Chapter 454 "Grandma, I don't understand.

"I don't want to be with someone I don't like either."

Willow was still unwilling to compromise. "Willow, now it's not whether you want it or not.

"Today, this incident has already shaken the entire city.

"I heard that Young Master Zimmer's father used his connections to invite a lot of respectable people over there. "If you don't go and offend them, do you think the Zimmer family will deal with the Quinn family or not?"

"At that time, will the Quinn family be able to withstand the Zimmer family's persecution?"

Samuel looked at Willow and persuaded softly. "Uncle, don't say anymore. "I've never once thought to accept Quill's confession. "Everything is their wishful thinking and it doesn't matter to me whether it's shameful or not."

Although Willow sometimes got confused, she definitely had her own opinion on this matter.

"But can't you think about the Quinn family?"

"You definitely know what's going on with the Quinn family now. It's getting worse. "Do you really have the heart to watch your grandfather's hard work ruined?"

Old Madam Quinn started to appeal to emotion.

At this time, Willow fell into silence.

Willow's grandfather, Levi Quinn, not only treated her very well but was also an old hero who risked his life on the battlefield and had always been the object of Willow's adoration.

It could be said that in the entire Quinn family, the person Willow respected the most was Levi Quinn.

Therefore, when Old Madam Quinn mentioned Old Master Quinn at this moment, Willow felt moved.

At this moment, Sean said lightly as he pointed at Simon and the others,

"The downfall of the Quinn family is because of their incompetence. They only know how to eat, drink and have fun every day.

"Why should Willow bear the consequences for their mistakes?" Bang! Simon slammed the table with his hands suddenly and said coldly, "Sean, do you have the right to speak here? "The Quinn family is having a meeting now. If you, an outsider, don't want to hear it then just get out of here immediately!"

After hearing Simon's words, Sean's expression turned cold and he grabbed the water glass on the table.

Bang!

However, there was one hand that was faster than his. Willow stretched out her hand and patted the table, gritted her teeth lightly, and said, "Simon, if you dare to say something like this again, please get out of here now! This is my house!"

"You!"

Simon gritted his teeth angrily and said, "Grandma, look at them!" Old Madam Quinn waved her hand slightly to motion Simon not to say any more. Hence, Simon had no choice but to keep his mouth shut.

"Willow, no matter what, you have to go.

"From ancient times to the present, there have been many arranged marriages between families for the sake of survival.

"I know it's unfair to you but if the Quinn family wants to prosper, someone has to make sacrifices.

"Young Master Zimmer is interested in you and he also likes you from the bottom of his heart. So, you'll naturally be happy together."

"So, just go, I beg you." Old Madam Quinn leaned forward slightly with a rare look of pleading to Willow in her eyes. When Willow heard this, she subconsciously turned her head and glanced at Sean. She really loved the Quinn family and she did not really want to see the downfall of the Quinn family. Therefore, if she really needed to sacrifice herself, she really would not hesitate at all. However, if this matter happened two years ago, she would definitely agree right away.

However, with Sean by her side now, she could not convince herself to agree for some reason. Hence, Willow shook her head after being silent for a few seconds.

"Grandma, I'm sorry.

"I still don't want to go."

Disappointment flickered in Old Madam Quinn's eyes after hearing those words from Willow.

Bany! On the other hand, Simon slammed the table and shouted, "Hinpli! This is not up to you!

*Today, you must go! You still have to go even though you don't want to!"

What he said was extremely arrogant as if he was ordering Willow.

Swoosh!

At this moment, Sean suddenly grabbed the teacup and threw it at Simon. The slightly hot tea was drenched all over Simon in an instant.

Chapter 455 "Argh! Lunatic! What the f*ck are you doing?"

Simon hurriedly got up, took off his clothes, and shouted angrily at Sean.

The rest of the Quinn family also looked at Sean with dissatisfaction.

"Who are you dare to command Willow?"

