Chapter 331 Is it because I am not Kingston?

“Is it because I am not Kingston?”

Krista was surprised and stared at him.

Now that things had come to this, why did he still mention Kingston?

Was this not over yet? He still suspected that she was having an affair with Kingston.

At that moment, Krista felt cold all over and trembled slightly.

She just stared at him, so angry that she didn't know what to say. But in Lance's eyes, it became a fact that she acquiesced to and could not argue.

“How am I worse than Kingston? Don't forget that I was the one who stayed by your side these four years. I have given you everything. Now I just want to exercise the rights as a man, why do you refuse me?”

“You are my fiancée. You should fulfill your duties. You should not refuse me. No matter what I do to you, you should not refuse me!”

He said unhappily, staring coldly at Krista.

“Lance, this is enough!”

Her eyes were so cold.

“If you really have doubt about my innocence, why did you still marry me? Did you plan to make things difficult for you and me?”:

“So, you regret marrying me now?” he mocked.

“You..

Krista was so angry that her entire body was trembling.

Was that the question she was talking about? How could he be so misinterpreted?

“Get out!”

Krista pointed at the door angrily.

Lance frowned. “Why should I go out? I want you to fulfill your duty today!”

He was also crazy. His heart was uneasy, he felt that the only way to fill his uneasiness was to have sex with Krista.

He was afraid that Krista would run away and tried to bind her body.

He rushed at Krista crazily

He tore up her clothes with brute force, ignoring her resistance.

Fortunately, the noise disturbed the next door.

Aracely and Luck rushed in.

When Luck saw Krista being bullied, he pounced on Lance like an angry beast, pushing him to the ground.

He stood in front of Krista, staring at Lance angrily, not saying a word.

Aracely covered Krista's exposed skin with a blanket.

"Mr. Hamm, what are you doing? Are you forcing Krista?"

"Force her? Isn't it our right to do so? She belongs to me a long time ago. I've waited until now, what do you expect from me?"

Lance got up from the ground, and his face became more ferocious.

Krista looked at him in pain and said, "I would have sex with you only if you trusted me. Do you believe in my innocence? I have explained to you countless times that I have no relationship with Kingston. I did not lie to you, but you didn't trust me."

"You mentioned it again and again, hurt my heart with these unpleasant words. If you think I have an affair with another man, why did you marry me? To torture each other?"

"I also know that we have been together for four years. The trust we have for four years is that fragile and breaks at the first blow?"

She questioned Lance, word by word.

Lance pursed his lips and knew that he was too sensitive.

In his heart, he really wanted to believe Krista, but whenever he was angry, his brain was out of control and he would always woolgather.

Especially this kind of thing, she was always reluctant, that made him even angrier, and he would think of Kingston.

He always felt that Krista was unwilling to get close to him because of Kingston.

He was a man, how could he tolerate something like that? Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx
Chapter 332

Chapter 332 Why Have to Compete?

“Mr. Hamm, don’t you believe in Krista?”

Aracely also looked at Lance with disappointment.

It had been so long, Lance was still thinking about it.

She said angrily, “Even if Krista really has a relationship with Kingston, does she cause it? Don’t you have any responsibility? I already told you that something happened to Krista. What did you do? You delayed for so many days just because you were busy?”

“Krista doesn’t even bother with you over this, yet you hurt him over and over again? You have no right to hurt her because you are also the one to blame! What’s more, Krista hasn’t done anything wrong to you. If you’re really like that, I also think that it is better not to have this marriage.”

Aracely naturally supported Krista unconditionally.

Although she would not stay at the Irwins’ villa every day, she believed that Krista would not, and Kingston would not either.

At least, four years later, although Kingston's behavior was queer, he was not that mean in his nature to do it by force.

However, Lance really hurt Krista again and again.

When Lance heard these words, he became more guilty.

Yes, he was responsible for it. If he had gone to rescue her sooner, maybe it wouldn't have happened so much.

But...

All he did was for Krista.

"The only reason why I went late was entirely for you, I was trying to make a better life for us in the future."

"Life in the future? Is there any future for us? As it is now, you suspect me of having an affair with someone else and suspect me of being unclean, how can I dare to think about the future?"

"Besides, I have never asked you for anything. I can live without the wealth of the Lamb family, without the power you have now, all I want is peace and quiet, with the people I care about by my side."

"It's you, you are the one who wants those, and I don't even understand why."

Lance was livid.

Why did he want all this? To get Krista and keep her from being taken by Kingston.

He had worked hard for years to return to this place that he hated so much, watching the murderer of his biological mother and adoptive parents every day, just to get the power to fight against the Irwins.

At first, he was nobody, just a teacher who couldn't even get the sea she jumped into, so he wasn't qualified to give her a future.

Since then, he realized the importance of power.

Once he was powerful, he could control everything and he could get things he never thought of before.

Without power, how could he open a branded store for her in the most prosperous area?

Without power, how could she live a life of luxury?

Without power, how could he compare himself to Kingston and made her understand that he was better than Kingston?

He squeezed his injured right hand tightly. His right hand was crippled, he was unable to pursue his design dreams, and he didn't want to pursue them anymore.

Being a designer was no better than being the president of a group.

"You don't understand? Then let me tell you, in order to prove that I am not worse than Kingston. I have everything Kingston has, he has an honorable status, he has the power to control everything, he has a lot of money. What he has, I have, I just want you to fall in love with me, am I wrong?"

He said gloomily.

He was obviously doing nothing wrong.

Aracely frowned when she heard this. Was this what Lance thought for the past four years?

Krista was certainly not thinking that way.

Krista was also stunned. What he pursued for these four years was to surpass Kingston?

Why did he have to compete?

Chapter 333 Entanglement

She admired his design talent, regretted his injured right hand, and felt that it was a great loss for him to quit the design circle.

But she never expected that what he cared about were these things.

“You ... Why are you compared yourself to him? You are Lance. You are my beloved Mr. Hamm. You are my idol. Why ... do you want to compare yourself with an irrelevant person?”

She was stunned and asked him in a daze.

In her eyes, Kingston was now a person that had nothing to do with her.

She knew that Lance did not like Kingston because she and Kingston had a marriage.

However, he knew that this marriage was not real. They had been separated for a year, and he never cared about his wife. She also did not love Kingston.

When he came back, she divorced without hesitation. If Sandra had not used despicable means to marry into a wealthy family, she might not have had any interaction with Kingston until now.

Never in her dreams did she expect that he had been so energetic these past four years to compare with Kingston.

He was him and Kingston was Kingston. Different people had their own strengths. How could they be compared together?

“How could he be unrelated? You and he were entangled in the past...”

“Enough, Lance!”

Aracely interrupted anxiously and glared at him when Lance was about to spill the beans.

