

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 646-650

Chapter 646 Jordy Was Judged

If others heard Karen's words, they would look at her with strange eyes.

Only she dared to say so.

No one else dared to say that.

Mr. Collins wasn't charming?

Was she kidding? Countless women in Los Angeles liked him.

They all wanted to marry him, but Mr. Collins didn't look at them at all.

Karen glanced at her grandson and said with a worried look, "How is the company now?"

Gloria kept silent

Jordy said calmly, "It's OK. The other party gave up before they broke into the last floor."

"They gave up before they broke into the last floor? Really?" Karen always thought it was weird.

was we

"Yes." Jordy didn't want to talk much about it, "You don't have to worry about the company."

"Humph, I'm just curious. Even if it goes bankrupt, what does that have to do with me? Our family didn't get warmer after we got rich." Karen cared more about the company and warmth of her family.

However...

It was bound to be a wish that could not be fulfilled in her life. She had given up.

Gloria held Karen's arm with a smile, "Grandma, do you want to walk around some more?"

"Good." Karen obviously didn't want to talk to Jordy anymore. She grabbed Gloria's hand and walked forward while saying to Jordy, "If there's nothing else, leave. I'll walk around with Gloria.

You're just bothering us here."

Jordy was dumbfounded.

Gloria could not help laughing. A shallow smile emerged on her gentle face as she narrowed her eyes slightly.

Jordy unconsciously rested his eyes on her face.

Karen suddenly saw this. A surprised look flashed across her eyes.

Her grandson was taking this seriously this time?

He really didn't lie to her?

She had so many doubts.

She thought that he might be up to something, but now...

Deep suspicion flashed across Karen's eyes.

Gloria suddenly felt that the atmosphere was wrong. She said, holding Karen's arm, "Let's move forward. I haven't walked around the backyard for a long time."

"Hahaha, OK."

Karen looked back at Jordy with complicated eyes.

Jordy was speechless.

He clearly saw how many emotions were in Karen's eyes.

You let me down.

You deserve it.

It's late even if you regret it.

If you had known this would happen, you would never do that.

He pursed his lips and silently followed them.

Gloria and Karen talked and laughed. The air seemed particularly harmonious. Although Jordy was a taciturn man, he felt that he couldn't cut in even if he was talkative.

After walking for about 20 minutes, Gloria was afraid that Karen would be tired, so she proposed to go back and have a rest.

Karen listened to Gloria no matter what she said. Gloria came to see her frequently over the past few months. Karen even felt that she was much younger and vigor.

She didn't feel tired at all in the backyard.

"Gloria, it's getting late. Why don't you spend the night here?"

Light flickered in Gloria's eyes. She shook her head with a smile, "I'm afraid I can't. I still have some working documents to deal with at home. Otherwise, I can't use them after I go to the company tomorrow."

In fact, she was just lying. She just didn't want to stay here.

Chapter 647 A Maybach Suddenly Appeared.

Karen thought it was a pity that Gloria couldn't stay here, but she knew she couldn't keep her, "Okay, it's getting late. I can't force you to stay. Be careful. Girls are not safe alone at night."

Gloria nodded with a smile. Just when she was about to say something, Jordy said, "I'll send her back. There's something about the work that I need to talk to her about."

Gloria frowned slightly. She didn't like it.

However, they were going to work together. If Jordy instructed her to do anything, she couldn't refuse, so she didn't say anything.

Karen was a little surprised and wanted to say something, but after seeing Gloria's look, she bit back her words.

Gloria smiled at her, "Grandma, goodbye."

"Goodbye, come again when you're free, and you don't have to come to me when you are busy. Your work is more important."

Gloria nodded with a smile, "Yes, I know."

After they said something else, Jordy and Gloria went out together.

The car was in the yard. Karen had been watching them at the door. Jordy gentlemanly went to the co-driver's seat of the car and opened the door for Gloria.

Gloria had no choice but to sit in. She didn't want Karen to be worried.

Jordy glanced at Karen, "Grandma, go back."

Karen stood still, "I'll watch you leave."

Gloria's eyelashes fluttered slightly, and she suddenly remembered the video that old people watched their grandchildren leave home.

Now, grandma was like those old people.

She lowered her eyes slightly, and her mood seemed to be more complicated.

She really regarded Karen as her own grandmother.

Jordy didn't say anything else. He got in the car, closed the door, started the car and drove out directly.

Gloria saw Karen staring at their car through the rearview mirror.

She looked away and felt terrible.

The car had already left the mansion. She looked at Jordy and said calmly, "Do you really have something about the work to tell me? If not..."

Before he could finish speaking, Jordy said quietly, "I didn't need to lie to grandma."

So what he said was the truth.

Gloria paused for a moment and then said calmly, "What are you going to tell me?"

