Chapter 1041 Jun Linyuan, What the Hell Do You What?! 2

Just when everyone thought that Feng Wu would give in and apologize, Feng Wu bolted up and glared at the crown prince. “Jun Linyuan, what the hell do you want?!”

Those words shocked everyone.

Holy shit!

Little Feng Wu was —

She had just openly retorted to His Royal Highness like an arrogant peacock!

His Royal Highness!

She would be killed!

Everyone began to throw her warning glances, reminding her to cherish her own life. She was so pretty and so smart that they would hate to see her die!

But they had clearly thought wrong once again.

Standing proudly on the platform with his hands behind his back, Jun Linyuan smirked. There seemed to be a dark red flicker in his black eyes.

“Little Feng Wu, I see that you really have a death wish.”

Feng Wu snorted. “Bring it on! Do whatever you want. You don’t scare me!”

Oh, no... Everyone else cried out in their heads at what was about to happen. Feng Wu was so getting killed.

The crown prince seemed provoked as well. “So, I see that death really doesn’t scare you.”

Feng Wu glowered at Jun Linyuan. “What’s there to be scared of? I’d love to see you try and kill me!”

She was in a bad mood after starting the day with Mu Yaoyao trying to frame her. Then Jun Linyuan, the most unpredictable guy, showed up, annoying Feng Wu even more.

“Death doesn’t scare you. How about what happens to them?”

A dangerous look flickered in Jun Linyuan’s black eyes.

Feng Wu was baffled. “Them? How do they have anything to do with this?”

Jun Linyuan grinned viciously. “Since you already know so much, you’ll be teaching the class today. Make one mistake and all your classmates down there will pay!”

“What’s that supposed to mean?” Feng Wu’s pupils contracted.

Jun Linyuan said, “You know what I mean.”

Feng Wu flared up. “You have a problem with me. Why take it out on them?”

Jun Linyuan said, "Because you're not afraid of death."

Feng Wu gritted her teeth.

Jun Linyuan went on, "But they are."

Feng Wu stomped her foot. "Jun Linyuan!"

She was sure that Jun Linyuan was doing this on purpose!

The crown prince darted a satisfied glance at her, and he had a proud look on his handsome, chiseled face.

Taking a deep breath, Feng Wu fought back the urge to rush over and throttle him.

All he ever did was bully her!

Jun Linyuan's death threat didn't scare Feng Wu at all, but she couldn't say the same for the other students. One could tell how scared they were from their bloodless faces.

Jun Linyuan wouldn't actually kill them, but if he wanted to vent his anger, he could easily make these students withdraw from the college. It would be a piece of cake for him.

Feng Wu couldn't care less about such a threat to herself, but she would feel guilty if these students had to withdraw from school or suffered an accident because of her. The guilt would eventually become a burden to her cultivation.

Thump!

Feng Wu smacked the desk in frustration.

She glared at Jun Linyuan without blinking.

He was indeed a handsome man. With his well-defined bone structure and his exquisite features, he had a beauty that would take one's breath away and sweep them off their feet.

However, with that lousy temper of his, he was just as abominable!

"You want me to teach this class? So be it! Bring it on!" Feng Wu marched onto the dais. When she was in front of Jun Linyuan, she raised her foot to step down hard on his.

Shit!

The students were almost scared out of their wits!

Did she want to be killed, now?

However, the instant Feng Wu's foot was about to land, Jun Linyuan shifted and moved to stand behind Feng Wu.

Missing her target, Feng Wu lost her footing and pitched forward involuntarily!

Her exquisite face was about to smash into the desk in the first row!

Chapter 1042 Jun Linyuan, What the Hell Do You What?! 3

With a wave of his hand, Jun Linyuan pulled Feng Wu back into his arms. Thump!

Feng Wu's nose bumped into Jun Linyuan's chest, making her grunt.

Shit!

The students in the classroom were ready to sing an elegy for Feng Wu.

She was so doomed...

They believed that Feng Wu was really going to die. His Royal Highness would smash her head open like he was cracking open a watermelon!

It was common knowledge that His Royal Highness was a neat freak.

Wasn't there a rumor where some noble young lady touched His Royal Highness's sleeve, and ended up having her entire arm cut off by the savage crown prince?

Little Feng Wu had just flown into the crown prince's arms... Would he cut her into pieces?

