

SO THE GOD OF LEARNING HAS A CRUSH ON ME - CHAPTER 6: CAN YOU CROSS-DRESS?

When Qi looked at Xu's future red face, he could not help but remember his last life in college, when she saw himself again, he also looked like this.

The front of the Si eucalyptus heard a glance back, eyes slightly deep, but a moment and then withdrew his eyes.

This girl, can cross-dress?

He could not help but think of the six-year-old sister's favorite game "Miracle Warmth".

The two students were directed by teacher Liang to carry the military training uniforms to the podium, "Our seventh high school, always in the school military training, and the time is not long, half a month..."

The words were just spoken, and they drew a wail from the students underneath.

"Quiet, only half a month, close your eyes and open your eyes and it's over!"

When seven heart like a knife, last life has experienced the seven middle school military training.

In that half month, the sun god took extra care of them, not a day "late" or "lazy", resulting in half a month later, we all top a "black charcoal" face.

At that time, when they returned home, they were suspected by their mother of having been swapped.

In the end, he was mercilessly attacked by his mother, "Alas, it was already ugly, this black, and three points uglier."

That change can be completely interpreted with the black and white smiley face emoji that is popular in WeChat now.

"Teacher, is the school equipped with sunscreen?" A few male students asked jokingly.

Teacher Liang glared at them angrily, "The female students didn't even say anything, what are you guys yelling about?"

"Class president, come up and share the military training uniform."

Time Qi looked at Wen Congliang who sent her to the infirmary yesterday, and as expected, in this life, he was still the class president.

After everyone got their military training uniforms, teacher Liang started to assign them to dormitories.

According to the seat allocation down, Shi Qi, Xu Future and the two girls in front were assigned to a dormitory.

The four girls held their school bags and military training uniforms and asked for directions all the way to the dormitory.

"Ah, so annoying, I should have known to buy sunscreen in advance."

"Now all have been unable to get out, a stay is half a month, ooo...who will save me."

After Timothy put away his things, looking at the two front tables lying on the bed all sorts of crying, she thought about it, "can get help from the senior sister to buy it?"

Although their senior military training can not leave the school, but senior brothers and sisters have already started school at this time.

"But, I don't know any senior sisters either, do you guys know them?"

The other two were both shaking their heads.

At this time, Xu Mirai, who had changed into his military training uniform in the bathroom, jumped out, "Dang dang dang ~ look what this is!"

Several people looked at Xu Mirai, only to see her hand, holding a bottle of something, but is not the sunscreen?

"Wow, Xu Mirai!"

"I want to worship with you..."

Two people with eyes bubbling with light, hanging on Xu Mirai.

"Stop! Don't rush, all have a share all have a share..."

Timothy smiled at the three people fighting, no wonder when the whole class was tanned in the last life, only Xu the future one is still white and tender.

Four girls because of a bottle of sunscreen, produced a strong friendship.

When Qi can't help but feel, it really proves the saying that women's friendship always comes easy.

In the afternoon, the instructors also arrived.

The instructor who took their class, a male almost 178 tall, said to be a sophomore at the National Defense College of the University of M, different from the white boy, wheat skin, about the strict training, just standing there, the whole person is filled with a blood-pumping aura.

"Qiqi, the instructor looks so handsome ah ..." Xu future whispered.

When Qi Qi took a look, it was really the same instructor from her previous life, but as far as she knew, this instructor had a girlfriend, and the two were childhood friends.

Coincidentally, his girlfriend, later or her rare good friend when she was in the entertainment industry.