Chapter 931

“Sean, how dare you!

“How dare you insult the Quinn family like that?

“You have the nerve!”

Madam Quinn slammed the table and pointed her hand at Sean as she yelled.

“You’ll find out whether I’m wrong.”

Sean shook his head and sneered as he looked at Willow.

“Mr. Zimmer, what do you think? Isn’t Sean ungrateful?

“He lived off the Quinn family for more than two years. When he recovered, he drove a wedge between Willow and us several times instead of being grateful.

“He even betrayed the Quinn family and threw his weight around after getting help from Reach For Will Group.

“Don’t you think he’s ungrateful?”

Getting angrier, Old Madam Quinn pointed at Sean but looked at Jon.

“He’s more than ungrateful. He’s biting the hand that feeds him.”

Jon answered immediately and with a self-righteous tone.

“Yes, he’s an ingrate!”

Quill chimed in and even spat on the floor.

Sean’s eyes went cold as slowly turned to look at Quill.

He could put up with Old Madam Quinn, but who did Quill think he was?

“Have you forgotten what it’s like to get down on your knees?”

Jon and Quill’s faces reddened slightly when Sean said this.

However, Jon snorted coldly as he glanced at Sean.

“A great man knows when to yield. It’s nothing.

“He who laughs last is the winner.

“Hitting some bumps in the process is nothing.”

Jon explained, and Quill and members of the Quinn family nodded.

“Mr. Zimmer is right.

“A great man should stop at nothing.

“The strong dominate the weak!

“It’s nothing to be embarrassed about. Whoever laughs last is the winner.”

Samuel said earnestly as he took over the conversation.

“If I can make you kneel once, I can make you kneel twice.

“You didn’t cherish the chance I gave you but squandered it.

“Then I will give you what you want.”

With that said, Sean pushed the chair behind him and prepared to turn around.

Willow also jumped to her feet without a second thought.

“Sean, what the f*ck are you bragging about?

“Let me tell you. Aren’t you only Reach For Will Group’s lackey?

“Reach For Will Group happens to have a vendetta against the Zimmer family, so they’re helping you go after us!

“Do you think you can do this yourself?”

Quill snorted coldly as he pointed at Sean’s nose.

“I’ll see if Reach For Will Group can keep you safe this time!

“This time, I’ll make sure even Reach For Will Group will kneel!”

Jon picked up a glass of red wine and drank.

“Okay, we’ll see about that.”

Sean nodded gently, not wanting to talk to Quill anymore.

It was pointless to cast pearls before swine.

“You’ll see? Haha...

“I think I can ask my father to spare your life if you kneel in front of me right now!

“Otherwise, you won’t live for more than three days!”

Quill stood in the doorway, his face arrogant and reasonable.

Instead of getting angry, Sean slowly grabbed Willow’s hand to leave.

“Willow, how long are you gonna keep this up?

“He has lied to you for so long. Are you going to keep letting him trick you?

“Are you going to accompany him if he’s gonna die?”

Old Madam Quinn slammed her hand on the table, her tone furious.

“Grandma, I know nothing. And I don’t want to know.

“But I only have an idea.

“I’ll return to the Quinn family if you’re willing to accept Sean.

“I, Willow Quinn, am not a member of the Quinn family as long as you won’t accept Sean!”

Willow said nothing but these two sentences to express her attitude.

She was firm and serious.

Sean’s heart melted at this.

He had been betrayed by his most trusted brother, which made him have a strange rejection and resistance to the people around him.

If Willow had not spent two years taking care of Sean, Sean would not have been so close to Willow.

He finally accepted someone. If Willow let him down, he had no idea who he could trust.

“You! Are you trying to piss me off?

“Oh, my heart. My heart, oh...”

Old Madam Quinn said as she was about to fall back.

Simon, who had a quick eye and a quick hand, quickly grabbed Madam Quinn.

Willow’s heart clenched at the sight, and she stopped walking.

“Do you think that’s necessary in front of me?”

Sean suddenly said out of the blue.

Old Lady Quinn immediately understood that Sean could see she faked it.

Chapter 932

After all, Sean was a good doctor, and she knew that.

Old Madam Quinn blushed for a moment before pushing Simon away and stopped faking.

“Willow, look back. We’re family!

“You have the Quinn family’s blood running through you. We’re related by blood.

“Blood is thicker than water. We’re a family after all!

“Are you abandoning your family to leave with a liar?”

Old Madam Quinn pointed her hand at the Quinn family as she yelled at Willow.

“Yeah, Willow. We were wrong, and we’ll change.

