Chapter 191 Welcome Home Eldest Young Miss

“What good news?” Alora rubbed her sleepy eyes. “I found Chen Qian.” Samir reached out and rubbed her soft hair.

Found... Chen Qian?

Alora suddenly raised his head and looked at Samir in a daze. “Really?”

She had been looking for Chen Qian for so long, but there was no news of her at all. In the end, when she woke up, Samir actually said that she had found her? “Of course it’s true.”

The man gently rubbed her head and kissed her between her eyebrows. “When have I ever lied to you?”

“Where is she?” Alora asked excitedly as she got up from the bed. “Is she far away?”

“When are we going to look for her?”

Her excited look made Samir laugh softly.

“Do you really want to see her that much?” he asked, smiling at her. “Of course!”

“I spent so much time and effort all this time just to find her.” Alora rolled her eyes at him. “How did you find her?” she asked with a smile. “Because...”

“Because of you.” Samir couldn’t help but tease her when he saw her jumping for joy like a little bird. “Let’s go home first. Take a good shower and change into a more formal set of clothes. I’ll take you to see her, okay?” the man asked, hugging her slender waist.

“Okay.” Alora frowned and hesitated for a while.

After saying that, she glanced at the wound on the man’s hand that was wrapped in bandages. “Does it still hurt?”

“It doesn’t hurt anymore.”

The man chuckled as he looked at her. “After seeing you, it doesn’t hurt anymore.”

No matter how painful the wound on his hand was, no matter how uncomfortable it was, it could not resist the joy in his heart.

It turned out that not only Steve and James, but even Stella was also his child.

It took no effort to find her.

Alora probably never thought that Chen Qian, whom she had been looking for for so long, was actually herself, right?

Thinking of this, the man concealed the excitement in his heart and smiled at her. “Go back and pack up.”

“After all, Chen Qian is the biological mother of Steve and James. She can be considered half of your love rival. You have to dress up beautifully to see her.”

Alora bit her lips gently and nodded. She really should go to see Chen Qian beautifully.

Apart from Chen Qian being half her love rival, it was also because Chen Qian was her former friend. It was only right for an old friend to dress up more solemnly. Thinking of this, the woman took a deep breath, said goodbye to Samir, and left the hospital. Not long after the woman left, Samir’s phone rang.

It was James. “Daddy, we have already arranged the venue,” the little guy said arrogantly. “We have placed the big mirror you wanted in a very conspicuous place!”

“When are you coming over?”

“Why do you seem to be even more anxious than me?” Samir asked with a smile.

“Of course!”

"You've finally thought it through. You intend to give Miss Alora the most perfect wedding. Of course, we have to be anxious." James rolled her eyes. "Daddy, tell us, why?" the little fellow said in a low voice. "Why do you suddenly want to hold a wedding for Mommy after a night?"

"Is it because Mommy is pregnant?"

"No." Samir rubbed his aching eyebrows.

"Why?"

"You'll know when the wedding is over."

Putting down his phone, the man closed his eyes.

The image of Alora's delicate little face appeared before his eyes. He even began to look forward to her appearance in the auditorium when she was wearing a wedding dress.

He wanted to tell her at their wedding that she was Chen Qian.

She was the biological mother of the three children.

He owed her too much.

This time, he planned to supply her together.

"Sir."

"The diamond ring and the dress are ready." Mathias knocked on the door and came in. He hesitated for a moment.

"Your injury has not recovered yet. Yesterday, because of Miss Billings, the house was in chaos. Is it inappropriate for you to hold a wedding at this time?" Samir glanced at him coldly. "When do I want to hold a wedding? Do I need to look at other people's eyes?" After that, he closed his eyes lightly. "Let the doctor come over and give me a closed needle. I can't let her think I'm a patient in her best days."

Mathias glanced at his bandaged hand and sighed.

When Alora returned to the villa, the servants in the villa were led by the housekeeper and lined up in two rows at the door.

"Welcome home, Madam!" "Welcome, Madam!"

