Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 391

Chapter 391 You Are More Clever Than Your Father

Gloria nodded and opened her mouth again, "To be honest, Mr. Maguire, the original plan requires that the Brown family must make all the investment and the White family would promise to cooperate with the work. I didn't change the core requirement of the plan and the direction of technological development. But I changed the requirements of how it should be implemented. I reshaped it according to the outline of the original plan."

'Ted was all the more surprised "Did you write all this?"

Gloria nodded, "I had changed the project with the Brown family before."

Ted looked at Gloria again, this time completely amazed, "Well, that is very good. I guess your father would be very happy if he saw you have such remarkable capability."

Gloria's eyes looked dim all of a sudden.

What she regretted most was that she left for her lover and didn't stay with her father to accompany him. If she found out about it earlier, her father wouldn't die at all. That was the most regretful and helpless moment in her life.

Ted noticed the change in her expression and immediately explained, "Sweetheart, we cannot bring the deceased back to life. Don't be too sad. As long as you are excellent enough, you can create your own niche, and take back what used to belong to you. Your father would rest in peace in heaven."

Gloria's body shook violently. She spontaneously looked at Ted, her lips convulsing as if to say something. At that moment, she didn't know what to say.

"Uncle, you..." Nydia looked at Ted incredulously, a little shocked. She couldn't believe that her uncle couldn't understand Gloria's bitterness.

When her uncle said such words, she believed he must support Gloria. She suddenly remembered that her uncle was in the same league as Gloria's father. Her uncle also held the company's shares for 10%, which was quite a lot.

Ted sighed and said, "I know that you are having a hard time now, and your uncle has completely changed now. As an outsider, there are some things that I only feel helpless. Girl, you must buck up. That is the only condition for me to support you. Now that I see your plan, I think it's very good."

Gloria's eyes flickered.

Gloria was clear about Ted's character.

She inhaled slightly and continued, "Mr. Maguire, I came to you to ask for your help. Mr. Brown agreed to this plan, but on one condition."

Ted was shocked to hear that, but afterwards, he felt more certain. Then he nodded and said, "your plan is excellent. Not all people can do this. Jonathan must be unwilling to let go of this plan. So what is the condition he offered?"

"He asked me to take charge of the plan in person." Gloria was outspoken. She felt there was no need to hold it back from Ted.

I wouldn't come to you for help if I have doubts about you. I trust you, Mr. Maguire.

Ted looked surprised. He looked at Gloria and asked, "Gloria, do you have confidence in yourself?"

Gloria nodded solemnly, "when I first designed this plan, I had a full set of measures planned in my heart. So yes, I have confidence."

Her voice sounded very calm, and she didn't deliberately accentuate any word for emphasis. But Nydia looked at Gloria and felt that she was so remarkable as if she was shining like gold. The natural confidence shown by her was the best statement and proof of her capability.

Ted chuckled and said with some relief, "You are really like your father, but you are much more clever than him."

He had heard all the recent news about Gloria.

Of course, even if he didn't do it on purpose, he would receive news from other purposeful people who spread the news,

The people around him, the media and the Internet were all hyping about it.

After a pause, he looked at Gloria again and said, "so do you want me to help you implement this?"

Chapter 392 Are You Afraid?

Gloria nodded, "I did it with normal procedure, but things went to cousin, she was afraid that if I screwed up, I might ruin the reputation of the company."

Ted suddenly snorted coldly, "Your uncle's family is getting stronger and stronger."

Gloria pursed her lips and didn't speak, but Nydia said, irritated, "I also think so. Uncle, do you know what happened on the birthday banquet of Old Mrs. Collins? Angela wanted to thwart Gloria's confidence. She bought so many jade bracelets for her grandmother just because she thought Gloria had done the same. She wanted to steal Gloria's thunder."

"I've heard about that." Ted nodded, looked at Gloria and whispered, "Don't worry, I'll take charge of this matter. Tomorrow I'll let the company hold a meeting, and then let you and Angela go there."