“As long as you disown this liar, we’ll put it behind us and remain a family.”

Samuel’s wife got up and spoke sensibly.

“Willow, I’ll apologize to you.

“From now on, whoever bullies you is messing with me.”

Simon patted his chest and promised.

“Willow, I know you don’t like many things Uncle Sam does.

“But I did them in your best interest. After all, Sean isn’t a good guy.

“As long as you disown him and return to the Quinn family, I’ll pay you the dividends your family deserves.

“Even if you want to be the head of the Quinn family, you can have it.”

Samuel looked at Willow and said with a serious expression.

Fion’s heartbeat suddenly quickened. She admitted that she was somewhat swayed.

Willow looked stunned too.

However, she was not stunned by the Quinn family’s offer.

It was because the Quinn family had changed their attitude so drastically.

They had done everything they could to kick Willow and Sean out of the Quinn family.

Why did they offer the position of head of the Quinn family to get Willow back?

Willow had no idea that Simon and the others were secretly sneering.

They did it because Quill had not given up on Willow.

The family dinner only had two purposes.

Firstly, humiliate Sean in public and disown Sean.

By doing so, they were giving Jon proof that they were done with Sean.

The second purpose was to let Willow return to the Quinn family.

Though the Zimmer family had lost Zimmer Corporation, they had gotten on the behemoth Jen-Bond Holdings’ good side.

As long as the Quinn family could become the Zimmer family’s in-laws, the future of the Quinn family was bright!

Therefore they were going to huge lengths to keep Willow.

‘I’ve decided!

“Willow, you’re the head of the Quinn family if you return to the Quinn family!”

Old Madam Quinn quickly said to Willow.

Her tone was utterly serious.

Sean said nothing and did not continue walking.

His character had always been this way.

If Willow wanted to return to the Quinn family for those terms, he would not stand in the way.

He knew he loved Willow, but love was not about possession to him.

Sean would not ask Willow to stay if she wanted to leave.

“Grandmother, is what you said true?”

“I can be the head of the Quinn family if I return?”

Willow asked, looking at Old Madam Quinn seriously.

“Of course!”

“Why would I go back on my word when immediate members of the Quinn family are here?”

Old Lady Quinn nodded her head in delight.

The others, including Jón and Quill, looked at Willow expectantly.

Had Willow finally woken up?

It was something they had been dreaming about!

Sean slowly released Willow’s hand.

It seemed Willow had made up her mind.

Then there was no reason for him to stay now.

Huff!

Sean exhaled gently and turned to leave.

As a former nine-star commander, he had been in charge of millions of soldiers.

He could let it go!

Swoosh!

However, just as Sean turned around, Willow suddenly reached out and grabbed Sean’s hand again.

“Hmm?”

Sean was stunned as he looked at Willow with some confusion.

“Grandma, if I were the head of the Quinn family, would my word carry the most weight in the Quinn family?”

Willow did not explain anything to Sean but looked at Old Madam Quinn and asked again.

“Yes, yes...”

Old Madam Quinn paused slightly and nodded anyway.

If it was the head of the family, then whatever they said carried the most weight.

Everyone else had to listen too.

Even Old Madam Quinn could not argue.

Chapter 933

“Okay!”

“Then I’d love to return to the Quinn family.”

“But Sean has to return with me.”

“Besides that, Sean and I are getting married!”

Willow blushed slightly at the end of the sentence but still spoke firmly.

“You!”

Old Madam Quinn froze instantly.

She had no idea Willow would pull this stunt on her.

The rest of the Quinn family stared at each other. They thought Willow was enticed by their offer.

It turned out she wanted to be with Sean after all.

Sean froze for two seconds before reaching out and touching his chin.

He was being a little petty just now.

Why would Willow leave Sean for the Quinn family’s offer?

If the girl only cared about fame and wealth, she would not have ignored other people’s strange looks and not insisted on taking care of Sean for two years.

Sean clutched Willow’s hand in his as he thought of this.

For Willow’s sake, he could not let Jen-Bond Holdings defeat him.

Willow gambled everything she had on Sean.

How could he let Willow lose the bet?

He not only wanted to win but also win beautifully!

He wanted to win to show everyone, including the Quinn family, that Willow had a good eye.

Sean said nothing but made up his mind in his heart.

He would do whatever it took to achieve that.

“Willow, you must be out of your mind. You must be out of your mind!

“I disagree! I disagree!”

Old Madam Quinn furiously slammed her hand on the table. She was shaking this time.

She offered many conditions to get Willow to leave Sean and return to the Quinn family to marry Quill.

