was interrupted by Lance before she could finish. She knew that Lance was angry at Carlisle for bullying her. But ... his way of handling things was frightening!

She had always thought that Kingston was gloomy and vicious. But ... Kingston didn’t seem to be this way.

Lance could arrange for assassination and kill Kingston.

He could also yell at the servants. And it seemed that he could decide the life and death of his servants at will.

She disliked this.

Mr. Hamm had not been like this.

He had been very gentle. And he would rather harm himself than hurt others.

He looked always very warm when he smiled. He taught and educated the students, helped them to open a studio, and gave them a chance to stand out.

He was tolerant and patient towards everyone, like a prince in a cartoon.

But now...

Everything had changed unknowingly since he returned to the Lamb family.

Lance brought a new set of pajamas for her to change into. But she was a little resistant.

"I... I can do it myself."

Lance furrowed his brows tightly. He was a little displeased and was about to get angry, but he held back.

She was a patient and had been frightened just now.

It's better to have a good attitude and take it slow.

"Okay, you change it yourself then. I will come back later."

He also had to deal with Carlisle. He knew that the servants wouldn't dare to touch her. After all, she was his so-called mother.

He went outside the room. Carlisle was shouting in the living room downstairs. She didn't look like a noble at all. She was a shrew in the food market.

He stood on the stairs and looked at Carlisle with hatred in his eyes.

He clenched his fists silently. Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 296

Chapter 296 Carlisle's Past

Carlisle was once a noble in City Joel, but because of poor management, her family had declined.

Later, Louis Fitton appeared, who was young, promising, and talented. Carlisle's father had a high valuation on him. He tried to promote him at all costs. In the end, he betrothed his daughter to him.

After they got married, the couple were in a good relationship.

The Lamb Group also got on the right track.

But they didn't have a child for many years. They went to the hospital and found out that Carlisle had little chance of getting pregnant due to physical reasons.

In the end, in order to keep her husband, she went so far as to find a girl for Louis.

She only wanted the girl to give birth to a child and then leave.

Also, because she couldn't bear a child, Carlisle began to get weird. Louis strongly refused at first. He thought that it was nothing to have no child as long as they had a good relationship, which was more important than anything else.

But Carlisle blamed herself, and she bought a Chinese girl and sent her to Louis' bedroom. She drugged Louis to make it happen.

Because of this, Louis had ignored Carlisle for a long time. For the sake of their relationship and knowing that it was hard for her, he treated her better after making up.

He avoided the Chinese girl on purpose. They basically would not meet except for a few nights on her ovulation dates.

But Carlisle, on the other hand, became more and more eccentric, suspicious and liked to fantasize about things that didn't exist. It drove Louis crazy.

Therefore, she completely pushed Louis to the girl. Forced to have a child and embarrassed by Carlisle, she aroused his instincts of protection.

But even at this point, Louis knew his identity and didn't go any further.

He was all well-behaved, but Carlisle was getting more and more terrifying.

against her with her mother.

Moreover, she even fantasized that this woman would win Louis' favor with her child and replace her.

She regretted.

She even thought that a cousin of her would be more appropriate.

She became so vicious that she wanted to kill the mother and the son.

After she killed the woman, Louis arrived when she was about to kill the newborn child. Fortunately, Louis saved the child.

The child was sent to the incubator because of premature birth. However, he took Ryan instead of the child due to carelessness of the nurse.

The child was adopted by an old couple, whose own child had died in an accident in his teens. The couple was heartbroken and wanted to have another child. However, they missed the best time and couldn't have a child again.

When they saw Lance, they felt something destined, so they took him back to raise and educate him.

Because of that, the gap between Louis and Carlisle widened, and they could not tolerate each other any more.

However, Carlisle did not reflect on her mistakes and became even worse.

In the end, Louis could not bear it and moved to the company. He never returned home again.

But even so, Carlisle made a fuss every few days, feeling that his secretary and his clients all seduced him.