Nydia beamed, "Uncle, are you going to help Gloria get back?"

"Of course." Ted smiled tenderly, "Although Claude has a strong learning ability, his vision is still not profound enough. The company can still operate until now totally because of its foundation set by the forerunners. If you continue to let Claude manage the company, it will only lead to its doom. I was in this company when it was first started. And I don't want my contribution to be ruined by Claude. It's not what I want to see."

While speaking, Ted gradually looked helpless and solemn. He said, "Besides, Gloria, you are like your father, I really hope you can take over the company."

Nydia looked happier, “My God! Uncle, it would be easier for Gloria with your help in the future!”

Gloria was touched and wept a little. She nodded slightly and said, “This company is built with my father’s painstaking efforts, and I won’t let other people trample it.”

“Good!” Ted felt quite relieved. “You are an excellent girl. You can create so many miracles at such a young age. I trust you. So, can you tell me about this plan in detail?”

Ted seemed to want to know more, but Gloria knew that Ted wanted to test her capability. After all, what he had to do next was a subversive deed that was quite like gambling. He was afraid that failure might follow success at a faster speed.

Gloria nodded immediately, “Sure.”

Then, Gloria made a comprehensive explanation about the planning and implementation of the plan, as well as the promotion of the market, the operation mode, the phased coverage and so on. She talked for almost an hour, but Ted didn’t feel tired. Instead, he became more and more excited listening to this.

Nydia looked at Gloria with admiration. Her eyes were full of surprises. God, how is it possible for Gloria to be so intelligent? How can there be so many marvelous ideas in her head?

As Gloria finished, she said, “This is all I can think of for now, and there may be further improvements.”

Ted was completely shocked, and then he nodded, “Well, very good. You may make some adjustments by then. Have you talked to Mr. Brown about this? If you could manage to repeat what you’ve told me, he may be convinced.”

Gloria smiled awkwardly, “not yet.”

“No wonder he will choose to let you do this. You can get ready and we’ll have a general conference in the meeting room at 10 o’clock tomorrow. Then I will let you two talk and argue with each other openly. By then, I’m sure there will be many people who will suppress you in order to defend the Claude’s family. Are you afraid of that?”

Chapter 393 Are You Ready Yet?

Gloria smiled and shook her head, "No, I'm not afraid."

In fact, Ted can also choose not to let Angela show up at the meeting. If he did so, Gloria would succeed more easily since no one was ready to help Angela in the confrontation.

But this would not be a complete victory and it would also make people gossip about how she brought no honor to her unfair victory.

On the contrary, if Ted let the two of them confront each other directly, it would be another matter. Winning would be convincing.

"Well, I trust you, young girl. Since you've come here, we can talk more. Are you two tired? Why don't you stay here tonight? You can take a rest here."

Nydia laughed, "Thank you, Uncle. But it's still quite early. If you're not tired, Uncle, we'll talk for more."

Ted nodded. He really didn't want to let the two of them leave because he still had a lot of things to ask.

Seeing that Gloria did not object, he looked at Gloria and said softly, "So, Gloria, what do you think of the development of the company now?"

Gloria was a little surprised, "Mr. Maguire?"

"You can tell me. I just want to hear your personal opinion."

Personal.

The word "personal" rang loudly in Ted's mouth.

Ted had been an elite in the trade, and he was also very keen on discovering talents. Moreover, he could see through whether Gloria was talking about her own views or not at once.

He still wanted to test if Gloria had the capability.

Gloria paused and finally said, "In fact, when my father was managing the company, there had been problems. But my uncle's taking over the company had only made the problems worse."

Ted was shocked. He said, "Go ahead."

It seemed her words suddenly dawned on him, sparking up the passion and disappointment from the bottom of his at that moment.

The passion was directed at the development of the company while his disappointment was with the current decadence of the company, which he felt hopeless turning the tide.