Lance returned to his sanity and realized something.

He pursed his thin lips and his lower jaw tightened into a rigid line. –

He looks at Krista with a complicated expression then leaved angrily.

“Luck, you take care of your sister. I’ll go and see Mr. Hamm.”

“What’s wrong with you? You’ve been tight-lipped all these years. Why did you almost let the secret out just now?”

Lance also knew that he was wrong. He was really angry and fainted, so he spoke so much nonsense.

He calmed down now and knew that his words hurt her.

He pursed his lips and did not speak. His expression was awkward.

“What happened to you today?”

“Nothing.”

He said stiffly.

“I can’t do anything if you don’t say anything. I just hope that you understand that Kingston is now an insignificant outsider to Krista. She doesn’t care at all. All these years, the number of times she mentioned Kingston to me can be calculated with ten fingers. As for you, you care about Kingston so much. What do you want her to think about?”

“Do you want her to think of what happened back then?” She said, annoyed.

“Of course not. I care about her more than anyone else. I don’t want her to have anything to do with that man.”

“Then don’t mention it. Krista didn’t do anything to let you down. You are psychologically affected. Krista lost her memory. She doesn’t remember her past with Kingston. She is willing to spend a lifetime with you. I also know that you have done a lot, so I have always been on your side. Don’t make so many troubles and ruin this marriage since you are about to get married.”

“I know. No one can ruin my wedding with Krista. Otherwise, I will fight my life to the death.”

Lance clenched his fists and spoke in a gloomy and strange manner. His entire body was filled with a terrifying hostility, as if he was an evil spirit that had walked out from the Ashura Temple.

Aracely subconsciously took a step back, frightened by the chill over his body.

She looked at Lance in shock, not understanding how he suddenly became so terrifying.

Lance calmed down and said, “I have something to do. I’m going now. Help me comfort her. Just say that I drank some wine today. I was rude.”

Chapter 334 The Wedding Ceremony

"I will."

Aracely definitely couldn't just sit back and do nothing.

Lance turned around and left. Aracely looked at his cold back in confusion and frowned.

When she saw Kingston at the first sight, she felt that he was terrifying.

But later on, she felt that he was gentle deep down in his bones, not a ruthless and perverse person.

in the past, she thought Lance was gentle and refined, like the warm wind in March.

But now ... it seemed like he has changed utterly to a strange and terrifying man.

Aracely didn't think too much about it, all she wanted was Lance always being good to Krista.

Back to upstairs, Luck was still accompanying her with his cautious look that made her feel sorry for him.

"Go back to your room and have a rest. I'll be fine here."

Luck nodded then leaved reluctantly.

Krista was still immersed in those hurtful words of his.

"Krista, don't blame Mr. Hamm. You also know that he cares a lot about your previous marriage. No, to be precise, he cares about the existence of Kingston. Of course he believes in you, but you also saw what Kingston did. He directly tied you and locked you up after four years' separation. How could Mr. Hamm stand it?"

"Of course, from a fair point of view, I have to admit that what Mr. Hamm did was wrong. It's been so long, why is he still bringing it up? It hurt you, right? However, there is a reason for this, so don't bother about it. He just promised me that he would never mention it again in the future. Let's put an end to it, okay?"

Aracely looked at her worriedly, wondering if she was still upset.

Krista let out a breath and hugged her knees tightly.

In fact, Aracely understood everything she said and was willing to understand Lance.

It was just that ... she did not understand why he cared so much about Kingston and insisted on competing with him, even silently battling with him for four years to suppress him down.

But no matter what, he loved her, and she could not hurt their relationship because of such a small matter.

After all, they were going to be married soon.

"I know. I didn't take it seriously. I'll be fine after a nap."

"That's right. You are going to be a bride soon. You have to be beautiful. Hurry up to sleep. You won't be a fairy if you stay up late."

was

Aracely let out a sign of relief. Fortunately, Krista's mind was simple, and her biggest advantage was that she was considerate. She always placed other people's feelings first and sacrificed herself.

This made her feel sorry and worried for Krista.

Aracely's words worked. Lance came over early the next morning to apologize, indicating that he would never mention those unhappy things, nor would he compete with an insignificant person and would live his own life.

All preparations for the wedding were ready. They chose an old church and invited a priest.

The wedding dress and the rings are ready, and only the relatives and friends of the family were invited. There were not many people, but it was very lively.

Aracely was the bridesmaid. Luck wanted to send Krista on the red carpet and hand her to Lance,

On the day of the wedding, she got up early in the morning and rushed to the church. The wedding was in Western style and there were no many rules.

Lance was going to welcome the guests downstairs, while she was dressing up in the lounge upstairs, waiting for the auspicious hour.

After everything was done, she looked at the girl in the wedding dress in the mirror that somewhat unfamiliar.

Was this really herself?

She had been married to Mr. Hamm for four years, and now she is really marrying him to become his wife?

Just then, the door opened, and she thought that Aracely returned.

Luck was a little sad and secretly ran out to cry alone. Aracely had gone out to comfort him.

“You’re back?”

She asked softly and saw a stalwart figure in the mirror.

Chapter 335 An Unwelcome Guest at the Wedding

He looked tall, handsome, but cold in a black suit. It was as if he was the bridegroom today.

His face seemed to be delicately carved by God. He looked handsome with the charm of maturity.

He looked at Krista with deep eyes at this moment, as if he wanted to see through her soul.

Krista’s heart trembled. She immediately turned around and looked at him in shock.

“King... Kingston? Why are you here?”

Krista frowned at him.

Kingston must take advantage of the mess in a wedding to sneak in.

Lance didn’t like Kingston who was the main reason Lance and Krista had several fights before. Kingston was now the most unwelcome person at the wedding.

Lance would misunderstand if he knew that Kingston had sneaked into her dressing room!

“Kingston, you promised me that you wouldn’t ruin my wedding! Are you going to break your promise?”

She said angrily.

“I won’t. I just come to see you, the bride of today.”

Kingston replied with a muffled and hoarse voice, suppressing his strong emotions.

Krista looked really beautiful in a wedding dress, and Kingston had seen it before.

It was a pity that Krista didn’t dress in a wedding dress for him.

Kingston also knew that he was wrong back then. That was why he couldn’t get together with her.

Kingston never denied his mistake. Neither did he let go of the possible future with Krista.

“Hurry up and get out. They’ll be coming up soon. What would happen if they saw you here? Hurry up and get out...”

Krista was anxious and kept pushing Kingston out.

At this moment, there were knocks on the door.

Krista trembled. If it was Aracely, she would have spoken first. Therefore, it must be someone else.

“How can you be such troublesome!”

She glared at him, full of resentment, and pushed him behind the curtain.

