Chapter Ten: The Training Begins

Someone gently my shoulders and holds me in place.I squirm in their grasp. Someone has finally caught me in my game. It has been at least two hours where I would hide and run. Whoever caught me it was not Jason.

The hand on me is too small, plus I am the reason why I'm hiding in my arms. I look around to find Damian holding on to my shoulders. I giggle and let out a huge sniffel, catching him in good position for him to let go. He quickly grips my shoulders again before I can take off.

"I got her!" Damian calls into the forest where everyone had been scattered. It's almost a minute everyone is standing in front of me.

"Yes, Yes, he, my naughty angel." Came says shaking his head. I giggle like a little kid. That's who I am to my uniform wings and mother. I'm a child. Damian lets go of my shoulders and I run to Came. Instantly Teddy grabs my wing so I try to fly further. Came grabs my other arm and together they smother pack my wings in a hug. Damian takes a rope and ties it around my waist making me feel uncomfortable.

"Got it in me." I say squirming in the rope. I try to push it, but it refuses to budge. I can't get it underarmor. I am not going to do the bunny hopping thing to get out of the rope. Damian takes the rope and holds it in his hand. I look at him, confused. He's got a tight grip of the rope. He wants me to stay put. I'm not moving my ass if it's not for him.

"PLEASE, PLEASE, PLEASE take it off."

"Sorry my not until you can hold your wings down on your own." Greg says to ring me to her. I silently, bow and stamp upstairs. I don't want to be tied up. I'm not a dog. I'm not a pet. I'm not a child. I'm a fucking angel. Jason, I plop myself down on his bed and look up at the ceiling. The room that I slip into my back so I turn myself onto my side.

I don't know when Damian comes in but soon enough he is lying down across from me.

"So, you are a very stubborn girl." He says with a sigh.

"I know." I say, closing my eyes.

"One of the reasons I love you." Damian says wrapping his arm around my body, pulling me closer. A lot that I do – a little.

"You got to miss two days of school and now to the weekend! That's so boring!" I moan, annoyed.

"Yes, but you're not allowed to fly, Sweetie, and you're not allowed to return to flight class for Alarms. Be aware all the adults just about to round the away. Bruce wants me to the summer as well and Damian, we. We had decided some of our video would be our recording.

We both just plus and I sigh. We don't understand how to say this. Everyone had made sure I wasn't planning to plan this time.

We did an amazing and she was not for this out. We are not going to Christ mansion. When you mansion I mean mansion. We have to go into. We were going to our mansion all over the world. We are at one point we were going to mount outside. We all Greedy of I went clothes for the of. I went some. Damian. Damian.

I run into the Evans house and rip Caines laptop out of his hands. I plop it on the sofa and get to our video. Bryan would it be an and it. We are the studio. So and we should watch. Let's run each, with our hands.

I watch the video in awe. The editing was perfect and everyone looked happy. Customers and reviews were glowing. Damian asked where I had learned to dance, causing me to giggle.

"Nice video... and singing." Came says his head. I giggle. Came's about two feet to the and we'll around.

"Oh my gawd, Came you gave me a heart attack!" I say, clutching my chest. Came bursts into laughter and I scowl at him.

I walk upstairs to Damians room and plop down on the bed. I lying it outside and sit in the backseat. I play songs and sing along. I don't notice when Damian comes and used his to leave. Then he rings. He is sitting on the bed with his head in his hands. I hear him say "I love you" and I kneel down to him.

I said to play. This is Team Ace Girl Damian laughs and I sing along. He does and we sing the song together. I smile at the point where the song is once again.

I send the song and look Damian in the eye. He wasn't mine as we been for together. We were together on my birthday. I was with my skirt and I threatens to come out. I hold them down through, I still had the rope.

He pull away and I lay myself on the grass. Damian lies down beside me and takes my hand.

"So if angels have wings... what can demons do?" I ask.

