Chapter 161

Chapter 161 Who is setting Who up?

Nydia's father's legs were shaking! Nydia, can you stop talking?

But Karen was glad to see Nydia scold Angela. If he stopped Nydia, he would only offend the Collins family completely!

Angela shook her head in a panic, "No! I didn't! I thought that Gloria would send other things besides this jade bracelet! So I prepared more. I was not trying to steal her thunder!"

Nydia sneered, This is what you called you two always thought the same! Your explanation is so lame!"

Karen was really angry, but she still suppressing her anger and said, gritting her teeth, 'You are Jordy's lifesaver, so I won't blame you for this, but if you really want me 10 live longer, don't come to my birthday party again, because every time I see you, I will think of how you stabbed me in the heart!"

Angela took a sudden breath and staggered for several steps. She shook her head as her tears streamed down, "No... no, grandma, I really didn't know."

She shook her head with grievances Lillian was already dumbfounded and didn't know what to say

"You are right. You didn't know anything. I misunderstood you, but just do me this favor. Don't appear in front of me again, OK? Please."

With that, Karen suddenly covered her heart, and fell back on her chair all of a sudden!

Gloria was shocked, "Grandma!"

Jordy immediately supported Karen The coldness in his eyes was replaced by worry.

Gloria! Good! Good for you!

Joseph turned pale! He stood up quickly. "Karen!"

"Mom!" Olivia also rushed over, and even some guests quickly came forward. All of the people here looked extremely worried.

Gloria immediately grabbed Karen's wrist with a grave look.

The next moment, Karen took a light breath and slowly sat straight, "I'm okay. Don't worry."

Karen sat straight again, and the people in the Collins family breathed a sigh of relief.

Gloria looked at Angela, 'Angela, you are the lifesaver of the Collins family. No one can blame you, but grandma almost fainted. Can you leave here? Please. I'll come to you to apologize to you. You can do whatever you want to me, okay?

Angela's heart ached in rage!

Gloria!

She even wanted to kill her now!

But once she left, she would lose the chance to vindicate herself, but if she didn't, how should she do that?

Now all the evidence was in favor of Gloria. She couldn't explain, and everyone looked at her with a suspicious look!

What should she do?

Karen took a deep breath, "Gloria, take me to the back."

Gloria quickly got up, supported Karen, who was suddenly older, and walked to the back with her.

After this small incident, the atmosphere at the party was stranger.

When the two of them passed Angela, Angela was still crying in panic, 'Grandma...'

She looked at Karen with tears in her eyes, and her voice was filled with grievances, but Karen didn't even look at her, but walked directly past her.

Gloria looked at Angela with distress. Then she shook her head and motioned her to leave.

Everyone saw this scene and immediately felt that... Gloria did care about Angela.

But some people felt that this incident

George frowned slightly, looking at Carlos, "Who is setting who up?"

Chapter 162 He Has Come Back to Me?

"The punishment is skillfully given by one and gladly accepted by another." Carlos, who had been keeping silent, said in a faint voice.

George understood in an instant, and said with a smirk, "You can't say that. She deserved it."

At this moment, Gloria had helped Karen to the lounge. Looking at Karen who was sitting on the chair in agony. she slowly sat beside her and whispered, "Grandma, I know that you are sad on this day of every year, but... It has been so many years, and you still can't get over 11?"

Karen's heart trembled violently. She raised her head and looked at Gloria, 'I can't get over it in my whole life. You didn't go through it, and you won't understand...'

Before she finished speaking, Gloria suddenly grabbed her hand and said solemnly, "Grandma, do you know why I insisted on going up the mountain and kneeled for so long to get this jade toad for you?"

Karen froze, and Gloria continued, "Because I hope you can live a peaceful life and be long-lived."

Karen sighed softly, 'Good girl, I've lived a long life and won't have regrets if I die I only worry about you... Good girl Gloria grabbed her hand tightly, "Grandma, in this world, only you are the best to me. My dad has died. You are my only family Are you also leaving me?"

Although grandma looked healthy, her internal organs were getting old and weak, which was because she was depressed if this went on, she might die before her next birthday That was why Gloria took risks this time.

