

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 111

Chapter 111 | Found a Jade Pendant at Home

In the ward of Banyan City's downtown hospital.

Sherry lay quietly on the bed, looking as if she was simply sleeping.

Alexander sat by the bed and looked at her without saying a word.

Alora pushed the door open and walked in.

It was already past eleven o'clock in the evening.

Just now, James called her to go home, but she had no intention of going back.

She didn't want to go home, nor did she want to sleep.

She wanted to stay here like Alexander.

What if, what if Sherry woke up in the next second?

"Aunt."

"Do you think I'm a bastard?" Alexander asked with his back to her.

"When you sent me a message tonight, I should have gone to look for you." The man stared at Sherry.

"If I went to look for you guys... perhaps everything would be different."

Alora pursed her lips. "I am also responsible for this matter..."

She should not have listened to the director and left.

Even if Elena's target was her, Elena's people taking her away was still better than taking Sherry away!

After all, she still had the martial arts that Justin had taught her to defend herself.

As for Sherry, she had nothing.

She was just a simple woman. "I am the one with the greatest responsibility." Alexander took a deep breath and reached out to hold Sherry's cold hand. "I should not lose my temper with her and draw a clear line with her." "She likes me. I always knew."

"But I only treat her as a friend. For some reason, I will not talk to any woman about feelings."

"The women around me go back and forth, all to make her give up."

The man's voice was low and hoarse. "Tell me, she is obviously so beautiful and smart. She is famous in the entertainment circle and has a bright future. Why waste time on a playboy like me?"

Alora stood in place and listened to his words. Her fingers grabbed her sleeves fiercely.

"So what did you do today..."

"It will be her birthday in a few days. She asked me if I could accompany her back to her hometown to see her relatives on her birthday."

"She said that her family has been wanting to see me for a long time." "I know, she still doesn't give up on me."

He closed his eyes, and the image of Sherry's eyes that were filled with despair in the afternoon appeared in his mind. "I told her that I've always been using her." "I founded the Thunder Entertainment Company not to prove my ability in front of my family, but to make money to pick up girls."

"She is just a tool for me to make money. I have been hanging on her for so many years. In fact, I want her to pay for me and make more money for me." "I also said..." "She also said that I have already made enough money. I will propose to the woman I like in a few days.” “Of course I would be happy if she wants to stay and continue to make money for me. If she is not willing, then pay the penalty fee and scram. Anyway, when she signed with me, she was just a newcomer with a monthly salary of two thousand yuan. The penalty fee was only about one hundred thousand yuan.”

—.-.— TUR

Alexander smiled bitterly. The drop of tears that Sherry had dropped in front of him clearly appeared in front of his eyes.

Then, she smiled.

“I see.” She stood in front of him and smiled beautifully. “Then I still have to thank Mr. Rowan for his many years of cultivation. After all, without you, there would be no Sherry’s present.”

“Back then, when I was the only signed artist in Thunder Entertainment, I charged into the enemy lines for Mr. Rowan. I didn’t hesitate to use all kinds of rumors to hype up my position, just so that Mr. Rowan would no longer become the useless person my parents talked about.”

“Although you lied to me, I did my promise to you.”

“I will transfer the liquidated damages to your account.” “Thank you, Mr. Rowan, for letting me go on a solo trip at the peak of my career. I will remember this kindness.”

“When Mr. Rowan gets married, Sherry will give you a big gift.” Finally, she gritted her teeth and looked at him. “Alexander, I wish you eternal happiness.”

Alexander held Sherry’s hand. He thought that everything he did was for her sake. Unexpectedly, it was him who pushed her into another abyss.

She was a girl with strong self-esteem. No matter what happened tonight, it would leave a shadow on her in the future.

He even felt that after tonight’s matter, she would no longer accept any man.

Since everything about her started because of him, he would be responsible for her.

He gave her happiness that she could not get.

His happiness...

Anyway, he had long lost his happiness.

“I have another question.”

Alora pursed her lips and sat down on the chair next to Alexander. “Do you really not like Sherry?”

Not necessarily.

When she first met Alexander, this man always had a smile in his eyes when he mentioned Sherry.

His eyes and habits could not fool people.

“I don’t like it.”

“I have someone I like,” Alexander replied coldly.

Alora bit her lip.

She did not expect Alexander to reject her question so firmly.

“Since you don’t like Sherry, even if you marry her, she won’t be happy.”

“You won’t be happy either.”

“What about you, Aunt?” Alexander sneered and looked at her with his bottomless eyes.

“When you married me, Uncle, did you like him? Did I, Uncle, like you?”

“If I remember correctly, when you married me, Uncle, you have not officially met. You are still sad for your ex-boyfriend.”

“Do you feel unhappy now?” His question was too sharp, and Alora did not know how to answer for a moment. After a while, she sighed, “I respect your choice.” Everyone had their lives to go. She could not empathize with others and should not disturb their lives. However, she could do what she could.

The woman took a deep breath and pushed the door open. In the corridor outside the door, Samir was on the phone.

“Okay.”

Seeing that she had come out, the man hung up the phone and looked up at her.

“Nancy has gone abroad.”

“Has he gone abroad?”

“Yes, he said he was going to an exhibition abroad.”

“She walked too fast and my men failed to stop her.” Samir frowned. “Just now, Mathias found out that she was already at the airport when I went to the Van family house to find Elena.”

“She must have heard the news and left specially.” He sighed.

“But even if she stays in the country, we won’t get much out of it.” He looked down at Alora.

“She is a cautious person. After she said those words to you at the entrance of the hotel, she would never intervene in this matter. Even if we find out the truth, it should all be Elena’s responsibility.”

“She is just an Instigator.”

Alora bit her lips. She had actually already thought of the result.

From Elena’s attitude of currying favor with Nancy tonight, she would indeed take the initiative to plan this kind of thing to please Nancy.

Just as she was thinking about this, her phone rang.

It was a call from Gary.

“Alora.”

“Come back. Dad has something to talk to you about,” Gary pleaded.

Alora looked up at the time. It had been two hours since Elena had been arrested.

Gary must have tried many ways to get Elena out at this time, so he thought of her. “Mr. Van, just say what you want,” the woman said with a faint smile. She denied that he was her “father”.

Gary was silent for a while. After a while, he said coldly, “I found a jade pendant at home.” “I think you dropped it when you were at home. Elena said that it was something your mother left for you. Do you still want it?”

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 112

Alora’s hand that was holding the phone paused slightly. She had never imagined that the jade pendant that Justin had given her back then was now in Gary’s hands!

But...

“Mr. Van, how would I know if you were lying to me?” The woman took a deep breath.

“I remember that the jade pendant was lost before I went to Van family last time.”

“Now you tell me, did I lose it last time?”

Gary sneered, “You don’t care when it was lost. In short, this jade pendant is quite important to you.”

As soon as he finished speaking, Alora received a photo from him on WeChat. In the photo, it was indeed the jade pendant that Justin had given her last time! Alora’s heart tightened. She lowered her voice. “What do you want?” “What do you think?”

“It’s so late. Elena was taken to the police station,” Gary said coldly.

“She is so spoiled. She is not used to living in a place like the police station.”

“I want her back.”

Alora bit her lips, looked up at Samir in front of her, and silently pressed the hands-free button.

Gary’s proud and arrogant voice echoed in the corridor.

“Alora, I am not threatening you. It is just that this jade pendant is now in my hands. It is mine.”

“If you don’t do as I say, I won’t give this to you.”

“It is said that this jade pendant is related to your mother who I have never seen before.”

“Moreover, if I were worried that Elena was anxious and accidentally broke this jade pendant...” “Then you can break it.” Before he could finish his words, Samir had already opened his mouth coldly, “Mr. Van, I suggest that you break this jade pendant right now.” Alora was startled and looked at Samir in disbelief.

Samir snatched the phone from Alora’s hand.

“Mr. Van, don’t blame me for not reminding you. Right now, the only thing that your entire family can use to threaten Alora is this jade pendant, right?” The man’s voice was low and cold. “Then why don’t you break this jade pendant? No matter what you do, you won’t be able to threaten us. We can let Elena suffer as much as she wants.”

