Chapter 341 Krista Belongs to Me

“Is this how you protect her? All the skills you’ve learned over the years, just to protect her against me? If you’re really good enough for her and your relationship is stable enough, why do you need to worry about me?”

Kingston’s words at this moment, like knives, word by word, stabbed Lance in the heart.

“Shut up! You shut up...”

Lance gasped. He looked at Kingston hideously, his eyes bloodshot.

In contrast, Kingston was calm and relaxed, his eyes mysterious.

The calmer Kingston was, the angrier Lance became.

Lance was not willing to look weaker than Kingston!

“I can handle all these things. I don’t need you to comment on Krista and me!”

“Even if I’m not here, can you guys always stay together?”

“Let’s make a bet. Even if I had sex with Catherine, as long as Krista knows why she will still choose me!”

Lance suddenly laughed with a smug look in his eyes.

Kingston frowned fiercely.

Kingston naturally hoped that Krista would be completely disappointed with Lance because of this incident. Even if Krista didn't stay with himself, she would still stay away from Lance, which would be enough.

But Kingston couldn't make up his mind now.

After all, Kingston and Krista had been apart for four whole years.

Lance wiped the blood off the corner of his mouth and looked at Kingston smugly.

"Kingston, dare you to bet? You're scared, aren't you? Even you can get afraid!"

Kingston's face turned pale, and he began to cough violently.

The blood spat on the white tiles, forming a stark contrast.

Kingston laughed mockingly.

A simple word from Lance had caused Kingston to lose his composure.

Krista was overwhelmed by the stimulus of grief and could not bear it for a while. Therefore, she remained unconscious.

Since she was fished out of the sea four years ago, her health had deteriorated greatly, and she often had fever and headaches.

She had a high fever that wouldn't go away. In the end, she started babbling and kept calling Brittany.

Kingston didn't follow her to the hospital because he and Lance would only argue in the same room. He just wanted her to receive good treatment and wake up soon.

He asked someone to keep an eye on her while he went elsewhere.

Catherine and Carlisle were having coffee together. Carlisle excitedly told Catherine that their plan had worked. The wedding had been temporarily canceled.

“Princess Catherine, you are so smart. They definitely can’t be together anymore. Soon you’ll be married to Lance. Lance is lucky to have you.”

“Unfortunately, I can’t sleep or eat as long as Krista is alive. It’s hard for me when all Lance thinks and sees is Krista.”

Carlisle immediately said, “I understand. I’ll find a way to get rid of this bitch once and for all. I promise you no one will dare take Lance away from you.”

“It’s not me who told you to kill Krista.”

Catherine said slyly.

“Princess Catherine, you are a kind person. It’s all on me. I can’t stand that bitch anymore and have been trying to make her disappear. Besides, it’s not so hard for me to make a few people disappear...”

Before Carlisle could finish her words, her body was suddenly pressed down, her head against the desk.

“Who is it? Let go of me. I’ll kill you...”

Unable to move, Carlisle could only keep cursing.

Quincy didn't take kindly to this hideous woman at all.

"Who are you?"

Catherine frowned fiercely and looked at Kingston.

"My name is Kingston. I am Krista's ex-husband and her nominal brother. Krista belongs to me. You will have to kill me first before you try to kill her."

Chapter 342 Bottom Line

"I was wondering who it was. That bitch Krista sent you here?"

Catherine didn't take it seriously.

She had already heard of Kingston. Among the young people, he was undoubtedly the most competent.

The Irwin Group had gone public a long time ago. And it was a well-known top family in the world.

She was impressed with it because the royal family often had cooperation with the Irwin family.

"Princess Catherine, pay attention to your words."

"Are you unhappy because I call her bitch? But I think Krista is a bitch and how dare she rob my man?"

Catherine said savagely.

Kingston heard her words but said nothing.

He raised his hand and then knocked over the tea kettle next to him. The boiling hot water fell on the back of Catherine's hand.

"Oh..."

Catherine jumped up and looked at Kingston angrily.

How dare he!

"Princess Catherine, why are you so careless?"

"You ... you did it on purpose."

"Yes, maybe next time it will fall on your face. As far as I know, the royal family in Phelan City does not have much real power. Princess Catherine may look glorious on the surface, but in fact, there are not many people who really respect you."

