

Guardians 281

Chapter 282

If that were true, did that mean she would already be dead if it were not for Sean?

“Sean, you...”

Old Madam Quinn stared at Sean for a few seconds. She wanted to say something, but Sean waved his hand and slightly.

“Physical diseases are nothing. They could be cured easily.

“But if something’s wrong with the person’s mind, there’s no remedy.”

As soon as he finished, Sean slowly propelled his wheelchair and headed out of the ward.

He was humble and did not take any credit.

“Grandma, I’m going home with Sean.”

Seeing that Old Madam Quinn was all right now, Willow bid goodbye and followed Sean. Physical diseases were easy to cure but not problems with one’s state of mind!

Looking at the two people leaving, everyone in the ward fell silent as they thought of what Sean had just said.

Willow’s home.

Sean sat in the wheelchair while Willow brought a stool and sat next to Sean.

“Sean, thank you so much!”

Sean had heard Willow say thank you more than ten times on their way home.

Willow had no idea how to thank Sean. She could only thank him.

Sean slowly turned his head and stared intently at Willow.

Willow lowered her head a little shyly when she met Sean’s gaze.

“I can kill with a sword in my left hand.

“And I can save people with silver needles in my right.

“But now I just want to use these two hands to protect you.

“Willow, would you let me do that?”

Sean’s tone was soft, but it exuded extreme seriousness.

Willow slowly looked up. She blushed a little as she widened her eyes and looked at Sean.

‘Is this a confession of love?’

“This man even has an unusual way of showing his love...”

Willow looked blankly into Sean's eyes. The atmosphere in the room changed gradually.

"Sean..."

444

Willow parted her red lips and let out a soft cry.

Sean's eyes moved slowly to Willow's beautiful red lips that opened slightly.

The straight teeth and red lips set off each other. It was like a ripe apple, enticing people to taste it.

At this age, both the young man and young woman found it hard to control themselves when they were deeply in love.

Willow's pretty face could not help moving toward Sean.

It was a perfectly normal physiological reflex.

Sean, who had experienced many things, turned a little red too.

He had seen life and death and saved many people from the brink of death.

He could send his enemies to h*ll, and he could steal lives from death.

However, he knew little about the relationship between men and women and had no experience.

He was awkward right now...

"Willow, where are you?"

Just then, a cry came from outside.

Swoosh!

Willow instantly sat up straight and straightened her clothes.

As soon as she was done, Fion pushed Sean's door open.

"What are you doing?"

Fion asked as she looked at Willow and grabbed the door handle.

"We're... not doing anything..."

Willow paused before quickly explaining.

Chapter 283

Fion glared suspiciously at Willow. A mother knew her daughter best, and she knew something was up with Willow.

However, she did not want to say much at the moment.

"Is Sean done packing?"

Fion glanced at the luggage in the room and asked indifferently.

“Mom, are you kicking Sean out?”

Willow instantly got up and asked as she glared at Fion.

“Hmph! He’s in luck.

“Old Madam said he can stay for the time being since he saved her life.

“Let him stay in the Quinn family. Then he can get the f*ck out of the Quinn family when he can walk again.”

Fion spoke forcefully. She slammed the door and left after she finished.

“Whew!”

Willow let out a long sigh of relief and happily turned around to look at Sean.

“Sean, you don’t have to leave. You don’t have to leave...”

Willow was so excited she spoke incoherently.

Sean did not think anything of it.

Everyone thought Sean would be left to fend for himself after leaving the Quinn family.

They never wondered if Sean would be better off without the Quinn family.

“Do you want me to stay?”

Sean asked with a smile as he looked at Willow.

“I...”

Willow paused for a moment before replying earnestly, “Yes!”

Sean nodded. “Okay, I won’t leave.”

No matter what he wanted to do and had planned.

With one word from Willow, he could change his plans for her.

東中出

River City Dragon Splendor Hotel’s VIP private room.

Jay’s father obsequiously sent the two middle-aged men out of the private room.

Jay’s father had spent the last two days anxiously asking around to find out who was up against the Bennett family.

Jay was sitting in a chair pondering about something.

“Damn it! I was wondering what to do to that cripple.

