

SO THE GOD OF LEARNING HAS A CRUSH ON ME - CHAPTER 1 HIGH SCHOOL PARTY

Si Eucalyptus: I don't know if I like her, but every time the window fogs up, what I unconsciously write down is her name.

High School Party

"Eh eh! Big star Toki finally showed up!" The class president opened the door and welcomed a girl in a white dress in.

The girl's delicate features and fair skin made the whole person a trifle more beautiful, with black hair cascading vertically over her shoulders and a slightly reddish face.

Like an eighteen-year-old girl, it looks out of place with the other girls present.

"I didn't expect Toki to come ah." The crowd was talking.

"Is it true that she has not had plastic surgery? Obviously she was still so ugly in high school..."

The girl next to her quickly pushed her, signaling her to stop talking.

When she sat down, Xu Mirai came over and gave her a hug, "Qi Qi, you missed me so much, come and give me a kiss..."

But was a side of Zhou Yi stopped a thorough, "let go of time seven, you rushed me ah."

The young couple's jousting drew a round of laughter.

"Everyone is here, right?"

"No, no, no, there is still Si Eucalyptus did not arrive..."

When Qi froze, Si Eucalyptus ... will also come?

At that moment, there was a "creak".

The door was pushed open again, a black windbreaker Si Eucalyptus, wearing gold-rimmed glasses and entered with confidence, still the same old pedant-like cautious, unsmiling look.

His surrounding aura carried a lightness that made people not dare to get too close.

"Sorry, I'm late." The voice was cold and somewhat low.

The people hurriedly waved and arranged for Si Eucalyptus to sit next to Shi Qi.

As Si Eucalyptus sat down, Shi Qi's body stiffened slightly, and he was disciplined, not daring to move a bit, as memories of high school came flooding back to him...

The people next to me were chatting one after another about interesting things from high school.

"Then again, if Shi Qi hadn't changed schools back then, he might have been able to make a pair with the god of learning, right?"

"Yes, the god of learning has been paying attention to Shi Qi, but also his eyes are good, which like our eyes, we did not notice Shi Qi turned out to be such a big beauty!

This comment, in Shi Qi's ears, but there is a vague sense of irony.

Who did not know that she was notoriously ugly in high school?

The company's main business is to provide a wide range of products and services to its customers.

When Qi looked at the bony hands, he was still the same as before, making people feel reserved and detached. But this is such a person, but in her most wretched time, will pick himself up from the mud puddle to the hospital.

She didn't even get to say thank you to him before she transferred out of school.

Her Chun Chun, too, was completely over the day she transferred to another school.

At this time, a cup was handed to Shi Qi in front of her eyes, interrupting her thoughts, she followed her hand up to look, it was Si Eucalyptus.

Pressing down the stirring in her heart, she reached out and took it, saying apprehensively, "Thank you."

This word of thanks was like thanking the Si Eucalyptus of many years ago, and like thanking the Si Eucalyptus of now.

"Eh eh! Maybe it's not too late to get together..."

"Si Eucalyptus, you used to pay so much attention to Shi Qi, is it a crush on her?"
Zhou Yi was a bit drunk and bold, grabbing Si Eucalyptus and asking.

Si Eucalyptus did not answer, just silently poured himself a cup of tea.

"Ears are red! Ears are red!"

"So Si Eucalyptus really had a crush on Shi Qi before!"

When Qi froze, along with the line of sight of the people looked, Si Eucalyptus face indifferent, half of the extra expression did not, but the ear is red abnormal.

He really had a crush on himself when he was in high school...

"Say, at that time, why did Shi Qi transfer..." a girl who had been off school for a year asked curiously, but was covered up by the girl next to her in time.

The air fell silent, and a few people dropped their eyes sheepishly, not daring to look at Shi Qi.

The class president smilingly changed the subject in time, but the strange atmosphere still continued until the end.

When he left, he put on his sunglasses and left through the back door, a figure followed him.

Why would you transfer schools...

If you could turn back time and go back to that year in high school...how good would it be.

The green light came on, and Dicky collected his thoughts and walked across the road.

Suddenly a blinding light came on, when Qi reached out to block the light, a familiar urgent shout came to his ears...

"Time Seven!"
