

Guardians 211

Chapter 211

Sean mumbled to himself as he grabbed the door handle.

"Mom, I realized that I'm starting to like him..."

Willow's voice sounded, and Sean's action of opening the door suddenly stopped.

"Bastard! What did you say?"

Fion suddenly raised her voice by an octave!

"I don't know either..."

"I can't help but worry about him now."

"I feel at ease when I see him..."

"I always thought it was because I had to be responsible for him"

"But today, a friend of mine told me that it was a sign of liking someone."

"I think I really do like him."

Willow bit her lip and mumbled.

"You! Are you trying to anger me to death?"

"I don't care if you really like him or not. It's best if you just pretend to like him."

"Even if you really like him, I'll never let you two be together!"

"That bastard! To think that I thought he was still tolerable!!"

"Who would have thought that he would use the Quinn family's name to bully others?"

"Do you know where he got the money to pay for the things he bought? He used the Quinn family's name to make the loan!"

"When the time comes, won't you have to return the money?"

"Tell me, what do you like about him?"

The more Fion spoke, the angrier she got. She looked at Willow with disappointment.

Creak!

The door opened and Sean slowly entered.

"Every cent was earned by me,"

"I've never used the Quinn family's name."

Sean said calmly as he moved the wheelchair.

“You still have the cheek to say that?”

“Alright, stop wasting time. I know everything, and I don’t want to hear your explanation.”

In comparison, Fion Trusted Old Madam Quinn more.

She had just been scolded by the old madam, so she liad nowliere to vent hier anger.

Sean came back just in time.

“I beg you, can you leave my daughter? If you really feel sorry for Willow, please leave this place!

“As long as you leave this place, Willow will be able to live the life she wants, the life that others envy. Do you understand?”

Fion looked at Sean and gritted her teeth.

“Mom, I won’t let him go.

“I don’t want anything else either. I think my current life is pretty good.”

Willow glanced at Sean, bit her red lip, and looked at Fion again.

“Shut up!

“Sean, let me ask you, do you even have a guilty conscience?”

“Even if we don’t talk about the present, as long as you get out of the Quinn family now, Willow will immediately gain the old madam’s appreciation and be put in an important position.

“And on the ninth, Willow will also become the center of attention.

“You can’t give her any of these. You’ll only drag Willow down!

“You think you’re just liking a person? You’re actually committing a sin!”

Fion took a step forward and pointed at Sean’s forehead, her face filled with anger.

However, Sean remained calm while facing the furious Fion.

“Willow is so outstanding, why would she need the recognition of others?”

“As long as Willow asks, I’ll immediately set up a company for her and make her the chairwoman.”

Fion and Willow were stunned by Sean’s words.

“As for the ninth.”

Sean slowly turned his head and looked at Willow with a hint of warunth in his eyes.

“The ninth belongs to me and Willow.

The Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel will also liave banners with my and Willow’s names on them.”

Chapter 212

“On the ninth...

“The Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel will definitely belong to me, Sean.”

Sean sat in the wicelchair, his words powerful and resonating.

Fion was stunned by Sean’s attitude.

Even Willow widened her eyes and stared at Sean in disbelief.

She did not know where Sean got his confidence froin, but would Scan lie about something like this?

Even if he was lying, the ninth would soon arrive and he would be exposed.

After Sean said that, he looked at Fion calmly.

Fion and Sean stared at each other for more than ten seconds before Fion finally reacted.

“Listen! Willow, just listen to lim!

“And he said he’s not stupid? How is he not stupid? He’s absolutely crazy!

“Young Master Zimmer las booked the entire Riverleal Lakeside Hotel but even if he didn’t, what are you going to use to book the place?

“Sean, you relied on the money you borrowed to pretend in front of me for a few days, but in the end, you still failed to hide the truth.

“You think you can book Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel? You’ll never be able to enter that place in this life!”

Fion placed a hand on her waist as if she had gone mad. She would occasionally scold Willow and at other times, she would point at Sean.

“You can come with me to see.

“Right now.”

Sean looked up at Fion, his tone as calm as ever.

“You!”

Fion’s voice stopped abruptly.

At that moment, she really wanted to go witli Sean and expose his lie.

“What a joke! You’re a crazy person, and you want me to go with you? “I’m telling you, don’t even think about it!

“I can’t afford to lose my <lignity like thial!”

