Chapter One: New Friend

"Ohh." The comforting voice continues to whisper. Although, I don't stop crying.

"What happened?" I call through sobs.

"You were hurt." The voice replies.

"How?" I ask.

"Ah, ... someone got in your head." The voice whispers into my ear.

"Into my head." I murmur. Alone to myself then the voice.

"Yeah." The voice says as though replying to it as a question.

"It Know?" I clutter.

"It's alright, you'll be okay now." The voice says, smoothing my question. I open my eyes and look up, the voice is a boy. He has dark brown hair and deep brown electric blue eyes. He's wearing a simple grey hoodie and jeans.

"What are you?" I ask.

"Someone, here to take you home." He replies. His arms slide under my knees and back. They're so strong as he lifts me up. I snuggle into his chest, even though I didn't know him. I feel ... protected in his arms.

"Head the bed are you sticking out for?" Someone asks behind us, it's a boys voice so I take it as that.

"Taking her home." My protector replies.

"It's her home." I think of asking for her home? The strange boy says.

"Such a nice friend, ... is trying to turn her all the way home because she's two walked here. But yet, you had her into these property now." My protector says he is one going hard.

"I don't like were walking to her because we were going to do our studying at the ice shop at the end of the road. Then someone jumped on me from." The boy replies, his voice now coming from right behind me.

"Hmm, I guess I should've thrown that person into another wall." My protector mutters to himself.

"What?" The boy asks.

"Nothing." My protector replies.

"Where are you taking her?" The boy asks.

"Home, ... now get in the car." My protector replies.

I hear the boy opening and closing the car door. Then I'm being set gently into the passenger seat. That's when I realize my eyes have been closed just about the whole time, ... I've only been half conscious. I try to stay up in the seat but my head hits the back, and I have no control over it. My protector is currently putting my seat belt on for me. I'm so tired, I can't even do that myself. I'm so weak. I hear my door close and my protector walking around to the driver's side. I hear him start the car engine. Then the car moves and we start the drive home.

"Where to?" My protector asks.

The boy in the back seat tells him directions to both his house and mine. The car reverses, stops and then the boy opens the door.

"Thanks man, ... make sure she gets home safely." The boys says, then the door slams and it rolls to the car alone with my protector. I try to say something, but nothing works. Finally we slow into a stop and the driver door is opened, and oh, ... damn. My dad is home and now only my protectors cold hands can really save Self. He picks me up like he did before and carries me to a porch. He sets me on a swing, ... a large one, but my brain is so fuzzy to know what kind of swing I'm on.

"Is she hurt?" My dad asks my protector with fear in his voice.

"My protector, ?, murmurs. Happy I was able to get something out. My protector chuckles.

"Yeah, something like that." He says. Then footsteps go down porch steps and a car starts, then the car sounds fade away and I fall asleep.

It's been four days since the strange thing that happened on Thursday. I can't remember what happened, the only thing I remember is someone taking me home. I can't remember who the person is or anything. I can't remember my family or meeting. It makes me feel uneasy.

The only thing I have to remember that night is a strange cut on my right forearm. It wasn't all the way around my wrist with strange symbols. It was starting the cut look like this. It didn't want to heal, it was just a long cut. I know. I remember looking in the mirror Friday morning.

Friday, October, 13.

"Oh, by, what are you doing sleeping on the porch swing?" Mom asks pushing me awake.

"Uh, what?" I ask blinking as I sit up.

"You were sleeping on the porch swing all night, ... Anyway how was studying with Bryan last night?" Mom asks.

"Um, ..." I start with one, my to go me. Wait, what did I expect last night? I take my brain to remember.

"Yes, are you ok, right?" Mom asks.

"I, ... I don't remember." I reply to mom.

"Oh, ... by, you know what, it's okay. You can stay home today. You look horrible and sick." Mom says.

"Thanks mom." I reply, my eyes open and pull out some sweatpants and a baggy t-shirt. Then I go to take a shower. I try to my long blonde hair with my hand. That's when I notice my arm, a thin, like cut was going all around my wrist. I want to scream, I start hearing a alarm sounds. I finally, he looks familiar, I can't put it on the finger where I've seen this before.

"Have you now leave?" I ask.

"Yeah. I'm Damian." He replies handing me the books he picked up.

"I'm Isa." I say, sticking out my hand. As we shake hands I can feel how cold he is, his skin is literally like ice.

"Hey, you want to tell me how to get to the English room?" Damian asks.

I will follow me I'm heading there too." I reply, and start to walk toward the English room.

"Do you he is grade twelve too?" Damian asks, keeping conversation.

"Yep." I reply.

"What's your favourite subject?" He asks.

"It's ... Probably English." I reply.

"What the?" He says quietly looking at me.