“You are not allowed to come out. You can only come out after I leave. If something happens to my wedding because of you, Kingston, don’t blame me for hating you!”

She said word by word with coldness crawling over her beautiful eyes.

“Do you think your wedding can continue?”

He asked in a hoarse voice, his eyebrows slightly raised, as if he was hiding something.

“What do you mean?”

She froze and looked at him in confusion.

‘Did he know something?’

At this moment, Kingston felt confused. He had promised not to make trouble, but he knew that many people were trying to ruin the wedding.

In the end, Krista would be badly hurt.

Kingston didn’t want her to get hurt, but he didn’t want her to marry Lance either.

If the wedding went smoothly, Kingston would never hope to get together with Krista for she would hold the vow.

But if the wedding was ruined, Krista would get hurt, feel sad, or even cry.

Krista didn’t wait for Kingston’s reply. The knocking on the door grew heavier.

“Stay here. I’ll open the door.”

Krista was afraid that if she didn't open the door for a long time, people would get suspicious.

Though nothing had happened between Krista and Kingston, she felt guilty.

She exhaled guiltily and turned to open the door, but Kingston's voice came from behind.

"I saw Catherine's car when I came. She is not a good person. She isn't here to bless you."

Kingston could not help but remind.

"So what? No one can ruin my wedding. You or she, none of you won't change anything."

Krista said confidently.

She turned down Kingston and Lance turned down Catherine.

As long as she and Lance were determined, no one could break them apart.

Chapter 336 Lance Won't Let Me down

Krista was not afraid of anyone.

She opened the door, and it was Catherine outside.

She couldn't help but think of what Kingston had just said. 'Did he expect that Catherine was the one knocking on the door, so he deliberately mentioned her?'

Krista had taken so long before opening the door after so long. That made Catherine a little impatient. Catherine crossed her arms around her chest and raised her chin high, looking at Krista coldly.

Catherine walked into the dressing room and looked around with disdain.

When Catherine glances at the curtains, Krista was worried, afraid that Catherine would notice something.

“Why do you come?”

“What? Am I not allowed to be here?”

Catherine raised an eyebrow.

“I don’t remember that we had sent you an invitation, right?”

Krista frowned slightly, not understanding what Catherine’s intention was.

“I like Lance. You know that, right?”

Catherine looked straight at Krista and did not try to hide anything.

“You are the Princess. You should know reputation, right? Lance and I are going to get married. Is Princess going to be a mistress? I’m afraid it won’t be good if this is overheard.”

“Mistress? You haven’t got married. I come here to give you a present.”

Catherine smiled triumphantly and took out her mobile phone.

Soon, all the dirty words came.

“Lance, be gentle... No.”

“Say yes. Do you know that I’ve wanted to have sex with you for a long time...”

“Oh...”

Then came the sounds of men and women gasping for breath, as well as the sounds of bodies colliding with each other.

Krista was stunned and didn’t move.

She knew who was talking in the video. It was Lance and Catherine.

“Impossible...”

It took Krista a long time to regain her senses, her lips trembling as she said.

“The voice can be faked. The video can’t be, right?”

Catherine was very satisfied with Krista’s reaction and threw the phone over.

This video must have been edited and the part where Lance called Krista’s name had been removed.

Krista seemed to fall into an icehouse. Her body trembled and her limbs were cold.

It... it was Lance...

He held Catherine in his arms, and his face appearing in the video couldn’t be faked.

At that moment, Krista felt disgusted and wanted to vomit.

The phone fell to the ground with a bang.

Catherine immediately picked it up and looked at the video with appreciation. She complained coquettishly, "Don't smash the phone. I haven't had the time to backup it. I only have this copy."

"Impossible! Lance would never let me down!"

Krista kept shaking her head and retreating, still not believing Catherine.

"You saw the video too. Why lie to yourself? He likes you, but he is also a normal man. He has physiological needs. It is already the 21st century, but there is still such a conservative woman like you. You have been together for four years. So why are you pretending to be a chaste woman?"

Catherine mocked.

At first, Catherine thought that the two of them had been together for four years and were already engaged. They must have had sex as it was the era with opening thoughts.

However, Catherine had never expected that Lance would tell a lot of things when he was touched.

He said that he had waited for this day for four years. He had long wanted to have sex with Krista. And this was the first time he had sex with Krista.

Catherine was overjoyed when she heard it. She did not expect she would know this.

When Krista heard Catherine's mocking, the expression of her little face changed.

“I don’t remember that we had sent you an invitation, right?”

Krista frowned slightly, not understanding what Catherine’s intention was.

“I like Lance. You know that, right?”

Catherine looked straight at Krista and did not try to hide anything.

“You are the Princess. You should know reputation, right? Lance and I are going to get married. Is Princess going to be a mistress? I’m afraid it won’t be good if this is overheard.”

“Mistress? You haven’t got married. I come here to give you a present.”

Catherine smiled triumphantly and took out her mobile phone.

Soon, all the dirty words came.

“Lance, be gentle... No.”

“Say yes. Do you know that I’ve wanted to have sex with you for a long time...”

“Oh...”

Then came the sounds of men and women gasping for breath, as well as the sounds of bodies colliding with each other.

Krista was stunned and didn't move.

She knew who was talking in the video. It was Lance and Catherine.

"Impossible..."

It took Krista a long time to regain her senses, her lips trembling as she said.

"The voice can be faked. The video can't be, right?"

Catherine was very satisfied with Krista's reaction and threw the phone over.

This video must have been edited and the part where Lance called Krista's name had been removed.

Krista seemed to fall into an icehouse. Her body trembled and her limbs were cold.

It... it was Lance...

He held Catherine in his arms, and his face appearing in the video couldn't be faked.

At that moment, Krista felt disgusted and wanted to vomit.

The phone fell to the ground with a bang.

Catherine immediately picked it up and looked at the video with appreciation. She complained coquettishly, "Don't smash the phone. I haven't had the time to backup it. I only have this copy."

"Impossible! Lance would never let me down!"

Krista kept shaking her head and retreating, still not believing Catherine.

“You saw the video too. Why lie to yourself? He likes you, but he is also a normal man. He has physiological needs. It is already the 21st century, but there is still such a conservative woman like you. You have been together for four years. So why are you pretending to be a chaste woman?”

Catherine mocked.

At first, Catherine thought that the two of them had been together for four years and were already engaged. They must have had sex as it was the era with opening thoughts.

However, Catherine had never expected that Lance would tell a lot of things when he was touched.

He said that he had waited for this day for four years. He had long wanted to have sex with Krista. And this was the first time he had sex with Krista.

Catherine was overjoyed when she heard it. She did not expect she would know this.

When Krista heard Catherine’s mocking, the expression of her little face changed.

Chapter 337 You Know It All?

