Chapter 231

Chapter 231 Did You Call Mom?

When the door was slammed shut, Gloria lost her balance and slumped to the ground with a pale face.

She thought she could forget everything, but when Jordy said those harsh words, she would still feel heartache!

Gloria clenched her teeth as her tears ran down uncontrollably.

She lowered her head and hugged her bent legs, burying her head in her arms.

Her back kept shivering.

At this moment, Jordy had entered the elevator. He looked no better than Gloria. Even the blue veins on his forehead stood out.

Hearing those irritating words she said, he only wished that he could rip her up!

The elevator went down quickly, but Jordy's mind was full of Gloria's crazy appearance.

It seemed to be the first time he had seen Gloria so angry, and he finally irritated her.

Jordy closed his eyes. After the elevator door opened, the complicated emotions in his eyes were cleared and he had stopped thinking about what happened.

Even...

When he sat in the car, he regretted it. Why did he come to her house?

He was completely out of control just now, and he didn't like that feeling at all.

He would never been affected by anything before. He was very rational and could discover able people and put them at suitable posts. He would abandon those incompetent subordinates in advance, and would never be hampered by such trivial things.

But now...

Jordy looked colder, started the car and drove away.

At the moment, Angela was still in Jordy's house, and she was so pale. She never thought she would live such a life. She immediately ran back to her room, picked up her cell phone and called Martha.

When Martha answered the phone, she sounded hesitant, "Angela? What's the matter? Is... Jordy not back yet?"

Otherwise, the two of them would have been in bed.

Angela looked extremely pale, "Mom..."

She choked on sobs, and Martha's expression changed slightly. She immediately sat up straight and said with a serious look, "What's the matter? What happened?"

Claude also cared about what happened. He felt something wrong and also sat up, snatched Martha's mobile phone and put Angela on speakerphone.

Then, Angela sobbed, "Jordy, Jordy was back."

She was like nursing huge grievances. Claude's and Martha's eyes seemed to light up after they heard that. They were truly a couple and even thought of the same thing.

Martha shook her hand to Claude and motioned him not to speak, for fear that his daughter would be shy when she heard his voice.

Claude nodded quickly with a wide smile.

Angela must be too shy and flustered when she had sex for the first time, so she was eager to talk to her mother about it.

Claude didn't dare to breathe too loudly for fear that his daughter would feel embarrassed.

Martha smiled, "Sweetheart, you'll do this sooner or later. Although you slept with Jordy before getting married with him, he will be responsible for you. This is good for you. Silly girl, why are you crying? What is he doing? Are you talking to me in the bathroom?"

Martha sounded refreshed, as if Angela had completely married into the Collins family.

Chapter 232 A Flawless Plan

"No... No." Angela's eyes were red, and she was in confusion.

Martha's smile instantly stiffened. Even Claude stared at her mobile phone steadily. He always felt something was wrong.

Angela shivered all over, and her lips kept trembling, "If it's what you think, why would I be so afraid? He did come back, but he left directly with great disgust after seeing me.

He is already sick of me! Mom, he doesn't want to marry me at all!"

Martha and Claude both looked shocked!

Claude directly snatched the mobile phone from Martha and said in disbelief, "What the hell is going on?"

Angela shivered, and said, gritting her teeth, "He asked me to get out of here! He doesn't like me. He isn't going to marry me! But he promised that he would do that.

Why? He's not over Gloria?"

"Nonsense. He was never into Gloria!" Claude's face darkened.

Martha frowned and sighed helplessly, "Angela, you recovered too fast."

Claude looked up at Martha, "What do you mean?"

Martha continued helplessly, "I had misgivings when we decided that Angela could recover before others noticed it. Even if the medical skills are developed, it would be too fast if a vegetable got out of bed in a month. You should let Jordy see how painful you were in the sickbed."

Angela was a little stunned and breathed faster unconsciously. Really?

Claude looked at Martha with a grave look, "What should we do now?"

Angela gripped her cell phone silently. She was waiting for Martha to speak.

Most of the time, it was Martha who gave her advice, and she became so smart because of Martha.