Gloria sighed and told him everything she found and saw.

Every time she made a point, Ted couldn't help nodding in agreement.

Nydia had become totally amazed.

She couldn't understand what these two people were talking about, but she could feel that it was too obscure and difficult for herself to understand.

It was already late at night until they finished talking.

Ted knew that it was too late and immediately apologized to the two of them, "Sorry, girls, I was so excited to talk that I forgot the time. I didn't expect it is so late now. Why don't you sleep here tonight?"

Nydia laughed, "No, thank you, Uncle. We will go home. Maybe we can talk another day."

Knowing that Gloria might not be accustomed to staying here, Ted didn't force her to stay. He nodded and said, "I'll have someone send you back."

"Don't bother, Uncle..."

"It's too late. It's not safe to let you two girls go home alone."

Ted quickly took out his mobile phone, dialed a number and asked an assistant to come. Then he looked at Gloria and said, "I believe you can build the White family a new future, Gloria. I'm waiting to see it."

In his words, Gloria could sense his excitement.

Gloria seemed to be looking forward to that day as well. She nodded, "Mr. Maguire, I will work hard to do it. Now with your support, I am more confident and motivated."

"It's not just my support. There were many people who supported your father in those days. I'll contact them and see you in private."

Gloria nodded gratefully, "Thank you, Mr. Maguire."

"You're welcome."

They chatted for some more while and they left.

Nydia lived in Gloria's home. Looking at Gloria, Nydia couldn't help but say, "Honey, are you ready yet?"

Chapter 394 Take Advantage of Me?

Gloria smiled, "Yes, I'm ready."

Nydia couldn't help sighing as if she was quite helpless. "Gloria, I just think I'm like a child who hasn't grown up compared with you. I mean, we're obviously the same age, but you're like my elder sister."

Gloria couldn't help laughing, "Well, then let me be your elder sister from now on."

Nydia immediately laughed, pretended to sulky, "Oh, screw it. You want to take advantage of me?"

Gloria couldn't help laughing, "Alright, let's go to bed. I'll make breakfast for you tomorrow morning."

"Wow! Okay, I'll go to bed now. I'll go take a nice rest and enjoy breakfast tomorrow!"

Gloria laughed and said nothing.

The two went into the bedroom, got washed and went to bed.

Soon it was the next day.

After breakfast, Nydia went to work contentedly.

Gloria went to the company as usual. She was in a good state. Sheila was a little surprised when she saw Gloria. She couldn't help saying with admiration, "Gloria, you really have a nice mindset. I was just worrying about whether you would be disappointed because of ..."

Gloria smiled, "No, I'm not. I feel alright now."

Sheila smiled, "That's nice. Let's get back to work."

Gloria nodded without saying anything.

Soon it was 9:30.

Just as Gloria was preparing to go to the conference room, someone came and knocked on the door.

Everyone looked up at the woman in a formal suit. They were surprised to see her.

Isn't this Mr. Maguire's secretary?

Why would she suddenly come here?

The secretary looked at Gloria with a faint smile on her face. She said, "Miss White, it is half an hour before the meeting. I am here to inform you in advance. Please go to the top floor meeting room in ten minutes."

Gloria nodded gratefully, "Okay."

Gloria nodded gratefully, "Okay."

The secretary smiled and left.

The colleagues looked at Gloria with astonishment. What was going on?

Sheila looked at Gloria with a confused face and said, "Gloria, what's the matter with this?"

Sheila and Gloria had quite a nice relationship in the office. As for others, Gloria doesn't communicate with them much.

Gloria smiled, "Wait until I come back this time. If it goes well, you can know what happened. I'll tell you if it doesn't go well."

Hearing this, Sheila's curiosity increased, but the next moment she thought of something, looking at Gloria a little unexpectedly. "Gloria, you...!"

Seeing that Sheila had guessed what had happened, Gloria gave her a look, signaling her to keep silent about it. Sheila immediately understood.