“Now that the Bennett family’s in trouble, I don’t have time to deal with him.

“I’ll let him prance around for two days first. Let’s see how I’ll make him miserable after we have settled our family’s problem!”

Jay rubbed his chin as his eyes were cold.

Bang!

Just then, the private room door was flung open.

Jay’s father strode in with a grim expression.

“Dad, I’ve got something to tell you.”

Jay immediately asked as he got up.

“What the h*ll do you have to say?”

However, Jay’s father let out a roar. Then he raised his arm and slapped him hard across the face.

Slap!

The hard slap made Jay spin around twice.

A clear slap mark also appeared on his face instantly.

“Dad, did you just slap me?”

Jay exclaimed in disbelief as he looked dumbfounded.

“Slapping you is considered light punishment!

“Think about who you’ve offended!”

Jay’s father growled and slapped him across the face again.

Chapter 284

Jay covered his face with one hand while his head buzzed.

‘Who... who did I offend?’

“Dad, I did... I didn’t...”

Jay tried to explain, but his father slapped him in the face again.

“B*stard! Get down on your knees!”

Jay’s father was furious as he wished he could strangle Jay alive.

The Bennett family’s business had been shut down recently.

No one could run a company without some dirt.

Everything was fine when no one looked into the dirt, but you would be in trouble once they did.

Jay's father had usually spent money in making connections.

Therefore, it had never been a big deal.

This time, none of his previous connections worked.

The Bennett family's businesses had been closed down for investigation, with no prospect of reopening.

After they shut down, their partners came to demand their money, while their supplier urged for payment...

It had put the Bennett family at the heart of the struggle, left to suffer.

Jay's father knew that the Bennett family must have offended someone they should not, and so they were deliberately messing with them!

Whoever caused the trouble must solve it.

Therefore, he had spent countless hours and money looking into this matter these days.

Just then, the two middle-aged men working for the government told Jay's father something before leaving.

"There's nothing seriously wrong with the Bennett family."

"It's just that... you seem to have failed in educating your son, Mr. Bennett."

The middle-aged men finished speaking, got in the car, and left.

With Jay's father's wits, how could he not get what he meant?

That meant Jay had recklessly offended someone he should not!

The Bennett family had built their business empire over two generations.

Therefore, no one said much about Jay's spendthrift behavior since the Bennett family was wealthy.

However, Jay had now offended a big shot who could destroy the Bennett family at the wave of their hand.

H

How did this not upset Jay's father?

"Think!

"Think about who the h*ll you've offended recently!

"If you can't figure it out, the Bennett family is going bankrupt with tens of millions of dollars. in debt, and you can sleep on the f*cking street!

Jay's father pulled a chair over and sat down as he stared angrily at Jay.

"I..."

Jay was worried too. His mind raced through who he had offended recently.

'I've caused a lot of trouble with Herbert, but Herbert has handled them easily.'

"Therefore, if I've offended a so-called big shot, it seems..."

'It was probably Mr. Bill Wallace and his friend.'

"Dad, I... I offended Mr. Wallace..."

Jay could not help trembling with apprehension.

He thought they were way past that incident, but now it seemed that Bill was not letting him off the hook!

"Mr. Wallace? Which Mr. Wallace?"!

Jay's father froze slightly.

"It's... Mr. Bill Wallace..."

Jay gritted his teeth and told the truth.

"Hsss!"

Jay's father suddenly gasped and jumped up from his chair.

"You! You b*stard!

"How dare you offend such an influential man? Has life been too easy for you?"

"Do you know that Bill's ruthless and has a powerful triad leader like Flint behind him? No one dares to mess with him.

"More importantly, Flint has recently taken over the River City underworld one by one. It seems he's dominating the River City underworld.

"I used to be able to talk to Bill, but now he won't even look at me!

"How dare you piss them off?"

Jay's father got angrier and angrier as he thought of it. He stepped forward, grabbed Jay by the collar, and slapped him hard in the face twice.

"Dad, I..."

Jay finally realized how serious his mistake was. He covered his face as he looked down.

"Damn it! The cripple must have blamed it all on me. He must have spoken ill of me to Mr.

