Chapter 351 Do You Like Lance

“Alright, I’ll do as you say.”

Kingston was happy and held her hand tightly.

She tried to shake off but failed. Since he was a patient, she decided not to fuss about it.

She sent him back to his room and was about to leave when he nervously grabbed her hand.

“Where are you going?”

“I’ll go get the food. Aren’t you hungry?” “Let Quincy go. Will you stay here?”

“Alright.”

Quincy quickly brought the breakfast over. It was liquid food because he just suffered a serious illness.

“I made this by myself. Thank you for warning Nataly and Catherine, Kingston.”

“It doesn’t matter.”

He said indifferently.

“Eat some food. Be careful of the heat.”

“I’m sick. I feel weak. I can’t move.”

“Is it that serious? Then I will call the doctor.”

She was a little worried.

“No, I just need to rest.”

“Then you must take good care of yourself.”

“How about you help me?” Kingston revealed his purpose.

Hearing this, she frowned. “Well, I don’t think...”

“Oh, it hurts.”

Suddenly, he gasped.

“What’s wrong?”

“I don’t know why, but my arm is painful. It feels numb.”

Krista was embarrassed. His right hand felt numb because she had pressed down on it.

She felt guilty and responded, “I’ll feed you. It’s not a big deal. Don’t move. You need to rest.”

Hearing this, Kingston smirked.

It was interesting to trick her.

Krista was very careful. She let the food cool before feeding Kingston. He felt that he was the happiest person in the world,

“Have you fed Lance like this before?”

He asked curiously.

“No. Mr. Hamm has never had such a serious illness before.”

Kingston was even happier when he heard this.

“Why are you asking this?” She realized that something was wrong and looked at him warily. “Are you up to something? Don’t try to break me up with Mr. Hamm.”

“Why do you still choose him? He did something wrong.”

He narrowed his eyes and asked.

“I know, but I also know the whole story. It was not his fault. He was also set up and regretted it. I couldn’t turn my back on him.”

“What he needs the most is my forgiveness. I can’t let him continue feeling guilty.” After she finished speaking, she found that Kingston had been looking at her meaningfully.

“Why are you looking at me like that? Don’t tell me I was wrong.”

She frowned as she looked at Kingston. She felt strange,

“Do you like Lance?”

He narrowed his eyes and asked, his eyes sharp. He always felt that Krista liked Lance. After all, she had given birth to a child for him. They had been together for four years and were going to marry. But now it seemed that Krista didn't know what love was. Krista didn't reply. She also had asked herself this question countless times. Did she like Lance?

She regarded him as her best family, just like Aracely and Luck.

But she had no affection for him.

Chapter 352 You Don't Love Him

It did not prevent them from living together, and this would make Lance very happy. Aracely also hoped that she would be happy.

Hence, she had always felt that it was right to marry Lance. As long as it was the right thing, you should do it, isn't it?

But of course, she could not tell Kingston what was on her mind.

Her eyes rolled around, not daring to look into his eyes as she stammered, "Yes, of course I love him. Otherwise, why would I marry him?"

Kingston was not satisfied with her answer.

He lifted his hand and pinched her chin. He did not put much strength, but he had a dignity that she could not break free from.

She was forced to look into his eyes.

"You ... What are you doing?" She said in fear.

Before she could finish the sentence, Kingston approached her and pressed his lips against hers.

She was frightened and kept pushing, but the man was still like an iron wall. She could not break free at all. In a moment of desperation, she could only bite the tip of his tongue.

In an instant, his mouth was full of blood.

Taking advantage of the time when Kingston was in pain, she used all her strength to push him away.

Normally, she would not be able to break free, but Kingston is too weak at the moment.

After being pushed, his breath became heavy, and he took a deep breath.

“Kingston, don’t go too far!”

She said angrily. She was grateful for his help, that’s why she took care of him and fed him breakfast.

But this was definitely not a reason for him to be insatiable!

She strode away without looking back. When she reached the door, Kingston’s weak voice came from behind her.

“You don’t love Lance. Four years later, in these short two months, we are more intimate than Lance, right?”

These words caused her back to freeze.

Her hand gripped the door handle tightly, only feeling that the metal texture was cold and penetrating.

Kingston saw her stop and forced himself to get out of bed.

“You didn’t kiss him, didn’t feed him, and didn’t share a bed with him, did you?”

On the day of the wedding, he stood behind the curtain and listened clearly.

Catherine once said that Lance had never touched Krista’s body.

Once

If he really loved someone, how could he have done this?

“Shut up!”

She turned around and glared at Kingston with red eyes. “You ... you don’t understand Lance and me at all. Don’t use your moral to judge us. Lance loves me very much, and I want to marry him. That’s enough.”