Duan Chaoge was so frightened that she wanted to stand up and cry out, Your Royal Highness, please don't kill Xiao Wu!

However, she realized that she couldn't move. She felt as if she had been wrapped inside a transparent, jelly cocoon, and she couldn't move no matter how hard she struggled.

Flustered and anxious, Chaoge almost burst into tears.

Meanwhile, most of the other students in the classroom had covered their eyes and were peeking through their fingers, fearing what they might see.

Gongsun Qing eyed Feng Wu sympathetically. However scared she was of Jun Linyuan, she still recalled that Feng Wu saved her life once.

Gritting her teeth, Gongsun Qing rose to her feet. "Your Royal Highness, please spare Feng Wu's life."

Her voice startled the two people on the dais, especially the proud crown prince.

With Feng Wu's soft body in his arms, he was overwhelmed by the fragrance characteristic of teenage girls. There was a gentle look in the crown prince's eyes now, and he had almost forgotten where he was.

All the girl ever did was run away from him, but now, she wasn't going anywhere, was she?

However, what Gongsun Qing said woke Jun Linyuan up from his daydream.

Spare Feng Wu's life? Where had that come from?!

The look in the crown prince's black eyes was so cold that it scared the wits out of anyone.

Looking into Jun Linyuan's eyes, Gongsun Qing felt a cold sensation in her chest, and a chill also ran down her spine. That was so frightening...

Feng Xun reached out and dragged Gongsun Qing away. He then whispered, "Boss Jun won't kill little Feng Wu!"

All that guy ever did was piss Feng Wu off.

But Gongsun Qing didn't buy it. Clenching her fists, she looked rather sad. "Feng Wu is actually a really nice person. I haven't gotten around to telling her that I want to be her friend."

Feng Xun gave Gongsun Qing a sympathetic look.

The girl had been misled the way he had been, thinking that Boss Jun hated little Feng Wu. Feng Xun couldn't remember how many times he had made a fool of himself, or gotten beaten up for it.

Seeing the anxious looks on the students' faces, and recalling the silly things he had done to keep Boss Jun away from Feng Wu, Feng Xun felt so humiliated.

Looking up at Jun Linyuan on the dais, Feng Xun was amazed at what Boss Jun had achieved...

He liked the girl, but what he did made everyone think that he hated her. He would never be able to win a girl's heart this way!

Feng Wu would only hate him for his actions!

As expected, Feng Wu shoved Jun Linyuan away. "Don't touch me!"

The other students were all speechless.

Jun Linyuan smirked. "I? Touch you? You think too highly of yourself."

The other students all nodded, agreeing with him. If the crown prince wanted to do something to a girl, she would simply lie down willingly. Feng Wu obviously wasn't a candidate.

Feng Wu was so mad that her head spun!

She had made up her mind. Jun Linyuan had just become the person she hated the most, bumping Zuo Qingluan down to second place.

Chapter 1043 That Is No Way to Woo A Girl to the other students' surprise, the crown prince stepped off the dais in the end.

his long, straight legs took him off the dais at an unhurried pace. scanning the classroom with his cold eyes, he reminded one of an emperor inspecting his land.

his casual yet arrogant demeanor made one want to kneel at his feet.

he was born to be a leader.

he was born to rule the continent.

feng wu, on the other hand, was still on the dais, without a scratch on her.

she was still alive?

everyone exchanged looks of bewilderment and found it unbelievable.

but that was what happened.

they then turned to study the crown prince's face.

jun linyuan had sat down in a chair, looking completely at ease.

on his sculptured face, one could detect a faintly intrigued look in his beautiful eyes. he pursed his thin lips, and was smiling a little.

he began to tap the desk rhythmically with his slender fingers.

clearly, he was waiting for feng wu to make her move.

that explained it...

the students believed that his royal highness was going to fatten the pig before he slaughtered it.

feng wu started her lecture by succinctly sketching out the points that mr hu had been vague on. she then moved on to the actual teaching.

feng wu's talent was unquestionable.

she had been taught by mu jiuzhou himself, and already knew enough to become an advanced tutor here in imperial college. teaching a simple year 1 class was far from a challenge to her.

on the dais, her eyes twinkled as she spoke in high spirits. her face shone with the light of wisdom.

in the sunlight, she reminded one of the first dew on a spring morning, and was full of life. her refreshing beauty could take one's breath away.