Martha hesitated for a moment and then said, "I will send a group of people to your place. When they are about to arrive, you will pretend to leave the house in dejection. Right, call Jordy's mother five minutes before you go out, and you'll just cry on the phone in silence. Don't say anything, understand?"

Angela was stunned, "Mom, what do you mean?"

"You'll have a relapse." Martha only said those few words.

Angela's expression changed slightly, "Will this... work? If I do that, I would have less contact with Jordy. If he and Gloria..."

"You have to do that. Jordy doesn't feel indebted to you anymore. Your priority is to make him feel indebted to you again and pity on you. This was also why you could drive Gloria away from Jordy back then!"

Claude thought what Martha said made sense. He looked at her, "What is your plan? How should Angela have a relapse?"

Martha said calmly, "I will send a few hooligans to your place, and some of them will act as heroes. Angela, you understand what I'm saying, right?"

Angela turned pale, and she took a deep breath, "Yes, I'll get ready."

"Okay, call Olivia in 20 minutes and leave in 25 minutes."

In this way, the accident would happen in the five minutes. Olivia couldn't come to Angela in time. Just when Angela went out, something would happen to her, and then she would be sent to the hospital

This plan was perfect.

Chapter 233 I Like You Playing Hard to Get

Angela took a deep breath, "OK, I see."

Then they hung up the phone. Martha immediately arranged people, and Angela was especially nervous in the room.

In a blink of an eye, twenty minutes had passed.

Angela gripped her cell phone and called Olivia.

Thanks to Olivia, she could enter the Collins family so easily. Olivia was waiting for good news from Angela.

Hearing her phone ring, Olivia thought Angela had succeeded, so she immediately picked up the phone with a smile, "Angela, what's the matter? You haven't gone to bed?"

Angela took a light breath, and her voice was nasal. Obviously, she had just cried. Olivia hurriedly said with a frown, "Angela, what's wrong?"

Angela took another light breath, as if restraining her grievance, and she whispered, "Mrs. Collins, I'm going back home."

Her voice trembled as she said the last few words, as if she couldn't suppress her sobs anymore.

Olivia's expression suddenly changed, "What's wrong? Why are you going back home? Where's Jordy?"

Angela sighed, "I guess I and Jordy are not meant to be together. I... I'm leaving here. I won't disturb him and expect anything from him anymore."

"Angela, calm down. What happened? Good girl, tell me what happened."

Angela sniffed and said in a trembling voice, "Mrs. Collins, don't worry about me. I shouldn't have expected too much. I should have stuck to my original idea and shouldn't have broken them up. I'm leaving, and I'll visit you if I have time."

With that, Angela hung up.

She took off her sundress, put on ordinary clothes, wiped her tears and tried to be calm. In fact, she was really sad just now. She had been planning this and put so much effort into being with Jordy, but... he suddenly cold shouldered her, and was even sick of her. How could she not feel bad?

After Angela changed her clothes, she went out with her purse.

It was still very cold at the night. The cold wind blew on her, making her shiver all over, but she felt colder inwardly.

Her tears streamed down uncontrollably, and the mobile phone in her purse was still vibrating. She took it out and found it was Olivia. She didn't answer it.

After walking for about five minutes, she passed an alleyway, and several men suddenly came up to her, "Hey, missy, where are you going? Aren't you lonely?"

Angela stopped instantly with a flustered look, "Who, who are you guys..."

Then she was surrounded by these people quickly.

She hurriedly stepped back, "What are you... What are you doing? Do you know who I am?"

"Yes, you are a woman, ha-ha-ha. We want to enjoy the night scene with women."

Angela retreated again in fear, but bumped into a man behind her, "Wow, so, you like me! Come on, I'll make you comfortable tonight."

"Ah! Let go of me!"

Angela really panicked. How dare they do this to her!

Didn't her mother tell them about the situation? They actually held her!

A bunch of losers!

"Don't hide, but I like you playing hard to get." Then the man suddenly rushed to her.

Chapter 235 What on Earth Happened?

"Mrs. Collins?" Martha sounded a little sleepy, "It's so late. What's the matter?"

"Martha..." Olivia took a breath and said with a complicated look, "I'm sorry!"

