

GOF 1999

Chapter 1999 Enlightenment · Yin-Yang

When Han Fei saw so many of himself looking at him, he inexplicably thought of the scene when he looked at himself across the green jade bridge.

At that moment, Han Fei was even stunned.

“Twin in one.”

Han Fei stopped using the Twin Divine Technique. He suddenly felt that the Vast Ocean Navigator letting him in from this entrance meant that this was the most suitable place for him. Why? Just now, he felt that this world was very suitable for his Great Dao.

However, what was his Great Dao? It was a completely unknown Great Dao that even he hadn't figured out yet.

As if thinking of something, Han Fei closed his eyes and cultivated quietly. Another day passed.

One day later.

Han Fei asked the first question. “Is there anyone else in this space except me?”

This time, the Vast Ocean Navigator didn't move, which meant that there was no one else here, and the Vast Ocean Navigator didn't lose control.

Han Fei immediately asked the second question. “Is there any inhuman power watching me in this space?”

The Vast Ocean Navigator didn't move, which meant that this mirror space was completely a sealed trap-like space.

After the second question, with a thought from Han Fei, a green jade bridge appeared in front of him.

Of course, in the mirror, there were also countless green jade stone bridges. However, Han Fei ignored them and climbed to the top of the bridge in one breath. When Han Fei stepped on the top of the bridge, he couldn't see the outside world anymore. In the mirrors, Han Fei's figure disappeared, and there was only a green jade stone bridge left in the mirror space.

Han Fei stood on the bridge and looked at the figure under the bridge. Han Fei had tried this no less than a thousand times, but he still couldn't figure out what this Great Dao was.

But this time, Han Fei murmured, “Fake is real and real is fake. I'm real, so are you. So, there's actually no current me or future me. These are actually all me.”

Han Fei was curious. Behind the figure under the bridge was a hazy mist. He had always obtained the power of the Great Dao when he walked under the bridge. If he wanted to go further, he couldn't.

However, Han Fei suddenly had some strange thoughts today. He suddenly turned his head and lay on his stomach on the bridge, looking under the bridge instead of down the steps. Before, the entire bridge was covered in white mist, and the green jade bridge hadn't revealed its true appearance yet. When the entire green jade bridge appeared, Han Fei thought that he saw the entire green jade bridge, but did he really see it?

The existence of the mirror space made Han Fei realize that what he thought was real might not be real. Perhaps the him in the mirror also thought he was real.

Just like you in the mirror is reversed. Do you have to use a mirror to produce such an image?

Sure enough, when Han Fei looked under the green jade bridge, he saw a reflection under the bridge, as if the bridge was supposed to be in the water.

Under the water, there was also a green jade bridge, and the two bridges looked like a circle.

Therefore, Han Fei felt that he was really alone on the green jade bridge, because there was also him in the reflection under the bridge.

Han Fei immediately looked back at where he came from. This was something he had never thought of before, because he came up from below. However, when he looked in the direction he came from, he found himself standing under the bridge.

“F*ck!”

Han Fei felt a chill down his spine. Sure enough, this mirror space gave him inspiration, making him realize that he thought he was his original body in this Great Dao, but in fact...

Perhaps in the eyes of the other him, he was the blurry figure standing here without moving

Gulp!

Han Fei swallowed.

“How to break it? How to break it?”

Han Fei’s forehead was covered in sweat. He had never seen such a weird Great Dao. It was as if... the green jade bridge was spinning. When he was walking up the bridge, his reflection was actually walking down the bridge.

If he looked at it the opposite way, would he be walking down the green jade bridge or up the stairs?

If he was going down the steps, why did he have to withstand such tremendous pressure?

If he was going up the steps, was he real or fake? Wouldn’t it become that he thought he was going up the steps, but he was actually going down the steps? Therefore... Han Fei finally analyzed an extremely terrifying fact. He might have always been a reflection in the Great Dao.

This horrified Han Fei. If he had always been a reflection, why did he feel that he was his original body?

“No, no ~”

Han Fei shook his head quickly. “I am me, and I am my original body. There is no such thing as a reflection or not. Because even if I am a reflection, the other self on the opposite side will be under pressure when going up the steps, so he won’t think he is a reflection?”

Han Fei took a deep breath. What if he thought in a different way? For example, because of his Yin-Yang Great Dao, he actually had two bodies, one Yin and one Yang.

