Chapter 356 Catherine Is Pregnant

“Do you think you are in the idol drama where you will get into a car accident and lose your memory easily? You remember a lot of things in the past, don't you? How could you say that you've lost your memory?”

“That's true. I remember everything that happened in the past. We went to school together. I found my younger brother and trace the cause of my grandma's death after all trouble... I remember all of this.”

“I think you haven't slept well recently. That's why you had a strange dream. Let's go to a beauty salon today. The marriage must be wonderful.”

“Yes.”

Krista nodded and didn't continue thinking about it. She couldn't figure out why anyway

When she went out shopping, she received a text message from Quincy.

“Mr. Irwin and I are already at the airport. We're going back to City D. I wish Ms. Compton happiness and health every single day.”

Krista was surprised to see the message.

The first thing she thought of was Kingston's physical condition. He was so weak but still decided to go back today. At the very least, he would need to rest a few days.

She entered a string of text and was about to send the message when her fingers froze for some reason.

It was Kingston's own business whether he left or not. Since he did not care about his own body, why would Krista care so much?

She deleted all the words and did not reply at all.

At the airport

Kingston held Quincy's phone and stared at it for a long time.

It was Kingston who sent Krista the message. He texted it word by word after thinking carefully.

“Mr. Irwin, there's no need to wait anymore. Ms. Compton doesn't care about you at all. Don't be stubborn. All you need to do now is to pay more attention to your health.”

Kingston pursed his lips, not believing that Krista was so heartless

“Maybe she just didn’t see it

Kingston said such words lightly

“Mr. Irwin, then you can keep my phone. Let’s just wait and see if she will reply to the text message within 24 hours. If not, it means that she is not worth your love at all.”

With that, Kingston returned the phone to Quincy and smiled helplessly. Whether she will read my text message in 24 hours can’t decide so much. As long as I think she is worth my love, even if I have to sacrifice my life, I won’t regret it.”

Quincy frowned and wanted to say something more, but he stopped finally.

If he could persuade Kingston with just a few words, then Kingston wouldn’t have tortured himself for four years.

After Kingston left, Krista’s life seemed to have returned to normal.

She had nothing else to do except to go to the store to draw the design drafts.

She just waited for the wedding ceremony.

However, the closer the wedding got to her, the more agitated she became. Krista often could not sleep at night. When she closed her eyes, she would probably dream of Kingston.

She felt that she was possessed.

She just told herself that as long as she got married and moved to live with Lance, she wouldn’t be lost in various fancies and conjectures like this anymore.

However, Krista never expected that something unexpected would happen when the wedding was approaching

Princess Catherine was pregnant!

A week later, the blood test showed Catherine’s early pregnancy

The royal family immediately got nervous and could not sit still. They wanted to have more connections with other noble families. In their eyes, the princess’s greatest use was to get married. As a result, Prince Catherine got pregnant before marriage. Wouldn’t their royal family be disgraced if such news spread?

Catherine did not hide anything and revealed everything

She admitted that she had drugged Lance and thus slept with him.

She also frankly said that she loved Lance deeply and would not marry anyone except him in this life. If she failed to marry Lance, she would commit suicide, with the baby in her belly

Such words made Charles and Alanna so helpless. They treasured their only daughter very much. Now that it was a peaceful era, it was actually not necessary for them to make connections with other noble families through marriage. They could just choose an outstanding young man in their own country as their son-in-law and make him a first-class duke. It was certainly also a good idea.

Even if Catherine would act impulsively and disregard the face of the royal family, so what?

Charles and Alanna then called in Lance and Krista on the same day respectively.

When Krista came to the backyard, Alanna was tasting tea.

Alanna gave her a kind and warm smile and said,

“Ms. Compton, sit down, please.”

“Thank you, Princess Alanna. You’ve been looking for me. How can I help?”

Krista had a guess, but she did not say it out because the royal family was on the hook for all of this.

“Catherine is pregnant.” Alanna just came straight to the point, “This is the first child of the royal family, so it is our precious.”

Krista’s head buzzed after hearing this, and she thought,

‘Catherine was pregnant? How did it happen so fast?’

And what did she mean? The royal family wants this child?’

“I don’t understand... What did you mean, Princess Alanna?”

“This child must have a father. Did I make myself clear enough?”

“No, I don’t understand. Princess Catherine gets this child by devious means. It’s a disgraceful thing for the royal family. And you should have taught her what to do but not come to ask me to leave. It doesn’t make any sense.”

“How dare you talk to the Princess Alanna like this?”

The servant growled.

“Ms. Compton is my guest. That’s fine. Besides, she is right. It’s indeed our fault, and we ought to be ashamed. But it has already happened, and we can only think of a way to solve it, right?”

“So the solution is I give in?”

“You could listen to what I say before making a decision. Alanna smiled and said, “Maybe you haven’t watched the whole video yet. Let’s finish it first.”

“You watched it all?”

Krista was even angrier

Alanna didn’t say anything and put the video to show her.

The video was the complete version.

After drinking, Lance was in a bad state, and soon Catherine came in.

