

Glory 61

Chapter 61 – Hunting Yagg (1)

In Glory, the member limit in a group is ten. Each party member can create their own party with a limit of ten parties in a group.

After Ye Xiu joined the party, he saw that there was exactly ten members in the party. He recognized the majority of them: Blue River, Bound Boat, Flower Lantern, Thundering Light, Lunar Grace, Returning Cloud. They all knew each other from before, so they weren't unfamiliar with him and all went up one by one to say hello. He hadn't seen the other three before: Blowing Clouds, Spitfire Class; Endless Flow, Launcher Class; And one that you could tell was vulgar just from the name, Groping Haven, a Cleric. (TLC: Sacred Light Gropes You)

Blue River introduced them one by one. There were two other parties with twenty people, but Blue River didn't trouble him with them. Actually, if they only wanted to kill the Blood Gunsman Yagg, then a single ten person party was more than enough. This time, they brought thirty people, which told the difficulties of the main problem: kill stealing the wild BOSS. It could even be said that Blue Brook Guild brought out all of their elites to this battle. All thirty of them could be found at the very front of the tenth server's current level leaderboard.

Ye Xiu glanced over everyone and then suddenly said: "Did I take Thousand Creation's position?"

”

Blue River was startled. He didn't think that Ye Xiu was attentive to this degree. It was true. Thousand Creations was originally called over to get ready to hunt Blood Gunner Yagg, but then he just happened to meet Lord Grim..... Blue River felt that this was another chance to make things clear and simply said: "Don't worry about him. We go on our own business."

"When did the Blood Gunner respawn?" Ye Xiu asked Blue River.

"We received the info five minutes ago, so we immediately gathered all of these brothers. And after a short while, we hurried over." Blue River said.

"We need all of these people?" Ye Xiu laughed. Even for kill stealing, they didn't need this many people. With so many people surrounding the target, many people didn't even have a place to put out damage.

"It's to prevent any incidents!" Blue River messaged.

Ye Xiu knew that this wasn't to prevent anything the BOSS would do, it was to protect them from other people. The most terrifying aspect in the game would never be NPCs. It would always be the players.

"If we were able to receive the info, then I'm sure Herb Garden and Tyrannical Ambition have also received it." Blue River said. Besides fighting over dungeon records, the Three Great Guilds also payed attention to wild BOSS records. The guild had already reminded them of the importance of the wild BOSS records long ago.

"They're already here." Ye Xiu turned his viewpoint and looked left and right. He discovered that not far from them, there was another crowd of players wildly rushing. They were clearly running in the same direction as Blue Brook Guild's troops.

“D*mn!” Blue River turned his viewpoint and saw it too. He vaguely identified a few names: “They’re from Herb Garden.”

Ye Xiu couldn’t help but worship him. He looked at some of these IDs and they all looked the same to him. For Blue River to actually be able to recognize these names, he deserved to be called an experienced rival. They were quite familiar with each other.

When Blue River recognized the other side, the other side also recognized Blue Brook Guild. Blue River quickly received a message from Herb Garden’s tenth server guild leader Plantago Seed: “Old Blue, if you have any inner quality to you, then you can clearly see that we’ve arrived here first.” Both sides knew Blood Gunner’s location. Currently, Herb Garden was clearly closer to it. Their levels and equipment were about the same. Blue Brook Guild’s hopes to take the lead weren’t great.

“Get lost.” Blue River replied. Wild BOSSes were never first come first serve, but Plantago Seed loved to say such nonsense.

“How many people did you bring?” Plantago Seed asked.

“Around the same as you.” Blue River said.

“Want to team up?” Plantago Seed said.

“What do you mean by team up?”

“You and I have both arrived, so Tyrannical Ambition shouldn’t be far behind. We both send a few players out to block them. And then we both rely on our own power to split the BOSS, how about it?”

“Okay!” Blue River replied without thinking the matter through.

“How many people?”

“Half!”

“Okay.”

After half a minute.....

“Where are your people?” Plantago Seed asked.

“Yours?” Blue River replied.

“I’ve chosen them, I’m waiting for you!”

“I’m the one waiting for you!”

Another half a minute of silence.

“It looks like you don’t trust me. I’ll go look to team up with Tyrannical Ambition then.” Plantago Seed said.

“Go ahead. Actually, I’ve already come to an agreement with Tyrannical Ambition. They’re in front waiting to ambush you. Be careful.” Blue River replied.

Plantago Seed didn’t send another message.

Both felt helpless. This wasn't the first time they had met. The Three Great Guilds had fought with each other for many years, so they all understood each other. If they truly wanted to cooperate, then they always tore at each other. It wasn't possible for them to reach a conclusion in these few words. None of them trusted each other. It could be seen that in these few years, they weren't lacking any fighting, dueling, or causing havoc amongst each other.

Blue Brook Guild was currently a bit slower than Herb Garden, but that small amount didn't count for anything. Even if Herb Garden arrived there first, they might not immediately pull it and fight. If they were attacked from behind, what would they do? Don't look at how their messages to each other were so friendly. If they truly wanted to fight, they wouldn't show any mercy. Games were like this. Happy and painful.

The two crowds maintained their distance and they reached the Blood Gunner's location one after another. However, when they got there, another crowd of players were already standing there. Tyrannical Ambition's players were unexpectedly even faster than them. Except Tyrannical Ambition still hadn't acted. At this moment, there were a crowd of unknown players battling the Blood Gunner. But with just a look, it could clearly be seen that these were just random parties who just happened to discover this BOSS, trying it out. Blue River looked for a bit and then decided: "They're courting death!"

Blood Gunner Yagg was covered in a white leather armor. Its ash-colored face didn't show any expression. Clearly, it was also an Undead monster. It held a revolver in its hands and it moved incomparably quickly, running around everywhere and firing. At that instant, the crowd of randomly put together players were all hit and cried out in terror. They had no way to resist and the hunters became the prey.

Tyrannical Ambition had arrived long ago, but they just stood on the side, quietly watching the scene. They stood firmly just outside of the Blood Gunner's attack range. After Herb Garden and Blue Brook Guild arrived, they acted the same as Tyrannical Ambition. They didn't care about whether these players lived or died. They didn't even look at the Blood Gunner; their attention was all focused on each other.

Seeing that the other two guilds had arrived, someone from Tyrannical Ambition quickly walked out and headed towards Blue Brook Guild.

Does he want to negotiate with us? Blue River silently thought. He couldn't help but look at Herb Garden. They weren't moving either and looking at their stance, they were probably paying attention to that Tyrannical Ambition player who was walking towards Blue Brook Guild, too.

That player eventually walked over. Right when he was about to go greet him, he heard that player shout: "Lord Grim, why are you here?"

"To see the excitement." Ye Xiu replied.

"That place isn't too good. Come come come. Why don't you come over to our place?"

As it turned out, this shameless person was Endless Night.

Blue River's lungs were about to burst with rage. He was simply treating them as if they were air. Our place is no good? F*ck your place then. This entire area was a desolate graveyard. There were a few weeds, dead trees, crooked gravestones, and damaged coffins; every place was the same. What good or bad?

Chapter 62 – Hunting Yagg (2)

“Isn’t everywhere the same?” Ye Xiu replied, appearing somewhat well-behaved.

“But in a bit, some things might happen there, so it’d be best to stay out of the way.” Endless Night said.

Blue River’s heart couldn’t help but thump. These words were obviously spoken for Blue Brook Guild to hear. Analyzing it on the surface, these words suggested that Tyrannical Ambition and Herb Garden had already joined hands. Blue Brook Guild would have difficulty negotiating with them.

“Oh? How come I heard that that place wasn’t safe?” Blue Brook Guild’s Bound Boat spoke out.

Psychological warfare.

Reverse psychological warfare.

Reverse reverse psychological warfare.

When the Three Great Guilds competed, they often ended up in this situation. These annoyed Blue River, so he liked to remain still with his face blank and let others deal with the problem.

“Oh, so it’s like this? Don’t tell me Herb Garden is plotting against us? Wouldn’t it be best for us to join hands?” Endless Night said.

To join hands or not to join hands, that was the question.

Blue River felt his balls ache. He directly sent messages to both guild leaders: “What are you guys doing? Both of you come over.”

Herb Garden’s guild leader Plantago Seed replied: “I haven’t done anything.”

Tyrannical Ambition’s guild leader Cold Night replied: “Didn’t I already send someone over?”

Both of them weren’t cooperating. Blue River’s head hurt. Truthfully, he hoped that all three could send representatives and let everyone just play rock-paper-scissors, but he knew that wasn’t going to happen. Even if everyone agreed, in the end, they’d definitely turn hostile. The winner would be like a cicada stalked by a mantis, unaware of the oriole behind. The winner would just be waiting for someone to stab him in the back! He didn’t know how many times this sort of situation had happened. In the end, all of the winners were extremely cautious and then suddenly tossed from side to side repeatedly by everyone. What had originally been agreed on was the same as no agreement. What was the point in wasting that time?

The Three Great Guilds all payed a lot of attention towards their outer image. Their words held enormous weight and their reputation was outstanding.