On the other side of the line, Gary was silent.

Indeed, the only thing left in his hand was this jade pendant that could make Alora compromise.

Although he threatened Alora to break the jade pendant, he could not do so at all.

The words that were originally threatening were ruthlessly exposed by Samir.

“If I were you.”

Seeing that Gary was silent, Samir continued to speak coldly, “I will properly curry favor with Alora and think of the most valuable thing to exchange for it, not like now, using the broken jade pendant to ask her to exchange for a night’s sleep preferential treatment for Elena.” The man’s words were calm and low, with an irresistible majesty.

In the Van family house, Gary’s body began to tremble. He glanced at the jade pendant on the coffee table in front of him and suddenly felt that this jade pendant was his life-saving straw.

Yes.

The words that he had just said to break the jade pendant were just to threaten a little girl like Alora who had no mind.

When he really met a calm man like Samir, his trick was immediately exposed.

After a while, Gary sighed, “Mr. Rowan.”

“I want to use this jade pendant to protect Elena.” His voice was low.

“A jade pendant is far less valuable than Elena’s life.” Samir sneered.

“Even if the jade pendant was left behind by Alora’s mother, I believe that no matter whether her mother is dead or alive, as long as I, Samir, am willing, I can find her.”

“At that time, this jade pendant of yours will have no value.”

Gary’s hand that was holding the phone trembled fiercely.

“Then Mr. Rowan, what do you think I can exchange this jade pendant for?” he said through gritted teeth.

“If it doesn’t meet my expectations, I will directly smash the jade pendant!”

“Then I suggest you smash it now.”

“After all, the person that Elena framed is not my wife. It is not good for me to intervene, but if you smash the jade pendant, I have enough reason to attack Elena.” Gary, “...”

He looked at the jade pendant in front of him that was like a hot potato.

Half an hour ago, when he found this jade pendant, he seemed to have found a life-saving straw! But now, he couldn’t do anything to Alora with this jade pendant. He couldn’t protect Elena, nor could he let Elena live a better life. He couldn’t even smash it! So... this was the price of angering Samir? He clearly held the thing that Alora cared about the most, but he couldn’t do anything! After a long time, Gary took a deep breath.

“Then Mr. Rowan, what can I do now?”

“Keep the things in your hands. At the most critical time, maybe you can get what you want.”

“But remember, you don’t deserve to talk to me about conditions.”

After that, he hung up the phone without waiting for Gary’s response.

Alora was stunned.

The man stuffed the phone back into her hand and smiled.

“Yes.”

Alora nodded heavily. She was indeed dumbfounded.

Perhaps it was because Samir had always been gentle in front of her. She had never seen such a tough and cold side of him.

The phone call just now was clearly a call from Gary to threaten her. In the end, it became Samir facing Gary alone.

What else could she do other than saying that she was powerful?

“Go back.”

Seeing that she was still in a daze, Samir helplessly raised his hand to rub her head and pulled her into the elevator. “There are many things to do tomorrow.”

Alora nodded fiercely and left with him. On the way back, she sat in the back seat of the car and could not help but secretly look at him from the corner of her eyes. He was leaning against the leather seat with his eyes closed and pretending to sleep. The man’s facial features were angular. Even with his eyes closed, his whole body exuded a strong aura that could not be ignored. This man... indeed had the capital to be arrogant and overbearing.

“Am I that good-looking?” Samir did not even open his eyes.

“I just think that... you are very powerful.” Alora froze and quickly looked away. The phone call with Gary had made her still immersed in her admiration and shock for him.

“After experiencing a lot, you won’t be threatened,”

The man said in a low voice.

“Have you been threatened before?” Alora pursed his lips.

The man was silent for a moment. Finally, he smiled faintly. “In business, this kind of thing is very common.”

Alora nodded.

That's right He was in a big business, and this kind of thing should happen often. Seeing that she did not make a sound, the man lightly changed the topic, "Is today the birthday of the last Stella?"

"Yes."

"You still remember her?" Alora nodded.

She thought that someone as busy as him would not remember a little girl he met by chance. "Of course."

"She looks like you." Samir pulled her into his arms.

After a while, the man's deep voice came from above Alora. "If only our daughter would look like you in the future."

In his warm embrace, listening to his low and magnetic voice, Alora's face suddenly burned. "But your mind is still better than yours. You are smart." Unlike her, she was so stupid. "That's right." The man smiled.

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 113

Chapter 113 Elena Was Wronged!

"But."

The woman took a deep breath and glanced at Samir. "How did you know that I was in Cloud Villa?"

Not only did he know that she was there, but he could also accurately find her in the villa area. "I sent you a message." Samir frowned slightly. "?" Alora asked.

"When did you send me a message?"

Samir glanced at her coldly. "Did you really not know that it was me?" she asked.

"Where..." Alora asked.

Before she could finish her words, she suddenly remembered the number with the remark "Darling"!

She had always thought it was Anne, but she did not expect...

The woman bit her lips and laughed dryly. "Well, the dear is you."

"Of course." "Doesn't Mrs. Rowan know?" The man looked at her with his bottomless eyes. Alora pursed his lips. He thought about how he had been flirting with that number recently and felt so embarrassed that his scalp went numb. "I..."

"It seems that Mrs. Rowan really thinks of me as someone else."

The man leaned down and forced her between him and the car door. "So Mrs. Rowan has so many lovers?" Alora, "..."

How did she know that he would make the number his darling?

As his body got closer and closer, Alora's heart pounded wildly. She bit her lips and subconsciously pushed his chest. "That, I." "I don't treat you as someone else!" "I am talking to you!"

In a moment of desperation, she could only bite the bullet and admit it.

"Good girl." The man's thin lips curled up slightly.

Seeing that his expression finally loosened, Alora took a deep breath. She thought that she had escaped a disaster, but she did not expect that he would hold her jaw and kiss her fiercely.

The partition in the car fell down urgently.

The man pressed her down on the leather seat and kissed her lips unscrupulously. Her neck, her collarbone.

Alora could not resist and could only gently push him. "Don't..."

However, in her heart, she did not refuse.

Perhaps it was because her heart, which had been nervous for too long, needed to be vented, or it needed a sense of security that was recognized...

In short, although she said she was unwilling, her attitude was catered.

After an unknown period of time, just when Alora felt that she was a dying fish and was about to die, the car arrived at Rowan family's villa.

She was wrapped in a coat by the man and carried home like a child.

The bedroom door was opened and closed.

The petite woman was squeezed on the door and bit her lips weakly. "Samir..."

"Call me husband."

He kissed her earlobe, his voice full of bewitchment. "Hubby..." "Yes."

He chuckled in her ear and bit her round earlobe. "Or?"

Alora blushed like a ripe apple,

She bit her lips shyly and nodded. Lights filled the air.

For the whole night, she kept wandering between heaven and hell.

At the last moment, the man held her chin, his eyes deep and serious. "I won't let that happen to you."

Alora's heart trembled, and tears welled up in her eyes.

She did not expect him to know the uneasiness and fear in her heart.

"Thank you." The woman stretched out her arm and hugged him tightly.

That night, she was tossed around by Samir until it was past four in the morning before she fell asleep in exhaustion.

When she woke up again, she was woken up by James.

"Mommy!" "Mommy, Mommy, Mommy, wake up!" "Mommy..."

The child's tender voice rang over and over again.

"What's wrong?" Alora rubbed the pain between his eyebrows and sat up from the bed.

"There's a police uncle downstairs looking for you!"

The police... He should be looking for her to take a statement.

After all, Elena was caught yesterday, so she was considered a reporter.

The woman hurriedly changed her clothes and went downstairs.

Downstairs, a policewoman was sitting on the sofa and chatting with Steve.

"Mrs. Rowan."

Seeing her go downstairs, the policewoman stood up with a smile, "It was too late last night, so I didn't ask you to go over and make a statement. Do you have time now?"

Alora nodded and casually tied up her hair with a rubber band, "I'll go with you."

