Chapter 1993: Nine Infant Demonic Worm

“Son of a b * tch, you almost wasted a thousand years of my vitality. And you’re just looking for an entrance?”

Han Fei couldn’t have felt worse. Although he could devour the vitality of others, after he became a king, he discovered a problem, which was that even if he had the Void Lines, his vitality wasn’t infinite. Although he could absorb vitality, there was a limit to this absorption. Han Fei had a feeling that when he absorbed more than 100,000 years of vitality, it would be extremely difficult for him to continue to absorb vitality.

In other words, in addition to his own 100,000 years, he might have another 100,000 years of additional vitality. But now, 30,000 years of vitality had been consumed by him.

If he continued to consume vitality like this, how many years of vitality would be left? He had already consumed 30,000 years of vitality with the Heaven Enlightenment Divine Technique. If he were to stay in the Raging Sea for another few hundred years, he would probably consume all the additional 100,000 years of vitality.

However, Han Fei thought that this Monarch Palace might already be the greatest opportunity in the Raging Sea. Therefore, since he had begun to use the Heaven Enlightenment Divine Technique, he might as well use it freely. He would prepare 20,000 years of vitality and see if he could consume it all.

Now 80% of the Ghost Aphids had been purified. The rest were either dying or didn’t dare to approach Han Fei again because of their instinctive fear of the Heaven Enlightenment Divine Technique.

Han Fei thought to himself, There shouldn’t be any danger after this, right? After all, the danger level of the Ghost Aphids was so high that it could even shake Sea Establishers.

If there were stronger creatures, Han Fei would feel that he had come to the wrong place.

However, as the saying went, misfortune never came alone. This insect cave... Yes, Han Fei felt that this was an insect cave. After the Ghost Aphids were gone, after about a hundred seconds, Han Fei saw that the surrounding rock walls were already filled with red and black liquid that was as thick as magma.

In the thick magma, Han Fei saw a few long tentacles that looked extremely weird. In Han Fei’s eyes, a new kind of insect appeared.

< Name > Nine Infant Demonic Worm (Mutated)

< Introduction > An ancient ferocious beast with the bloodline of the Nine Neonate. It controls water and fire and swallows death energy to refine demons. Because it is trapped here all year round, it has swallowed too many strange demonic insects, causing its body to mutate and become a mutated creature half insect and half beast. The Nine Infant Demonic Worms cry like babies, and their demonic sounds can taint the soul. It controls Origin Fire and Ominous Water. Origin Fire burns the body, and Ominous Water damages the soul. It can’t be underestimated.

“A Primordial Fierce Beast in the Sea Establishment Realm?”

Han Fei’s face changed slightly. This was not an ordinary king, but a Primordial Fierce Beast. Of course, it was definitely much weaker than the Emperor Sparrow.

Han Fei’s heart did a flip. “In that case, why don’t I ask the Emperor Sparrow to solve it?”

With a flash between Han Fei’s eyebrows, the Emperor Sparrow appeared. When the Emperor Sparrow was a little impatient, he saw the Nine Infant Demonic Worm and couldn’t help but cry, “Nine Neonate? No... a mixed-blood descendant? His bloodline is so contaminated. Where did you find this thing? It can’t even be eaten. His body and soul have basically been contaminated.”

Han Fei said, “You are both Primordial Fierce Beasts, and you are the nemesis of the insect race. I’ll give this insect to you, OK?”

The Emperor Sparrow glanced at Han Fei. “The filthy blood is not worthy of my taking action. Solve it yourself.”

Han Fei was speechless. What do you mean? Even if its bloodline is dirty, it’s still a Primordial Fierce Beast! Why do you make it sound like an ant?

At this time, the Nine Infant Demonic Worm had also noticed the existence of Han Fei and the Emperor Sparrow. The Emperor Sparrow in particular made it feel very uneasy.

“Boohoo ~”

Instantly, there was the sound of a baby crying, which sounded like a baby laughing too. For a moment, Han Fei couldn’t tell if the other party was crying or laughing.

However, the sound echoed infinitely in this place. It was fine to hear it once, but after hearing it twice or three times, Han Fei felt that his head hurt. Even if Han Fei closed his hearing, he found that the sound fell directly into his soul and he still couldn’t avoid it.

Han Fei snorted. “Slash ~”

Han Fei directly used All Great Daos in One Sword. When fighting an enemy, one had to kill him in one blow. Since this Nine Infant Demonic Worm didn’t know what was good for it, he might as well kill it.