Wallace.

“No wonder Mr. Wallace let him go. He must have begged Mr. Wallace for mercy and blamed me for everything.

“Mr. Wallace probably didn’t want to bother with him because he was only a cripple, so he let him go.

“Then Mr. Wallace took it out on us!”

The more Jay thought about it, the angrier he felt. He thought that the Bennett family was having such a hard time because Sean had badmouthed Jay in front of Bill.

Jay’s father frowned slightly when he heard that. Then he interrupted with a wave of his hand.

“I don’t care who the cripple you mentioned is.

“Now, tell me what happened and how you pissed off Mr. Wallace.

“Then I’ll talk to Mr. Wallace.”

Jay’s father said as he glared at him with a slight frown.

“Okay, okay...”

It concerned the fate of the whole Bennett family. Jay dared not ignore it and hurriedly explained the whole thing.

Chapter 285

9 pm.

Blue Bay Club.

Jay’s father Shane Bennett sat with Bill in a private room.

This private room was filled with beautiful women and bodyguards in black.

It was a very enjoyable life indeed.

Normally, Shane would be in the mood to enjoy himself.

However, he was in no mood for fun today.

The Bennett family’s bankruptcy would be devastating if things were not settled.

There would be customers asking for goods, suppliers demanding payment, and the government breathing down their necks...

The Bennett family would be doomed!

“Mr. Wallace, see if you like this genuine item my friend brought back from abroad.”

With a big smile on his face, Shane nudged a Rolex Green Submariner toward Bill.

This super high-end watch was authentic and cost six figures.

However, it was nothing compared to the Bennett family’s precarious situation.

Bill glanced at his watch and looked at Shane with a fake smile.

If Jay and Sean were good friends, Bill would be nice to Shane.

Unfortunately, there seemed to be some tension between Jay and Sean.

In that case, Bill did not have to do Shane any favors.

“Mr. Bennett, I thought you have forgotten me.”

Bill picked up the watch to take a look. Then he put it down gently.

A dense layer of sweat could not help breaking out on Shane’s forehead when he heard that.

“Mr. Wallace, I didn’t know that worthless son of mine offended you...

“I just found out about it today, so I immediately came here to apologize...”

Shane dared not cover it up and spoke the truth.

“Uh-huh.”

Bill took a sip from his glass and nodded slightly.

Shane pondered for a second before yelling at the door, “Get in here, you b*stard!”

As soon as he said that, Jay walked through the door trembling.

“On your knees!”

Shane started yelling again as soon as Jay walked up to them.

He was here to make amends.

Everything would be worth it as long as they made Bill happy and withdrew whatever he did to the Bennett family.

Jay clenched his teeth slightly and fell to his knees with a thump.

Though it was embarrassing to do so, it would be even more embarrassing if the Bennett family went bankrupt!

“Mr. Wallace, I’m sorry...”

Jay lowered his head as he admitted his mistake to Bill.

“Louder!”

Shane yelled at Jay again.

“Mr. Wallace, I’m sorry. Be the bigger person and not take it to heart...”

Jay straightened his upper body and spoke louder.

“Cough...”

Shane coughed, turned his head, bent over slightly, and looked at Bill with an obsequious smile.

“Mr. Wallace, what do

Shane asked Bill carefully.

“He’s just a kid. I won’t take it to heart.

“It’s in the past anyway.”

Bill waved his hand slightly, looking very generous.

“Oh, oh, okay, okay...”

you

think...”

Chapter 286

Shane was excited as he pushed the Rolex in front of Bill again.

Bill did not push it back, of course.

Seeing that Bill had accepted the watch, Jay got up, hung his head low, and said nothing.

Logically, Shane should have taken Jay and left after this.

When smart people deal with each other, they did not have to make things clear. Express your attitude, and the other person would know what to do.

At this point, since Bill had forgiven Jay and accepted the gift, he would stop picking on the Bennett family.

Shane did not need to repeat it himself.

However, he could not help asking again since he could not afford to wait.

“Mr. Wallace... I will teach my son how to behave from now on.

“So please spare the Bennett family...”

Shane bowed at Bill and spoke in an ingratiating tone.