Then when he went down the steps, it was actually two of him walking towards the same destination. It was like the combination of Yin and Yang, the fusion of his twin bodies, and his strength naturally doubled.

Therefore, could it be the reason why his strength increased by three times after he went down the steps?

With this in mind, Han Fei suddenly felt that the bridge began to tremble slightly, and Han Fei felt that his Yin-Yang Great Dao was collapsing.

“What’s going on?”

Han Fei hurried down the steps. Because he was worried that something would happen to his Yin-Yang Great Dao, he didn’t notice that he felt much easier when he was going down the steps this time.

When Han Fei went down seven steps, he immediately switched to the Yin-Yang Great Dao among the three Great Daos.

However, at this moment, the Yin-Yang Great Dao began to dissipate in Han Fei’s eyes. However, it didn’t disappear. The Yin-Yang Great Dao turned into a black and a white mist. One entered the green jade bridge, and the other entered the projection of the green jade bridge.

Buzz!

Han Fei was suddenly repelled by the green jade bridge. When he came back to his senses, he was already standing in this mirror space.

Although Han Fei really wanted to continue to see the subsequent changes on the green jade bridge, something that made Han Fei extremely excited happened. He had just activated his Great Dao, and he felt that his strength had tripled.

“Haha, haha, hahaha...”

Han Fei was so excited that his breathing became rapid, which made Han Fei grin. His comprehension of the Great Dao had deepened, and when he activated it, the effect returned to three times. How could Han Fei not be excited?

Originally, although his strength had been soaring, when his strength was 200,000 waves, he could barely unleash 500,000 waves of strength.

When his strength reached 250,000 waves, the power that erupted from his Great Dao was only slightly more than 500,000.

When his strength reached 290,000 waves and approached 300,000 waves, the power of his Great Dao didn’t increase. It was still slightly more than 500,000 waves and even showed signs of weakening.

Han Fei even thought that as he became stronger and stronger, the effect of his Great Dao would decrease.

Now it seemed that it was actually not the case. In the end, it was just that he didn't understand his own Great Dao. When he activated his Great Dao, his strength would increase by three times and be close to 900,000 waves. How terrifying was that?

Han Fei felt that in the Raging Sea, he was already invincible in the Sea Establishment realm. Who said that strength couldn't be used as a standard to measure combat power? Now, his strength was several times stronger than the top ten of the Raging Sea. Why couldn't he crush them?

Of course, Han Fei wasn't happy for long. When he wanted to summon the green jade bridge again, he found that he couldn't summon it. Although it shook, it didn't appear.

Han Fei suspected that it was related to the disappearance of the Yin-Yang Great Dao. However, Han Fei couldn't help but wonder if the Yin-Yang Great Dao had collapsed or fused into the green jade bridge.

Unfortunately, he could only study this later.

Now, when Han Fei looked at the countless him in the mirror space, he had an idea.

Just like when he was on the green jade bridge, he could fuse with the reflections.

Then, how could he make the thousands of him in the mirrors walk towards him?

Han Fei activated the Twin Divine Technique and turned into a black and white mist. The purest primitive form of the Twin Divine Technique was the current mist form.

Although the black-mist body couldn't be projected, the white-mist body could!

The white-mist body stuck to a square mirror and completely sealed the mirror. The mirror extended infinitely and immediately turned the entire mirror space into a white mist.

Buzz!

Han Fei's heart trembled and he suddenly opened his eyes. He was already standing on the altar.

"Huff"

At this moment, Han Fei was covered in cold sweat. This test was too weird. To pass it, he had to rely on comprehension.

His comprehension was actually indirectly guided by the Vast Ocean Navigator. Otherwise, who could have thought of this?

If there was no Yin-Yang Great Dao, no green jade bridge, and no Twin Divine Technique, how could he get out of that damn place?

While Han Fei was glad, he was also vigilant. This Monarch Palace was too difficult to break through!

Fortunately, he was out now.

Han Fei immediately looked at the bronze mirror. When Han Fei looked at the bronze mirror, he seemed to feel that he had missed something, but he didn't care. Instead, he walked to the center of the altar excitedly.

Chapter 2000 Greedy Jewelry Skeleton

When Han Fei approached the bronze mirror, information popped up in his eyes.