“No one in this world can force her to do something she doesn’t want to do.” “You can’t and no one can.” Sean’s eyes were full of chills. Simon was so shocked that he did not dare to speak for a while. On the other hand, Willow was staring at Sean. She was looking at Sean’s domineering and powerful appearance, and his incomparably strong words, which made Willow felt a sense of warmth and security in her heart. “Sean, do you really f*cking think that you’re somebody? “Do you really think you can interfere in the Quinn family’s affairs? “I’m f*cking fed up! Grandma, can you please drive him away now! “If he doesn’t get out of the Quinn Residence today, then I’ll leave!” Simon was extremely angry and kept howling loudly. Old Madam Quinn frown and looked at Sean with a nasty look. She always remembered Sean’s kindness for saving her, so she did not mention the matter of letting Sean leave the Quinn Residence during this period. That being said, she found that Sean seemed to go a little too far. The matter between Quill and Willow would determine the future of the Quinn family. If Sean dared to intervene in this matter, Old Madam Quinn would never tolerate him! “Sean, you...” Old Madam Quinn was dissatisfied and was about to speak.

However, before she could finish speaking, Sean waved his hand and interrupted her.

“If there’s nothing else, everyone please go back. “Willow will go to the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel tonight.”

Everyone was stunned on the spot after hearing what Sean said.

Fion, Old Madam Quinn, and the others, including Willow, looked at Sean in disbelief.

This loser just pretended to be so aggressive just now? It seemed that he was really afraid to provoke Old Madam Quinn that she would drive him out of the Quinn Residence if she was unhappy? “Hehe, such a coward. I f*cking thought you’ve got guts.”

Simon smiled with disdain on his face.

“Willow, is what he said true?”

Old Madam Quinn turned her head slowly and asked Willow’s opinion. At this time, Willow stared at Sean with eyes widened in disbelief. She had no idea why Sean said this.

Is he not pushing her to Quill by doing this?

She did not expect that Sean was such a person. Had Sean finally surrendered to reality? “Yes, it’s true! I’ll go!” Willow gritted her teeth slightly and replied angrily as she looked at Sean. “Good! I hope you won’t disappoint grandma and the Quinn family.” Old Madam Quinn nodded with satisfaction immediately and left together with the rest. “You’re finally catching on.” Fion also smiled with satisfaction and immediately went back to her room to clean up. She was definitely going to the scene tonight, so she naturally had to dress up. “Sean, I’m a little disappointed in you.” Willow was silent for a while. Then, she uttered a sentence and also left the room.

Time passed

by. In a blink of an eye, it was six o’clock in the evening. The sky was about to get dark and the atmosphere of the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel was also completely lively. The whole hotel was brightly lit and luxury cars arrived one after another in an endless stream. Countless business leaders and celebrities in River City gave respect to Quill by attending the dinner.

Quill looked quite handsome in a well-cut handmade suit with a rose pinned to his left breast pocket.

At this time, he stood at the entrance of the hotel with a smile on his face, personally greeting the big shots.

However, just when Quill brought a few famous dignitaries of River City into the hotel. They were stopped by hotel security.

“Young Master Zimmer, you can’t go in.”

A middle-aged security guard bowed his head slightly and said in accordance with the instructions given by the higher management.

Chapter 456 After hearing the words of the security guard, Quill was slightly stunned.

Today, the entire Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel belonged to Quill. Who dared not to let him in?

“Young Master Zimmer, the setup inside it’s not ready yet.”

“So...” of course, the security guard did not dare to make things difficult for Quill, he just did things according to the instructions given by the higher management, “What nonsense is that? “Then I’ll just wait inside until it’s finished. “Now that my guests are here, are you planning to make us wait outside?” Quill was even angrier when he heard this until he grabbed the security guard’s collar. “Hey, Young Master Zimmer, today’s your big day and also a happy day, just forget it. “Yeah, we can wait outside for a while. “Anyway, there’s a rest area provided outside, so we can just wait a while here, don’t worry.” Some of the people behind Quill kept persuading him. However, the more they said that, the angrier Quill became “Today, the entire Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel is owned by me alone.

“I tell you, you all are just a ‘guard dog’, even if your general manager comes, he still has to respectfully call me God!”

“What kind of sh*t are you? You dare to stop me? Bring the person in charge out here immediately!”

Quill shook the luxury watch on his wrist as he yelled at the security guard.

“Young Master Zimmer, what’s the matter? Why’re you so angry?”

At this moment, the floor manager of this hotel came over with a smile on his face. There were no less than 20 security guards in black behind him. “I want to go in now but he won’t let me in. He doesn’t want this job anymore, does he?”

Quill stepped forward suddenly and slapped the security guard with a backhand.