"I don't care what you want Lance to do, but you can't touch Krista. If you dare to hurt her, I will kill you."

"You are just a princess with an undeserved reputation. Your duty is to connect the state with other countries through marriage. I don't care about you at all."

"You..."

Catherine was so angry that her whole body began to tremble. Lance had threatened her, and now Kingston also threatened her. It was a humiliation for her. "You dare? You are not in the City D now but in the Phelan City. If you dare to hurt me, try it."

Catherine said angrily, "Do you believe that I will call someone over right now? And you won't be able to escape."

“Really?”

Kingston picked up the fork on the table.

It was cold because of the metal texture.

Kingston put the fork on Carlisle’s hand.

“Do you want me to have a try? If you marry Lance in the future, Carlisle will be your mother-in-law. I will take one of her hands and let you know that I am not joking.”

Then he held the fork and it slowly penetrated Carlisle’s hand.

The fork was not sharp enough and needed great efforts to stab into the skin.

He pushed it slowly, and soon Carlisle began to scream out.

“Princess Catherine, save me. It hurts so much...”

“You, you, you...”

Catherine felt her hair stand on end. Carlisle’s face was pale and she kept screaming. The fork penetrated Carlisle’s hand and the blood came out.

It was not deep now, and Kingston was continuing to push it.

Catherine began to be nervous and afraid.

She thought of Lance’s determination to break the glass.

The bottom line of these two men seemed to be Krista. Once Krista was threatened, they could do anything to save her.

“Princess, it hurts so much. Please save me. I’ve been helping you and fixing you and Lance up. You can’t do it to me.”

“I ... I don’t want to. It is him ... He wants to torture you.”

“Is it very difficult for you to not hurt Krista?”

Kingston looked at Catherine coldly.

“I won’t pursue what happened today. But if you dare to have any ideas about endangering her life in the future, will kill you!”

Chapter 343 I Don’t Want Anything Bad to Happen Again

“I’m sorry. I don’t want to hurt her either. I just want to be with Lance,” Catherine said.

“I will take Krista away. You just need to take care of Lance. Do you hear me?” Kingston said. “Alright. It’s best if you have the way. I don’t want to cause any more trouble. Let go of her!”

Catherine urged Kingston to loosen his grip.

Kingston suddenly became ruthless, and he directly poked Carlisle’s hand with a fork.

Carlisle was in extreme pain, and then she fainted.

Kingston released his hand and wiped his fingers.

He said, "Don't disturb Krista. This is my bottom line. Lance dare not do anything, but I dare."

Now, Kingston understood that power, money, and the fortunes of the family were nothing.

He thought that his life would be meaningless if he lived an unhappy life and he couldn't do anything on his own.

In the past, he didn't feel guilty towards anyone but himself and Krista. Now, he didn't need anything but Krista.

Kingston put Krista's life first.

Then, Kingston left. He directly parked the car outside the hospital. He was uneasy and didn't enter the hospital.

He kept comforting himself that Krista would recover quickly.

However, Kingston was also afraid that Krista was too weak to make a complete recovery.

He became more anxious.

Suddenly, Quincy's phone rang.

Quincy said, "Mr. Irwin, Ms. Compton is awake."

When Kingston heard that, he immediately rushes out of the car and couldn't wait to see Krista.

In the ward, Lance held Krista's hand tightly and kept apologizing.

Lance said, "Krista, I didn't do it on purpose. I love you. It has never changed. This is their scheme to frame me. I was drugged and had no choice but to do it. Moreover, I thought that it was you that night."

"I'm sorry. No matter what I say now, it can't make up for the harm I have done to you. I hope that you can give me a chance to explain. It isn't what you think it is."

"Krista, you can scold me and hit me, but please don't leave me."

Lance's eyes went red.

After Krista woke up, she did not say anything and stared at him blankly for a long time.

Then, she said, "It doesn't matter. Everyone makes mistakes. I believe you. How long have I been sick? How about our wedding? Let's hold the wedding. I don't want anything bad to happen again."

Krista was about to get up, but Lance pulled her into his embrace.

"Krista, it's great that you can think so."

Lance never expected Krista to know that he was innocent and chose to forgive him.