But when the the three competed, whatever despicable, shameless methods existed, all came out. Trust and promises were all the same as floating clouds.

All because their true interests laid in winning against the other competitors.

Even if everyone agreed that whichever side did the most damage was the winner, Blue River wouldn't dare trust their word. He did trust that once one side fell behind, that side would definitely cheat them. He knew that every time they hunted a wild BOSS, a lot of players would die.

In this instant, Blue River cherished his memories of dungeons. Comparing them with wild BOSSes, no matter how difficult the dungeon was, they all felt so comforting.

They never had any sincere cooperation with each other. They would only scout each other out or guard against each other. This was the relationship between the Three Great Guilds.

Seeing that Endless Night was still chattering on, Blue River was ready to pull out his sword. In fact, when he called out for the two guild leaders to come, he didn't have any good intentions either. In any case, everyone was shameless, so the two didn't dare come over and stayed where they were. The two didn't come over, only an annoying Endless Night. Blue River felt he might as well just kill him and be done with it. Everyone already understood their relationship towards each other anyways.

But he suddenly heard Ye Xiu say: "Isn't that Thousand Creations?"

Blue River heard this and was startled. He turned around to look. One player, with magical fluctuations under his feet, carried a battle pole and rushed forward without saying anything to smash at the BOSS.

Blue River didn't feel like taking care of him. He was just an undisciplined, unorganized individual.

"I'm going to help him."

Blue River didn't think Lord Grim would suddenly throw out these words and then rush forward. This was something that he couldn't control even if he wanted to.

"Hey hey! Why are you running? I'm not done talking!" Endless Night still talked.

Blue River suddenly pulled out his sword with a Sword Draw and slashed towards that guy. He didn't know how, but Endless Night had already prepared for this and rolled backwards, avoiding the sword.

"Oh, so the magnificent guild leader sneak attacks!" Endless Night mocked.

Blue River moved. Immediately, several players beside him were about to rush forward and act, but Endless Night had already escaped. Tyrannical Ambition also immediately had people approach, so Blue Brook Guild immediately withdrew.

They didn't want to clash with Tyrannical Ambition. Herb Garden was still beside them!

The Three Great Guilds restricted each other. Intertwined, none of them dared to act blindly without thinking. While they were stuck in a stalemate, more players died fighting in the fields. One party, which was originally a ten member party, had already fallen to five. Half had died.

"Why are you all standing there watching. Hurry up and kill!!"

After Lord Grim rushed close, Ye Xiu heard these five members yell.

They clearly didn't understand the situation and didn't understand these Three Great Guilds' entanglement.

But no matter how entangled these Three Great Guilds were, these five were destined to die.

If they were unable to kill the Blood Gunner, they'd die. If they killed the Blood Gunner, they'd die an even worse death. The Three Great Guilds didn't act out against them because they belonged to the former. They didn't have the strength to kill the Blood Gunner.

"Join the party!!" At this moment, the five yelled to Thousand Creations. Thousand Creations was the sixth player on the field that joined the fight. They immediately sent him an invite, but that guy actually ignored it.

"I'm coming in!!" After Lord Grim rushed to the front, Ye Xiu yelled while swiftly leaving Blue River's party.

"What is he thinking?" Blue River was a little lost. Lord Grim rushing forward made him lost. Then, he suddenly left the party. Seeing that he wanted to join that random party made him even more lost.

"If Lord Grim is killing the BOSS, are we going to steal or not?" Bound Boat suddenly said.

Blue River stared blankly.

Could it be that this guy wanted to use the fact that each of the Great Guilds regarded him highly and wouldn't steal the BOSS from him?

This thought was rather naive. Although the Three Great Guilds all regarded him highly and were willing to back down on many issues, this was only when the Three Great Guilds took the initiative to. But at this moment, he was the one to take initiative and use the Three Great Guild's intentions to force them to retreat. This was a completely different situation.

No one would be willing to accept this sort of coercion, to say nothing of the Three Great Guilds. Although they were cautious, modest, and respectful on the outside, if you schemed against them like this, who would be able to take this?

Thousand Creations maneuvered around everywhere, waiting for an opportunity.

The five players were basically being chased and attacked by the Blood Gunner.

But once Lord Grim entered the fray, everything immediately changed.

The fast-moving Blood Gunner had unexpectedly been accurately captured by him. With a Sky Strike, the Blood Gunner had already been knocked into the air. This was an attack that Thousand Chances hadn't found the opportunity to perform, even after he had joined the battle for so long.

Falling Flower Palm!

The Blood Gunner was blown away. This was a wild BOSS and was even stronger than hidden BOSSes. Sky Strike hadn't knocked it very high into the air. If it was someone else who had executed Falling Flower Palm, then it might have even been a problem for them to complete the aerial attack.

The Blow Away effects would be increased in an aerial attack.

The higher up they were, the greater the increase. Because the Blood Gunner hadn't been knocked up very high, the additional effects from the aerial attack were already the limit.

His figure shook and suddenly, two Lord Grimms appeared. One was in the original place, while the other had flashed behind the Blood Gunner.

Shadow Clone Technique!

The body behind the Blood Gunner was obviously the real one. He immediately grabbed the Blood Gunner and threw.

Grappler Skill: Fling.

The Blood Gunner was once again thrown away.

Herb Garden's players were suddenly in a commotion. Why was this Blood Gunner getting closer and closer to them?

Chapter 63 – Hunting Yagg (3)

The Blood Gunner's aggro obviously couldn't run onto Herb Garden. In fact, up until now, it hadn't taken a lot of damage. After taking three hits from Lord Grim: Sky Strike, Falling Flower Palm, Fling, its aggro had already ignited onto Lord Grim. Once it was thrown to the ground, it didn't fall down. It rolled away and had already gotten up.

This skill was called Quick Recover. It was a common passive skill similar to Swift Run and Roll. After learning it, it could be used. The moment the user fell onto the ground, the user would immediately use a roll. In this way, the user wouldn't fall down and would instead directly flip over.

This skill required a certain amount of technique to use. When the user touched the ground, the user had to immediately use a roll to Quick Recover. There were also a few skills where Quick Recover didn't work. For example, the Battle Mage's Circle Swing, the Grappler's Back Throw, and the Sharpshooter's Punisher all negated the Quick Recover skill.

The Blood Gunner could also Quick Recover, but it only now had a chance to. At this moment, after eating three of Lord Grim's attacks, it directly rolled over with a Quick Recover and raised its gun, ready to shoot.

A gun sound rang out and the Blood Gunner's right hand, which held the gun, moved backwards. Following the spark that sprayed out from the gun muzzle, a second gun sound rang out.

"D*mn!!" An Herb Garden player cried out in fear and immediately crouched down. The bullet scraped by his head. Then, he heard a second sound "D*mn!!" from behind him. The second player didn't have time to dodge and the bullet hit him in the center of his forehead. Blood violently blossomed out and his life directly fell to half. Herb Garden's Clerics immediately went up to rescue him. But at this moment, no one responded in time when the Blood Gunner suddenly c*cked its gun towards them.

But from Blue Brook Guild's point of view, they could all see it clearly. Just now, after Lord Grim flung the Blood Gunner, a gun somehow appeared in his hands. That first gun sound wasn't from the Blood Gunner. It was from Lord Grim's gun. This gun hit the Blood Gunner's right hand causing the Blood Gunner's gun to swing backwards. Was this a coincidence? Or was it on purpose? Blue Brook Guild's players didn't know. But they did know that this shot was both an attack and a defense. It not only hit the Blood Gunner's hand, it also neutralized the possibility of the Blood Gunner returning fire. As for the headshot at the Herb Garden player, that was probably pure coincidence.

But this coincidence still made Blue Brook Guild's players extremely happy.

"What is he trying to do?" While everybody was jeering at Herb Garden's player who had "accidentally been shot", Bound Boat frowned, unable to see through Lord Grim's intentions.

"Is he really thinking of taking down the Blood Gunner in front of all of us?" Flower Lantern also muttered.

Both of them moved towards Blue River.

"D*mn! An aerial Circle Swing, amazing!!" The two had just arrived in front of Blue River when they heard him say this.

The two were completely helpless. Was this really the time to be admiring his skill?

After waking up Blue River, Blue River touched on this issue but also helplessly said: "If the other guilds don't move, how can we?"

Bound Boat was startled.

"Could it be that this guy wants to use this time when our three guilds are restricting each other instead of impolitely kill stealing?" Bound Boat said.

Blue River looked left towards Herb Garden. And the looked right towards Tyrannical Ambition. He saw that the other two guild leaders were also eccentrically looking left and right. Clearly, they were also like him and observing the other two guild's movements.

Sure enough! At this moment, none of the three guilds dared to advance forward.

This was because whoever advanced forward would become the mantis preying upon the cicada. But there was also a large oriole behind them. No. Two of them to be accurate.

"This....." Blue River discovered this deadlock really was awkward.

He immediately messaged Herb Garden and Tyrannical Ambition: "You two. Are we really going to just watch this BOSS get split?"

"Old Blue, you've finally learned treachery?" Plantago Seed replied.