“Young Master Zimmer, actually this is also the instruction given to me as well by the higher management.

“How about you take the guests and wait outside for a while?”

“It’s not too late when everyone has arrived!”

The floor manager was extremely calm. He directly pulled the struck security guard behind him and then spoke to Quill with a smile.

After he finished speaking and without waiting for Quill to reply, he waved his hand and said, “ For the rest area outside, bring all the drinks and snacks and let Young Master Zimmer take a break.”

After finishing speaking, the floor manager actually smiled again then turned and left. “F*ck you!”

Quill was even angrier. He always felt that there was something wrong with the attitude of the staff in this hotel.

It was as if they were deliberately going against him. “Young Master Zimmer, don’t be angry, when everyone else arrives, let’s go in together! “Yeah, anyway, Willow hasn’t arrived yet, so we’re not in a hurry.”

Everyone quickly pulled Quill and walked to the rest area together to sit down. Quill was furious. However, when he thought about the matter of confessing to Willow was the ultimate goal, he forcibly suppressed his anger.

“When things are done today, I’ll teach them a good lesson.” Quill snorted with a tone full of disdain.

In the hotel at this time, the floor manager stood in the room and looked out the window.

There was deep helplessness in his eyes.

“Manager, if we do this, doesn’t it mean that we’re playing a trick on Young Master Zimmer? “This will definitely gravely offend the Zimmer family!”

A young man behind him had a look of apprehension in his eyes. After all, once Quill got angry, these low-tier staff would be the first to bear the brunt of his rage! At that time, the higher management would put the blame completely on someone else and Quill would definitely take his anger on them. “This is an order given by the higher management, we just have to follow it. “They pay our salaries, so we must obey their orders.

“Otherwise, are you going to quit your job now?”

The floor manager frowned slightly and replied fairly straightforwardly. The young man blushed when he heard this and quickly closed his mouth and did not say more,

The Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel, as the only six-star hotel in River City, was extremely strict in recruiting employees and it was not easy to get in.

However, the treatment here was also quite generous, which was several times better than other hotels. No one was willing to leave easily. "We don't need to worry about the decision made by the higher management. "Just follow the orders."

The floor manager waved his hand and turned to leave soon after.

At the same time.

In Willow's house. "Willow, don't dilly-dally! Hurry up!" Fion and Kent were both dressed in formal clothes as if they were going to attend some important banquet. Those who did not know thought that today was the engagement ceremony of Willow and Quill. "Okay." Willow responded and walked out of the room afterward. "What's the matter with you? Are you going to wear this to the hotel?" After seeing Willow's outfit, Fion immediately frowned. Let alone dressing up, Willow looked like a girl from the ghetto at this time. She was dressed in simple and plain clothes. Her hair was tied in a simple ponytail with a rubber band and she did not have any makeup on her face. Although Willow's natural look was extremely beautiful, Fion could not bear to look at her casual face.

Chapter 457 "Mom, then what should I wear?" Willow asked in return as she put on a pair of cotton house slippers and walked towards the door.

"You obviously have some nice dresses, why don't you wear them?"

Willow took a step forward and asked angrily. Some time ago, Sean obviously bought them a lot of famous brand clothes. However, Willow did not wear any of them, instead, she wore the cheap, comfortable clothes bought from the flea market before.

What kind of attitude was this?

Quill spent a lot of money to reserve the entire hotel to confess to Willow.

In return, the girl in question was dressed so plainly and simply. Is this just not slapping Quill in his face? Therefore, the more Fion thought about it, the angrier she became. "Mom! That's what I am.

"If you think I'm embarrassing, then I'll not go."

Willow stood there and replied calmly.

"You!"

Fion gritted her teeth slightly and pointed at Willow, but in the end, she did not dare to say more.

She knew Willow's character. Once she was really angry, she would not listen to what Fion said.

"Willow, are you ready? "If you're ready, then let's go there together. "Young Master Zimmer has already called. He's waiting for us now." At this moment, Old Madam Quinn's voice came from outside followed by the Quinn family. Willow's uncle, Samuel Quinn, as well as Simon, Faye, and the others, were all there.

Old Madam Quinn attached great importance to this matter today so she called all the members of the Quinn family directly.

Regardless of the direct line or the branch line, all must be present.

Willow slowly turned her head and glanced at Old Madam Quinn and the others.

