Chapter 14 (Part 3)

When they finally got out of the airport and drove down the highway, she glanced at the man. He's not the only one! Even this is also a constant glance at him. Once they looked at each other, her cheeks flushed and she looked down. He was embarrassed because he was caught looking at it. So what? Isn't it, it's the same look at him. He is even better and just hidden. It's really a stare if it's a stare. Doesn't he at least know how to feel that he is special in his penetrating gaze? He felt that even his soul could be read by it.

Once again she admitted to herself how handsome Gideon Vesarius was. Blessed is the man in all!

Just a few minutes ago, Gideon turned his car into a hotel driveway. As soon as they were in the opening, he could clearly see the big name of the place. Almeradez Hotel is formed by the letters at the top of the building. The height, he was overwhelmed! 2 The Valet opened the door for them immediately when Gideon parked right at the entrance of the hotel. He took the key from Gideon and drove the car to park it in the underground parking lot.

A bellboy opened the door for them with a big smile on his face. The cold temperature of the hotel immediately embraced his body. It was colder than Gideon's car air conditioner. The refresher also welcomed her nose and she loves the smell of it. Clean and nice smelling. 1. The hotel was luxurious, she must say. The floor glistened with every light hit from the giant chandeliers hanging from the lobby ceiling. The sofas look cozy and soft. Wall paintings scream luxury and elegance. Every hotel staff is also clean and formal. The four receptionists in the reception area were smiling. The bellboys are also busy getting the guest's luggage. And speaking of the guests, he even spotted a prominent political figure sitting on one of the sofas in the lobby reading a newspaper. 1 Most of them are wearing tuxedos and formal dresses. He was singled out because of what he was wearing. She might have been mistaken for a hotel staff because she was only wearing a blue skirt and blouse.

The uniform of flight attendants in Vesarius Airlines.

They didn't go through the receptionists. Instead, they were greeted by a woman in her forties who was the manager of the hotel. "The VIP room is ready, Sir. Sir Nexus Almeradez and his wife are currently occupying the penthouse so he ordered the VIP room when you arrive," the woman's voice showed respect even though she was older than Gideon. "The other rooms for staff are ready as well." "Alright," Gideon nodded and held her by the arm. Whether it was intentional or not, she nearly jumped from her feet when his hand touched her skin. Shocked

He was in the flow of the story that flowed through his system. He got his arm back from it and stepped away.

He looked at her with an unreadable expression in his eyes. He seemed to have noticed her reaction so he didn't try to hold her by the arm again or even touch her skin with his hand. 4 It was strange and she didn't like her reaction with his mere touch. He didn't know why it had that effect on him. They were both silent as they boarded the elevator. She keeps her hands to herself while standing in the middle of the elevator. However, he could feel Gideon glancing at him.

When he reached the floor where the rooms for the staff of Vesarius airlines were, he politely bowed slightly to the man and said goodbye that he was going to his room.

Her job was done the moment the airplane landed and their passengers left the plane. He goes back to work when the plane returns. And since Gideon will be in Davao for three days, he will also be visiting this place for three days.

She dived on her queen size bed and grabbed one of the pillows. He hugged you tightly and had a big smile on his face as he stared at the ceiling of his room. !

He turned to his small sling bag that he was carrying when he got out of the plane. He spun around to reach for the small sling he had just dropped on the carpeted floor of the hotel suite.

His cell phone is ringing. He took it and checked who the caller was. He immediately sat up when he saw Caius' name. He was about to answer, when the call ended abruptly.

He turned to the door when someone rang the doorbell. He first took off the stilletos he was wearing and then headed for the door. It seems that whoever is at the door intends to break the doorbell. Bit by bit. 1 Gideon's face appeared to him when he opened the door. "Sir..." "Your things are here." He tilted his head to indicate his suitcase that was next to him. "Thank you. I would have taken the chin." "The bellboy brought that here. Not me." "I'm not saying anything."

He was about to answer her when his cellphone rang again. Caius' name appeared on her screen. He saw Gideon glance over there and meet his thick black eyebrows. He didn't pay attention to it, instead he took his suitcase and answered his brother's call. He stepped into the suite when he heard Summer's voice. "Mommy..." "My baby," he said happily and almost cried because he thought he wouldn't see her for three days.

However, before Summer could answer him, someone suddenly grabbed her cell phone.

His lips parted in surprise when he saw Gideon's eyebrows meet when he ended the call and looked at him intently as if he had married her.