< Name > Mirror of Infinity (Replica)

< Introduction > This mirror is a copy of the Yin-Yang Heavenly Mirror. It can reflect the enemy and automatically absorb him into the Mirror of Infinity to trap the enemy. The way to destroy the Mirror of Infinity is either to have power beyond this mirror, or to find a way to break it. The Mirror of Infinity is only effective on people of the same realm, and it can only trap one person at a time. If trapped for a long time, one will be turned into a mirror three years later.

< Quality > Low-quality Godly Weapon

< Attached Soul > None

< Effect > Infinite confinement mirror

< Recastable >

< Unrefined >

< Remarks > Because it's a replica, its function is very simple.

"Hiss"

Han Fei couldn't help taking a breath. A low-quality godly weapon? A replica? If this was a replica, how strong was the real one?

Han Fei's heart trembled. Good and bad things came together. Although the function of the Mirror of Infinity was indeed simple, just this single function was terrifying.

What would ordinary people do if they were trapped in the mirror? They would probably try to break the mirror immediately. Han Fei couldn't help imagining that scene. If one dared to attack with his full strength, he would only be beaten to death.

As for finding a way to break the mirror, heh, he didn't figure it out until he comprehended a lot. Han Fei felt that he was already very smart. If others were inside, they might have been killed by themselves.

Therefore, regardless of whether the Mirror of Infinity was a replica or not, it was so powerful that it could even trap the Time Technique.

Han Fei was already prepared, but his heart did a flip. No matter what, this mirror had to recognize him as its master. If his blood and Qi weren't enough, he had plenty of opportunities to increase his blood and Qi.

Therefore, Han Fei pressed the Mirror of Infinity with one hand, and the essence blood in his body flowed out. However, to Han Fei's surprise, the essence blood didn't flow out very quickly. After only losing 60% of it, Han Fei found that this low-quality godly weapon was subdued by him without any resistance.

Buzz!

As the Heaven Enlightenment Divine Technique was activated, Han Fei issued an order in his heart and put away the Mirror of Infinity. Thousands of spiritual fruits appeared around him, shattered one after another, and were absorbed by Han Fei in a few mouthfuls, producing pure essence blood.

At this point, Han Fei felt that he had passed the Insect Tide Forest.

The reason why the Vast Ocean Navigator pointed here was probably that Han Fei would obtain the most benefits here, so it chose this path.

However, Han Fei didn't think this road could be called a dead end, although it was very dangerous indeed.

If it was so difficult for him, how could it be easy for others?

Han Fei couldn't imagine what would happen if he was trapped in the mirror for three years. To turn into a mirror?

Han Fei thought of the mirrors he saw in the Mirror of Infinity. He hoped that it wasn't what he thought. If they were all humans, it would be too creepy.

After a while, when Han Fei finished replenishing his Qi and blood, he was not in a hurry to continue exploring the Monarch Palace. Firstly, he had just experienced so much, so he had to take some time to digest what he had got.

Secondly, he still had some questions about the green jade bridge. He wanted to wait two days to see if the green jade bridge had stabilized and if he could enter it again.

And today, he still had a chance to use the Vast Ocean Navigator. Han Fei asked, "Is there any opportunity here suitable for me?"

However, the Vast Ocean Navigator didn't move, and Han Fei didn't care. This was because he had already obtained a lot of opportunities. With more than a million catties of Ground Veins Essence and the Mirror of Infinity, this trip to the Monarch Palace was worth it.

Three days later.

He still couldn't summon the green jade bridge, but Han Fei tried to use the power of the Yin-Yang Great Dao. This power could be used normally.

In that case, Han Fei didn't wait anymore. After all, the danger here was no longer a danger to him. The violent insect tide had changed into a forest again. Those insects disguised themselves as flowers and trees again.

Since there was no opportunity that belonged to him, Han Fei didn't explore it anymore. Should he find poison to eat?

As for how to leave, it was simple. The existence of the altar seemed to be for teleportation. After Han Fei took the Mirror of Infinity, array lines appeared on the ground of the altar.

Although it was not the teleportation array he usually used, Han Fei could still distinguish the construction of the teleportation array.

However, some parts of the teleportation seemed to be more like specific coordinates and places. Therefore, Han Fei guessed that this was a directional teleportation array, and the place it teleported to shouldn't be simple, because to teleport there, more complicated array patterns needed to be engraved.

Since he was already here, he had to enter the teleportation array. Otherwise, he would have to sit on the altar for three years. Of course, this was impossible.

