Chapter 941 Sharp Contrast

He squeezed out a smile and said, "Gloria's achievement was totally surprising. As your uncle, I'm very happy for you, Gloria. There is no doubt."

As he said so, others learnt that Mr. White also agreed on the cooperation. So those who supported him naturally voted in as well... In the end, it turned out that all of them were on board.

Gloria felt the whole event was quite ironic.

Ted smiled and said, "Sure, I'm happy for Gloria as well."

Gloria was such an excellent and outstanding person. He felt so proud of his former president that he had such an excellent daughter.

Ted smiled faintly and said, "Well, since we all agree, we will have to talk about what we just discussed. Gloria, do you have any opinions? Who do you want to work with?"

Everyone turned their gaze at Gloria again.

It turned out to be so ridiculous. She guessed that others might have been mocking her in their hearts.

Although they were sisters, the gap between them was so huge.

Although the two of them grew up together and received the same education, Gloria was always the genius one while Angela was only ordinary.

Angela was on the verge of exploding.

Claude took a deep breath, controlling his temper and smiled. "Gloria, I'm so proud of you that you can be so excellent. But don't you hide it too well? No one knows about your true identity. It's a shame that I learn about it from other people instead of you."

Gloria shook her head and said, "I cannot hold back the company for my own sake since we are all colleagues. To be honest, judging from the current situation, the White Group is already in a declining stage. If we can't promote new projects to let the White Group gather up, it will be deteriorating in the future."

Gloria was telling the truth. All of them knew that they were making fewer profits. They knew clearly about it.

But...

They didn't dare to offend the president around this time. They could only think of some ways. But... That was it. No one dared to talk about it with the president.

If Gloria started with this jewelry and clothing project with her reputation as Poppy, it up the ladder. would not be difficult for the White Group to climb

Yvonne and Ted both looked at Gloria with appreciation. They were even feeling a little excited. Gloria behaved just like their former president. She even outdid him.

They really expected that the company could be led by Gloria.

They didn't care that Gloria might not have sufficient experience. After all, they could always help her.

Besides, in terms of Gloria's current situation, she didn't seem like a person without experience.

If she was without experience, why could she design such a remarkable plan, which was wanted by the Brown Group and the Collins Group. They competed to work on this plan even when they promised to offer all the operation funds and divide the profits with the White Group. Was it because the two men representing the two Groups were all in love with this woman? Was it the reason why they were competing for this project? It was impossible!

It was because the two men had read through the project. Gloria had also explained the project to them in detail as well.

Everyone knew about it clearly.

Chapter 945 Sorry, I Disagree up her

Suddenly it dawned on people that it was true. Gloria had managed to build reputation no matter what identities she took. She had already earned countless amounts of money. With all the identities she had, she might have earned much more money than Claude...

All of a sudden, people felt that the incident that day seemed to reveal how Gloria was dominant over the White Group, which was a bit ridiculous.

Angela was outrageous, but the next moment she hurried to help Claude give further explanations.

"Even so, my father didn't know your true identity back then, and he didn't realize you could have so much money and financial ability. So, you must not blame him for this, Gloria."

I was hard for her to express her emotions with words.

Gloria nodded, "Sure, I didn't mean to blame Claude. I know that he did this because he is kind. So, in order to pay back his kindness, I won't ask him to pay me back all the profits I got. It would be a token of my gratitude to him. And I only want Claude to return the shares my father had given to me back then."

Angela was shocked.

They were all shocked to hear that.

What?

Two billion dollars?

This was not a small amount of money!

Besides, all of them, having a few shares, might have worked for a long time before earning two billion dollars.

Gloria's words had sounded quite firm and obvious. She must be very certain that she could make the company prosper in the future.

At that moment, people started to get confused. In fact...

But his words suddenly made Claude look this foolish guy

Chapter 947 They Were All Stupefied

People all looked at her. Gloria was not a woman to be treated disrespectfully any more. Everyone had learned that she did have competence and might even be willing to listen to her. They respected her naturally.

Soon Gloria spoke calmly, "If I get fewer votes than my uncle, I will quit my position in the White Group and establish a new company myself. I will not pay a single penny for the White Group in the future, because I will focus more on my own Group. As for the current cooperation between the Collins Group and the White Group, I will transfer it to my own company. So as the jewelry project with the Brown Group."

Everyone was stupefied.

Just now, they might not think that Gloria was that important to the company, but after she said that, it meant they would lose the remarkable project with Jordy and there would be no future cooperation with the Brown Group. All of a sudden, they might lose the chance of working with the two giant companies as well as Gloria's talent. Soon

Gloria looked indifferent, looking at him with composure and said, "Those who are able should take your place."

Chapter 949 Anonymous Voting

Even the people who supported him had made a complaint. There were ironies in people's opinions.

Well...

He never knew that these people would have so many complaints.

They had never dared to say anything before. But when Gloria was there, they kept standing out to complain. Well, good for you!

Claude and Angela were still thinking about how to delay the issue of the shares. But Ted wouldn't give them any chance of doing so.

Ted had taken out a stack of cards as big as a business card from his bag.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I have asked someone to print these cards. It has the two names of Claude and Gloria on it. Just check the name of the person you want to vote for. To ensure the vote's fairness, I want you to voice anonymously."

Hearing this, the people who supported Claude felt quite relieved. It's good to vote anonymously.

The counting of the votes was careful with two times of confirmation.

Yet Claude was getting bitter and bitter.

Will I lose my position as president of the board today?

He never thought that Gloria could do such a thing to him.

He regretted more and more that he didn't kill Gloria back then.

He didn't remove this hidden prick back then, which brought disasters after a long time.

What great disasters she brought!

Soon, Gloria's votes were finished. Then they started to count Claude's votes, which were pitifully