"I don't want to. It'd be better if your Blue Brook Guild hurried over and captured the BOSS, while my Tyrannical Ambition waits outside the range and keeps the situation under control, what do you think?" Tyrannical Ambition's Cold Night replied.

Blue River was speechless. Herb Garden and Tyrannical Ambition didn't trust him at all. And the most important factor that influenced these two groups' judgements was that they didn't understand Lord Grim's strength; they didn't believe that Lord Grim could take down the Blood Gunner.

But now that he calmed down and thought about it, he also felt that this was an issue too.

Although he and Lord Grim had set a dungeon record before and directly saw Lord Grim's strength, although Lord Grim relied on his outstanding skill to deal with the Blood Gunner, no one could solo the Blood Gunner at this level. Even a peak peak professional player wouldn't be able to, either.

This was because their mana definitely wouldn't be able to keep up.

With the Blood Gunner's life as well as the player's DPS at this level, there was no way anyone could defeat the Blood Gunner with no mana. Even if they carried a full inventory of potions, they still wouldn't be able to. Just seeing how Lord Grim put out damage at such a high tempo, they knew that beginner village's level one potions certainly weren't enough.

Skills couldn't be used without mana. If a player couldn't use skills, only relying on normal attacks definitely couldn't take down the BOSS. When skills and normal attacks were compared, apart from more damage, the most important difference were their crowd control effects.

For example, Sky Strike's Knock Up, Dragon Tooth's Short Stun, Falling Flower Palm's Blow Away, Circle Swing's No-Quick-Recover Throw. These sort of special effects couldn't be made by normal attacks and had an effect on controlling the opponent's movement.

Thinking of this, Blue River suddenly calmed down. Sure enough, Herb Garden and Tyrannical Ambition were the greater threats. He couldn't help but glance left and right at each of them.

The five normal players in the field were still regarded as dead people, so much so that Blue River didn't even think that Lord Grim would associate with them. When Lord Grim left, he had no way to prevent it, so he could only call Thousand Creations to come and join the party.

Perhaps Ye Xiu was the only player to notice these five.

These chain attacks, which these five players were incapable of doing, frightened these players dumbstruck. Lord Grim suddenly used a Circle Swing, throwing the Blood Gunner in front of these five players.

"Still watching? Attack!" Ye Xiu yelled.

The five players woke up and immediately went up and greeted the Gunner with their weapons.

"Don't attack randomly. Listen to my commands." While Ye Xiu yelled, Lord Grim's attacks hadn't stopped from beginning to end.

These foolish five players finally discovered something.

"Lord Grim, this person is Lord Grim!!!"

The Three Great Guilds weren't the only ones that noticed Lord Grim. Even players from Happy Internet Cafe were astonished when they saw Lord Grim's famed name. These five players, who had invited Lord Grim to join the party and watched Lord Grim's fight with the Blood Gunner, just now noticed Lord Grim's ID on top of his head.

The Lord Grim that completed three first clears in beginner village!

The Lord Grim that led Blue Brook Guild to a new clear record in Frost Forest!

“Berserker, Gore Cross.” Lord Grim said while using Dragon Tooth to stab the Blood Gunner.

The Berserker didn’t react slowly and immediately brandished his Greatsword. While the Blood Gunner was still stunned and unable to dodge, he slashed and the tip of his sword drew a cross. A cross of blood swung out.

“Brawler, Sand Toss.” Ye Xiu yelled and at the same time, a Sky Strike knocked the Blood Gunner into the air.

Chapter 64 – Hunting Yagg (4)

Brawlers belonged to the Fighter Class and were street fighters that use underhanded methods to win.

For example, Sand Toss threw sand, dirtying the target’s clothing in a despicable manner.

At this moment, hearing Ye Xiu’s call, this Brawler immediately threw sand at the Blood Gunner.

Ye Xiu started sweating. He didn’t think that this player was a complete noob. He immediately instructed: “Sand Toss whenever it’s off cooldown and throw sand at its face.”

This was Sand Toss’s true usage.

Sand Toss had a hidden effect that occurred when sand was thrown into the target’s eyes. It had a chance to Blind the target. Because it was a hidden effect, the chance to Blind and the Blind’s duration wasn’t directly shown by the system. However, through player testing, the lowest level Sand Toss had a 50% chance to Blind and lasted 4 seconds. But when the skill was maxed, it had a 100% chance to Blind and lasted 8 seconds.

This effect was truly terrifying. In Glory’s early days, Brawlers ruled the world with Sand Toss. Whenever they encountered anything displeasing, they would throw some sand at their face. Under the effects of Blind, the player’s screen became pitch-black, unable to see anything. Brawlers could use this opportunity to attack despicably and lowly while their target was in such a state.

But nowadays, players found quite a few ways to deal with Sand Toss.

The simplest way was that when the Sand Toss was thrown, the character turned his or her viewpoint. Look up, look down, look left, look right, any of them worked.

Although Sand Toss damaged them, it was much better than that terrifying hidden effect.

But the unequalled counter to Sand Toss was a type of accessory: eyeglasses.

This toy was the same type of item as the Mithril Pendant that Ye Xiu possessed. It had no attributes and was purely decoration. However, these eyeglasses could nullify Sand Toss’s hidden effect, turning it into nothing but fleeting clouds.

The most hated item among Brawlers were these eyeglass type items.

Fortunately, NPCs wouldn’t shamelessly wear eyeglasses as if they were refined people.

Blinded NPCs would lose their sense of direction, unable to find their original aggro target. It might not even be able to figure out the direction to hit back players that bullied it. Ye Xiu’s purpose was obviously to let this Brawler attempt to Blind it. But who knew that that guy was too much of a noob. His Sand Toss was unexpectedly thrown at the Blood Gunner's body. Ye Xiu had no idea how this guy got to level 23, two levels higher than him.

"Brick Buster!" Ye Xiu continued to patiently instruct this Brawler.

Brick Buster was the system's official name for the skill. Ye Xiu was afraid that his noob wouldn't know the popular term for it, so he used the official skill name. Among players, this skill was known as Brick.

Correct. Found high and low, far and wide, the Brick that people in street fights would often use as a weapon.

In Glory, Brawler's Bricks could be used to smash and throw, extremely formidable. Apart from this, the skill also had a special effect. It had a 50% chance to cause the target to be Dizzy for 3 seconds. However, in order to create this effect, the Brick had to be smashed onto the head. This Brick also had a hidden effect. When the Brick is a back attack and also hits the head, the Dizzy chance becomes 100% and lasted 4 seconds.

Ye Xiu didn't have time to explain in detail to this Brawler. Fortunately, the Brick's Dizzy special effect wasn't a hidden effect, so the skill tooltip described this. Evidently, the Brawler noticed this point and his Brick headed towards the Blood Gunner's head.

Regretfully, instead of using his hands to directly smash its head with the Brick, he threw it.

The flying brick's damage was reduced by half. The chance to Dizzy was reduced by half; the Dizzy duration was reduced by half.....

Moreover, this Brick flew askew.

"Idiot, pick up the Brick and smash the back of its head." Another person acted on behalf of Ye Xiu and directed. Brick's hidden effect wasn't a secret.

The newbie Brawler immediately responded sincerely "Okay okay".

"Raging Flames, attack." Ye Xiu commanded the Elementalist.

Raging Flames soared up. Ye Xiu nodded his head, satisfied. He wasn't as noobish as that Brawler at least.

Facing the BOSS Blood Gunner, the low-leveled Raging Flame's knock up was small. But Ye Xiu had already controlled Lord Grim to follow up.

"Collapsing Mountain!"

"Ghostblade use a Sword Soul!"

"Sand Toss!!"

"Raging Flames!!"

"Ghost Slash!!"

Ye Xiu succinctly and quickly directed them. The five players, who had originally been regarded as dead players, suddenly discovered: was dealing with the Blood Gunner really this easy?

Originally, they tried every possible way but they couldn't hit the Blood Gunner. Now, it was pretty much just a sandbag. Sword slashes, brick smashes, magic flashes, they all hit.

The experienced players among the five saw that this was all because of Lord Grim. This guy would use his attacks exactly where they controlled the enemy. Moreover, his commands on when to use the skills controlled the enemy well. As a result, surrounding it, in this beautiful rhythm, they happily dealt damage to the Blood Gunner.

The Blood Gunner wasn't powerless to retaliate, but its attack target was always Lord Grim. Ye Xiu had already figured out its attack pattern, so he always dodged his attacks perfectly. In addition, the damage never spread to the other party members.

In an instant, a chaotic party that had originally been regarded as dead bodies transformed into a well-coordinated party under Ye Xiu's lead. The five players used their skills contentedly, but Ye Xiu didn't relax a bit. He understood clearly that a single mistake in his play or a small misjudgement in his leading would completely reverse the situation.

The Three Great Guilds that had just been standing there watching were already completely dumbfounded. Each of them had majestically prepared dozens of players as reinforcement just in case. But at that instant, the six player party was hunting down the BOSS yet they didn't dare advance. Each and every one felt ill-at-ease and glanced left and right. The more they looked, the more foolish they seemed.