Krista was thin and the wedding dress was heavy to her. It seemed that she would be unable to hold on and could collapse at any time.

She suddenly remembered that a few nights ago, Lance barged in crazily and said such words.

“He was a normal man with needs.

'So... he couldn't get it from me, so he went for Catherine. Is it right?'

Krista was loyal to their relationship, but what about Lance?

'My heart hurts...

Krista was also resentful of Lance's betrayal.

Krista knew that part of the reason was her failure to have sex with him.

But this was not an acceptable reason for Lance to betray her.

A mistake was done.

Krista was in a mess now because she knew Lance betrayed her right before their wedding. It was devastating and she had no idea how to deal with it.

"If I were you, I wouldn't let it continue. And you are not worthy of Lance at all, and only my distinguished status is most suitable for him."

Catherine stood up straight and said disdainfully. Then, she turned around and left.

The moment she leaves, Krista fell to the ground like a broken doll.

Kingston immediately strode over and helped her up.

"Krista."

He called her.

Krista's eyes were empty and lifeless as she stared at the man in front of her.

Thinking of what Kingston said before, Krista squeezed out a wry smile.

"Did you guess... or did you know something... Tell me..."

"I know it all."

Kingston said hoarsely.

Lance wasn't as wise as Kingston. In the beginning, Kingston didn't want Lance to know that he had arrived in City D. If Kingston determined to keep Krista, he had enough support from people in City D.

But Kingston quickly changed his mind and let Lance have it.

Kingston knew that Lance must have paid to get what he wanted. Therefore, no matter directly or indirectly, Lance must have killed people.

Lance had ruthlessly killed people. But Krista was different. She was kind-hearted and didn't know the dangers around.

Moreover, Krista hated those who had killed people for profits, such as Sandra.

Because Sandra had killed Brittany, Krista was even more disgusted with such people.

Therefore, when knowing that Lance had begun to hire the killers, Kingston had secretly prepared to play the trick.

However, Kingston accidentally risked his life.

If Kingston had not dodged in time, that bullet would have really passed through him and taken his life.

After rolling down the hill and getting hurt, Kingston was seriously injured and admitted to the hospital.

Kingston paid for what he thought was worthy.

The hickeys on his neck provoked them. But he didn't think it was enough.

He quietly arrived at Phelan City and avoided Lance's monitoring.

Though knowing Kingston was still alive, Lance didn't expect Kingston came to Phelan City instead of being at the hospital. Therefore, Lance made a mistake and didn't know Kingston had been here for several days.

Kingston took advantage of this chance to plant spies around him.

The very sight of Lance coming out of a hotel with Princess Catherine informed Kingston of what had happened.

Today, Kingston couldn't decide whether the wedding should be ruined throughout the whole journey to the dressing room.

The moment Kingston saw Krista in pain, his heart was also being twisted by a knife. It hurt.

"You know it all? You know it all?"

Krista roared hysterically.

Chapter 338 Krista's Ex-husband

No wonder Kingston said that he would not ruin her wedding, but he also reminded Krista of Catherine's coming.

He knew everything.

'He was deliberately making a fool of me!

"I don't understand what you want to do. Do you want me to marry you and become the stepmother of Sandra's child? Do you think I should be responsible for it? Do you think I should compensate him for being his stepmother?"

"Don't dream! Even if I don't marry Lance, I will never marry you. I would rather die than marry you. You don't know how much I hate you. In the world, you are the one I hate the most!"

Even Krista herself didn't know why she was so against Kingston.

Those hidden memories were all painful. Although Krista had forgotten most of them, the feeling was still vivid.

Kingston could ruin her life!

Krista had to stay away from him!

She pushed Kingston hard, but the moment she pushed him away, she exhausted her strength and fell to the ground.

Kingston immediately picked Krista up and helped her to the sofa.

However, Krista kept resisting and struggling, and her fists rained down on his chest.

But to Kingston, it didn't hurt at all.

Seeing that she could not break free, Krista was so angry that she lay on Kingston's shoulder and bit hard.

It was a heavy bite.

Kingston was ripped on his shoulder and the blood run down his clothes.

Krista sensed a greasy smell of blood in her mouth and on her fingers.

Kingston was in pain. He frowned and was stunned.

But soon, as if nothing had happened, he still carried Krista to the sofa and sat down.

However, just as they sat down, people came in.

"The groom is here to pick up the bride."

Aracely said happily.

In the end, a group of people entered to see Krista and Kingston were pulling each other.

The expressions of everyone changed.

Lance was the first to come to his sense. He immediately rushed over and forcefully separated Kingston and hugged Krista.

"Kingston, why are you here?"

Lance asked angrily.

“Well, why would Mr. Irwin be alone in my sister-in-law’s room?”

Ryan’s words were amusing.

A man and a woman were alone in a room. Even if they kept their clothes tidy, people still talked.

“This... This is a misunderstanding. You guys might not know, but Mr. Irwin is Krista’s older brother. He came to bless the bride, right? When he came, he told me. I just forgot to tell you guys.”

Aracely could only lie.

If Kingston were relatives, that would make sense.

But Ryan added, “Is that so? How come I hear that Mr. Irwin is Krista’s ex-husband?”

“Ryan, shut up!”

Lance couldn’t hold back and roared out.

Ryan smiled and closed his mouth.

In any case, his goal had been achieved.

However, Carlisle among the crowd rushed over at the fastest speed. No one had time to react.

She quickly comes in front of Krista and slaps her hard, "How dare you cheat on my son and hook up with your ex husband!"

Ryan had already told Carlisle before that Krista was still in touch with her ex-husband.

Carlisle didn't take it to heart before, thinking that she might use it when necessary. Carlisle didn't expect the opportunity to come so quickly. So she took advantage of it.

"What the hell are you doing!"

Chapter 339 I Want to Take Her Away

Lance grabbed her hand angrily and held Krista in his arms tightly.

"You are still protecting this woman. If she is not blameless, she will only destroy the reputation of our Lamb family! Chase her out and never contact her again."

"Get out, all of you get out!"

Lance was furious.

Carlisle was also a little afraid. He didn't dare to say anything and left.

Ryan also arranged for people to leave, leaving only a few people in the room.

Ryan stepped out of the door and said to the guests, "I'm sorry. Everyone, please sit down and rest. Lance has some personal matters to deal with. I also believe that this is a misunderstanding. It is reasonable for the ex-husband to send his ex-wife off. After all, they were both the couple and the siblings."

"Is is this right?"

“Of course it is right, as long as Lance thinks that she is the right one.”

Ryan said casually

On the contrary, Carlisle started cursing, saying that Krista was a whore who hooked up with other men.

At the moment, inside the house,

Aracely spoke first,

“Kingston, why are you here?”

“I’m here to attend the wedding.”