Whether it was for Sherry or for herself, she would bring Elena to justice this time!

The policewoman reluctantly said goodbye to Steve and then took Alora out of the door.

"I really envy Mrs. Rowan. He has two handsome and smart sons."

"When I first arrived at Rowan family, I was surprised. How could there be such a beautiful child?" "It was not until I saw you that I knew that they inherited your good genes!" "They are not my biological children," Alora said with an embarrassed smile.

The policewoman widened her eyes.

"Mrs. Rowan, don't joke with me. Steve and James' eyes look so similar to yours. How can they not be your children?”

“The first time I saw them, I felt that the eyes of the three of you were very similar...”

Alora paused and subconsciously glanced at his eyes reflected on the window.

Was her eyes very similar to Steve and James’

She had never noticed this before.

Soon, the car arrived at the police station.

Alora made a statement with the police according to the process and told them everything she heard and saw last night.

When she was done with her confession, she happened to meet Gary and Victoria, who were visiting Elena. “Alora!”

The moment he saw her, Victoria rushed over angrily and grabbed her collar. “What are you trying to do?”

“Elena is innocent!”

“Your friend is in trouble. Why do you accuse Elena?”

“All these years, even if we know that you are not our biological daughter, even if we know that you are a lowly and humble family, we still let you stay in Van family.”

“Moreover, Rowan family is such a good marriage. We also let you marry him because of your pity!”

“Now you actually repay kindness with ingratitude, white-eyed wolf!”

Alora sneered in his heart and shook off Victoria’s arm, “Is that so?”

“You really know how to flatter yourself.”

“Didn’t you ask me to stay with Van family so that I can be your servant?”

“Isn’t the so-called’ good marriage ‘not because Elena doesn’t want to marry, so he used the grace of raising me to force me to marry him?”

The woman’s words attracted the attention of many people around her.

The eyes of the people around made Victoria’s face turn red and then white. She had always wanted face, how could she afford to lose this person?

So she angrily took out a blade from her pocket and rushed directly towards Alora’s face

A big rough hand blocked in front of Alora.

The next second, Victoria’s knees hurt and she directly knelt on the ground. The blade in her hand pierced her palm, causing Victoria to cry out in pain.

As soon as Alora made a defensive move, the scene in front of her changed.

She frowned and turned to look at the strange man in front of her.

The man looked to be in his thirties, with rough facial features and a metallic sense.

When she looked at him, the man also turned to look at her. “Are you okay?”

“Thank you.”

She pursed her lips and thanked him.

Although Victoria might not be able to hurt her even if no one helped her, she had to thank someone for helping her.

“No need to thank me.”

The man smiled at her. “According to your skills, she can’t hurt you in the first place.”

“But as a girl, it’s safer to be protected by others.” Alora looked at him in shock

How did he know her skills...

She clearly hadn’t made a move yet!

Could it be that he could see her skills from the movement of her hand?

This was too terrifying...

"Mr. Rowan!"

Someone shouted from afar.

Alora paused and subconsciously looked towards the source of the voice. Ever since she married Samir, she was naturally sensitive to the words "Mr. Rowan". "He's here."

The man standing next to her responded softly and turned to look at her. "Excuse me."

With that, he turned around and left. Looking at his back, Alora frowned slightly.

His surname was also Qin?

For some reason, she felt that this man... was related to Rowan family?

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 114

"Alora, if anything happens to Victoria and Elena, I won't forgive you!" Gary threw down this sentence and left.

Alora stood where she was and watched him help Victoria leave. Her eyes gradually turned cold.

After a while, her cell phone rang. It was James calling.

She knew that he must have been waiting anxiously at the entrance of the police station.

Raising his hand to hang up the phone, Alora turned around and strode out of the police station. "Mr. Rowan, what are you looking at?"

"Nothing."

In the corner of the police station, Qin Ling looked away indifferently. "What is that woman doing here?"

"Oh, she is here to take a statement. One of her friends was kidnapped and abused yesterday."

The man nodded and turned to look at the person beside him. "Her friend is in trouble. Is she okay?"

"Do you think she looks like she is in trouble? She must be fine."

"Second Master Qin, you have been single for almost forty years. Why are you suddenly interested in such a big little girl?"

Qin Ling glanced at him coldly.

The surrounding air became cold.

"I am just curious. Why are you suddenly concerned about a stranger?" The man coughed awkwardly.

"She is not a stranger. I have seen her before."

Qin Ling frowned and looked at the direction where Alora left.

But it seemed that she had forgotten him. What happened five years ago, she... really forgot it all?

Outside the police station.

Alora opened the door and got into the car.

"Mommy, Daddy just called and asked us to go to the old house now!"

As soon as she got in the car, James could not wait to say, "Daddy is waiting for us at the door of the old house!"

Alora nodded and subconsciously glanced at her clothes. "Is it... appropriate for me to wear this?"

Although she had met Old Master Rowan family before, this was the first time she had seen Samir's two brothers.

Samir was an old man.

Although he was now twenty-eight years old, his two older brothers were already very old. Even his second brother was almost forty years old.

Alora always felt that it was very stressful to see his two older brothers.

"It doesn't matter!"

"Mommy, don't be afraid! Eldest Uncle and second uncle are not bad people!" James smiled.

After that, he looked up at Steve, who was sitting in the front passenger seat. "Brother, don't you think so?"

"Yes." Steve, who had been looking at the distance, came back to his senses.

"Then it's decided happily. Let's go to the old house now!"

"Driver, drive!" James smiled.

Half an hour later, the car stopped at the door of Rowan family's old house.

Alora got out of the car and looked at the majestic villa in front of him, feeling very stressed.

"Let's go."

The man's deep voice sounded in her ears.

She was stunned and subconsciously looked towards the source of the voice. Two steps away from her stood Samir in a black suit. He was tall and straight, exuding an elegant and cold temperament.

The midday sun made him look even more distinguished and charming.

He stretched out a hand towards her.

She held his hand nervously.

Feeling her tension, the man curled his lips. "Don't be nervous." Alora bit her lips. How could she not be nervous. The family of four entered the old house.

VOUS.

In the living room of the old house, the old man was sitting on the sofa drinking tea. On the sofa on his left, there was a middle-aged couple. Judging from their age, they should be Alexander's parents.

At this time, the woman in the middle aged couple complained with some dissatisfaction, "Samir didn't bring his wife back to see us when he got married. He simply didn't put us brothers and sister-in-law in his eyes at all."

"Now that he said that he had something to announce, we have to honestly push the matter that had been arranged to wait for him here!" "Sure enough, he is the future head of the family. His temper is as big as his arrogance!"

"Speak less."

Qin Jianan, who was beside her, frowned fiercely. "Samir has his own considerations for everything he does. He is still young, and we are brothers. What's wrong with letting him have a little?"

Cheng Lu curled her lips and looked unhappy. "The inheritance rights of the group have been given to him. How much more do you want to give him?" From afar, Alora heard their argument.

The woman's heart slightly froze.

It seems that... the relationship between Samir and his family is not very good...

"Big uncle, big aunt!" James rolled his eyes and shouted loudly as he ran towards them. A clear voice broke the tense atmosphere in the living room. "James missed you so much!" James threw herself into James' arms with a smile on her face. The little fellow's coquettish voice eased Cheng Lu's expression.

She liked children. No matter how much she hated Samir, she still couldn't hate Samir's children.

"Do you really miss me?" she asked with a smile as she hugged James. "Of course!" James smiled and raised his hand to touch her face. "Big aunt is young again!" Cheng Lu was overjoyed by the praise and completely forgot the quarrel with Qin Jianan before.

"Samir is here."

Qin Jian'an stood up and looked at Samir with a smile.

"Yes."

Samir held Alora's hand and walked over. "Big brother, this is my wife, Alora."

"Alora, this is my big brother, Qin Jian'an."

"This is sister-in-law, Cheng Lu."

"Hello, big brother and sister-in-law." Alora pursed his lips. Qin Jianan smiled and nodded. "She's pretty. How old is she?"

"She's twenty-three years old," Alora said honestly.