The uniform movements and voices of these people made Alora feel a little flattered.

She was stunned for a moment before she smiled embarrassedly. "Why is everyone so grand..." "Because today is more important to you!" The butler smiled and looked at her.

Alora frowned and thought about it. Finding Chen Qian was indeed important to her.

But you don't have to be so exaggerated, do you?

Alora didn't expect that what was even more exaggerated was still behind.

When she was pressed to the dressing table to put on the bride's makeup, although she was at a loss, she thought that maybe the bride's makeup was more beautiful.

But when the maid gave her a wedding dress, she really couldn't sit still.

"Well... you don't have to wear this kind of clothes, do you?"

"Sir said that you have to wear this dress to show your status."

"Don't worry. Sir won't lie to you. If you don't believe us, don't you believe in Sir?"

Alora was speechless.

She sighed. In the end, she still went to the changing room to change into her clothes.

After putting on her wedding dress and getting into the car to go out, the more Alora thought about it, the more she felt that it was inappropriate.

She took out her phone and wanted to call Samir to ask what was going on.

But before she could dial, her phone rang.

The call was from Justin. Why did dad call at this time? Alora frowned and answered. "Alora."

"Did you fight with someone at the airport yesterday?" the man on the other side of the line asked seriously

"You used the technique I taught you?"

"... Yes." Alora frowned.

When her father taught her these martial arts, he had warned her that they could only be used for self-defense and could not be casually displayed. When she was at the airport yesterday, she was kidnapped, so she had no choice but to use those moves in public.

"How did you know so quickly..."

On the other side of the line, Justin was silent for a long time.

After a while, his voice was angry and cold, "I shouldn't have cared about your life and death back then, and I shouldn't have taught you these things!"

"If I knew you were so disobedient, I wouldn't have taught you even if you were beaten to death in danger!"

Alora was stunned.

Her hand that was holding the phone trembled slightly. "Dad, you... why did you say that..."

"Leave Banyan City immediately and go to a place where no one knows you."

"They have their eyes on you."

Alora was stunned. She was just about to ask Justin who he was referring to when she heard a loud bang.

The phone in Alora's hand was shaken to the ground.

She raised her head subconsciously.

The bridge in front of her exploded. The car had no choice but to stop.

The scene in front of her made Alora speechless.

She looked blankly ahead. "How could..."

She had been in the crew for many years and had seen all kinds of explosive scenes.

But the real scene of the bridge exploding in front of her shocked her for a long time. At this time, a row of black BMW drove from the back of their car to the front, and then stopped uniformly.

A group of men in black opened the door and got out. A bodyguard held an umbrella and opened the door of the leading Benz. A middle-aged man with gray hair got out of the car. The middle-aged man strode in the direction of Alora. Finally, he stood outside her window and bowed respectfully. "Welcome home, big miss."

Chapter 192 | Found My Biological Parents

"Ladies and gentlemen, this morning, Mr. Rowan suddenly announced that he was going to hold a wedding with Miss Alora today." "Everyone can see that the venue is quite luxurious." "It is said that today, the bride will be wearing a wedding dress worth tens of millions to attend the wedding." "This is the first luxurious wedding in Banyan City's history!"

The auditorium of Banyan City's most luxurious five-star hotel was full of people.

Reporters and guests filled the entire venue.

In the backstage, Stella, who was wearing a small dress, sat between Steve and James. He held his chin with his hands and said, "It seems that my Uncle Leo has no chance."

"But it doesn't matter. Uncle Leo and Aunt Van are not very suitable." James couldn't help but laugh at the little girl's words.

"Do you also think that my mommy and daddy are very compatible now?" he said as he bumped his arm against Stella's.

Stella hesitated for a moment before pursing his lips. "The people who love each other are the most compatible!" he said.

"Hmph, if you had said so earlier, your Uncle Leo wouldn't have fallen in love with my mommy for you. She wouldn't have been so sad in the end."

After saying that, James raised his hand and knocked on Steve's shoulder. "Brother, don't you think so?"