Fion snorted and brushed her hair.

What if she really went and could not even enter the door? How embarrassing would that be?

Fion would definitely not embarrass herself with Sean.

“Mom, stop arguing.

“I’ll go cook.”

Willow sighed softly and stopped Fion.

“I have to say this

“Sean, let me ask you something today.

“How long are planning to continue to drag Willow down?”

Fion took a step forward and stared at Sean with widened eyes as if she wanted to eat Sean alive.

Willow wanted to speak but was stopped by Fion.

She wanted Sean to give her a definite answer.

“In the past, I was the one who dragged Willow down.”

Sean was silent for two seconds before he nodded.

“From now on, and in the future...”

“I Willow is willing, I’ll make her the happiest woman in the whole wide world!”

As Sean spoke, he shifted his gaze and looked at Willow with a firm gaze.

Sean had never said such words before.

That was because did not know how Willow felt toward him.

Therefore, lie only wanted to make it up to her and never thought much about it.

However, when he heard Willow’s words outside the door earlier, he understood her intentions.

Even a young woman like her dared to fall in love with him and bet her entire life on a cripple. like him.

How could he back down?

Willow subconsciously covered her mouth wlieil slie heard Sean’s words. There were tears in lier eyes.

Her heart was filled with gratitude.

Willow understood something very well.

It was not easy for a man like Scan to make such a confession.

“I believe you.” Fion suddenly withdrew her hand and nodded slightly.

Her attitude stunned Willow. Could it be that Fion had thought it through?

However, Sean’s expression did not change. He knew that Fion had something else to say.

As expected, Fion paused for two seconds before suddenly raising her head.

“I believe that you really want to give Willow happiness.

“But, what can you use to give her happiness?”

“In this world, there are many couples who are separated because of family opposition.

“Could it be that those men who were separated did not want to give their women happiness?”

“Of course, they wanted to, and so do you. But what do you have that gives you this qualification to talk about this?”

“Aloan shark? Your lies? The wheelchair that Willow bought for you?”

Fion gritted her teeth and questioned him three times. Each question was louder than the last.

This time, Willow wanted to defend Sean, but she did not know where to start.

Sean suddenly felt a little tired.

He was a nine star commander, wielding the Nation Defending Sword and protecting the peace of Great Solaria. 1

The Nation Defending Sword, which was like a sword of state, gave him the authority to act first and report later.

He had never needed to explain anything to others.

There was no need to explain anything to others.

In River City, in the Quinn family, and for Willow, he was willing to explain himself but no one believed him.

Since that was the case, why should he explain further?

“Why aren’t you saying anything?”

“Did I hit the nail on the head?”

Fion looked at Sean and asked again.

“You know me, there’s no need to explain.

“There’s no use explaining explain if you don’t understand me.”

Sean shook his head slightly and said calmly.

If not for the fact that fion was Willow’s mother, Sean would not have even said a single word to her.

Chapter 213 “Haha, Willow, so this is his altitude?”

“You can’t be bothered to explain after I exposed you?”

Fion sneered and turned to look at Willow.

“Mom, he did explain. But you don’t believe him..”

Willow bit her lip and sighed.

“Believe? Why should I believe him?”

“Has he not told enough lies?”

“He said he was a godly doctor and could cure the old madam’s illness. So why hasn’t he cured his disabled legs first?”

“How can I believe his explanation?”

Fion’s retort left Willow speechless.

After all, this was an undeniable fact.

Seeing that Willow and Sean had fallen into silence, the sneer on Fion’s face deepened.

“If he was honest and ambitious, I wouldn’t be treating him like this.

“But what has he done since he recovered? Apart from lying, what has he done?”

“You even said that you wanted to open a company for Willow. How are you so boastful?”

Fion sat on the sofa and smirked.

“I can get Larson Pharmaceuticals to place a huge order with the Quinn family.

“If I wanted to start a company under Willow’s name, of course, I could do that too.”

Sean raised his head slowly and explained.

“Willow, did you hear that? Even now, he’s still lying to you.”

Fion was stunned for a moment before she burst out laughing.

Willow sighed in her heart and shook her head slightly.

The order between the Quinn family and the Larson Pharmaceuticals had been verified. It was Quill who helped them.

On that day, Homer and Quill went to the Quinn family’s branch company together.

They even said that they were going to collaborate with three parties.