Her eyes seemed to have lost all color and she just nodded stiffly.

She really did not want to be with Quill, let alone accept Quill's confession.

However, everyone around her was forcing her, so she had to do it.

Even Sean supported her to go. Willow felt that she was lonely and helpless now. She always felt that at least Sean would definitely oppose Quill and stood with her. Today, however, Sean persuaded Willow to go to the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel. Was it not obvious that he wanted to push Willow to Quill?

"Mom, where's Sean?"

Willow frowned and asked after thinking of this.

"He went out in the afternoon, probably because he knew he was a huge eyesore." Fion waved her hand nonchalantly. "Haha! He has a sense of shame? I thought that part of his brain died when he became a veg." Simon was stunned when he heard the words and laughed soon after.

"Pfft! He'd better not come back, then we won't have to worry so much."

Faye also grinned proudly. "Willow, it seems that Sean knows that he's not capable to fight against Young Master Zimmer, so..."

Old Madam Quinn showed a meaningful expression. She thought that Sean was obviously afraid of Quill, so he gave up Willow. Willow felt more and more uncomfortable when she heard this. Since Sean was going to hide, why did he not take her with him? She had clearly booked the train ticket in advance and was going to go out with Sean.

Alas, Sean persuaded her to go to the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel.

In the end, he himself hid and left Willow to face all this alone. After listening to the words of Old Madam Quinn and the others, Willow felt more and more uncomfortable. Unable to stop herself, she took out her mobile phone and called Sean.

"Hello, Willow?" The phone was quickly connected and Sean's voice sounded. Through the phone, Willow could hear that Sean was in a very quiet place. "Where are you?"

Willow pursed her lips and asked. "I'm.. doing something outside, what's the matter?" Sean paused for a moment and replied softly afterward.

When Willow heard this, she could not help feeling a little aggrieved.

She was about to be pushed to Quill's side by the Quinn family now, however, Sean did nothing but flee.

Sean also kept saying before that no one could force her to do things she did not like and he also promised that he would keep her safe.

Now, Willow only thought it was a little ridiculous and also thought that she was too naive.

“Whew...”

Willow breathed a sigh of relief and said, “I’m going to the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel soon.”

After saying this, Willow waited cautiously for Sean’s reply.

She made a decision in her heart. She thought that even if Sean stopped her a little, she would do everything possible to reject Old Madam Quinn and the others.

However, Willow did not get to hear Sean stop her after all. “Alright! I’ll wait for you.”

Sean nodded and replied softly.

When Willow heard this, she gritted her teeth slightly and hung up the phone silently.

Sean said he would wait for her. Wait for her to come back?

Perhaps, he did not know that once Willow went to the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel tonight, she might never be able to come back to him again! Willow put down her mobile phone with disappointment in her eyes. “You really want to push me to Quill. “Okay, then it’s as you wish!” Willow gritted her teeth slightly and muttered to herself in her heart soundlessly.

Chapter

458 “Willow, did you call Sean? Where did he hide?” Willow’s eldest uncle, Samuel Quinn, deliberately asked her this question. “Don’t say anymore! “It’s better if he hides.” Old Madam Quinn waved her hand and told everyone to go to the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel together. The entire Quinn family was extremely looking forward to it. As long as Willow married Quill.

The Quinn family would get help from the Zimmer family from now on.

The Zimmer family, as a famous upstart, had flourished in recent years and they were about to become the most powerful family in River City. If the Quinn family had a good relationship with the Zimmer family, the Quinn family would definitely benefit a lot. Therefore, tonight was definitely the time for the Quinn family to change their fate! Two years ago today, Willow took in Sean, which added a cripple with an unknown origin to the Quinn family. Moreover, it also ruined Willow’s reputation and many people took them as a joke. However, after today, the situation in the past would disappear because of Willow and Quill being together!

The more they thought about it, the more excited they became and they sped all the way.

Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel.

It was already eight o’clock at night. As night fell, darkness enveloped the whole River City.

However, the surroundings of this Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel were brightly lit like daytime.

Countless lights blazed and the place shone like a jewel under glittering lights. There were also many luxury cars parked in the parking lot in front of the hotel entrance. Among them, there were some rich second-generation friends of Quill and some business partners or Jon Zimmer.

