Chapter 301 A Damned Woman

Jonathan sighed helplessly and said softly, "Gloria, sometimes I don't want to put too much pressure on you, but if I don't say or do anything, I won't have the chance to fight for it."

Gloria pursed her lips. She suddenly regretted it. This man would not tell her the truth, so it was pointless to ask him the question.

Just as she curved her lips and wanted to say something, Jonathan said something again.

"There is still a long way to go. You can wait and see whether I am your Mr. Right."

His voice was very soft, but it was very penetrating, causing Gloria to freeze for a moment.

The next moment, she smiled and said, "Mr. Brown, stop making fun of me."

At the same time, Jordy had been working overtime in the company and had just signed the last document.

He rubbed his glabella and leaned against the back of the chair. When he saw the mobile phone on the table, he slowly picked it up and logged onto his Twitter, which he had not posted for so long.

When he saw first place on trending, he instantly turned livid!

Jonathan and Gloria had a meal together.

Moreover, they had booked the entire hot pot restaurant.

Many passers-by were taking photos outside.

He could see the gentle smile on Jonathan's face in the photo, as well as Gloria's slender back.

Jordy's face turned darker and darker. Why didn't he know that this woman was so cheap in the past?

She couldn't cooperate with me, so she immediately turned to Jonathan!

Such a damned woman!

Jordy looked extremely gloomy.

The next moment, he took out his phone and called Harold.

"Mr. Collins."

"Tell Gloria to come to me in the office. Tell her that if she can't make it in half an hour, then in the future, she will have no more chance to talk to me about any cooperation!

Tell her exactly what I said! Right now!"

Harold was stunned for a moment. He didn't expect Mr. Collins to be so irascible at the moment.

After a moment of surprise, he replied, "Okay."

At that moment, the discussion between Gloria and Jonathan came to an end. She said directly, "Since Mr. Brown needs to think about it, then I will wait for your good news."

Jonathan didn't show the emotional changes much.

Finally, he sighed, "All right, I'll send you home."

"I can handle it."

"Gloria, if you keep distancing yourself from me like this, it will be boring."

Gloria paused for a moment, but before she could speak, her cell phone suddenly rang. Seeing that it was Harold, she immediately looked at Jonathan and said, "Mr. Brown, I still have something to deal with. See you next time."

After that, she took the lead to pick up her bag, and then she walked out.

Jonathan did not get up but just stared at her back. If he was not mistaken, the call should be from...

He looked extremely gloomy.

By the time Gloria arrived at the entrance, she had already picked up the call.

"Mr. Ross."

"Miss White, Mr. Collins has been working overtime today. He said that he will only wait for you in the office for half an hour. Otherwise, you won't have any other chance to cooperate with him anymore."

Harold's voice sounded a little helpless, but as a worker, he could only follow the boss's instructions.

Gloria furrowed her brows slightly, unable to understand Jordy's capricious personality.

She said directly, "Alright, I'll head over now."

It was already too late to retrieve the plan at home. She had a copy on her phone, so she would show it to him when it was time.

Gloria turned back to look at Jonathan, who was slowly coming out of the restaurant, and she felt guilty, "Sorry, I'll go first."

After that, she went to the roadside to hail a taxi.

However, before she could get in the taxi, Jonathan suddenly grabbed her arm.

Gloria turned to look at Jonathan and asked doubtfully, "You..."

Jonathan curled his lips slightly and didn't ask what she was going to do at all. He just said calmly, "It's not convenient to take a taxi. I'll drive you there."

Gloria froze for a moment. If Jordy knew that Jonathan was the one who sent her to the Collins Group, she would be bound to fail the cooperation. She immediately shook her head and said, "There's no need. The taxi has already stopped. I can handle it by myself."

After that, she got into the taxi.

After closing the car door, she said flatly, "Excuse me, please go to the front gate of the Collins Group."

“Okay.”

The car sped away.

Jonathan, however, just stood there and watched Gloria go.

If he guessed correctly, the point of Jordy’s regretting it was because he saw the trending topic between him and Gloria.

Jonathan sneered and left.