“Spare the Bennett family?”

Bill was stunned when Shane said this.

“I didn’t do anything to the Bennett family. Why did you ask me to spare you?”

When Bill said this, it was Shane’s turn to be stunned.

‘What?’

‘Is Bill going back on his word after taking the gift?’

“Mr. Wallace, well... our family have been having such a hard time these two days.

“Our business is being investigated, clients are asking us for goods, and suppliers are asking for payment . We really can’t take it anymore...”

Shane’s face was full of desperate appeal.

He was a multimillionaire and would not have been so humble if he had not been desperate.

Bill’s eyes narrowed slightly when Shane said this.

He felt a sudden chill when he recalled what Sean had said that day.

‘Sean must have something to do with this.

‘He almost destroyed the Bennett family’s business empire that had been around for so many years with only one word.

“Who is he?’

Bill felt even more respectful of Sean when he heard that.

“Mr. Bennett, you know me. I’ll admit it if I did it.

1/7

“If I didn’t, then I didn’t do it.”

Bill looked up at Shane and replied calmly.

Shane looked at Bill for a few seconds before letting out another long sigh and scowled.

‘If Bill didn’t do it, who did?

‘Did Jay offend some other big shot?

‘But Jay told me confidently that Bill’s the only person he had offended!’

“Mr. Wallace, I heard from my son that you had a cripple alone with you the other day.

“Perhaps the cripple had said some bad thing about my son.

“But Mr. Wallace, you mustn’t trust him!”

Shane sighed gently, still thinking Bill had something to do with it.

Jay said he had issues with Sean too, but Shane ignored it.

How could a nobody with no background be able to drive the Bennett family into a corner?

However, Shane noticed a sneer on Bill’s face when he said this.

“I’m afraid you’ve been clever all your life but stupid this once, Mr. Bennett.”

Bill leaned forward and looked at Shane as he sneered.

“What... what do you mean?”

Shane froze slightly before asking quickly.

“Do you know that even Boss Flint is respectful of...

“The cripple you speak of?”

Shane froze like he was struck by lightning when Bill said that.

Chapter 287

The Boss Flint Bill mentioned must be Flint Howard!

Who was Flint?

He was the most popular big shot in River City's underworld these days.

He was the boss of the underworld. If the Bennett family offended Flint, they would be destroyed instantly.

Bill said even Flint was respectful to that cripple Sean...

Shane suddenly had an epiphany.

Jay's eyes widened as his face was full of disbelief.

However, he knew Bill would never joke about something like that!

‘Does Sean have such a scary identity?’

‘So the Bennett Family is in this predicament because of Sean!’

“That cripple! It must be him! It must be him!”

Jay gritted his teeth and let out a roar.

“If you call Mr. Lennon a cripple again, both of you are staying here!”

Bill got up as he slammed a hand on the table and yelled at Jay.

“Hsss!”

Both Shane and his son shut up, scared to speak.

“I'm only saying this because you and I have some history, Mr. Bennett.

“But that's all I'm saying.

“You can figure out what to do yourself, Mr. Bennett.

“Nat, see them off!”

Bill waved his hand slightly and kicked them out.

Natalie stepped forward, followed by several burly men, looking at Shane and his son with a straight face.

Shane and his son dared not dawdle in front of Bill. They left Blue Bay Club dejectedly.

—

The next day.

In a three-star hotel in River City.

Herbert, Lexie, Demi, Willow, Sean, and the other classmates got together.

These were the people from the party last time.

Everyone was here except Jay.

5634 on you

“I asked everyone here to talk about what had happened to Jay’s family.

“We were all there that day when we offended Mr. Wallace, so we had something to do with it.

“So it’s only right that I call you all here, right?”

Herbert sat at the head of the table, looking very high and mighty.

Willow shook her head in resignation. It was why she had to bring Sean.

After all, it had already happened, and she was not going to run away from it.

“Now, the Bennett family is going bankrupt because of Mr. Wallace.

“I’d like to ask you what you think.

“After all, Jay is our friend.”

Herbert’s eyes swept across everyone’s faces.

“Hmph! What else can we think?