However, Willow said she wanted to return with Sean and marry him.

No way!

“I think you’re so ungrateful!”

“Do you know what you’re saying?”

Faye and Simon criticized.

“That’s all I ask.

“If not, we have nothing to talk about.

“It’s true that we’re family, and it’s true that we have the Quinn family’s blood in our veins.

“But there’s no way I’ll give Sean up!”

With that said, Willow took Sean’s hand and started walking outside.

“You! You b*stard!”

Old Madam Quinn fell back in her chair and gasped.

Samuel and the rest were pointing fingers at Willow too.

However, Willow did not look back this time. She followed Sean straight out the door.

“Sean, did I give you permission to go?”

Quill was still standing in the doorway, a sneer on his face.

“Do you think you can stop me?”

Sean smiled and slowly took two steps forward to Willow.

“I don’t wanna waste my time talking to you.

“Willow, I’m not afraid of you knowing. I’ll have Sean on his knees in front of me in three days.

“He will live or die at my command.

“Do you want to return to the Quinn family now and marry into the Zimmer family gloriously, or do you want to return to the Quinn family in shame after I kill him? It’s up to you.”

Quill glanced at Sean before looking at Willow and speaking with a smile.

He had made his intentions clear.

Quill thought she would know what to choose as long as she was not a fool.

However, he underestimated Willow after all.

As a nine-star commander, Sean was not shallow.

Could Willow make Sean fall for her with only a pretty face?

It was not that simple.

“If he wins, I’ll win with him.

“If he loses, I’ll lose with him.

“Get out of the way.”

Willow looked at Quill, her voice firm.

“You...”

Quill wanted to say something more, but Sean interrupted him with a wave.

“My girl told you to get out of the way. Don’t you understand?”

Sean slowly stepped forward and said as he stared at Quill.

“I’ll stand right here.

“Touch me if you dare.

“Touch me, and I’ll make you pay back tenfold!”

Quill sneered. He was confident that Sean was at the disadvantage and that he would not touch him.

Smack!

A loud slap rang.

Before anyone realized what had happened, Quill was slapped in the face and stumbled away.

Swoosh!

Sean stepped forward and pulled Quill by the collar so he could not escape.

“Listen here.

“You haven’t defeated me.

“Even if I’m defeated, I will destroy whoever touches my girl!”

His tone was cold as his eyes were murderous.

It was so forceful that people were shocked and speechless.

Chapter 934

No one dared to question Sean.

He might kill anyone who laid a finger on Willow!

“You! How dare you behave so arrogantly?”

“Do you know you’re dying?”

Sean had grabbed Quill by the collar but he dared not fight back.

The power of absolute control terrified him.

“Kill me if you can.

“Endure it if you can’t.

“It’s not certain who’s killing who.”

Sean let go of Quill and turned away to leave.

However, Quill would not stop there.

He needed to humiliate Sean in front of the Quinn family to gain himself some face.

Now unexpectedly, Sean embarrassed him in public instead.

It made Quill feel like he had eaten a fly.

“Stop!

Quill reached out and grabbed Sean’s clothes. He gritted his teeth and roared.

He shouted and gave the four bodyguards in black a look.

Sean slowly turned to look at Quill’s palm.

“Haven’t you had enough?”

Sean asked indifferently.

“You!”

Quill winced.

With the members of the Quinn family right behind him, he could not chicken out.

Jon’s four bodyguards in black immediately stepped forward and blocked the door again.

Quill was relieved to see the four bodyguards.

“Sean, don’t be stupid.

“Touch me again if you dare!”

Quill snorted coldly, his face smug.

Slap!

As soon as Quill finished, Sean shook Quill’s arm away and slapped him.

“I’ll take my chances.”

The slap made Quill’s nose start bleeding, making him look miserable.

Quill and members of the Quinn family were stunned.

Was Sean really going all out with the Zimmer family?

Did he not know that the Zimmer family was heavily involved with Jen-Bond Holdings?

Was he not afraid that there would be no room for him in River City?

“I’ve seen people asking for god’s blessing, but I’ve never seen someone asking for trouble.”

Sean glanced at Quill, took Willow’s hand again, and headed out of the private room.

“Wait a minute.”

However, Jon’s four bodyguards in black blocked Sean’s way again.

“You can’t stop me from leaving.”

Sean’s eyes were cold, his heart impatient.

“Here are our IDs.”

The burly men in black took out a small tag and shook it in front of Sean..

Quill’s face was smug when he saw the stamp on the ID. Members of the Quinn family looked shocked.

They were from the government!

Jon must be important to have people from the government be Jon’s bodyguards!