Within half an hour, Gloria had indeed arrived at the Collins Group.

However, Gloria did not know that Jordy had said that she must arrive at the Collins Group within half an hour because he had known that it would take less than half an hour to go from the hot pot restaurant to his office.

At this moment, Harold had already brought Gloria to the entrance of Jordy’s office.

“Mr. Collins, Miss White is here.”

Gloria stood at the door and did not say anything. She looked calm.

“Come in.” His voice was as cold as usual.

Harold opened the door. Gloria raised her eyes and saw Jordy, who was sitting in front of his desk dealing with some documents.

At this moment, his sharp face seemed to be even colder than before. No one dared to get too close to him.

Harold had long since gotten used to this. He gestured towards Gloria and said, “Miss White, please come in.”

Gloria nodded her head, then walked towards the office and closed the door.

There were only the two of them in the office.

Gloria saw that Jordy was busy with his work and did not pay any attention to her. She raised her eyebrows slightly. She could tell that even if he had the same opinion as her, he wouldn’t really agree to the plan. Perhaps he was just trying to make things difficult for her.

Thinking of this, Gloria was not in a hurry to speak to him. Instead, she casually walked to the sofa and sat down before taking out her phone.

Come to think of it, it was strange.

In the past, they hadn’t been alone with each other like this. Even if they were alone, she might only get his sarcasm and disdain.

Gloria came back to her senses and swiped through Twitter with her phone.

When she saw the trending topic, she froze. How could the fact that she and Jonathan had a meal together on the trending topic again?

She frowned as if she was unhappy.

However, the trending topic had been on the Internet for a long time. If it was removed, it would make people think that she really had something to do with Jonathan. So, it was better to let things develop like this.

However, there were all kinds of comments below.

-Shining star, (Oh my god! Now I think that Mr. Brown is more and more matched with Gloria! Look at how gentle Mr. Brown is when he looks at Gloria. He didn’t behave like this to a woman before.)

-Funny Figure, (I also think that their relationship is not ordinary. Maybe Gloria is thinking it through now! Also, she is currently single and has the right to date. Coincidentally, Mr. Brown is pursuing her so earnestly. Most people said Mr. Brown was a playboy, but I have never seen him care so much about any woman.)
-Alexia, (Yeah, this time my 'husband' is really too different from before. So jealous, but unfortunately, I'm not Gloria. If I were her, I would definitely say yes to Mr. Brown immediately! His eyes have always been shining. Mr. Brown is so outstanding that every time I see him, I felt excited.)

Chapter 303 A Trick to Win People's Heart

– Shining star, (Such a pity! We're not Gloria.)

Gloria was still flipping through her phone.

Jordy had just finished handling a document when he suddenly remembered Gloria coming. He looked up and saw that Gloria did not behave the way that one wanted to ask for cooperation. Instead, she was playing with her phone wantonly. Jordy's face immediately darkened.

He withdrew his gaze and continued to deal with the documents.

He had a lot of work to do. He wanted to see how long she could play and how long her mobile phone could hold on!

One hour passed.

Gloria didn't even raise her head as Jordy looked a bit irritated.

Two hours passed.

Gloria took out her charger slowly.

Jordy's face darkened a lot.

He was so angry that he laughed.

Gloria subconsciously raised her head and looked at the man's sharp eyes that were fixed on her. She smiled and asked, "Has Mr. Collins finished your work?"

Jordy looked at her coldly and said sarcastically without hesitation, "Since you want to play up to Jonathan, why do you still want to see me? Do you want both?"

Gloria furrowed her brows slightly. However, thinking about how widespread the hot topic was, it was no surprise that he knew about it.

She said calmly, "Mr. Collins, the purpose you asked me to come to see you today is sure to listen to the improved plan. Why don't I introduce it to you?"

Jordy's eyes were full of sarcasm. "I'll only give you 15 minutes. If you can't convince me, don't blame me for not distinguishing public from private."

Gloria raised her eyebrows and casually took out a USB, "Lend me your computer." She went straight forward and connected the USB to the server.