Lance thought that it was great that Krista was still willing to marry him.

"The wedding has been canceled, but it doesn't matter. I will give you a grand wedding and let everyone know that we get married," Lance said.

They held this wedding in a hurry, so no one knew.

Lance originally wanted to marry Krista as fast as he could.

However, he was not worried, because he knew Krista only love him. Even if something like this happened, Krista could understand him and forgive him.

Lance originally wanted to marry Krista as fast as he could.

However, he was not worried, because he knew Krista only love him. Even if something like this happened, Krista could understand him and forgive him.

Chapter 344 Forgiving Him Rationally

Lance was so happy, and he didn't even think carefully about why Krista forgave him so quickly.

"Alright. It's also because I don't care enough about you. In the future, I will be a good wife and live a good life with you," Krista said.

"Great!"

Lance was excited and hugged Krista tightly.

Lance thought that he won.

He believed that Krista cared about him.

Kingston stood at the door, his hand heavily resting on the handle of the door.

Originally Kingston couldn't wait to see Krista, but now he hesitated.

He stood at the door for a long time before leaving.

"Mr. Irwin."

Quincy became anxious.

Kingston always flinched at crucial times.

Quincy knew that Kingston had done so much for Krista all these years and even was about to lose his life, but Krista did not know.

Quincy thought that Kingston was so foolish.

“Go back. She needs to rest now. It’s not good that more people stay here,” Kingston said.

“Rest? Mr. Irwin, you should have a rest. Lance did something wrong, so you should take Ms. Compton back. You’ve done so much for her!”

Quincy felt injustice for Kingston.

“She chooses Lance. Maybe I shouldn’t disturb her.”

Kingston pursed his lips and felt sad.

Kingston hoped that Krista would be happy even if he couldn’t stay with her.

Kingston thought, “Krista must love Lance because she wants to marry Lance.

‘Even if Krista forgot that we once had a child, she still wants to marry Lance.’

‘If I insist on keeping her with me, Krista must hate me.’

Kingston didn’t want her to hate him.

Then, Kingston left. Quincy was very worried about him.

Suddenly, Krista felt a sharp pain in her heart.

She let out a cry of pain.

Krista could not bear it and then gasped.

“Are you feeling unwell?” Lance asked.

He had a worried look on his face.

“No. I’m fine.”

Krista forced a smile. She was a little confused.

Then, she quickly calmed down.

Krista left the hospital after two days. Lance also began to prepare a grand wedding and chose the most luxurious hotel in Phelan City.

Krista disliked a luxurious wedding, but Lance insisted on this, so she had no choice.

Krista didn’t need to do anything now, she just needed to recuperate at home and wait to put on her wedding dress again.

Catherine was angry, but she just came here and played tough to Krista. Catherine did not do anything to hurt Krista,

Carlisle didn’t bother Krista either.

After two days, Krista had a physical examination, and she went to the hospital with Aracely.

Krista unexpectedly saw Carlisle. Carlisle's right hand was wrapped in gauze and she groaned in pain.

Carlisle also saw Krista, but Carlisle lowered her head and walked forward.

"Why doesn't Carlisle bother you? She used to treat you badly every time she saw you. What's wrong with her these days?"

"You also think Carlisle behaves strangely?"

"Of course. It's so obvious."

Krista was even more puzzled.

"Could it be that Lance has taught her a lesson?"

Aracely guessed it might be so.

Krista shook her head and said, "If so, there wouldn't be so much trouble."

Chapter 345 I Want to Say Thank You

"I don't know how many times Mr. Hamm warned her, but she is sure that Mr. Hamm doesn't dare to make real damage to her, so she is so unscrupulous. It hasn't changed in all these years. Since you are so curious, why don't you go up and ask? Hurry up."

Aracely was curious, so she pulled Krista forward and blocked Carlisle in the garage.

Carlisle's face became paler,

"What ... what are you doing? Don't come over, stay away from me!"

Carlisle still remembered how Kingston had stabbed her with a fork. Even Princess Catherine was helpless.

Carlisle was really afraid and wondered when had she ever experienced such a thing?

Carlisle was no longer in contact with Catherine and was staying in her house obediently. Today, Carlisle was here to check, otherwise, she would have to hide for a few days.