Martha paused deliberately, as if she were sobering up, but before she could speak,

Olivia said, "I had been calling Angela, but she didn't answer my phone. Then a man answered the phone for her and told me that she was stopped by some hooligans. The man saved her and was taking her to the Brigham Hospital. I... I..."

"Something happened to Angela!" Martha sounded extremely flustered!

"They will get to the Brigham Hospital in ten minutes. Let's go there!"

"Okay!" Martha hung up the phone and looked at Claude beside her. Her flusters were gone and she said in a calm voice, "Alright, let's go to the hospital."

Claude frowned slightly, as if he were worried, "Are you sure this trick will work?"

"Of course!" Looking at Claude's worried look, she sneered, "Jordy never liked our daughter, so we can only make him feel guilty. He will be guilty. If he is, Angela could marry him!"

Claude always felt something was wrong, but he thought what Martha said made sense. Moreover, they had no other choices. They put on their clothes and went out without hesitation.

Olivia arrived at the hospital first. She called Angela again, and it was still that man who answered it. After Olivia got their location, she hurried to them.

Seeing the handsome guy, Olivia was stunned, and then she said with flusters, "How is she?"

The man glanced at Olivia and said with a calm look, "I don't know. We need to talk to the doctor."

"Can you tell me everything you saw? The thing just happened." Olivia looked grave.

The man nodded and told her the whole thing. Olivia was growing paler and paler, "She was kicked in her left leg?"

"Yes." The man nodded with a puzzled look.

Olivia looked more flustered, but the man didn't ask much and just said calmly, 'Since you're here, I'm leaving. I got to go. This is her stuff.'

With that, the man handed Angela's purse to Olivia, and Olivia took it. Then the man left without looking back.

Olivia waited anxiously outside the door and paced back and forth.

But the door of the operating room was still closed. Olivia looked at it again and again, but no one came out of it.

Before long, Martha and Claude hurried here with a panic look. They said, "Mrs. Collins!"

Olivia turned her head and said with a guilty look, "It's all my fault. I'm so sorry!"

Her voice trembled. What happened on this day really scared her. It was her who allowed Angela to spend the night with Jordy.

After all, when men and women spent the night together, women would often lose out.

The White family was not an ordinary family, and Olivia would certainly feel guilty

Martha looked pale, "What... What on earth happened?"

She didn't mean to blame Olivia, but Olivia could see the strong worry in her eyes.

Olivia could only sigh and retell what the young man had told her.

“Left... Left leg...” Martha turned extremely pale in an instant. Then she trembled all over and directly fell back!

Chapter 236

Chapter 236 Slap Hard!

“Martha!” Claude quickly caught her.

Martha breathed disorderly and her eyes were red, but she didn’t say anything to scold Olivia.

“Sorry... I’m so sorry, I failed to control my son and I gave you that advice. It’s my fault...” Olivia’s eyes were filled with tears.

Last time, Angela’s left leg was seriously injured, and she had some other wounds, so she became a vegetable. This time, the hooligan kicked her left leg. Olivia was naturally scared.

Martha looked sad. She took a deep breath and quickly grabbed Olivia’s hand, “Mrs. Collins, please do me a favor!”

Olivia shook her head with guilt, “It’s all my fault! Just go ahead.”

“Can you call Jordy here?” Martha’s eyes were red, and she said with a flustered look, “Mrs.

Collins, I know Jordy doesn’t like Angela. I will not allow Angela to see him or disturb him anymore, but Angela is in a coma again. I’m afraid that she won’t have a strong will to live... What if she won’t wake up again? What if she becomes a vegetable again? She just recovered but was seriously injured again. She’s likely to become a vegetable again...”

Martha’s tears streamed down. She was so worried about Angela and didn’t blame Olivia at all. Every word she said made Olivia more guilty. Olivia hurriedly said, “OK! OK! I’ll call Jordy right away!”

Then she handed Angela’s purse to Claude, took out her mobile phone and called Jordy.

Jordy didn’t answer.

Martha and Claude were looking at her. They were a little worried after seeing that. Olivia called Jordy again.

Jordy still didn’t answer it.

She called him again, and still got no response.

She suppressed her impatience and made the fourth call. Jordy finally answered it, but before he could speak, Olivia’s anxious voice sounded,

“I don’t care what’s going on between you and Angela, but Angela had an accident because of you!”