She knew that she shouldn't have done this without discussing it with the Collins family, but she was afraid that grandma would really die. She didn't want her to leave this world so early. This world was so beautiful, and she and grandpa loved each other so deeply and had so many children and grandchildren Each of them was very filial to her, and grandma already had a very happy life. She didn't want her to die so early And she had a selfish motive. If grandma died, she was afraid that her world would collapse. Grandma was the only faith that was supporting her.

Although the two of them were not related by blood, grandma regarded her as her own granddaughter over the past three years.

"Grandma... Leave It behind, okay? Please."

Karen looked at Gloria with a touched look. Seeing that Gloria suddenly squatted in front of her, she raised a hand and caressed her cheek with tears in her eyes.

"Good girl, how can I leave you behind? She was like soothing Gloria But Gloria didn't believe it at all. She shook her head, "Grandma, do you believe that luck that brought people together will never disappear?"

Karen looked puzzled, "What do you mean?"

Gloria sighed softly, 'In fact, after I went to Temple Lucius, I talked to the abbot about your obsession. He was a great master, so I wanted him to solve my doubts. He told me that luck brought people together would not disappear so early and that what you lost had already returned to you.'

Karen looked stunned and said in a trembling voice, "He has returned to me?"

Gloria nodded, "Yes, he has come back to you."

Karen looked confused, and Gloria took a light breath.

Chapter 163 Isn't That Good?

Gloria looked up at Karen, "Grandma, Jordy... is back."

Karen looked shocked, "You..."

The next moment, Karen shook her head helplessly and sighed, 'I know you want to comfort me, so you made up such a lie, but many times...' Before she finished speaking, Gloria said firmly. "Grandma, you know the identity of the abbot of Temple Lucius. He never deceives people. You know, monks never lie. You might not believe me, but you must believe him. You can go to Temple Lucius with me tomorrow to meet the abbot and talk to him. What do you think?"

Temple Lucius was divine and influential.

Karen suddenly looked at Gloria in disbelief, "Gloria, you..."

Gloria smiled, "Grandma, let's meet the abbot, and then you will know that he might not have a chance to be your son, but he could be your grandson!"

Karen's heart seemed to have stopped bleeding, but a trace of hope rose in her heart, "Gloria, are you telling the truth?"

"Yes! Gloria's voice was firm, and her eyes were very sincere

Karen suddenly smiled, "I used to have a dream. In the dream, the child told me that he didn't leave but was always by my side. He told me to feel it with my heart. So, it's true! He has become my grandson!"

Gloria smiled, 'Yes, he's always around you!'

Gloria was guilty. Although the abbot of Temple Lucius never lied, he wouldn't watch a person die. There was greater merit in saving one life than in building a seven-tier pagoda. Besides, it was just a white lie. The abbot was naturally willing to tell such a lie.

"Okay, okay! We will go to see the abbot tomorrow!"

Seeing that grandma had restored her hope, Gloria immediately said with a smile, "Okay!"

If grandma had always been hale and hearty, she wouldn't deceive her with such a lie, but in order to help her live longer, she could only make such an unwise decision, because her obsession could only be solved in this way.

Karen seemed to be in a better mood. Gloria smiled, "Grandma, don't be sad for those jade bracelets anymore, okay? It was just a coincidence. If there was anything else, little uncle would also swallow it."

Karen sighed helplessly, 'I know. I just hated myself. Why did I wear that jade bracelet, alas...'

Gloria grabbed her hand tightly, "Grandma, he's still around! He just appeared in a new way. You and grandpa have a good upbringing, and this might be a good thing for you.”

Karen was puzzled, ‘What do you mean?’

Gloria smiled, “Grandma, sometimes having a lot of children is not a good thing. If a person has a lot of children, some of them might be good and some of them might be bad. Well, I’m just giving an example Don’t get me wrong. If dad and uncle both grow up, and one of them is bewitched by something, they might fight both with open and secret means. As their mother, won’t you feel worried?”

“But now the situation is different. Uncle is reborn and has become dad’s son. They won’t fight for anything anymore, and they don’t have to guard against each other for interests. It’s good, isn’t it?”