Kingston said indifferently.

“Do you think I will believe what you say?”

Aracely said angrily.

“All right, then I just say it directly, I want to take Krista away.”

“Are you dreaming?”

Lance said angrily. He stood up and looked at Kingston without fear, “I was too careless. I should send a few more people to the hospital. If you are not dead, I will immediately give you two more cuts. Even if you are dead, I will whip your corpse and turn your bones into ashes! People like you deserve to die ten thousand times. You should go to hell!”

“Enough ... all of you get out, get out!”

Krista really couldn't take it anymore. Right now, her mind was in a mess and was about to explode.

Krista didn't know what she should do now, she wanted to calm down, but they were all chattering.

Krista wanted the quietness.

“Krista!”

Lance looked at Krista worriedly. Krista was in a bad state, her face and lips were all pale, and her mental state looked bad.

Lance's first reaction was that Kingston had done something to Krista.

“Get out, get out, all of you get out...”

“Am I going out too?”

Lance looked at Krista and felt hurt.

“Get out, get out ... get out!”

Krista pushed everyone out.

“Krista, can you let me in? No matter what happens, I can give you suggestions.”

“Krista...”

No matter how the people outside called out to Krista, Krista behaved like she heard nothing.

Krista leaned her back against the door, she slowly slid down and hugged her knees.

Krista’s tense nerves finally relaxed, and her tears kept falling.

‘Why would my life become so complicated?’

Since I returned to City D, everything had changed.

Unreasonable lockup, trust broken with Lance, endless quarrel.

Kingston’s persistence, the absurdity of Lance and Catherine...

Everything was like a huge rock, pressing down on me and making me unable to breathe.

What should I do now? Should the wedding continue?

Why was my life in such a mess?’

Krista hugged her body tightly, wishing that she could disappear from this world, then all the troubles will also disappear.

Outside the door.

“What exactly did you do to Krista? You bastard, haunting Krista like a ghost!”

Lance grabbed Kingston's collar angrily and glared at him.

Chapter 334 The Wedding Ceremony

"I will."

Aracely definitely couldn't just sit back and do nothing.

Lance turned around and left. Aracely looked at his cold back in confusion and frowned.

When she saw Kingston at the first sight, she felt that he was terrifying.

But later on, she felt that he was gentle deep down in his bones, not a ruthless and perverse person.

in the past, she thought Lance was gentle and refined, like the warm wind in March.

But now ... it seemed like he has changed utterly to a strange and terrifying man.

Aracely didn't think too much about it, all she wanted was Lance always being good to Krista.

Back to upstairs, Luck was still accompanying her with his cautious look that made her feel sorry for him.

"Go back to your room and have a rest. I'll be fine here."

Luck nodded then leaved reluctantly.

Krista was still immersed in those hurtful words of his.

“Krista, don’t blame Mr. Hamm. You also know that he cares a lot about your previous marriage. No, to be precise, he cares about the existence of Kingston. Of course he believes in you, but you also saw what Kingston did. He directly tied you and locked you up after four years’ separation. How could Mr. Hamm stand it?”

“Of course, from a fair point of view, I have to admit that what Mr. Hamm did was wrong. It’s been so long, why is he still bringing it up? It hurt you, right? However, there is a reason for this, so don’t bother about it. He just promised me that he would never mention it again in the future. Let’s put an end to it, okay?”

Aracely looked at her worriedly, wondering if she was still upset.

Krista let out a breath and hugged her knees tightly.

In fact, Aracely understood everything she said and was willing to understand Lance.

It was just that ... she did not understand why he cared so much about Kingston and insisted on competing with him, even silently battling with him for four years to suppress him down.

But no matter what, he loved her, and she could not hurt their relationship because of such a small matter.

After all, they were going to be married soon.

“I know. I didn’t take it seriously. I’ll be fine after a nap.”

“That’s right. You are going to be a bride soon. You have to be beautiful. Hurry up to sleep. You won’t be a fairy if you stay up late.”

was

Aracely let out a sign of relief. Fortunately, Krista's mind was simple, and her biggest advantage was that she was considerate. She always placed other people's feelings first and sacrificed herself.

This made her feel sorry and worried for Krista.

Aracely's words worked. Lance came over early the next morning to apologize, indicating that he would never mention those unhappy things, nor would he compete with an insignificant person and would live his own life.

All preparations for the wedding were ready. They chose an old church and invited a priest.

The wedding dress and the rings are ready, and only the relatives and friends of the family were invited. There were not many people, but it was very lively.

Aracely was the bridesmaid. Luck wanted to send Krista on the red carpet and hand her to Lance,

On the day of the wedding, she got up early in the morning and rushed to the church. The wedding was in Western style and there were no many rules.

Lance was going to welcome the guests downstairs, while she was dressing up in the lounge upstairs, waiting for the auspicious hour.

After everything was done, she looked at the girl in the wedding dress in the mirror that somewhat unfamiliar.

Was this really herself?

She had been married to Mr. Hamm for four years, and now she is really marrying him to become his wife?

Just then, the door opened, and she thought that Aracely returned.

Luck was a little sad and secretly ran out to cry alone. Aracely had gone out to comfort him.

“You’re back?”

She asked softly and saw a stalwart figure in the mirror.

Chapter 335 An Unwelcome Guest at the Wedding

He looked tall, handsome, but cold in a black suit. It was as if he was the bridegroom today.

His face seemed to be delicately carved by God. He looked handsome with the charm of maturity.

He looked at Krista with deep eyes at this moment, as if he wanted to see through her soul.

Krista’s heart trembled. She immediately turned around and looked at him in shock.

“King... Kingston? Why are you here?”

Krista frowned at him.

Kingston must take advantage of the mess in a wedding to sneak in.

Lance didn’t like Kingston who was the main reason Lance and Krista had several fights before. Kingston was now the most unwelcome person at the wedding.

Lance would misunderstand if he knew that Kingston had sneaked into her dressing room!

“Kingston, you promised me that you wouldn’t ruin my wedding! Are you going to break your promise?”

She said angrily.

“I won’t. I just come to see you, the bride of today.”

Kingston replied with a muffled and hoarse voice, suppressing his strong emotions.

Krista looked really beautiful in a wedding dress, and Kingston had seen it before.

It was a pity that Krista didn’t dress in a wedding dress for him.

Kingston also knew that he was wrong back then. That was why he couldn’t get together with her.

Kingston never denied his mistake. Neither did he let go of the possible future with Krista.

“Hurry up and get out. They’ll be coming up soon. What would happen if they saw you here? Hurry up and get out...”

Krista was anxious and kept pushing Kingston out.

At this moment, there were knocks on the door.

Krista trembled. If it was Aracely, she would have spoken first. Therefore, it must be someone else.

