The clerk stopped thinking about that and began to introduce the underwear seriously.

Nydia thought that the clerk in front of her was very excellent and could even be promoted to the store manager.

Nydia bought six pairs of underwear at one go.

When she went out of the shop, she was still praising the clerk, saying that she was very eloquent.

Gloria chuckled, "They are a famous brand. They naturally need excellent employees."

"Right, why did that woman approach you? Does she regard you as her rival?"

After all... the relationship between Rachel, Gloria, and Jordy... was complicated.

At this moment, they were walking on the street. Although there were passersby around, Nydia's voice wasn't loud and she didn't mention Rachel's name.

Gloria's eyes froze slightly. Remembering Rachel's easygoing appearance, she said in a deep voice, "Maybe... she was just trying to sound me out."

Under such circumstances, no one would think that Rachel wanted to make friends with Gloria. Rachel had been purposeful since the beginning, and she had shown her love for Jordy many times. However, Gloria and Jordy were still entangled.

"I don't know if she is a frank and forthright person. If she is like Angela, it will be tricky."

After all... Rachel was nobler than Angela, and she was the young lady of the Roberts family. It would be easier for her to make moves against Gloria.

Moreover, Rachel was much smarter than Angela. Even if the Roberts family was gone, Rachel could lead the Tamah Group alone. She was much more excellent than Angela. If she really wanted to deal with Gloria...

Thinking of this, Nydia suddenly got a little worried. She looked at Gloria, "Gloria, she..."

Gloria smiled, "I won't remarry Jordy, so she might not really think of me as a rival, and I won't regard her as my rival. Don't worry."

Nydia couldn't help sighing, "Alas, it would be great if you like Bryson. He is faithful, but... love between men and women is complicated."

The dream Nydia had last night suddenly flashed in her mind. That guy in her dream was really handsome! She liked him!

Gloria just smiled wryly, "Yes, I also hope that the person I fell in love with was Bryson, not Jordy."

That was impossible.

As Nydia said, love between men and women was complicated.

At this moment, Rachel and her best friend Gladys also came out, but they didn't carry anything in their hands. Obviously, they had servants who helped them with that.

They moved forward.

Gladys looked at Rachel suspiciously, "Rachel, why were you so nice to that woman? She's Gloria."

Rachel smiled, "I appreciate her ability. She is excellent."

"What?" Gladys looked puzzled, "You want to be friends with her?"

"You see the air between me and her. You think we will be friends?" Rachel smiled at ease. Her attitude towards Gloria was ambiguous, which made Gladys puzzled completely.

Chapter 617 She couldn't Help Laughing

"Ah? Then what do you mean by saying hello to her just now?"

Gladys had been friends with Rachel for several years. She was simple and had been protected well by Rachel these years. At least others dare not to hurt her for the sake of Rachel.

But...

After being friends with Rachel for so long, she was still simple and pure in thought.

She was stubborn but wasn't a bad person.

Rachel smiled, "I just appreciate her and wanted to have lunch with her."

"Huh? You appreciate her? So you still want to be friends with her, but you can't. Why did you invite her to lunch?"

Rachel said helplessly, "Alright, let's wander around and go to eat later. What do you want to eat?"

Gladys was confused, "I really don't understand what's going on... Can you just tell me what you are thinking?"

"Nothing. I just want to sound her out. Understand?"

It suddenly dawned on Gladys, "Oh, oh... I see! I would have understood if you had said so."

Rachel curled her lip, as if she were helpless.

They wandered around the mall, but Gladys still felt strange. She always felt that something was wrong.

As for Gloria and Nydia, they strolled around the mall and then had lunch in a restaurant.

Gloria's cell phone rang just after they ordered food.

When she saw the caller ID, she froze for an instant.

"Why? Who is it?"

"Jordy's grandmother." Gloria answered the phone after saying this.

Nydia blinked and looked at Gloria without speaking

"Hello, grandma." Gloria's voice was very soft. She had a smile on her lips.

"Hi, Gloria, did you miss me?"

Karen's gentle voice came to Gloria's ear. Gloria thought of her mild and benevolent countenance. She said with a smile, "Sure, you..."

Before she could finish speaking, Karen interrupted her with some disappointment, "No, you didn't! You didn't miss me at all! You didn't!"

"No, that's not true." Gloria explained to Karen patiently.

Nydia covered her mouth and sniggered. They always bickered like this. Although she didn't see this very often, she knew it was normal.

However, it always surprised her. Karen still liked Gloria so much.