“Lenon, why did you call me so lato? oh, Lanog. Please don’t...”

She had a sudden sinking feeling in the pit of her stomach.

She had never expected Catherine to be so dishonest that she even played hard to get.

It was all Catherine’s fault, but she resisted and struggled in the video. In the end, her clothes were torn apart by Lance, and they tangled together.

“As you can see the fact is that Lance forced Catherine, our princess. Since such a disgrace to the royal family has occurred, we only have two solutions. One is to abort the child and secretly execute Lance The second is you quit as I wish. Of course, I would compensate you and do my best to promote your brand and make you a first-tier designer.”

“A win-win solution.”

Krista trembled after hearing this and thought,

'It's all the flashy emptiness! The royal family!

Such a vicious lie could be nothing but a stab in the back!

How could she do that to me?"

"You are going too far!"

She gritted her teeth in anger, saying in trembling

Alanna sat calm, tasting tea lightly as if it was nothing to do with her

"Don't worry, you can consider it carefully. After all, this matter has nothing to do with you. It's Lance's fault, right?"

"You..."

She clenched her fists in anger, and her nails dug deep into her palms.

"I'm not forcing you I have said you can consider it carefully

"It's not that I can decide all this matter. I don't think Mr. Hamm will agree

"Who would risk their lives?"

Alanna raised her eyebrows and said She did not take her words to heart

Chapter 358 In Prison

"I have to discuss it with Mr. Hamm."

Krista thought she and Lance could leave Phelan City and spend the rest of their life at a place where no one knew them.

The royal family had been wrong. Krista believed they wouldn't arrest her and Lance because of Catherine's pregnancy. It would be a joke to others.

Alanna knew what Krista was thinking. Anyone could know that. However, Alanna didn't say anything. She nodded to show her approval. Krista could discuss the issue with Lance.

Krista didn't know Lance was there.

Lance's face was dark with rage. He clenched his fists as if he would hit Charles in his face at any time.

Charles looked at Lance sternly. "If you don't marry my daughter, the Lamb family will disappear in Phelan City, so will Krista and her brother.

"Moreover, Krista's identity had been written off four years ago. Now, she is Stacey. I can lock her up in prison for the rest of her life for her illegal immigration and false identity so that you will never see her again."

"You guys have gone too far," Lance roared with a hoarse voice.

Lance made a lunge for Charles, but he was stopped by the people around him.

How could a royal family member be assassinated?

"Who has gone too far? It was you who raped my daughter. Coincidentally, my daughter has been so completely in love with you. I am trying to help both of you. The wedding you are preparing is not bad. It is suitable for Catherine."

"You..."

Lance was so angry that he was about to vomit blood.

How shameless they were!

Lance felt regretful that he hadn't killed Catherine in the hotel. Even if he died because of that, it was better than being controlled and unable to fight back.

Charles was a crafty old devil. He was calm. Even if the image of the royal family had been blackened, he could whitewash what Catherine had done.

Charles could fulfill his daughter and find a fig leaf for the royal family. He killed two birds with one stone.

"Come at the Lamb family and me. Don't hurt Krista and her brother."

"I know you care about Krista and her brother more than the Lamb family. My daughter has been threatened by someone it is unbearable to the royal family. We are reasonable, and I won't kill anyone. However, Krista entered the country illegally. That is enough for her to stay in prison for a lifetime.

"She might accidentally die in prison, but you won't find anyone has done anything. As small potatoes, how could you contend against the royal family? Even if the royal family has no real power, it is the tokenism of the country. No one dares and can contend against us."

Charles looked at Lance with contempt. In his opinion, all of them were nothing but ants.

“You have time to think about it, but the child in Catherine’s belly can’t wait for long. Before the wedding, give me your answer. You can choose to change your bride or make Krista a lifetime of imprisonment.

“Send him off.”

With that, Charles waved his hand,

Lance was sent out.

It was the first time he felt so helpless.

Lance realized that he was not powerful enough. Otherwise, he would not be passive.

Lance decided to take Krista away as soon as possible.

He made up his mind to leave the Lamb family

When Lance went back, Krista had been taken away by the police. The reason was illegal immigration,

Lance didn’t know what he should do. He did not expect the royal family to move so quickly

As soon as Krista stepped out of the royal palace, she was arrested and put in prison. It was out of her expectation

Krista was a newcomer, and those who could not get out of the prison all year round would teach her a lesson

Chapter 359 A Grand Wedding

No matter how much she suffered, it did not matter. She only hoped that Mr. Hamm could safely escape.

She hoped he could ignore her safety because he was the one who saved her life four years ago. Logically speaking, she owed Lance her life. Now, if they were truly in love, she did not feel any resentment. Instead, she felt relaxed.

It had been four years, and the kindness of saving her life and the feeling of crippling the hands had pressed down on her, which made her suffocate.

Now, it should be the end.

She was living a dark life in prison.