However, when Han Fei saw layers of blood tide appear in the void, rushing at All Great Daos in One Sword, he was stunned. "Is that Ominous Water?"

Each wave of the Ominous Water Tide seemed to be billions of kilograms heavy. When they collided, the place trembled as if it would collapse at any time.

Han Fei's heart sank. All Great Daos in One Sword broke through the barriers one after another, but after colliding with the Ominous Water, with a swish, only one tentacle was cut down.

Han Fei saw with his own eyes that the tentacle rolled towards All Great Daos in One Sword. Although it was minced into powder immediately, most of the power of Han Fei's All Great Daos in One Sword was consumed. Then, hundreds of tentacle shadows slapped and finally broke Han Fei's All Great Daos in One Sword.

Han Fei couldn't help frowning. Although he didn't use the power of his Great Dao, his current pure strength was not something ordinary kings could compare to.

Just as Han Fei was dissatisfied that he failed to kill the enemy, he saw the shattered tentacles and minced flesh ignite in midair.

"Ah ~"

Buzz!

Extremely terrifying fire energy instantly filled the entire crack. Behind, Hong Yue, who was chasing in, was attacking some half-dead Ghost Aphids with an ugly expression. But suddenly, a terrifying flame instantly swept the entire crack.

The temperature was no longer the key. The key was that the flames seemed to be burning every wisp of his flesh and blood.

Hong Yue couldn't help taking a breath. "What kind of flame is this? It seems to be roasting every wisp of my flesh and blood. It hurts."

If Hong Yue was still so far away, how could Han Fei, who was closest, be any better? This thing didn't seem to care about his physique! It just made him feel incomparable pain.

On one side, there was physical pain, and on the other side, the red tide was coming at him. It was probably mental pain. How could Han Fei bear this?

Han Fei shouted, "Heaven Enlightenment Divine Technique."

Although the Nine Infant Demonic Worm wasn't an undead creature, its bloodline was too impure. The effect of the Heaven Enlightenment Divine Technique on it wouldn't be much worse than on undead creatures.

Buzz!

When the healing divine light fell, with a cry, the Nine Infant Demonic Worm screamed crazily in pain.

Han Fei grinned. "Come on! Let's see who can withstand it! How can a little bug like you break my invincible physique?"

Although Han Fei felt that every inch of his skin and flesh was being torn apart, the pressure caused was transmitted to his mind from his body, but it wouldn't really damage his body. At most, it would weaken his combat power, so Han Fei was not afraid at all.

“Roar!”

The Hundred Beast Soul Devouring erupted, and Han Fei slashed out with the Yin-Yang Reincarnation Blade. A faint blue color appeared in front of him, and Han Fei casually drew a Time Blade. With a golden light, he cut off three tentacles and vomited blood.

The Emperor Sparrow watched such a violent head-on battle with relish. As if feeling that his flesh and blood were a bit uncomfortable, the Emperor Sparrow glared at the Nine Infant Demonic Worm, who was instantly in a frenzy and charged at Han Fei with all his strength.

Han Fei looked at the Emperor Sparrow speechlessly. “Even if you don't help, don't cause trouble!”

The Emperor Sparrow said, “I'm just letting you have a taste of the power of the Primordial Fierce Beast. Although this disgusting insect has reached the Sea Establishment Realm, its power seems to have been purposely increased, so there's no need for me to attack it. However, this doesn't mean that it's not strong.”

Han Fei said, “I found it. If its demonic sound is several times stronger, I have to guard my soul carefully. I even feel that my body is being torn apart, which will greatly affect the effect of my attack.”

At this moment, the Nine Infant Demonic Worm's tentacles were pulled out of the magma one after another. On the tentacles, there were skulls, and all the sounds came from the skulls.

As if knowing that there was no way out, a spike protruded from the Nine Infant Demonic Worm's mouth. As soon as it appeared, the surrounding seawater was dyed dark red.

Han Fei didn't dare to be negligent. Blue light enveloped this place, and under the slash of time, the Infant Demonic Worm was instantly cut into several pieces.

At this moment, the Yin-Yang Reincarnation Blade erupted at the same time, and the Nine Infant Demonic Worm's soul was directly cut apart. Only then did Han Fei have the time to use the Void Lines to absorb the Chaotic Qi.

At this moment, the Emperor Sparrow and Han Fei looked back at the same time, only to see a familiar figure fleeing.

Seeing this scene, the Thousand Puppet immediately shouted, “Run, run! It's Han Fei and his ferocious bird.”

