Chapter 981 More Decent Than You

Gloria stopped in her tracks and looked back at the man.

Claude saw hope, heaved a sigh of relief, and continued, "Let's go. It's just a meal. What are you afraid of? I won't eat you."

Nydia looked at Gloria with concern. She sensed Gloria's intention to go and grinned at Claude, "It happens that I'm hungry. Mr. White, do you mind taking me along with you?"

Irene smiled and echoed, "Yeah, me too."

Claude looked upset. He only wanted to have a private talk with Gloria.

Just as he was about to refuse, another voice rang out.

"Good idea. I am staying. Mr. White, do you mind if I come along?" The frivolous voice made Claude change color.

He could say no to Irene and Nydia.

Although there were some grudges between them, everyone was clear about the cause.

Gloria knew that George would not harm Nydia.

So, Irene and she just continued their way forward.

As they were walking off, Nydia got anxious. "Damn, can we talk about it later? I'm going to have dinner with Gloria. Didn't you say you were hungry too?"

George sneered, "What's the rush? They haven't gone far yet! Besides, Claude invited Gloria to dinner. Even he has to yield to her. What are you worried about?"

Nydia sneered, "You tell me. She is my best friend. Besides..."

She snorted, "Isn't Jordy your buddy? You're coming along for his sake, aren't you? How are you going to protect Gloria if she walks away? You can wait for Jordy's punishment."!

Irene laughed with amusement, "It won't be that fast."

Nydia ground her teeth. "The thing is that Claude and his family are horrible. They murdered people to obtain interest. I'm eager to expose their deeds and let everyone know their true color. I hope they'll lose their footing and get punished by the law. I can't believe that they have the nerve to live in this world for so long."

Her eyes were blazing with anger. She itched to eat the family of three alive.

Irene nodded and concurred, "Rest assured, they will be brought to justice. The law will make sure of it."

In the passenger's seat, Gloria curled her lips and soothed her friend who was both worried and angry. "Don't worry about it. I will make them pay. At this point, they can't do anything to me."

"I know, but I'm afraid that they will play dirty tricks again. Remember that car accident? If your skills were not good enough, you would have..."

Nydia didn't go on with her speech. The consequences were unimaginable.

Her face turned cold, but her voice remained calm. "They won't have another

Gloria pursed her lips but decided not to comment on it. Sometimes, words would only make people uncomfortable. It was better for them to collide and get to know more about each other.

"Let's go in," Gloria said before leading Nydia and Irene to enter the restaurant.

Claude and his family were already there. Their faces were gloomy. Probably, they had just had a discussion, and it was not a nice one.

Claude saw them, wrinkled his brows, and asked, "Isn't George coming?"

Chapter 985 Anger

Gloria looked up at Angela with a sarcastic smile and asked, "Do you think I heard it?"

Angela widened her eyes. She was not shocked but was so angry that she couldn't speak.

Gloria was not deaf, so she must have heard it. Angela had said so to blame her, and she had not expected her to be so thick-skinned. How could the b*tch have the nerve to ask back?

Just when Angela was about to retort, Martha quickly laughed out loud to prevent her. Angela felt annoyed, so she snorted, but she still controlled her temper and stopped talking.

After brewing her emotions, Martha said helplessly, "Gloria, don't overthink. I know you need time to think about this matter, but it is indeed urgent. Can we compound in private?"

Seeing this, Claude was furious. But he still chose to swallow the humiliation silently. When the waiter came in, he immediately ordered the food and let him go out. Now, there were only them left in the private room again.

The conversation had been interrupted just now, so the White family must forcibly pull the topic back. Otherwise, the meal would be in vain.

Seven people were in this room, but there were only two sides. George and Jordy were friends, so he was on Gloria's side, not to mention Nydia and Irene. Therefore, the White family could directly say whatever they wanted to say. After all, Gloria would relate their words to her friends even if they had not come.

After hesitating for a long time, Angela looked at Gloria and said, "Gloria, we are related by blood no matter what. Blood is thicker than water. We were all caught off guard by this incident, and we have been thinking about it these days. But the time you gave us is too short. Can you give us more time? Don't bring us to the court again, okay?"

Gloria looked at Claude, Angela, and Martha in disbelief, and there was a complicated motion in her eyes. She could not understand how they could pretend nothing had happened in the court.

Martha didn't want things to continue like this and knew this topic would be discussed sooner or later!

She knew clearly that if this matter was not clarified, the following things would not be negotiable. But they had their priority. She was sure Gloria would mention it even if they did not mention it.

Martha patted Angela's leg under the table, reminding her not to be so impulsive.

Angela's life had been smooth before, so she could pretend well. But going through so many things, her mentality had changed a lot, and she could not even bear a little setback now. Seeing this, Martha decided to talk about it with her when they got back home.

Martha took a breath, looked at Gloria, and said seemingly earnestly, "Gloria, the contract is related to the prosperity of our entire family, so it is inevitable that we cannot do whatever you want. But you should not have accused us of murdering your father!"

Claude put on a sudden face and said, "Miss Maguire, don't get me wrong."

Hearing this, Nydia sneered and wanted to make some sarcastic remarks. But she swallowed the words on the tip of her tongue on second thought.

Irene looked at Gloria instead of Claude and said with a gentle expression, "The deceased has passed away. Sometimes, you will just feel sadder if you know more. Gloria, I think you should give up inquiring about such things."

Claude was shocked to hear his. Gloria had come here, so it proved that she was interested. He had guessed it right. But if they continued to persuade her like this, she might listen!

Sure enough, Gloria nodded in agreement, "You're right. Knowing too much will only make me sadder and miss him more."

Chapter 989 Running Out of Patience

When there were only them left in the room again, Gloria's patience was worn out.

Hearing Martha and Claude still talking about those things, she turned a deaf ear, picked up a fork, and began to eat.

George had not expected her to have an appetite at such a time. And then, he also began to eat. Nydia and Irene—naturally picked up their forks. After all, they had come here to eat.

Claude's face became gloomier because he had not asked them to eat yet. But they had started having the meal recklessly without considering his feelings.

Gloria impatiently interrupted, "I don't have time to listen to your sigh with emotion. Please get down to the point."

Claude almost flew into a rage again, but he tried his best to control his temper.

Knowing that he was in no mood to continue talking, Martha hurriedly said, "Calm down, Gloria. Don't be angry."