The impatience in Jordy’s eyes instantly disappeared. He said with a frown, “What happened?”

Olivia gritted her teeth, “She ran out after you drove her out of your home. Then she met some hooligans on the street. She refused to be molested by them, so they kicked her in the left leg and she fell into a coma. A kind person saved her and took her to the hospital. Come here now. We're in the Brigham Hospital! She was desperate and might not have the will to wake up again!" Jordy turned slightly pale and immediately said, "I'll be there right away." After hanging up, he immediately drove straight to the hospital. He frowned deeply with an extremely cold face. He shouldn't have taken it out on Angela after he had a fight with Gloria. Angela was once a vegetable because of him. If anything happened to her again, he would be indebted to her forever. Thinking of this, he stepped on the accelerator harder. When he arrived at the hospital, they were still waiting anxiously outside of the operating room. Angela was still under rescue. Jordy looked grave. Olivia saw him and got angry immediately. She raised her hand and slapped him across the face! It was a hard slap. After a while, Jordy's right cheek turned red. Martha looked flustered and hurriedly said, "Mrs. Collins! Please calm down. The accident has happened. Even if you hit Jordy, the result can't be changed. Moreover, it's not his fault. Angela should be blamed for what happened..."

Chapter 237 Don't Waste Time

Olivia was trembling with anger. She looked at Jordy with red eyes, "You said that you would marry Angela. Didn't you see how much she did for you? She could even live in your home forever. You owe her! What about you? What did you do for her?"

Jordy pursed his lips in silence.

Martha quickly shook her head, "No... Mrs. Collins, calm down. It has nothing to do with Jordy. It's Angela..."

"Angela did nothing wrong!" Olivia was really angry. Even if she was in the hospital, she couldn't suppress her anger. She raised her hand and slapped Jordy across the face again!

Then Jordy was slapped in both cheeks.

Jordy didn't hide at all, but just remained silent with a grave face.

Olivia continued, gritting her teeth, "I came up with that idea! I forced her to go to your home! Angela didn't want to force you like that. You two are old enough for marriage, and I'm eager to have grandchildren! She is your lifesaver! Your lifesaver! Can you live to this day without her? Jordy, you should be smart! You can't just do whatever you want! You know what. She was kicked in her left leg! If she can't wake up again, what's the point of you marrying her?"

"You ruined her life, twice! Do you really think you are superior to her?" Olivia was really mad, so she said those words. Claude and Martha were here. She must show her attitude in dealing with this matter.

Angela became a vegetable last time because of Jordy. This time, she was injured because of her and Jordy. The Collins family owed Angela twice!

Martha quickly walked up to Olivia and grabbed her arm, "Mrs. Collins, enough. It has happened. Jordy is famous. If people see him being slapped like this, there will be rumors. I only hope that Angela could wake up. I guess... we're not meant to be in-laws."

Martha sighed with red eyes.

Claude nodded hurriedly, "Yes, let's just wait. Maybe Angela will wake up soon."

Jordy closed his eyes, and then whispered, "Was she..."

He didn't finish speaking, but they knew what he was going to ask.

"No! If that happens, how pitiful she would be!" Olivia denied immediately.

Jordy breathed a sigh of relief inwardly, not because he cared about Angela, but because he would feel less guilty if that didn't happen.

He frowned slightly. Olivia looked at him, "If Angela wakes up later, you'll go in and stay with her.

Don't say anything to upset her, understand?"

Jordy paused for a moment and then nodded.

Olivia was relieved. So were Martha and Claude.

Time passed slowly, and the red light above the door of the operating room finally turned green!

Claude immediately patted Martha on the shoulder in surprise, "Honey, look!"

"I saw it! I saw it! God bless my daughter!" Martha was so excited that she almost jumped up. She fixed her eyes on the green light above.

Olivia and Jordy also breathed a sigh of relief.

Olivia looked at Jordy quickly, "After you go in, tell her that you will marry her! Don't waste time anymore. I'll let the media release the things between you, Gloria and Angela!"

Chapter 238 You Are Giving Me Hope

Jordy immediately frowned, but he couldn't refuse.

