Chapter 76 Unconditional Trust

Krista asked herself repeatedly.

She didn't know.

She just hoped Kingston wouldn't dismiss her as a problem

"Aracely, if he is single and unmarried, I will love him."

"But now, he has someone he loved. No matter how many times you ask me, my answer is the same, I don't love him."

"You..."

Aracely's voice trembled and she wanted to wake her up, but when she met Krista's stubborn eyes, she fell silent.

This silly girl!

Aracely hugged Krista.

"Silly girl! He used to be yours. But you didn't want him! Then he doesn't want you, and you still protect him! At least, you should let him know your feelings. You hid yourself so well that even I was tricked!"

"Alright, you insist that you don't need him. Then I'll help you out! Watch me!"

Since Kingston didn't want to protect Krista.

Then Aracely would be there for her!

"Aracely."

Krista had a lump in her throat.

What could she do if Aracely was not here?

After her mother died, the Compton family was like a vampire, absorbing her last bit of value.

After getting the money, they didn't care about Krista at all.

Without her grandma and Aracely, she would not have been able to hold on.

“Don’t cry. If you want to thank me, then cheer up! Now think of anything that we can do!”

Krista nodded and wiped away her tears.

She couldn’t cry.

She couldn’t break down now. She had to pull herself together.

Krista now could only think of a way from Danny.

Aracely had sent someone to investigate. And Krista followed Keely to see what she was going to do.

Krista followed Keely all the way to the woods behind the school, but she didn’t expect that the person she saw was Lance.

She hid behind a large tree and covered herself.

“Mr. Hamm, why do you want to see me?”

Keely flushed. This place was very secluded and people would not come here often.

A man and a woman in a place like this seemed strange.

However, Lance’s expression was serious and cold.

“I don’t want anyone to see me questioning you. After all, you are still my student. You are the one who saw this design. Other than Krista, you are also a suspect.”

“What do you mean? You suspect me? You’re my graduate teacher. I’ve been following you for such a long time! And I had a hand in getting the studio ready to open. Mr. Hamm, you knew it, right?”

“Anyone can betray you, but I won’t. Why didn’t you ask Krista? How long has she been with you? Why did you say this to me?”

Keely’s eyes were red, as if she had suffered something unbearable.

Lance frowned slightly.

He shouldn’t have suspected Keely.

But instinctively, he trusted Krista more.

He didn't believe that Krista would do this.

This trust came without a reason.

That day, Lance accidentally followed behind Krista and heard her confess. Krista liked him.

That night, Krista tapped hard at the computer keyboard. Her face full of anxiety, her eyes turning red and she was about to cry. His heart suddenly softened.

She always cared about her own business. She didn't gossip or dine with others. He was impressed by her solitary figure.

This girl looked pretty but was cold.

Actually, she was just a little girl trying to pretend to be mature.

Therefore, Lance firmly believed that it could not be Krista. He didn't need any evidence to prove it.

Chapter 77 Trust

Actually, even if Keely did it, Lance would not let school expel her. Lance just wanted to prove Krista's innocence. He would handle it properly and was not going to embarrass Keely too much.

"Keely, this isn't a big mistake. If you admit it, I can forgive you. I am still your teacher. And I will always help you even after you graduate. But now, you must give Krista justice."

"So, you really think I did it?" Keely sneered mockingly, "There is no evidence. But you still think I am the one who stole the design?"

Her heart trembled.

"I believe Krista."

Lance said word by word.

These words shocked Keely and also Krista.

Although Lance and Krista usually had no communication, but she did not expect Lance would trust her so much.

Krista felt terrible because of this. But Lance, the victim, would stand on her side and trusted her unconditionally. Krista suddenly felt that she wasn't that miserable.

At least, besides Aracely, there was someone else who believed Krista.

"Mr. Hamm, since you can't prove it, don't frame me. Even if you believe her, no one else will. Mr. Hamm, I like you. I've had a crush on you for a long time. But now I find that my feelings are nothing in your eyes. I won't like you any more then...'

Keely cried and ran away.

Lance took a deep breath and sent a message to the studio group.

"No one in the studio gave away the design. I was the one who accidentally revealed the design, and it had nothing to do with Krista and Keely. Please don't discuss the matter anymore."

Krista's phone suddenly rang.