The Zimmer family was now a prosperous family in River City and backed by a big shot in the army, Jason Yeast, so they felt even more proud and confident.

Therefore, many enterprises were also willing to show them respect.

It did not matter if it were rich businessmen or dignitaries.

After they came, they were all left in the rest area outside the hotel.

This made many people dissatisfied. With their status, when had they received such treatment? However, they understood the fact that this was also the territory of the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel no matter what.

Naturally, it was the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel that had the final say. Respecting customers was something they should do, but if they refused to do it, what could be done then?

At this time, therefore, there were hundreds of big shots from River City waiting in the rest area in front of the hotel entrance and none of them could enter. During this period, Quill was nearly provoked several times but was persuaded to calm down.

"I'll wait another ten minutes at most."

"If they still aren't ready yet, I'll smash their hotel!" Quill snorted coldly with a face full of anger. There were also many people waiting around the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel.

There were news media who were ready to get first-hand information and there were also some residents of River City who came to watch the event of the year.

All in all, it was crowded and very lively. At this time, the Quinn family was also about to arrive at the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel. About seven cars were all filled with people lined up to enter the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel. At this moment, a car suddenly forcibly drove in front of them and drove toward the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel.

The car looked like a bus with a huge cargo box behind just like a cargo truck. "What's the car doing?"

"A broken cargo truck dares to rush in front of us?"

"Didn't they see that we're driving a BMW? Can he afford to pay us if they crashed our car?"

Upon seeing this scene, Faye snorted and mumbled very unhappily. As she spoke, she pressed the down window switch and was ready to scream obscenities to the truck "Stop it!"

However, Simon frowned and glanced at it. Then, he scolded and directly pressed the window lock button.

“Are you crazy? Do you know what car that is? “It’s the German Bürstner motorhome, a luxury car of the Solano series.”

Simon frowned slightly and slowed down the car a little.

“What? Is it worth a million?”

Faye pouted slightly with a nonchalant look. “A million? “According to the official guide price, it’s worth seven million and two hundred thousand dollars!”

Faye shut up instantly after hearing the reply from Simon. Sure enough, when Simon slowed down, several cars followed up immediately behind it. Ten all-black Porsche Panamera flanked the motorhome like two rows of guards. “D*mn! I know this one! The lowest specs should be in the millions and the highest specs are more than two million.” Faye immediately widened her eyes, stretched out her hand to cover her mouth, and exclaimed.

Ten Porsche Panamera with dazzling headlights escorted the motorhome like ten fierce tigers. One could imagine what kind of big shot was sitting in that motorhome. Simon slowed down a bit again. Swoosh swoosh!

Escorted by ten Panamera, the Bürstner motorhome came directly to the front of the Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel

“Woah!”

Upon seeing this scene, Quill and the others were also shocked. The person who came was definitely not an ordinary person. Thump thump thump! After doors of ten Panamera were opened, bodyguards in black filed down one after another. Even at night, these bodyguards were still wearing special sunglasses and all of them were extremely burly. No less than 40 bodyguards in black directly dispersed and drove away from the surrounding people. Upon seeing this scene, Quill and the others were even more surprised. ‘Who the hell is this bigshot in River City?’

Wow!

When the door of the motorhome was opened, a ramp pedal was automatically lowered.

Immediately afterward, a wheelchair was pushed slowly out of the motorhome. At this moment, Quill suddenly widened his eyes.

Chapter 459 It was because Quill was too sensitive to people in wheelchairs.

He regarded Sean as the thorn in his flesh.

Therefore, whenever the first moment he saw a wheelchair, Sean’s name would pop up in his mind.

Moreover, Quill was surprised to find that the wheelchair that got out of the motorhome was really similar to Sean's! Quill took a deep breath and looked intently at the person sitting in the wheelchair. However, due to the obstruction of the dozens of bodyguards, he could not see clearly at all. He could only vaguely see that the person in the wheelchair had a pair of large sunglasses worn on his face, which directly covered half of his face. A well-crafted suit that fitted perfectly on his body. He was wearing a high-quality white shirt underneath, which was even more dazzling. There was also the sparkling diamond-encrusted watch on the wrist, a limited edition of the Vacheron Constantin series, with a counter price of 2.4 million. This ostentation coupled with the temperament of the person in the wheelchair really made countless people around him continue to exclaim. "Woah! Such a big shot!"