"I'll take you home. I need to use the computer."

Gloria frowned slightly, "It's late. I'll take a taxi home. You can go back and talk to me on your computer."

Jordy's expression suddenly turned cold. He knew what she meant.

He didn't respond to her, but just drove.

Gloria frowned slightly, "Pull over?"

"You're not safe alone."

A satirical look flashed across Gloria's eyes. Grandma said that girls were not safe alone at night. He was afraid that something would happen to her, and that he would be blamed by grandma?

wa

Gloria stopped speaking because she knew it was useless to talk to him.

Along the way, neither of them said anything.

After they reached the downstairs of Gloria's house, the car stopped slowly. Gloria untied her seat belt and looked at Jordy, "Thank you for the ride."

Jordy also unfastened his seat belt with a calm look.

A black Maybach was parking nearby.

At the moment of seeing Gloria, its owner opened the door suddenly.

Chapter 648 Two Men Fight for a Woman

They saw a tall man in a bright blue suit.

He was staring in Gloria's direction.

Gloria turned around and saw him walking towards her with a food box in his hand.

She froze for a moment. Why was he here?

Jordy heard the man's soft voice when he just opened the door.

"Why did you come back so late?"

Jordy turned extremely cold in an instant!

Gloria said calmly, "Why are you here?"

"I'm here to see you." Jonathan had a soft smile on his lips.

Jordy looked at him coldly, "Do you think it's okay to see her at this late hour?"

Jordy's voice sounded suddenly, but Jonathan was not surprised.

He knew that that car was Jordy's.

Jonathan narrowed his eyes slightly with a gentle smile, "What a coincidence! Mr. Collins, you are also here."

Jordy stared at him with sharp eyes and he didn't care what Jonathan meant.

Jonathan didn't feel embarrassed, but just looked at Gloria with a smile, "You must be very tired after working all day, so I brought you some midnight snacks, which is your favorite."

He handed the food box to Gloria, who frowned slightly and didn't intend to take it. How could he know what she liked?

However, Gloria only felt that the air around her was colder.

Jordy looked at Gloria coldly, "Go upstairs."

Gloria glanced at him and then rested her eyes on Jonathan, "Thank you, but I've already eaten. It's getting late. I'll invite you to my home for a cup of tea another day."

After that, she took her purse and was about to walk away directly.

But Jonathan stopped her with a soft smile, "Take it?"

Gloria only felt that her back was going to be pierced by sharp eyes.

Jonathan smiled, "Or you want me to send it to your door personally?"

Jordy sneered, "Mr. Brown, you've become so cheeky for chasing a woman?"

Jonathan smiled, looked at Jordy, and said, "I did this out of love. Mr. Collins, if you don't understand what is love, you'd better not judge others casually."

Jordy was speechless.

He pursed his lips tightly without saying anything, and he looked so sullen.

Gloria frowned. She didn't want to take it, but she had seen Jonathan's attitude. He would leave her alone only after she took it.

But if she didn't, he would send it to her door himself.

In order to avoid getting into any trouble in front of the two men, Gloria had to take the food box and walk towards the door of the building.

She was busy before, but she would move tomorrow!

Jonathan and Jordy, however, did not mean to chase Gloria. They stood still.

Gloria's figure gradually disappeared under their gazes.

Then, they looked at each other.

Jordy's expression was so cold. He said, "Leave her alone."

Jonathan slowly showed a smile, "Mr. Collins, you've got divorced with her. You should know that you two couldn't get back together."

Jordy sniffed coldly, looked at Jonathan, and said in a flat tone, "Mr. Brown, you should know 'see no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil'."

Jonathan's smile widened, "It seems that you don't like to hear the truth."

Chapter 649 He Wished He Could Tear Him up

Jordy looked at Jonathan coldly and didn't want to waste time on him here. But Jonathan might go up to find Gloria after he left, so he frowned slightly and stood still in situ.

Jordy didn't know if Jonathan had the same thought. Jonathan just smiled, "Why don't we have some midnight snacks together?"

Jordy frowned slightly. He didn't want to eat with him, let alone stay with him.

But... he didn't want him to disturb Gloria. After taking a deep breath, he said calmly, "Okay."

Jonathan smiled without saying anything. They went back to their cars and left together.

Gloria went to the balcony and saw this scene. She didn't look away and draw the curtains until their cars were out of her sight.

She was going to take a bath and then sleep.

Now everything was developing in the direction she expected, which was satisfactory.

On the other side, the two men were not as at ease as her.

Jordy didn't want to have midnight snacks with Jonathan at all, but he was afraid that Jonathan would go to Gloria if he didn't agree.

When he was thinking this, his mobile phone suddenly rang.

W

He answered it.