She forgot to mute the phone.

When Lance heard the sound, he immediately turned around.

Krista couldn't hide.

"Come out."

Krista walked out embarrassedly, and she felt so sorry.

He said this to protect Krista, right?

Every designer's work was precious, just like his or her own child.

And Lance must now give up investigating it. He must be sad.

"Mr. Hamm..."

"Why are you here?"

He strode towards her.

"I ... followed Keely here. I thought maybe I could find something. I heard everything. I didn't mean to do this..."

She anxiously explained, but Lance interrupted, "It doesn't matter. I know you didn't do it."

“Why you trusted me?”

She was still surprised. Lance actually chose to trust her instead of Keely.

After all, Keely had followed him for a long time and had always been his right-hand man.

“Well, you think it’s bad that I trust you?”

“Absolutely not. I appreciate your trust. I brought such a big trouble to the studio. I’m sorry. I will solve it, but I may need a long time. The design cannot be use now. Then what should we do about Kingston’s request? What will happen if we submit overtime?”

“Nothing will happen. Things are not that serious. Don’t put so much pressure on yourself. It will soon be over. You can come back to the studio when it is completely settled.”

At this moment, a leaf landed on Krista’s hair.

Lance didn’t know why, but he stretched out his hand and rubbed her head.

He suddenly realized what he was doing was not appropriate. He immediately explained, “A leaf is on your head...”

“I know. It’s fine.”

She smiled and didn’t care it much. Lance’s ears turned red, but he pretended to be calm.

“Let’s go... “He wanted to say “together”, but Krista’s phone rang. It was Aracely. She asked what Krista had found.

Chapter 78 Don’t Blame Mr. Hamm

“Okay, I’ll go back first. Wait for me there, won’t you?”

Krista and Aracely decided to meet and think about new plans.

“Mr. Hamm, I’ll have to go now.”

She hung up the phone and said.

“Well... I won't keep you here then. Be careful on your way back.”

He pursed his thin lips as his ears became redder.

Krista had no idea what was going on for a whole day.

She checked the messages in the chat group quietly for many times and found that Lance had put in a good word for her. He told everyone in his studio not to be suspicious of each other, because that would do bad to their solidarity.

Keely did not send any message again. It seemed that she had really given up on Lance.

Krista trudged back to the villa at night.

She wanted to ask Kingston how he was going to handle this matter.

After all, there was a deadline for every single order, and it was definitely too late to redesign the suit.

She went to Kingston's study and heard Quincy's voice when she was about to knock on the door.

“Mr. Irwin, Mr. Hamm contacted me today. He said he might need you to extend the deadline.”

“Do you really need my opinion on such a small thing?” Kingston raised his eyebrows and asked. In the past, he always let Quincy handle small things like that by himself.

Quincy knew what he should do and what he should not do. He had worked for Kingston for many years, so he knew Kingston well. Kingston had great trust in Quincy.

Therefore, Kingston was a little displeased now.

“He is a grown-up. He should know what the spirit of contract means. We have specified the penalty on the contract. He should just pay the penalty specified on the contract.”

“The penalty is twice as much as the full price...” Quincy spoke haltingly. He wanted to tell Kingston that Krista was also involved in it.

Just as he was about to tell Kingston about it, the door was suddenly pushed open.

Kingston knitted his brows tightly.

He knew that Krista always knew the rules. She must have heard something outside, otherwise she would never have entered the room impudently.

“No way! Twice as much as the full price! That’s too much!”

Krista thought the incident happened because of her. She already felt guilty for not being able to help Lance. She could not let Lance lose a huge amount of money because of her.

The full price in Kingston’s order was very high, because the fabric and metal used to make the suit were expensive. It was difficult to calculate the real cost.

She couldn’t prove her innocence for the time being, but she couldn’t let Lance suffer a big loss like that.

“Krista, this is my study. I don’t think you are allowed to come in here as you wish.”

The look on Kingston’s face was cold, and his dark slanted eyes were filled with anger.

“I know I shouldn’t have come in, but ... could you please forgive him this time? You shouldn’t blame Mr. Hamm for what happened. As Party A, you have the right to exempt him from the penalty!”

“What? Do you feel sorry for Lance Hamm?”

He narrowed his eyes, and his voice was very unfriendly.

He clenched his fists quietly.

