Chapter 1021 i Can Provide Evidence

At that moment, Angela could barely breathe. She held her breath, not wanting to miss a single word of what her mother was about to say.

She had a microphone in her hands now, and everyone could hear what she was saying.

“First of all, my brother-in-law was not really in good health. You could check out the medical records in the hospital. I have prepared a copy of it today. Your honor, you must read it.”

As she spoke, Martha opened her bag, revealing a stack of medical records to everyone.

The judge’s assistant came over, took over the papers and delivered them to the judge.

When the judge was reading the medical records, Martha added, “His condition was deteriorating day by day. Every single day, he felt excruciatingly tormented. He was the one who begged us to end his life and free his soul. That was why I poisoned his food. My brother-in-law was fully informed.”

Gloria was not the only one feeling bad. Irene and Nydia were both mad at this moment.

Nydia, especially, found it hard to contain herself. “Bullshit! That’s bullshit! Did she even listen to herself when she said this? All these years, she has been so harsh to Gloria. She even thought about taking over what belongs to Gloria. Even the recording she played could mean completely different. How could she use this as evidence to prove anything?!”

Feeling that she spoke too loudly, Irene grabbed her hand and said, "Calm down."

Nydia was soon aware of her poor manner. She took a deep breath and subdued her urge to curse them in front of everyone while deep down, she could not help but swear at them.

Damn you, Claude White! Damn you, Martha Hunter! Damn you, Angela White!

The recording ended, and Martha looked sad. "I didn't expect things to turn out this way. I could understand if Gloria got me wrong, but I have to tell the truth. I feel sorry for Gloria. I am willing to face whatever penalty it would be for murdering my own brother-in-law."

She didn't finish what she said, but Irene understood.

A while ago, Claude just spent $2 billion on Gloria to crack the secrets of the White Group, and they didn't even donate a penny!

But now!

Where the hell did it come from?!

Nydia's eyes were filled with puzzlement.

Martha, on the other hand, took a deep breath and said again, "That's all I wanna say."

When she finished, the whole hall fell silent.

The judge was leafing through the files, and everyone was kind of waiting for the final result. Behind her, her daughter's heart-wrenching cries could still be heard, but Martha did not look back. It would only make it hard for her to leave with the bailiff.

Martha turned her head to the other side, closed her eyes and held back the tears.

Angela froze there, her gaze followed as her mother left with the bailiffs sadly. Tears once again poured down. It was all Gloria White's fault!

All because of this bi*ch!

No matter how sullen Nydia might sound right now, there was nothing she could do about Martha. After a second of pause, she spoke up again, "Obviously, this family of three is involved in it. Not only did Claude and Angela get away with it, but also Martha sought to get acquitted of the charge!!!"

Jennifer gnashed her teeth, "I didn't expect it to be like this. Gloria... What are you going to do?"

They had been talking and chatting, giving Gloria no chance to speak. Now, as Jennifer asked, they all turned to look at Gloria who had been driving silently.

Gloria pursed her lips and said, "It's better this way. I don't want Martha to die, not yet. What fun will it be for her to be sentenced to death right now?"

With them being carried out, our income earned won't be worse than Collins Group. It would be my pleasure to share it with you. Claude took a deep breath and regained his composure. But the next moment his phone started ringing.
When he saw the caller ID, Claude's brow frowned slightly. He looked around consciously and found that he was all by himself. Claude hesitated and put it through.

"What are you doing?" a womanish voice mixed with some dissatisfaction came through.

Claude frowned and said, "Why are you calling me now?"

The woman snorted, and the next moment she said in a sobbing tone, "I miss you. You haven't come here for quite a while. Don't you miss our daughter?"

"Honey, come on. Daddy's on the phone."

"Er? Is Daddy coming to see me? Where is Daddy!!" Claude felt his heart melt at that moment as a

The villa was the only property Claude had as the ownership belonged to the third woman.

At this moment, he felt a little glad that he bought her a villa, otherwise, this villa will be taken away by Gloria as well.

Lyer fixed her eyes on Claude. When she saw the deep frown on his face, she patted her daughter's cheek and said, "Enough, sweetheart, give daddy a break. Go back to the room and take a bath now.