"See! This is the leading I wanted to see!" Tyrannical Ambition's Endless Night yelled.

"What are you being so happy for?" His guild leader Cold Night said.

"So Lord Grim was actually this terrifying....." Herb Garden always had Lord Grim in their thoughts, but they still hadn't seen his strength. Now that they had seen it, the guild leader Plantago Seed was completely stunned.

"If this continues, then the Blood Gunner really will be killed off by this guy." Blue Brook Guild's Flower Lantern said to Blue River.

As a result, the three guild leaders began twisting strangely again. They turned in one direction, then in the other, observing the other two's reactions.

They all understood what everyone had to do at this moment.

"Kill off those additional players. Don't touch Lord Grim. If they attack Lord Grim, then lend a hand!" Blue River commanded.

"Help who?" Someone still asked.

"Idiot, don't tell me you think we should help those two bunches of bastards?" Blue River said.

Everyone understood.

“Take the empty spot in our party and immediately give it to Lord Grim.” Blue River said.

Everyone felt a bit solemn. There obviously wasn’t any empty spot right now, but there would be one soon because someone had to die. The person that died would respawn in town and automatically leave the party.

The Three Great Guilds all began moving at practically the same time.

Chapter 65 – Hunting Yagg (5)

“Oh, those people want to help!” The Brawler suddenly said. His voice carried a tone of pleasant surprise.

Ye Xiu sighed. This guy truly didn’t understand the situation! These guilds weren’t here to help. They were here to kill steal. They hadn’t acted before because these guys weren’t even worthy of being stolen from. The Blood Gunner would have eliminated them.

“Leave!” Ye Xiu said.

“What?” The Brawler was unable to make heads or tails of his command.

The other four players were actually noobs too. If they weren’t noobs, then they would have known about the Blood Gunner’s strength. They wouldn’t have mobbed around it and killed themselves. But they were better than that noob of a Brawler, so they at least saw that the situation was far from good. Those guys over there didn’t move early or late. When they saw that they were fighting the BOSS smoothly, only then did they suddenly move. Help? Providing help in the hour of need was called help. But right now in this situation, only God knew what they were up to.

“If you don’t run, then you’re looking to die!” Ye Xiu said.

“Then we fought for nothing?” The party’s Berserker said. He noticed that there was something wrong with the situation. But if they ran now, then why did they fight so hard before?

“I don’t know yet.” Ye Xiu said.

The five players were all at a loss.

“But if you don’t leave now, then it’ll be too late.” Ye Xiu said while Lord Grim’s attacks continued. The Three Great Guilds rapidly drew near. The long-ranged classes such as the gunners had already begun aiming their guns.

“Run!” Finally, one of the five players took the lead and ran. The Three Great Guilds didn’t care about these guys. Because the three guilds left some space to guard against each other, they didn’t completely surround the BOSS. Seeing that these five were running, they didn’t send people to kill them. Instead, they were all observing the other guilds’ movements. Those were main opponents. All three guild leaders practically shouted at the same time: “STOP”.

The numerous players urgently halted and all watched each other. The Blood Gunner was almost in front of them, but if they rushed up to surround the BOSS, then what would they do if the other guilds behind their backs raided them? All three guild leaders were pondering over this.

This was because the battle on the field still continued.

Those five players had ran halfway when they suddenly realized that Lord Grim wasn't behind them. Looking back, they saw that Lord Grim was still battling with the Blood Gunner.

"What's the meaning of this?" The five players were puzzled. They just weren't familiar with the game. It's not like they didn't have a brain. This player told them to run, but he himself stayed. His behavior was odd, which made them unable to tell whether he was good or bad. As a result, they couldn't help but stop moving.

"Run farther! It's dangerous over here!" Ye Xiu suddenly messaged them through the party channel.

"But they haven't come to kill us!" The noob Brawler said.

"Trust me." Ye Xiu typed out two words this time.

These noobs were too clueless. If they were Blue River level players, they would have all been stunned to death. To be able to take the time to type during an intense battle with the BOSS, how fast was his hand speed?

The noob Brawler couldn't help but begin to run while calling out to his companions: "Hurry and run."

The other four hesitated, but two of them followed the noob Brawler.

The other two still stayed in their original spots. They were a still a bit skeptical over Ye Xiu's words. They felt that he was trying to intentionally get rid of them.

Seeing that the five moved differently, Ye Xiu could only feel regret towards the two skeptical players. He didn't have the time to explain to them. His mouth had been used to lead them in battle the entire time. He also didn't have the time to type. The previous two words he had typed out were already risky and the six words before almost messed up his playing.

"Should the long-ranged classes try attacking?" Blue River consulted his subordinates. They wouldn't advance forward yet. The long-ranged classes would first do some damage.

"We can't guarantee that we won't accidentally hit Lord Grim....." The long-ranged classes all started sweating. The Blood Gunner's speed was his forte. Fighting with it required high tempo and fast movements. At this moment, Lord Grim and the Blood Gunner were flashing around everywhere. Who knew which target their attacks would hit.

"What is this guy thinking!" Blue River said gloomily.

On the other side, Herb Garden's Plantago Seed had already yelled out: "Hero! Add your party to my group! All of the drops will belong to you guys."

"D*mn!" Blue River secretly shouted at Plantago Seed's treachery. If the party joined his group, then the previous damage they did would count towards their group. He himself hadn't thought of doing this!

"Brother Grim, join my side! The items are all yours." Blue River immediately stepped forward. He felt that he was somewhat closer to Lord Grim. With the same conditions, Lord Grim didn't have any reason to not join their group.

“Join my side. The rewards are all yours. I’ll also gift you 20 White Wolf Bristles.” Tyrannical Ambition’s Endless Night also yelled. He thought that Ye Xiu had some sort of special indulgence towards White Wolf Bristles.

“Lord Grim, don’t trust him! How many times would you have to run Frost Forest to get 20 White Wolf Bristles?” Blue River immediately yelled.

“We have 20 here!” Plantago Seed yelled.

Bound Boat murmured to himself: “Could it be that this was this guy’s true aim?”

Blue River also had a headache. Really, this guy. He completely didn’t know how to talk things over with emotion. Did he really have to turn everything into a business deal?

Lord Grim still indifferently attacked the monster. As a result, the three guilds all felt that the price tag wasn’t enough and continued raise the price.

The two that hadn’t run away were all already stunned. The “all of the items will belong to you guys” alone already made their hearts speed up. They had never heard of the other items that the three guilds promised. But if they dared to bring them out, then they were clearly valuable items.

The two players were anxious! They were just itching to respond on behalf of Lord Grim.

But the two quickly recovered.

Even if he agreed, then it didn’t matter! Because currently, the party leader wasn’t Lord Grim. Joining a group or receiving a group invite were all the party leader’s rights.

The two immediately looked at the party list. The leader was that noob Brawler.

The two immediately typed out in the party channel: “COME BACK!!”

“Why didn’t you two run.” The noob Brawler replied.

“Run my ass! These few guilds are giving out conditions over here. They’re letting us join their group. Afterwards, the equipment will all go to us and they’ll also give out a bunch of valuable items. Hurry up and come back party leader!!” The two excitedly spoke incoherently, scrambling to send the message.

“So there’s this!” The noob Brawler surprisingly understood. Once he heard equipment, his eyes turned into stars. He immediately ran back. The other two who had seen the message also excitedly moved too.

The only one indifferent was Lord Grim. The Three Great Guild’s leaders were all presenting their conditions to let him join their groups. In the end, after seeing the system prompt, they slapped their foreheads and recovered: “F*ck, he’s not the party leader!”

No choice, they had to turn to the other five seemingly non-existent players.

“Where’d the party leader go?” The Three Great Guild leaders began concerning themselves with those players that weren’t even in their line of sight originally.

At this moment, Lord Grim suddenly spoke: “Everyone be careful.”

“What?” Everyone was at a loss.

After Lord Grim used a Circle Swing and threw the Blood Gunner, the Blood Gunner's body suddenly emitted a floating layer of blood-colored light.

"F*CK! It's Enraged?" The three guild leaders were all veterans. They had knowledge and experience.

"Are you joking? What's the life at!!" The hundreds of players that gathered there were all in shock.

Chapter 66 – Undead Legion

When its life dropped to 10%, it would go into a Red Blood state. In this state, the BOSS would turn Enraged. This was a fixed rule in Glory.

Under the watch of all these Glory veterans, how could they ignore a party that had fought the Blood Gunner to 10% health?

But the Blood Gunner wasn't at Red Blood, yet it now entered an Enraged state.

As veterans, they clearly understood what the Blood Gunner's Enraged state meant. If they were the ones fighting, then they would have definitely prepared before it went Enraged. But who would have thought that the Blood Gunner would suddenly turn Enraged at this moment.

"Red Blood isn't the only way for it to turn Enraged." Bound Boat suddenly said.

Blue River's complexion had already changed.