“Things were going to work out that day, but Sean beat up Mr. Wallace’s subordinate and wanted to negotiate with Mr. Wallace alone.

“We don’t even know what he said to Mr. Wallace.

“Now that we think about it, instead of solving the problem, he made it worse.

“That’s why Mr. Wallace went after Jay’s family business.”

With heavy makeup on her face, Demi folded her arms in front of her as she spoke with a cold snort.

As soon as she said that, she got many people’s approval.

Now that there was trouble, they had to have someone to blame.

In their minds, Sean was the perfect candidate.

“Sean, what do you think?”

“It was Jay’s fault, but I could have used my family connections.

“Yet you just had to go after Mr. Wallace’s men and made it such a fuss that the Bennett family is involved.

“Don’t cause trouble if you have no power to make things right.

“Now, how are you going to take the responsibility?”

Herbert snorted coldly and looked at Sean as if he were interrogating a prisoner.

Chapter 288

A sneer appeared on Sean’s lips when he heard that.

He wondered why Herbert and all these people would get together for Jay.

It turned out it was only to pin the blame on Sean.

However, Sean was willing to take it.

It was because he caused this to the Bennett family in the first place.

“The Bennett family deserves what they’ve got.

“Why should I, Sean Lennon, be responsible?”

Sean asked after glancing at Herbert.

“Hmph! It’s disgusting to behave like that when you’ve done something wrong and made someone else suffer.” 1

Demi looked at Sean with hatred on her face.

“Say no more. Jay will be here in a minute.

“Sean, go with Jay and apologize to Mr. Wallace if you’re a man.”

Herbert pointed at Sean as if he was ordering him.

Sean slowly turned his head to look at Herbert.

“When he made Willow slap herself the other day, I said I can destroy the Bennett family in one day.

“I wonder if you remember?”

Sean asked as he put his hands on the armrests of his wheelchair.

Everyone froze when they heard that.

“Don’t you want me to explain?”

“Then listen carefully. I’ll explain it to you.”

“I did this to the Bennett family. I, Sean Lennon, did it. Is that clear enough?”

Everyone was stunned as soon as Sean said that.

They did remember what Sean said, but they took it as a joke.

Could Sean, a loser who had no background and was living off Willow, destroy the Bennett family?

What a joke!

“Hahaha! I’m laughing my head off. Sean, how dare you say that?”

“Do you think we’ll think you have a strong background and be afraid of you because you said that?”

“Let me tell you, dream on!”

The lackeys around Herbert laughed at Sean with sneers on their faces.

“Sean, don’t brag too much.”

“Are you capable of destroying the Bennett family? Who do you think you are?” Herbert snorted coldly while Demi and the others sneered.

Even Lexie and Willow looked at Sean helplessly.

They thought Sean might be having another fit... 1

“Sorry to have kept you waiting...”

Just then, the door of the private room was pushed open, and Jay entered.

”

“Jay, there you are. What the cripple said just now almost killed us...”

Everyone sneered in disdain when they saw Jay coming over.

Jay was not smiling at all as he walked straight toward Sean.

“Jay, it seems you’ve realized that Mr. Wallace has done this to your family because Sean had offended him?”

Herbert sneered when he saw Jay walk up to Sean.

‘Jay must want to beat Sean up after finding out about the truth.

“We’re friends. For Willow’s sake, don’t hit him so hard!”

Herbert chuckled, expecting Jay to throw punches at Sean at any moment.

“Jay, calm down. Listen to me. There’s been some misunderstanding!”

Willow immediately got up and stood in front of Sean.

Ignoring everyone and staring at Sean, Jay went straight to the wheelchair. The next second, Jay went limp and fell to his knees with a thump.

“Bro... Brother Sean...

“I’m sorry. Have mercy!

“Spare the Bennett family please!”

Jay fell to his knees, his face full of regret.

The private room instantly fell into a dead silence!

Chapter 289

“Brother Sean, please. I’m sorry.

“Please spare the Bennett family...”

Jay had a pleading look on his face as he begged for mercy.

Herbert froze while Demi was shocked....

Lexie reached out and rubbed her eyes in disbelief.

full of

Willow’s eyes were wide open as she covered her red lips with her hand, her eyes disbelief.