"See? I told you that the Zimmer family in River City is very capable. Each guest that arrives is more powerful than the others!"

"I think this person doesn't look like the local in River City, he seems to be a big shot from other places. "Tsk tsk, it's not without reason that the Zimmer family can develop so fast. Their power of networking is really wide. Amidst the exclamations of the crowd, the surrounding reporters also picked up their cameras to shoot.

However, with the cover of dozens of strong men in black, they could not take any pictures and only a side view could be taken. "Mr. Jon, Young Master Quill, who's this big shot?"

"Can you introduce him to us later?"

"Yeah, Mr. Jon, why not help us to make a connection with this bigshot?" Quill and the people behind his father, Jon Zimmer, could not sit still. Moreover, they all felt that this person must know Quill and his father. otherwise, no one else was qualified to come here except for the people Quill knew since the Riverside Lakeside Hotel had been completely reserved by him today!

"...Ha, hahaha. Sure, sure."

Quill was stunned for a moment and replied to the crowd with a smile afterward.

After he laughed, however, Jon looked at Quill suspiciously.

There was a look of questioning in his eyes. However, Quill also had a confused look on his face. "Didn't you invite him?"

Jon and Quill asked this sentence at the same time. After asking this sentence, the two were stunned on the spot at the same time. Both of them did not invite this bigshot. So, who was this uninvited guest? Was he an enemy or a friend?

Jon shook his wrist, glanced back, and said in a low voice, "I can't remember how many people I invited. It might be someone from a big company. "Let's go and greet him first."

Jon coughed and immediately walked towards this side with Quill. However, as soon as the two of them approached, they were directly stopped by several strong men in black

"Stop."

A strong man in black turned his head slightly. Although the strong man was wearing sunglasses, people could also feel how cold his eyes were.

These bodyguards were definitely not ordinary bodyguards. The aura on them was incomparable to ordinary ones from the street. As for the man in the wheelchair, he did not even look at them as was pushed slowly towards the hotel entrance.

“Hey friend, I want to see your boss.”

Jon remained polite and said to the bodyguard.

“Our boss won’t meet outsiders.”

However, the bodyguard in black still shook his head and refused. “We’re not an outsider, my name is Quill Zimmer. “Today, this entire hotel was reserved by me and all those present were my guests.” Quill grinned and stepped forward.

Swoosh!

The bodyguard in black directly raised his arms and stopped in front of Quill.

“Another half a step forward, the consequences are at your own risk.”

The incomparably cold tone of the bodyguard in black made Quill shudder.

The young man in the wheelchair had already passed by Quill under the escort of dozens of bodyguards and he still did not look at Quill.

Upon seeing this scene, everyone in the audience was stunned.

Even the Quinn family who was sitting in the car behind were a little confused.

This bigshot did not seem to be a guest invited by Quill?

Otherwise, how could he not even say a word to Quill? Quill and Jon were both blushing at this time. 1

To be so discredited in front of so many people was really a disgrace to their entire family. Originally, he was pissed off that he was being blocked by the hotel for not letting him in but now he felt even angrier. Now that there were still people who dared to refute him in public, how could he bear it?

However, just when he was about to explode, Jon stopped him. “We don’t know the background of this guy, so don’t act rashly.” Jon narrowed his eyes slightly. He knew better than Quill that in this world, some bigshots must not be provoked. Not to mention that the Zimmer family was the wealthiest family in River City, however, in the face of certain big shot, they were nothing at all. Therefore, Jon did not dare to let Quill mess around before he could figure out the background of this man.

“Hmph!” Quill snorted coldly and forcibly suppressed the anger in his heart. “Who is this person? He dares not to respect Mr. Jon?”

Samuel widened his eyes slightly, rolled down the window, and exclaimed.

"It seems that something is wrong with today's events!" Samuel frowned and muttered to himself.

"Mom, that... That person seems to be Sean..." Willow was sitting in the back seat of the car staring straight ahead.

Chapter 460 Although it was a long distance away and the person in the wheelchair was wearing large sunglasses. Willow still felt he was very familiar. After all, she took good care of Sean for more than two years. It could be said that if Sean had a few moles on his body, she knew exactly where they were.

Therefore, she was more familiar with Sean than anyone else.

At this time, the person sitting in the wheelchair really made Willow's head feel dazed.

