

The God Of Medicine Son-in-law Chapter 10 -

Seeing this situation, the people in the box immediately frowned and someone couldn't help but speak.

"Who are you? Didn't you see that the box was occupied?"

The visitor looked at the people in the room and didn't pay attention at all. He spoke to the waiter next to him: "there will be distinguished guests coming later. Let them withdraw and empty the box."

This attitude quickly angered Li Ruilin, strode over and pushed the waiter away.

"This box is already occupied. Don't you have eyes?"

Although the visitor looks young, he feels arrogant when talking.

"My husband's identity is more valuable. I advise you to hurry."

It was the first time that Li Ruilin met such an arrogant and directly scolded.

"I'd like to have a look. It's such a big show that it still lets us give way, and doesn't look at us..."

Before the latter words were finished, Li Ruilin saw two people walking side by side with sharp eyes, and his face changed in an instant.

Seeing the two people getting closer and closer, others recognized that the person on the left was their immediate boss. Although they didn't know each other, seeing that their director was so polite to Zhang Xian, they also knew that he was not a small source.

"You... Are you the Secretary of the director?"

Li Ruilin opened his mouth carefully and completely lost his arrogance.

"No! Mr. Zhao of our family is an investor and will come in a minute. President Zhao is here to entertain the two directors today."

Hearing the speech, Li Ruilin offered to open the chair and help the waiter clean up the table.

"Let's change a box and let you talk to the leader."

While they were talking, the director and Zhang Xian had come over. There was also a late president Zhao. The three people said polite words to each other and looked very harmonious.

As soon as the director came, Li Ruilin took the initiative to step forward.

“Xu Bureau, it’s still a coincidence today. Please take your seat quickly. Let’s change a room.”

With that, he looked at Wu Changqing: “no problem? Lao Wu.”

Director Xu glanced around and saw acquaintances. When he saw the stranger Xiao Chen, he couldn’t help asking, “who is this?”

Li Ruilin flashed a cold look in his eyes and said, “this is Lao Wu’s son-in-law, a door-to-door son-in-law who works in his daughter’s hospital.”

Hearing this, director Xu’s smile on his face was a lot colder, and several people around him were laughing in a low voice.

However, what everyone didn’t expect was that the leader next to the director took the initiative to come to Xiao Chen and respectfully said, “Dr. Xiao, I didn’t expect to meet you here. What a coincidence.”

Zhang Xian’s behavior stunned the people around him. Director Xu looked at Xiao Chen with strange eyes. He had heard about a waste son-in-law in Wu Changqing’s family under his hand for a long time.

But seeing Zhang Xian’s attitude, he was a little uncertain.

“Zhang Ju, is this someone you know?”

“This is our life-saving benefactor! I told you before that the doctor who saved my son was him!”

Zhang Xian’s words instantly raised Xiao Chen’s status, which was highly praised in his words.

“Dr. Xiao, it’s better to hit the sun than choose a day. Please give Dr. Xiao a face and have dinner together.”

Although Zhang Xian and the director are both at the same level, Zhang Xian has a stronger background than him. Seeing that Zhang Xian holds Xiao Chen in such high esteem, he is naturally a little more polite.

“Are all friends, then together.”

Director Xu and Zhang Xian both spoke. When ordinary people meet this situation, they must quickly agree, but Xiao Chen turns to Wu Changqing.

“Mr. Zhang, otherwise, I’d better go out to dinner with my father-in-law today. It’s always bad to leave my father-in-law for dinner alone.”

“It’s such a small matter. Let Wu Changqing follow.”

Director Xu didn’t want to spoil Zhang Xian’s interest and quickly took the initiative to speak. At this time, everyone looked at Wu Changqing with envy.

It is said that Wu Changqing’s son-in-law is a waste. Unexpectedly, he knows Zhang Xian.

Wu Changqing faced the compliments from the people around him. Although he was smiling, he was extremely surprised. He didn’t expect that Xiao Chen actually knew Zhang Xian and looked up at him with the director.

Director Xu took two steps and seemed to think of something. He asked Li Ruilin and others to follow in. Now it was very lively.

Several people who had a good relationship with Li Ruilin began to be silent from entering the room, and several people who made friends with Wu Changqing were more respectful to him.

Director Xu and president Zhao both asked Zhang Xian for help, so they kept saying polite words. Xiao Chen was the only one sitting silently beside Wu Changqing for dinner.

Zhang Xian stood up at this time, thanked Xiao Chen for saving his life, and took the initiative to raise his glass to toast.

“Thanks to Dr. Xiao, I toast you to this glass of wine. Everything I want to say is in the wine.”

With that, Zhang Xian drank all the wine in his glass.

Director Xu doesn’t think Xiao Chen really has any identity. He just thinks that Zhang Xian is forking off the topic, with a somewhat unhappy and smiling mouth in his heart.

“Zhang Ju, I know you like Dr. Xiao, but then again, Mr. Xiao is so young. No matter how good his medical skills are, how good can he be?”

There was something of ridicule in these words, and the smile on Zhang Xian’s face also converged.

At this time, Xiao Chen said, "director Xu, I'm not old and I haven't studied medicine for a long time, but I can see that the director's health is not very good."

The director couldn't help frowning and was more and more unhappy with Xiao Chen.

"Nonsense, I checked it some time ago."

Li Ruilin also opened his mouth to ridicule.

"Yes, posturing depends on the occasion. Is director Xu the one you can fool? Maybe it's the courage your father-in-law gave you."

Li Ruilin's eye medicine is aimed at Wu Changqing all the time. Wu Changqing's face is ugly and wants to scold Xiao Chen. Xiao Chen has stood up and spoke to Zhang Xian actively.

"Can I change my position? I have something to say to the director."

Zhang Xian hurriedly got up and gave way. He saw Xiao Chen go over and say something to the director. The director was instantly shocked.