Chapter 517

A few days later, a piece of shocking news was on Twitter

An established media outlet had exposed a money laundering scandal involving a member of Central Group's senior management. Subsequently, another member was involved in a hit-and-run accident while driving under the influence of alcohol without an official statement

Due to the consecutive waves of negative publicity, Central Group remained the top trending topic on Twitter and in the headlines of all major news websites, causing its stock price to decline so rapidly that it triggered the limit-down suspension a couple of times.

As one of the top conglomerates in the country, Central Group's public relations team was made up of the elite within the industry. In spite of that, they still failed to stem the avalanche of controversies related to the company.

Consequently, many netizens speculated that there was someone powerful out to get Central Group

Realizing that something was amiss, Landon, Central Group's biggest shareholder, sold off his holdings in the company's stock and withdrew billions from the company.

On the sixth day, a man who claimed to be a former employee of Central Group was standing at the edge of the rooftop at Central Group Tower.