Wearing a black and white checkered suit, Steve was still holding the computer in his arms and frowning.

His appearance made James a little dissatisfied.

The little fellow stood up and stretched out his small hand to block the computer screen.

"Brother!"

"What time is it!"

"Today, Daddy and Mommy are holding a wedding. This is a big event for our family!"

"Don't stare at your broken computer!"

Steve frowned and raised his hand to remove James' hand from the computer screen.

"Something happened." His voice was low.

"Ptooy! Ptooy! What nonsense are you talking about, brother? What happened?"

James pouted.

Hearing Steve's words, Stella frowned and looked over silently.

The little girl's eyes widened.

"Is this Aunt Van' signal wave?"

Steve nodded.

The little girl closed her eyes. "I just saw the news that Ronghai Bridge was blown up. I suddenly thought that Ronghai Bridge was the only way from home to the hotel."

"So I tried to follow Mommy's signal."

"All her signals were cut off at Ronghai Bridge." As soon as he said this, James immediately realized the seriousness of the matter.

He raised his leg like a madman and ran towards Samir's room backstage.

At this time, Samir was leaning against the bed, his face pale and bloodless.

"Daddy..." James was stunned.

"Everything was fine before, but it suddenly became like this just now." "I have already sent someone to find a doctor," Mathias sighed.

Looking at his usually cold and steady father now in such a weak state, James gritted his teeth and went up to hold his hand. "Daddy, are you okay?" "I'm fine."

The man squeezed out a smile with difficulty.

"Is your mother here?" he asked, turning his head to look at James. "Mathias, get me some medicine and make up."

"I have to get her a good wedding." "But sir, your health..." Mathias paused.

"It's not as important as Alora."

He forced himself up and struggled to get up.

"Daddy, Mommy, she, she can't come!"

"Ronghai Bridge was blown up just now. Mommy's signal disappeared!" James grabbed Samir's hand tightly. Samir was stunned. After a long time, he raised his pale face and asked, "Where did she go?" "I don't know!"

James was so anxious that tears were about to fall. "My brother said that he couldn't detect the signal of her phone..."

"Maybe... maybe Madam's phone fell into the river!"

"Sir, don't worry. I'll send someone to check the news." Mathias quickly supported Samir. "You should go first..." "I'll go personally." The man forced himself to stand up.

He held James' hand with one hand and held the wall with the other. "I'll go find her..." Alora would not be in trouble.

She should just be trapped in the same place.

She should have just dropped her phone in the river.

That was definitely the case.

The man forced himself out of the lounge.

"Bang -!"

"Sir!"

"Daddy!"

"He was drugged."

Outside the ward, Mark breathed a sigh of relief and looked at Alexander and the three little guys in front of him. "After this medicine flares up, the toxicity depends on the excitement of the person." "Today... is the day of Samir and Alora's marriage. His emotions may be too agitated, so he." He sighed and lowered his head to write on the medical record. "It's nothing serious. When this medicine flares up, it will make people dizzy and unable to stand."

"With Samir's excitement today, he should have fainted long ago." "Maybe he is holding on because he wants to finish the wedding with Alora?"

"There is no antidote for this medicine. The only antidote is to have a good rest and rest."

Alexander glanced at Samir who was still in a coma in the ward. "How can he rest after such a thing has happened?"

Mark sighed and closed the medical record. "Is there still no news of Alora?"

"No."

"The bridge at the scene was blown up, and all the surveillance cameras around it were destroyed." Alexander sighed.

"Almost everyone in the convoy who escorted Alora was injured to varying degrees because of the explosion. Most of them were knocked unconscious from the explosion, and those who were not unconscious were all knocked unconscious."

"I asked around, but there was basically no clue."

"As for Alora... I found her damaged phone and the wedding dress that was worth tens of millions." "There are no other clues."

"I really can't figure out where she went." Alexander sighed. "It wasn't easy for the family to be united, but this happened..." The man's words made James frown.

"Uncle Bai, what are you talking about? What family?" The little guy pursed his lips.