given jun linyuan's status and popularity, he had seen his fair share of girls, although he had ignored most of them.

however, he had never met someone so attractive, who seemed to shine from within!

even someone as experienced as jun linyuan was infatuated, to say nothing of other people. everyone was immersed in feng wu's teaching, amazed looks in their eyes.

scanning the room out of the corner of his eye, jun linyuan saw that all the boys in the classroom were fascinated by feng wu, and he didn't like that at all!

thump!

feng wu was enjoying teaching, when the crown prince smacked the desk.

the sound made everyone jump!

all of them had been hanging onto feng wu's every word, taking in the cultivation world she described and savoring the profound knowledge in her teaching. the more they chewed on her words, the more mysterious they found them to be...

however, that train of thought was broken at that critical moment.

all eyes turned to the man at the center of the classroom. no one dared to utter a word or express their anger, but they certainly weren't happy about it.

feng wu had noticed that several students had almost reached epiphanies, and had planned to continue teaching until they could break through. however, jun linyuan's interruption destroyed that opportunity for them.

feng wu was infuriated!

however, before she could speak, jun linyuan said, "get your ass down here!"

feng wu's face turned livid.

behind jun linyuan, young lord feng and xuan yi exchanged looks, and saw resignation in each other's eyes...

boss jun was hopeless... unlike the others, the way he courted a girl would actually push the girl further and further away.

however, jun linyuan couldn't hear feng xun and xuan yi's thoughts. at that moment, he was very displeased.

so many pairs of infatuated eyes were glued to his woman, but she was completely clueless. how could he be happy?

Chapter 1044 Bullying Is Affection

"didn't you hear me? get the hell off that dais!"

how long did she plan to stand there and be gawked at for?!

there was a frown on jun linyuan's stunningly handsome face, and he looked displeased.

he said, "i'll let you off the hook today. interrupt a class again, and i'll have you kicked out of this college!"

he trusted that after this, no other boy would dare sit next to her or have a private conversation with her.

feng wu was so frustrated!

he was the one who made her give the lecture, and when everything was going fine, he told her to get her ass down from there!

he had threatened her with her classmates' lives before cutting her off!

so what if he was the crown prince?! big deal!

feng wu was furious. her cheeks flushed and blue veins popped in the corner of her forehead!

given the option, she would throttle jun linyuan right now. however, she had neither the capability nor the power.

hmph! she would find the broken star pieces and cure her beautiful master. no one would pick on her again when her beautiful master was around!

at that thought, feng wu threw a frustrated glance at jun linyuan, then ran out of the classroom.

feng wu had run away?!

the other students stared in bewilderment. the crown prince had let feng wu run away?

she was able to get away after offending his royal highness?

the crown prince's face couldn't be any darker. his black eyes seemed to be covered with a bloody red mist.

rising to his feet, he stepped out on long legs, and the next second, he was nowhere to be seen.

feng xun and xuan yi exchanged looks... now that boss jun and feng wu were gone, there was no need for them to remain here any longer.

hence, they took off as well.

they left as fast as they had come, and were out of sight in no time.

a hush fell over the classroom.

outside.

feng wu rushed out in frustration, and needed an outlet for her anger.

that jun linyuan was such a jerk!

she would love to see him pull that arrogant stunt again after her beautiful master woke up!

feng wu was still angrily headed for the school gate, when a tall figure suddenly blocked her path.

she had been walking with her head down as she complained inwardly about jun linyuan, and hadn't been paying attention to where she was going. she bumped into the man.

the impact made feng wu see stars. cursing under her breath, she thought she had to be having the worst day of her life. why did she keep bumping into people?

however, her face turned livid as soon as she looked up.

"jun. lin. yuan!" feng wu uttered his name through gritted teeth.

seeing feng wu's bruised nose and teary eyes, jun linyuan felt himself go soft inside.

he raised a hand to touch feng wu's nose, but feng wu was on the alert, and only backed away. she glared at him furiously!

just then, feng xun and xuan yi arrived in a hurry.

feng wu turned her teary eyes on feng xun.

it pained feng xun to see her like that. that was his baby sister, and she looked as pitiful as a puppy dog. he couldn't bear to see her like this.

feng xun rushed to her in a hurry. "kiddo, what happened? who did this to you?"

feng wu glanced at feng xun with tears welling up in her eyes as she pointed at jun linyuan. "it's him! now get revenge for me!"

feng xun rubbed his head with a bitter smile. as her big brother, he would have lunged at the guy who dared to pick on her.

however, that guy just happened to be boss jun...

and he was only bullying her as a way of showing his affection.