Karen said in dismay, "How long has it been since you came to see me?"

Gloria's eyelashes fluttered slightly, "I..."

It was not that she didn't want to visit her, but that her awkward relationship with Jordy didn't allow her to do that.

In addition, she had been staying at home for recovery in the past few months, so she couldn't visit her.

Grandma might not know that she had the car accident.

"Look! You can't even explain it. You really didn't miss me. Alas... I'm old. Nobody likes old people like me."

Karen was getting sadder and sadder, as if she would cry the next moment.

Nydia could not help laughing when she saw Gloria's complicated expression.

She heard some words Karen said.

Gloria rested her hand on her forehead and hurriedly said, "Grandma, I missed you. How can I dislike you? I'll visit you the next two days."

Chapter 618 She Was Amused

"Oh, really? What if you are just lying to me?"

Karen sounded helpless but she seemed to feel terrible.

Gloria said with resignation, "No, I'm not lying to you!"

"Are you free this evening? Do you want to have dinner with me? They are not home. Just the two of us."

Karen sounded pitiful, as if she were afraid Gloria would say no.

If they talked face to face, Gloria might see her expectant eyes.

Gloria naturally didn't want to disappoint her, so she could only say with a smile, "OK, let's have dinner together."

"Really? You will come, right?"

Gloria chuckled, "Grandma, I never lied to you, did I?"

If the other people of the Collins family were not at home, she guessed she could have dinner and chat with grandma. She didn't want to go to their place before, because not all Collins liked her.

"Great!" Karen was so happy and she immediately added, "They're all out. Come here when you finish your work. I will be waiting for you at home."

Gloria chuckled, "OK."

Then they said something else and hung up.

Nydia looked at Gloria, "You'll go to the Collins family?"

"Yes, we can stroll around later, and then I'll go to grandma. She's bored at home." Gloria said earnestly.

Nydia laughed, "Old people from big families always despise the poor and curry favor with the rich, and they often look down on the women who marry into their families. However, Mrs. Collins is so gentle and nice to you, as if you were her own granddaughter."

Gloria smiled, "Yes, I was also surprised. Grandma was very kind to me and loved me very much before. When I got divorced, I was wondering if she would be disappointed with me. However, she was just afraid that I would be looked down upon by others after I got divorced. At the birthday banquet, she specially announced in front of the guests that she would treat me as her own granddaughter, which really surprised me."

Nydia chuckled, "Yeah, I was dumbfounded back then. It's just... she's one of the Collins family, and you neither wanted to upset and disappoint her nor wanted to see the Collins family often. It's hard for you..."

Gloria curled her lip, "Sometimes, I don't have other choices."

After eating, they strolled around until about 2. pm.

Then they said goodbye. Gloria arrived at the Collins' old mansion at 3. pm. She guessed that Karen probably had been awake for half an hour from her afternoon sleep.

Karen saw Gloria's figure and was immediately surprised. She didn't expect that she would come here so early. Then she took her hand happily.

"Good girl, you really came to see me so early!"

Gloria laughed, "You still didn't believe that I would come?"

"I thought you were just saying! It's been such a long time since you came to see me!" Karen complained, gripping Gloria's hand.

They sat on the sofa together, and Gloria was amused, "Don't worry. I'll come to see you when I have time."

Chapter 619 Suddenly Appeared

"Hah, okay, I will be waiting for you." Karen seemed to be in a good mood. She had a good afternoon sleep, so she was full of vigor.

They talked and laughed like real family. The contradictory identities didn't affect them at all.

Then it was time for dinner.

"Mrs. Collins, Miss White, the diner is ready. Should we serve it now?"

Karen was a little surprised, "Oh, it's time for dinner? Bring it out."

"Okay."

Karen got up with a smile, holding Gloria's hand.

However, after they came out after washing their hands, they suddenly found that the door of the old mansion was pushed open by someone.

What Does A Healthy, Sexual Relationship Look Like?

Gloria and Karen looked at it. When they saw the tall figure, their smiles stiffened.

The man raised an eyebrow slightly, "You don't want to see me?"

A surprised look flashed across Gloria's eyes.

In the past, if she and grandma had such an expression, Jordy would be upset.

But he seemed to be in a good mood?

Gloria looked away and said nothing.

Although grandma said that there would be no other people here tonight, Jordy was likely to come if he knew she was here. After all, he had tried to pocket his pride and asked her to cooperate with him.

Gloria looked away, picked up a pair of chopsticks and handed them to Karen.