Olivia called Joseph at this time.

Joseph answered the phone and said in doubt, "Sweetheart? What's the matter?"

Joseph and Karen were nice to Olivia. They called her that directly and Olivia was used to that. She hurriedly said, "Dad, I can't tell you what happened in detail, but I want to discuss something with you. Can we issue the announcement we drafted before?"

Joseph was a little surprised, "Now? Jordy has agreed?"

"He has to agree! He has done enough wrong things! Dad, I'm in the hospital. Angela is out of danger now, and all of this was because of Jordy! He must marry Angela!" Joseph looked stunned, "What happened?"

Olivia sighed, but after thinking for a while, she hurriedly said, "Dad, let someone issue the announcement first, and I need to make some arrangements here."

"Which hospital is Angela in?"

"The Brigham Hospital of the White Group."

Joseph hung up the phone, and then asked someone to issue the announcement as Olivia said.

Then it caused an uproar on the internet!

The love triangle between Gloria, Angela and Jordy attracted considerable attention again!

Jordy didn't check his cell phone, but he already knew all this. He clenched his fists in silence.

Joseph arrived at the hospital soon. At this moment, Jordy had entered the ward. After Joseph came, he immediately learned what happened.

After hearing Olivia out, Joseph was furious, "That bastard!"

He hurriedly looked at Martha and Claude, who shook their heads and tried to explain.

He said solemnly, "I will never let Jordy act at will in this matter. My granddaughter-in-law will only be Angela!"

Martha and Claude were happy. Whether Jordy would agree or not, at least these two people were more determined than before, and the announcement they prepared before was finally issued. It was good news for them!

No one could ruin this thing again!

At this moment, Angela woke up. She saw Jordy and then closed her eyes, as if she didn't want to see him.

Jordy walked up to her and looked at her who was crying silently with a pale face. He slowly sat down and said in a guilty voice, "I'm sorry."

Angela turned her head and looked away. She just whispered, "I don't blame you. I shouldn't have been so impulsive."

There was no resentment in her voice, but she sounded cold.

Light flickered in Jordy's eyes. He didn't say anything.

Angela was anxious. Couldn't he just tell her that he would marry her? She had to guide him step by step?

Angela took a light breath and continued, "I left on my own, and those hooligans didn't do anything very horrible to me and it won't affect my future life. I'll just stay in hospital for a few days. Although I had a relapse, I didn't become a vegetable again. I'll be discharged from the hospital soon. You don't have to feel guilty, or it will be a burden for me, and I'll think you are giving me hope."

Angela sounded helpless. She said those words coldly, but there was wistfulness in her voice. The tears in her eyes were the evidence.

Chapter 239 Don't Blame Me for Taking Her Away

Jordy pursed his lips, "Grandpa and my mom have issued the announcement."

Angela trembled. She looked at Jordy, and opened her mouth, but didn't know what to say.

Jordy said with a calm look, "I owe you this. I didn't expect such a thing would happen to you. I need two months to deal with some things."

Angela's eyelashes fluttered slightly, "You..."

She didn't know what to say. Jordy whispered, looking at her bandaged leg, "Does it still hurt?"

Angela shook her head, "It was just a minimally invasive surgery. This is exaggerated. I'm fine.

See?"

Angela raised her left leg and gasped immediately! 4

"Don't be brave!"

Jordy didn't move, afraid of touching her wound, "Put down your leg."

Angela didn't say anything and did what he said.

Before long, the others also came in. Angela saw that Joseph was also here. She said with a surprised look, "Mr. Collins, you are also here? It's just a minor injury. I'm fine."

Joseph stepped forward and sighed helplessly, "Angela, I'm so sorry. If we had issued the announcement earlier, such a thing would never happen!"

Olivia's eyes were full of guilt, "Angela, it's all my fault. You're a good girl, but Jordy..."

She raised her hand and was about to hit Jordy again. Angela was startled, "No!"

Martha hurriedly grabbed her hand, "Mrs. Collins, enough. You've slapped him twice!"

Angela looked shocked, "He has been slapped twice..."

She looked at Jordy's cheeks. When she saw his slightly red cheeks, she wondered what happened. It turned out that he was slapped...