“Why are you so afraid of us? Did you be punished by God because you have done too much wrong things?”

Aracely asked proudly. Aracely had been bullied by Carlisle before. Now that Aracely Aracely had the chance to retaliate, how could she endure it?

“I’m not afraid of you. I’m afraid of Kingston! You little bitch, you dare to have affair with your ex-husband! Lance will finally drop you off and be with Princess Catherine.”

“Kingston?”

Krista’s heart trembled when she heard this name again.

Krista had not seen Kingston since she woke up, so she did not know what the feeling was.

Kingston kept saying that he wanted to marry Krista and stop Krista from being together with Lance, but when Krista was seriously ill, he did not come to take a look.

‘The words of men were all lies!

However, Krista never expected that Kingston would cause trouble for Carlisle.

“What exactly is going on?”

Krista quickly asked.

Carlisle had to tell the truth.

Carlisle shook her bandaged hand and said resentfully, “You little slut, my son will kill your ass for me sooner or later.”

“You don’t want your hands anymore, do you? Do you really want to chop them all off?”

Aracely said fiercely

“You guys are ruthless!”

Carlisle got in the car and drove away.

While Krista was still in a daze, ‘Kingston ... stood up for me’.

“Krista, what are you thinking about?”

“Why did Kingston do this? Why?” Krista asked blankly.

“This...” Aracely was also confused, “Maybe it’s because of Brittany. After all, you are the person Brittany valued the most when she was alive.”

Aracely explained randomly.

“But ... is that so?”

Krista's heart suddenly ached, she felt very uncomfortable.

'It had also been a few days since I had heard of Kingston's news, how is he doing right now?'

At this moment, two men walked over.

One was Quincy, and the other was the doctor who treated Kingston.

"Quincy!"

Krista hurried forward. This was the first time Krista was so eager to know Kingston's whereabouts. 'How had he been these days?

I used to think that Kingston had returned to City D, but since Quincy is here, he is definitely in here.

When Quincy saw Krista, he became impatient,

"Doctor, wait for me in the car. I'll be right there."

"Okay, hurry up. The patient can't wait."

Quincy nodded, then he looked at Krista,

"Ms. Compton, what can I do for you?"

"That ... I haven't seen Kingston for a long time. How is he? I still want to thank him..."

Krista hurried forward. This was the first time Krista was so eager to know Kingston’s whereabouts. ‘How had he been these days?’

I used to think that Kingston had returned to City D, but since Quincy is here, he is definitely in here.

When Quincy saw Krista, he became impatient,

“Doctor, wait for me in the car. I’ll be right there.”

“Okay, hurry up. The patient can’t wait.”

Quincy nodded, then he looked at Krista,

“Ms. Compton, what can I do for you?”

“That ... I haven’t seen Kingston for a long time. How is he? I still want to thank him...”

Chapter 344 Forgiving Him Rationally

Lance was so happy, and he didn’t even think carefully about why Krista forgave him so quickly.

“Alright. It’s also because I don’t care enough about you. In the future, I will be a good wife and live a good life with you,” Krista said.

“Great!”

Lance was excited and hugged Krista tightly.

Lance thought that he won.

He believed that Krista cared about him.

Kingston stood at the door, his hand heavily resting on the handle of the door.

Originally Kingston couldn’t wait to see Krista, but now he hesitated.

He stood at the door for a long time before leaving.

“Mr. Irwin.”

Quincy became anxious.

Kingston always flinched at crucial times.

Quincy knew that Kingston had done so much for Krista all these years and even was about to lose his life, but Krista did not know.

Quincy thought that Kingston was so foolish.

“Go back. She needs to rest now. It’s not good that more people stay here,” Kingston said.

“Rest? Mr. Irwin, you should have a rest. Lance did something wrong, so you should take Ms. Compton back. You’ve done so much for her!”

Quincy felt injustice for Kingston.

“She chooses Lance. Maybe I shouldn’t disturb her.”

Kingston pursed his lips and felt sad.

Kingston hoped that Krista would be happy even if he couldn’t stay with her.

Kingston thought, “Krista must love Lance because she wants to marry Lance.

‘Even if Krista forgot that we once had a child, she still wants to marry Lance.’