Those female prisoners bullied her they didn't give her anything to eat and would torture her whenever she was unhappy

Every time she was injured, the prison guard would immediately contact the doctor to treat her

It wasn't fatal, but it was still tortuous

The thing she couldn't stand the most in prison wasn't beating and starving, but a feeling of despair and hopelessness

She didn't know when she would end up this kind of living. She was afraid that she would become muddle headed like many people

She still had Aracely and Luck

She was not afraid of death but was afraid to stay here until death!

She counted with her fingers. Today was the eighth, and it was the day she married Mr. Hamm.

The wedding was announced to the public. What if she did not attend?

She was anxious and worried about Lance.

Unexpectedly, the prison guard opened the door and pulled her out

You are free

Krista was pushed to the bathroom and changed into clean clothes. However, her face was still extremely pale Standing under the sunlight, she looked almost transparent She had a morbid beauty

There were scars visible to the naked eye on her body Scabs, bruises

and everything was there

There was still a palm print on her face that had not disappeared

She was pushed out and soon got into a police car

“Where – am I going?”

She asked in a hoarse voice.

“To attend the wedding.”

Her heart trembled when she heard this, and she was happy for a moment.

This meant that Lance was fine and the wedding was as usual. Mr. Hamm was waiting for her!

She was overjoyed, but she was also worried that Mr. Hamm would dislike her for being in such a sorry state.

The car stopped outside of the hotel.

When she got out of the car, she only felt that the sunlight was particularly dazzling, and it hurt her eyes.

She originally thought that it would not be so lively if she was absent from the bride’s wedding, but she did not expect that there were people coming and going, and everyone had smiles on their faces

She took a step forward, and the prison guards who had changed their uniforms also took a step behind her, as if they were afraid that she would stir up some trouble.

She walked in, and no one paid attention to her. Everyone’s eyes uniformly fell on the pair of newly-married couples on the stage.

In the most luxurious hotel in Phelan City, all the guests were rich tycoons and dukes.

Someone in a wedding dress stood beside Lance.

Her feet stumbled and she fell to the ground in a sorry state. No one paid attention to her.

The guard quickly pulled her up and threatened her, “Don’t mess around. This is Princess Catherine’s wedding

Her ears buzzed when she heard this and her mind went blank.

She was originally the protagonist of this wedding, but now she became a bystander.

She watched as Catherine put on her wedding dress and greeted Lance with a smile, hugging and kissing Lance under the escort of guests.

Lance did not resist His face was filled with a smile as if he was happy to see it happen

She had only been locked up for a few days, but she had the feeling that she had been locked up for a few years, and that she had already come out as if everything had changed.

Her vision darkened and she fainted

The prison guard quickly took her away. Everyone was paying attention to the wedding Only the groom on the stage noticed Krista.

Chapter 360 You Are Repatriated

Seeing Krista's pale face, Lance realized that she had suffered much these days.

But he had to marry Catherine,

The bigger his smile was, the sadder he was.

He clenched his fists tightly, trying to suppress his grief and indignation. He chatted and drank with Catherine

He looked at Catherine who was happy in front of him. He wanted to kill her and let her kneel to Krista and apologize.

His happiness was gone because of the vicious woman, Catherine.

He would pay Catherine back!

When Krista woke up, she was on the plane.

"Are you awake? You scared me to death."

"Krista."

Luck held Krista's hand tightly

Krista looked at them and felt thirsty

"Where am I? Are ... are you alright?"

"We are on the plane back to City D. You can't use Stacey's identity now. You are repatriated."

Krista was disappointed.

She laughed at herself. She thought that she could live a new life after not being Krista. But in the end, she came back and had to be Krista again,

So ... everything was the same?

"I learned what Lance had done. The so-called royal family is too disgusting. Catherine slept with Lance by playing tricks. The royal family threatened Lance with you and Luck's lives. Lance had no choice."

"But Mr. Hamm promised me that he would find a way to get rid of it and be with you Give him some time He has no choice"

"So it is. The royal family had two plans. On one hand, they threatened me with his life and asked me to leave On the other hand, they threatened Lance with my life They said that they would let me back But they didn't and locked me up They are shameless!

Krista was so angry that she kept coughing and her face flushed

Luck kept patting her back and looked at her with a diatrpused look,

"Krista, I can only send you to City D I have to go back to finish my work. I can't resign now I'll go back after settling you and Luck down. I'll help you look after Lance."

"Tell Lance not to do anything stupid. Don't ruin himself."

Aracely was sad.

She knew they suffered a lot.

Krista was in a bad condition now, but Aracely couldn't stay by her side.

Aracely's company had a big client and she was the executor. If she left, it would bring a huge loss to her company and result in lawsuits.

Aracely had to deal with it for at least a month. She also wanted to get news and see if Lance and Krista could be together again.

If it was impossible, Aracely hoped that Lance would not be too obsessed.

Soon, the plane landed. Aracely had asked someone to help her find the apartment. They could directly go and live there.

However, they saw a familiar figure at the entrance of the security check

“Kingston...:

Krista had just said it when she fainted

“Krista, what’s wrong? Krista! Don’t scare me.”

Aracely was frightened and didn’t know that Krista was badly injured

Kingston rushed over and held Krista tightly. His heart ached.