Quill’s words gave the impression that the Zimmer family had sacrificed their own interests in exchange for the Quinn family.

The truth was already before their eyes. No matter how much Sean said, no one would believe him.

However, Willow was defending Sean’s reputation, so she did not expose him.

She was afraid that if she really exposed Sean, he would be too ashamed to stay in the Quinn family.

“Alright, stop talking.

“Mom, go inside and rest. I’ll call you when I’m done cooking.”

Willow shook her head and pushed Fion into the room.

She turned around and looked at Sean for a few seconds before walking into the kitchen.

“Sigh...”

In the kitchen, Willow cut the potatoes and sighed softly. There were tears in her eyes.

Actually, Fion was right.

If Sean could completely recover and improve, Willow would not be in such a difficult position.

“Actually, I don’t want much.

“I just want you to be more realistic. I don’t need you to pretend in front of me in this way...”

Willow mumbled to herself.

“Everything I told you is true.”

At that moment, Sean’s voice came from behind.

Without her knowing, he had followed her into the kitchen.

“Mm...”

Willow immediately wiped the corners of her eyes with her sleeves. She did not like to reveal her emotions in front of others, including Sean.

“Why are you here?”

“I’m fine. Go get some rest. Dinner will be ready soon.”

Willow’s tone was slightly nasal.

Sean looked at Willow’s back and did not explain further.

Perhaps only on the ninth would everything be cleared up.

Facts spoke louder than words.

Nothing could be compared to Sean holding Willow’s hand in front of countless people on the ninth.

“Willow, if you trust me, I’ll definitely not disappoint you on the ninth.

“I swear on my life. If I can’t do it, I’ll leave the Quinn family and never return to River City.”

Sean pondered for a few seconds before speaking in an extremely serious tone.

“I understand. Go and rest.”

Willow nodded, but she did not want to talk about this topic at all.

“Let me help you.”

Sean wheeled himself to Willow.

“Hmm? You know how to cook?”

Willow was stunned as she looked at Sean in surprise.

“Of course.

“Even the head chef of a six–star hotel has to call me ‘Master’.”

Sean pretended to be proud and joked with Willow.

“Pfft...”

Willow knew that Sean was leasing her on purpose, but when she saw Sean’s serious expression, she still wanted to laugh.

“Okay, okay. The kitchen is too small for the two of us. You can leave now.”

Willow shook her head and chased Sean away again.

“Then when the time comes, let’s have a bigger kitchen.

“I’ll cook today. You rest.

“You’ve been taking care of me for two years. You cooked for me and even fed me...

“You can rest now.”

When Willow heard Sean’s words, she could not help but be stunned.

She did not even know when Sean had grabbed the knife.

Thank! Thank! Thank! Thank!

Sean sat in the wheelchair. Although the position of this chopping board was a little high, it did not affect anything

Initially, his movements were a little jerky, but later on, his chopping movements became as smooth as flowing water.

The blade hit the wooden chopping board and made a rhythmic clicking sound

Wherever the blade passed, the shredded potatoes that Willow looked like they were precisely cut by a machine.

The thickness was uniform and the pieces were arranged neatly.

“Wow...”

Willow widened her beautiful eyes and exclaimed in surprise.

Chapter

214 She really thought that Sean was bragging just now and wanted to see how he would make a fool of himself. She did not expect Sean to really show her something

The ingredients were quickly prepared, and Sean prepared the seasoning for the stir-fried vegetables. He immediately heated up the oil.

Sizzle!

After the oil heated up, Sean grabbed the scallions, ginger, and garlic that Willow had prepared. He then picked out the ginger.

“Sean, don’t you like ginger?”

Willow asked curiously.

“At night, it’s best not to eat ginger.”

Sean did not explain much. He was busy with his own matters.

As the saying went for nutritionists, eating ginger at night was like eating arsenic.

This was an exaggeration.

The ginger used in cooking nowadays was not as strong as the ginger used back then.

The ginger nowadays was mostly used for seasoning,

However, if one ate it at night, the gingerol in the ginger would have some effect on their bodies.

“I see...”

Willow nodded.

Next, Sean demonstrated his cooking skills again

His movements were skillful, and the seasoning was just right. The fragrance of the dishes assailed one’s nostrils.

“Wow...”

“Sean, I believe in you now.

“You were either a farmer or a cook in the logistics department during your time in the army....