Louis was forced into a corner and really hooked up with those people.

He even announced to the public that his marriage with Carlisle was in name only, and Carlisle would be unrelated to him in the future.

Later, Ryan was seriously ill and needed a blood transfusion. Only then did Louis know that he was not his own child. Although it was very difficult, when he thought that he had raised him for so many years, even if they were not related by blood, they still had feelings for each other. Chapter 297 Dare You

But Carlisle knew it and she wanted to ease their relationship. So she helped him find his son and said that Ryan was their child.

At that time, Louis thought that Carlisle knew she was wrong and decided to clean up her act.

He also cleaned up his act and lived out in peace.

Carlisle found Lance and asked him to back home, the City Joel, but Lance refused.

He didn't want wealth or a biological father. He only recognized his foster parents who raised him up.

Carlisle was worried that Louis would dislike her if she couldn't bring Lance back. Even worse, Louis may continue to cheat on her.

She thought of the most stupid idea, which was to kill Lance's foster parents, then Lance would have no choice but back home.

Because of it, Lance hated her deeply.

aus

Louis was also disappointed in her, thinking that she was incorrigible, she never thought about others.

In the end, Louis left, leaving only a letter, which said that their matrimony had come to an end.

Carlisle had searched throughout the city, but Louis was nowhere to be found. So she just worked to keep the Lamb Group running and hoped he would come back.

Carlisle had always felt that as long as she managed the Lamb Group well and brought Lance back, Louis would finally come back.

But she got nothing after waiting for so long.

Carlisle was still the same as before: jealous of others and cared about other people's gossip, haggled over every little thing all day.

Lance always avoided her and rarely interacted with her.

Carlisle had always hated Krista because she confirmed that Krista was Lance's biological mother, and the only purpose she came here was to snatch Lance away.

That's why every time she saw Krista, she would scold her. Although Lance has forbidden Carlisle to come here, she still found her way to pester him.

"If any of you dare to touch me, I will chop off your hands!"

Carlisle said in a rage.

Lance walked down and said coldly, "All of you, leave us."

When Carlisle heard this, she smiled smugly, thinking that Lance was afraid of her and dared not act recklessly.

"You also know that what you just said is too much? I am your mother. What's wrong with me coming to your house? These are all the property of the Lamb family, I have the right to come here!"

"You misunderstood. These maids don't mean to drive you away. I was afraid that you would hurt them and then I have to pay the medical fees. Let the security guards come, kick her out."

“Don’t you dare!”

“See if I dare!”

Lance let the security guard carry her out directly.

Carlisle was wailing at the door, but Lance ignored her. He just let the security guard stand at the door and stop Carlisle come in again. If they let her in, they would be fired.

Carlisle could see that Lance was serious. In the end, she left resentfully. She walked as she whined Lance’s cold-bloodedness, how dare he not send a car to drive her home? If it was known by others, it would be a disgrace to the whole Lamb family.

“Go against me just for a bitch? Without me, how could he be the president? Don’t forget that the Lamb Group used to be Carlisle’s!”

“He must be crazy, to ignore the Princess but fall in love with such a woman. No, for the glory of the Lamb family, I must find a way to let the Princess marry with him. Louis must watch me somewhere in the world. I can’t let him down.”

Just as Carlisle was muttering to herself, a car stopped in front of her. Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 298

Chapter 298 She Had Married Before

“Mother?”

Ryan’s face was full of surprise,

“What are you going to do?”

"I'm going to see Lance."

"Don't go. What are you going to see him for? Send me back."

"Ok, mother."

Carlisle started complaining to Ryan after getting into the car.

She disliked Ryan before, but ever since Lance came, she was busy dealing with Lance. Now she felt that Ryan was not bad.

He was obedient to her orders and never disobeyed.

"Mother, they have been in love with each other for so long. Why do you intervene? Besides, Lance doesn't like the Princess at all. Why do you force him to do so..."

