

THE MOST GENEROUS MASTER EVER Chapter 202

Now, the various factions of the Heaven Mending Sect had already prepared and were waiting for the arrival of that calamity.

At the same time, all over the Eastern Wasteland, the various immortal holy lands seemed to have sensed the signs of the great calamity. They began to close their doors and activate the array.

As for the dynasties, clans, and commoners in the mortal realm, they did not realize that they were about to receive a destructive blow.

They still work and have fun.

Time passed.

A month later.

At dawn, a thick smoke suddenly appeared in the uninhabited region. A shocking roar resounded throughout the wasteland. The hunters who were hunting in the wasteland were instantly awakened and hurriedly crawled out of their tents.

“What happened?”

“Look, what is that...”

Everyone ran out of the house and looked up at the sky. They saw a blood-colored skull spreading above the Heavenly Abyss. It was as if the Death God from the Nine Nether was watching the entire Eastern Wasteland.

At that moment, everyone's faces turned pale and their legs were weak.

"What... what is this?"

"Is the world ending?"

Someone asked with a trembling voice. He was completely stunned as he looked at the blood-colored skull.

They wanted to run, but they could not take a step at all. It was as if there was some magic that prevented them from taking a step.

They were only hunters from the nearby village. They had never seen such a scene.

At this moment, the wasteland in the hundred miles was in chaos. All the ferocious beasts hidden in the wasteland fled in fear.

Seeing this scene, everyone panicked. In their panic, someone shouted, "What are you waiting for? Run..."

After coming back to their senses, everyone reacted. Their feet, which could not move, immediately moved at high speed. The fear that came from the bottom of their hearts maximized the potential of their bodies. They ran across the wasteland like the big black rat.

Under the full speed acceleration, everyone who thought they could escape suddenly realized that the blood-colored skull suddenly opened its mouth and bit down. In an instant, a shocking suction force came, and everyone could not help but fly back.

“No... I don’t want to die.”

They struggled and roared. The scene was extremely chaotic. That blood-colored skull was incomparably powerful. Its mouth opened and closed as if the world was breathing. All living beings in the hundred miles of Wasteland were swallowed by it.

“They’re all... all dead.”

“What kind of guy is it? Phew... This is too scary.”

At this moment, the few people who were lucky enough to escape the calamity were hiding in a corner, panting and trembling.

They had witnessed a massacre with their own eyes. It was extremely bloody. They were terrified, uneasy, and their legs began to tremble. Fortunately, they were far away. Otherwise, they would not have been able to escape death. They originally planned to wait and see, but who would have thought...

“Ah ~ Choo...”

In the depths of the uninhabited region, a sneeze suddenly sounded. In an instant, ripples spread out. A violent wind swept out, and the terrifying power instantly razed the entire wasteland to the ground.

“F*ck...”

The few people hiding in the corner were so frightened that they did not dare to breathe loudly as they watched the mountains being razed in an instant. What kind of terrifying existence was this whereby a sneeze could actually cause such destructive power?

“Damn it, those who don’t want to die, leave quickly...” Someone cursed softly and did not dare to stay any longer. He ran out of the forest and headed straight for Guangling.

When the others saw this scene, they did not dare to stay any longer and ran away. How could they provoke such a terrifying existence? If they didn’t leave now, they would die in the next moment.

The moment they ran out of the forest, the blood-colored skull above the Heavenly Abyss suddenly opened its blood-red eyes that were like lanterns. It did not kill them all as it watched them leave. Instead, it watched coldly as they left and returned to the uninhabited region.

No one knew what terrifying thing was in the depths of the uninhabited region. And who exactly sneezed just now?

Just a sneeze had razed the entire wasteland to the ground. Even a King-Ranked powerhouse would have to spend some effort to do such terrifying destructive power. And the other party only sneezed.

The change today quickly spread throughout more than half of the Eastern Wasteland. The originally peaceful Eastern Wasteland instantly became nervous. Everyone was terrified and began to seek support.

Everyone knew that today’s change was a sign of the impending calamity.

In just two days, the three dynasties quickly responded and sent a large number of troops to the border to guard the city. However, how could they resist that terrifying thing with just their strength?

Therefore, the three great dynasties once again joined forces and requested help from various immortal holy lands in the Eastern Wasteland to protect the peace of the world. However, there were very few Holy Lands that responded, and most of them were small Holy Lands.

At this moment, everyone in Guangling City was in a panic. In various restaurants and inns, a dense crowd gathered together to discuss this matter.