Chapter 164 Favorite Poached Eggs

Karen’s eyebrows twitched, ‘You’re right, but I feel this thing is unbelievable...’
Grandma was a theist.

That was why Gloria dared to talk to her like this.

Otherwise, others would only think that she was lying.

“Grandma, there are all kinds of wonders in this world. You should trust the abbot!”
‘Master Void is a great abbot. We’ll meet him tomorrow and see if he is free.’

Gloria nodded with a smile, “Well... grandma, today is your birthday, and Jordy is still waiting for you to go back. Are you not going to finish celebrating your birthday? There are so many guests out there.”

At this moment, Gloria was much more relaxed, and she was really happy, because she did this!

Grandma’s obsession would be dispelled soon

“Okay, let’s go back Karen obviously felt much better, and she suddenly wanted to see her grandson again

Then Gloria helped her out The guests were surprised to see that Karen came out with a smile. Her anger and fatigue had already gone.

Many people were surprised Karen became so happy? What did Gloria say?

Even Jordy rested his eyes on Gloria.

Olivia frowned slightly with surprise in her eyes

Karen didn’t sit down immediately, but looked at the crowd with a smile, ‘I apologize for what just happened. It was something that I have been unable to get over for so many years. Angela did nothing wrong Oh, where is she?"

Olivia hurriedly said, "She is afraid to make you sad, so she has left:

A mocking look flashed across Gloria's eyes. It would be the wisest choice to leave, otherwise, she would only be more embarrassed,

Karen sighed helplessly, 'Forget it. I guess you guys might know what kind of obsession I have. When my little son was just one year old, he broke a jade bracelet of mine. Then he picked up the fragment from the ground and swallowed it. I didn't know it... It was already late when we found that...'

Karen choked on sobs. Gloria quickly held her hand, "Grandma, uncle is always around you!"

Karen quickly nodded and glanced in Jordy's direction.

Jordy frowned slightly with a puzzled look. He looked at Gloria, but found that she was just looking at the crowd with a smile, "I hope you can forgive my grandma for her gaffe. It was something that she never got over in her life. She has never celebrated her birthday these years, because the day uncle died was her birthday. Now, she has left that behind and such a thing won't happen again. Please continue to enjoy yourselves."

"It's okay! We know her feelings. Mrs. Collins, Miss White is right. No matter when your son will always be around you. He will never forget that he has a great mother!"

Joseph glanced at Gloria in surprise. Then he got up and walked to Karen, "Come on, I made you birthday noodles myself. Eat it. There's your favorite poached egg.

Karen's heart trembled again. When the two of them started from scratch, they were poor, but on her birthday. no matter how busy Joseph was, he would come back and cook for her in person, and make her favorite poached egg.

Chapter 165 Hard Stone

A louché look appeared in Karen's eyes, Joseph.."

She thought that he had forgotten their old days,

Joseph sighed, "Come on, see if it's as delicious as belong."

Gloria smiled and watched Joseph take Karen to the table.

She glanced at the people around her, and Lillian was still here and wasn't as arrogant as before,

Then Gloria looked at Nydia who was holding her glass, eating and drinking with her friends,

The party was already enjoyable.

But Jordy suddenly looked at her, "Come with me.'

With that, he headed outside

Gloria frowned slightly. Although she didn't want to talk to him, she needed to tell him what had just happened, in case grandma would find any flaws. So, she followed him out

Many people saw this divorced couple go out together, and then they had stronger doubts.

Jordy never looked back because he heard Gloria's footsteps behind him, He didn't stop until there was no one around and he left the monitoring area. He turned and looked at her

His pupils contracted Somehow, he felt that she was extremely far away.

Gloria knew why Jordy wanted to talk to her alone. She didn't want to waste breath or time on him. She got to the point directly

"I have talked to the abbot of Temple Lucius. Master Void is willing to help me. You know grandma's condition. If we don't deceive her, she might not hold on to the next year."

Jordy didn't satirize her but said with a complicated look, "So?"

He misunderstood Gloria. She deliberately induced Angela to buy bracelets of that style to dispel grandma's obsession

Gloria smiled, "Tomorrow, I will take grandma to Temple Lucius to see Master Void. He will tell grandma that her youngest son has not left her, but has been reincarnated."