“How can you be such troublesome!”

She glared at him, full of resentment, and pushed him behind the curtain.

“You are not allowed to come out. You can only come out after I leave. If something happens to my wedding because of you, Kingston, don’t blame me for hating you!”

She said word by word with coldness crawling over her beautiful eyes.

“Do you think your wedding can continue?”

He asked in a hoarse voice, his eyebrows slightly raised, as if he was hiding something.

“What do you mean?”

She froze and looked at him in confusion.

‘Did he know something?’

At this moment, Kingston felt confused. He had promised not to make trouble, but he knew that many people were trying to ruin the wedding.

In the end, Krista would be badly hurt.

Kingston didn’t want her to get hurt, but he didn’t want her to marry Lance either.

If the wedding went smoothly, Kingston would never hope to get together with Krista for she would hold the vow.

But if the wedding was ruined, Krista would get hurt, feel sad, or even cry.

Krista didn’t wait for Kingston’s reply. The knocking on the door grew heavier.

“Stay here. I’ll open the door.”

Krista was afraid that if she didn't open the door for a long time, people would get suspicious.

Though nothing had happened between Krista and Kingston, she felt guilty.

She exhaled guiltily and turned to open the door, but Kingston's voice came from behind.

"I saw Catherine's car when I came. She is not a good person. She isn't here to bless you."

Kingston could not help but remind.

"So what? No one can ruin my wedding. You or she, none of you won't change anything."

Krista said confidently.

She turned down Kingston and Lance turned down Catherine.

As long as she and Lance were determined, no one could break them apart.

Chapter 336 Lance Won't Let Me down

Krista was not afraid of anyone.

She opened the door, and it was Catherine outside.

She couldn't help but think of what Kingston had just said. 'Did he expect that Catherine was the one knocking on the door, so he deliberately mentioned her?'

Krista had taken so long before opening the door after so long. That made Catherine a little impatient. Catherine crossed her arms around her chest and raised her chin high, looking at Krista coldly.

Catherine walked into the dressing room and looked around with disdain.

When Catherine glances at the curtains, Krista was worried, afraid that Catherine would notice something.

“Why do you come?”

“What? Am I not allowed to be here?”

Catherine raised an eyebrow.

“I don’t remember that we had sent you an invitation, right?”

Krista frowned slightly, not understanding what Catherine’s intention was.

“I like Lance. You know that, right?”

Krista’s tense nerves finally relaxed, and her tears kept falling.

‘Why would my life become so complicated?’

Since I returned to City D, everything had changed.

Unreasonable lockup, trust broken with Lance, endless quarrel.

Kingston’s persistence, the absurdity of Lance and Catherine...

Everything was like a huge rock, pressing down on me and making me unable to breathe.

What should I do now? Should the wedding continue?

Why was my life in such a mess?’

Krista hugged her body tightly, wishing that she could disappear from this world, then all the troubles will also disappear.

Outside the door.

“What exactly did you do to Krista? You bastard, haunting Krista like a ghost!”

Lance grabbed Kingston’s collar angrily and glared at him.

Chapter 340 After Four Years, You Are Not Good For Her

“You know what you did. You let Krista down.”

Kingston asked coldly.

Lance immediately thought of that night.

Lance released his hand because of his guilty and looked at Kingston with complicated eyes, “I don’t get you.”

“Don’t you understand? Catherine came and told Krista everything.”

“Impossible. I warned her...”

Lance did not continue saying. He did not believe in Catherine who was not trustworthy. Otherwise, how could she use such despicable means?

He wanted to kill her. But as a princess, she was protected by others very well. It was difficult for Lance to assassinate her.

He really wanted Catherine to disappear from this world.

“What are you talking about? I don’t understand. Mr. Hamm, what ... what did you do?”

Aracely realized that something was wrong.

“1 ... I don’t know ... Don’t ask me.”

Lance said painfully.

“Krista, listen to me! It’s not what you think! Krista...”

Lance knocked on the door, calling Krista continuously.

He was so anxious that he wanted to give his heart from his chest to Krista.

“Krista, I don’t know what happened, but it’s almost time. The guests below are waiting for you. You have to decide.”

Krista in the room raised her head numbly.

She was going to get married today.

But she didn’t know if she should marry.

Perhaps, she should trust Lance.

She knew about him very well. He would never do anything to let her down. He must have his difficulties.

She bit her lips and stood up with the help of the door. She intended to continue the wedding.

But she felt dizzy after standing up.

She lost her balance and fell to the ground.

People outside felt nervous because of the noise made by her fall.

“Krista, Krista, are you alright?”

Lance shouted worriedly.

Kingston didn't say a word. With deep eyes, he directly kicked the door open.

After opening the door, he saw Krista unconscious inside.

“Krista...”

Before Lance stepped forward, Kingston had picked up Krista and walked straight out.

“Kingston, what are you doing? You shouldn't touch Krista.”

Lance grabbed Kingston's sleeve tightly.

Kingston narrowed his eyes and handed Krista to Luck.

“Take care of Krista and send her to the hospital. I will be there soon. Come on.”

Luck nodded and left with Aracely.

Kingston turned and punched Lance in the face.

Lance didn't show the white feather and fought with Kingston. But Lance lost.

Kingston pressed down on Lance against the wall and said, “Four years ago, I was not good for Krista. After four years, you are not good for her. During the last four years, you have used many schemes to take her from me. Now I will take her from you! I will never give up!”

“If you want to kill me, you should know what you have. An assassination can't take my life.”

“I had given you a chance. If you appeared earlier and took Krista away from me, or if this wedding was successful, I would never disturb her. She told me that her wedding would be held as usual. But she felt sad because of you and Catherine. And Carlisle slapped her.” Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx
Chapter 335

Chapter 335 An Unwelcome Guest at the Wedding

He looked tall, handsome, but cold in a black suit. It was as if he was the bridegroom today.

His face seemed to be delicately carved by God. He looked handsome with the charm of maturity.

He looked at Krista with deep eyes at this moment, as if he wanted to see through her soul.

Krista's heart trembled. She immediately turned around and looked at him in shock.

“King... Kingston? Why are you here?”

Krista frowned at him.

Kingston must take advantage of the mess in a wedding to sneak in.

Lance didn't like Kingston who was the main reason Lance and Krista had several fights before. Kingston was now the most unwelcome person at the wedding.

Lance would misunderstand if he knew that Kingston had sneaked into her dressing room!

"Kingston, you promised me that you wouldn't ruin my wedding! Are you going to break your promise?"

She said angrily.

"I won't. I just come to see you, the bride of today."

Kingston replied with a muffled and hoarse voice, suppressing his strong emotions.

Krista looked really beautiful in a wedding dress, and Kingston had seen it before.