“He shouldn’t be held responsible for that incident! If you insist on punishing him, I’ll pay the penalty for him!”

She said anxiously.

She just couldn’t bear to see Lance lose such a large sum of money because of her.

Hearing that, Kingston narrowed his slanted eyes and put on a serious look.

His face darkened and his jaw tensed up as he knitted his brows tightly.

Krista could feel Kingston’s intimidating cold aura.

Krista was so scared that she trembled, but she still tried to stand straight and defend Lance without showing the white feather.

But at that moment, Aracely's words came to Krista's mind.

"Krista, you like Kingston!"

She heard Aracely's words again and again in his mind, as if there was magic in Aracely's words.

She liked Kingston.

No matter how well she could hide it, she could not lie to herself.

She could not even bear to see him in the eye when she thought of that.

She suddenly felt embarrassed...

Because she realized she liked Kingston.

That was what she never had the courage to admit. She just couldn't accept it when she suddenly had to face him.

"Mr. Irwin, actually..."

Quincy wanted to tell Kingston the details about the incident when he saw that Kingston was angry. However, Kingston interrupted him coldly.

"Get out. This is something between her and me only."

"Mr. Irwin..."

"What? You won't listen to me now?"

He raised his eyebrows and looked down at Quincy coldly. Quincy was lost for words. He could only leave the study.

And then, only Kingston and Krista were left in the huge study.

Kingston approached Krista step by step.

Chapter 79 We Did Not Have a Relationship Until Now

She was so frightened that she almost forgot to breathe. She just kept drawing back from him.

But finally, there was no way for her to escape when she was trapped in a corner.

Kingston was still approaching. He fixed his slanted eyes on her, as if he wanted to see through her.

She placed her hands on her belly to protect herself subconsciously.

It was cold now, so she wore many clothes every day to hide her belly which had bulged a bit.

“What ... What are you going to do...?”

She stammered.

“You freak out because you worry about Lance, don’t you?”

He asked coldly.

She didn’t dare to look him in the eye, so she looked as if she felt guilty.

Kingston thought she was really courageous. She not only interceded for Lance, but also said she would pay the penalty for Lance.

“That really has nothing to do with Mr. Hamm. He is innocent. Kingston, could you please forgive him for the sake of our relationship in the past?”

“For the sake of our relationship in the past? Did we ever have a relationship? We never interfered with each other after we got married. I don’t owe you anything. Do you want to hold me responsible for making you a divorcee? I married you because my grandmother forced me to do so, but did you marry me because you didn’t have a choice?”

“Krista, are you begging me to forgive your lover?”

“Yes, I’m begging you...”

Krista didn’t catch the last word, “lover” because all her attention was put on begging Kingston.

She knew everything would be fine, if she could persuade Kingston.

Kingston was enraged by Krista’s reply.

He thought the girl was really courageous. She really admitted Lance was her lover in front of him.

“Alright! I can forget about the penalty.”

He said gloomily.

He didn't notice that he had completely lost his usual coolness and aloofness. At the moment, he was furious and on the verge of an explosion.

The girl could completely destroy his patience and good manners just by saying a few words. He had completely lost control.

“Great! That's a deal!”

She heaved a sigh of relief and put on a smile.

But in the next second, her eyes widened as she stared at the man approaching her.

He... kissed her.

He stuck his tongue in her mouth and kissed her fiercely as if he was attacking her.

Before she could react, he had forced her to open her mouth and pressed his tongue against hers.

Her mind went completely blank.

It took her a long time to come to her senses and remember to resist. She pushed him with all her strength, but she could not push him away because his body and his chest were too strong and too hard.

In the end, she was so anxious that she stamped on his foot. He got even angrier as he felt the pain.

He wrapped his arms around her slender waist and held her close. Their bodies were pressed together with only their clothes in between.

“Oh...”

She struggled in panic.

She felt ... she was going to surrender herself to his kiss.

She had finally managed to persuade herself to stay away from Kingston and not to interfere with his life. But the kiss would change everything!

She could not surrender to it.

She thought their relationship was over.

So she could not make a mistake now!

She must do something when Kingston made a mistake, too!

She gathered her courage and bit Kingston's tongue hard. Soon, they could both taste blood in their mouth,

The man felt the pain in his tongue. And only then did he put an end to the kiss.

