Chapter 776 A Sudden Call

“Sure.” Kathy said without hesitation, and she was a wise woman, “They fell out in the Collins family’s old mansion, which meant that there are many misunderstandings between them.”

Rachel pursed her lips, and didn’t know what to say.

Kathy took her into her arms, “Don’t think so much. If you two can be together, then be together. If you can’t, just give up. You are not someone who would cling to a man. And I don’t want you to be depressed like this.”

Rachel’s lips were trembling. She could feel that her mother wanted her to give up.

But...

She couldn’t

Jordy was so excellent...

His handsome, decisive, and noble appearance was in her mind.

She couldn’t get it out of her mind, and she really felt terrible.

After a pause, she asked, “Mom, what are they up to?”

Kathy frowned slightly, “I don’t know. Maybe Karen wanted them to remarry. She was there when Jordy picked the roses for Gloria.”

Rachel pursed her lips, and Kathy continued, “Yesterday, people there told us that Gloria told Karen about what happened to her in the company. Then Karen forced Jordy to appear in front of their company. Do you really think Jordy wanted to do that?”

In fact, Kathy did not want Rachel to dig into it. She was afraid that her daughter would be more obsessed with Jordy, but she did not want to lie to Rachel.

Moreover, Rachel was not a fool. Even if she didn’t talk about this with her, Rachel would realize it gradually. She didn’t think about it carefully just because she was overwhelmed by sadness at present.

“But... if Jordy didn’t want to do that, how could he agree to pick roses for Gloria?” Rachel bit her lip and said this in a trembling voice.

Kathy sighed, "Rachel."

Rachel's eyelashes fluttered slightly. Every time her mother called her in such a tone, she was going to say something to her seriously. She knew what was on her mother's mind.

She said directly before her mother spoke, "I won't give up on Jordy. I have been in love with him for ten years. Unless he really breaks my heart completely one day."

The look in Kathy's eyes suddenly became extremely complicated. Looking at her daughter's firm look, she sighed helplessly, "OK, but you should give up at right time."

Rachel pursed her lips and said nothing.

They sat on the sofa in silence. Rachel kept her head down and wept silently. She was trying her best to suppress her sadness. Her heart beat wildly and she was in a great fret.

They were not the only ones who were talking about the trending topic.

In a psychiatric hospital, a mother and a daughter also saw the trending topic, and they both looked sullen.

Especially Angela, she was going to be crazy again.

She was very unstable.

"Bitch! bitch! Why could she be valued by Jordy? Why?"

In the past few months, she had been in the mental hospital, living in hell!

But Gloria was so lucky. She was shining like a star outside! Why?

Right after she said that, her mobile phone rang.

Chapter 777 The Second Thing

Angela immediately looked at her mobile phone. When she saw the virtual caller ID, she answered the phone without thinking

The other side said directly, "Get ready for the second thing tomorrow."

It was still a young girl's sweet voice.

Angela immediately said, "What are you going to do?"

She did not even realize that she sounded expectant.

The other side laughed, "You've decided to work with me?"

Martha frowned deeply and shook her head at Angela, indicating that she should stay patient and calm. But Angela ignored her. She gripped her cell phone and said in a deep voice, "I will cooperate with you as long as you can make her pay a heavy price without hurting my interests!"

The other side smiled, "Since it is a cooperation, I will naturally protect my partner. You can rest assured. Gloria is always my target."

It was a young girl's sweet voice, but it sounded hideous and creepy.

But Angela didn't feel like that. She said excitedly, "Good! Then I'll wait for your news and leave the rest of the thing to you! I'll make her life a living hell after I go out."

Angela had lost her sense, ignoring all the reminders from Martha.

The other party was very satisfied with Angela's decision, and immediately said, "Very good. Then I wish us a happy cooperation. And you should control and convince your mother."

"I will."

"Get packed up, and you will leave hospital in two hours."

Angela's eyes were filled with surprise and disbelief. Two hours?

This person was so powerful?

She didn't even know whether this person was a woman or a man. How could she prove that she had nothing to do with this matter in the future?

But... before she could ask, the other party had hung up.

Angela put down her mobile phone with a thoughtful look. She seemed to have forgotten to be angry.

Martha looked at her with a deep frown, "Why did you agree so quickly? Do you know what it means after you agreed? If she's powerful, we'll all be manipulated by her."