Mark and Alexander looked at each other.
After exchanging glances, Mark sighed and crouched down. "Steve, James, Stella, the three of you, come here."
The two little guys sitting on the bench in the distance trying to find Alora's signal hurriedly jumped down from the chair. "What's wrong?" "Your daddy was going to announce it at the wedding."
Mark sighed and turned to look at Samir who was still in a coma. "Now your mommy is missing, and daddy is in a coma..."
"I will announce it on their behalf."
After saying that, the man handed the document bag in his hand to Steve. "You are all smart children. Look at it yourself."
The three little guys looked at each other.
Finally, Steve opened the document bag directly.
There were six DNA test reports inside. They were Steve, James, and Stella. Their relationship with Alora and Samir had been appraised.
After the test, Steve and Alora were mother and son.
After the test, Stella and Alora were mother and daughter.
According to the appraisal, Stella and Samir were father and daughter.
After reading the six appraisal papers, the three little guys were stunned. In the end, it was Steve who came back to his senses first. He took a deep breath and said, "So, Mommy is our biological Mommy. Stella is our biological sister."
James and Stella were stunned.
How could...
How could it be so coincidental?
The three of them had been playing together and thought that they had hit it off, but in the end, they were triplets
Stella was stunned for a long time before she finally sniffed in excitement. "I'm going to call Uncle Leo!"
Ji family
Leo sat on a chair, bored. He listened to the elders' nagging,
"I just received news that Butler Jian went to find the Eldest Young Miss."
"It's fake again, right? How many fake misses have the Jian family found over the years?" "Miss Zhen must have died a long time ago, right?" Leo was extremely irritated by this news. He turned around and went to the balcony to enjoy the wind. At this time, the phone rang. He picked up the phone and said, "You little heartless person, you finally remembered to call me?"
"Uncle Leo, I found my biological parents!" Stella paused on the other side of the line.
"Is that so?" the man smiled in a good mood. "My daddy is Samir, and my mommy is Alora!" With a thud, Leo's phone fell to the ground.

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 193

Chapter 193 I Don't Want to Forget "I really am not your big miss. You are mistaken!"

In the luxurious European style room, Alora was tied to the bed. Her voice was a little hoarse. "I am the daughter of a slum drunkard. You are really mistaken!" She had been caught by this group of people for two days. That day, Samir asked her to go home and change her clothes to see Chen Qian, but before she could see Chen Qian, she was caught by these people.

It had been two whole days!

Samir's hand was still injured. She did not know how his body was now... Was he also looking for her? Thinking of this, she continued to shout in a hoarse voice, "Please let me go home..." "Young miss." After a while, the door opened. "You've been shouting for two days. Rest for a while." The gray-haired butler walked in with a smile. "Let me go home!" Alora glared at him angrily.

"This is your home." The butler smiled and sat down on the chair. His eyes looked up and down at Alora's face. "It looks very similar to Madam when she was young." "After searching for so many years, I finally found the truth." His greedy eyes made Alora feel uncomfortable all over. "Even if it is similar, it is just a coincidence." She turned her face away.

The butler smiled.

He changed to a more comfortable position and crossed his legs as he sat on the chair. Alora rolled his eyes. She turned her head and stared coldly at the butler for a while.

"What are you guys trying to do?"

He forcefully kidnapped her and told her that she was the eldest daughter of the Jian family.

Since she was the eldest daughter, why did he tie her to the bed?

"He asked you to come back, of course, to let you live in the dead water of the Jian family."

"You are the eldest daughter of the Jian family, and you carry the entire Jian family."

The housekeeper said, glancing at Alora coldly.

Alora sucked in a breath of cold air. "You said that I am the young miss, so I am?" "You said that I have to bear it, and I have to bear it?" "What do you take me for?"

With that, she glared at him coldly, "I request you to send me home immediately!"

"I have my husband, my child, and my own life!" Regardless of whether she was the so-called eldest daughter of the Jian family or not, she did not want to continue staying in this depressing place for a day! "Eldest Miss."

