

Books and Rescue

Courtney's POV

I was heading home from work, I felt like someone was watching me. But not in a good way. I turn around just as I see someone lunge at me with a knife. I scream when suddenly I'm pushed to the side. When I look back I see the girl on the ground. Soon the police came. I shakily stand up and walk home. I get there and collapse on the couch. A er and hour Namjoon walks in. "Courtney? Are you okay?" Namjoon says seeing me in my dazed state. "I almost died today." I replied looking at him. His eyes widen. "Oh my, how?" He asked gently placing his hands on my face. "Crazy fan girl had a knife, but I think my angel saved me." I responded with a small smile looking at my concerned boyfriend's face. "I'm glad you're okay. I know I just got home, but I just remembered I have to go meet someone. I'll be back, stay safe okay babe?" He tells me. I nod. He kisses my forehead and leaves.

Yoongi's POV

I was in the library as usual. "Hi Yoongi." I hear a voice say. I look up from the computer, my eyes widen. "K-Khloe. Hey. What are you..." I trail then see the books in her hands. "I'm return A er Hours and Bite Vs. Bark. (Yn) moved to Korea so she couldn't return it. How are you?" She asks with a smile. "I-I'm good. Did you like the book?" I asked as she returned them. "Yeah. I've never heard of the author before, though. Is she new?" She asked. I nod. "Yeah, she goes by Melody, but I don't think that's her real name. She's gaining an audience by her elaborate reader inserts." I explain. "Do you have anymore of her stories in stock?" She asks. I hum in response. "I can look in our data base." I respond and start typing. "Thanks Yoongi!" She says happily. I get closer to the screen to hide my blush. "She has one called Teacher's Assistant. There's two versions. There's a Jimin one and uh....." I trail and blush more. "There's a Yoongi one." I mutter. "A another book with your name. Huh, how funny." She says. "Oh! She also started writing one called My Guardian Angel, not sure when the release date will be, but I looks interesting." I say, finally looking back at her. "Can't wait. Can you help me fine the Teacher's Assistant one? The one with your name on it, I always like reading stories with people I know name's in it." She says. I blush and nod. I stand up and show her the book. "She must have a really good artist too, funny this Yoongi looks just like you. I wonder if she's someone we know." She mutters. I shrug. "So you ready to check out that book?" I asked. She nods, so we head back up to the front.

Taehyung's POV

I was walking around in Heaven when I get tackled by a hug. "Thank you so much." The voice said. I smiled. "No problem, Namjoon." I responded.