Old Madam Quinn and the rest shut up and looked at Sean when they saw this.

They wanted to see what Sean would do when he faced people from the government!

He beat up Quill twice in front of government officials, so he should at least be charged for provoking trouble!

Willow squeezed Sean’s hand, her eyes full of worry.

“People from the government?”

Sean frowned slightly.

“That’s right.”

The burly men in black nodded and were about to speak.

“Are you trying to stop me?”

Sean asked again before the burly man in front of him could speak.

“You...”

The burly man froze, wanting to speak again.

“Stop me, and I hit you!”

Sean finished speaking and gave a backhanded slap.

The slap immediately sent the burly man into a trance.

He did not expect someone to beat him when he already said he was from the government!

Old Madam Quinn and the rest froze while Willow shuddered, and Quill and Jon were dumbstruck.

They knew Sean was good. It was pointless even if they brought bodyguards.

Therefore, he called some men from the government over to intimidate him.

However, Sean hit people from the government without a word.

Was he that bold?

“How... How dare you fight people from the government?”

Another burly man in black took out a pair of handcuffs and came up.

“So what?”

Sean slapped him again as he finished.

Slap!

There was a loud noise, and the burly man was slapped dumbfounded.

Sean then hit another burly man with another loud backslap.

Thud! Thud! Thud! Thud! Thud!

The burly man’s nose started bleeding before stumbling several steps back and crashing into a nearby cabinet.

Everyone was shocked. ‘Has Sean lost his mind?’

Beating Quill was a personal vendetta at best.

However, hitting people from the government was at least a crime of obstruction of justice!

Did he have a death wish?

Or did Sean know he could not stay in River City, so he went all out?

Chapter 935

“How dare you!”

Finally, the two burly men in black suddenly pulled black truncheons from their waists and struck at Sean.

“That won’t work either!”

Sean slapped each of them hard with one hand.

The two were knocked senseless, their heads buzzing.

“You! You!”

The rest stood where they were, not daring to come forward.

The private room was dead silent.

They could not mess with him. They really could not mess with him!

Never mind that Sean committed a crime by laying hands on someone from the government. Anyone who challenged Sean in this situation was getting his ass kicked.

Who else would dare to stop Sean?

Quill winced and said nothing more.

Simon stood nearby, not daring to breathe loudly.

He had been slapped by Sean and knew how strong Sean was.

The first slap caused their nose to bleed, and the second slap struck them senseless.

If he slapped them thrice, he would probably slap their life away.

With that terror in mind, Simon dared not move. He obediently stood where he was.

Watching Sean about to walk out the door with Willow, the bodyguards in black walked over again.

The Quinn family could keep quiet, and Quill could be afraid of Sean and stay silent.

However, the four of them were members of the government, so they must act like they were in charge.

Sean slowly turned to look at the four burly men.

“Stay where you are.”

Swoosh!

For some reason, it was as if the pause button had been pressed, and the four burly men stood still instantly.

“I’ll have someone contact you to take care of this.

“Now, get out of the way.”

After Sean said this, the four burly men looked at each other and finally nodded.

A wise man knew when to retreat.

They could only compromise when facing the strong Sean.

This time, no one stood in Sean and Willow’s way.

They walked right out the door together.

L

“Aren’t you leaving, Mom and Dad?”

Willow grabbed Sean and turned to look at Kent and Fion.

Kent hesitated for a few seconds before bidding Old Madam Quinn farewell and leaving.

Fion was slightly hesitant.

However, Kent dragged her, forcing her to keep up.

“Stop!

“Willow doesn’t know any better. Are you okay with her throwing her life away?”

Old Madam Quinn looked at Kent and yelled.

“Old Madam, you can take a horse to the water, but you cannot make it drink. Willow’s a big girl now. She’s got her own ideas.

“Why don’t we... let her be.”

Kent, who had always been cowardly, finally mustered the courage to defend Willow and Sean.

“B*stard! What are you talking about?

“I’m telling you. Our family has always been wed through arranged marriages. 1

“Your father and I got married by a matchmaker. You and your brothers went through the same thing.

“Willow’s generation has to do the same!”

Old Madam Quinn was firm, her tone leaving no room for argument.

People her age were conservative.

Freedom to choose your life partner did not work with her.

Of course, if Sean could impress her, she could change her mind.

However, Sean was not a third as good as Quill.

It would be less than three days before Sean gets kicked out of River City by Quill.

Old Madam Quinn did not have to think twice about her choice.

“Old Madam, your thinking no longer works.”

With a deep sigh, Kent spoke again.