"I'm about the same age as Alexander."

"What do you do?" Cheng Lu looked at Alora contemptuously.

"I'm an actor now."

"An actor?"

"What do you mean by not doing well? Are you going to be an actor?" Cheng Lu raised her eyebrows.

"There are not many good women in the entertainment circle."

"Listen to sister-in-law. Hurry up and stop working. It's better to go home and take care of Samir than in the entertainment circle."

"Besides, isn't Samir looking for a wife just to find a cheap nanny to take care of two children? Is he willing to show his face in the entertainment circle?" "Ah-!"

As soon as she finished speaking, James, who was in her arms, "accidentally" knocked over a cup of hot tea.

"I'm sorry, Big Aunt."

"I didn't do it on purpose..." James was about to cry.

"I'm going to change." Cheng Lu pouted and put James on the sofa. After she left, Qin Jianan looked at Alora with some embarrassment. "Sister-in-law, don't blame me. Your sister-in-law is like this. She doesn't speak well, but she is not bad."

"It's okay." Alora pursed his lips.

"Alright, stop standing."

"Sit down," the old man said.

Only then did Samir pull Alora to sit down on the right side of the old man.

"Where's second brother?"

"I went to the police station early in the morning."

"I'm almost back," the old man said as he looked down at the time.

As soon as he finished speaking, the sound of a car stopping came from outside. Not long after, a tall figure walked in from outside. "Second brother is here." Samir reminded him in a low voice. Alora hurriedly stood up, intending to greet her second brother. She looked up at the man in front of her. Why was it him? When Qin Ling saw Alora, he was also slightly stunned. Why was she here? "Second Brother." "This is my wife, Alora." Seeing that the two of them did not speak, Samir frowned. "Hello, Second Brother." Alora snapped back to reality and hurriedly greeted them politely. "Good..." Looking at Alora's face, Qin Ling's beautiful facial features instantly stiffened. She actually married Samir... Was this heaven's will? Or did Samir find out something...

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 115

"Second brother, take a seat."

Seeing that Qin Ling was still standing there, Old Master Rowan cleared his throat and pointed to the sofa opposite him. "Samir said that there is something important to announce today..."

After that, the old man glanced at his watch. "Is our family still short of Alexander and Nancy?"

"Nancy has gone abroad."

Just as the old man finished speaking, Qin Ling spoke indifferently, "He said that there was an exhibition abroad, and he left in the middle of the night on a private plane."

"She has always been like this, reckless and careless." The man's eyes flashed with a hint of love. After saying that, Nancy looked up at Alora as if he had thought of something. "You met Nancy, right?" "Yes," Alora nodded.

"That girl is a little neurotic. If she said something or did something abnormal, don't take it to heart."

When Qin Ling said these words, he could not hide the affection in his voice.

"What did second brother mean when he told me not to take it to heart?" Alora narrowed his eyes slightly.

"Does he mean that she stressed in front of me that she and my husband were childhood sweethearts? Or did she curse me to get drunk during the dinner?"

The woman's words caused the atmosphere in the living room to instantly drop to the freezing point.

Qin Jianan looked up at Old Master Rowan. The eyes of the father and son were both complicated.

Qin Ling also frowned slightly.

After a while, he smiled, "If Nancy has done all these things you said, then I apologize to you on her behalf." "I didn't educate her well."

"Then Second Brother should educate Nancy well in the future," Samir said in a cold voice.

"I will."

Qin Ling looked at Alora seriously. "Did Nancy do anything that made you uncomfortable?"

Alora shook his head.

The number of times she met and talked with Nancy was counted on one hand. Although she did not like that woman, that woman did not do anything other than this. "That's good."

Qin Ling narrowed his eyes.

It seemed that she really couldn't remember anything from five years ago.

They chatted for a while, and Alexander also came back.

He obviously hadn't slept all night, and his face was haggard.

Qin Jianan looked at him with a cold face, "I didn't go home last night, how did it become like this?"

"Where did you go?"

"I made a decision."

Alexander took a deep breath and stood in front of his family. "I plan to get married in a few days." His voice was steady.

His words were like a clap of thunder that exploded in the living room.

Everyone was delighted. Cheng Lu had just come down from upstairs. When she heard the news, she rushed over excitedly and hugged Alexander. "Good son, you finally figured it out. You are going to establish a family!" "Which family is she from? What does she look like? Is she beautiful?" "Why didn't you bring her here today for everyone to see?" After she finished speaking, she even glanced at Alora proudly. "Don't be a woman in the entertainment industry!"

Her words caused Alexander's expression to change slightly.

The man pulled Cheng Lu away and took a deep breath. "What I want to say is that I want to marry Sherry." Cheng Lu's face instantly turned ugly! Even if she never paid attention to the entertainment circle, she knew Sherry!

She liked to hype up, liked to gossip with others, and even acted in many exposed scenes!

"Are you crazy?" She bit her lip and glared at Alexander.

As Alexander's mother, she had just mocked Alora for being better off in the entertainment industry than going home to take care of his children!

But now, he was slapping his own mother's face like crazy

"I'm not crazy."

"Today, I asked Uncle to get everyone to gather together," Alexander said.

"I want to tell everyone that I want to marry Sherry."

The man stood in front of everyone and said in a cold voice, "Sherry met with an accident yesterday. She is still unconscious in the hospital." "The doctor said that she might wake up today. Maybe she won't wake up for the rest of her life."

"Something happened to her because of me. The man she likes the most is also me."

"That's why I want to marry her. Whether she can wake up or not, I want her to be my wife for the rest of my life."

"I don't agree!" "It's fine if I marry a actress, but she's still unconscious. I wonder when she woke up?" Cheng Lu frowned.

"Alexander, you want to anger me to death!"

"Alexander, even if this girl met with an accident because of you, you can't insist on marrying her, right?"

"Dad and Mom want you to get married, but they want you to marry a normal person!"

“Grandpa, what about you?” Alexander turned to look at Old Master Rowan. “... I don’t agree either.” The old man coughed lightly “You already knew?” He subconsciously glanced in Samir’s direction. “I support him.” Samir nodded.

“Of course you support him!” “Your second brother has been unwilling to inherit the family property since he came back from the army.” Cheng Lu was furious. “You are the only one who can inherit the entire family property of Rowan family except us!” “Of course you want Alexander to marry such a woman. It is best that he will never wake up!” “When the time comes, no one will compete with you and your sons for the family property. When the time comes, the entire Rowan family will be yours!”

The more Cheng Lu spoke, the angrier she became. “I knew you did it on purpose!” “Don’t think I don’t know what you are planning!”

Cheng Lu’s words were very unpleasant to hear. Alora bit her lips and turned to look at her side.

James and Steve sat in the corner playing chess, as if they had not heard the conversation of the adults.

As for Samir, he was leisurely drinking tea, as if the person who was attacked by Cheng Lu with nasty words was not him. After a long while, when Cheng Lu finally stopped speaking, Samir put down the teacup. “Is sister-in-law finished?” Cheng Lu rolled her eyes at him and stopped talking. Samir looked at Cheng Lu with a faint smile. “What you meant just now was that you were worried that the family property would be taken by me alone in the future, and Alexander would be suppressed by me and my two sons, right?”

Cheng Lu rolled her eyes at him and did not say anything. “Alexander is my nephew.” Samir raised his hand and gracefully poured himself a cup of tea. “I don’t have anything to give him since he is married. Why don’t you give him 10 of my shares in Rowan Group?” This sentence caused the entire living room to fall silent once again. “Samir, ten percent of the shares. Isn’t this gift a bit too heavy?” Qin Ling lightly smiled. One had to know that Rowan Group was a large group that was worth hundreds of billions. Ten percent of the shares was equivalent to giving Alexander tens of billions.

Moreover, shares were not as simple as money. Samir giving up so many shares was actually equivalent to giving a lot of Rowan Group’s rights to Alexander.

Although Qin Lingyi had never been a businessman, he still understood these principles. “Alexander’s decision made me see his responsibility as a man. I think it’s worth it.” Samir smiled. “That’s true.”