Jordy didn't say anything the whole time. Seeing that the USB stick was already connected, she leaned over, picked up the mouse, and clicked on one of the options. That was the wedding celebration plan.

The two of them were so close to each other that when she leaned over, Jordy smelled the good-smelling and elegant fragrance of her hair.

He froze slightly. It was still the familiar scent that made him gradually feel at ease. After Gloria opened the document, she took a step back and said, "I have already prepared all the specific content. Why don't we take a look at it?"

Looking at Gloria's stepping back, his face turned darker, "If I were to look at the files myself, what would I need you for?"

Gloria was speechless.

He wanted her to explain it to him?

If that was the case, weren't the two of them very close? Didn't he hate it when she came into contact with him?

In the end, she stepped forward again and spoke slowly.

"I had no idea what suggestions you had got about the scheme that you disagree on last time. But that plan was indeed problematic, to begin with, and I've already made some changes."

Jordy did not say anything. Even though he was prejudiced against Gloria, it was different for work, so he placed a lot of emphasis on the wedding celebration.

What's more?

Gloria was getting more and more different. He also wanted to see if this woman could really surprise him.

Thereafter, Gloria continued to explain.

"There are four points that needed to be sorted out in this wedding celebration, and they are also the main changes I made. There was something wrong with the previous ending part. The idea that people stayed around in huddles was novel, but it's out of the topic. Let's go with the original plan. Let's add something novel some tricks during the wedding celebration ceremony and to win people's hearts."

Jordy pursed his lips and didn't say anything.

Next, Gloria explained the whole process. Jordy frowned slightly, but gradually, he actually...

Chapter 304

Chapter 304 Was Jonathan So Important in Her Heart?

His eyebrows actually relaxed a little bit.

If Harold was in the office, he would definitely be able to tell that Jordy was very satisfied with this plan!

It wasn't until Gloria finished speaking that her eyes fell on Jordy and she said, "Mr. Collins, the specific plan is like this. What do you think of it?"

Jordy coldly stared at Gloria and did not say a word.
At this moment, he no longer had the initial intention of mocking Gloria.
Business and personal affairs couldn't be mixed together!
Previously, the purpose he had asked her to come over was because he felt that Gloria was despicable, and he didn't want her to curry favor with Jonathan.
But now, he was very satisfied with the plan provided by Gloria.
Now, he was more shocked and angrier.

Gloria was actually talented in this area. Why didn't she tell him before? Why did she keep lying to him?

Seeing Jordy staring at her with anger, Gloria frowned slightly and asked in confusion, "Why is Mr.

Collins looking at me like that?"

Jordy seemed to be laughing in anger. "Gloria, Not to mention Norma and Hannah, since you can even come up with such a proposal, what else have you not told me?"

A trace of impatience flashed across Gloria's eyes. Was he angry?

What was there to be angry about?

The next moment, she smiled spuriously and said, "I wanted to tell you everything in the past, but you kept me far away. When would I have the chance to speak to you?"

As for now.

She didn't want to say it, and she wouldn't tell this man anything because everything had nothing to do with him!

Jordy looked gloomy.

He took a deep breath and said calmly, "We can cooperate with each other."

Gloria glanced at him in surprise. Did he really not vent his anger on her?

However, before she could think further, Jordy said in a deep voice, "There's a condition."

Gloria's gaze paused for a moment. As expected, it was not that easy.

She looked at him and said calmly, "Go ahead."

Jordy raised his sharp eyes and looked at her. He said in a cold voice, "I once said that your contact with Jonathan will only make everyone think that I was stupid to be with you."

Gloria suddenly sneered, "So, if I want to cooperate with you, then I cannot contact Jonathan anymore."

Jordy stared at her coldly without saying a word.

Gloria sneered and Jordy immediately furrowed his brows.

Then, he heard her mocking voice without the slightest hesitation.

"We're divorced now. When Grandpa placed it in public, he also completely prevented you from harm. It's all my fault for being so unruly. What's there to be blind about?"

Jordy's face suddenly darkened!

"It's up to you whether you want to sign or not. Get out on your own if you can't."