“I don’t care. Stop telling me nonsense.

“Kent, I’ll disown you if you walk out of this door today!

“You unfilial son!

Old Madam Quinn pointed her hand at Kent and yelled.

“...”

Kent took a deep breath and finally sat down.

However, he looked at Sean apologetically.

“Let’s go first.”

Sean nodded at Samuel before withdrawing his gaze.

“Sean, they’re going tell Mom and Dad bad things...”

Willow bit her red lips, her eyes full of struggle.

It took a while to get Fion to change her mind about Sean.

Besides, Fion was now willing to try to accept Sean.

If Old Madam Quinn and the rest changed Fion’s mind, it was going to be a lot harder for Willow and Sean.

“It’s fine. I have plans. Let’s go.”

Sean took Willow’s hand and walked toward the elevator.

“Alright...”

Feeling helpless, Willow could only nod and keep up.

The private room.

The mood gradually lightened after Sean and Willow left.

Chapter 936

“Mr. Zimmer and Young Master Zimmer, there are two chairs. Have a seat.”

Simon quickly beckoned Jon and Quill to take Sean and Willow’s seats.

However, how could Quill sit still when the slap marks on his face were so obvious?

The thought of Sean slapping him in the face made him want to kill Sean.

“Dad, aren’t we meeting the general manager of Jen–Bond Holdings’ River City branch later?”

Quill looked at Jon and said with a cough.

“Yess! That’s right.

“I thought of giving Sean a chance for the sake of the Quinn family.

“Since he doesn’t appreciate it, forget it.

“I’ll kick Sean out of River City in three days.”

With that said, Jon led Quill and the four burly men out of the private room.

He had said what needed to be said.

He had already told what he needed to Old Madam Quinn.

It was the Quinn family’s problem to convince Willow to marry Quill.

Old Madam Quinn

would do whatever it took to get on the Zimmer family’s good side. Jon had nothing to worry about.

“You heard what Mr. Zimmer said, Kent.

“There’s no way Willow can be with Sean. She can only marry Quill.”

Old Madam Quinn coughed and asked Simon to shut the door.

“Old Madam, wasn’t it already a done deal when Sean came with the dowry when the Quinn family was looking for a son–in–law?”

“Do you want the Quinn family to go back on their word?”

Kent was silent for two seconds before looking up and asking.

Fion nearby was temporarily silent. She did not speak her mind.

She was also struggling to make up her mind.

“We went back on our word?”

“Sean showed off to the Quinn family and made many lies with other people’s money.

“Although there is no proof that he betrayed the Quinn family, he must have something to do with the Quinn family being targeted by Reach For Will Group.

“Willow is a descendant of the Quinn family. I will never allow an ingrate like Sean to join the Quinn family as a son–in–law!”

Old Madam Quinn said affirmatively.

Kent was dumbstruck..

“Kent, Old Madam is telling the truth.

“What’s so good about Sean? I also thought he was capable until I talked to Mr. Zimmer and found out he was only faking it.

“The villa you live in and the luxury cars you drive might be rented or temporarily lent by Reach For Will Group. 3

“Once he’s no longer needed, Reach For Will Group will get rid of him. I’ll see where you live when that happens!”

Members of the Quinn family said to Kent.

“That’s enough!”

Kent stretched his hands out and slammed on the table.

The crowd was so shocked that they shut up immediately.

“Have you had enough?”

Under the crowd’s watchful eyes, Kent slowly got up and looked at the crowd with a complicated gaze.

“Isn’t all this talk about Willow being the sacrifice to marry into the Zimmer family?”

“Aren’t you only using Willow to get the Zimmer family’s powers?”

Everyone blushed slightly when Kent said that.

It was indeed what they thought.

Otherwise, they would not be wasting time with Kent’s family.

However, it was somewhat awkward to talk about it in public.

“You’re right!”

Old Madam Quinn nodded in response when the crowd felt awkward.

“My goal is to get Willow to marry Quill.

“Whether she likes it, she’s a member of the Quinn family and has to do whatever the Quinn family says.”

Old Madam Quinn was forceful as she made no secret of her intentions.

Kent gritted his teeth slightly, speechless.

“What’s wrong with Quill?”

“In terms of looks, he’s no worse than Sean.

“In terms of money and power, the Zimmer family is now heavily involved with Jen–Bond Holdings.

“Besides, you’ve seen what Jen—
Bond Holdings has done these days. They’re going to take over River City.

“Having a vendetta against Sean, the Zimmer family will make sure he has no place in River City!

“Do you want Willow to get kicked out of River City with Sean?”