Harold's voice sounded in his ear.

"Mr. Collins, it's almost time. Should I pick you up?"

Jordy frowned deeply in an instant.

He immediately said, "Call off the appointment."

Harold looked stunned, "Call it off?"

Mr. Collins agreed to see the other party by appointment and they were very likely to close the deal. If Mr. Collins called it off, they might lose a very important partner.

"Yes."

Harold was a little surprised, "Mr. Collins, are you going to do something else? This..."

"I'm going to eat with Jonathan." Jordy kept driving with a calm look.

Harold was puzzled, "You are going to eat with Mr. Brown?"

Was he kidding? He and Mr. Brown were mortal enemies. How could they eat together?

Jordy said directly with a light frown, "You'll deal with it. That's it."

After that, he hung up the phone without hesitation.

Harold was completely stunned.

Mr. Collins valued the appointment very much, but he called it off?

Why was he going to eat with Mr. Brown?

They had always been enemies.

At this moment, Jonathan was also on the phone.

Similarly, he also had a very important party to attend tonight. He planned to leave after delivering the midnight snacks to Gloria.

However, he was worried that Jordy would pester Gloria and wouldn't keep the appointment.

Then they really went to eat midnight snacks together.

When the people in the restaurant saw them, they were shocked.

Were they mistaken?

Mr. Collins and Mr. Brown came out for midnight snacks?

Were all the rumors false? They were friends?

The mental hospital.

Angela was in her room as usual, and Martha was absent-minded by her side.

She hadn't told Angela about what happened, for fear that she would be shaken up.

Even though she kept it a secret, Angela still noticed something. She looked at Martha, "Mom, what's wrong? Why are you always absent-minded? Did something happen?"

Martha immediately came out of her trance. She shook her head and said, "No."

"No?"

Chapter 650 Did the White Family Make Initiative to Act Again?

Angela knows her mother very well. Since her mother had become so nervous like this, something serious must have happened to her. Or otherwise, she could have nailed it down calmly.

Back in the past, every time Angela was pissed by something, her mother would try to help her deal with all kinds of problems. Her mother had always had that kind of strong personality.

But then, things all went wrong with her mother. Even Angela could feel that her mother was trying hard to control herself.

“Nothing serious. You only need to take good care of yourself. Don’t worry about me or anything else.” Martha squeezed a smile at Angela and said calmly.

“There is nothing I cannot accept. You can just tell me. If you don’t tell me, there will be no one offering you any advice. Just remember no matter where and when you are, we are still a family. Family help each other but others won’t care about you!”

Martha seemed to grow more irritated at the mention of the family. Because she thought Claude had already brought enough trouble.

If it weren’t for him, how could such a thing happen to my family?

As she pondered over Claude, she was so irritated that she wanted to make him suffer.

“I know, but there’s nothing important.” Martha still did not intend to tell her.

Angela frowned and said, staring at Martha. “You’re lying to me.”

“Why would I do that?” Hearing this, Martha was a little depressed. But she couldn’t express her feelings in front of her daughter.

Angela took a breath and switched to another topic. “How is the company now?”

As soon as she finished the question, she found that her mother’s face suddenly turned grim.

Angela noticed the changes in her mother’s expression.

Mother has been so unhappy these past two days. Is it because something wrong has happened to the company?

Or did Mr. Collins plot against the White family again?

“The company is fine as usual.” Martha said naturally and then added, “We don’t have to worry about this. Your father can handle them on his own.”

“What about the coming cooperation between Jordy and Gloria?”

“I guess it will be soon.” Martha still looked quite indifferent to it. She stopped for a while and looked at her daughter. She then said, “you know, there is no chance between you and Jordy any more. I guess you must have realized this by now.”

Angela felt the pangs in her heart as if she was stabbed harshly. But the next moment she sneered and answered, “I know. I won’t expect anything between us. I expect nothing to happen between me and Jordy anymore. I hate him!”

But Angela knew she would never let Jordy be with Gloria. She would never let that happen.

Martha sighed and nodded, “Alright. This is your fate. Anyway, it is nice that you can move on now. I used to think that Jordy was a nice young man with an excellent family background. If you marry him, it will bring many advantages to our family. Besides, you like him so much. But now that you have come to this, there is no need for you two to continue.”

“Yes, I see.”

Angela answered with too many words. She didn’t want to talk about this topic any more.

In fact, when she asked whether Gloria and Jordy had a cooperation just now, she only wanted to see whether that was what her mother was worrying about.

However, she saw no sign of hesitation from her mother’s answer. With that, Angela recognized that there must be something else worrying her mother.

But she didn’t trust anyone any more. She didn’t even want to seek help from her assistant Brenda. After all, she had suffered a lot from the previous experience that had made her know better than that.