Gloria looked at him speechlessly and said, "Mr. Collins, I thought that you distinguished between public and private affairs, which made me here because I thought if the plan worked, you would really pass it. But I didn't expect that Mr. Collins would start slandering others in the blink of an eye."

Jordy immediately sneered. "Do you think you're worthy?"
"Huh-Huh!" Gloria curled her lips and said, "I won't agree to such an unreasonable request. If Mr. Collins thinks it must be done, then pretend that I never came here."
Jordy's eyes froze instantly. Was Jonathan so important in her heart?
Gloria lowered her eyes to look at the watch on her wrist. She should be here now.
As expected, as soon as she put down her hand, there was a knock on the door.
Gloria had a faint smile in her eyes, and she glanced at Jordy out of the corner of his eye. She wanted to see if this man would still be like this later.

"Jordy. It's me."

Her voice was still as gentle as before.

son

Gloria's lips curled into a smile as she looked at Jordy and said, "Jordy, look, you owe my sister a huge favor. My sister is worried that I won't be able to sign the contract, so she came here in person. Do you think we should make such a request in front of my sister? Everyone will be embarrassed, right? Otherwise, she will be sad."

"She is your sister. How dare you take advantage of her when she treats you as her own sister?" Jordy's face was gloomy and his voice was cold.

However, Gloria did not mind at all. He only chuckled and said, "Don't you know that I am a vain and strong-minded person who will do anything to achieve my goals? What I am doing now is so simple. Mr. Collins, for the sake of my sister, I think you'd better bear with it."

If one's staring could kill others, then Gloria would be dead hundreds of times.

Gloria only laughed lightly as she took a few steps back, maintaining a distance between them.

It seemed as if the two of them were still talking about the cooperation, without going too far.

"Jordy?"

When there was no response from inside, Angela spoke again.

Jordy coldly glanced at Gloria as if he was warning her not to speak carelessly. Then, he softened his voice and said, "Come in."

The door suddenly opened.

Gloria raised her eyes and saw that Angela had been in the wheelchair pushed in by her assistant, Brenda.

Angela looked at Brenda and said with a gentle smile, "Wait for me outside. I'll go in myself."

"Okay."

Gloria stepped forward to stand behind Angela and had her back facing Jordy. She looked at Angela with a kind of resentment, but the next moment, she smiled and said, "Angela, I didn't expect you to worry about me when I came out to sign the contract." These words sounded like a child's play at first, but after listening carefully, Angela clearly heard the sarcasm and displeasure in her words. A cold smile flashed across Angela's eyes. After all, Gloria was demonstrating herself in front of her!

The result of the demonstration was that it was impossible to achieve her wish! Today, Gloria sent her a text message. The message read: My dear Angela, I'm in my ex-husband's office. Did you think you'd win just like that? I'm the only one in his heart. Even if I don't want him anymore, I won't let you two be together successfully

She had been occupied at that time and found that it had been half an hour since she received the text message. Regardless of much, she rushed over immediately. Angela smiled and said, "Of course. After all, you have just entered the company. Maybe you can't do a lot of things well, so I naturally have to help you." She was not surprised that Gloria would come to sign the contract. Gloria did not say anything and pushed Angela in. Jordy, who had been sitting at his desk and watching the two of them interact with each other, remained silent with a sullen face. Seeing this, Angela smiled secretly. She knew that Gloria's appearance was bound to make Jordy unhappy. The next moment, she pretended to be slightly embarrassed and said, "Did I disturb you guys?"

Gloria, who was standing behind Angela, smiled and looked at Jordy as if she was challenging him. She wanted Angela to take the initiative to enter the 'trap'. Now that Angela had said that she would help her as soon as she came in, she could not change her words even if she left. As for Jordy, who owed Angela from the very beginning, with Angela's presence, her contract could be easily signed and she did not have to agree to his messy conditions. Because Jordy couldn't make such a request in front of Angela, which would make him seem as if he still loved her, which would make Angela even sadder. That's it! Gloria's lips curled into a bigger smile. The show was about to begin.

Chapter 306

Chapter 306 Was It For Her?