It was a pity that Krista didn't dress in a wedding dress for him.

Kingston also knew that he was wrong back then. That was why he couldn't get together with her.

Kingston never denied his mistake. Neither did he let go of the possible future with Krista.

"Hurry up and get out. They'll be coming up soon. What would happen if they saw you here? Hurry up and get out..."

Krista was anxious and kept pushing Kingston out.

At this moment, there were knocks on the door.

Krista trembled. If it was Aracely, she would have spoken first. Therefore, it must be someone else.

“How can you be such troublesome!”

She glared at him, full of resentment, and pushed him behind the curtain.

“You are not allowed to come out. You can only come out after I leave. If something happens to my wedding because of you, Kingston, don’t blame me for hating you!”

She said word by word with coldness crawling over her beautiful eyes.

“Do you think your wedding can continue?”

He asked in a hoarse voice, his eyebrows slightly raised, as if he was hiding something.

“What do you mean?”

She froze and looked at him in confusion.

‘Did he know something?’

At this moment, Kingston felt confused. He had promised not to make trouble, but he knew that many people were trying to ruin the wedding.

In the end, Krista would be badly hurt.

Kingston didn't want her to get hurt, but he didn't want her to marry Lance either.

If the wedding went smoothly, Kingston would never hope to get together with Krista for she would hold the vow.

But if the wedding was ruined, Krista would get hurt, feel sad, or even cry.

Krista didn't wait for Kingston's reply. The knocking on the door grew heavier.

"Stay here. I'll open the door."

Krista was afraid that if she didn't open the door for a long time, people would get suspicious.

Though nothing had happened between Krista and Kingston, she felt guilty.

She exhaled guiltily and turned to open the door, but Kingston's voice came from behind.

"I saw Catherine's car when I came. She is not a good person. She isn't here to bless you."

Kingston could not help but remind.

"So what? No one can ruin my wedding. You or she, none of you won't change anything."

Krista said confidently.

She turned down Kingston and Lance turned down Catherine.

As long as she and Lance were determined, no one could break them apart.

Chapter 336 Lance Won't Let Me down

Krista was not afraid of anyone.

She opened the door, and it was Catherine outside.

She couldn't help but think of what Kingston had just said. 'Did he expect that Catherine was the one knocking on the door, so he deliberately mentioned her?'

Krista had taken so long before opening the door after so long. That made Catherine a little impatient. Catherine crossed her arms around her chest and raised her chin high, looking at Krista coldly.

Catherine walked into the dressing room and looked around with disdain.

When Catherine glances at the curtains, Krista was worried, afraid that Catherine would notice something.

"Why do you come?"

"What? Am I not allowed to be here?"

Catherine raised an eyebrow.

"I don't remember that we had sent you an invitation, right?"

Krista frowned slightly, not understanding what Catherine's intention was.

"I like Lance. You know that, right?"

Catherine looked straight at Krista and did not try to hide anything.

“You are the Princess. You should know reputation, right? Lance and I are going to get married. Is Princess going to be a mistress? I’m afraid it won’t be good if this is overheard.”

“Mistress? You haven’t got married. I come here to give you a present.”

Catherine smiled triumphantly and took out her mobile phone.

Soon, all the dirty words came.

“Lance, be gentle... No.”

“Say yes. Do you know that I’ve wanted to have sex with you for a long time...”

“Oh...”

Then came the sounds of men and women gasping for breath, as well as the sounds of bodies colliding with each other.

Krista was stunned and didn’t move.

She knew who was talking in the video. It was Lance and Catherine.

“Impossible...”

It took Krista a long time to regain her senses, her lips trembling as she said.

“The voice can be faked. The video can’t be, right?”

Catherine was very satisfied with Krista's reaction and threw the phone over.

This video must have been edited and the part where Lance called Krista's name had been removed.

Krista seemed to fall into an icehouse. Her body trembled and her limbs were cold.

It... it was Lance...

He held Catherine in his arms, and his face appearing in the video couldn't be faked.

At that moment, Krista felt disgusted and wanted to vomit.

The phone fell to the ground with a bang.

Catherine immediately picked it up and looked at the video with appreciation. She complained coquettishly, "Don't smash the phone. I haven't had the time to backup it. I only have this copy."

"Impossible! Lance would never let me down!"

Krista kept shaking her head and retreating, still not believing Catherine.

"You saw the video too. Why lie to yourself? He likes you, but he is also a normal man. He has physiological needs. It is already the 21st century, but there is still such a conservative woman like you. You have been together for four years. So why are you pretending to be a chaste woman?"

Catherine mocked.

At first, Catherine thought that the two of them had been together for four years and were already engaged. They must have had sex as it was the era with opening thoughts.

However, Catherine had never expected that Lance would tell a lot of things when he was touched.

He said that he had waited for this day for four years. He had long wanted to have sex with Krista. And this was the first time he had sex with Krista.

Catherine was overjoyed when she heard it. She did not expect she would know this.

When Krista heard Catherine's mocking, the expression of her little face changed.

Chapter 337 You Know It All?

Krista was thin and the wedding dress was heavy to her. It seemed that she would be unable to hold on and could collapse at any time.

She suddenly remembered that a few nights ago, Lance barged in crazily and said such words.

"He was a normal man with needs.

'So... he couldn't get it from me, so he went for Catherine. Is it right?'

Krista was loyal to their relationship, but what about Lance?

'My heart hurts...

Krista was also resentful of Lance's betrayal.

Krista knew that part of the reason was her failure to have sex with him.

But this was not an acceptable reason for Lance to betray her.

A mistake was done.

Krista was in a mess now because she knew Lance betrayed her right before their wedding. It was devastating and she had no idea how to deal with it.

“If I were you, I wouldn’t let it continue. And you are not worthy of Lance at all, and only my distinguished status is most suitable for him.”

Catherine stood up straight and said disdainfully. Then, she turned around and left.

The moment she leaves, Krista fell to the ground like a broken doll.

Kingston immediately strode over and helped her up.

“Krista.”

He called her.

Krista’s eyes were empty and lifeless as she stared at the man in front of her.

Thinking of what Kingston said before, Krista squeezed out a wry smile.

“Did you guess... or did you know something... Tell me...”

“I know it all.”

Kingston said hoarsely.

Lance wasn't as wise as Kingston. In the beginning, Kingston didn't want Lance to know that he had arrived in City D. If Kingston determined to keep Krista, he had enough support from people in City D.

But Kingston quickly changed his mind and let Lance have it.

Kingston knew that Lance must have paid to get what he wanted. Therefore, no matter directly or indirectly, Lance must have killed people.

Lance had ruthlessly killed people. But Krista was different. She was kind-hearted and didn't know the dangers around.

Moreover, Krista hated those who had killed people for profits, such as Sandra.