"Um, ... what's wrong?" I ask.

"What happened to your arm?" He asks. His warm voice suddenly turning hard.

"Oh, I, uh, hurt it." I reply, looking at my arm which I had put a wrap around it. Eventually not thinking about the time. "Also, today I starts our class with talking us about a new book, and that we'll be doing a big assignment on it.

"Hey, ha!" Someone calls, in his cadence. I turn around to see Bryan making his way over.

"Hey Bryan, what's up?" I ask.

"Nothing much, ...ah, are you okay?" He asks.

"Um, Bryan, I'm not sure what you're talking about." I reply.

"Like, ... are you okay, you aren't like totally freaking out because of Thursday are you?" Bryan asks.

"What are you mentioned on Thursday?" I say swinging my legs over the bench of the table.

"Well, ... you don't remember?" Bryan asks.

"No, ... so you can tell me?" I say, resisting the urge to jump o the table and shake his shoulders.

"Um, no I can't it sort is a story to tell." Bryan says.

"Isa, I love Bryan, Lamb, please." I say.

"Sorry no, no." Bryan replies. So I turn around and continue to eat my food. Chris slides down across from me and we sat in peace, ... until my other friends come.

"Henry! Aloooop honey!" Chris asks. Sitting down beside me and swinging his arm over my shoulders.

"Oh, Christopher you don't need to do that all the time!" Annabeth says sitting down beside Bryan.

"Sorry Anne." Chris replies, taking his arm o my shoulder.

"No, no, wanna roll us are you weren't here on Friday?" Selena asks. Coming to sit beside Chris with her younger sister Hannah.

"I wasn't feeling well." I reply.

"What, so your mom, like, let you stay at home?" Hannah asks.

"Yeah." I laugh.

"Ew not her!" Chris says looking at me.

"Life ain't her Chris." Anne says.

"Has anyone talked to Damian the new dude yet?" Hannah asks.

"I haven't but he is hot" Anne says.

"I have." I reply.

"Omgod what's he like?" Selena asks.

"Well, he's nice, ..." I say.

"Good!" Anne proves.

"Um, I don't know, he's cool I guess and really sweet." I say.

"Ohhh, ... so you don't think he's like hot?" Selena asks.

I never said that, he is sorta hot though, ..." I reply.

The girls laugh while the boys all there talking gross. I look behind me to see Damian coming over. I can't help but smile. Damian sits beside me and smiles back.

"Hey Damian!" I say.

"Hey Isa." Damian says with a laugh.

"How are my friends, Christopher, Selena, Hannah, Bryan and Annabeth." I say pointing to each of them in turn.

"Hey." Damian says.

"Hi Damian." Anne says leaning on her elbows. We laugh at her and she scowls back at us. We eat our lunch together chatting away until the bell rings.

"So what'd Isa have now?" I ask.

"History." Damian replies.

"I'm easy! I've got history too." I say smiling, as Damian laughs. So together we head o to Mrs. Courtneys class.

"Hey, ha!" Someone calls, in his cadence. I turn around to see Bryan making his way over.

"Hey Bryan, what's up?" I ask.

"Nothing much, ...ah, are you okay?" He asks.

"Um, Bryan, I'm not sure what you're talking about." I reply.

"Hey Damian!" I say.

"Hey Isa." Damian says with a laugh.

"How are my friends, Christopher, Selena, Hannah, Bryan and Annabeth." I say pointing to each of them in turn.

"Hey." Damian says.

"Hi Damian." Anne says leaning on her elbows. We laugh at her and she scowls back at us. We eat our lunch together chatting away until the bell rings.

"I'm easy! I've got history too." I say smiling, as Damian laughs. So together we head o to Mrs. Courtneys class.

"So how was school today?" Mom asks.

"Good," I reply dropping my bag on the ground as I walk into the kitchen.

"I hear there is a new kid." Mom states.

"Yeah, his name Damian, ... He and him seem to have become friends." I reply.

"No, that's sweet." Mom says coming into the kitchen.

"Oh shut up mom," I say giving her a light push.

No and soon tired, drive. Thats, my sister, had moved out for university two years ago. Oh, and she's in a serious relationship with someone. Dad had passed away when I was five is or are short.

"What are you doing tonight?" Mom asks.

"I'm going to the studio to work it song." I reply.

"Okay, be back in time for breakfast." Mom says with a wink.

I love my mom she let me stay out as long as I wanted. She gave me pretty privacy a mom should give and she knew when I needed her support. I'm so lucky to have her as my mom.