"come over here —"

feng xun led feng wu behind an old tree. he then said in a low voice, "my dear sister —"

Chapter 1045 Jun Linyuan, I Hear That You Like Me

Feng Wu stared at Feng Xun. "If I'm still your sister, beat him up for me!"

She decided that she would stop reasoning with him and do as she pleased!

Feng Xun felt a headache coming on, and he tried to reason with her. "Dear sister, it's not what you think. Boss Jun is actually..."

Feng Wu said, "Are you saying that he doesn't pick on me?"

Feng Xun said, "No, he does do that."

Feng Wu said, "So, your sister gets bullied, and you're going to do nothing? What kind of brother are you?"

Feng Xun said, "You're my dearest sister, but some guys show their affection by picking on the girl they like. You see where I'm going with this?"

Feng Xun knew that Boss Jun was beyond saving, but he might be able to persuade little Feng Wu.

However, Feng Wu almost choked on her own breath after she heard that.

"Cough, cough —"

She flushed, gasping for air.

"Sister, are you alright?"

Feng Xun reached out to hold Feng Wu's hand, but she threw him off.

She looked at Feng Xun as if he was an idiot. "Are you telling me that your Boss Jun likes me?"

Feng Xun nodded repeatedly. "Yes, that's it."

As unbelievable as it sounded, he was telling the truth. He had also learned it the hard way.

Feng Wu said, "You're saying that your Boss Jun is bullying me only because he likes me?"

Feng Xun kept nodding. "Yes. That's right."

Feng Wu gave him a "what an idiot" look. "Gimme your hand."

Was she trying to check her pulse? Did she think he was nuts?

Feng Xun didn't know whether to laugh or cry.

He knew how unbelievable it sounded, but it didn't make what he said any less true!

He tried to convince Feng Wu. "Xiao Wu, if you try to understand Boss Jun, you'll see that he actually likes you a lot..."

Feng Wu snorted.

"He likes me? He bullies me because he likes me? By abusing me, setting me up, and annoying me? If that's how liking someone works, I'm sorry, that's too much affection for me to take!"

Feng Wu thought Feng Xun had lost his mind!

From Feng Wu's point of view, Jun Linyuan had shown nothing but antagonism and repulsion toward her. He was mean, domineering, and vicious!

And Feng Xun called that affection?!

Feng Xun scratched his head. He knew that Boss Jun had a strange way of courting a girl, but that didn't make what he said any less true.

Feng Xun tried to convince Feng Wu, using what Xuan Yi told him before. However, he had only just started, before Feng Wu pushed him away and ran off.

She stood boldly in front of Jun Linyuan and met his gaze with her bloodshot eyes. She smirked. "Jun Linyuan, I heard that you like me. Is that true?"

She took the initiative!

That was so straightforward!

Instantly, everything fell into a hush, and it became so quiet that everyone could hear their hearts beating!

For a brief moment, Jun Linyuan forgot to breathe. He tensed up and his mind went blank. He didn't know what to do.

He could see the taunting and scornful look in Feng Wu's eyes.

Did he like her? Jun Linyuan didn't know the answer to that, but he did know that he couldn't admit it even if the answer was yes!

The last thing he wanted was to be laughed at by this girl!

Raising her chin proudly, Feng Wu sneered at Jun Linyuan. She then glowered. "Feng Xun said you like me. Is that true?"

Feng Xun?!

Jun Linyuan's pupils contracted, and a dark red mist seemed to blur his vision again.

Chapter 1046 Taiyi Formation

Jun Linyuan's pupils contracted, and a dark red mist seemed to blur his vision. He then turned his sharp gaze on Feng Xun.

Poor Feng Xun. The crown prince's ferocious glare froze him in place.

Staring at Jun Linyuan, Feng Wu pressed. She repeated the question. "Is that it? You like me?"

Both Feng Xun and Xuan Yi stared at Jun Linyuan unblinkingly.

Tell her! Now!

Your Royal Highness, she'll never know your feelings if you don't tell her!