Everyone in the private room was shocked by this scene.

Sean was the only one who sat calmly and quietly in his wheelchair.

It was as if he had expected all this.

“Jay, are you out of your f*cking mind?

Herbert yelled at Jay after he recovered.

He thought Jay went up to Sean to beat the crap out of him.

However, what he saw was unexpected, and it upset him.

However, Jay had no time to listen to what others were saying. All his attention was on Sean.

All he wanted was for Sean to forgive him and nothing else.

Face and dignity were nothing.

“How dare you kneel at that cripple? I think something’s wrong with you!”

Herbert stepped forward, grabbed Jay by the collar, and roared again.

“I... Yes, something’s wrong with me...

"I'm was out of my mind and have been blind. Brother Sean, something's wrong Please don't be mad with a lunatic like me..."

"I beg you..."

Jay was groveling right now.

"You! You!"

with me.

Herbert was so resentful that Jay disappointed him that his teeth crunched from the gritting.

However, he could not stop Jay at all. He could only stand aside and remain silent.

"Brother Sean, since I went to school with the campus belle Quinn, give me a chance!"

Jay knelt as he looked up at Sean and begged for mercy again.

Willow and the others' eyes moved slowly and eventually focused on Sean.

Sean, who had been silent, finally looked up at Jay.

"Didn't you say I was bluffing?"

Sean asked indifferently as he looked at Jay.

"I... Brother Sean, I'll stop. I have a bad mouth. It's my fault..."

Jay froze at that. Then his face turned red.

Willow and the others were silent as they watched.

"You probably remember why I'm after the Bennett family."

Sean reached out and put his hands on the armrests of his wheelchair. His voice was calm.

Hearing what Sean had said, Jay and Herbert recalled what happened that day.

Sean would not apologize to Jay that day, and Jay and the rest were aggressive as they threatened Sean.

Willow raised her arm but did not have the heart to hit Sean. Eventually, she slapped herself in the face and bowed to Jay and the others to apologize.

However, Jay was relentless and insulted them.

Sean said he could spare Jay if Jay slapped himself three times and apologized to Willow.

If not, he would destroy the Bennett family in one day.

At the time, everyone thought Sean had lost his mind and was talking nonsense.

Jay was so upset that he wanted to beat up Sean, saying Sean could try if he were really that capable.

Now, everyone was silent as they recalled that day.

“You wanted me to try, so I did.”

Sean raised his palm and casually folded his cuff.

He was as nonchalant as if everything was under control.

Sean seemed to radiate so much charm that enticed Lexie and the girls.

“Brother Sean, I’m sorry. I’m so sorry...”

“I shouldn’t have forced the campus belle Quinn to slap herself. I shouldn’t have forced you to apologize...”

Jay put a long face. He was as humble as a pest in front of Sean.

“Why apologize to me when you know why I did it?”

Sean glanced at Jay and spoke indifferently.

Jay was stunned when he heard that. Then it suddenly dawned on him.

Swoosh!

Jay moved on his knees and turned to look at Willow.

He was still on his knees when he faced Willow.

“Campus belle Quinn, I’m sorry. It’s my fault. I know it’s my fault now...”

Jay clenched his teeth slightly. Then he raised his palm and smacked himself in the face.

Slap!

Slap!

Slap!

A continuous round of loud slapping rang throughout the private room.

Jay’s apologies mixed with the slapping sound.

Every time Jay slapped himself, he said sorry to Willow.

It made Willow’s head buzz, and her brain stopped working for a moment.

“Jay, get up. It’s... all in the past.”

Willow immediately said to Jay when she regained consciousness.

She was kind and had never started feuds with anyone.

Even though Jay did taunt them that day, she chose to forgive Jay when she saw him so miserable.

“I... I’m scared to get up...”

Jay lowered his head and whispered as he slowly stopped slapping himself.

Chapter 290

His face was already red and swollen, looking like a pig's head.

Sean said nothing, so he dared not get up.

"Since Willow has forgiven you, I have nothing else to say."

Sean said after Willow nodded to him.

"Yes, yes... Thank you, Brother Sean. Thank you, Brother Sean..."