After Willow said this, the car instantly fell into a dead silence.

"Are you kidding? I think you're crazy. + "That loser Sean hid because he was afraid of embarrassment, can you understand?" Fion was the first to react and said with a cold snort. "B-But..."

Willow frowned and wanted to say something.

"Don't say anymore. "I don't know the car in front, but the ten cars in the back are called Porsche, right?"

"Can Sean afford such a huge convoy? What're you thinking? Are you still dreaming?" Fion waved her hand to interrupt Willow. She did not believe it at all.

"That's right! There are a lot of people in wheelchairs all over the world. You can't see a person in a wheelchair and simply think that he's Sean, right?"

Samuel, who was driving, also curled his lips and replied. Several people in the car sneered in disdain. Willow sighed and said no more as she clenched her palm slightly and slowly lowered her head.

"Girl, don't put any hope on that cripple.

"Just accept Young Master Zimmer's confession today and start a new life. "As for Sean, Young Master Zimmer said that he'll give Sean a sum of money that will suffice for his future life.

Fion glanced at Willow and spoke again. "Okay, mom."

Willow was silent for a long time but she still nodded.

This time, she really accepted her fate,

It was just that she still felt uncomfortable.

Quill, who was still waiting at the hotel entrance at this time, was also in a bad mood.

Originally, he should be the most eye-catching protagonist in the audience tonight and even the most eye-catching existence in the entire River City. Alas, he was insulted in public just now, which really made hi m feel aggrieved. When he saw that group of people walking straight towards the hotel entrance, he was even more disdainful.

“You can’t go in yet.

Quill shouted to the group.

However, his words were ignored by those people again and they did not even turn their heads to look at him.

“Aheni, Young Master Zimmer, this person may have come to stay in the hotel. “But what he doesn’t know is that Young Master Zimmer has already reserved the whole place today, haha!” “That’s right! Even if the hotel starts letting people go in, it must be Young Master Zimmer who goes in first. They’re a little naive.” Everyone around could not help but want to laugh.

Everyone knew that today the entire Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel was reserved for Quill alone.

Whoever he let in could enter.

Now, the main character of the day, Quill Zimmer, had not entered yet but those people thought of going in? They were a little naive, right? “They were so arrogant in front of me just now, I’ll see if they can get in. “If they can get in without my word, I, Quill Zimmer, will take their last name.” Quill had a look of disdain on his face with arms folded in front of his chest and a sneer appeared at the corner of his mouth. However, in the next second, his smile suddenly froze on his face. He saw that a large group of people suddenly came out when the person in the wheelchair and the people around him were just approaching the entrance of the hotel. The floor manager of the hotel together with no less than 20 security guards and dozens of beautiful waitresses in long dresses rushed forward directly. “Welcome, Mr. Lennon!”

Dozens of people lined up on both sides and greeted the person in the wheelchair respectfully. It was just that everyone was confused at this time and they did not have time to listen to what the floor manager and the others had said,

All of them were shocked by the scene in front of them.

Quill originally thought that these people would definitely be blocked.

Now, forget blocking, they were directly welcomed in!

“What the f*ck are they doing!” Quill cursed angrily as he gritted his teeth and was about to step forward. The young man in the wheelchair turned his head slightly to glance at Quill and then directly entered the hotel. “Stay right there! What the li*11 is going on?”

Quill was extremely angry and shouted loudly. “Young Master Zimmer, what’s the matter?” The floor manager came over immediately and asked after a cough. Quill kicked at the floor manager until he had to take a few steps back “You asked me what’s the matter? “This hotel is reserved by me! Whoever I let in can only enter! “Now, you dare to let people enter without my consent, who the f*ck gave you the courage?” Quill grabbed the collar of the floor manager and yelled angrily. “Ahem, Young Master Zimmer, please calm down.

"It's just that this gentleman is our honored guest. "So, there's no way we could refuse." The floor manager shook his head slightly and explained. "Stop giving me nonsense! "I don't care what his identity is, I'm the biggest here today!" "I order you to drive him away immediately, I've paid for it!" Quill gritted his teeth and became furious. "Young Master Zimmer, if you insist on doing this..." The floor manager paused and took out a bank card afterward, and said, "Then we can only refund the money to you..." Quill was stunned again after looking at the bank card in front of him.