Qin Ling shrugged, “You and Alexander have always had a good relationship. It’s normal for you to be willing to give so much.”

As he spoke, he glanced at Cheng Lu who was completely stunned. “However, sister-in-law might not want it very much.”

“How can a mere 10 of the shares make sister-in-law condescend to accept an unconscious daughter-in-law?”

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 116

Chapter 116 He Did Not Like to Eat Dessert!

“I can accept it!” “Why can’t I accept it?” Cheng Lu retorted. “It’s not like Sherry won’t wake up for the rest of her life!”

Ten percent of the shares was too tempting.

Even if Cheng Lu tried to be brave, she had to admit that if Samir did not open his mouth, their whole family would not be able to get so many shares even if they worked hard for another ten years! If marrying Sherry could make Alexander struggle less for ten years, why would she not be willing? Anyway, it was not like Sherry could not wake up. After taking this ten percent of shares and treating her well, or directly divorce in a few years, it was not a loss no matter what! Her 180-degree change in attitude made Qin Ling unable to help but laugh, "But she is an actress, disgraceful." Cheng Lu rolled her eyes. "Second brother, don't wear colored glasses to look at people, okay?" "What is there to be disgraceful about being an actor? Isn't third brother's wife just an actor?"

As she spoke, Cheng Lu turned to look at Alora with a fawning smile on her face.

"Sister-in-law, tell your second brother how good it is to be an actor!"

Alora, "..."

How was she supposed to answer this?

The woman pursed her lips and hesitated for a moment. "Second brother, sister-in-law, in fact, actors are a proper profession."

"You don't have to explain it to me."

Qin Ling laughed at Alora's obedient attitude. He was not looking down on actors, but he was just provoking her with Cheng Lu's words.

"I'm not interested in acting." He narrowed his eyes and looked at Alora's face.

"But I'm quite interested in you."

"Are you used to being Steve and James' mother?" The man looked at Alora carefully. Alora was stunned. She probably didn't expect him to ask this question. After a while, she chuckled and said, "I'm quite used to it."

"The two of them are very obedient and sensible."

"That's true." Qin Ling nodded.

"The biological mother of these two brats is also very obedient and sensible."

"By the way, do you know who their mothers are?" He raised his eyebrows at Alora. Alora nodded, "I know a little."

Seeing that the topic was about to deviate from Alexander's marriage, Qin Jianan coughed, "Lao San, are you really willing to take out 10 of the shares?"

Samir nodded, "Of course."

"Alexander and I are closest, and Sherry is Alora's friend. 10 of the shares is not much."

Qin Jian'an was a little excited.

He glanced at Cheng Lu, "Should we take Alexander to see Sherry's parents?" Cheng Lu quickly nodded, "Yes, yes, yes!" After saying that, she quickly turned around and grabbed Alexander's arm. "Let's go see the family?"

VHUPICITUTI DI TULL

Alexander probably did not expect things to go so smoothly. He was stunned for a while and finally nodded fiercely.

"Let's go now!"

As if she was afraid that Samir would go back on his word, Cheng Lu could not wait for a moment. She simply said goodbye to everyone and pulled Alexander home to change her clothes. She wanted to see Sherry's family.

“Uncle.”

When he reached the door, Alexander raised his haggard face with dark circles under his eyes. “Thank you.” Without Samir, everything would not have gone so smoothly. He asked Samir to help him yesterday because he knew that his family would not easily agree to marry Sherry.

Originally, he planned to have Samir and Alora help him persuade his parents. But he did not expect that... Samir directly used ten percent of the shares to smash his parents until they could not find the north.

Even if Samir did not lack money and did not care much about Rowan Group’s shares, this big gift was still too expensive.

The man took a deep breath and looked at Samir and Alora solemnly. “If you need my help in the future, feel free to ask.”

“As long as I can do it.”

Looking at his serious face, Samir smiled helplessly, “Go quickly.”

Alexander looked deeply at Samir again, then raised his leg and followed Cheng Lu and the others.

After Qin Jian’an and his family left, Old Master Rowan changed to a comfortable position and leaned on the sofa.

This kind of thing, it was really difficult for him to open his mouth.

Qin Ling shrugged and looked up at Samir. “Do you really think that Alexander did the right thing?” “There’s nothing right or wrong. Since he wants to, why not help?” “Could it be that every time Second Brother helps Nancy, it’s because Nancy did the right thing?”

The man’s words made the smile on Qin Lingyi’s face disappear instantly. After a while, he lowered his head and smiled bitterly, “That’s right.”

“Since it’s something that the person I favor does, how can there be any right or wrong? As long as he’s happy, it’s fine.”

After he finished speaking, he gave Alora a meaningful look. “Sister-in-law, what do you think?”

“Yes... yes,” Alora nodded blankly.

She didn’t know why, but Second Brother Qin was always staring at her intentionally or unintentionally.

That kind of gaze didn’t seem like he liked her, but more like he was examining her. It was as if she was annoyed by some kind of examination, making her very uncomfortable.

“Mommy, I’m hungry,” Steve said as he walked over slowly.

When he heard that his grandson was hungry, Old Master Rowan quickly called the servants to prepare lunch.

“No need.”

“My brother is hungry,” James smiled and winked at the old man.

“He wants Mommy to take him to the dessert!”

Hearing the word “dessert”, Steve’s small body slightly stiffened. He did not like to eat dessert! The one who liked to eat dessert was clearly James, this little bastard!

However, he was in a hurry to let Alora leave Van family’s old house, so he could not refute. Therefore, the young boy looked at the old man with a fake smile. “When did Steve like to eat dessert?” Alora was a little surprised.

Steve pursed his lips and spat out these two words in a low voice.

“Aiya, in any case, I like the dessert in the city center!” James smiled and held Alora’s hand. He turned his head and looked at the old man proudly. “Grandpa, you can take your two sons to have lunch together!”

“Mommy wants to take her two sons to eat cake!” Seeing that Alora and Steve had such a good relationship, the old man stroked his beard helplessly and smiled. “Samir and Ling Yi can stay and eat with me.” “You two haven’t eaten together for a long time, have you?”

Qin Ling also nodded. Samir smiled faintly and stuffed a black card into her hand. “Go home early after eating.” “You didn’t rest much last night. Go back and sleep.” He was clearly speaking out of concern, but the words “you didn’t rest much last night” still made Alora involuntarily recall the madness of last night.

The woman’s face instantly turned as red as a peach.

She took the black card and hurriedly left with the two babies.

Looking at her back as she left with the two children, Old Master Rowan smiled with satisfaction. “She and these two little devils are really fated.” “It can’t be seen that they are not biological.” After that, the old man turned to look at Qin Lingyi. “Do you think that Steve and James’ biological mother has anything to do with her?”

They looked alike and had a similar personality. Sometimes, many gestures and gestures were very similar. “How could that be?” “Steve and James’ biological mother were friends of Nancy in the past. They grew up in the orphanage and did not have any relatives.” Qin Ling smiled faintly. “What a pity.”

“It’s a pity that we still don’t know what that woman looks like.” The old man’s face was full of regret.

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 117

Chapter 117 You Are Not Convinced, Are You?

Milan dessert shop in the city center. Alora got out of the car, holding the unhappy Steve with one hand and holding the smiling James with the other hand, walking towards the dessert shop.

“I used to like this shop very much.”

Alora looked up at the big signboard in front of him, and countless memories of the past flooded his mind. At that time, when everyone still did not know that she and Elena had hugged the wrong person, Van family really treated her as his own daughter.

At that time, Gary and Victoria were willing to give her the best.

So was the dessert.

When she was the little Princess of Van family, the dessert she ate was from Milan dessert shop.

Later, her true identity was exposed, and she had no capital to come here to eat. “Then Mommy, your taste is the same as mine!”

James smiled and held Alora’s hand tightly. “Let’s have a happy dessert together!”

After that, he looked at Steve very arrogantly, “Some people don’t like sweet things, so don’t eat well!”

“It’s not like there’s only sweet in the dessert shop.” Steve rolled his eyes at him.