Jordy immediately frowned. When grandma came out just now. Gloria said that her little son had been around her all the time, and then grandma looked at him,

Jordy laughed angrily, 'So you told grandma that I was her reincarnated son?'

Gloria looked at him and said in a serious tone, "This is what you should do. You have to playact it with me."

Jordy was speechless.

He gritted his teeth. He could playact with her, but he hated being manipulated by others, especially Gloria!

He hated her so much!

Jordy kept silent Gloria raised an eyebrow, "I'll take it as you've agreed. I'm going back now.'

With that, she turned and left. Maybe she was in a hurry. She twisted her ankle. Before she responded, she spun and fell into Jordy's arms.

Jordy's heartbeat suddenly raced.

Gloria stood still and her expression changed. Her heart seemed to be suddenly lifted, "What are you doing?"

She struggled to push him away, but Jordy held her tightly and looked at her coldly, "Gloria, since our divorce, you have been doing those things to attract my attention, right? You want me to fall in love with you?"

A shocked look flashed across Gloria's eyes, but the next moment, she laughed, "How much effort do I have to put in to crack a hard stone?"

Jordy frowned, and the next moment Gloria said without hesitation, "I'm not a fool.

There's no need to do such a stupid thing. Moreover, you love my cousin, and I won't try to attract your attention. Jordy, let's just go our separate ways. Don't worry. I won't pester you."

Chapter 166 I'll Go Away!

She struggled as she spoke, but Jordy was much stronger than her. Gloria was angry, "Let go of me!"

Jordy looked extremely gloomy, and every word she said stabbed him in the heart with strong irony!

"Gloria! I know you are playing tricks! I give you a chance. We can remarry! But after that, you can't play any tricks and get close to Jonathan!"

Gloria was puzzled.

She looked at Jordy in front of her with a confused look.

Jordy frowned immediately. So she was really attracting his attention, wasn't she? She had such an expression because she didn't expect that he would put forward remarrying so quickly?

Jordy suddenly became extremely irritated

Gloria suddenly raised her leg and stepped on his feet!

She was wearing stilettos, and she used all her strength. Jordy gave a grunt and hurriedly took steps back. Gloria got out of his arms, and her tension was dispersed instantly.

"Gloria!"

Looking at his angry face, Gloria said, gritting her teeth, Jordy, don't flatter yourself! Don't think you are God's favored one and everyone should slobber all over you! I don't love you!"

At this moment, only she knew that she was nervous!

God knew how flustered she was when she fell into his arms and smelled his familiar breath!

She thought she left him smartly and broke up with him without hesitation, but at this moment, she knew how terrible she felt when she was in his arms!

It was like the dusty memory was suddenly uncovered. The deep love brought her piercing pain.

Gloria took a deep breath and controlled her emotions. No! She would never look back and love this man again. She didn't want to have any more rows with him!

Anger was burning in Jordy's eyes, "Good! Gloria! Good for you!"

He looked away and walked back to the party

Gloria looked at his receding figure and relaxed a little.

If it weren't for her strong willpower, she might have collapsed to the ground.

George was bored inside. Seeing Jordy and Gloria going out together, he also went out for a walk. However, he saw Jordy's figure as soon as he got to the door. He looked behind him with a puzzled look, but he didn't see Gloria.

He wondered, "Huh? Where's Gloria? What did you say to her?"

Hearing her name, Jordy was even more irritated, "Don't be a busybody!"

George was confused.

He was a busybody?

Before he could speak, he suddenly saw Jordy's feet. There was a scratch and a small pit on his shiny leather shoes
George often went to places of carnal pleasure He knew that only women would do this.
George laughed, "Does your foot hurt?"
Jordy suddenly turned furious!
George couldn't stop laughing, but he knew he'd better leave him alone at this time, so he hurriedly said, "Fine, I'll go away!"
With that, he stepped into the banquet hall quickly.
He burst into laughter when he sat next to Carlos.
People around looked at George noticing his frivolous behavior. Some of them frowned and shook their heads, but the others were curious.
He just went out for Jordy, right?
Did something happen to Jordy?
Carlos looked at George and said, "What are you laughing at?"