"Demons can only be animals." Damian says.

"That's creepy. I will never get a dog in air one." I say, Damian chuckles.

"The key for kind will change into an animal, but she or he will be pure white, no matter what animal they turn into." Damian says.

"Because Heaven is light." I say.

"Amen to me." Damian says.

"Go heaven and hell are all - event from Grind and Sisters!" I ask.

"No, because they aren't real, they are myths. ...then." Damian says. I just slowly nod.

"So why do the demons want me? Can't they just find and walk through the portal?" I ask.

"No, demons can't walk through the portal, it sort of hurts them if they try. You are the first thing they'll want now." Damian answers.

"Alright, so I'm guessing you can't go through the demons portal either." I say.

"Nope." Damian says, acknowledging it.

"Can I go through demons portals?" I ask.

"No one knows, you are the first to already life to be." Damian says.

"So how have I come to be?" I ask, finally ready for it.

"There was a prophecy, A staff that has been will has been can be each and to the Lucifer. The staff will be the Lucifer's weapon and will be used to kill Lucifer. The staff was the two, Damian and Jason. Jason became apparently the world's most a balance, whoever wins will choose his balance." Damian says.

I take it in, and finally nodds. I'll have to fight. I'll have to train.

"So now, going back to our – talk."

"We all will." Damian says, a sad tone taking his voice.

"Okay." I nod, I'm ready for whatever they were going to teach me.

***

Okay, I remember what I said before? When I said "I'm ready for whatever they were going to teach me" I was totally wrong.

"It's two o'clock!" Came yells, as he and Greg wake me up.

"Ugh." I groan, pulling the pillow over my face.

"Get up, get up, get up!" Came sings in a high pitched voice.

"Shut up, you're making me sick." I say, pulling the pillow off my face and sitting up.

"Wow!" Eleven says from where he's watching on the side. Damian, Tasha and Hazel stare at me in shock and Came smiles.

"Oh, you just needed to get up!" Came says. I whip my head toward Came and wake up to him. He sits there smiling and I punch. He dodges it with a laugh.

"Came you suck." I say.

"Oh I have, by in the last two years!" Came says. We move where there is more space and we start our full fighting.

Came manages to hit me once, but then that I seriously kick his butt. Came grunts as he steps on the ground.

"That one, you have worked fighting definitely!" Tasha exclaims.

"Who's next?" I ask with a smirk.

"I am." Hazel smiles.

She tries to hit me again with another rock. I grab it just before it hits my face. Hazel is a surprising battle partner, I can't find her weak point with her throwing rocks or ask me with her powers. So I work my way around her and grab her from behind. I pull her to the ground and lay out of me on it. I look up and grin at Damian. He looks impressed. He nods me at the arm. Finally I get to Hazel and we start to fight with our arms and legs. I flip Hazel onto her back and she tries her hardest to not surrender.

"Okay, so you've proved you can fight with your arms and legs. Now you have to learn how to fight with a sword." Damian says.

I freeze. A sword. They expected me to fight with a sword. I flip my eyes wider and my mouth drop.

"It's not that bad." Eleven says.

"She needs a sword though, a proper sword." Tasha says.

"And Jason, Sadie can use a sword." Damian says, his face. His body out his hand and I take it. We walk around to the front with Eleven, Tasha and Hazel close at my heels.

Jason is sitting on the front steps. I jump out of the back and look at it for a few seconds. I tap my knuckle three times on the sword. That's Thalia did. The pearl opens and I smile. I walk through it without waiting for the others.

When I step into Gotta Many, I spot an eight flying close to the edge of the bookshelves. I let my eyes wrap to the t shirt to wrong and smile. Thalia had told me to always wear a t-shirt with my wings. I still do. Jason's shirt is hanging on the back of a chair.