Because Sandra had killed Brittany, Krista was even more disgusted with such people.

Therefore, when knowing that Lance had begun to hire the killers, Kingston had secretly prepared to play the trick.

However, Kingston accidentally risked his life.

If Kingston had not dodged in time, that bullet would have really passed through him and taken his life.

After rolling down the hill and getting hurt, Kingston was seriously injured and admitted to the hospital.

Kingston paid for what he thought was worthy.

The hickeys on his neck provoked them. But he didn't think it was enough.

He quietly arrived at Phelan City and avoided Lance's monitoring.

Though knowing Kingston was still alive, Lance didn't expect Kingston came to Phelan City instead of being at the hospital. Therefore, Lance made a mistake and didn't know Kingston had been here for several days.

Kingston took advantage of this chance to plant spies around him.

The very sight of Lance coming out of a hotel with Princess Catherine informed Kingston of what had happened.

Today, Kingston couldn't decide whether the wedding should be ruined throughout the whole journey to the dressing room.

The moment Kingston saw Krista in pain, his heart was also being twisted by a knife. It hurt.

"You know it all? You know it all?"

Krista roared hysterically.

Chapter 338 Krista's Ex-husband

No wonder Kingston said that he would not ruin her wedding, but he also reminded Krista of Catherine's coming.

He knew everything.

'He was deliberately making a fool of me!

"I don't understand what you want to do. Do you want me to marry you and become the stepmother of Sandra's child? Do you think I should be responsible for it? Do you think I should compensate him for being his stepmother?"

“Don’t dream! Even if I don’t marry Lance, I will never marry you. I would rather die than marry you. You don’t know how much I hate you. In the world, you are the one I hate the most!”

Even Krista herself didn’t know why she was so against Kingston.

Those hidden memories were all painful. Although Krista had forgotten most of them, the feeling was still vivid.

Kingston could ruin her life!

Krista had to stay away from him!

She pushed Kingston hard, but the moment she pushed him away, she exhausted her strength and fell to the ground.

Kingston immediately picked Krista up and helped her to the sofa.

However, Krista kept resisting and struggling, and her fists rained down on his chest.

But to Kingston, it didn’t hurt at all.

Seeing that she could not break free, Krista was so angry that she lay on Kingston’s shoulder and bit hard.

It was a heavy bite.

Kingston was ripped on his shoulder and the blood run down his clothes.

Krista sensed a greasy smell of blood in her mouth and on her fingers.

Kingston was in pain. He frowned and was stunned.

But soon, as if nothing had happened, he still carried Krista to the sofa and sat down.

However, just as they sat down, people came in.

“The groom is here to pick up the bride.”

Aracely said happily.

In the end, a group of people entered to see Krista and Kingston were pulling each other.

The expressions of everyone changed.

Lance was the first to come to his sense. He immediately rushed over and forcefully separated Kingston and hugged Krista.

“Kingston, why are you here?”

Lance asked angrily.

“Well, why would Mr. Irwin be alone in my sister-in-law’s room?”

Ryan’s words were amusing.

A man and a woman were alone in a room. Even if they kept their clothes tidy, people still talked.

“This... This is a misunderstanding. You guys might not know, but Mr. Irwin is Krista’s older brother. He came to bless the bride, right? When he came, he told me. I just forgot to tell you guys.”

Aracely could only lie.

If Kingston were relatives, that would make sense.

But Ryan added, "Is that so? How come I hear that Mr. Irwin is Krista's ex-husband?"

"Ryan, shut up!"

Lance couldn't hold back and roared out.

Ryan smiled and closed his mouth.

In any case, his goal had been achieved.

However, Carlisle among the crowd rushed over at the fastest speed. No one had time to react.

She quickly comes in front of Krista and slaps her hard, "How dare you cheat on my son and hook up with your ex husband!"

Ryan had already told Carlisle before that Krista was still in touch with her ex-husband.

Carlisle didn't take it to heart before, thinking that she might use it when necessary. Carlisle didn't expect the opportunity to come so quickly. So she took advantage of it.

"What the hell are you doing!"

Chapter 339 I Want to Take Her Away

Lance grabbed her hand angrily and held Krista in his arms tightly.

“You are still protecting this woman. If she is not blameless, she will only destroy the reputation of our Lamb family! Chase her out and never contact her again.”

“Get out, all of you get out!”

Lance was furious.

Carlisle was also a little afraid. He didn't dare to say anything and left.

Ryan also arranged for people to leave, leaving only a few people in the room.

Ryan stepped out of the door and said to the guests, “I'm sorry. Everyone, please sit down and rest. Lance has some personal matters to deal with. I also believe that this is a misunderstanding. It is reasonable for the ex-husband to send his ex-wife off. After all, they were both the couple and the siblings.”

“Is is this right?”

“Of course it is right, as long as Lance thinks that she is the right one.”

Ryan said casually

On the contrary, Carlisle started cursing, saying that Krista was a whore who hooked up with other men.

At the moment, inside the house,

Aracely spoke first,

“Kingston, why are you here?”

“I’m here to attend the wedding.”

Kingston said indifferently.

“Do you think I will believe what you say?”

Aracely said angrily.

“All right, then I just say it directly, I want to take Krista away.”

“Are you dreaming?”

Lance said angrily. He stood up and looked at Kingston without fear, “I was too careless. I should send a few more people to the hospital. If you are not dead, I will immediately give you two more cuts. Even if you are dead, I will whip your corpse and turn your bones into ashes! People like you deserve to die ten thousand times. You should go to hell!”

“Enough ... all of you get out, get out!”

Krista really couldn’t take it anymore. Right now, her mind was in a mess and was about to explode.

Krista didn’t know what she should do now, she wanted to calm down, but they were all chattering.

Krista wanted the quietness.

“Krista!”

Lance looked at Krista worriedly. Krista was in a bad state, her face and lips were all pale, and her mental state looked bad.

Lance's first reaction was that Kingston had done something to Krista.

"Get out, get out, all of you get out..."

"Am I going out too?"

Lance looked at Krista and felt hurt.

"Get out, get out ... get out!"

Krista pushed everyone out.

"Krista, can you let me in? No matter what happens, I can give you suggestions."

"Krista..."

No matter how the people outside called out to Krista, Krista behaved like she heard nothing.

Krista leaned her back against the door, she slowly slid down and hugged her knees.

Krista's tense nerves finally relaxed, and her tears kept falling.

'Why would my life become so complicated?

Lance grabbed Kingston's collar angrily and glared at him.

Chapter 340 After Four Years, You Are Not Good For Her

"You know what you did. You let Krista down."

Kingston asked coldly.

Lance immediately thought of that night.

Lance released his hand because of his guilty and looked at Kingston with complicated eyes, "I don't get you."