Chapter 167 How Could I Walk With the Broken High-heels

George spoke after he was done laughing, "You know what I just saw?"
Carlos raised an eyebrow without answering, obviously waiting for him to continue.
George leaned to Carlos and whispered, "I saw Jordy's shoe was stepped by high-heels! And there were scratches, so that person must step on his foot hard! Jordy looked so sullen. He was absolutely rejected!"
Light flickered in Carlos' eyes. Gloria must have become a disaster in Jordy's life
He could neither avoid it nor get over it.
George was in a good mood, 'It's the first time I saw him like that, but I didn't see that woman when I went out"
He meant Gloria by saying that woman
Carlos looked up and saw Jordy coming in
He came back alone Gloria was still outside
After Jordy sat down, Glona still didn't come back. Carlos immediately frowned What was she doing?

Karen had eaten half of her noodles and was in a great mood Joseph finally breathed a sigh of relief when he saw her good appetite
Karen ate for a while, and didn't see Gloria come back She looked at Jordy with a frown, 'Why hasn't Gloria come back? What did you just do after going out?"
Jordy frowned, looking at the door It had been more than ten minutes since he sat down
Gloria should have had come back
Newell frowned slightly, 'Did you bully her again?

Jordy sneered, "How can I have the nerve to do that?" She was like being covered in thorns. How could he bully her? Even if he did, he might be the one who got hurt.

Karen frowned deeply, "She must be in trouble. Go check on her!" In fact, Karen still wanted to get them back together. If she could, she would give them more opportunities to meet.

Jordy thought of what Gloria had just said, and immediately got irritated, "She could come back on her own."

With that, he picked up his chopsticks to eat.

But Karen took away his chopsticks, "You brat! I just feel better. If anything happens to Gloria, I will kill you! She is alone outside in this late hour. Aren't you worried? Hurry up! Go find her! Otherwise, I'll leave my birthday party!"

Jordy was speechless.

He closed his eyes, restraining her anger. Then he got up. "Fine."

Olivia looked grave. They were already divorced, but Gloria still played such a trick! Oh, for God's sake!

Why did Karen like Gloria so much? What did she see in Gloria? Gloria would only bring trouble to their Collins family.

Why was Karen so partial to her?

Jordy got up, and his foot was still painful. Gloria stepped on his foot with all her strength.

He suppressed his anger and went to the place where he talked to Gloria just now. Gloria was really helpless. If she had known this would happen, she would not have stepped on Jordy so hard.

She couldn't even balance herself!

She never thought that the expensive shoes were of poor quality! After she stepped on him and took dozens of steps, the heel broke!

How could she walk back with a broken 12-centimeter heel?

After soothing grandma, she didn't take her purse and it was still on the chair. So, she couldn't even make a call and ask for help.

And she was in a quiet place without monitors. She had to go back on her own.

But there... was a clump of grass with insects and bugs before her. She couldn't cross it barefoot. What she feared most were small bugs.

Chapter 168 She's Too Unlucky

At that moment, she was still holding the tree with one hand. Because the heel of the other shoe had fallen off, she listed her foot into mid-air.

She was trying to figure out how to walk back.

At that moment, Jordy was walking back. Jordy was slightly stunned when he looked at her small face with a look of pain and torment.

In the past three years of their marriage, he found that she always looked gentle, elegant, and virtuous. She had indeed been a decent wife

Therefore, he had never seen such a look on her face. She seemed to be sneering and feeling disdain.

At that moment, he realized that Gloria looked very real.

Gloria was aware that someone was watching her. Then she lifted her eyes. And she hoped that someone would make a phone call to Nydia for her

However, she did not expect to see Jordy, who seemed to be staring at her like a clown.

Gloria suddenly looked upset.

I'm so unlucky! Why do I run into him every time I'm in misery?

Jordy was suddenly amused by her appearance.

He slowly approached her and said in a soft voice, 'Gloria, if you beg me, I might be able to take you back'

Gloria looked grim. 'I won't bother you!'

Jordy's face instantly darkened

Gloria looked ahead and couldn't help but take a breath. She thought she'd just limp back!