In fact, when Hong Yue saw that the person below was Han Fei, he immediately ran away. He didn't need the Thousand Puppet's reminder at all. That guy's strength was already extraordinary. In the Sea Establishment realm, there was probably no one who could kill him. This was the conclusion of the intelligence of the Martial Emperor City.

As Hong Yue ran, he thought to himself, There are Sea Establishment creatures at the entrance. Is there a great opportunity here?

Chapter 1994: Hard Start, Don't Enter the Insect Nest (1)

Hong Yue only remembered this place, but he didn't advance rashly. If it were someone else, it would be fine, but with his damn luck, he almost met Han Fei three times in a row.

More importantly, every time he met Han Fei, he saw a king die.

The first time was when he went to the Wild Abyss with Huo Bulie. At that time, Han Fei killed Yu Meng and Gong Zhan fled.

The second time, Han Fei pretended to be the second Sword God, Wang Yijian, and killed a king with one slash.

This time, although Han Fei didn't kill a human Half-King, it was obvious that a Sea Establishment monster had been almost killed by Han Fei. It would die sooner or later.

"Hey! Old Hong, Old Hong, what kind of luck is this? Why do you always run into Han Fei? If you meet him again, I might as well surrender..."

Hong Yue ran away in a hurry, and Han Fei had already absorbed all the Chaotic Qi of the Nine Infant Demonic Worm. Now it was already a dead worm.

Han Fei moved his body and felt that the pain he felt just now was almost comparable to the heart-wrenching pain he felt when he practiced the Indestructible Body.

It had to be said that even the mixed-blood descendants of Primordial Fierce Beasts couldn't be underestimated. Even in the face of a king like him who could be said to be among the top few in the Raging Sea, this Nine Infant Demonic Worm was enough to reduce his combat power by 30%. If it were an ordinary person, their combat power would probably be reduced by 50%.

Besides, this Nine Infant Demonic Worm was good at soul attacks. If his soul wasn't strong enough, he probably couldn't beat it.

At this moment, after Han Fei absorbed the Chaotic Qi of the Nine Infant Demonic Worm, he threw its corpse to the back to feed the bugs. This thing's body had been contaminated. Although it became a king, it would never become an emperor.

When the Nine Infant Demonic Worm died, the red magma around seemed to show signs of receding. When Han Fei continued to go deeper into the crack, no creatures attacked him again.

After about five seconds, Han Fei saw a vortex door.

"F*ck!"

When Han Fei saw the vortex door, he was dumbfounded. He had spent so much effort to come here, only to open a black entrance for himself?

Han Fei still remembered what Han Xuan told him. The doors had three colors: blue and black, red and black.

And he emphasized that never enter the black entrances because they were death doors. This made Han Fei feel terrible.

Han Fei immediately took out the Vast Ocean Navigator and tried again. However, the Vast Ocean Navigator was clearly pointing at the black vortex.

Han Fei didn't really want to use the Nine Palace Luck Ruler, because the Monarch Palace was definitely dangerous. Therefore, at this time, the Nine Palace Luck Ruler definitely wouldn't show a good divination result.

However, Han Fei still tested his luck.

However, the Nine Palace Luck Ruler showed a state that Han Fei had never seen before. The indicator moved back and forth between "Greatly Auspicious" and "Impasse".

However, shouldn't this situation be Unpredictable? Why was it moving in such a way?

Han Fei couldn't help taking a breath. Could it be that the level of the Nine Palace Luck Ruler couldn't detect the danger of the Monarch Palace, nor could it see through his luck here?

Han Fei suspected that it was very likely because of this reason. This meant that the Nine Palace Luck Ruler also had an upper limit. The Human Sacred Weapon was not a godly weapon in the first place. Logically speaking, it should be at the same level as a Sea Quelling Bizarre Treasure, but he didn't use it for fighting.

Since the Nine Palace Luck Ruler had an upper limit, Han Fei didn't know if the Vast Ocean Navigator had an upper limit. However, finding the way should be simpler than measuring luck. Han Fei felt that the Vast Ocean Navigator might have more usable space.

Now, the Nine Palace Luck Ruler was useless, and the Vast Ocean Navigator was clearly pointing at this black vortex entrance. What could Han Fei do? Although there were ten thousand reasons for him not to enter it, he still had to enter in the end!

This was because no matter how dangerous this entrance was, the Vast Ocean Navigator said that it was most suitable for him. Since it was most suitable for him, he might be able to turn misfortune into luck.

After hesitating for a long time, Han Fei gritted his teeth and decided to enter. Although Han Xuan, as his uncle, shouldn't have any reason to lie to him, there must be a reason for the existence of the black vortex entrance.

