

These two men are monsters! The Moore family's trump card was destroyed by them in seconds! That's unbelievable, but it happened right in front of us! If his subordinate himself is so strong, what about Zeke himself? He must be absurdly strong!

Xander's hands were trembling in fear. His ace-in-the-hole had been mercilessly destroyed by his opponent. He will surely find it difficult to find protection for himself in such a short period of time. Even if he managed to call in reinforcements, they would be useless against his two opponents.

In other words, he was completely at Zeke's mercy!

He was soon overwhelmed by a strong sense of fear and even forgot that his father's corpse was now exposed to the elements.

Zeke instructed Sole Wolf, "Sole Wolf, wait right here! This old bastard killed my buddy, so I'll let him rot in the open for seven days and burn his corpse during my buddy's death anniversary! Kill anyone who dares to cover up his casket!"

Sole Wolf grunted, "Roger that!"

He placed the cover of the coffin on the ground and sat on it, shooting the crowd a threatening glare."

Zeke glared at Xander, "You'd better remember this well. In seven days, during the death anniversary of my buddy, I'll get you and the other three heads of the four major families in Atheville to carry his coffin for a reburial! After that, you'll all commit suicide as an apology. I'll murder your entire family if you dare to flee!"

What an outrageous tone! He demands the heads of the four major households to carry the casket of a soldier who fled in battle and even threatens to kill their entire families!

However, none of them dared raise their voice in complaint when faced with his indomitable strength.

Just as Zeke was about to leave, his phone rang. It was Mia calling.

He quickly answered the call.

Mia was on the verge of tears as she asked, "Mr. Williams, where are you? Something horrible has happened. Ms. Hinton has disappeared!"

What?

Zeke's hands started to tremble. "When did this happen? What happened? Tell me, starting from the beginning."

Mia hurriedly explained the situation to Zeke.

He burst into a rage after. “Damn it! There are so many of you there, but you couldn’t even take care of Lacey properly? Did you call her?”

Mia stammered, “W-We did, but there was no response.”

Zeke spat, “Argh! Find her at all costs! I don’t care if I have to turn this entire city inside out looking for her! Channel all resources to finding her!”

After hanging up on Mia, he proceeded to dial Lacey’s number.

There was no response.

“Wait, isn’t this... Lacey’s ringtone?” Zeke muttered to himself when he heard Lacey’s ringtone nearby.

The moment he hung up, the ringing stopped.

When he redialed the number, the ringing started once again.

Lacey must be nearby!

He scanned the area but could not find Lacey anywhere.

He knew it would be impossible to find her with his eyes, so he closed them and focused on listening out for the ringtone instead.

Chapter 814 A Warning From Zeke

The ringtone was so soft that normal people would not be able to pick it up. Zeke himself could barely discern it even though he had gone through special training.

He ordered, "All of you, shut up! I'll kill whoever dares make a sound!"

The crowd immediately held their breaths. No one dared make a sound after hearing his threat.

Zeke continued to track the source of ringing and arrived at the casket Xander had ordered to be carried over.

Don't tell me...

A horrifying thought formed in his mind. He hurriedly placed his ear against the coffin and the ringtone became even clearer.

Zeke flung the cover aside to see Lacey lying in the coffin.

She did not move at all and had a calm expression, with only her phone ringing incessantly, as though it was urging someone to save its owner.

Zeke felt a wrench in his heart. If she's really dead, I will have no reason to continue living.

His finger slowly inched to feel for her breathing.

Thankfully, her breathing and heartbeat were both normal. She had likely been drugged, but it was nothing life-threatening.

Why was Lacey thrown into a coffin and brought here?

He bellowed, "Tell me who brought this coffin here!"

The crowd fell silent; Xander did not admit it.

From Zeke's expression, it was clear that he was closely acquainted with the woman in the coffin.

Admitting he had ordered this would be a suicidal move on Xander's part!

Zeke scoffed, "Very well. I have my own ways of finding out."

He grabbed someone from the casket company

by the collar and interrogated, "Tell me who ordered you to bring this coffin here."

"I-I don't know..." The man replied. He did not dare tell him the truth.

Crack!

Zeke snapped his neck, and blood began to flow from his eyes, ears, mouth, and nose.

He then turned to the next man. "Do you want to tell me the truth or end up like the man before you?"

With his life at stake, that man did not dare to hide the facts and wailed, "It was Xander! Xander ordered us to do it!"

Zeke inquired, "Oh? Then why's there a woman in the casket?"

The man answered, "Xander wanted to conduct an underworld marriage for his father and offer this woman as a living sacrifice!"

Zeke placed the man down gently. He did not show a major change in expression, but his world was turned inside out at that moment.

How dare he! Xander tried to bury Lacey alive! He wanted to bury her alive!

Zeke could not even begin to imagine the despair Lacey would go through when she awakened and found out that she had been buried alive.

When Zeke heard that Xander had married Sage during his father's death anniversary, he had long suspected the man of wanting to kill his bride and offer her as a living sacrifice.

He had not expected him to try it on Lacey when he failed to do it to Sage!

He slowly strode towards Xander.

Xander was scared out of his wits and stuttered, "W-What do you want? Let me warn you that we live in a lawful society! Y-You'll have to pay the price for breaking the law!"

Zeke chuckled. "Don't worry, I'm just here to tell you that you no longer have to participate in my buddy's reburial that will happen in seven days."

Xander was perplexed. "Huh?"

He can't be letting me off so easily!

Zeke continued, "Because today, you'll be dead! You seem to be obsessed with burying people alive. Well, no problem! I'll grant you your wish!"

He grabbed Xander by the collar and lifted him off the ground.

Xander was filled with shock, and he yelled, "Call the police! Quickly!"

Zeke threatened, "I'd like to see you try!"

No one dared challenge this authoritative statement.

Zeke headed to the pit meant for Lacey to be buried in and threw him in. He commanded, "Sole Wolf, send him to meet his father."

"Alright!" Sole Wolf replied as he grabbed a shovel.

Xander's screams pierced the air, "Help! Save me! Mum, save me, quick, save me!"

His mother was on the verge of breaking down.