The three of them entered the dessert shop.

James took a fancy to a very delicate cake in the display window.

“Sorry.”

The waiter was a little embarrassed. “This cake was reserved by the guests upstairs...”

“That’s too bad.”

Alora turned to look at James helplessly. “Change to another one?”

“But Mommy, I just want this!” The little fellow said unhappily.

The woman could only look at the waiter helplessly. “Can I make another one?”

“The master who made this cake left because he had something to do.”

The waiter was also in a difficult position.

After a while, she pursed her lips. “I’ll ask the guests upstairs. Maybe I can share half of it with you.”

“The other party is also a child. He should not be able to finish such a big piece of cake.”

After saying that, the waiter took out his phone and called.

Not long after, a tall man came down from upstairs. “Who wants to share the cake with our little Princess?”

This voice...

Alora quickly raised her head. When she saw the man, she was stunned. The man also stopped.

“Miss Van?” “Zack Burr?”

This man who came down from upstairs was none other than the captain of Stella’s guards, Zack Burr!

She frowned and pointed at the cake in the window. “So this cake... is your younger brother?”

“What younger brother? We are Mommy’s son!” James rolled her eyes.

“She is our Mommy!” As he spoke, the little fellow took a step forward and directly opened his arms, blocking in front of Alora like a little eagle. “Don’t even think about attacking my mommy. My mommy is already married and has a child!”

His cute actions made Zack Burr laugh.

He looked up at Alora, “I didn’t expect Miss Van’ child to be so big.”

As he spoke, he glanced at the cake, “The waiter is right. This cake is indeed a bit big.

The little Princess can’t finish it all by herself, and Mr. Leo doesn’t eat sweets.”

“Why don’t Miss Van bring the two children upstairs? Let’s have a table together. I believe that Mr. Leo and the little Princess should be very willing to treat you to a cake.”

Alora nodded. Stella and Steve, James, looked about the same age, and their names were very similar. Maybe they could become good friends!

Therefore, she took Steve, who had been silent all this time, and James, who looked unhappy, and went upstairs with Zack Burr.

In the private room upstairs, Stella was lying on the table, looking at Leo with a bitter face. “Uncle Leo, you don’t keep your word.”

“Didn’t you say last time that you wanted to introduce the powerful hacker on Aunt Van’ side to me as a teacher?”

“It’s been a few days. There’s no news at all!”

“You, Aunt Van, are not free recently.” A trace of helplessness flashed across Leo’s good-looking face.

Although he had been working overtime last night, through Zack Burr, he knew what had happened last night.

The relationship between Alora and Sherry was not bad. After what happened to Sherry, Alora must have been busy these days. He could not bother her with such trivial things.

So the man sighed lightly, "Why don't Uncle Leo find a few for you online?"

"No."

Stella rolled his eyes. "There are many so-called experts on the Internet who are not as good as me!"

Looking at the little girl who did not enter, Leo felt a headache.

At this time, the door of the room was pushed open. The first one to enter was a waiter with a cake.

The waiter finished serving the cake, followed by a smiling Zack Burr.

"Little Princess, guess who I brought you?"

"Now, other than Aunt Van, I am not interested in anyone else." Stella laid on the table without looking up.

"Then little Princess, look up!" Zack Burr smiled.

Stella looked up with a lack of interest.

In the direction of the door stood Alora, who was wearing a long white dress.

"Aunt Van!"

The little girl directly jumped down from the chair, opened her arms, and ran quickly toward Alora.

However, before she could hug Alora, she was blocked by a little fellow who was half a head taller than her. "This is my mommy. You are not allowed to hug her!" James crossed her arms and widened her eyes.

However, his appearance was too sudden. Stella could not stop the brake at all and directly hit James.

The little girl ran too fast and the impact was also very strong. When James was about to fall down from the impact, she instinctively reached out and grabbed Steve beside her.

SO

With a bang, the three little guys fell to the ground in front of Alora. Alora knew she should not laugh. But she could not help it.

The way these three little guys fell was really too funny... Even the usually cold and aloof Steve was very funny. The woman laughed to the side and bent over. Zack Burr carefully helped Stella up and helped the two little boys stand up. "Who are you?"

Stella put her hands on her hips and glared at Steve and James with her big eyes.

Steve looked at her indifferently and did not speak. "Who are you?" James placed her hands on her hips like Stella. "Don't you know that you can't casually hug someone else's mommy?" "She is me, Aunt Van! I want to hug her!" "She is my mommy, so I won't give her a hug!"

The two little guys quarreled.

In the end, it was Steve who lightly pulled James aside, "Don't quarrel with little girls."

"What's wrong with girls?" Stella was unhappy. "I am Banyan City's youngest and most powerful little hacker Princess!" "Are you as good as me? How dare you talk to me like that!" "Hacker little Princess?"

Steve smiled.

He looked Stella up and down. "Just you?"

His contemptuous attitude instantly angered Stella. "You are not convinced, are you?"

"If you have the ability, then compete with me!" "If you don't have the ability, then don't stop me from carrying Aunt Van!" Steve lightly smiled, took out his phone and dialed a number, "Driver, bring my computer up." "Captain Zheng, go and bring my computer over too!" Stella did not show any weakness. After that, she looked at Steve provocatively. Steve also looked at her coldly.

The two little guys were at loggerheads. James had already pulled Alora to the dining table and sat down in front of Leo.

"This handsome uncle, you invited us to eat dessert today, right?" Only then did Leo come back to his senses from the confrontation between Stella and Steve. He glanced at the well-behaved young boy in front of him and nodded. "Yes, I'll treat you." "Alright then." "Give me two of the most expensive cakes!" James smiled and glanced at the waiter beside him.

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 118

Chapter 118 If Only You Weren't Married

"Can you finish it?" Alora looked at James helplessly.

"I can't finish it."

"But I can pack it up and give it to daddy." James looked at Alora with a sneaky look.

"This handsome uncle, have you seen my daddy before?" He turned to look at Leo as if he was declaring sovereignty.

"My father is especially handsome. He is a perfect match for Mommy!"

"Mr. Rowan, how can I not know him?" The young boy's childish words made Leo smile faintly. In Banyan City, even if you have not seen Mr. Rowan in person, you must have heard of his name. He was a legendary figure. He took over Rowan Group at the age of ten and brought him back to life, who was almost bankrupt by his big brother. He stood at the top of Banyan City's business again. Leo had been with Banyan City for a long time, and he was familiar with the legendary news about Mr. Rowan

It was just... The man turned to look at Alora indifferently. However, he did not expect that Samir had the same taste as him. He liked such a simple, cute, and silly woman.

"Since you know my daddy, do you think my daddy and mommy are a perfect match?"

"My daddy and mommy are a perfect couple, aren't they?" James asked innocently.

Leo narrowed his eyes.

He knew that this little guy was declaring Samir's sovereignty.

But, why did he cooperate with him?

The man did not answer. Instead, he turned to look at Steve and Stella, who had already turned on their computers. "Do you really want to compete here?" "Of course!"

"I want to prove to him that I, Stella, am the strongest little hacker!" Stella curled his lips in disdain.

Steve, who was sitting opposite her, curled his lips in contempt.

The battle of hackers between the two little guys officially began.

The waiter also sent the cake. James ate the cake while sitting beside Steve to guide Jiang Shan. "Brother, there are loopholes here." "Aiya, we broke through another firewall. Brother is really amazing!"

"Little sister, you have to put in more effort. Brother Steve is much stronger than you!"

He crossed his legs and looked relaxed.

"Shut up!" "Shut up!"

Suddenly, two clear children's voices rang out.

"You're so annoying!" Stella glared at him angrily.

"She is not as weak as you think." Steve stared at the computer seriously.

The air in the room suddenly became white-hot.

For the content of the competition between the two little geniuses, Alora watched for a while and gave up.

Because he really could not understand it.

She looked at Leo awkwardly. "I might still be suitable to read the script."