Indeed, on some BOSSes, besides the Red Blood state, there were a few other ways that could lead to the BOSS turning Enraged. Enraged, to put it simply, was the BOSS's way to save itself when it was in critical danger. For high-end wild BOSSes like the Blood Gunner, Red Blood wasn't the only time when they felt they were in danger. Other conditions could make them feel that they needed to turn Enraged to resolve the crisis.

"200 Combo?" Blue River blurted out.

Noticing it now was already too late. By the time the Blood Gunner began shouting and glowing, it was already too late.

Everyone felt the ground underneath loosen. Earth had already begun opening up. The crooked tombstones and the remnant coffins looked as if they had awakened and began shaking.

The Blood Gunner's Enrage summoned his Undead Legion.

The number of creatures summoned was proportional to the number of players in his aggro range. At this moment, it was quite a tragedy. The Three Great Guild leaders were all in the Blood Gunner's aggro range. They had just been trying to invite Lord Grim into their group....

The three of them didn't represent a single person. They were the group's leader, so each of them represented the entirety of their respective guilds on the field.

Normally, when they fought the Blood Gunner normally, before it went into Red Blood, the leader would definitely be the first to leave the Blood Gunner's aggro range. In all of these years, relying on this setup, the Three Great Guilds didn't know how many times they had fought against this monster. They were all too familiar with the Blood Gunner's summoning.

“Ha ha ha ha ha.....”

The Blood Gunner’s call continued. A large mob of zombies and skeletons had already climbed up out from the earth, tombstones, and coffins.

There were over a hundred!

“Stay in formation! Protect the healers and mages!!” The Three Great Guild’s instructions were all practically the same.

The newly summoned Undead Legion didn’t have the same aggro as the Blood Gunner. Their aggro was reset and attacked as soon as they saw a player. They would attack whoever was close to them. In an instant, a great battle unfolded in the Boneyard.

The zombies and skeletons summoned by the Blood Gunner weren’t more ferocious than the normal Boneyard monsters. But the problem was that their levels were high. They were all the same level as the Blood Gunner, Level 26, the highest level in the Boneyard. They Level Suppressed every single player in the field, making them difficult to deal with.

And adding on to their sudden appearance and random distribution, everyone was caught off guard. In the first moments, there were players that were surrounded and instantly killed.

The three guild leader’s expressions were all ugly. They knew that this 200 Combo was something Lord Grim had deliberately done.

This combo counter didn’t count how many times the Blood Gunner attacked. It counted how many times it was attacked. But under the concentrated fire from being attacked on all sides, it was very easy for the Combo to go over 200. As a result, this prevented players from bullying it too excessively.

Normally, they would definitely pay attention to the combo! Breaking the combo was much easier than continuing the combo.

But Lord Grim commanded a party to hit out 200 Combos. Moreover, he did it when the Three Great Guilds were all inside the aggro range. He had clearly done it to make the BOSS turn Enraged and restrict the Three Great Guilds.

His purpose was obviously still the Blood Gunner.

But what about the Blood Gunner now?

The Blood Gunner’s aggro wouldn’t change because it turned Enraged. Its aggro was still on Lord Grim. After turning Enraged, it immediately shot violently and hit Lord Grim into a cloud of white smoke.

The players of the three guilds saw this, but weren’t happy. The one that was hit was only Lord Grim’s shadow clone.

Where was Lord Grim’s real body? After the shadow clone disappeared, another Gunner’s Aerial Fire shot out and he flew backwards slipping out a good number of bullets.

The Blood Gunner swiftly chased him. The Three Great Guild's players were being tangled by the Undead Legion and had no time to watch. They could only concentrate on stopping the undead's advance.

The noob Brawler and the others were all stupefied. They had happily ran back, ready to join the group and reap the rewards. But who knew such an event would unexpectedly occur. The three could only helplessly watch as their other two members were instantly ripped apart into chunks of meat by the Undead Legion.

The three immediately halted their footsteps. They finally understood what the danger Lord Grim warned about was.

Soon after, they saw Lord Grim fly out. Behind him followed the astonishingly fast Blood Gunner.

The three didn't know what to do. They didn't know whether Lord Grim was fleeing or doing something else until they saw Lord Grim's command: Go!

"Go where?" The three players asked.

"Come over and kill the BOSS." Ye Xiu said.

At a loss, the three players turned around and ran.

"Over here!" Ye Xiu gave the three players further directions.

The Three Great Guilds all saw this clearly. They had no manpower to spare and could only stamp their feet in rage.

"That guy's bringing away the Blood Gunner!!" Everyone was shouting.

Blue River almost died from anger and sent a message to Lord Grim: "Brother, you're not nice!"

At this moment, Lord Grim was only running. He would occasionally stop to throw down the chasing Blood Gunner. He had time to respond to Blue River.

"What's wrong?" Ye Xiu replied.

What do you mean what's wrong!! Blue River saw this message and grew even angrier. Right when he was about to send another message, he suddenly discovered that he had nothing to say.

Right, what's wrong? What did that guy do wrong? That guy planned to steal away the Blood Gunner. But saying that that wasn't nice? There was no such word in Glory! Wild BOSSes had always been there to be stolen. But normally, it had always been stolen by the Three Great Guilds. If someone else apart from the Three Great Guilds stole it, then why should that suddenly be not nice?

Blue River was unable to speak.

Apart from him, Endless Night also sent a message.

"You're very fierce!!"

"Ha ha." Ye Xiu replied.

“But don’t be too pleased with yourself yet. With those few people, do you really think you’ll be able to beat the Blood Gunner before we kill off all these trash? Do you really think we won’t be able to find you?” Endless Night replied.

“Then you guys better hurry up.” Ye Xiu laughed and inhaled a breath of smoke.

“Where are we running to?” The noob Brawler next to Lord Grim asked.

Ye Xiu hadn’t yet replied when another player shouted: “Uh oh! There are people heading towards us.”

“Don’t panic. Give the party leader position to me.” Ye Xiu said.

The noob Brawler, without thinking, gave the party leader position to Lord Grim.

System message: Player Seven Fields has joined your party.

Player Drifting Water has joined your party.

Player Sunset Clouds has joined your party.

Player Sleeping Moon has joined your party.

Player Immersed Jade has joined your party.

“KILL!” Ye Xiu shouted loudly. The noob Brawler and the others all watched, dumbstruck, as a group of people rushed forward. Some called him “God”, some “brother expert”, and others didn’t say a word. They all headed towards the Blood Gunner to attack.

Chapter 67 – Speed Up

“Brother expert, you’re too loyal.” Seven Fields and the others rushed up excitedly.

“You guys are pretty brave too.” Ye Xiu laughed. He had already told them what the situation was. This was like trying to pull a tooth from a tiger’s mouth. He also wasn’t sure if the three great guilds would just let this matter go. But in the end, these guys didn’t care and hurried over. Even the little girl Immersed Jade came. Though it was possible that the noob girl didn’t understand the situation and just came to join in on the action.

“What’s there to be afraid of.” Sleeping Moon yelled while chopping down quite energetically. He hadn’t played yesterday, so his level was a bit lagging behind. But after bitterly training for a day, he reached Level 21.

“These are all the people you’ve called?” The noob Brawler and the others stood there foolishly on the side.

“Yup!” Ye Xiu said.

“When?” The noob Brawler asked.

“When I went up and joined your party.” Ye Xiu said.

“You had already planned it all out at that time?” The three were all appalled. What an incredible mind!

Ye Xiu laughed but didn't say anything else. He began instructing each person on their position and skill timing. He even went as far as telling them when to drink their potions.

Potions had a cooldown. What was the best way to drink potions to keep up your endurance during battle? That itself was a type of knowledge.

Now, it looked as if nine people were fighting the monster together. In reality, those eight other players were all puppets. They completely acted according to Ye Xiu's instructions. They were a bit messy in the beginning. After all, Ye Xiu only had one mouth and couldn't give eight people eight commands at once. But after fighting for a bit, Seven Fields and the others, who weren't considered experts, were still veterans and already had a basic understanding of what to do. The noob Brawler level players also did decently.

Ye Xiu carefully observed each player's damage output. He calculated that they wouldn't be able to kill off the Blood Gunner before the Three Great Guilds finished dealing with the Undead Legion. He quickly came to a conclusion: foolishly fighting here wouldn't work.

As a result, he began adjusting his tactic and distanced himself. The Blood Gunner was like a sheep. It was being cut down on one side and driven away on another. The more it moved, the more the blood flowed down. It was extremely miserable.

At this very moment, Ye Xiu obviously wouldn't do another 200 Combo and ask for more trouble. But there was no way to avoid its Enrage when it reached 10% life. Of course, to Ye Xiu, that wasn't a problem at all.

The Blood Gunner's life quickly plummeted. Ye Xiu estimated the time for both sides. The Three Great Guild should almost be done, but the Blood Gunner's life was still at 20%. Even though they pulled a bit of distance while fighting it, the time was still extremely tight.

Ye Xiu turned his camera angle and looked towards the direction that they had come from. Boneyard didn't have much shelter. Looking into the distance, many players had already begun moving in their direction. Sure enough, the Three Great Guilds had already finished their work.