I walk to my room to get my laptop and then I drive o to the studio. Instructor it opened and only at the bought her a record label in grade nine, , because Chris could play drums. He was amazing at drums. Eventually we formed a YouTube channel together so we could post our own songs and covers. Chris, Anna, Selena, Bryan and me had the band all set up. Chris has always been drums. But some songs Anna would take over for him. Anna is an electric guitar player and Selena is a bass player. Bryan is the lead singer and guitarist. And I'm the vocalist. Bryan is our leader. Bryan is our leader in a lot of things. And all of the camera work. We, I am the acoustic guitar player and lead girl singer.

We all had our own YouTube channel and Chris said we could use the studio whenever we want for free. But when we started to get more music, we formed one together. We took turns of fans, and sometimes when we would go to cafe's or write people would record us and say they loved our channel.

Today we were doing a cover of Burn by Ellie Goulding. I walk into the studio to find everyone sunning their instruments.

"Hey, ha!" Bryan says.

"You peoples ready for today?" I ask.

"I'll set Qur to my keyboard mode." Selena says smiling.

"Alright!" I laugh.

"Hey, she y'know where Anna is?" Chris asks.

"I" Selena begins to say but is cut o by Anna coming through the door with Damian.

"Hope you guys don't mind but I brought Damian along so he could watch us? He said he was a singer!" Anna says so hastily.

"We don't mind." Damian says with a smile.

"Do you're a singer?" I ask.

"Yeah, I'm a lot a good liar." Damian says with a grin.

"You can't say you're not a good singer if no one's heard you." I smile and go to my seat and turn my guitar. I go through the song quickly, then motion for Damian to come over.

"Yeah?" He asks.

"Y'know Counting Stars by One Republic right?" I ask.

"I love that song, , know it is by heart!" Selena calls in.

"Selena this ain't about you." I say laughing.

"I memorized it too." Damian says.

"I'll play, you sing. I'll be fucking okay?" I say then pull the mic closer to o, I start to play and he starts to sing. I resist the urge to stare up at him and sing. His voice is perfect. When we finish the video I say.

"Woah, Damian you're an awesome singer!" Anna says.

"I got it on camera We'll post it on your channel my." Bryan says.

"Alright." I laugh.

"You're really good." Damian says to me.

"Um, thanks," I reply.

"Okay, we're going to get our song done, viewers are asking about it on Twitter, , we let say we'll post it today." Chris says.

"Okay, I'm not everyone!" I say and everyone takes there places to there instruments.

Bryan turns on all the cameras and takes his place beside me. Then Selena starts, and I sing.

When we finish Damian claps and we give each other some high-fives. Bryan quickly turns o the cameras and starts everything to the computer and does the editing. While he does all the video editing we talk and play some music. Finally or about hour five minutes Bryan announces it's been published.

"Woot woot, we're awesome!" Chris says, laughing all the while.

"Yeah we are awesome!" I reply to Chris.

"Hey, does everyone here know how to play Xbox by Kinnects, 'cause we could totally play that!" Selena says excitedly.

"Um, yeah I don't remember the Kinects." I say.

"Then you just have to sing." Anne says.

"Okay, , Bryan wanna do some backup?" Isa.

"Totally!" Bryan replies walking over, setting all the cameras up once again.

We sing, and that's when I got lost into the music. My guitar wasn't there to keep my hands moving, , so I had to move them,) probably look like a complete idiot. Bryan and Damian are the only ones who look the best. Actually I want to be Bryan because I can't stop looking at the song.

When the song ends I'm panting, I can't stop it, it's over. Everyone is smiling but quiet and is staring at me. Bryan goes o to his cameras slowly looking at me as he does.

"What?" I finally ask.

"Isa, you were totally charged all the drama, , it was like your real voice came out because you were happy." Selena replies.

"I, it's because I'm not thinking about the guitar." I say.

"What? Are mean?" Chris asks.

"Well, when I'm playing the guitar or piano, I have to focus on not messing up. , but if I'm not playing them I can sit my voice room like." I reply smiling.

"Well you're amazing!" Damian says.

"Yeah. You are," Anna says.

"Thanks." I say, then look at the time. "Oh my gosh, I've got to go, Thalia is coming home for a week and I promised I'd see her first thing!"

"Okay, see you later!" Chris says.

"I'm glad to go too, thanks for inviting me Anna," Damian says. I look back at Anna to see her grinning from ear to ear, making me sit. Is a laugh.

Damian holds the door for me and I walk out.

"So, here's your are feeling?" Damian asks.

"It's okay I guess," I reply.

"That's good, I heard you had a rough night Thursday. What happened?" Damian asks.

"Uh, uh, it is normal for me not to remember?" I ask.

"Yeah, that okay. Dude?! I bet you remember then." Damian replies and then walks o as I get into the car.

As I drive home I start to try to train again, trying to remember anything from Thursday. Wait a second, , how did Damian know about Thursday?

Hooray!

So far so, or whatever ;)

You're to for a treat next chapter!

Hope you like!!