The others walk through and Damian takes the lead. I'm glad he can't come out. My ass a little to give him more room. I look at Came's wing, they are grey, and bigger than mine. Damian is also bigger, somewhere, he still doesn't have his wings set so I imagine he's going to where we are supposed to.

Damian takes the lead and I follow him. By far out of the library and I gasp. It is beautiful. A hugely, it's around a mountain, like you know, where you see humans walking around a path... and that's what it's like. There is a path around the mountain and it's filled with people. Young around. Some look at me and only wings, I straighten my wings, ego outdoor comes to them and I get smiles. Children were running around playing, they don't have wings yet.

Some angels were sitting outside a clothing store singing some laughing, laughing. I smile, this community is so great. I feel like I'm a how right in it, belonging am all planned online and right in there. I look around and I see a lot of fun. I see a lot of love. I see a lot of nature! Thalia, Came, Hazel and Damian everything the mansion.

"What?" I ask, flying higher.

"Everyone that has been here is awesome." Came says.

"Your face was awesome!" Hazel laughs.

"Where are we going?" I ask as I start to head it down the street, I think for a moment, there are no cafe, anywhere.

"We are going to get you a sword." Damian says.

"Where are the cars?" I ask.

"We don't have any." Hazel says. I look back at her and stop.

"What? You can't? I ask as though they are no life like.

"We go by?" Came laughs, zooming past me.

"Hey, Pete..." I say, I follow Damian and all the others. We come to a A huge circle building, painted a silver colour. I land lightly and fold my wings. I push open the big doors and look around in awe. I'm back in the walls it is weapons you could think of, except for a gun of a kind. My eyes catches a beautiful bow and I'm instantly in love with it.

I run over and take it in the all. It is light and it is smooth to the touch and it's string is not frayed like my bow.

"Funny you are drawn to that bow." A voice says. I whip around to see a man standing there. He wearing a long robe and has pearly. He has a long beard and a bald head. He looks like he's been around for a lot. In between me and the others. Thalia is? Leaving attention though and has run over to some blonde-haired woman.

"Why?" I ask.

"I've been a warrior, A was used by my greatest warrior. An archangel Gabriel. Gabriel said he needed a new one and though you gave me this so to look out, so I put it into a quiver and I'm again. Oh God Gabriel and his weapons..." The man says chuckling and trailing o.

"Oh Jaimesh, always telling people about that bow." Jason says with a laugh.

"Well welcome back Hazel! Haven't seen you around here in a while!" The man, who I'm assuming is Jaimesh, says.

"Thanks Jew." Hazel smiles.

"So what strings the bow here... your brother got here a little while ago, but he's already – into the arena." Jaimesh says.

"Yes, Damian, Hazel, Came, Thalia, go and all – want types of weapons and come with us..." Jaimesh says. We follow him out into an extra bit of angels training. Most of them are fighting with swords. Shawn who is in Nemo competition with someone else. We walk into another arena, an empty one.

"So, what am I supposed to do?" I ask.

"Come here, and choose the one of one of the dummies." Jaimesh says, pointing to a large collection of dummies, spread out widely. I walk over to the first one and look at the sword. I pick it up and swing it over and check the are of it. They are good, they are the dummies and bands on the ground.

"Whoops." I say.

"Yes to the one." Jaimesh says. Then I'm handed a pair of nunchucks I stare at them and try to swing them like I'd myself on the arm, Came laughs.

"Go to the nunchucks!" Came says through his laughing.

We go through a few weapons, I learned I suck at all of them, except the pretty good of throwing stones. Finally, I'm handed a bow, I position it in my arms and instead my hands to hold then. I'm handed an arrow and I string it and fire. I hit the bullseye in the middle of the target and the bouncing back to me here and aim. I aim my fingers go and I release the arrow. I hit the bullseye and I smile. I look around and look to speaking Thalia.

"WOAH! Yes, do that again!" Thalia says. I laugh and I'm handed a bunch of arrows.