"You always care about the past. How can you become the future ruler of the Jian family?" the housekeeper sighed. "Who wants to be the ruler of the Jian family?" Alora frowned.

"You."

The housekeeper stared at her, and his eyes became serious and cold.

He stared at her face, and his voice was as cold as his eyes. "You have the blood of the Jian family. You were born to bear the fate of the Jian family and become the help of the master and young master." This was the first time Alora had seen such a crazy gaze.

She was so frightened that she pushed back. "..."

"You don't have to hurry and refuse." The butler sneered. "I know you can't let go of everything you have in the country. You can't let go of your indifferent feelings and persistence."

"It doesn't matter."

He looked at Alora's face and smiled coldly. "We have invited a doctor who has been working hard to make people lose their memories recently.”

“He will help you forget everything in the past and become a good knife for the Jian family.”

After that, under Alora’s shocked gaze, the housekeeper stood up gracefully and left. Watching his back as he left, Alora felt his head rumble.

Forget the past

Forget...

No!

She did not want to forget!

She could not forget Samir, she could not forget Steve and James!

In the past twenty-three years of her life, she had always been dull.

She had been mistaken, deceived by her best friend, foolishly went to replace her, and finally betrayed.

After marrying Samir, she finally felt what was called home and what was called living.

What was called light?

He was a beam of light in her life. Now, someone actually wanted to use medicine to make her forget about this beam of light!

She struggled violently.

In the empty room, the sound of her wailing and the crashing of chains echoed. After an unknown period of time, when Alora was tired, the door was opened again.

This time, it was a tall man wearing a white coat and carrying a medical box.

The man was wearing a hat and a mask. From a distance, she could not see his face clearly.

But she knew that this should be the person the housekeeper had mentioned, the one who had come to take away her memories!

She instinctively retreated, her wrists and ankles being strangled by iron chains, but she was completely unaware.

As if she had gone crazy, she desperately shook her head. “No, no!” “I beg you...”

The man still walked over indifferently and opened the medicine box. The smell of disinfectant came.

Alora watched as he slowly placed the medicine on the table.

Every time he took out one, her heart would shrink.

“Doctor...”

The man in the white coat sighed and turned to look at her. “Long time no see.”

The man’s clear voice made Alora widen her eyes.

This voice...

It was a little familiar!

Seeing her staring at him blankly, the man shrugged helplessly and took off the mask on his face.

When she saw his familiar face, Alora almost cried. “Dr. Han!” The man in front of her was none other than Han Yun, who had previously said that he would help Alora find the antidote to her memory loss! “Shh.” “If you speak louder, they will know our relationship. Aren’t you afraid that they will change the doctor for you?” The man gestured to her to keep quiet. “Why are you here?” Alora paused and lowered his voice.

“For you.”

“In order to help you find the antidote for your memory loss, I traveled all the major research facilities in Europe.” “I finally found a way for you to recover your memory.”

“You really found it?” Alora asked excitedly.

“Yes.”

“Because if you want to understand the principle of your amnesia, you must find this medicine that can make you lose your memory.” Han Yun took a deep breath and said, “When I was investigating the issue of amnesia medicine in various places, the Jian Family found me.” “They are willing to pay a sky-high amount of money to let me keep a copy of this medicine for them. They want to keep it for backup.” “I was indeed short of money when I traveled everywhere, so I agreed.” “But I didn’t expect that the young lady they were talking about who needed to wash away her past memories was actually you.” “... don’t want to lose my memory.” Alora bit her lips and looked at him helplessly “So Doctor Han...”

“Can you pretend to give me medicine and I also pretended to have lost my memory?” She looked up at him seriously “Then you go find Samir...” “No,” Han Yun glanced at her indifferently.

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 194

Chapter 194 Who Are You

Alora was a little desperate.

She looked at Han Yun helplessly. “Doctor Han...”

Lowering her voice, the woman took a deep breath. “If you lack money, when you go out, my old guild will give you a lot.”