“Then do you love him?”

“...” She was silent.

“You don’t love him at all. That’s why you are so generous to quickly let go of the matter between him and Catherine and even want to continue to marry him. In that case, I have no reason to let go. As long as you love him even the slightest bit, I will be willing to let go. But now ... you don't love him." |

"That's enough, Kingston. Even if I don't love him, it's impossible for me to love you. I didn't love you four years ago, and I didn't love you four years later either. Even if I don't stay with Lance, I won't be with you in my lifetime."

"If it were four years ago, there was no Sandra and you did not divorce me, maybe we could still be a couple peacefully. But everything happened and grandma was gone. What reason do I have to be with you?"

She said with red eyes. It was misty and full of steam,

For some reason, his heart ached when she said this.

It was as if there was an invisible knife that was fiercely stabbing at his heart.

When Kingston heard these words, he felt a sharp pain in his heart.

Chapter 353 Doing As You Order

Kingston walked weakly but incomparably firm towards Krista step by step.

"Don't come any closer. I'm leaving. I don't want to see you again." Krista said.

"Really? I'm almost out of strength. If you leave, I will fall to the ground. I don't know if my head hit the ground first or my knees. Anyway, I won't die from falling, right? Maybe I will have a fracture or a concussion. It's none of your business, right, Krista?*

Kingston raised his eyebrows and wondered.

His face was pale.

Kingston was once strong, but he became weak and pale.

Kingston was not wearing any clothes, and Krista could see the wounds on his body.

The most terrifying wound was on his chest, and Krista did not know how Kingston was injured.

"Don't take advantage of my sympathy. I will not care about you...Krista said.

Before Krista could finish her sentence, she saw that Kingston could not hold on any longer, and his body swayed weakly as if he was about to fall to the ground.

At that moment, all of Krista's thoughts and actions did not go through her brain. She did it completely instinctually

Krista caught him firmly, and she couldn't watch him die.

But Krista was too weak, and both of them fell.

Kingston used his hand to protect Krista in the last second. His back fell heavily to the ground, and he was in so much pain,

"You..."

Krista was angry and anxious. Originally, she wanted to support Kingston and prevent him from falling. In the end, she became a burden.

Krista wanted to cry.

Krista didn't know if it was because she didn't support Kingston, or if it was because his words had hit the nail on the head.

In short, Krista had mixed feelings and her tears kept falling.

"Why are you crying? Did you hurt yourself?" Kingston asked.

Kingston immediately ignored the pain in his body and caressed Krista's face tenderly.

Krista was angry and stopped Kingston's action. She said, "Why do you always bully me? Before I met you, I lived a peaceful life in these four years. But when you appeared, everything changed and my life became a mess."

Krista added, "Kingston, I hate you. In these four years, the person I hate the most is you. In these years, I took the initiative to avoid seeing you. Why do you not let me go?"

Krista cried so hard that her tears were like beads with broken strings, falling continuously

When Kingston saw this, he felt sad. He continuously wiped the tears on her cheeks, but Krista was crying so hard.

Kingston asked faintly, "Do you not want me to disturb your life?"

Krista should have blurted out "Yes."

But for some reason, Krista couldn't say anything.

Krista hated and rejected Kingston, but when she heard this, she felt so uncomfortable.

Krista wondered, 'Do I want to sever all ties with Kingston?'

Krista did not understand.

Krista did not understand if it was because Sandra had caused the death of Brittany and Sandra almost made Krista lose her life.

Krista did not figure out if because of Kingston's sudden divorce.

Krista was so confused and she was about to go crazy.

Krista did not answer but just cried harder and harder.

"Don't cry, Krista."

Kingston held Krista into his arms and gently stroked her head. His movements were gentle and doting, afraid of pulling her hair.

Krista leaned on his shoulder, her tears wetting his clothes and skin.

"Krista, I will do whatever you want me to do. If I make you so painful, I will not disturb you anymore. If you don't want to see me, I will do as you order," order:

Chapter 354 Strangers After Meeting Again

Every word was squeezed out of the gaps between his teeth with difficulty. This kind of pain was like pulling out his tendons, peeling his skin, and cutting off his flesh.

His heart seemed to be bleeding.

However, in order to let Krista live the life she wanted, he would take it all.

Because he was a sinner.

And she was his only salvation.

When Krista heard this, she felt a heart-wrenching pain.

Her small hands were tightly clenched, and the pain she felt was sharp.

For Mr. Hamm, for her normal life in the future, she could no longer tangle with Kingston. She was going to pull everything back on track.