He slowly raised his head. The look on his face was sullen. The emotions in his eyes were dense and dangerous. Krista felt as if she would drown in his eyes.

He let go of her body, but then he grabbed at her shoulders with his big hands.

Krista's face puckered when she felt the pain in her shoulders.

"Kingston ... Let go..."

She struggled and said, but with her strength, Kingston only felt that she was trying to tickle him.

"You just asked me to forgive him for the sake of our relationship in the past. Let me tell you this: we did not have a relationship until now."

Chapter 80 Beauty is in the Eye of the Beholder

"I never touched you after we got married, and now I finally got my share. Well, you're too skinny, and your kiss is just boring. I don't think Lance would like it."

"You..."

Krista was so angry that her face turned pink as she gritted her teeth.

She had always thought Kingston to be a gentleman. Why did he become so mean now?

She talked back angrily.

"Don't you know that beauty is in the eye of the beholder? He might find me attractive, even though you find me boring!"

"Krista Compton!"

He shouted her name very slowly and fixed his slanted eyes on her. Krista felt as if he was going to devour her.

She was so frightened that she shivered.

She didn't say anything outrageous, did she?

Even if she did, it was his own fault! He not only forced her to kiss him, but also humiliated her. for more visit :- That was not what a gentleman should do!

"Why do you want? Do you think ... you can scare me ... When you shout at me?"

She straightened her back and glared back at him in a huff.

How could he shout at her!

Just as Kingston wanted to speak again, Quincy knocked on the door. He came to remind Kingston that he needed to attend an impromptu video conference which was urgent.

Kingston gradually came to his senses when Quincy reminded him of his work.

He knitted his brows tightly. What did he do just now? Why did he act like an animal just now? He had completely lost control of his body and his mind.

He had divorced her, so she had every right to fall in love with another man now!

Kingston knew he shouldn't stop her from being together with Lance!

Then why was he so angry?

Damn it! What on earth did he do?

"Get out!"

He said coldly, turned his back to her, and tried to clear his mind.

"I will get out. But could you promise me that you won't ask Mr. Hamm to pay the penalty?"

"I promise. Now get out."

"Great."

She heaved a sigh of relief. If she could exempt Lance from paying the penalty by the kiss just now, she felt it was not a bad bargain.

She knew Kingston was right. They did not really have any relationship before. He did not even know who she was when they slept together that night.

She decided that she would think of the kiss as a memento of their marriage. At least ... they had made some memories together now.

After she left the room, Quincy came in and brought Kingston the material he needed for the conference.

Quincy could tell that Kingston felt annoyed at the moment. The look on Kingston's face was gloomy, and he was pressing the bridge of his nose with his fingers.

Quincy began to tell Kingston the whole thing gingerly.

"Mr. Irwin ... Lance broke the contract because his design was leaked. Another studio released his design before he could. And somebody reported that Ms. Compton should be held responsible for the leakage. Lance calmed his men down by saying that he himself gave the design away by accident. for more visit :- He had to ask you to extend the deadline because he was trying to prove Ms. Compton's innocence."

Kingston was dumbfounded.

The look on his face became gloomier as he knitted his brows tightly. It took him a while to come to his senses and speak again, "Why didn't you tell me earlier?"

"I tried to tell you just now. But ... you insisted on asking me to get out."

Quincy felt that he should not take the blame.

Kingston was immediately lost for words, but he had to admit that Quincy was right.

He clenched his fists and frowned.

"Any updates about the investigation on the leakage?"

"Apart from Ms. Compton, the other suspect is Keely Plibersek. There is also another designer involved in the case. He released the design before Lance could."

"I want the truth out as soon as possible. Contact the designer. I am going to talk to him."

"What about the video conference?"

“Tell them to give me a briefing later, and I will get things done tonight. Now, I want to deal with the matter in which Krista is involved.”

Hearing that, Quincy curled up his lips into a smile.

He knew the most important thing in Kingston’s mind now was not his work, but Krista.

He also knew that Kingston would understand his feelings for her in the future.

Krista was on the second floor when she saw Kingston heading out. for more visit :- She wanted to ask him what he was going to do, but she didn’t in the end.

She thought to herself that she did not want anything to do with him.

Soon, at Danny’s place.

Kingston directly paid Danny a visit.