“You don’t have to...” Han Yun glanced at her indifferently and smiled. “Alora, do you think I still lack money here?” After that, he began to apply the medicine gracefully.

The slender needle was inserted into a small bottle and then injected into another. “You may not know much about the Jian family of the European giants.”

“The Jian family, both black and white, is a big tiger in the continent that is not to be trifled with.”

“The Jian family has a deep background and is not to be trifled with, but there are many people who covet the Jian family’s property or make enemies with the Jian family.”

“Twenty-three years ago, Jian Mingzhong, the head of the Jian family with power, passed away in a car accident. His wife, who was seven months pregnant, secretly escaped to an unknown city to take care of her child.”

“After Jian Mingzhong passed away, the Jian family was turned upside down. In the family, relatives. competed for power and profit. Outside the family, people who coveted the Jian family glared at them.”

“Later, the child was stolen. Ruyan Liu had no choice but to return to the Jian family.”

“This Ruyan Liu is also a powerful person.”

“After returning to the Jian family, she directly pulled out the first person to stand up and fight for power. She personally punched him into a hole with a pistol.”

“Because of this matter, Ruyan Liu made a name for the Jian family. She became the new head of the Jian family.”

“Then she began to deal with the others of the Jian family while secretly sending people to search for her daughter.” “It has been twenty-three years now...”

Alora listened to Han Yun and was lost in thought. “The Ruyan you are talking about...”

is my mother?"

"What do you think?"

"However, in the past, the Jian family had always turned a blind eye to the matter of finding the young miss of the Jian family." "After all, they feel that the family head is still young and many things can be taken slowly." "Many people are pessimistic about finding the young miss. They think that the young miss was not stolen by some bodyguard. She should be dead." Alora frowned.

Judging from how the butler and the others had brought her back and were burning with anxiety to wash her memories, they seemed to be in a hurry.

It was not what Han Yun had said.

As if seeing through Alora's doubts, Han Yun Shrugged. "I said it before. That was in the past."

"The current Jian family is full of troops."

Alora frowned, puzzled.

"The Jian family has encountered an unprecedented crisis." The man took a deep breath. "Half a month ago, the head of the Jian family, Liu Ruyan, was poisoned and turned into a vegetable." Suddenly, Alora raised his head. "A vegetable?"

"Yes."

"After Ruyan Liu became a vegetable, the Jian family became a group of dragons without a leader. Most of their business in Europe was taken away by the LY Group, the second largest businessman in Europe."

"The LY Group has been watching the Jian family for a long time. They can't take the first place in Europe, so they stared at the Jian family. Some people even said that Ruyan Liu was drugged because of the LY Group "The Jian family has no cards to compete with the LY Group. The only thing they can rely on is marriage." "And marriage requires the young lady of the Jian family to return to her original position."

Alora sucked in a breath of cold air.

So, the Jian family spent so much effort to get her from the country, tie her up, and brainwash her, just to... let her marry?

"But I am already married!"

"No one cares."

Han Yun smiled, pinched the syringe, and slowly walked towards Alora.

The woman was instantly alarmed!

She subconsciously dodged backwards, but she could not avoid it no matter what! In the end, the moment Han Yun's needle pierced into her skin, she suddenly raised her head and looked at him, "What's the use of you telling me this?" "Didn't I forget everything after you pricked me with this needle?"

"I think it was wrong for Samir to say that you were stupid before." Han Yun looked at her with a faint smile. Alora frowned and was about to say something when her vision suddenly darkened.

She had a very long dream. In her dream, she was tied to the bed of a mental hospital, and was injected with sedatives time and time again, struggling again and again.

She screamed like a madman, screaming –

"I want my child!"

"I want my child!"

"My child is still alive!"

"Don't look for your child. They won't recognize you for the rest of their lives!" the people in the hospital warned.

"You just provided your stomach. Do you really think they will marry you and take you seriously?"

"Doctor Liu, she has always been so crazy. We have no other choice. Let's use our trump card."

"Let her forget all of this."