Jordy had obviously seen the provocation in Gloria's eyes, and a wave of anger welled up in his heart.

if it weren't for the fact that Angela was here, he might have already lost his temper! After a short moment, he puckered his lips and said indifferently, "No."

Angela seemed to breathe a sigh of relief, and then said with a smile, "That would be good."

The smile on Gloria's lips seemed to have widened. At this moment, Angela's mind had been clouded by love, and she didn't know Gloria was setting a trap for her. She just looked at Jordy with a smile, "Jordy, what do you think of this project?"

She had a gentle smile on her face, and her demeanor was natural and graceful. It was as if she had studied the plan before, and she was confident in it.

Jordy's indifferent gaze swept over her, and in the end, he said softly, "Not bad."

Angela was a little surprised. She knew about this project. How could Jordy say such words?

Could it be because of her?

In an instant, Angela was even more secretly delighted. She turned to look at Gloria, and the smile on her lips grew wider and wider. "Gloria, you've done a good job."

Gloria smiled and sighed helplessly. "Angela, just now Mr. Collins felt awkward because of the strained relationship between us and he's still considering it. He's afraid that you'll think too much if he agrees to this contract. But after all, this is a mutually beneficial matter for the company. Can you help me persuade Mr. Collins? After all, you know that there's no possibility for me to be with Mr. Collins again."

Angela froze for a moment.

Dammit!

She finally understood!

She felt that something was wrong earlier. Why would Gloria send her such a text message!

It turned out that Gloria was making use of her! She wanted her to come over and find Jordy to achieve this cooperation!

Angela took a slight breath, restrained her emotions, and said to Jordy with a smile, "Jordy, I'm worried about Gloria so I come and have a look. Since you've already discussed the cooperation, just go as you like. Although we're very close, we can't mess up the rules and regulations. If you think there's no problem, you can sign it. If there's any problem, you can ask Gloria to make changes or reject it. You don't have to do it for my sake."

Gloria's lips curled slightly. It seemed that Angela had noticed it.

But so what? The thing was she came here.

As long as she came here, there would be no problem with the cooperation this time.

Jordy looked calm and said, "You did a good job in teaching her."

Angela was speechless.

Astonishment flitted across her eyes. However, she was unable to make heads or tails of it, and could only smile.

Gloria pursed her lips. Did Jordy not want to admit that this plan had something to do with her? Or did he not believe that this plan had anything to do with her, to begin with?

Angela dawdled for a moment and said, "Jordy, are you satisfied with this plan?"

Jordy's cold gaze swept over Gloria. Seeing the victorious smile on her face, he calmly said, "Currently, the preliminary plan is acceptable and we can follow the contract. However, in the future, I will need someone to work on this case to hand it over to me and follow it up."

Angela was a little shocked. "You've accepted the plan!"

Gloria froze.

Did Jordy say those words deliberately for her to hear?

She subconsciously looked at Jordy and saw the sneer and sarcasm in his eyes.

Gloria was speechless.

As expected, he would make things difficult for her in the future.

She took advantage of Angela, who had once saved his life, to make him have no choice but to agree. He felt wrong, so he would make things difficult for her in many ways after the cooperation!

The next moment, she smiled. "If that's the case, Angela, I won't disturb you and Mr. Collins anymore. I'll be waiting for your notice anytime."

Chapter 307

Chapter 307 Doesn't She Really Care About Jordy?

Angela took in a deep breath. Forget it, so what if Gloria was allowed to complete this mission? She had five more missions this month.

And according to usual practice, it was impossible for her to leave the company this month.

After thinking it through, Angela looked at Jordy and said, "Jordy, since you still have work to do, I will leave with Gloria first."

Jordy's brows furrowed slightly, but in the end, he said in a deep voice, "You haven't fully recovered yet. Don't always think too much for others. Even if you waste your energy, others may not appreciate it."

Gloria had just reached the door when she heard Jordy's words.

The corners of her mouth twitched, and she continued walking out.

There was a smile in Angela's eyes. She liked it when these two people were fighting against each other. Now she was more and more sure that Jordy agreed to Gloria's plan because of her.