Therefore, Han Fei lit up the teleportation array with spiritual energy without hesitation.

As soon as the teleportation array lit up, a void entrance under the altar was opened, and Han Fei's figure immediately disappeared.

When Han Fei's surroundings just lit up, he felt that his surroundings were golden and dazzling, and the gorgeous light almost blinded his eyes.

When Han Fei took a closer look, he saw that this was really a real palace, a glittering hall.

In the hall, the entire dome was inlaid with gold and jade, all kinds of jade essence, pearls, and demonic cores, and the surrounding walls and pillars were also filled with rare iron and black crystals, gold and jade, and sparkling powder.

Han Fei was standing at the entrance of the hall, behind him was a golden door, and in front of him was a big ship more than 80 meters long, whose boards were made of treasures. On this entire ship, even the lowest level treasure was the life pearl of a Venerable-level sea demon.

Outside the ship, there were golden corpses and their various spiritual beast statues.

However, whether it was a human or a spiritual beast, they were all golden in color, but they were all just sculptures. And they looked so exquisite. The reason why they were exquisite was that even if you covered a mummy with gold and all kinds of jewelry, you would still think that the mummy was quite exquisite.

Anyway, to summarize it in one word, this palace was magnificent and dazzling. Any object in it was shining and priceless.

Of course, he still couldn't use his perception, but Han Fei heard someone shout, "Who is it?"

Han Fei's heart did a flip. Someone was here? It seemed that he had met someone.

Anyway, Han Fei wasn't afraid that they were emperors. If they were his enemies, he would just kill them all.

However, when Han Fei passed the big ship, he saw three people in the distance. One of them was Qiu Yueming from the Glazed Glass World. Although he hadn't fought her before, they had met a few times.

When Qiu Yueming saw Han Fei, she was also shocked. Han Fei was here too.

Han Fei looked at the other two. In fact, he knew them. Ice Snow Chuling had introduced them to him when he went to the Land of King Death.

A woman holding a flute was the master of the Sanskrit Music World, Liang Yin. And the thin but energetic man was the master of the Spirit Refining World, Xu Lian.

The three of them were obviously not hostile at this moment, which showed that they got along well and had no intention of fighting.

However, when Liang Yin and Xu Lian saw Han Fei, they were both shocked and immediately became vigilant. Would this ferocious person attack them?

Although they hadn't experienced Han Fei's strength, it didn't mean they didn't know it. This was a guy who had snatched the Yin-Yang World and the Water-Wood World from Bei Luo Chen. This was a terrifying person who dared to rob the Supreme Clearness World and successfully force He Daoyuan back. And this was a peerless genius who could dominate the Sea Establishment Realm in the Raging Sea in just a few decades.

However, in their hearts, Han Fei was ruthless and direct and never hesitated to fight.

Looking at the Five Elements World, the Medicine King World, and the Dream Weaving World, which of them hadn't been messed up by Han Fei?

After seeing them, Han Fei looked at a throne not far behind them.

On the throne, there was a jade-like skeleton. The skeleton was wearing gold, silver, rubies, sapphires, and emeralds. It wore a six-colored flower ring on its head and a gorgeous robe that seemed to be woven by some kind of golden thread, looking like an emperor.

In front of the throne, there was a bronze platform, on which there were some rare treasures, Sea Quelling Bizarre Treasures, exotic gems, ultra-quality spiritual fruits, and strange talismans.

Han Fei couldn't help but ask, "Is this the so-called monarch?"

Han Fei came to the three of them in a step, and Xu Lian and Liang Yin both assumed defensive postures.

Qiu Yueming: "Don't come close."

Han Fei tilted his head and glanced at Qiu Yueming, nodding slightly. "Did you come here directly?"

After that, Han Fei looked at Xu Lian and Liang Yin and smiled faintly. "Don't worry. As long as you are not the enemies of the Yin-Yang World, I won't attack you. I'm not as bloodthirsty as the rumors say."

Xu Lian cupped his hands. "Greetings, Master of the Yin-Yang World."

Liang Yin said, "Greetings, Fellow Daoist Han Fei. Before I came here, I had already experienced three dangerous places. This is the fourth."

Xu Lian said, "This is the second place I've been since I came in."

Qiu Yueming said, "I came to this place after experiencing three dangerous places. Here, you will hear a voice asking for a rare treasure. Unless the treasure satisfies this person's needs, he won't let you go."