Besides, Han Xuan had also said that the more difficult the entrance was, the less dangerous it would be inside. Obviously, in this aspect, the black vortex might not be as dangerous as he imagined.

Since he had already decided, Han Fei didn't intend to change it. Anyway, no matter which entrance it was, he had to choose one to enter. He might as well enter the one most suitable for him.

Buzz!

Han Fei disappeared into the vortex with a swish. When Han Fei reappeared, the void stabilized, and Han Fei immediately looked around.

This was a lush green forest. There were many strange demonic plants of various colors. There were huge pure blue flowers with white stamens that spread out in circles.

There were dark green plants that looked like feather fans, like peacocks spreading their wings to show off.

There were bright red half-arc flowers that looked like squids with many tentacles wrapped in the flower, which looked like stamens extending out.

Han Fei wanted to release his perception immediately, but in fact, his perception was still useless, so all he could see was what he saw now.

“Forest?”

Han Fei shook his head slightly. They didn’t look like trees. The trees were in a strange shape, like lanterns. Among the leaves, a huge curved calabash hung down.

There were also some that looked like trees, but their leaves were strange, like the broad leaves of algae. He didn’t know what kind of trees they were.

Han Fei quickly calmed down. He came here to find opportunities. Han Xuan asked him to be slow and not rush, which meant that every scene he encountered might have a purpose.

Han Fei didn’t know what was here, but he still planned to call Little Black and Little White out to see if they could show him the way.

Today, he had already used the Vast Ocean Navigator twice. In this unfamiliar environment, he’d better use the Vast Ocean Navigator carefully.

Therefore, Han Fei thought of Little Black and Little White.

Buzz!

As soon as Little Black and Little White were summoned by Han Fei, Little White exclaimed, “Dad! So many enemies!”

“Huh?”

Han Fei was stunned. Why didn’t I see any enemies?

At this moment, Little Black swooshed over to Han Fei’s head, where there was a thin vine. Han Fei had seen this vine when he came in. It was hanging from a big leaf that looked like a broad leaf above his head. It didn’t move at all, or he would have noticed it.

However, Little Black directly bit at the vine and broke it. Han Fei was about to ask Little Black why he began to eat plants when the vine twisted.

“F*ck?”

Han Fei's eyelids twitched. It was not a vine or a demonic vine, but a bug. It even had flesh and blood. Although its flesh and blood were almost dry, the bug could still fight back.

Although he couldn't see where Little Black was, the "vine" instantly split into dozens of vines and grabbed at Little Black.

"Munch, munch!"

However, the little vine couldn't compare to Little Black's teeth. It bit them easily. Anyway, Little Black could digest them.

Little Black's movement was like a fuse, lighting a fire in the forest.

Han Fei saw the few demonic plants that he had noticed just now, such as the big pure blue flower. Every circle of its patterns was torn off from the flower like a sweater thread.

When he looked again, the pattern moved and opened its eyes. Wasn't that a bug? It was the first time Han Fei saw a circular bug.

As for the dark green feather-like plants that looked like peacocks spreading their tails, in fact, every fine hair on the feather had fallen off and surged towards Han Fei.

As for the bright red flower with white stamens, it was not a squid but a bunch of insects wrapped in a circular leaf.

Han Fei couldn't have felt worse. So this place was literally an insect cave. Good lord, he had come to a real insect cave.

As far as he could see, they were all insects. More importantly, they could perfectly transform into plants.

When Han Fei was stunned by this scene, he saw that the calabash on his head suddenly exploded. Yes, it exploded for no reason. But what was with the millions of insects that spewed out? Wasn't this purely disgusting?

"Ew..."

What was the difference between these insects and the Ghost Aphids just now?

With a thought from Han Fei, Little Black and Little White fused. The Infinity Water turned into a spinning storm, minced countless insects, which exploded into a rain of sticky liquid, looking disgusting.

More importantly, the insect slurry contained poison. The arrays Han Fei set up were corroded dozens of layers in just two seconds.

Han Fei glanced around and saw several kinds of insects.

For example:

< Name > Explosive Worm

< Introduction > This is a kind of worm that will only be in the mother's womb and never come out. The mother's womb nourishes these explosive worms by absorbing the spiritual energy from the outside world. Once the mother's womb explodes, all the explosive worms will spray out and explode within a hundred seconds. Its worm plasma is extremely corrosive. If one stays in the worm plasma of the explosive worm for a long time, even the golden body can be corroded.