This could be considered letting Gloria off lightly.

After all, the Collins Group owned large family business, and this plan would be beneficial to the White Group as well. For Jordy, it was not a big deal to sacrifice all this for her.

asi

She shook her head and said, "Jordy, you may have misunderstood me this time. I'll explain it to you next time. Gloria has just been away. I'll go after her first."

Jordy didn't say anything this time and just nodded lightly.

Brenda pushed Angela and caught up with Gloria in no time at all.

"Gloria." Angela still put on a smile on her face.

Gloria turned her head and saw Angela's gentle gaze.

Angela smiled. "Shall we go back together? Where do you live? Should I drive you?"

"Okay."

It just so happened that she had something to tell Angela.

Soon, the two of them got in the car.

car

The driver was Brenda.

This was Angela's confidante. Brenda had known all her facial expressions. The moment after the car left, Angela sneered directly at Gloria and said, "Gloria, well done today."

Gloria sneered, "Wasn't it all thanks to you that I was able to do what I did? However, from what I did today, you could see that Jordy is concerned about you, which isn't a loss, is it?"

There was a flash of satisfaction in Angela's eyes. "Yeah, today, because of this, I will forgive you. But in order to complete this cooperation, you sent me such a text message. You are finished."

Gloria couldn't help but laugh, "You can show it to him, I don't care."

Angela frowned. Why was she so calm?

"Doesn't she really care about Jordy?"

That was impossible.

Gloria was acting in the opposite direction right now. Did she have any other ideas?

Through this text message, could she even make Jordy treat her even better?

Angela looked at her coldly. "What do you mean?"

Gloria's lips curled up slightly, "Angela, you can guess what I mean."

She didn't look at Angela, and her expression was calm, but sometimes, she felt that...

The woman in front of her might be one of the murderers who caused her father's death, but now she actually smiled at this woman.

Angela frowned and immediately said in a cold voice, "As your sister, I have to give you a few words of advice. You can't be Cinderella. You should know yourself well."

Gloria nodded her head with a faint smile, "That makes sense."

Angela instantly realized that she was mocking her. Instead of being angry, Angela smiled and said, "That's all I have to say. Take care."

Today, Angela was annoyed by the meeting between Gloria and Jordy. However, she was also happy that Jordy had helped Gloria account for her.

Gloria behaved as usual but her phone suddenly rang. When she saw the contents, her expression changed greatly and she immediately ordered solemnly, "Stop the car!"

Brenda was a little surprised, and she quickly glanced at Angela in the rearview mirror. Without Angela's order, she could not directly listen to Gloria's order. Otherwise, she would be punished by Angela when she returned.

Angela turned to look at her in confusion. "Where are you going?"

Gloria was indifferent as she said, "You're sending me off today just to put on a show. Angela, there's no point in us continuing to ride in the car. I still have some matters to attend to, so I won't be playing word games with you."

Angela frowned tightly. Is Jordy looking for her?

Could it be that the two of them were going to meet again?

She immediately said, "Where are you going? I'll ask Brenda to send you off."

Gloria smiled faintly and said, "Don't worry! I won't meet Jordy again."

Angela frowned and immediately said in a deep voice, "Stop the car!"

WI

Brenda immediately turned right and slowly pulled over.

Angela coldly looked at Gloria without saying a word.

She wanted to warn Gloria that it would be best if she behaved herself, but warning her would be of no use. Not only would Gloria not do as she said, but she would also return to annoy her.

After Gloria alighted from the car, she casually hailed a taxi.

Angela, with a gloomy face, said, "Brenda, just shut the door. Be careful and follow her." "Okay."

Seeing that Gloria had not gone to look for Jordy, Angela finally heaved a sigh of relief.

However, she also wanted to know where Gloria was going.

But when she found that Gloria finally got out of the car in front of the law firm, her face suddenly darkened.

Had she known earlier that Gloria would be here, she would not have wasted any time or energy following her. She gritted her teeth, "Let's go!"

Gloria walked to the door and slowly turned to look at the intersection. Seeing the black car slowly be away, her eyes flashed with sarcasm as she walked in.