Before Ryan could finish, he was interrupted by Carlisle sternly.

"What? You want to be like him and rebel against me? I have raised you up though you are not my own child. Without me, you can live until now!"

"Right, what you said is all right. Whatever you say, I will do. However ... it is indeed a bit difficult, but ... I know something else."

"What do you know? Tell me."

"This Krista ... has married before." "What? Did she married someone before? How can such a person enter our Lamb family and dirty my family's reputation?"

Carlisle was shocked. It was the first time she had heard of it since she has known Krista for four years.

“I heard that the relationship between her and her ex-husband was not completely broken. Lance forced her back. You don’t have to force Lance to marry the Princess. If Krista leaves him first, wouldn’t he marry whomever you want him to marry?”

“That’s true, but will Krista leave him? If she didn’t want the status and wealth of our Lamb family the gold, why would she insist on Lance?”

“Mother, you misunderstood. Her ex-husband is not bad either. He is as wealthy as our family, you don’t have to worry about it. Oh, why did I say so much to you? If Lance knew, he would punish me again. He hates it the most when others interfere in his affairs.”

“What are you afraid of? I’m not dead yet. I’m still the one in charge of this family. Don’t worry, you’re doing this for the sake of the Lamb family. You’re much better than that bastard. I know what to do and I won’t drag you into this. You’re still the best. If you were my own son, there would be much better.”

Carlisle said with a sigh.

When she lowered her eyes, she did not notice a smug smile flash across Ryan’s eyes, like a fox.

Soon, Ryan sent Carlisle to her residence. Seeing her enter the house with continuous complaints, Ryan smiled slyly.

‘This game was becoming more and more fun.

And at this moment, in Lance’s private villa.

Krista had already changed her clothes, but Lance insisted on taking a look at her wound.

She had no choice but to lift her clothes, revealing her soft and flat belly.

There was a large patch of red, burning sensation, and there were even two or three small blisters, which looked quite serious.

Lance looked serious and his eyes were full of self-blame.

The doctor had not come over yet, and he squatted by the bed to rub medicine on her.

“... I can do it. This injury is not a big deal...”

Krista said nervously.

“Not a big deal? It’s easy to leave scars.”

This time, Lance’s attitude was unyielding and he insisted on rubbing the medicine himself. Krista had no choice but to let him do

Chapter 299 To Keep in Touch with Him

Lance applied the ice-cold ointment. She endured the pain and did not cry out.

“Just cry if you feel pain. Don’t hold it in,” Lance said.

He was heartbroken.

Krista shook her head.

Seeing this, Lance felt even worse. “Sorry.”

Krista knew he was blaming himself and immediately said, “It has nothing to do with you. I have been with you for four years. I know better than you what she is like. She has had a distorted mind for so many years. There is no way to change her. Just avoid her in the future.”

Carlisle was hard to get along with. Aracely had once asked her how she would maintain relationships with Carlisle.

But she thought that she was living with Lance, not Carlisle.

Moreover, Carlisle was not his biological mother, and there was a grudge between them. Even if they had a dispute in the future, Lance would stand by her side.

Krista might be wronged by Carlisle. But in her mind, if Lance treated her well, she could endure it.

If her grievances were caused by Lance, she would be more disappointed and would want to leave.

Lance finished applying ointment. The doctor came and told him that Krista was in poor health and needed to be nourished.

Lance immediately ordered servants to prepare some nutritious food.

“You don’t have to stay here. I’m fine. You can go and do your things.”

Krista did not want to waste his time.

“Okay, I’ll go and deal with some trivial matters. I’ll come back soon. When the food is ready, I’ll feed it to you.”

“Then ... alright, you go and do your work.”

Lance was about to leave when Krista’s phone rang.

Lance subconsciously glanced at it. When he saw the name Quincy, he narrowed his eyes.