Old Madam Quinn looked at Kent and shouted.

Kent remained silent.

“Old Madam has a point...”

Fion tugged at Kent as she whispered.

“Plus, having Willow return and be with Quill would be a happy ending.

“If Sean gets defeated, do you want the Quinn family to beg the Zimmer family to marry Willow?”

Old Madam Quinn said, and Fion nodded.

She had changed her mind about Sean because he knew many people and could spend a lot of money.

Living in a villa and driving fancy cars was the life Fion had always wanted.

Sean could give her these. Therefore, she tried to accept Sean.

However, today she realized that it was all someone else’s money. Sean only temporarily used them to save face.

Sean might still have nothing.

Fion could not accept that, and her newly established good impression of Sean instantly shattered.

“You must make up your mind today.

“I don’t care what happens next, but Willow has to break up with Sean now!”

Old Madam Quinn waited for Kent’s answer after he finished.

Kent was silent and upset.

Chapter 937

Old Madam Quinn turned and gave Samuel and the rest a look.

Samuel and the others immediately nodded in understanding.

He had to convince Kent to let Willow return to the Quinn family.

“Say something, Old Kent...”

Fion tugged at Kent’s cuff again and urged softly.

“Shut up.”

Frustrated, Kent shook Fion's hand away.

He was aware of Lumina Town's current situation.

Zimmer Corporation had teamed up with Jen-Bond Holdings, and everyone in River City knew about it.

There was no doubt that even Reach For Will Group would avoid a direct fight with the giant Jen-Bond Holdings.

Sean would surely be defeated and helpless against such a powerful company.

When Sean loses and gets kicked out of River City, Willow was bound to suffer with him.

As Willow's father, Kent did not want to see his daughter in that situation.

Honestly speaking, as a father, he would want Willow to marry Quill.

She could not be with Sean even if she did not marry Quill.

However, Kent had known Sean for a long time.

He had been with Sean for more than two years.

Since Sean woke up, he had done a lot for their family.

Willow had always had low self-esteem and dared not go against members of the Quinn family.

However, since Sean had recovered, he had helped Willow regain her confidence.

Kent saw everything.

Besides that, Kent could see Willow's love for Sean.

There was no doubt that Willow and Sean were perfect for each other.

Kent did not want to break them up no matter what.

"Kent, what are you hesitating about?"

"Why hesitate when you can figure it out easily?"

Seeing Kent's silence, Samuel instantly urged with a frown.

"Yeah, Old Kent. What are you hesitating about?"

"I think Sean is fine too.

"But he only being used Reach For Will Group!

"I don't like fake people."

Fion took over the conversation and urged.

"But Willow likes Sean.

"She's old enough to have her own ideas and make her own choices."

Kent was silent for a few seconds before slowly looking up at Old Madam Quinn and the rest.

“Bullsh*t!

“She likes him? Could you survive on affection? Could it make the Quinn family money?”

“I don’t need her to have her own opinions. I call the shots in the Quinn family, including the marriage of all members of the family.”

Old Madam Quinn snorted coldly, her tone still firm.

“I think Old Madam is right.”

Fion quickly took over the conversation and said to Kent.

“Are you out of your mind?”

Kent instantly turned and stared at Fion angrily.

Kent had witnessed the change in Fion’s attitude toward Sean.

He thought things between Fion and Sean were going to improve.

However, Fion changed her mind again.

The honest Kent could not accept such a fence-hopping attitude..

“Forget if I’m out of my mind, but you must be out of your mind.

“I admit that Willow likes Sean.

“Sean must like Willow too.

“But as Old Madam said, could you survive on affection?”

Old Madam Quinn immediately approved of Fion’s comment.

“Kent, do you your daughter to suffer with Sean or return to the Quinn family and live a good life? It’s your choice.”

Fion banged the table as she frowned at Kent.

Old Madam Quinn and the rest looked at Kent.

Everyone was waiting for Kent to give them a satisfactory answer.

Old Madam Quinn and the rest, including Fion, thought Kent would support their idea.

After all, the circumstances did not allow Kent to think otherwise.

Either Willow returned to the Quinn family or suffered with Sean.

It was not difficult to choose between these two.

Unless Kent was a fool.

Kent finally shook his head after a while.

He might actually be a fool today.

Kent slowly looked up at the crowd and said, "

"Willow can decide for herself.

"If she's willing to return and marry Quill, I won't stand in her way.

"But if she refuses to do so, I won't say anything."

Chapter 938

"What do you mean?"

Samuel asked Kent, frowning.

Kent was silent for a few seconds before repeating what he said.