And on their side, the damage output had already been stretched to the limit by Ye Xiu's leading unless higher leveled equipment was given to them. But clearly, that wasn't possible. Or maybe.....

"Brother expert, they've all come over." Seven Fields suddenly said. Evidently, he had also noticed that they didn't have enough time.

"Okay, let's speed things up." Ye Xiu said. Having already reached this stage, there was no there choice but to fight.

"How?" The eight players asked.

"Increase your hand speed. Everyone concentrate." Ye Xiu said.

At this moment, the only method was to increase their hand speed.

Ye Xiu himself obviously wasn't a problem. In order to match everyone, he had deliberately controlled his hand speed to such a slow speed. But now, in this limited time to kill off the Blood Gunner, the entire party's tempo had to quicken. There were quite a few noobs in this party, which made things much more difficult. But at present, there was no other way.

Hand speed wouldn't increase the character's attack speed. The character's attack speed was determined by class and equipment. It was a fixed number. But hand speed could increase their mechanical speed. The faster the mechanical speed, the faster skills could be put out. The character's sidesteps, rolls, attacks, skills, etc. each move would be linked together faster.

At this moment, Ye Xiu wanted the entire party to increase their mechanical hand speed; this was effective hand speed.

Let's say two points were on the screen, A and B. The requirement was for the cursor to move from A to B. Pro-players, using the quickest hand speed the entire time, could move the cursor from A to B and accurately stop on B.

But normal players, in order to accurately stop on point B, they could only lower their hand speed, decreasing their cursor's movement speed. If they forced themselves to increase their speed, then they might miss point B or even go over. In short, they couldn't get the most optimal result.

But at this moment, Ye Xiu was too busy to worry about it.

Fortunately, they didn't need to increase too much. There was no way everyone could suddenly reach a professional level hand speed.

Ye Xiu assessed the situation. Increasing their current tempo by 20% should be enough. According to his observations, in their current tempo, there were a few people who still had energy to spare. For example, it shouldn't be a problem for Seven Fields and Sleeping Moon to increase their tempo by 20%. Sunset Clouds and Drifting Water were in the norms. After suddenly increasing the tempo, whether they could keep it up or not depended on their concentration. As for the four noobs, Ye Xiu had no hopes at all for Immersed Jade. This girl was already having trouble, repeatedly making mistakes. The noob Brawler made Ye Xiu a little surprised. Although he was the stupidest of them all, his hand speed wasn't bad. When he instructed him, he carried them out precisely without any deviations. The other two were better than Immersed Jade, but not as good as the noob Brawler.

Fight!!!!

"I'm speeding up!" Ye Xiu yelled. His hands quickened. With this increase, the others all matched him and increased too. Just as he expected, Seven Fields and Sleeping Moon kept pace easily and it wasn't too much of a problem for Sunset Clouds either. But Drifting Water reacted slower and was slow by half a beat. Immersed Jade was already in an "Oh no" state. But the noob Brawler made Ye Xiu pleasantly surprised. His attacks were as accurate as Seven Field's and Sleeping Moon's. Finally, those other two were in a complete mess. Their attacks became nonexistent.

"Don't panic! Concentrate!" Ye Xiu looked around. Besides Immersed Jade, who was completely hopeless, Drifting Water and the other two still had the possibility of keeping up.

"No good!" Immersed Jade's hands were a mess. Her attacks were all hitting air.

"Immersed Jade play on your own pace. Just use your skills whenever they're off cooldown and that'll be fine." Immersed Jade wasn't good enough. She had also picked the Assassin class, which required a higher operating speed. Slow Assassins, PK's Most Beloved. In Glory, this famous phrase said that Assassins without hand speed were complete tragedies. They could be bullied around easily in PK.

Immersed Jade was one such tragedy. Ye Xiu immediately gave up on her.

The remaining seven players made Ye Xiu feel extremely gratified. Drifting Water's speed also caught up and the other two weren't as messy as they were when they first started. Although they made a few mistakes, Ye Xiu was still able to rescue them. They only increased their hand speed by 20%, but Ye Xiu burst forth with a 200% increase. If Chen Guo was behind Ye Xiu, she would definitely eat back her three words, disabled level hands.

"Fast! Fast! Fast!" Seven Fields yelled while repeatedly reciting this catchphrase. His yelling while increasing his hand speed helped motivate the others too. However, this time, his increases were extremely small, so everyone unconsciously kept pace too. Only Ye Xiu could detect this sort of small chance. But this really was an unexpected surprise and he became even more certain of the outcome.

"It's almost at Red Blood!!" Seven Fields suddenly shouted.

Chapter 68 – Blood Gunner First Kill

Ye Xiu also moved extremely quickly and transferred the party leader position to Seven Fields:
"Everyone retreat."

Seven Fields and the other veterans had never killed the Blood Gunner before, but they heard the Blood Gunner story. They knew what happened once the BOSS became Enraged, so they immediately retreated.

Ye Xiu understood this better than Seven Fields. He didn't need any reminders. Under Seven Field's lead, the eight players left the Blood Gunner's aggro range. Ye Xiu's hand speed burst forth. Lord Grim's battle lance executed several skills, blurring their eyes. The Blood Gunner's life instantly dropped to ten percent Red Blood.

"Ha ha ha ha ha....."

The Blood Gunner began summoning and emanating a layer of blood-red light. But the players had prepared for this. There was only one person in its aggro range and he wasn't the party leader.

The BOSS's actions were completely grasped, so it was inevitably bullied around ruthlessly by these players. Ye Xiu now had to control the Blood Gunner and make sure that it didn't run into the rest of the party while it was in this state.

To Ye Xiu, this sort of task was as easy as eating food.

After the Blood Gunner's summoning ended, a single skeleton appeared next to it, looking weak and lonely.

Seven Fields and the others didn't move. They had also seen the Blood Gunner guide. Although they had all participated in killing this sort of wild BOSS with their guild, they had never experienced this sort of summoning. After the Blood Gunner finished summoning, could they enter battle and fight? They weren't sure.

“Kill!!”

Until they heard Lord Grim’s commands.

The eight madly ran back to kill. The lone guard summoned by the Blood Gunner was instantly shattered into pieces. Who made it come here so lonely.

The besieging continued.

“Doesn’t the Blood Gunner summon again?” Seven Fields asked.

“Yup. At five percent life, it’ll summon once more. And before its death, it’ll fire randomly.” Ye Xiu said.

“What a shameless BOSS! Level 26 and it’ll fire randomly.” Seven Fields said.

“Just concentrate on dodging and you’ll be fine. The final random firing has a high chance to crit. If a few hit, you’ll definitely die.” Ye Xiu said.

“How do we dodge the random firing.” Sleeping Moon raised a question.

“For you..... run a bit further away.” Ye Xiu replied.

“F*CK!”

Clearly, this situation was looking good. Highly skilled players could see that they could dispatch the Blood Gunner promptly. As a result, they all talked relaxedly. When the life hit five percent, the eight players once again left the aggro range. The Blood Gunner summoned a lone zombie, which was instantly smashed into mincemeat by them.

The Three Great Guild’s players, with their fangs bared and claws brandished, crept closer and closer. Ye Xiu received another message from Endless Night, who was still proudly saying: “Ha ha ha. Still fighting? You must have worked hard! It’d be better if you joined our guild’s group right now.”

Ye Xiu ignored him. At such a critical time, he had to concentrate on killing off the BOSS. This fact was everything.

The Three Great Guild’s players approached. But the Blood Gunner’s life still wasn’t low enough. Seven Fields and the others were a little worried. It looks like they’re out of time? After all, they weren’t as confident in their decision-making as Ye Xiu was.

“Cheng cheng cheng cheng.....”

It seemed as if they could already heard the sounds of the Three Great Guild’s gunners taking out their bullets and loading them.

“Scatter!!” Ye Xiu suddenly shouted.

Seven Fields and the others ran from the scene without looking back.

Seeing this scene, the Three Great Guild’s players subconsciously halted their footsteps.

“F*CK, AGAIN!?” Some shouted.

“How could he be so timely!” Some didn’t believe it.

“Troops, with me!!” Blue River said without fooling around. He transferred his group leader position to another party leader and brought the ten most elite players forward.

Tyrannical Ambition and Herb Garden also made the same decision. They all formed a ten player party. This way, even if the Blood Gunner turned Enraged again, it could only summon 30 monsters. They left some back-up that could eliminate the Undead Legion while killing the Blood Gunner.

The three teams all rushed forward madly. They were competing against each other to see who advanced the fastest. In this instant, they once again regarded the other players fighting the Blood Gunner as non-existent. This was a type of habit.

“Each group take out three players to kill off those guys.” Blue River yelled.

They could no longer let that party exist. Even if they didn’t kill them, they had to at least force them away, so the Blood Gunner could go into an off-combat state. Only then would the damage onto the BOSS be cleared.

As for Lord Grim, Blue River felt quite regretful. If they didn’t cooperate, then this situation wasn’t going to be easy to deal with. Blue River felt somewhat hesitant.

Tyrannical Ambition’s guild leader had already agreed and sent out three players from their party.

