

Girl Boss 589

Chapter 589

Kayson left the Tinsley Mansion after he gave them a prescription.

He did not plan to return to Clouspring for the time being. Even though Michael wasn't there, the Whitmans wouldn't go down so easily.

Regardless of who the Osborns had sent, they would need some time to finish their preparations before they could take any action.

Right now, whoever dared go against the Wolfendens in Clouspring would be courting death.

Not only was Wolfenden Corp. protected by a group of capitalists, but they also had the impregnable local forces on their side. Anyone who had the guts to go against them would be hitting a rock with an egg.

Kayson fell into thought as he walked across the street.

He could ask Waylon for help, but there would be a limit to it. Waylon wouldn't mind helping him with some trivial matters, but if the situation in Skyspring was revealed, there was a huge possibility that he wouldn't help him.

Unless he got closer to Waylon...

Someone from Skyspring was plotting against Sadie and her family. It seemed to him that it was a force to be reckoned with, but he did not know who they were.

If he managed to pull them out from the dark, judging from his relationship with Waylon right now, it was very likely that Waylon would choose to stand aside rather than help him.

As for Swenson, although he was a smasher, he had only promised Kayson that he would help him three times after Kayson had saved his life.

If Kayson were an ordinary person, he would be delighted to get help from Swenson. However, Kayson was not an ordinary person, so he was not really that excited to receive help from a smasher.

After all, he was able to fight head to head with a smasher, so in his opinion, a smasher was not all that powerful.

'I'm only a step away from being a warlord. All I need is just an opportunity,' Kayson thought.

Combat training was different from inner energy training. If he wanted to reach a higher realm of combat skills, he needed an opportunity

Many people were not able to become a warlord in their entire life because they did not come across the opportunity.

Once the opportunity was presented before them, their combat prowess would increase by leaps and bounds.

Inner energy training required talent. Combat training required understanding and experience, while physical body training required effort.

“Kayson!”

A voice rang out, pulling Kayson out of his thoughts. He raised his head and looked toward the source of the voice.

Kayson felt surprised, but at the same time, he thought it was normal for him to run into her here.

The person who had called his name was none other than Noelle. It seemed to him that she was rather happy right now. He couldn’t see a single trace of sadness or worry on her face.

He guessed that Hendrick had not told her about the things that had happened to her father.

Noelle was well-dressed. She was a college student, and she was in her prime. She was pretty and able to draw the attention of a crowd, especially men, when she was walking down the street.

When all of them noticed that she was running toward Kayson, they felt jealous of him. Kayson was speechless. He did not know why everyone was looking at him.

Offering him a big grin, Noelle asked, “Why didn’t you tell me that you’re in Skyspring?”

“I just arrived today, so I didn’t have time to inform you yet,” Kayson replied.

He remembered that he had promised to guide Noelle and help her become a fighter under some conditions.

He wanted Noelle to earn money herself and he would only start guiding her after she bought enough herbs.

Therefore, he asked, “Have you gotten enough herbs?”

Noelle rolled her eyes at Kayson and said, “Sir, it has only been a few days. Do you know how hard it is to find a part-time job here?”

“The job I’m working right now pays daily. It’s hard, tiring, and I’m making very little money. You’ve got to give me some time!”

Kayson chuckled. “Well, it seems like I’m better than you. I earn money very fast, so I can get a few million bucks in a short time.”

Noelle was speechless. “Alright, alright, you’re the best. By the way, are you sure you’re earning dollars and not some other currency?”

Chapter 590

It was apparent that Noella did not believe him. She checked the time and asked, “Are you free now?”

“Why?”

“Come with me to a party.”

Kayson was free, so he agreed. Moreover, he wanted to make use of the time he had in the next few days to guide Noella in starting her training.

“Oh right, is the heir of the Killicks still bothering you?”

Noella let out a grunt and said, “Not anymore! There’s no telling ‘if he’s moved by conscience or something, but he’s been avoiding me all this time since my return to the university.”

“Moreover, I’ll tell you this. He sent someone to apologize to me afterward. I thought to myself that since he didn’t manage to take advantage of me, I should stop making a big fuss with him.”

Kayson nodded and thought about how Jules was good at managing the situation. He had investigated the matter clearly so he could stop it in time.

Otherwise, he would never let the Killicks off if the Killicks’ heir still had the audacity to bother Noella or even adopt some unconventional means to disturb her.

It was not long before Kayson and Noella arrived at a popular bar.

They had yet to arrive at the door when they saw a girl about Noella’s age with thick makeup and exposed clothing waving at them.

“That’s my friend, Joanna Xaver.”

Kayson nodded without speaking.

“Jo, why are you waiting here!”

Joanna said, “I was afraid that you couldn’t find the entrance. Who is this?”

She looked toward Kayson.

Noella wanted to say that Kayson was a friend, but an idea came to her, so she said, “This is my new boyfriend!”

Joanna was astounded . “How come I’ve never heard you talk about him before?”

“I said that he’s my new boyfriend, and you’re the first to know!”

Joanna chuckled, but her expression showed she couldn’t care less about Kayson.

“Sure. Let me take you upstairs.” Upon saying that, she took Noella’s hand and entered the bar, completely ignoring Kayson.

Kayson did not mind at all. At the very moment he entered the bar, he gave the place a sweep with his mind expansion and furrowed his eyebrows ever so slightly.

There's actually a skilled fighter in the bar... It seems that some big shot is here to get laid.'

What surprised Kayson was that the private room Noella was heading to was precisely the room where he discovered the skilled fighter's presence.

There were more than ten people in the room of different genders dressed in unique attires, There was a young man with dark circles under his eyes, and his eyes lit up at the sight of Noela.

"Joanna, is this the friend that you mentioned earlier?"

mile

The young man greeted them with a smile.

Joanna giggled and said, "Yes, Lex. This is my best friend, and her name is Noella Whitman."

The young man nodded and said, "Hello, my name is Lex Jackson, and I'm a student at Skyspring Technology University."

Noella said smilingly, "Hello, Lex!"

Lex poured her a drink right away. "Noella, you won't mind a drink, right?"

Noella said, "Of course."

Lex cracked a cynical smile after seeing how Noella downed the drink. "I'm sure that you're very good at drinking, Noella. It seems that I've found my match tonight."

He downed his drink and darted a look at Kayson. "Who is that?"

Joanna took the lead to explain, "That is Noella's new boyfriend. She was still single yesterday, yet she brought her boyfriend with her today. I was taken by surprise too."

How could Lex possibly not figure out Joanna's insinuation?

Soon afterward, he smiled nonchalantly and said in delight, "So that's the case, huh? We can't just turn away our friend here. Noella, have your boyfriend join us for a drink or two!"