"It means I don't support or refute your ideas.

"It's up to Willow to do what she wants. I won't stand in the way or interfere."

Hearing Kent's answer, everyone looked at each other. They wanted to say something but did not know what.

"Hopefully, you won't regret your decision today when Sean brings down Willow."

Old Madam Quinn looked at Kent with dismay in her eyes.

She knew better than anyone how stubborn Kent was.

Once he made up his mind, no one could change it.

He did not want to help persuade Willow, so he would not do it even if they held a knife to his neck.

"I'm fine as long as Willow doesn't regret it."

With that said, Kent slowly rose to his feet.

"You said it yourself.

"You said you're not going to get involved, so don't get in my way when I talk to Willow."

Fion got up and said as she looked at Kent solemnly.

"Okay..."

Kent paused for two seconds before finally nodding.

“Fion, I didn’t expect you to be so sensible.

“I was wrong about you.”

Old Madam Quinn looked at Fion, pleased.

The others chimed in too.

Fion responded with a smile, but inside she sneered even more.

She knew that the Quinn family was fake and opportunistic.

They were nice to them because Willow was valuable to the Quinn family.

However, Fion would not expose them even if she saw through them.

Fion thought she would have a higher status when Willow married Quill.

With that in mind, Fion looked forward to it.

Maybe Sean’s fancy cars and villa could satisfy her vanity temporarily.

However, the Zimmer family’s partnership with Jen–Bond Holdings would guarantee Fion a lavish life.

“Okay, go back first. I’ll wait to hear from you.

“Remember not to waste any time.

“It will be too late after two days.”

Old Madam Quinn reminded again before Fion and Kent left.

“Okay!”

Fion answered again before leaving with Kent.

The dinner ended on a bad note.

Quill’s heart was full of grievance and resentment as he failed to show off in front of the Quinn family.

However, he was in no hurry as plans for Jen–Bond Holdings’ River City branch were being implemented.

They could deal Sean a heavy blow soon.

When the time came, Sean would be powerless even with Reach For Will Group’s help.

Jon and his son were not idle tonight. They wanted to do everything they could to destroy

Sean.

They did not want to give Sean the slightest chance of turning things around.

Therefore, Reach For Will Group and Lennon Group would be more severely suppressed and marginalized from tonight onward.

Zander and Harry were worried, but there was nothing they could do.

Sean had not given instructions for what to do next, so they could only do what was in front of them first.

Golden Villa Garden.

Sean looked at the bad news on his phone and could not help frowning slightly.

He thought he could take over River City in one go.

However, the misfortunes were like a landslide as one frustration led to another.

The Quinn family caused trouble again before he sorted out the things in the business world.

“Sean, I’m sorry...”

“I didn’t think they’d get in touch with Quill’s family again.

“They’re such a disappointment.

Willow slowly sat next to Sean, her face apologetic.

The attitude of the Quinn family immediately changed when they saw Jon and his son apologizing to Sean on their knees.

Sean also gave the rest of the Quinn family a chance for Willow’s sake.

However, the Quinn family’s attitude changed again only two days later.

The speed of the change had made Willow, a member of the Quinn family, feel a twinge of shame.

“I didn’t expect the family of Old Master Levi Quinn to be that bad.”

Sean shook his head slightly as he was between laughter and tears. (1)

The Quinn family’s tendency to go back on their words and opportunistic behavior was an eye-opener for Sean.

“It’s no wonder the Quinn family is declining.

“Even if you ask Old Master Quinn’s old connections for help, they probably won’t even talk to you.”

Sean could not help but sigh at this.

How did this happen to the Quinn family?

He could not understand it.

“I’m sorry...”

Willow lowered her head slightly as she twisted her hands, guilt filling her eyes.

Chapter 939

Sean did a lot and put up with a lot for her..

However, instead of coming to their senses, the Quinn family regarded Sean's tolerance as a joke.

Even if Willow wanted to put in a good word for the Quinn family, she could not find the right words to say.

"It doesn't matter. Everyone has different ideas.

"Perhaps I'm not in a position to be trusted."

Sean put his phone on the table with a slight wave of his hand as he shook his head in self-mockery.

"No! I trust you!

"I trust you even if they don't!"

Willow immediately got up and looked at Sean earnestly when she heard this.

"What... do you trust in me?"

Sean asked quietly after a pause.

"I trust you're as good as anyone.

"I trust you will win!

"I'm sure you can show everyone that I, Willow Quinn, have made the right choice!"

Willow stood straight, her tone firm.

Sean was silent for a full ten seconds before coming to his senses.