However, Jun Linyuan had seen the sneer in Feng Wu's eyes, and a guy as proud as he was would never admit the truth.

"Of course I don't! Don't flatter yourself!" The crown prince was all about saving face, and he glared at Feng Wu for what she said.

Oh god...

Exchanging looks, Feng Xun and Xuan Yi both cried out in their heads.

Naturally, Feng Wu flushed again, and she turned to glare at Feng Xun. "Is that what you call 'like me'?"

Feng Xun was rendered speechless.

Before he could explain, Feng Wu ran off.

"Hey..." Feng Xun stomped his foot in frustration. Turning around, he wanted to complain to Jun Linyuan, but before he could say anything, Jun Linyuan's intimidating energy had already filled the air!

The unbelievable power almost crushed Feng Xun and Xuan Yi's spines like an enormous mountain.

Both of them broke out sweating and felt chills run down their spines.

"Hmph!"

Jun Linyuan's already dark eyes seemed to turn even darker. They could smell danger in the air, as if a storm was brewing!

The crown prince flipped his sleeves and stormed off.

Xuan Yi and Feng Xun were left behind, eyeing each other in bewilderment.

Both their backs were hunched, as if they had a mountain on their shoulders, for Jun Linyuan's energy had expanded to fill the entire area.

Feng Xun gave Xuan Yi a pitiful look. "Now I know what it's been like for you."

Xuan Yi shrugged.

Feng Xun said, "Why do I feel that we've made it worse?"

Xuan Yi shrugged again.

Feng Xun said, "Will the two of them ever stop? They're so unpredictable and they fight nonstop. But in the end, we're the ones who suffer the consequences."

Xuan Yi heaved a sigh.

Feng Xun asked, "What are we going to do now?"

Xuan Yi said, "Just let it be."

Feng Wu headed back home, still angry, and Chaoge caught up to her on the way.

"Xiao Wu, are you alright?" Chaoge was concerned.

Feng Wu gritted her teeth!

Chaoge looked at her sympathetically. "I don't know what it is with His Royal Highness. Why are you the only one he picks on? What are we gonna do?"

Feng Wu ground her teeth.

Chaoge said, "We've only been in school for a day."

Feng Wu sighed in resignation. Chaoge was right. It was only the first day of school, and she still had four more years to go...

After she got back home, Feng Wu jumped into Fang Manor right away.

Grand Secretary Fang stayed at home most of the time these days, since he could cultivate more efficiently thanks to the Taiyi Formation.

"You want to... withdraw from school?" Grand Secretary Fang was teaching Feng Xiaoqi when Feng Wu arrived, and he looked up at her after hearing those words.

Feng Wu said, "Not exactly. I'll be studying on my own outside school, and I'll only show up for the exams."

Stroking his beard, Grand Secretary Fang gave it some thought. "You're only in Year 1 and the formation classes are indeed too easy for you... Try to cultivate in the Taiyi Formation for a few days; pick the spot you find the most efficient."

Feng Wu was elated.

Having the principal of Imperial College as a friend sure came in handy.

For the next three days, Feng Wu stayed in the Taiyi Formation for her cultivation.

Chapter 1047 His Royal Highness

All the time she spent in the Taiyi formation paid off. After Feng Wu started cultivating, she felt the spiritual energy flow freely into her body without any hindrance at all. The spiritual essence ran into her body like mischievous fairies. She couldn't stop it even if she wanted to.

Feng Wu was a Level 6 Spiritual Grandmaster, and after three days, she reached perfection at that level. She was that close to making a breakthrough.

But to achieve that required serendipity, and Feng Wu was stuck. The breakthrough just wouldn't happen.

Feng Wu stopped cultivating and opened her eyes.

Right after that, she met Grand Secretary Fang's knowing eyes, which still had a surprised look in them that he wasn't quick enough to hide.

"You're about to make a breakthrough again?" Grand Secretary Fang looked at Feng Wu in amazement.

He had never seen a kid make such swift progress. She had only just leveled up, but she was ready to move on to the next level again.

Feng Wu smiled. "The Taiyi formation is as amazing as it's said to be. It only takes me half the time to cultivate."

Feng Wu had thought that it would be a while before she reached the Spiritual Elder stage. As it turned out, she didn't have to wait that long.

A Spiritual Elder... That was what Zuo Qingluan was now.