Angela suddenly sneered, "So what? She can help me leave hospital in two hours. What about you? I have been suffering here for so many days. I didn't even know when I could leave here."

Martha frowned and still didn't agree with her decision, "We can leave hospital after a period of time. It could be simpler."

But Angela said angrily, gashing her teeth, "I don't care! I just want to send Gloria to hell! I don't want to see her disgusting face again!"

Martha looked grave. She also wanted to see Gloria suffer. But it was not time!

If she stopped Angela, Angela wouldn't tell her anything about her plan anymore, but... if she didn't, what if Angela would get herself in trouble again?

Taking a deep breath, Martha looked at her and said in a deep voice, "If you want to do that, I won't stop you, but if that person asks you to do something else, you must discuss it with me. We should figure out whether that person also wants to screw you. You can't make decisions alone. Do you understand?"

Chapter 778 He Was Afraid that She Would Retaliate Against Him

Angela frowned, "I see."

She didn't want to trust that person, but she didn't want to wait any longer.

Martha saw that Angela still kept her sanity, so she nodded, "We'll wait for the news. We will leave hospital immediately as long as it is resolved."

"Okay."

This day passed quickly, but many people were sleepless at night.

Gloria woke up many times.

If there were no alarm clock, she would have been late for work.

Nydia saw Gloria coming out of the bathroom when she came out of the room. She waved to her with a smile, "Good morning."

Gloria smiled, "Morning, I'll make breakfast."

"No, I have already ordered breakfast. It's almost here." Nydia raised her mobile phone when she said this.

Gloria nodded, "OK, you go get washed."

Gloria was in a good mood, but Nydia felt a little helpless. Gloria was always like this. No matter how good or terrible she felt, she always looked very calm. She didn't want others to worry about her, so she always pretended to be like this. Nydia was worried that she would feel terrible if the past was mentioned again.

Nydia entered the bathroom in resignation.

More than half an hour later, after having breakfast, they said goodbye.

Nydia wanted to say something to soothe Gloria, but she thought that Gloria might not need that. Even if she did that, it would be useless. It was better for the doer to undo what he had done. In the end, she said nothing.

After Gloria went to the company, many employees looked at her with strange eyes. Jordy displayed his love for her yesterday, so none of them dared to treat her as an ordinary person again.

They realized that they didn't get divorced for real but just fell out. Mr. Collins regretted it and was trying to get Gloria back, wasn't he?

She would be the young hostess of their company in the future! Who dared to spite her again?

Because of what Jordy did, they became very polite to Gloria.

– "Good morning, Miss White."

"Hello, Miss White."

"Hello, Miss White."

"Good morning, Miss White."

"Morning, Miss White."

Gloria heard "Miss White" repeatedly this morning,

She noticed the change in their attitude, and she found that it was funny. Was this the feeling of being backed up?

In the past, they respectfully called her Mrs. Collins. Now she was called Miss White.

And it was all because of Jordy. Gloria's eyes were filled with sarcasm. She didn't want any more intersections with Jordy. After this project was done, she would never see him again.

But...

Sometimes things were complicated and annoying.

Soon after Gloria arrived at the office, Harold called her. Gloria answered, "Hello, Harola?"

"Miss White, Mr. Collins wants everyone to attend the meeting at 9:30. You need to report your work in the project you are responsible for and discuss the next step with others."

Gloria frowned, and she said, "OK, got it."

"OK."

Then they hung up, but a disdainful look flashed across Gloria's eyes.

He no longer managed the project, but left it to her. She did that last night, so he was afraid that she would retaliate against him and wanted to supervise it personally?

Chapter 779 Mistakes

Humph...

Whatever.

She did nothing wrong. She didn't care.

Soon it was half an hour later, and they walked to the meeting room one by one.

When Gloria arrived there, more than half of the employees were already there.

When they saw Gloria, they all said hello to her.

Gloria felt speechless, but what could she do?

After they waited for a while, all the employees arrived here. Jordy and Harold were the last to come. They came in in tandem.

Everyone looked at the powerful man coming in except Gloria.

The man had broad shoulders and a narrow waist, looking even colder in his black suit. His deep eyes and tightly pursed lips were showing coldness.

Women who liked him were shy and all lowered their heads.

Jordy came in and saw the woman on the right side of the main seat immediately.

She was looking down at the files in her hands with a calm look, but... he could still feel her alienation.