Karen took them and looked at Jordy with some displeasure, "Why are you here?"

Jordy was speechless.

While he was walking to them, Karen added, "I'm going to have dinner with Gloria. What's the matter?"

Jordy was speechless.

So he should leave them alone if he was here for nothing?

When did grandma dislike him so much?

Gloria was here, so grandma wanted to drive him away?

Jordy suddenly turned sullen.

Gloria showed a faint smile.

Grandma was becoming more lovable. Moreover, she probably no longer insisted on bringing them back together. Gloria was slightly relieved.

Jordy frowned, "I came to see you, and you are trying to drive me away?"

Karen froze for an instant.

Her grandson seldom came back, so it was hurtful to drive him away?

But why did he come at this time?

Karen looked at Jordy with a frown, "So you are here to see me?"

Jordy looked calm, "Grandpa called me and said that you were at home alone today and that you were not in a very good mood recently. He wanted me to come back to see you."

Karen was speechless.

She couldn't open her mouth and ask Jordy to leave anymore.

Light flickered in Gloria's eyes. Grandma was in a bad mood recently?

She looked at Jordy, and then whispered, "Grandma, shall we eat?"

This was the Collins family's place. How could she drive Jordy away?

And Jordy came here to see his grandma who was in a bad mood and needed company. She couldn't ask grandma to drive Jordy away for her.

If she did, it would sow discord between grandma and Jordy.

Jordy was very satisfied with what Gloria did. He went to the bathroom to wash his hands and then sat down opposite Gloria.

Seeing her calm beautiful face, Jordy slightly lowered his eyes in silence.

Karen gave Gloria a worried look. Seeing that she didn't seem to be bothered about Jordy's appearance, she said, "I didn't expect that Jordy would come. Gloria, you..."

Chapter 620 I'm Eager to Do It?

You won't mind, right?

Karen didn't know how to pluck courage and finish speaking

Gloria smiled, "Grandma, I remember you like this dish best."

Saying that, she put some food in Karen's plate.

She didn't mention Jordy at all.

Karen was slightly relieved. She nodded with a smile, "Yes, let's eat! I asked them to make these dishes you like!"

Karen also put some food in Gloria's plate. They talked and laughed, completely ignoring Jordy. The atmosphere was so warm and Jordy seemed like an outsider.

He probably had gotten used to such an atmosphere. He didn't feel uncomfortable at all, and his appetite... even got better.

But...

Gloria didn't intend to stay long because of Jordy's arrival. She looked at Karen and said with a smile, "Grandma, I've been here for a long time, and I still got some work to deal with. I'll come to see you another day."

Karen felt reluctant to part with her, but when she saw that her grandson still stayed here and wanted to talk to her, she sighed, "Alas, then deal with your work and have an early rest. Don't make yourself too tired, okay?"

Gloria nodded with a smile, "OK, grandma, have an early rest. Goodbye."

"Okay, Bill, send Gloria back home."

"Okay, Mrs. Collins."

"No, I drove here."

"Oh! You live miles away, and it's getting dark. I'll be worried if you go back alone."

If it were before, she would have asked Jordy to send Gloria back.

But now...

She didn't say anything about that, which made Jordy frown slightly.

Gloria nodded, "Okay, grandma, goodnight."

"Okay, okay!" Seeing Gloria agree, Karen seemed to be in a better mood.

Gloria left without saying anything.

Jordy didn't go to see her off, and he didn't mean to leave.

Karen unconsciously rested her eyes on him and said in a suspicious tone, "Are you really here to keep me company?"

Although Jordy was very filial, he was always busy and rarely had time.

But today...

Jordy sat on the sofa with his legs crossed, resting his right hand on the armrest of the sofa, and he knocked on it twice with his knuckles casually.

"You don't believe it?" He looked less cold at this moment, and he sounded casual.

Karen frowned slightly, and the look in her eyes was more skeptical, "I should?"

Then she snorted coldly, "Just say it. Don't beat about around the bush. I know what you are up to!"

Jordy couldn't help laughing, "Grandma, you are really smart."

Karen was speechless.

He was really up to something!

She was suddenly upset!

She rolled her eyes at him, turned her head, and ignored him.

The smile on Jordy's lips widened. He moved a little closer to Karen, looked at her, and said, "Grandma, I need you to help me with one thing, and it's something you are eager to do."

Karen was puzzled.

She looked at him wordlessly, "Are you serious? It's something I'm eager to do for you?"