“Are you sure that you can do it if I tell you?”:

“At the very least, I can do it now, but if Lance bullies you in the future, I will regret today’s decision. At that time, I will take you away regardless of whether you are willing or not, I will keep you by my side for a lifetime to not lose you!”

He said word by word, his eyes were burning and deep as he stared at her.

Her heart trembled as he stared at her. She hurriedly averted her gaze.

She took a deep breath and endured the pain of her heart being torn apart. “Alright, listen up. I hope that our lives will return to how they were before. You are in City D, while I am in Phelan City. My marriage and future children have nothing to do with you, and it has nothing to do with me if you want to get married.”

“I have nothing to do with you. If we meet again in the future ... we are strangers. We don’t need to greet each other, we don’t need to look at each other. Just like this... I’m done with you.”

Kingston listened quietly and did not respond for a long time after she finished.

It took him a long time to regain his voice.

“Alright.”

:11

“That’s ... the best.”

She wiped the tears from the corners of her eyes and helped him stand up.

“I’m leaving. Take good care of yourself. This might be the last time we meet.”

He pursed his lips and tightened his jaw, his eyes like a lamenting deep blue sea.

He lowered his gaze and remained motionless.

The moment she turned and left, he also panicked and got up in a hurry.

But he got up too fiercely and almost fell down again. Krista quickly caught him.

“What are you doing?”

“I want to see you out.”

He said in a hoarse voice.

“Since you are already like this, don’t see me out. Let’s end it here. I hope you will be safe, healthy, and happy. You are not allowed to die or have any accidents, okay?”

She added worriedly.

When he heard this, his lips curled into a self-deprecating smile.

“I can promise you that I’ll be safe and healthy, but I’m afraid I won’t be able to be happy. I won’t be happy for the rest of my life if I can’t have the person I love the most.”

“That is your business. It has nothing to do with me.”

She ruthlessly avoided his loving eyes, made up her mind, and strode away.

“Krista.”

ill

She heard Kingston’s voice. He seemed to have something else to say.

However, she did not stop. She was afraid that her heart would soften if she looked at him more.

She went downstairs in one breath and refused Quincy to send her back, jogging away.

“Krista ... I love you...”

Before he could say the last three words, she disappeared.

He stood at the draught of the balcony and coughed softly as he watched her fleeing back.

Krista returned home and locked herself in her room.

Her tears had been suppressed for such a long time, and now she couldn’t hold it in anymore.

She wrapped herself in a blanket and cried.

Aracely took out the spare key and opened the door. Seeing her hiding in the quilt, she knew that Krista was very sad.

“Krista, are you alright?”

She pulled the blanket away and Krista hugged her tightly.

Chapter 355 Heart-Broken

“Why ... Why did my heart hurt so much when Kingston made a clean break with me? He was just my ex – husband. We had no feelings for each other, but why did I feel so sad when disassociating myself from him?”

“You don’t know how much courage I took to say those words. Aracely, what happened to me? I don’t seem to be myself anymore. From the moment I saw Kingston, everything changed.”

“Aracely, can I really go back to the past? I feel like my heart... seems to be broken. It hurts so much...”

When Aracely heard this, her heart also tightened. She had gone through so much with Krista, so she knew how much Krista had paid.. Even if Krista forgot the fact that she loved Kingston, she could not start over.

While she lost her memory, she also completely lost her ability to love.

She regarded Lance as a family, and mistook conjugal relation for family affection.

Aracely even had a momentary impulse to tell her all the truth. However, when she thought about Lance, she couldn’t tell it. If Krista remembered the past and still had a deep heart for Kingston, what should Lance do?

Efthing he had don

All these years, she had seen everything he had done. It was more than just an arm of his.

She patted Krista on the back and said gently, “Just take a nap. Forget about the unhappy things in the past. Just treat it as if you have never met Kingston. You and him are only strangers.”

“Can I? Can I really do it?”

Krista cried with doubt.

“Yes, you can. You can think about Mr. Hamm. You’re very happy with him, right? We will be right by your side and help you forget about Kingston, okay?”

“Alright, I will forget about him. An insignificant person is not worthy of me remembering.”

Krista sobbed and wiped her tears.

Aracely comforted her. Krista was tired for the whole night, and now she was sleepy.

Soon, she fell asleep from exhaustion, but she had a bad dream.

In the dream, it was a dark night. She was shivering as she hid in the tree, and a group of wolves surrounded Kingston below.

The eyes of those wolves glowed with green light, as if they wanted to tear him apart and swallow him into their stomachs.

Every time she saw him injured, her heart was breaking with pain.

In the end, he fell in a pool of blood and was unconscious