Willow pursed her lips and said to Sean.

Sean was stunned for a moment before he shook his head helplessly.

However, there was no way to explain this, so he could only cook silently.

Sean was the head chef while Willow was the assistant,

The two of them cooking together

made things a lot easier compared to when Willow would cook alone.

Soon, four dishes were prepared.

This kind of life felt simple and realistic.

“Dad, Mom, it’s time to eat.”

Willow called out and helped Sean get a warm towel to wipe his hands.

There was an unconcealable smile on her face. One could tell that she was genuinely happy.

Sean could really cook for her.

In Willow’s heart, this was even more precious than Quill giving her a thousand roses.

“Huh, have your culinary skills improved recently?”

Fion sat down slowly and looked at the dishes on the table in surprise.

Kent nodded uncontrollably.

There were four dishes placed on the table. They were simple and not grand.

However, the food was fragrant and looked very presentable.

It made one’s appetite grow!

Without waiting for Willow to speak, Fion reached out and picked up some food.

“Woah, not bad, not bad at all. You have 70% of my skills.”

Fion widened her eyes when she tasted the food,

Delicious, Truly delicious.

“Let me try it too.”

Kent quickly tasted it.

A few seconds later, Kent pursed his lips.

“You sure know how to flatter yourself. Is your cooking even one-third as good as this?”

Kent immediately rained on Fion’s parade.

“Cough, eat your food.”

Fion blushed slightly and immediately reached out with her chopsticks to pick up more food.

“Mom, Sean made this. Isn’t it delicious?”

However, the moment Willow said that, Fion, who was about to pick up the food, paused,

“Him?”

Chapter 215 Fion raised her head, her eyes filled with surprise.

However, the surprise soon disappeared, and she moved on to another dish.

"It's alright, I don't like that."

With a look of disdain, Fion snorted and was about to try another dish.

"Mom, Scan made this too."

Willow bit her chopstick and said seriously.

Fion paused again before moving her chopsticks again.

"Mom, Scan made all the dishes today."

At that moment, Willow was also suppressing her laughter. Her face looked very innocent.

Sean and Kent remained silent. They were also secretly amused by Willow's sly side.

Slam!

Fion slammed her utensils on the table.

"What did you cook? I don't like any of them.

"Even if I starve to death, I won't eat a single bite of his cooking."

After Fion said that, she took some plain bread and started to eat it.

It was really a pity not to eat such delicious food.

Willow spread her hands helplessly before taking some food for Kent and Sean.

Meanwhile, Fion had her head lowered as she ate her bread.

"Mom, do you want this?"

Willow held a piece of buffalo wings and waved it in front of Fion.

The slightly spicy aroma of the meat assaulted her nose.

"My family paid for the ingredients to make this dish, so why wouldn't I eat it?"

Fion gritted her teeth for two seconds before she took the food and started eating?

It was really fragrant!

After dinner.

Sean wanted to wash the dishes with Willow.

However, this time, Willow refused to let Sean help no matter what

"Sean, let me tell you.

"No matter what you did in the army, you were still a soldier.

"Your hands are meant to protect the world, not to deal with pots and pans."

Willow's words were extremely serious and unquestionable.

Sean could only give up.

After Willow was done, she returned to her room to rest and take a shower.

However, the phone on the table suddenly rang.

When she saw the caller ID, Willow was first stunned, then she smiled.

“Hello, Willow. Do you know that Rachel is coming back?”

The call connected, and a woman’s voice came from the other end.

The woman on the other side was Rachel and Willow’s good friend. They had a good relationship with each other.

“I know.”

Willow nodded and sat by the bed.

“Haha, I’m so happy.

“Let’s get together tomorrow. I’ll show you something good. You wouldn’t have seen it before.

The woman on the other end of the phone said mysteriously.

“What is it?”

Willow’s curiosity was piqued.

“Doesn’t Rachel like someone at that place?”

“Hehe, I have a photo!”

The woman chuckled, and Willow was stunned when she heard that.

“Why do you have a photo?”

Willow had heard Rachel mention that domineering man countless times.

However, Rachel had not even told her his name, let alone showed her any photos.

In fact, Willow was also very curious. Just what kind of outstanding man could subdue a strong woman like Rachel?

Chapter 216 “Hehe, make a guess.”