At this moment, the other lawyers had already gotten off work, and only Irene was still waiting for Gloria.

Upon seeing Gloria, she looked serious, "Gloria."

Gloria nodded her head, then walked to Irene and sat down, "Irene, please tell me what you have found."

Irene said with a complicated look, "Everything about your father was normal at the beginning, but there was something wrong with your uncle. I found that he was very close to a doctor. They didn't have much contact before, but this doctor is good at..." Gloria blinked slightly, "Go ahead."

In fact, she was already mentally prepared. She had already gone back and done the test on the piece she took out from her father's room.

"This doctor knows well about the structure of a human, and he is good at making poison."

Gloria immediately clenched her fists, "Where is the doctor?"

"After your father died, he resigned. I'm still looking for him."

"As for your father, I have checked some records of his going in and out of the hospital. There is no big problem with his heart at all."

Gloria pursed her lips and did not say anything.

Irene's face darkened. "That's all I can find out now. Your uncle's too secretive. If I want to find out the truth of Norma, I'll have to start with the servants."

Gloria pursed her lips and nodded, "I see."

Irene didn't look well, "Your uncle and your father are blood brothers, and your father has paid so much to help your uncle, but he...! Are the interests really so important in his eyes!"

Gloria sneered, "In his eyes, there has never been any familial love."

Irene sighed and looked at her. "What are you gonna do next?"

"For the time being, I cannot act rashly. Without sufficient evidence, I am unable to send them into prison."

Irene pursed her lips and said, "Then if you need anything, just tell me."

Gloria nodded her head, "Regarding my father's case, let them continue to investigate. Perhaps there are some other guys that we haven't noticed yet."

"Okay."

Gloria and Irene exchanged a few words before leaving together.

Irene sent Gloria home.

On the way home, Gloria was constantly pondering the situation.

Claude's attempt to take over the White Group was just an excuse.

In fact, during this period, he could convince some people in the company.

If so, she would surely be able to find something from the shareholders.

Now, she had to promote inside the company as soon as possible!

She had been thinking alone all the way.

When they arrived and when Irene had just stopped the car, Gloria still couldn't figure it out. Irene looked at Gloria and said in a deep voice, "So what did they do to your father?"

He really did have a heart problem before he passed away.”

A cold smile flashed across Gloria’s eyes, “They asked my father to eat regularly a kind of calcium tablet, saying that it would be good for his health. My dad was not on his guard against them.”

“There is something wrong with it?”

“No.”

Irene frowned slightly, “Then why?”

“There is one thing that absolutely cannot be eaten together with the calcium tablet. I guess they don’t dare to take out such a thing openly. They must have crushed it into food without anyone knowing. Over time, there was something wrong with my dad’s heart.”

“Damn it! So despicable!” Irene furiously knocked on the steering wheel!

Gloria controlled her emotions and smiled at Irene, “Thank you, Irene. I have bought a kind of new coffee recently, which tastes pretty good. Shall we go up and try it?”

Irene was the one who loved drinking coffee the most.

Gloria often prepared some good coffee for her on weekdays.

Irene smiled and said, “No, it’s getting late. I’ll come another day.”

Gloria didn’t insist and watched as Irene left.

She stood still and was not in a hurry to go upstairs. She looked cold.

The evidence must have been eliminated by them, and they were all family. In the beginning, they were respectful to each other, so they would not really suspect anything about each other, which gave them enough time to get rid of the evidence.

Gloria closed her eyes. She stopped being entangled and walked upstairs.

The next day.

Gloria went to work after breakfast.

When she arrived at the office, Sheila looked at her with the same sympathetic look as yesterday. “Gloria, although the result is unsatisfactory, we... just work hard to have a clear conscience.”

Sheila’s voice was soft and cute. Gloria smiled and nodded her head, “Okay, thank you.”

There was no problem with Jordy’s side.