“Have you heard? A few days ago, someone saw a blood-colored skull at the edge of the uninhabited region. It was extremely terrifying. It swallowed more than a million living beings in one bite. Its strength is at least at the peak of the Paragon realm or above the King-Ranked realm.”

At the table, a burly man shouted with an ugly expression.

As soon as these words were spoken, the entire restaurant fell silent. Everyone surrounded him.

“How is this possible! There’s actually such an expert in the world?”

Some people did not believe it, while others began to suspect it. It was extremely chaotic.

Another burly man said, “This is nothing... Apart from this blood-colored skull, there’s something even more terrifying. It was the mysterious expert in the depths of the uninhabited region. With just a sneeze, he actually razed the wasteland to the ground. In this world, experts who can do this are at least King-Ranked experts. They might have already reached the Martial Monarch realm...”

“What!!!”

As soon as these words were spoken, everyone instantly became nervous. How many years had it been since a Martial Monarch had appeared in the Eastern Wasteland? Now, one had suddenly appeared, and from the looks of it, he seemed to be here to destroy the world. Although he had yet to appear, his sneeze had made the entire Eastern Wasteland panic. It was obvious how terrifying he was.

“Heavens, this is the Great Calamity. No wonder the Liyang Dynasty suddenly sent so many troops to Guangling City. It turns out that there’s a huge chaos coming...” Someone said, thinking about how to avoid this disaster.

Someone also said, “Did you all notice that before this chaos began, many immortal holy lands chose to close their doors? Some large families even spared no effort in sending their children to the Holy Land. They seem to have sensed the arrival of the great calamity in advance. They have too much tacit understanding.”

As soon as these words were spoken, everyone present was even more flustered. They were even more convinced that a great calamity had really arrived. Otherwise, why would these Eastern Wasteland’s Holy Lands all close their doors?

With their strength, they definitely did not need to fear the attacks of others. Only such a great calamity could make them choose to close their doors.

“It’s over...” A burly man suddenly sat on the ground and said numbly, “My wife has just given birth. I was still thinking of earning two taels of silver this year and going to Yichun Restaurant to drink. Looks like there’s no chance...”

His dejected words immediately attracted the curses of the others.

“Damn it, why are you still thinking about visiting a brothel at a time like this? If you have the energy, you should think about how to avoid this calamity first.” A young man cursed fiercely. Then, he said, “A great calamity is coming. Everyone is in danger and can’t care about anyone. There’s only one way to survive, and that is...”

As soon as these words were spoken, everyone present was immediately interested in what he’s going to say.

Now, nothing was more important than this. Once the calamity erupted, they were not qualified to survive with their own abilities.

“Then what? Tell me quickly...”

Someone couldn't wait to ask. The young man said proudly, “Hehe, I don't know about you, but my father has already made some connections and sent me to the Heavenly Lake Holy Land to cultivate. No matter what, the Heavenly Lake Holy Land is one of the top holy lands in the Eastern Wasteland. Its foundation is powerful and its strength is extraordinary. As long as I go up the mountain, even if I'm just a labor disciple, I will have a chance to survive...”

Hearing this, many people revealed envious gazes.

“That's right... Why didn't I think of that?” At this moment, another young man in the corner suddenly slapped the table and shouted.

Everyone immediately looked over. “What did you think of?”

The young man said, “Everyone, have you forgotten something important?”

Everyone was puzzled and looked at him, not knowing what he wanted to say.

The young man smiled and deliberately mystified things before saying, “Haha, if I remember correctly, after the Dao Discussion of Mount Yun Ding ends, the various immortal holy lands will hold a disciple recruitment ceremony at the beginning of spring next year. It should be in a month's time. If everyone wants to survive, this disciple recruitment ceremony is an opportunity.”

As soon as these words were spoken, everyone present suddenly understood and was delighted.

“F*ck, I almost forgot about this...”

“Now that the calamity is here, everyone is in danger. These dynasty soldiers alone can’t protect us at all. The only chance to survive is to find immortal mountains and holy lands to be our protection...”

It was very lively now.

The chaos in the uninhabited region was not too serious. It was unknown why the blood-colored skull did not come out. A few days ago, after it swallowed those living beings, it fell silent, as if it was digesting them and did not continue to attack the Eastern Wasteland.

The only trouble now was the ferocious beasts that had run out of the uninhabited region to riot. They attacked cities and plundered lands everywhere. In their shock, they all went berserk.

After a moment of discussion, someone suddenly suggested. “What kind of holy land can safely survive such a calamity?”

As soon as this question was raised, it instantly attracted everyone’s discussion.