"What about my family?"

Jay was still scared to get up. He stayed on his knees and looked up at Sean.

Sean kept silent for two seconds. He still had to take care of Willow's feelings.

"I'll give the Bennett family one last chance for Willow's sake."

Otherwise, he would have crushed the Bennett family with one hand.

"Thank

you, Brother Sean. Thank you, Brother Sean..."

Jay was excited when he heard that. He nodded as if he was pounding meat with his forehead before getting up slowly.

"Willow, let's go home."

Sean glanced at the crowd before looking back at Willow with a smile.

"Ah... Go home... Sure, sure."

Willow felt like she was in a dream and nodded stiffly.

She paused for a few seconds before slowly stepping forward and wheeling Sean out.

"Sean, don't think you're all that!

"River City is full of people you can't mess with!"

The more Herbert thought about it, the more upset he became. He spoke through gritted teeth, trying to gain back some face.

Sean slowly turned his head and looked at Herbert.

Herbert was stunned by the fierce look in his eyes.

"I don't know if there's anyone in River City that I, Sean Lennon, can't mess with.

"But I do know if you dare to mess with me again, I'll give you a taste of Jay's suffering today."

Sean said as his gaze shot straight at Herbert like a bolt of lightning.

Sean seemed domineering as his aura as a nine-star commander was in full swing.

The temperature in the private room seemed to drop by several degrees.

Herbert's mouth opened. Sean's imposing aura intimidated him from speaking.

"Is it bad to stay alive?"

"Why do people like to cause trouble?"

Sean withdrew his gaze and left the private room with Willow.

Lexie pursed her lips and followed.

"Jay, what the f*ck was that?"

"Are you out of your mind? Why did you get down on your knees and apologize to him?"

Herbert gritted his teeth as he looked at Jay. He sounded furious.

He thought Sean was only so arrogant because Jay was so humble to him.

Jay could only swallow the pain!

He had no idea who Sean was, and he was not even 100% sure that Sean did this.

However, the Bennett family had run out of options.

They were tottering before the abyss ahead, and they had to try any chance to solve the crisis!

"Stop. Let's not talk about it anymore. I'm going home."

Jay waved his hand. Then he left the private room with a swollen face from the slapping.

Only Herbert and Demi were left in the private room.

These people were on the same side.

"Brother Herbert, what's all this?"

"Knowing Jay, he wouldn't have done this if Sean didn't have him by the throat..."

"Is Sean really capable of something?"

Several people gathered around Herbert, all a little shocked.

"I'm telling you, Jay must be out of his mind to do this."

Demi snorted coldly. Her face with heavy makeup was scornful.

"Everyone knows that cripple has been catatonic for two years.

"He has no background, so what if he's sober now?"

“He had only been sober for a few days. Could he really have the connections to ruin the Bennett family ?

“Do you think that’s realistic?”

Herbert and others were absorbed in thought when Demi said this.

Sean had been catatonic for two years and had only recently regained consciousness.

Even if he was extraordinary, he had to eat one bite after another and build his connections one after another.

The Bennett family had been in business for decades and had a place in River City.

Who was Sean to ruin the Bennett family?

“Could the cripple have some powerful background before going catatonic?”

“I don’t care if you believe it or not, but I don’t.

“I don’t know any influential family in River City named Lennon.”

Demi snorted coldly again when the crowd was silent.

It made more sense to everyone.

“It’s probably a coincidence.

“Or Mr. Wallace did it, but Jay misunderstood.

“Sean is still nothing but a cripple.”

Herbert and the rest finally concluded.

***

Willow’s home.

Sean’s room.

Willow had a complicated look in her eyes as she stared at Sean.

It had been going on for nearly five minutes.

In the end, even Sean was a little uncomfortable.

“Sean, what the h*ll is going on?”

“Did you really do this to the Bennett family?”

Willow asked after a long silence.

“Yes! He made you suffer. Of course, I’m going to give him some punishment.

“I won’t allow anyone to bully you.”

Sean did not even try to hide it. He just admitted it.

He would admit it if he had done it.

Why cover it up? Why find excuses?

It was not Sean's character to do that either.