The woman on the other end of the phone purposely kept Willow in suspense.

Willow felt a little helpless. At the same time, she could not help but feel a little uncomfortable.

She had always treated Rachel as her best friend.

However, Rachel had sent the photo to someone else and not her.

No matter who it was, they would feel uncomfortable. Even so, Willow would not show it.

At the same time, she thought of a reason to explain Rachel's actions.

"Ah, how would I know?"

"Show me! I also want to see what kind of man can conquer our Rae."

At that moment, Willow was genuinely curious.

"Haha! I won't show it to you.

"Maybe tomorrow. Let's meet up tomorrow. I'll show you in person.

"It's been a long time since we last saw each other. Since I don't have anything to do these few days, we can go out for coffee."

The woman on the other end of the phone giggled.

"Say, are you trying to trick me into going to see you?"

"Actually, you don't have a photo, do you?"

Willow's face was filled with suspicion as she asked.

Rachel had told her many times about that man.

From Rachel's words, Willow could feel how extraordinary and mysterious that man was.

Even though Willow was Rachel's best friend, Rachel still kept everything about that man a secret

Since that was the case, how could Rachel send that man's photo to someone else?

"Come on, I'm really not lying to you.

"Furthermore, I've confirmed with Rae that this is the man's photo.

"If I'm lying to you, I'll never get married!"

The woman on the other end said seriously.

"Pit! It's not that serious. Alright, alright, I believe you.

"Since I don't have to work tomorrow, let's meet tomorrow."

Willow shook her head. Then, she arranged a time with the other party and hung up.

"What kind of man could change Rae's fiery personality..."

Willow held her phone and was extremely curious.

At the same time, she also had a kind of admiration and speculation toward that person's mysterious identity.

However, that was all.

Willow did not have any other thoughts.

After washing up, Willow changed into her pajamas,

She stepped into Sean's room on a pair of cute cotton slippers.

It was as if it was a habit that had become natural.

Regarding the way the two of them interacted, Willow could not explain it either.

In fact, Willow did not know what kind of relationship the two had.

In terms of friendship, what sort of friend would be so close with one another?

In terms of love, Willow felt that she had not reached that stage with Sean.

If she had to describe it, perhaps the word 'family' was more appropriate.

She had accompanied liim for two years, 700 days and nights...

Furthermore, when Sean was unable to take care of himself, Willow had to do everything for him— including eating, drinking, showering, and going to the toilet.

Such a way of getting along was really beyond friendship and love.

"You're here."

Seeing Willow enter the room, Sean greeted her naturally.

"Wiat, you don't want me to come?"

Willow stopped in her tracks and deliberately frowned at Sean.

"I think..."

"Aunt Fion is right. I should not burden you with what I can do myself."

Sean was stunned for a moment before he spoke softly and seriously.

"Straight man! What a straight man!"

Willow shook her head and pulled a chair over to sit in front of Sean.

She stretched out her hands and gently pressed on Sean's loys.

"Sean, I really don't know when you'll recover."

Willow's palm moved as she siglied softly.

"It probably won't take much longer."

Regarding this question, Sean could not give her a definite answer.

"I have a classmate who studied medicine and is quite famous.

"I'll bring you to meet him when I have time."

Willow thought for a moment before looking at Sean.

“No need.”

Sean shook his head slightly. If even he was helpless, other doctors would not be able to do anything

“Why not?”

Willow stopped massaging and frowned at Sean.

“Because... no one else can cure my illness.

“If there was a solution, I would have already tried it.”

Sean shook his head slightly and explained honestly.

However, when Willow heard this, a trace of impatience suddenly appeared in her eyes.

“Sean, can we be more realistic?”

“Sometimes, you really can’t blame my mother for being too harsh.

“If you’re honest, she would have no reason to pick a fight with you.

“Furthermore, if she deliberately says something bad about you, I’d definitely retort.

“But you always...”

At this point, Willow decided to shut her mouth to save Sean some dignity.

Chapter 217 However, Sean always lied and coaxed Willow. In the end, he was exposed and still refused to admit it

Sean said that he was the one who secured the big order that Larson Pharmaceuticals made with the Quinn family.

At that time, Willow really believed it.

However, it was Quill and Homer who appeared at the Quinn family’s company together and told them about the cooperation between the three parties.

That was enough to prove that the order was arranged by Quill.