Krista did not expect Quincy to call her at this time. Thinking that Lance was still here, she quickly picked up her phone and hid it in the quilt.

Lance put on a cold face as he walked over.

“You sent me away just to call Quincy, right? What will you talk about? Do you want to ask about Kingston? Or something else?”

“Lance, you misunderstand me. I didn’t know who would call me. The phone rang after you turned around. I just think you are busy recently and don’t want you to waste time on me, so...”

“Who knows if you told Quincy in advance when he could call you?”

“Lance ... Can you not think of me this way?”

“Is that so? Then what will you talk about? Four years ago, you cut off the relationship with Kingston. We live in Phelan City now. Why do you keep in touch with him? I’m your fiancé. Do you have me in your heart?”

Lance was agitated. He grasped her arms and shook them continuously.

She did not feel well as if she would fall apart.

“You ... Let go of me. I’m uncomfortable... I ... have nothing to do with him. How can you believe me?”

“Alright, give me your phone.”

Lance was about to grab her phone.

How could she give it to him? She only wanted to know if Kingston was safe. She was already in Phelan City. What else could she do? "Lance, don't be like this! Calm down!"

However, Lance did not care. He snatched her phone and threw it on the ground. Her phone was broken into pieces in an instant.

Looking at the debris on the ground, Krista froze with anger.

She clenched her fists with red eyes and looked at him angrily. Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 300

Chapter 300 You Have Changed

"What the hell are you doing? How can you talk like you're damn right after hurting someone? I only care about his safety. He'd better be alive, and otherwise, my fiancé is a murderer. Imagine I have to live with a murderer for a lifetime. How can I do this?"

"He didn't hurt me in these days. But look at you! What did you do after I came back? Why did you do this?" |

Krista didn't want to be with a murderer.

She didn't want to marry a bloody killer, Krista had been looking up to Lance, who was like a guiding light that showed her the way. But now, she couldn't see through him.

She felt that Lance was shrouded in darkness and became terrifyingly gloomy as if the devil dragged him into the abyss bit by bit.

Lance was a stranger to her, and he was so terrible that Krista wanted to run away.

Lance was a little surprised that he had done such a thing.

The man used to be calm and collected until Krista met Kingston again. They spent more than ten days together, which turned Lance into an agitated person. He was like a bomb ready to explode at any time.

Once Krista brought up Kingston, he would go crazy.

"I don't care if Kingston. You are not allowed to mention him in front of me. I hate that name!"

"You..."

She angrily gnashed her teeth at a loss for words

"I can say that with a clear conscience. Kingston asked for it. Why is he still alive? This is so unfair. If the law can't do justice, I will. He should never have touched my people. He deserves it!"

"I've regretted not killing him four years ago. If he didn't find you and live his peaceful life, he would have been alive now. But he..."

"Krista, you are mine. No one can take you away, never ever."

"You ... What's wrong with you? Why are you so scary?"

"What? Look at you! You've changed! Don't you see that? When you came back from City D, you went against me and spoke up for him. Why? Do you fall in love with him? You guys had a wonderful night, so you change..."

"Get out. Get the hell out. I don't want to see you anymore."

Krista got off the bed barefoot. The fragments of broken glass dug into her delicate skin, and blood was all over her feet.

But she was numb with pain and automatically pushed Lance out.

She drove Lance out, locked the door, and slumped on the ground wretchedly.

Lance stood outside the door and smashed his fist on the door with a dull thud.

The ginseng chicken soup and edible bird's nests were ready in the fridge. Krista could have them with milk during dinner.

Lance knocked on the door out of concern, although they had a fight minutes ago.

"Krista, let me in. You need to eat something."

His words were like falling in empty darkness, and Lance knew she was angry.

"Aracely called me. She asked about your health. Don't you want to pick up her call?"

When Krista heard him, she lifted her head from her arms.

She remembered that Aracely was helping her check on Kingston in the hospital.