She was destined to never understand computer hackers in this life. "I actually don't understand," Leo said with a faint smile. "But Stella likes it." "In the past, she watched a hacker's movie and thought that hackers were very handsome, so she pestered me to find a teacher for her. Unexpectedly, the teacher said that the child had this kind of talent." After saying that, Leo sighed helplessly, "I used to look for her biological parents in Banyan City's entire city's hackers, but I couldn't find them." "But I believe that if her biological parents are still alive, they should also be experts in programming." "After all, this kind of genius gene can be inherited." "Not necessarily." Alora took a sip of coffee. She glanced at Steve who was still seriously programming. "Samir and I, no one knows how to do programming, but Steve is also very powerful."

She had seen how powerful Steve was. He could create a water army company by himself.

Otherwise, how could he fool so much money from Celia and Truett? "Maybe Steve's biological mother will?" Leo looked at her indifferently.

The man's words made Alora pause.

When she came back to her senses, her cheeks instantly turned red.

That's right...

She was not Steve and James' biological mother.

No matter what, they would not be affected by her inheritance.

She was really too harmonious with them and almost forgot that she was actually a stepmother.

The atmosphere in the private room became awkward. Leo did not continue to dwell on this matter. Instead, he quietly changed the topic. "How is Sherry now?"

"He is already out of danger. I just don't know when he will wake up."

"But she should be getting married soon." Alora sighed.

"The man she has always liked is going to be responsible for her. Whether she can wake up or not, he will marry her."

"Then this man is also very good." Leo smiled.

"I also think it is rare for him to be like this."

"Mr. Leo, if you were this man, would you do this?" Alora asked, taking another sip of coffee.

"I don't know."

"I might be willing to marry a woman I know," Leo said, leaning against the chair in a more comfortable position.

“But if I don’t know her, or even haven’t met her before, I refuse.”

The man’s words made Alora inexplicably think of Samir.

When he married her... didn’t he marry someone he had never met before and didn’t understand?

The woman smiled awkwardly and felt that she hadn’t found a good topic to talk about. However, with Mr. Leo’s identity, he shouldn’t be asked to marry a woman he had never met or didn’t know, right?

“Why not?”

“I really do have such a fiancée,” Leo said as she sipped her coffee gracefully.

“She was arranged by my family.”

“This woman is a few years younger than me. Before she was born, the two families arranged a marriage for us.”

“However, something happened to her family when she was about to be born. She was kidnapped by her family’s bodyguards.” “No one knows whether she is dead or alive right now, but since it is a family agreement, we must see her dead or alive. Otherwise, the engagement can’t be canceled.” Leo sighed deeply.

“So I adopted Stella.” The man looked up and looked at Stella lovingly. “Since marriage can’t be decided by yourself, then the child can always choose by himself.” “When I went to the orphanage, the eyes of this little girl suddenly attracted me.”

As he spoke, he raised his head and looked at Alora.

This woman’s eyes were as clear as the bottom of Stella’s eyes. It was not that he was not moved by such a Alora. It was just that...

“It would be great if you weren’t married.” The man sighed lightly.

Alora was still immersed in the family marriage he was talking about and did not hear his last sentence clearly. “What did you just say?” “Nothing.”

Leo put down his coffee cup and turned to look at Stella and Steve, who were still fighting like a raging fire. “How is it?”

Stella stared at the computer, her little hands tapping on the keyboard, and her forehead was already covered in sweat.

How is this possible! This brat in front of her, how could he be so powerful!

The memory of being beaten by a strange hacker that day came back again, and Stella began to doubt herself.

Wasn’t she a hacker genius? Why could the person from that day bully her, and the child in front of her could bully her! Had her skills regressed to such an extent? The little girl clenched her teeth tightly and struggled with all her might. “Pa-!”

The person on the other side of her computer was instantly controlled.

The image of Steve in front of her was shown on the computer.

“It seems that you are very conceited.”

“The program that was defeated by me a few days ago. You just improved it a little and then took it out to continue fighting with me.”

“Losing is inevitable.” Stella widened her eyes in an instant. “You...”

“You look cute without a mask and a voice changer.” Steve smiled and reached out to her.

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 119

Chapter 119 In the Future, They Would Be Siblings

“Are you... the master from that day?” Stella asked, reaching out to hold Steve’s hand.

“Not really. I just like to play with this.” Steve released the little girl’s hand.

Turning around, he looked at James, who was eating the cake with a face full of cream.

“She is ‘- Stella with true love of LM’.”

James was so shocked that he almost dropped the cake in his hand. “It’s her” The hacker who was evenly matched with his brother that day was actually this little girl! However, although this little girl wanted to rob his mother and was very arrogant, James did not hate her at all

Maybe it was because she looked very similar to his mother!

He comforted himself in his heart. He must love this little girl because she looked very similar to Mommy.

“Stella, what’s going on?”

Leo asked with a frown.

“Uncle Leo, do you remember what I told you before? There is a very powerful hacker on Aunt Van’ side?” Stella pouted and said in a wronged voice.

“It’s him!” she said, pointing at Steve in dissatisfaction.

“You told me before that the one who wanted me to find you, Aunt Van, to introduce you to be your master... is this little fellow?” she asked in shock.

Stella’s face immediately flushed red.

She bit her lips and stomped her feet in anger. “Uncle Leo, can you leave me some face?” she asked.

It was already very embarrassing to lose to this person on the spot, but Uncle Leo still wanted to tell her about the matter of her saying that she wanted to acknowledge him as her master! Did she not care about her face?

“Oh? I want to acknowledge you as my master.” “My brother won’t easily accept a disciple!” James heard Leo’s keyword. “Even I, his biological brother, he.” “I am willing.”

Before the little guy could finish his words, he was mercilessly interrupted by Steve.

Stella suddenly raised his head and could not believe his ears. “What did you say?” “I said.”

“I can accept you as my disciple,” Steve said with a faint smile.

“But I have a condition.”

“What condition?”

“Be our sister.”

“James and I have always wanted a sister.” Steve looked at Stella slyly.

“We were planning to wait for Daddy and Mommy to give birth to another one for us, but their progress was too slow.”

“..” Alora.

She was already working very hard! How was she going to explain to this little brat that a child could not be pregnant just once?

“SO.” “You look very much like my mommy,” Steve said seriously as she looked at Stella’s face. “And you look younger than us. So, before our mommy gives birth to our biological sister, you should be our sister.”

Stella pursed her lips and looked at James and Steve seriously.

Although these two little brothers were hostile to her in the beginning, but...

The two brothers bickered and talked, and also had a relationship with Aunt Van...

She had always been envious of lively relatives, families, and mothers. She had always hoped that Uncle Leo could help her find an older brother. If she agreed to this little brother Steve's request, would it mean that she would have two older brothers all of a sudden? Two older brothers, two pairs of happiness! She could also openly learn hacking skills from Steve. She frowned and thought about it carefully, as if she would not lose anything no matter what. Moreover, she looked at Alora. If she recognized these two as brothers, would she be able to openly look for Aunt Van in the future? She could even help Uncle Leo dig a hole in the wall and snatch Aunt Van over! Thinking of this, the little girl turned around and looked at Leo with a wronged expression. "Uncle Leo..." Leo looked at the little girl's tangled appearance and shrugged lightly. "I don't care." "You can choose to become friends or siblings with them. That way, you will have friends in the future." He was usually very busy at work, and the time he could spend with Stella was very little. Over the years, Stella spent more time alone at home, staring blankly at the cold TV and computer. If she was willing to be partners with these two little guys, he would be more at ease. Moreover. The man turned to look at Alora. If the three children had a good relationship, would he be able to become closer friends with her? All this time, although he had done many things to get close to her, he could see that Alora had been keeping a distance from him. "Good!" Stella took a deep breath and looked at Steve with righteousness. "I can recognize you as my brothers!" "But I want to live with Uncle Leo. Uncle Leo is still my father." Steve smiled helplessly. Did this little girl misunderstand his meaning? He didn't want to take her home. The young boy pretended to be mature and coughed lightly. "Well, you don't need to live with us." "But the brothers have to appear at any time to find you. Can you do it?" "Of course, you can also find the brothers at any time. As long as the brothers have time, they can help you deal with all the things you want to do." "Deal!" Stella beckoned to Steve with her pinky. Although she felt that the act of hooking her finger was very childish, she was still a younger sister. Steve sighed and reached out to make a pinky promise with Stella. "That..." "Why don't you ask for my opinion?" James rolled his eyes helplessly. "What do you think?" The brother and sister turned their heads and said in unison. James, "... "It's fine," Alora quickly came over and pulled James into his arms. "No one asked for Mommy's opinion." "Mommy, we were ignored." James raised his head and looked at Alora pitifully. "Yes, we were ignored. What should we do?" Alora hurriedly nodded.