Later on, Willow’s company was short of funds, and the capital chain was about to break.

Sean took out a bank card and said that three million dollars was only one-tenth of the amount in his card.

However, when he went to the bank to collect the money, they were told that it was an invalid card.

In the end, it was due to Quill’s help that they were able to resolve the issue.

After that, when Old Madam Quinn was critically ill. Sean said that he could cure her.

However, how did he treat her?

He only asked the doctor for a few sterilized cotton balls!

If a few sterilized cotton balls could cure a patient, why would they need the high-end medical equipment in the hospital?

Later on, the famous doctor that Quill invited claimed that a few sterilized cotton balls would not be able to cure the old madam.

Sean was just a blind cat who ran into a dead mouse and was lucky enough to take all the credit.

Today, Sean said that he would reserve the whole Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel on the ninth.

Was this not funny?

Could it be that Sean's words were more important than the eldest young master of River City's Zimmer family?

One thing after another made Fion feel that Sean was arrogant and liked to lie to them.

Even Willow could not defend Sean when faced with the reality before her.

Willow looked at Sean and sighed.

"Let's not talk about other things first. Let's just talk about your illness,

"I've brought you to see many doctors, but none of them could cure you.

"If you can really cure yourself, then there's no need to say anything. Others will shut up, and you can prove your medical skills.

"But can you?"

Willow looked at Sean and asked softly.

Sean and Willow stared at each other for a few seconds. At that moment, he really wanted to take the pill that had insufficient efficacy and take a gamble.

However, if it did not achieve the desired effect, not only would it not make him recover but it would also make his body resistant to it.

If that happened, Sean's future would be ruined.

Therefore, Sean did not dare to take the risk.

This was his last resort.

Right now, he could not use it.

"Can you?"

Willow asked again when she saw that Sean was silent.

Sean paused for two seconds before shaking his head slightly. I

This was because his current situation was extremely complicated.

It could be said that his illness was not an illness at all.

His nervous system was damaged, causing his limbs to lose their senses.

This kind of medical problem was not considered a disease.

It was just that there was a gap in his bodily functions. He could only slowly recover on his OW).

Other illnesses could be treated accordingly. Even if the patient suffered a fracture, they could still perform surgery to reconnect the broken bones.

However, when the nervous system was damaged, there were no drugs that could be used in the medical field.

An incurable disease could not be described as an illness!

"Willow, no one can do anything about my situation.

"I have an idea, but I lack one ingredient.

"If you believe me, help me look for a herb called the Lilac Heart Weed.

"It comes from the northwest, so very few people know how to use it."

Sean looked up slowly, her eyes serious.

"Really?"

Willow immediately asked.

"Really. I need Lilac Heart Weed that has been growing for more than ten years.

"If you can help me find it, I'll quickly recover."

Sean nodded seriously. There was no falsehood in his tone.

"Okay, I'll help you!" This time, Willow chose to trust Sean again.

After giving Sean his daily massage and helping him lie down on the bed, Willow returned to her room.

When she passed by Fion's room, Willow heard the argument between Fion and Kent.

"I don't care so much. Do you think I'll not believe the old madam's words and choose to believe in Sean instead?"

"I know that the old madam has been wanting to chase Sean away so that Willow can be together with Young Master Zimmer.

"But the old madam won't lie about these things, so Sean must be the one lying."

Fion snorted with certainty.

“Probably not.

“Even if Sean wanted to use the Quinn family’s name to borrow money, can he do it?”

“He doesn’t even have a marriage certificate with Willow. How can he use the Quinn family’s name to make a loan?”

Kent shook his head in disbelief.

“Hmph! Can’t he?”

“You know, he does know two people.

“I don’t know how he got to know Mr. Larson and Mr. Luke.

“But if Sean had asked them for help and offered them a reward after the matter was done, they wouldn’t have refused, right?”

Chapter 218 Kent heard this and did not know what to say.

“Let me tell you, don’t look at him differently just because Sean gave you a good watch.

“When people come to our house to collect the debts, you’ll be the one crying. If you don’t pay up, they might even make me and Willow pay!”

The more Fion spoke, the angrier she got. She reached out and tapped Kent’s forehead.

“No, I still don’t think Sean is that kind of person.

“Didn’t you say that only women would know which women were b*tches?”

“Then let me tell you, only men understand men better. I don’t think Sean would do that.”