She was still holding on to the tree with one hand. Looking at the grass in front of her, she hesitated for a moment. She hesitated for a moment before taking a step forward.

However, she was wearing a 5-inch high heel on one foot, so the height difference between her right and left foot was too much. She couldn't walk with balance at all.

Even when Gloria tried to walk forward, her body was still leaning from side to side!

And the tree was behind her. She was already leaning forward, so she couldn't even touch the tree.

Gloria's expression changed. She hurriedly reached forward and was ready to touch the ground with her hand.

However, her belly was suddenly wrapped in Jordy's strong arms. At this point, Gloria became more agitated.

She didn't want to be taken into his arms. Instead, she would rather fall to the ground!

Jordy looked gloomy. 'If you can't go, why do you still insist on keeping walking?'

Gloria felt speechless.

If it weren't for the fact that she was afraid of bugs and afraid to take off her shoes, she wouldn't have needed him to hold her up.

However, she hesitated a little. She did not retort and stood up straight. Her foot was still hanging in the air. In a stubborn tone, she said, 'Let go of me! I can walk by myself.'

'Can you walk?' Jordy laughed at her words while feeling frustrated. 'Gloria, I'll let go of you now. Let's see if you can walk!'

After saying that, he didn't give Gloria time to react. Then, the moment he let go of his hand, Gloria's body fell to the right at once!

Gloria felt speechless.

She took a deep breath and prepared to use her hands to support the ground.

But the next moment, he put his arms around her waist.

Gloria's face looked awful. She said in an impolite tone, "Jordy, are you playing with me?"

Jordy snorted coldly at once. "If I weren't here for you, you wouldn't be able to walk back at all!"

Gloria's face became even more gloomy. She didn't want to have any physical contact with him. At once, she said in an angry tone, "Even if I crawl on the ground, I can still crawl back! Let go of me!"

Jordy's face was getting ugly. He even wanted to throw her out now.

The next moment, he restrained his emotions and gritted his teeth. "Gloria, don't piss me off again before I lose my patience! If Grandma hadn't asked me to come to you, do you think I would have come out to look for you?"

Chapter 169 Would She Give Herself Away?

Seeing Gloria still struggling in his arms, Jordy said in an angry voice, "Grandma said if I don't bring you back, she won't celebrate her birthday. Gloria, make some sense!"

For a moment, Gloria remained silent.

She knew that Grandma wanted them to be together, so she thought it was normal for her to say such a thing.

What's more, Jordy couldn't have lied. There was no way he would have condescended to come to her if Grandma hadn't forced him to find her.

While she was in silence, Jordy suddenly took her in his arms

Even when Gloria was about to fall, she didn't even make a sound. At that moment, she could not stand it any longer and suddenly exclaimed, "Jordy!"

She wrapped her arms around Jordy's neck, but she let go of him in an instant of panic. "Put me down now! You can hold me."

"Do you think I want to hold you?" A look of impatience passed through Jordy's eyes. Despite his words, he held Gloria tightly in his arms. Even if she didn't have to put her arms around his neck, she wouldn't fall.

At this moment, Gloria was angry. When she married Jordy, neither of them had acted this intimately. Yet, they made such intimate gestures after their divorce.

When she saw that he was going to carry her into the hall, Gloria panicked. "Where are you taking me? Take me through the back door!"

Jordy's face was grim. "Don't you know you're heavy?"

If he had to carry her to the back door, he would have to go around.

Looking at Jordy still walking forward, Gloria became more anxious. "Put me down. I'll walk by myself! Are you crazy? There are so many people inside. If people see you holding me, what will they think?"

Jordy snorted. Ignoring her, he took a step and walked inside. The staff at the door froze as soon as he saw the two of them when he saw Jordy's gloomy face, he hastily collected his thoughts and opened the door for them immediately

Gloria whispered through her clenched teeth, "Jordy!"

However, it was too late. Everyone saw the two of them hugging each other intimately. Nydia froze when she saw this scene! What is this?

Bryson's face changed slightly. He tried to get up, but Jennifer hastily pulled him down. The heel of Gloria's high heels is broken. She can't walk."

Many people also noticed this scene. Although they still thought it was a little weird, they also looked more surprised than before.