"Aren't you afraid?"

"Aren't you afraid of being dragged into this and expelled from River City?"

Sean slowly got up and asked in a whisper as he looked at Willow.

"I'm afraid!

"But I'm not afraid when you're around!"

Willow replied without a second thought.

"Okay... Okay!"

Sean was flabbergasted, unable to find any words to express his feelings.

Willow gambled her reputation, future, and everything on Sean!

Sean could not let her lose, of course.

Swoosh!

Willow reached out and hugged Sean tightly.

"You're my hero no matter what people think of you.

"I admired you then. I admire you now. And I always will!"

"Even if you're temporarily at your lowest, I believe you can get back up!"

Willow hugged Sean and muttered in his ear.

Her voice was soft, but her tone was so firm that people dared not doubt her.

Sean wanted to say thank you, but he hesitated.

He could not pay Willow back with only a thank you.

"Willow, what are you doing? Get away from him!"

Just then, Fion pushed the door open and walked in. She immediately yelled when she saw the two embracing each other.

"What are you doing?"

Kent reached out to stop her from behind.

"Kent, shut up. You said you wouldn't interfere."

"Do you want me to tell Old Madam Quinn?"

Fion's eyes instantly widened as she yelled at Kent with one hand on her waist and the other pointing at him.

Kent instantly winced and shut his mouth obediently.

"Mom, what are you trying to do?"

Willow had a headache, but she could only let Sean go.

"What am I trying to do? I'm doing it for your own good, of course."

"Sean, you know what you should do if you love Willow."

Fion looked at Sean as she went straight to the point.

"Have you forgotten everything I've told you?"

"I told you to give me some time. Why wouldn't you listen?"

Sean felt helpless. He had said this many times and was tired of saying it.

"Who's going to give me time if I gave you time?"

"Do you think you have time now?"

Fion spoke harshly with one hand still on her waist.

Chapter 940

"Aunt Fion, what's going on?"

Leah walked out with Candy after hearing the commotion.

“Shut up! It’s none of your business.

“How dare you mess with our business when you have been living off my family?”

Fion suddenly turned her head and targeted Leah.

Leah’s face fell as she sighed and said no more.

“What are you doing, Mom? You scared Candy.”

Willow immediately frowned and said to Fion.

“Tell her to shut up! Sean, answer my question!”

Fion looked back at Sean and shouted.

“No bullying Uncle Sean.”

Candy ran in front of Sean, stretched out her little arms, and shouted at Fion.

Fion’s aggressive demeanor reminded Candy of her grandmother Liana’s cruelty.

However, she bravely stood beside Sean.

However, Fion ignored the little girl and kept shouting.

“First of all, you have to understand that I bought this house.

“It’s not up to you who I let live here.

“Second, I let you move in because of Willow’s sake.

“Don’t blame me if you can’t tell good from the bad.”

Sean was patient as he looked at Fion calmly.

Things in the business world had been a headache for him.

Now, the Quinn family and Fion were teaming up to separate him from Willow.

It made the fury in his heart grow stronger.

“Haha, it belongs to Reach For Will Group. How is it different from a rental house? It’s okay if I don’t live here.

“Okay, let’s not talk about these. I want to ask you some questions.”

Fion looked at Sean and said earnestly.

“Go on.”

Sean glanced at Willow and nodded.

“Tell me the truth. What on earth have you done?”

“Did you mess with the Zimmer family? Are they after you for revenge?”

Fion asked, ignoring Willow and looking straight at Sean.

“Yes!”

Sean nodded. There was no need to hide it.

“So is the Zimmer family going after you?”

“They’ll go after Reach For Will Group too.”

Fion asked after Sean admitted it.

Sean paused and nodded again.

“Tell me if the Zimmer family and Jen–Bond Holdings are overpowering you.

“Have you been at a disadvantage?”

Sean fell silent when Fion asked that.

The whole River City knew about this, and Sean could not hide it.

“That seemed to be the case.

“So let me ask you something. You’re about to lose and get kicked out of River City. Why are you still hanging on to Willow?”

“Do you want Willow to lose her home and have others laugh at her?”

“Is this what you mean by loving her?”

Fion’s words caused Sean to frown slightly, but he did not retort.

He did have a lot planned for the confrontation with Jen–Bond Holdings though.

However, he was not confident.

Things were unsure, so it was hard to say.

Unless Sean reached out to someone higher up the hierarchy with the Guardian Sword.

People either did not know of the Guardian Sword, or they would know instantly who Sean was when they saw it.

As a former nine–

star commander, countless people were willing to help him even if he was no longer in office.