Jordy frowned, walked to the main seat, and sat down.

The others all kept silent. Jordy was enveloped by menace.

They were confused.

Miss White was here. Mr. Collins should be in a good mood, but why did he look so upset?

People who were close to Jordy only felt they were going to be frozen into popsicles.

Could it be that Miss White refused Mr. Collins, so he was in a bad mood?

Well...

It seemed that this was the case.

Some people unconsciously looked at Gloria with complaint eyes. Why didn't she accept Mr. Collins but make them suffer with her?

They had pictured how they would be punished next...

If their schemes were rejected one after another, they would work time the next few days. It was so difficult...

When everyone was here, Harold looked directly at Gloria, "Miss White, we can start now. You need to report your recent work, and you can ask the heads of all the departments to report theirs."

Gloria looked at the crowd and said calmly, "The head of the personnel department will be the first. Then you'll take turns to report your works."

The manager of the personnel department was speechless.

Although he was grateful and happy that Gloria made him the first one to report work... he was so nervous before Jordy!

However, he had no choice but to pluck up courage to report his work.

He cleared his throat and said, "After the project started, our department's rules for recruiting people have changed, and now we have recruited..."

Then, he reported all the work they had done. He was frightened. However, the people who worked here were not good-for-nothing, so he did that smoothly.

But he was still nervous.

After that, he felt his hands and feet a little cold and trembling.

Jordy did not respond, but sat in the main seat with a cold face. The others did not dare to look directly at him.

The other managers naturally knew what was going on, and they reported work one after another. All of them did a good job, but Gloria still found something wrong, and she suddenly frowned.

At the same time, Jordy looked gloomier.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 780

Chapter 780 I'll Be Responsible for My Negligence

Jordy looked at Gloria. He didn't say anything, but Gloria could still feel the strong irony in his eyes.

She ignored Jordy and looked at the manager of the planning department.

"Why did you transfer them to other positions?"

The manager of the planning department said, "Well, everyone has different merits, and this cooperation scheme has also changed. Therefore, we transferred them to the positions that were more suitable for them."

Jordy immediately swept to the manager of the planning department with fierce eyes, and he said coldly, "What happened then?"

The manager of the planning department suddenly realized something was wrong. He dared not look at Jordy, but quickly looked at Gloria. When he saw her dark face, his heart suddenly did a somersault!

Shoot!

No!

At first, he thought that it was a wise decision, and he might be praised by Gloria and Jordy, but now he became a smart-ass in their eyes?

He was finished!

At this moment, his legs were shaking.

Gloria sat in her seat and said nothing.

However, the manager of the planning department did not know why his decision was wrong.

The others kept silent in fear, and the employees of the planning department were flustered.

Although they only needed to act on orders, they were the members of the planning department.

At this moment, many people's hearts were beating madly.

Then Jordy looked at Gloria, "Is this the job you did?"

Gloria naturally knew that it was her fault. She was in charge of the project. However, some people acted recklessly because of her negligence. She should be held responsible for this.

Gloria nodded without hesitation, "It's my negligence."

Jordy's frown deepened. He thought she would explain.

But before he could speak, Gloria had already looked at the manager of the planning department.

“The plan was delayed and the work efficiency was greatly reduced due to the private transfer of personnel. You failed to carry out the plan and work out the new plan. Now, we have to give up the former plan. All the people in the two departments will work overtime to get back on schedule. Do you have any problems?”

The others were speechless.

Damn it!

She asked them to work overtime easily Just like Mr. Collins did!

Jordy pursed his lips in silence.

He would not let himself become emotionally involved in business and would not blame Gloria for this, but he was still upset.

She was efficient, calm, and effective in dealing with problems. Her arrangement was perfect, but Jordy looked colder and colder.

No one dared to speak. Even if they had a problem with that, they couldn't complain.

And they hated the manager of the planning department. Why didn't he just act on orders but have to be a smart-ass?

He deserved it!

The manager of the planning department was a little flustered, and he hurriedly said, “It was my mistake. I know I was wrong. I'll work overtime for free! And I'll pay those who need to work overtime because of my fault.”

The others seemed to be relieved. After all, they all thought that they might not get paid for working overtime.

Gloria looked calm, “No, you guys just do your job. I'll be responsible for my negligence.”

The implication was that she would pay their salaries for working overtime.

Jordy looked gloomier.