Blue River looked at Herb Garden’s side. The players were sent out, but he didn’t see Plantago Seed.

“Where’s Plantago Seed?” Blue River asked.

An Herb Garden player said extremely embarrassed: “Dead.”

“Dead?” Blue River was surprised. He followed with a loud laugh and laughed until his stomach hurt.

When the Undead Legion was instantly summoned, the situation had turned into chaos. Anyone dying wasn’t anything strange. But Plantago Seed’s skill wasn’t low. His equipment was unlikely to be bad and he at least should have been able to survive longer than most. But in the end, he still died. He could just imagine how helpless and lonely he was in that situation.

Blue River’s loud laugh made Herb Garden’s players all extremely depressed, but what made them even more depressed came later.

“What are you laughing at?” Tyrannical Ambition’s Cold Night asked.

“Plantago Seed died.” Blue River said.

“Really? Congratulations!” Cold Night didn’t bat an eyelid.

“Same to you! Same to you!” Blue River said.

Herb Garden’s players all coughed blood.

At this moment, the players that were closing in on the Blood Gunner heard Ye Xiu yell: “Be careful everyone!!”

Having heard the news of Plantago Seed’s death, Blue River’s mood was quite good and he laughed delightedly: “Don’t worry, brother. We can handle it.”

“Then that’s good.” Ye Xiu laughed.

“NOT GOOD!!!!” Thousand Creations suddenly yelled. This guy, who liked to kill steal, had a natural feeling for a monster’s life. At this moment, even though he hadn’t yet completely closed in on it, he had an ominous premonition.

“What’s wrong?” Blue River asked.

“Ya ya ya ya ya!!!!!!” The Blood Gunner once again began yelling and emanating a blood-red glow.

In addition, this time, it held a pose.

Horse stance. Its two hands crossed over its chest. His left hand supported the gun in his right hand.

“F*ck me, random firing!!!!” The experts all collapsed.

Random firing was unleashed.

The Blood Gunner never stopped shouting. The gun in its right hand changed into a blur of destruction. Countless bullets flew out in all directions at practically the same time. Although, in theory, the gun in its hands were a revolver, its chain firing was even faster than a machine gun. It also didn’t need to load. This was a skill!

The players of the Three Great Guild that rushed up all covered their heads and fled like rats. Three players died on the spot. They were too close. With such a high firing speed, they had no time to dodge. Squatting, lying down, twisting into an S shape, regardless of their form, everyone was just trying to survive.

But the person who bore the brunt of the impact was Lord Grim. However, when everyone looked, all they saw was a cloud of light smoke.

It was the Shadow Clone Technique again.

But this time, the real body didn’t appear in any spot within 360 degrees around the BOSS. He appeared overhead in the sky.

Lord Grim dropped down and used the Fighter skill Eagle Stamp, stepping on the Blood Gunner’s head.

One foot, two foot.

The battle lance soared out. A mid-air Circle Swing!

Although the Blood Gunner was in a Super Armor state when he randomly fired, Circle Swing was a skill that ignored Super Armor.

The battle lance swung the Blood Gunner around, drawing a 270 degree arc.

Lord Grim fell to the ground. His two hands smashed the ground with his battle lance and the Blood Gunner was pressed under the lance.

The random firing stopped. The three guild’s players felt as if they had taken back their life. Meanwhile, Lord Grim had already used a Sky Strike, Dragon Tooth, and a Falling Flower Palm.

The Blood Gunner finally yelled out its final desperate cry.

System Announcement: Seven Fields, Lord Grim, Steamed Bun Invasion, Grazing Fire, Bright Mushroom, Sleeping Moon, Drifting Water, Immersed Jade have completed the Blood Gunner's first kill!

The faces of the Three Great Guild's players all turned deathly pale. Ye Xiu quickly sent a message to the party: "Give me the Blood Rifle. You guys can have the rest!"

Chapter 69 – Keep Chasing And I Won't Be So Nice Anymore

"WAH!!!" Ye Xiu still didn't know whether he had gotten his Blood Rifle yet, when he heard a sudden explosion of gasps erupt from around him. Even Chen Guo, who was concentrating on playing Whack-a-Mole, was startled by these gasps.

Many guests in the Happy Internet Cafe all stood up and all headed towards a certain direction. There were even quite a few who threw down their games and ran over.

"What happened? What happened?" Chen Guo jumped out from the reception desk and headed towards that direction while asking.

"Lord Grim completed another first kill." A guest said excitedly.

"Why are you so excited for him!" Chen Guo was speechless and asked: "What did he first kill?"

"Blood Gunner!!" The other side said.

Wild BOSS! Chen Guo was astonished. This thing was even harder to first kill than dungeons. She had once seen the process of hunting a wild BOSS. Each big guild fought until smoke filled the air. While they attacked the BOSS, they also plotted against each other. The people watching couldn't tell if it was a BOSS hunt or a guild war. In this sort of major event, ordinary guilds had no qualifications to participate. Going up was a death sentence. Players without guilds even more so.

Although the Blood Gunner was a low-leveled BOSS, this was a representation of the guild's grade and had nothing to do with low-leveled or high-leveled.

Chen Guo followed after a crowd of people rushing toward Ye Xiu's computer. But when they arrived, everyone heard Ye Xiu yell out: "Run run run! Hurry and run!!"

Hushing sounds. With the way he was yelling, it seemed like there was something wrong! It looked like there were quite some problems grabbing the first kill.

In the end, a few tenth server players found a bit of information on the situation and gathered it together to gossip with everyone: "I heard he stole it right from under the Three Great Guild's noses."

"D*mn, so amazing?" Everyone was amazed and suddenly felt that his shout "Run run run" was nothing. It didn't affect how they perceived him as the embodiment of bravery and wisdom.

Everyone stared at Ye Xiu's screen and saw his character running for his life. From time to time, Lord Grim would turn his head and look back. As a result, everyone saw a large army of chasing soldiers; these were the Three Great Guild's players.

"Stealing the BOSS really isn't easy!!" Everyone bitterly said.

“Do we have anyone here from the tenth server’s Three Great Guilds?” Someone suddenly asked around in interest.

No one said anything.

“They’d probably be furious!” Some made fun of them.

“Lady Boss, go look and see if anyone’s fainted in front of his computer. Call 911!” Seeing Chen Guo, they joked around.

Chen Guo didn’t utter a word. Many others didn’t utter a word either. These people all stared at the screen not saying a word. They wanted to know whether Ye Xiu could escape from the danger or not. It wasn’t so easy to get away from the Three Great Guilds. He was only Level 20 yet he had already offended all Three Great Guilds in one move. Some people didn’t think of him as brave or wise. They thought of him as a complete idiot.....

What would happen to the idiot? That’s what they wanted to know.

Chen Guo? She was perhaps the only one who was simply there for the excitement. Seeing Ye Xiu madly hitting his keyboard to run away. She felt a little worried for him.

“You guys run first. I’ll hold them off!” Suddenly, everyone saw Ye Xiu swiftly type this out in the party channel.

“Wah, a true man!!” Everyone praised him. Through Ye Xiu’s screen, they could all see Ye Xiu’s teammates. The eight of them were all faster than him by a wide margin. They had no idea how this situation was brought about.

Lord Grim turned around and four players just happened to reach his back. His battle lance swepted across. The four players clear didn’t anticipate that Lord Grim would suddenly stop to attack. None of them could avoid this.

Lord Grim immediately followed up with a short leap. He pulled out a sword in mid-air and slashed downwards. Falling Light Blade’s shock wave hit the four players.

“He moves so quickly!!” A few spectators cried out in alarm. Falling Light Blade could only be used in the air. Lord Grim didn’t jump high, so when this skill was used, it didn’t look like the blade “fell”.

Of the four players, three fell to the ground. The other player successfully used a Quick Recover and rolled forward. While he got up, he executed a Sky Strike.

Thousand Creations!

This guy deserved to be called an expert-level character. Although Quick Recover was considered a basic skill, it wasn’t easy to fully grasp. In that instant, it’s not that the three other players didn’t think of using Quick Recover, it was just that Lord Grim’s Falling Light Blade was too quick, or they missed the timing, so they evidently lost.

Only Thousand Creations was left. Not only did he successfully quick recover, he also counter attacked.

But before the Sky Strike was completed, Lord Grim kicked him to the ground.

Interrupt Attack!

◦

Interrupt was a type of priority attack. Chain hits, aerial attacks, back attacks, these were all priority attacks too.

Interrupt, as the name implies, interrupted the opponent's attack.

When Thousand Creations tried to use Sky Strike, Lord Grim used Punisher to interrupt it, forming an Interrupt Attack.

“Ha ha ha ha.....” When the gun fire shot out, the spectators behind Ye Xiu all laughed at Thousand Creations.

But those with skill didn't laugh.

To be able to Quick Recover from that sort of Falling Light Blade. This Thousand Creations was very skilled. The Sky Strike after the forward roll was already the fastest counterattack possible. But he was still interrupted. This Lord Grim's skill was even higher.

If they were in his place, what would happen? Many players who thought of this, weren't able to laugh.