On Jonathan’s side, she guessed that there was a 70% chance that Jonathan would agree. She would not urge Jonathan because she would continue to talk about the next topic

Sheila didn’t know that Gloria would be so successful, so she sighed, “Although it’s a test for you, you are new here and have to start all over again. I’m a nobody, otherwise, I would have helped you.”

Gloria smiled lightly, “Thank you, but leave it to fate.”

Although she said so, she always felt that man could conquer nature.

After dealing with Jordy, she felt that there was no problem with anything else.

Gloria had already taken out her phone. She wanted to call Mr. Waydell’s assistant, but Mr. Waydell’s style...

Gloria frowned slightly and finally dialed the number.

“Hello, who’s that?”

“Hello, this is Gloria from Foreign Affairs Department in the White Group. May I ask when Mr. Waydell will be free? Why don’t we have a meal together?”

Chapter 310 I’m Worried About You

The one on the other end of the line was slightly surprised, “Miss White?”
“Yeah.”

The assistant paused for a moment before saying softly, “All right. Mr. Waydell is in a meeting right now. I’ll pass on the message to him and call you back later.”

“Okay, thank you.”

Just like that, the two of them hung up.

The assistant put down his phone and went straight to Mr. Waydell’s office, At this moment, Mr. Waydell was sitting at his desk. He was panting heavily. Obviously, he was too fat.

He looked to be in his forties. He wore a pair of white-framed glasses, which made him greasy. Many women couldn’t bear to look at him directly.

Knowing that his assistant had come in, he didn’t even raise his head and continued to look at the photo of the beautiful woman on his phone.

The assistant had long been used to Mr. Waydell’s behavior, but he just walked to his desk.

His assistant was a male assistant. Although Mr. Waydell was lecherous, he left most of the work to the man. He also knew that lust led to stupidity, so he didn’t want the secretary to get too close to him.

If you want to play with women, just find one outside.

His principle was not to support women to be in power, because most of the people in power relied on their good-looking. A woman was eye candy with big breasts and no brain. If it was handed over to these women, his company would be over.

“Mr. Waydell, Miss White gave me a call and said that she wanted to invite you for dinner.”

Mr. Waydell stopped flipping through the photos and immediately looked up at his assistant. “Who are you talking about?”

“Miss White.”

Mr. Waydell’s interest was immediately aroused, and his greasy face was full of excitement.

“Which one?! Jordy’s ex-wife?”

The assistant paused for a moment. “Yeah, it’s her. I just made an investigation, knowing that she is now working as an employee of the Foreign Affairs Department in White Group.”

Mr. Waydell laughed. "Hah-hah, an invitation from a beautiful lady, I have to go. Tell her that I have time tonight. I'll book the address..."

Speaking of this, he hesitated, because he just wanted to say the presidential suite that he often had.

However, considering Gloria's status, he hesitated for a moment before lightly saying, "Let's go to the clubhouse I used to go to. Book a decent room."

His assistant felt a bit worried and said, "Mr. Waydell, you... after all, she is related to Mr. Brown. If you..."

"What's there to worry about for a woman who had once had sex with others? I'll sleep with her for one night. After that, she can date anyone she wants. businessmen meet because of profit. If she wants to cooperate with me, she has to pay the price."

"But !

"Okay, if you have arranged it, call her and tell her that I'm very busy and agreed to meet her for her sake."

The assistant glanced at Mr. Waydell, who was playing with his mobile phone leisurely and nodded. "Okay."

It was time to get off work, but Gloria had not been away from the company. She wanted to wait for the time to go straight to meet Mr. Waydell.

Sheila's heart ached as she looked at Gloria, "Gloria, we're already off work. Shall we go together?"

Gloria smiled, "I am sorry. But I still have some matters to take care of. I'll leave later."

Sheila sighed and she was a little worried. "Are... Are you really going to meet Mr. Waydell today? Why don't I accompany you?"

"Take it easy. It's okay."

Today, Sheila had been persuading her that Gloria was grateful for her help.

Sheila frowned. "But this Mr. Waydell... There is really something wrong with him. He is an old fox. When he talks to women about cooperation, he only cares about himself and doesn't even mention cooperation. You are still so beautiful. Gloria, I'm worried about you."