Kent opened Fion’s palm and answered with certainty.

“What a joke! You make it sound like you know him well!

“What? A watch really bought you over?”

Fion snorted disdainfully.

“This isn’t about a watch.

“Think about it. If Sean is really a useless person who only knows how to lie...

“How is it possible that the old master would let him marry Willow?”

“The old man has traveled the world and seen countless people. How can his sense of judgment be bad?”.

Fion did not refute Kent’s words.

After all, Old Master Quinn’s status in the Quinn family was definitely extraordinary.

Even though he had passed away, no one dared to question his decision.

“Perhaps you’re right, but everyone has their moments.

“What if the old master was smart for all his life and only made this decision because he was muddle-headed at his old age?

Fion snorted and said, “Don’t talk to me about this. I’m too lazy to talk about him.

“Just today, do you know what he told me?

“He actually said that on the ninth, Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel will be booked by him.

“His and Willow’s names will appear on banners at the hotel. Don’t you think that’s funny?”

Kent was taken aback by Fion’s words.

Ridiculous. This was indeed ridiculous.

The Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel had already been booked by Quill.

Even if no one had booked it, withi Sean’s stalus, he would not be able to do such a thing!

As the only six-star hotel in River City, Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel had to receive countless high officials and nobles every day.

If it was booked by someone else for a day, it would mean those high-ranking officials and nobles would have to put down their dignity.

Not just anybody could book that hotel!

This was not just about money.

“Hmph! You’re not talking anymore, are you?

“I’m telling you that Sean is a good liar.

“If you still see Willow as your daughter, you should think of a way to get her out of her misery.” +

Fion crossed her arms in front of her and concluded the matter.

Kent frowned and said, “Don’t do anything rash yet.

“Since Sean has already said it, let’s wait for when the ninth comes.

“Anyway, there are only a few days left until the ninth.

“Willow has already been taking care of Sean for two years. Are you in such a rush that you can’t wait a few more days?”

Fion snorted and nodded.

“Okay, since you and Willow insist, I’ll wait for a few days.

“I’d like to see him fail to do what he said.

“Will he still be shameless enough to stay at our place?”

Kent shook his head and said, "You sound confident now, but what if Sean gives us a surprise?"

Chapter 219 When Fion heard this, she could not help but laugh.

"If Sean is really that capable, I'll never again mention things like chasing him away."

Fion snorted. She was full of mockery and disdain.

With Sean's status, there were some things in this world that he would never be able to touch.

Fion was very confident.

"If Sean can really do it, you won't be able to decide whether he stays or leaves.

"Besides, he wouldn't want to stay in our house, would he?"

Kent shook his head and lay down on the bed.

"Hmph! Then I'll wait for him to give me a slap in the face."

Fion snorted and turned off the lights to sleep.

The next day.

The sun was shining brightly.

Willow had a rare break

Therefore, she pushed Sean around in his wheelchair to enjoy the sun.

In the past two years, Willow was in a managerial position in the Quinn family's branch company. However, in reality, it was just a useless title.

She did the most work.

All the credit went to Simon and Faye.

However, ever since Willow became the CEO, these things slowly changed,

She had the right to enjoy a rest day, something that was once far out of reach from her.

Willow could not help but think of this.

Speaking of which, the reason why she was able to get to where she was now was all thanks to Quill. He got Larson Pharmaceuticals to collaborate with the Quim family, which was why the old madam made this decision.

Thus, Willow did not know how to face Quill.

She wanted to keep her distance, but she had already received his help

This made Willow extremely conflicted.

Her mind wandered while she was still pushing Sean's wheelchair.

"Willow, what are you thinking about?"

Seeing Willow in a daze, Sean asked softly.

“Nothing.”

Willow paused for a moment before waving her hand to explain.

At that moment, the phone in his pocket rang again. “Hey, Willow, where are you? We’ll go look for you!”

The call had just connected when a loud voice came through.

It was the woman who wanted to show Willow the photo.

“Huh? Aren’t we meeting tonight?”

Willow asked in surprise.

“Never mind that, let’s talk after we meet.”

This woman was swift and decisive. She directly asked for Willow’s address.

“By the way, Sean, you served in the Northwest region, right?”

Willow hung up the phone and sent her friend the address before turning to ask Sean.

Sean paused before nodding.

“I remember hearing from Rae that she was also in the Northwest...”