He seemed to have never been slapped, but Olivia actually slapped him for her.

So the Collins family cared about her so much and wanted her to marry into their family so much!

Angela was so content. Her mother was indeed right. Only if she had a relapse could the Collins family be more guilty!

Jordy had changed his attitude towards her!

But she could only play such a trick one more time at most in the future. If she often did that, it wouldn't work.

She must cherish this opportunity and make plans carefully in the next two months in case Jordy would be sick of her again.

There were so many night owls. Many people were talking about the announcement after it was issued.

A lot of people focused attention on Gloria, as if waiting for her reputation to be ruined completely.

Jonathan, who was still up, naturally saw the announcement. His assistant looked at him, "Mr. Brown, the Collins Group's share price might fall."

Jonathan smiled, "Angela is in hospital, isn't she? In order to continue to cooperate with the White family, they had to do that. They would only suffer a small loss. After the announcement was issued, they will only suffer a smaller loss."

The assistant frowned slightly, and then nodded. Jonathan signed the last document, got up, and looked at the bright lights downstairs. His smile widened. Since they pushed Gloria further and further, they couldn't blame him for taking her away.

The assistant was stunned, looking at him, "Mr. Brown... Are you really going to... To be with her?"

He didn't dare to finish his words.

Jonathan smiled, "Everyone thinks I'm a dandy. Why can't I be with her? Who would think it's ridiculous?"

"But you are not a dandy at all. However, Miss White is a divorced woman. You are so excellent..."

Jonathan smiled, "I don't mind that, and Gloria is worth it."

"You..." The assistant's eyes were full of surprise.

Mr. Brown knew Gloria, because Gloria took the initiative to come to him. She told him that she was Norma and wanted to cooperate with him.

Mr. Brown took that opportunity to give Jordy a hard time.

As Mr. Brown and Miss White spent more and more time together, Mr. Brown had different feelings for her.

He wanted to ask Mr. Brown if he had fallen in love with that woman! It was impossible!

Mr. Brown used to be a very rational person!

Jonathan turned around with his hands pressing down on the desk, and said with a calm look, "Since the Collins Group has issued that announcement, we should also join in the fun."

"Huh?" Assistant Henry was confused.

But Jonathan had picked up his mobile phone and logged in to Twitter.

When Henry was still confused, Jonathan had tweeted something.

Then all the netizens fell into an uproar!

Henry was shocked.

He looked at Jonathan in disbelief, "Mr. Brown, are you... are you crazy?"

Henry couldn't help asking that, but Jonathan chuckled, "I said, Gloria was worth it.

Book a greenhouse for me and I'll invite her to dinner tomorrow. Don't use my name."
"... Okay." Henry had no other choice but responded and then left.

It was already more than eleven o'clock in the evening, but many people were still up. Nydia saw two trending topics in a row, and she made a call quickly.

Gloria had just calmed herself down and was about to fall asleep. When her mobile phone rang, she opened her eyes. Seeing that it was Nydia, she answered it without hesitation.

"Baby! What are you doing?"

"Sleeping. What's wrong?" Hearing Nydia's excited voice, Gloria was a little confused.

"Shoot, you are able to sleep? You're a hit now!"

Gloria was confused.

She looked puzzled. Nydia didn't want to waste time, so she hurriedly said, "Open your Twitter and see the trending topics! The Collins family issued an announcement and Jonathan, who never tweets for women, tweeted for you. Gloria, you're a hit!"

Gloria kept silent for a moment, and then said, "I'll have a look."

"Hurry up! The Collins family is really heartless. It's right to leave them!"

Gloria didn't speak but opened her Twitter immediately.

She hadn't hung up.

The first and second trending topics were all about her.

Jonathan's tweet was already in the first place, and Gloria clicked into it.

– Jonathan, (Before I met you, life was bitter and boring. After you appeared in my life, I found that you were a light in my life. Only with you can I move on. Miss White, do you see this? @Gloria)

Gloria immediately frowned.

The comments below were crazy.

– Dust Heart, (Aha! I'm going crazy! I don't want to get married because of Mr. Brown. I know I'm not worthy of him, but I'm still sad seeing that he specially tweeted for a woman! Oh, I'll go back to crying.)