Just then, there was knocking on the door outside.

Feng Wu looked at Grand Secretary Fang in bewilderment.

Grand Secretary Fang frowned. "It's them again."

"Them?" Feng Wu asked curiously.

Grand Secretary Fang frowned a little and didn't reply. Steward Fang answered with a wry smile, "Ever since my old master's sensational breakthrough, a lot more people started visiting us. It used to be very quiet here."

Feng Wu could see why that was the case. After his retirement, Grand Secretary Fang had had far less visitors. However, now that he had been promoted to principal of Imperial College, and with his capability now on par with Mr Lu's, it was only natural that more people would start to show up.

It was just that Grand Secretary Fang had turned all of them away to have some peace and quiet.

Since the Taiyi formation extended all the way to encompass Fallen Star Yard, Feng Wu could cultivate at home as well. Qiuling, Uncle Qiu, and Chaoge were all absorbing the spiritual essence and working on their cultivation there.

Feng Wu came back to Fallen Star Yard to find the place very quiet. Everyone was working hard.

As she was free at the moment, which was very rare, Feng Wu sat down under the grape trellis and considered her current situation.

Since she had found the first broken star piece, it was time she started looking for the second one.

Feng Wu couldn't wait to get all the pieces.

But... where could the second piece be? Feng Wu had no idea at all, but she faintly recalled that Jun Linyuan had mentioned that it was in Imperial College.

Feng Wu couldn't sit still anymore. She ran next door to Grand Secretary Fang.

"Broken star pieces?" Grand Secretary Fang frowned.

Feng Wu asked, "Have you never heard of them?"

Grand Secretary Fang shook his head. "As a matter of fact, I haven't... Are they very important?"

Feng Wu seldom looked this serious. "More important than my life."

Grand Secretary Fang didn't say anything in reply. It seemed that they were really very important.

"Maybe the other elders know about it. Hold on." Grand Secretary Fang then contacted the others.

Feng Wu waited patiently.

Meanwhile, in the crown prince's residence —

Feng and Granny Gong stood outside the study in utter silence, exchanging not a single word.

Granny Gong then heaved a sigh. "His Royal Highness has shut himself inside for two days. When is he going to break free of this mood?"

Feng looked up at the sky.

Chapter 1048 Broken Star Pieces

Because of the crown prince's rage, dark clouds had gathered overhead, covering the entire sky over the residence. Cold air filled the place and everyone was as silent as cicadas in autumn. It was too scary for them to utter a word. Feng sighed in resignation.

Chang San, the captain of the guards in the residence, was standing next to Feng side at the moment.

"Mr Feng, His Royal Highness has been in a bad mood for two days... It's never been this long before..."

Chang San pulled a long face. "He must have reprimanded over a hundred officials and generals already."

Reprimand was an understatement. To be more precise, he had given them absolute hell.

Feng smiled bitterly. It had really been going on for too long.

"Who offended His Royal Highness this time?" Chang San cringed. "And when is it going to end?"

Luckily, His Royal Highness had only lashed out at the civil and military officials and the generals of the imperial guards. None of his close subordinates had been affected yet.

But who knew what could happen if his mood stayed like this.

Just then —

“Chang San, get you ass in here!” The crown prince’s grumpy voice came from inside the room.

Chang San’s eyes widened, and he turned to Feng for help.

What should he do now?!

Feng and Granny Gong looked the other way, as if they hadn’t heard a thing...

Chang San had to force himself to go in when in fact, he wanted to cry for help.

Soon, they hear angry roars from inside.

Both Feng and Granny Gong felt their stomachs lurch.

Chang San came out about fifteen minutes later with blood oozing from his ears, nostrils, and the corner of his mouth. He looked listless. When the captain saw Feng, he almost burst into tears.

“Who on earth offended His Royal Highness?” Chang San hadn’t seen that coming, and he was devastated.

“Who do you think?” Feng darted a glance at Chang San.

Luckily, Chang San was no fool. He saw the light right away. “Do you mean... Miss Feng Wu?”

Feng raised his head, looking like he knew nothing at all.

Rolling up his sleeves, Chang San headed for the door.

Feng asked, “Where are you going?”

Chang San said, “To find him a fire extinguisher!”

And he didn’t go alone. Together with a team of his men, Chang San headed for the Feng manor.