Willow mumbled to herself, deep in thought.

“I’ll show you someone later. Perhaps she was your superior.”

Willow retracted her thoughts and smiled casually.

Chapter 220

Hearing Willow’s words, Sean could not help but be slunned.

A superior of his?

The boss of a nine–star commander?

Was he not the ruler of a country himself?

Sean was stunned.

Willow and the rest could even call the ruler of a country over?

Are you kidding me?

“Why are you so stunned? I’m just teasing you.”

Willow shook her head speechlessly when she saw Sean in a daze.

This man was really unromantic.

“No...

“Perhaps that person really is your superior.”

Sean was silent for two seconds before he suddenly reacted.

Willow did not know that he was once the nine-star commander in the army.

Therefore, saying that was not too much.

Perhaps in Willow’s heart, he was just a new recruit.

Sean shook his head and did not explain further.

After Willow sent the address to her friend, she did not move and stood where she was, waiting “Sean, I’ll send you home first.

“I might have to go out with my friend. I’ve already rejected her many times. It wouldn’t be appropriate if I rejected her again.

“Don’t worry, I’ll be back soon.”

Willow did not know why she had to explain it to Sean so clearly,

It was as if she was afraid that Sean would be angry.

“I know.”

Sean nodded slightly.

In the past two years, Willow had sacrificed a lot to take care of Sean.

Including her rest days and social life, she had even up everything.

Now

that Sean had regained his consciousness, he could be considered to have some ability to take care of himself. Naturally, he could no longer hold on to Willow.

“There aren’t any men going out with you guys, right?”

Sean asked after nodding.

Willow was stunned when she heard Sean’s words. She could hear the jealousy in his tone.

“I don’t know either. This friend of mine has a carefree personality. She’ll hang out with both men and women.”

Willow thought for a moment before explaining to Sean truthfully.

“Then I’ll take a look at the situation first.

“I’m worried about leaving you alone.”

Sean paused before looking at Willow.

“Mm.”

When Willow heard that, a warm feeling surged in her heart.

Sean never said anything sweet to her, but he would always show his concern for her.

Both parties did not expose each other, but they had a tacit understanding,

Not long after, a car honk sounded from afar.

Beep beep!

Beep beep beep!

Three cars consisting of two BMWs and a Mercedes–Benz drove straight toward Willow.

Even though these three cars were not the best in the BMW and Mercedes – Benz lineup, their price tags were still above 600,000 dollars.

To be able to afford such cars, their family must have at least a few million dollars.

“Are they your friends?”

Sean looked at Willow and asked softly.

“Should be...”

“But I didn’t expect so many people to come...”

Willow looked at Sean in embarrassment.

“It’s okay, I’m going with you. It doesn’t matter how many people come.”

Willow had a feeling that Sean’s words contained a different meaning,

“Willow, we’re here!”

Before Willow could speak, a voice was heard.

Then, before the car stopped, a young woman pushed open the door and jumped out.

The driver was so scared that he immediately stopped on the brakes.

“Lexie, why did you all arrive so quickly?”

Willow smiled and greeted the woman.

Lexie was also around Willow’s age.

She was Willow and Rachel’s best friend.

When Rachel joined the army and left, it was Willow and Lexie who sent her off.

Lexie had a carefree personality, and her black clothes gave off a wild vibe.

Her personality and Willow’s gentle personality formed a strong contrast.

Sean had no idea how they became good friends.

“Of course. When we heard that the campus belle was busy and wanted to come out with us, we were quick to react!”

Lexie smiled as she walked to Willow.

When Willow heard this, she shook her head helplessly.

“Lexie, you know my family’s situation.

“It’s only recently that I was able to relax a little.’

Willow shook her head and said softly.

“I know. I’m just saying, hehe.”

Lexie smiled before glancing at Sean with surprise in her eyes.

She did not expect Willow’s fool of a fiancé to actually regain his senses.

Lexie looked at Sean and could not help but frown.

She felt that Sean looked familiar.

She had met Sean once before.

However, at that time, Sean was unconscious and his eyes were blank. He was like a fool.

Now that Sean had recovered, he was dressed tidily and looked calm.

He looked rather handsome.

However, what confused Lexie was that she felt like she had just met Sean

However, she clearly remembered seeing Sean once only when she visited Willow’s house.

After that, they had never met again until today