‘If I insist on keeping her with me, Krista must hate me.’

Kingston didn’t want her to hate him.

Then, Kingston left. Quincy was very worried about him.

Suddenly, Krista felt a sharp pain in her heart.

She let out a cry of pain.

Krista could not bear it and then gasped.

“Are you feeling unwell?” Lance asked.

He had a worried look on his face.

“No. I’m fine.”

Krista forced a smile. She was a little confused.

Then, she quickly calmed down.

Krista left the hospital after two days. Lance also began to prepare a grand wedding and chose the most luxurious hotel in Phelan City.

Krista disliked a luxurious wedding, but Lance insisted on this, so she had no choice.

Krista didn’t need to do anything now, she just needed to recuperate at home and wait to put on her wedding dress again.

Catherine was angry, but she just came here and played tough to Krista. Catherine did not do anything to hurt Krista,

Carlisle didn’t bother Krista either.

After two days, Krista had a physical examination, and she went to the hospital with Aracely.

Krista unexpectedly saw Carlisle. Carlisle’s right hand was wrapped in gauze and she groaned in pain.

Carlisle also saw Krista, but Carlisle lowered her head and walked forward.

“Why doesn’t Carlisle bother you? She used to treat you badly every time she saw you. What’s wrong with her these days?”

“You also think Carlisle behaves strangely?”

“Of course. It’s so obvious.”

Krista was even more puzzled.

“Could it be that Lance has taught her a lesson?”

Aracely guessed it might be so.

Krista shook her head and said, “If so, there wouldn’t be so much trouble.”

Chapter 345 I Want to Say Thank You

“I don’t know how many times has Mr. Hamm warned her, but she is sure that Mr. Hamm doesn’t dare to make real damage to her, so she is so unscrupulous. It hasn’t changed in all these years. Since you are so curious, why don’t you go up and ask? Hurry up.”

Aracely was curious, so she pulled Krista forward and blocked Carlisle in the garage.

Carlisle’s face became paler,

“What ... what are you doing? Don’t come over, stay away from me!”

Carlisle still remembered how Kingston had stabbed her with a fork. Even Princess Catherine was helpless.

Carlisle was really afraid and wondered when had she ever experienced such a thing?

Carlisle was no longer in contact with Catherine and was staying in her house obediently. Today, Carlisle was here to check, otherwise, she would have to hide for a few days.

“Why are you so afraid of us? Did you be punished by God because you have done too much wrong things?”

Aracely asked proudly. Aracely had been bullied by Carlisle before. Now that Aracely Aracely had the chance to retaliate, how could she endure it?

“I’m not afraid of you. I’m afraid of Kingston! You little bitch, you dare to have affair with your ex-husband! Lance will finally drop you off and be with Princess Catherine.”

“Kingston?”

Krista’s heart trembled when she heard this name again.

Krista had not seen Kingston since she woke up, so she did not know what the feeling was.

Kingston kept saying that he wanted to marry Krista and stop Krista from being together with Lance, but when Krista was seriously ill, he did not come to take a look.

‘The words of men were all lies!

However, Krista never expected that Kingston would cause trouble for Carlisle.

“What exactly is going on?”

Krista quickly asked.

Carlisle had to tell the truth.

Carlisle shook her bandaged hand and said resentfully, "You little slut, my son will kill your ass for me sooner or later."

"You don't want your hands anymore, do you? Do you really want to chop them all off?"

Aracely said fiercely

"You guys are ruthless!"

Carlisle got in the car and drove away.

While Krista was still in a daze, 'Kingston ... stood up for me'.

"Krista, what are you thinking about?"

"Why did Kingston do this? Why?" Krista asked blankly.

"This..." Aracely was also confused, "Maybe it's because of Brittany. After all, you are the person Brittany valued the most when she was alive."

Aracely explained randomly.

"But ... is that so?"

Krista's heart suddenly ached, she felt very uncomfortable.

'It had also been a few days since I had heard of Kingston's news, how is he doing right now?'

At this moment, two men walked over.

One was Quincy, and the other was the doctor who treated Kingston.

“Quincy!”

Krista hurried forward. This was the first time Krista was so eager to know Kingston’s whereabouts. ‘How had he been these days?