Meanwhile, Feng Wu was waiting for the result of Grand Secretary Fang’s inquiry.

If Grand Secretary Fang could find a lead on the broken star pieces, she wouldn’t have to go to Jun Linyuan anymore. God knew how irritated she was even at just the thought of Jun Linyuan. The anger was simply uncontrollable.

“How did it go?” Feng Wu stared at Grand Secretary Fang nervously.

Grand Secretary Fang nodded at her. “I don’t have the exact location of the broken star pieces, but... I have a lead.”

“Really?” Feng Wu’s eyes lit up.

Something was better than nothing; she could work with that.

“What lead?” Feng Wu stared at Grand Secretary Fang earnestly.

Grand Secretary Fang was secretly surprised. He had never seen the girl so devoted to something.

He told her, “Xuanyuan Kun is the person you should start working on.”

“As in Elder Xuanyuan?” Feng Wu’s eyes flickered.

Elder Xuanyuan was one of the seven members of the education board, and back in Yu Yue’s office, that old man had wanted Feng Wu dead.

Grand Secretary Fang recalled the incident as well, and his face darkened. “Xuanyuan Kun isn’t exactly your friend. Moreover, the Xuanyuan clan has close ties with the Zuo clan. You...”

By now, Grand Secretary Fang had learned about the enmity between Feng Wu and Zuo Qingluan. He couldn’t help but worry about her dealing with the Zuo family.

Chapter 1049 Where’s Feng Wu?

“It’s better than nothing,” Feng Wu said with a brooding look in her eyes. As long as she had something to work with, she would find those broken star pieces, no matter what it took!

Back at the Feng manor.

Thump! Thump! Thump!

Someone banged on the gate of the Feng manor.

Ever since Feng Wu’s beautiful mother beat the crap out of Feng Yanfeng the other day, the guy had been too humiliated to leave the house. He had stayed at home, claiming to be sick.

The day he finally summoned up the courage to go out, the elderly steward came in.

He said, “Master, we have trouble!”

Feng Yanfeng frowned. “Why are you panicking?”

The old steward’s forehead was covered with sweat. “There are people banging on our door...”

Banging on their door? Feng Yanfeng was furious. Who did these people think the Feng clan was?

Feng Yanfeng rose to his feet. “Who the hell are these people?!”

The old steward said, “It’s General Chang, as in General Chang who works for His Royal Highness. He’s kicking the door down!”

His Royal Highness’s General Chang?!

Next to Feng Yanfeng, Feng Liu and Feng Sang were thrilled to hear the news.

So, His Royal Highness was really going to teach Feng Wu a lesson this time!

“Come, let’s have a look!”

With Feng Liu and Feng Sang running at the front, Feng Yanfeng followed them out with conflicted feelings.

No one would dare to ignore those who worked for His Royal Highness.

And the Feng manor's doors weren't going to stop someone like General Chang.

By the time Feng Yanfeng and the others rushed out, General Chang was already in the main hall.

Feng Yanfeng went up to him in a hurry. "General Chang..."

Feng Yanfeng was a high-ranking official, but he still didn't dare offend General Chang.

With a stern look on his face, Chang San turned his sharp gaze on Feng Yanfeng.

He waved at Feng Yanfeng. "Chief Feng, let's cut to the chase. I'm not here for you. Show me to Miss Feng Wu, please!"

So, they really were here for Feng Wu...

Judging by his attitude, Feng Yanfeng didn't think General Chang would be too polite to Feng Wu.

Before Feng Yanfeng could say anything, Feng Liu stepped out. "I know where Feng Wu lives. I'll show you the way."

Chang San turned his sharp gaze on Feng Liu.

Soon, they arrived at Fallen Star Yard.

Feng Wu was at Grand Secretary Fang's place at the moment. Since Grand Secretary Fang was able to extend his spiritual essence quite some distance now, he naturally detected Chang San and his men.

"You have visitors in Fallen Star Yard. I think you should go back now," Grand Secretary Fang reminded Feng Wu.

Grand Secretary Fang had been telling Feng Wu Elder Xuanyuan's life story, for the better she knew her enemy, the higher her chances of victory. Since Feng Wu wanted to get some leads from Elder Xuanyuan, she needed to learn more about him first.

But she was interrupted halfway, which meant that she wasn't in a good mood at all.