The four players, who were defeated in the blink of an eye, were all Battle Mages. This could be seen from their Neutral Chasers' increased movement speed that allowed them to be in front of everyone else. If not, then as new characters in the new server, they didn't yet have equipment with these added properties, so their movement speed would have all been the same.

Although the four players were on the ground, Lord Grim didn't have the chance to kill them. Everyone could clearly see that at this moment, Lord Grim was completely out of mana.

“If you keep chasing, then I won't be so nice anymore!” Lord Grim suddenly crouched. It looked as if he were saying this into Thousand Creation's ear. Everyone heard Ye Xiu say this.

The spectators sniggered. This was a bluff! He had no mana and was trying to scare them.

Lord Grim got up and continued running. The spectators were all anxious. They all wanted to know whether those four players were chasing him again, but Lord Grim wouldn't turn his head! Everyone knew that Ye Xiu wore headphones and could hear the footsteps behind him. Seeing him so calm, they supposed that the pursuers really had been scared stiff.

How could they not have been scared stiff? Lord Grim was so strong. These pursuers understood this better than any of the Internet Cafe spectators. Three players had been easily knocked down. The highly-skilled Thousand Creations, who tried to counterattack, was also knocked to the ground. Continuing to chase him was the same as running to their deaths. They could only wait for the others to catch up.

“Did you catch up?” Blue River messaged them.

Thousand Creations gloomily replied: “We caught up, but we couldn't beat him.”

“Then..... retreat back!” Blue River messaged.

Thousand Creations watched as Lord Grim ran farther and farther away. He didn't move. The other three of the same class also reacted in roughly the same way.

Chapter 70 – Copy Upgrade

In the end, the Three Great Guilds stopped chasing him. After heaving a sigh of relief, Ye Xiu took off his headphones and turned around. He had already felt the liveliness from the crowd of people behind him long ago.

“Brother, you're awesome!!” Everyone praised.

Ye Xiu laughed: “Lucky, lucky.”

“What did it drop?” Someone asked curiously.

“I got a Blood Rifle.” Ye Xiu said. When Ye Xiu saw that this item dropped, he immediately clicked on it. Seven Fields and the others saw this and took note of it. They obviously wouldn't compete for it with brother expert. But the question was, what about those three noobs?

In Glory, equipment didn't have any bindings. Even if you couldn't use an equipment, you could still take it and sell it. As a result, in random parties, dungeons were always a mess. If you had demands for equipment, random parties weren't a good choice. If you had demands, then it'd be better to look for a guild or friends. Forming a party this way would give you priority for your class's equipment. Random parties were for gaining experience and making money.

As a result, after hearing Ye Xiu's demands, although Seven Fields and them didn't roll for it, they didn't renounce it. They had to see what those three strangers were going to do. If any of those three rolled for it. Then they would also roll for it and help brother expert get the item. They had more people, so they had a higher chance of winning it.

But in reality, they were too suspicious. Those three players swiftly renounced the Blood Rifle. After Seven Fields and the others renounced it too, the Blood Rifle fell into Lord Grim's inventory.

They didn't have time to carefully examine the other items. Brother expert kept urging them to “Run run run”. Everyone just randomly rolled. They didn't even know who got what.

They were still extremely happy with getting equipment that dropped from a wild BOSS that only respawned three times every week. Just then, it had dropped four pieces of Blue equipment, all Level 25. Actually, their luck wasn't that good. If it was, they would have had a chance to obtain a Purple equipment from the wild BOSS.

In comparison, the first kill made them feel more wonderful. Seeing how those players of the Three Great Guilds were going insane from rage, how could they be in that state because they stole away four Blue equipment? Seven Fields and the others constantly admired their names on the leaderboards. They were so happy that they couldn't stop smiling.

And Ye Xiu, he also had many people standing around him and watching. But at this moment, he said a few words to free himself from the crowd. Everyone else wasn't very familiar with him. After casually chatting for a bit, they saw that there wasn't anything else really interesting, so they dispersed. Only Chen Guo still stood there.

“Boss.....” Ye Xiu greeted her. Looking at the time, he immediately logged out of the computer: “I’ll be going to the reception desk.” It was almost 11, it time for him to take over for the night shift.

Seeing Ye Xiu like this, Chen Guo felt too ashamed to say that she wasn’t here to call him for the shift, but rather to see what all the noise was.

11 o’clock. The Internet Cafe emptied out all of a sudden. Quite a few people, who had just been spectating Ye Xiu, quickly left. Although the enthusiasm for Glory’s new server was still there, many guests had studying or work to do, so there would never be too many idlers that played games all night.

Due to the employees handing over their shifts and leaving, Chen Guo felt that the Internet Cafe became even emptier. Only Ye Xiu sat at the reception desk, sitting there all alone. Chen Guo went over to look and this guy had already entered the game again. He truly was exceptionally disdainful. Besides sleeping and eating, this guy only knew how to play games all day long.

While Chen Guo derided him, she headed to a different part of the Internet Cafe. She took a look and Tang Rou was still in front of the computer, concentrated on playing the game. The screen suddenly flashed in front of her face, but Tang Rou didn’t even blink.

Chen Guo went up and saw Tang Rou was still focused on her task at hand. This girl was fairly unfortunate. She happened to play at the peak period of player activity. Completing quests was exhausting. Now that there were fewer players online, the situation improved a bit, making completing quests more fun.

Chen Guo patted her. Tang Rou turned her head and faced Chen Guo, asking in a loud voice: “What are you doing?”

Chen Guo pulled off her headphones: “It’s 11 o’clock.”

“What? It’s 11 already? I didn’t know at all!” Tang Rou was astonished.

“What level?” Chen Guo asked.

“Level 6.” Because she was playing during the peak time, Tang Rou really did level slowly.

“You’re still not going to sleep?” Chen Guo said.

“You go first! I’ll wait a bit.” Tang Rou put on her headphones again and returned to the game world.

“Then I’ll be going first. Sleep early.” Chen Guo said, but Tang Rou didn’t respond. Clearly, after putting on her headphones, she could no longer hear Chen Guo’s words. Chen Guo left while feeling at a loss. She had originally been the Internet Cafe’s craziest fan for Glory. Once Ye Xiu came and Tang Rou was brought along, seeing how these two were playing with insane energy, was she no longer as enthusiastic for it? While Chen Guo thought about this, she first returned to the second floor to rest.

There really weren’t any people just idling about. Everyone sat at their station and focused on playing.

After Ye Xiu re-entered the game, Seven Fields and the others immediately asked questions. Seeing that brother expert suddenly went offline, they all thought something bad happened to him.

“It’s nothing. I’m quite good. But you guys also need to be careful.” Ye Xiu replied to everyone.

“Don’t worry about it!” Seven Fields and the others disdained as if it were beneath their contempt. Their strength of character was closely related to Ye Xiu. Before, they had regarded the Three Great Guilds as gods and worshiped them. But after mixing in with Ye Xiu a few times, they found out that their initial scope was too narrow. Compared to brother expert, how could they be considered gods? Now, they had also successfully followed brother expert in stealing the BOSS from the Three Great Guilds. These guys even felt dignified enough to put these Three Great Guilds under their feet. The delight in their hearts far surpassed their worries.

As for Immersed Jade, Steamed Bun Invasion, those other guys, these noobs had no idea what their gains and losses were. Though when they split the equipment just a moment ago, they felt extremely happy.

“I’m going back to town.” Ye Xiu informed everyone.

“Oh oh. See you later brother expert.” Everyone replied hurriedly.

“Everyone be careful.” Ye Xiu once again reminded them. Lord Grim ran back to Bulls. The small town was a safe zone. He couldn’t receive any attacks there, so he felt at ease putting Lord Grim aside and opened the equipment editor. He put in the Blood Rifle that he just obtained into the editor.

In these two days, he had easily gathered quite a few materials. The Thousand Chance Umbrella had several parts that could be upgraded. After opening the blueprint, from the opened umbrella form, Ye Xiu began carefully dismantling the umbrella canopy. The umbrella canopy had a total of eight parts. The umbrella ribs linked them together to form a whole canopy.

He randomly chose a canopy part and put it into the copy template. On another side, he opened up the material library and clicked on five Strong Spider Silk.

The copying started. After the progress bar finished, the five Strong Spider Silk transformed into the umbrella canopy’s appearance. Soon after, he copied it another seven times. Eight Strong Spider Silk were weaved into umbrella canopy parts.

The new canopy was put together. The gun and hidden sword parts were next.

The umbrella pole was dismantled. It was divided into two parts: the pole and the hidden sword in the pole. Both parts were put into the copy template.

In copying the pole, he added in the Blood Rifle and the Skeleton Warrior’s Saber Sheath.

The hidden sword used the Skeleton Warrior’s Saber.

He clicked copy. After it finished, he carefully reassembled the Thousand Chance Umbrella.

Ye Xiu worked extremely meticulously the entire time. But it didn’t look too difficult. Apart from the dismantling and reassembling of the umbrella, all he did was click around and press copy.

But if he didn’t have the Thousand Chance Umbrella’s original template, then how could there be a copy function?