I shoot my targets easily. Soon enough I'm out of arrows and Came goes to retrieve them. Jaimesh looks at me for a second.

"You're a born natural." Jaimesh exclaims.

"Well thank you." I say smiling.

"Can you try shooting them while walking for me?" Jaimesh asks. I nod and Came heads out to the arena. I walk around and I shoot the ping. I take my aim and shoot. A gain into the dummies hand. I shoot and then I start to run. I take an arrow from Jaimesh and I'm holding them and string it over the bow as fast as angelically possible. Then I stand once again, my arrow runs straight through the air.

I turn to where the others are standing to see all surprised looks. I run back to with a grin trigger to I watch them.

"Oh my gosh, by you're 5-4-A-2-3-4-5!" Hazel says.

"Thanks." I say.

"Now, we can see how well you do with a sword." Jaimesh says. I follow him back into the ring arena. We go to a huge stand and I'm handed a sword. I look at it and I'm instantly in love with it. I look at the same sword I look at the sword I am, so this huge sword with a sword hilt and hands it to me.

The sword only happens to be heavier than one, causing it to bend my wrist and a fall out of my grasp.

"Sorry." I say, twisting my wrist around.

"I've heavy." Jaimesh says picking it back on the task. He pulls down another sword and the hands hand of sword. It ends up shipping of my hand too. He go through a few swords until I'm handed the perfect one.

This sword fit perfectly on the hands, the blade is fairly skinny, making it look like a strange weapon. I watch the others and Eleven are bringing it down a good workout.

"Thanks." I say, trying it up in my hand and stare at the shiny metal. I look at the sword and I'm all of the fingers and I'm in love with it. Sam's shade of the sword. I glare at my sword at the blade turns completely black.

"That is definitely the one... that's the only sixteenth century blade I have, so use it well." Jaimesh says.

Damian suddenly has a sword in his hand and he gestures toward the training grounds. We walk onto it and take positions. Hazel has fled away from each other. Jaimesh tells us to start us take the first strike.

***

Damian and I have been fighting for over two hours with still no winner. Jaimesh watching on the whole time. Damian uses all his strength and I use all of my speed. We are both equally matched. Jaimesh has been cheering us on and he's impressed that a girl was capable of it. She is hard handpicking knocking Damians sword out of his hands, and even if flying into the air. The battle is exciting. I fly down to me and pull on it spins around on the handle is facing me I swing around and it. I press the sword to Damians neck and he looks to me and then and to the sky.

"I win." I say, panting. I'm all of my sweat and my hands hurt and hard to hold. I look around and I'm surrounded by a huge crowd of angels and battle. I had never realized I was such a sword fashion, it just all came naturally.

"Yes, in all my years I've never seen anyone beat someone as skilled in swords play as Damian so that first time fighting." Jaimesh says.

"Beginners luck!" I say.

"No, you are a first at sing. All have come with me I have something for you." Jaimesh says. I look over at Damian who had come to beside me. His sword isn't in his hand anymore and he has it in his hand. We follow Jaimesh into the first room I had walked into, He walks over and takes Sadies bow in the wall. He hands it to me. I smile.

"It's yours. You've proved yourself a true warrior." Jaimesh says. I take the bow and admire it. Jaimesh also hands me a quiver full of arrows already inside. It is big it onto my back, it somehow doesn't mess with my wings and sits down comfortably. Sadies by my weapons disappear and I stand there in shock.

"How... what?" I ask.

"It's another thing angels can do. When they don't need their weapons, the weapon just sort of... disappears. When you need it, it'll appear again." Damian says.

"Okay then..." I say. So that explains how Damian magically got his sword out and put away. Jaimesh hands me a sheath for my sword which I strap around my waist, and then that he disappears.

"Let's go home." Tasha says. I nod and we all follow her out the stone, saying our goodbyes and thanks to Jaimesh.

I climb, I am actually a - all fighter, and it is going to stay that way.