James came out of her arms and sat down on the chair. "I will convert grief and indignation into appetite.

Eat!"

"Mommy, you eat too!" Alora nodded. Coincidentally, she was also hungry. Thus, the woman unceremoniously ate the cake with James.

"You should eat too."

Steve let go of Stella's hand and gently patted her back. "Go." Stella nodded. He had just taken a step when he turned around. "Brother Steve, aren't you eating?" "I don't like sweet food." The little Princess frowned. She waved to Zack Burr and whispered something in his ear. Not long after, Zack Burr entered the room with a non-sweet salad.

"This is a gift from my sister!"

The little girl placed the salad in front of Steve. Her eyes were black and shining.

"Brother Steve, I'll treat you to some!"

"Thank you."

Steve sat on the chair like a gentleman and began to eat gracefully.

Alora silently recorded this scene and sent it to Samir. At this time, Samir was accompanying Old Master Rowan and Qin Ling to have lunch in Rowan family's old house.

After receiving her video, the man opened it. "They got along quite well. Stella has recognized Steve and James as his brothers. They will be brother and sister in the future."

"Does it look particularly harmonious?"

Looking at his son's gentle appearance in the video, Samir sighed lightly.

"She is the second girl Steve treats so gently."

"Who was the first?"

"It was you."

Chapter 120 Use These to Exchange with You

After lunch, Alora brought the two little kids home.

Because Leo still had filming in the afternoon, she entrusted Stella to Alora.

The little Princess followed her into the car, chattering excitedly all the way.

"Aunt Van, is this way to your house? I have to remember it well, and I should go there often in the future!"

"Brother Steve, don't you like to talk? It doesn't matter. I talk more than you. Boys should be colder and more handsome!" "Brother Steve..."

The child's emotions came and went quickly. In less than two hours, Stella's attitude towards Steve had changed from resisting at the beginning to relying on him now.

James was very depressed at the side. He crossed his arms around his chest and looked at Stella helplessly. "Am I not handsome?"

"You are not as handsome as Brother Steve!"

"Brother Steve, let's go to your house and you will teach me how to crack my program, okay?" Stella looked at Steve with starry eyes. James was even more depressed. He looked exactly the same as his older brother. Why did his younger sister always say that his older brother was handsome, but not praise him at all!

Unhappy!

Alora watched the three little fellows make a ruckus, and the corners of his lips couldn't help but rise.

It was actually quite good for Stella to be here. With a younger sister here, Steve and James suddenly seemed to be full of energy. Just as she was sighing with emotion, her cell phone rang. It was two photos sent by Alexander, with the words "Thank you." Alora opened the photos.

The first one was the marriage certificate of Alexander and Sherry. The second one was the photo of Alexander's family and Sherry's parents in front of Sherry's bed. Sherry's parents' eyes were still red and swollen. It seemed that they only knew the news that Sherry was unconscious.

Alora opened the marriage certificate in shock and looked at it to confirm that it was true.

... Alexander got married to Sherry so quickly?

He was afraid that he would regret it, right? Alora looked at the marriage certificate with mixed feelings. She did not know if this result was good or bad for Sherry. She also did not know what Alexander and Sherry would be like in the future.

Everything was unknown.

However, she always felt that Alexander's decision would harm him and Sherry for the rest of their lives...

"Alora!"

Before the photo was turned off, Alora's phone rang again.

This time, it was Anne who called. "The explosive news!"

Anne's shocked voice almost penetrated Alora's eardrums, "Sherry is actually going to get married!"

"Thunder Agency just issued an announcement that Sherry will get married in a week, so she would rather pay the liquidated damages to cancel all the following notices."

"She also said that they will go on a honeymoon after marriage. The date is uncertain."

"Do you think she will quit the entertainment circle just like that?"

After that, Anne sighed, "It seems that what happened last night has a great impact on her. She has been on leave for so long, it should not be just because of marriage."

Alora pursed her lips. She had yet to explain to Anne about Sherry's coma.

However, it would be less dangerous if one less person knew about this matter, right?

"Maybe," she said with a faint smile.

"By the way."

"Your father contacted me just now," Anne said.

"My father?"

"Yes."

"But it's not his biological daughter. It's that Gary." Anne frowned.

"Why is he looking for you?"

"He asked me if I had any photos and videos of you when you were pregnant."

"Why did he suddenly ask this?" she asked in disgust.

Alora's hand that was holding the phone paused slightly.

It seemed that Gary was already at the end of the road. He couldn't get Elena out of the prison, and he couldn't threaten her with the jade pendant.

So, he still planned to make an issue of her pregnancy. "Do you have a photo?" "I have one." "It was when I went to see you. I said that you had a big belly, so you must have three babies. We took a photo together." "I think that you are very beautiful. Even if you have a big belly, it is very beautiful."

"So I left that photo."

"But Alora, don't worry. That photo is still locked in my house."

"When Gary asked me, I scolded him and said I had it, but I would never give it to him!"

"Infuriate him to death!"

Alora was amused by Anne's tone.

"I am no longer afraid."

Those past, no matter how unbearable it was, was her real experience. In the past, she was always afraid that Samir would dislike her if he found out. He would abandon her and feel that she was being impolite.

But things had already passed. Samir said that he didn't care. Since he didn't care, then no one was qualified to blame her.

In fact, she could face it calmly.

"This is not a question of whether you are afraid or not."

"Alora, you have to remember that human words are terrifying." Anne sighed.

"You are still a newcomer actor. The transportation is a dark history. Once people know about it, it will affect your career." "Also, if Samir doesn't care, does his family not care?"

"Didn't you say before that Samir has a woman who claims to be his fiancée?"

"How can she not care?"

"If she finds out, she will add oil to the fire in front of Rowan family. Your position in Rowan family will be affected in the future!"

Anne's words made Alora tighten his grip on his phone.

"I got it."

After hanging up the phone, the woman lay on the leather seat of the car and pretended to sleep.

Not long after, the car arrived at Rowan family's villa.

"Madam."

"Someone is looking for you," the servant greeted as soon as Alora entered the room with the three children.

"I've been here for a long time. Why can't I chase you away." The woman frowned and turned to look. The person sitting on the sofa was none other than the person that Anne had just mentioned on the phone, Gary.

Seeing that Alora had returned, the middle-aged man hurriedly stood up. "Alora."

Taking a deep breath, Alora instructed the servant to bring the three little fellows upstairs and sat down on the sofa.

"Mr. Van came to find me specially. What's the matter?"

"Mr. Rowan's family is different. The tea is especially expensive!" Gary smiled politely and raised his hand to pick up the teacup.

He took a sip of tea and placed a stack of photos on the coffee table. "I want to use this to trade with you." Alora didn't need to look at those photos to know that they were definitely photos of her when she was pregnant. "Change what?" the woman raised her eyebrows coldly. Gary took a deep breath, then took out a jade pendant from his pocket and put it on the photo. "It's your turn to withdraw your statement at the police station."

"This way, Elena might not have to go to jail."

"Samir has already made it clear to you," Alora sneered.

"He doesn't care that I was pregnant. You can't do anything to me with these photos."

"Yes, yes, yes." "The photos of pregnancy indeed can't do anything to you." Gary nodded.

"But."

"These aren't photos of your pregnancy," the man said. Alora picked up the stack of photos and flipped them open.

Suddenly, she seemed to have been struck by lightning, and her entire body was so stiff that she couldn't even move.