But others were more confused. What is that all about?

Some smart ones obviously had guessed something. But they didn't say anything.

Gloria tidied up the things on her table, and did not follow the secretary's time. Instead, she left directly at that moment in front of all the people in the office.

Until the figure of Gloria disappeared, everyone's eyes turned to Sheila with curiosity.

A young girl winked, looked at Sheila and said curiously, "Sheila, did you know what meeting Miss White is going to have?"

Others remained silent, obviously waiting for Sheila's response.

Sheila pressed her lips, shook her head and said, "I don't know if I guessed it right, but now I couldn't tell you. It's confidential."

Since she had said so, others couldn't ask any more. Soon they got bored.

Not long after, Gloria arrived at the top floor.

Chapter 395 It's All Fake

In the conference room, several people came one after another.

"Gloria?"

Some of them were obviously confused. The meeting was an urgent one. Not everyone knew what the situation was, and it was said to be held by Mr. Maguire.

Mr. Maguire was a very important figure in the company.

But how could we meet Gloria here this time?

Everyone started to stare at her.

Gloria smiled, "Good morning, everyone."

People nodded politely to her, but they were still confused.

Gloria came over and sat down in a corner.

It was the most inconspicuous corner, which could be said to be the seat for the participants who had the lowest status in the company.

Everyone looked at her, with traces of complexity in their eyes.

After all, they thought the status of Gloria was inappropriate for the meeting Things change so quickly. Now it is not like back then.

Soon, everyone walked in and sat in their positions.

Gloria's corner was actually near the door. As soon as one came in, he or she could see Gloria sitting there.

When Angela came in with a folder, the first person she saw was Gloria. And suddenly her heart sank.

The next moment, Angela seemed to have a bad intuition in her heart.

Gloria happened to raise her head and smile faintly, like showing a greeting to her cousin. But that smile somehow looked like a provocation.

Angela took a deep breath, restrained her anger, looked at Gloria and said, "Gloria, why did you come here?"

Everyone looked in their direction one by one. They examined the two cousins and wondered about their complicated relationship.

Although Angela was a small leader in the company, her position was still so obscure in the company that the seniors in the company wouldn't care about her.

However, the point was that she was the daughter of Claude, the president of the company. So everyone had to respect her.

Looking at Gloria, the daughter of the former president of the board, the ex-wife of Jordy, the woman intensely pursued by Jonathan, and an elite lawyer with an alias called Norma. Gloria was quite an eye-catching woman.

The two cousins were equally and interestingly powerful.

Gloria said calmly, "Mr. Maguire asked me to come."

"Mr. Maguire?" A surprise crossed Angela's eyes. The bad intuition was getting stronger and stronger in her heart.

And she thought of what Gloria had said to her the other day.

Gloria had said, "Angela, do you think your decision could influence the whole company?"

So, did she go to see Ted?

Ted had always supported Gloria's father back then and now he plays a decisive role in the company. But he often opposes my father.

Now is he having ways to support Gloria?

Damn!

When she received the notice of the meeting, she felt a little confused. But she thought that she had quite a special identity as the daughter of Claude. So she thought maybe it was appropriate to participate in the meeting.

But then, seeing Gloria there, her superiority seemed to be eliminated at once.

Probably, this is a trick designed by Gloria herself. She plotted all this to make me fall into her trap.

Gloria smiled, "Yes, Angela, there are many people attending this meeting. Why don't you take a seat?"

Angela didn't answer.

Looking at Gloria's seat, Angela was a little annoyed because she had to sit next to Gloria. She couldn't help but whisper to her again. "Do you have anything to do with this meeting?"

Gloria smiled, "what do you think?"

Her voice sounded casual. But it was only audible between the two of them.

Angela immediately frowned, "You..."

Gloria sneered again. "Angela, you should always smile today, or otherwise everyone will think that you, who used to be so gentle and so nice, have always been pretending."