After bidding Grand Secretary Fang farewell, Feng Wu jumped over the wall back into her Fallen Star Yard.

By then, everyone in the yard who had been cultivating was roused.

Chaoge, Qiuling, Uncle Qiu... Everyone was frowning and looked displeased.

Of course they were unhappy. How else should they react when they were interrupted in the middle of their cultivation?

Chaoge glared at Feng Liu.

Feng Liu smirked. "Duan Chaoge, you're not a member of the Feng clan. You have no right to speak!"

Chaoge smirked back. "I'm not a Feng clansman, but I'm a member of Fallen Star Yard, which you're not! You're the one who should shut up!"

Seeing the displeased look on General Chang's face, Feng Yanfeng snapped, "Shut up, everyone!"

Instantly, everyone quieted down.

General Chang walked in and scanned the yard with a frown. "Where's Miss Wu?"

Feng Yanfeng glared at Duan Chaoge. "Where's Feng Wu?"

Chapter 1050 That Doesn't Seem Right...

Chaoge didn't reply, for she had been cultivating and had no idea where Xiao Wu went. "Did Feng Wu get wind of this and go into hiding?" Feng Liu snorted.

Chaoge asked, "Get wind of what? Why should she hide?"

Feng Liu said, "Duan Chaoge, don't tell me you don't know who this gentleman is. Let me enlighten you. This is General Chang, and he works for His Royal Highness! And now, General Chang is here to arrest Feng Wu. She must have heard of this somehow, and absconded to avoid punishment! I pity you lot here. You know nothing when Feng Wu has abandoned you all."

"Abscond? Arrest? Those are some bold statements."

A calm voice came from inside the house.

They looked up to find the slim and graceful teenage girl smiling at them with her arms crossed.

Her face glowed like peach blossoms in March, and the careless smile on her face wasn't the expression of one who was going to be arrested at all. She was neither nervous nor did she panic.

Feng Liu smirked when she saw Feng Wu. "Karma is a b*tch, and retribution will come eventually. Feng Wu, your time is up!"

"Is that so?" Feng Wu gave her a half-smile.

"Xiao Wu..." The beautiful lady had walked out of the house when no one was looking, and she nervously took Feng Wu's hand. There was panic in her eyes.

She was worried about Feng Wu.

Feng Wu noticed that her mother's exquisite face was utterly white.

She then recalled what happened the other day, and looked pained. She felt sorry for her mother.

When the beautiful lady went berserk, she was stunning, spectacular, and unbelievably powerful. However, she had been completely worn out after she fainted, and had only gotten better in the past few days.

Feng Wu knew that entering such a berserk state came at a price, and for her mother, that price was her health.

Of course, she wouldn't let something like that happen to her mother again.

Staring at Chang San, Feng Wu looked displeased, and her face darkened.

Chang San's stomach lurched.

"I'm fine. Mum, don't worry. Granny Zhao, help my mother inside."

What annoyed Feng Wu was the fact that these people kept coming here uninvited and started pointing fingers at her right away.

How dare they?!

Feng Liu was still nagging, but Feng Wu ignored her completely.

With an emotionless face, Feng Wu went straight to Chang San and stared at him with her cold eyes. Her thin red lips reminded him of blood.

Glaring at General Chang, Feng Wu snorted. "Chang San, how dare you break into my Fallen Star Yard?!"

Just arrest her!

Feng Sang and Feng Liu looked expectantly at Chang San, hoping to see him act as arrogantly as when he had first arrived.

However —

To everyone's surprise, Chang San didn't reply. He kept silent.

"Did Jun Linyuan send you here to arrest me?" The thought of Jun Linyuan made Feng Wu want to snap.

Feng Yanfeng glowered at Feng Wu, astonished by how bold the girl had become. She had just referred to the crown prince by name. Surely General Chang would punish her for that!

However, Chang San only said, "No, it's not like that. His Royal Highness doesn't know I'm here."

Feng Wu asked, "Then what are you doing here? To show off how powerful you are?"

Chang San waved his hands repeatedly. "No, of course not. How can someone as petty as me do that in front of you, Miss Wu? It's just a misunderstanding, a big misunderstanding..."

What?!

Feng Liu and Feng Sang, who had been excited to see what was going to happen next, exchanged astonished looks.

That didn't seem right...

General Chang had been so domineering earlier, and hadn't even shown their father much respect...