However, George couldn't help but burst out into laughter again. He looked over at Carlos and said, "You guessed it right!"

Carlos curled her lips and didn't say anything.

George was just sitting with Carlos talking about Jordy's broken shoes, and George was in a great mood, but he waited for a long time and didn't see Gloria come back. Then, George couldn't help asking, "Where did Gloria go? Why hasn't she come back yet?"

Carlos swept a glance at Jordy and said, "Why are you worried that she won't come back?"

"I'm just curious, Gloria didn't run off because she was mad at Jordy, did she?" George shrugged.

Carlos said, "Someone cares if she comes back."

Given what Carlos had just said, Jordy was not only worried about Gloria but had also brought her back, and Jordy seemed to care so much about Gloria.

At that moment, although Nydia was angry, she felt it was a bit of a pity. If Angela were here to see this scene, would she be so angry that she would lose her temper and give herself away?

At that moment, everyone's eyes fell on Jordy and Gloria. When Karen looked up and saw his grandson walking in with Gloria in his arms, her eyes lit up!

Olivia noticed that something was wrong, so she followed Karen's gaze and looked over.

Olivia was furious

She couldn't seem to control the anger inside her anymore!

When Newell turned his eyes to look over, there was a smile in his eyes.

And Joseph had mixed feelings inside. A look of displeasure glimpsed through his eyes.

Under everyone's gaze, Jordy carried Gloria to her seat and put her down.

Afterward, he did not expect to feel empty in his arms.

Gloria was embarrassed She blushed as she bowed her head. She was afraid to face everyone at this moment. And everyone was staring at her and Jordy with questioning eyes

When Jordy lowered his eyes to look at her, a look of triumph lashed in his eyes. He then got up and spoke to the butler before returning to his seat

Olivia had a terrible look on her face. "Miss White, can't you even walk now?"

Gloria's face changed slightly. She pursed her lips and didn't say anything while Newell gave Olivia a cold glance and said, 'Can't you see that Gloria's heel is broken?'

Karen did not notice that Gloria's heel was broken She had just seen Jordy holding Gloria in his arms. When she heard him say this, she immediately looked over and found that the heel of Gloria's high heels on her right foot was broken.

She then became concerned and said, "How did your heel break?"

Jordy snickered

Gloria didn't know what to say for a moment Then she took a breath and said, "I broke it by accident."

Olivia gritted her teeth and said, 'Gloria, now that you and my son are divorced, don't even think about asking my son to marry you again!'

Jordy frowned while Gloria nodded and said, "Don't worry. I won't!

Jordy's face seemed to grimace a little.

Karen sighed helplessly. "Come on Gloria, you haven't eaten anything. Have something to eat first. Don't get hungry."

Gloria looked back and nodded. Then she didn't say anything else. She thought the atmosphere at the table seemed a little off.

Joseph had been holding back his anger, too. If it wasn't for the fact that it was Karen's birthday party, he wouldn't have kept quiet

At this point, George was still curious and said, "What the hell does Jordy think? He used to treat Gloria so badly. But now, with everyone watching, he held her in his arms. What kind of trick is he playing?"

"A special trick," said Carlos. He was still eating and did not want to talk.

But George turned his eyes to him "What do you mean? Dude, did you get it? Tell me about it!"

"He's possessive of her " Carlos only said a few words because he knew George would get to the bottom of it.

George's expression changed slightly. "So even though they're divorced, he doesn't want Gloria to have contact with other men? I don't see this as him being possessive of her. It's obvious he still likes her, but he doesn't know it himself!"

Carlos laughed and said, "Who knows? It's not like we can read his mind."

George took a drink of wine and wore a bad smile. "You'll see. I'll try him out in a couple of days."

Carlos swept him with a cold look. "You're looking for trouble."

"Bite your tongue!"

The two men were talking while laughing.

At that moment, the butler also came back.

He had a shoe box in his hand and walked slowly to Gloria.
He said in a respectful tone, "Miss White, these are the shoes for you."
Gloria was grateful. She took the shoe box and said, "Thank you, Mr. Wilson."
The butler coughed softly. He did not dare to take credit for Jordy. "This is what Mr. Collins ordered me to prepare for you."