Alora widened her eyes and screamed as she was injected with an unknown liquid, The liquid was exactly the same as the one that Han Yun had injected her with. The memory fell forward again.

Justin rescued her from the fire.

"I shouldn't have saved you in the first place. But now, I have caused a lot of trouble."

Justin carried her thin and unconscious body and sighed helplessly, "They said that I would strangle you to death. How could I be ruthless..." "But I didn't expect that I would have to pay so much for you, little girl!" "Don't get into trouble again! We've found some clues over there." "There's no other way. We can only send you to the mental hospital to hide for a while." "No matter how powerful the Jian family is, they can't think of going to the mental hospital." Alora closed his eyes and listened to his words. He couldn't help but smile.

Time went back.

Back to the fire.

Qin Ling, who was dressed in a suit and leather shoes, smiled and stood in front of her.

"You take the children to have a good rest. My brother will come back to see you soon."

"You don't have to thank me. As a person of Rowan family, I naturally can't bear to see you separate from the children. I will not let you suffer."

"I have already taught them a good lesson. Those who cheated you to transport them will have to pay the price."

"Thank you."

Alora looked greedily at the two children in his arms and thanked Qin Ling seriously.

Later, it was dark.

She choked on the fire. Thick smoke billowed.

Her first reaction was to cover the faces of the children with a wet towel.

A man rushed in.

He was handsome, handsome, and imposing.

"I am the child's father!" "I'll take you away!" the man pulled her up. "Take them away first!" Alora glanced at the skinny children. "Okay, wait for me to come back!"

After saying this, the man carried the two children and disappeared into the sea of fire.

The fire burned brighter and brighter. She waited in the fire, but she never came back.

The fire swallowed everything in her, and the tongue of fire licked her face, making it difficult for her to breathe. In an extremely unbearable situation, Alora suddenly opened her eyes.

In front of her was still the villa of the Jian family.

She had a dream.

"Looks like I remember."

Han Yun, who was sitting on the sofa, had her legs crossed elegantly and her gaze was indifferent. "How do you feel?" "Who are you?" Alora frowned and looked at him warily.

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 195

Chapter 195 Do You Believe That I Will Take Your Life Now?

“Alora.”

Han Yun frowned.

Although he said that he was giving her the medicine to make her lose her memory, in fact, he was giving her the antidote!

She should remember everything about the past now.

Why did Alora look like he had really been injected with amnesia?

He lowered his eyes and looked at the medicine in the medicine box. He was puzzled.

How did she...

“Are you acting?” “Although I am an actor.”

“But I am not acting.” Alora raised her eyes and looked at him indifferently.

The woman turned to look at her hands that were tied to the bed by chains. Her eyebrows were tightly knitted together. “Let me go.”

“You don’t remember me?” Han Yun took a deep breath.

“Do I need to know you?” Alora narrowed his eyes and smiled.

“Then do you remember who you are? Who is your father, who is your husband, and who is your child?”

A layer of coldness appeared in Alora’s eyes.

The woman’s cold gaze made Han Yun shrink his body. There was a problem.

Either there was something wrong with the ingredients of the antidote, or someone had changed his medicine.

The current Alora was completely different from before. Even his eyes were different. “I just want to confirm your current condition.” He took a step back and swallowed his saliva.

“My name is Alora.” Alora rolled his eyes coldly. “She is the eldest daughter of the Jian Family who has been lost to Banyan City.” “My father is the patriarch of the Jian Family who passed away many years ago. My mother, Ruyan Liu, became the patriarch of the Jian Family after her father died. She was drugged and became a vegetable not long ago.” “My adoptive father is called Justin.”

“I have three children. Two sons and one daughter. When the daughter was born, she was thrown away by someone. Two sons were taken away by their father in the fire.”

“I have an ex-boyfriend called Truett. He is a small star. He is living a good life now.”

“I still have...”

The more Han Yun listened to her words, the more he felt that something was wrong.

“You remember all of this...”

“Then... do you remember your husband?” “What a joke. Where did I get a husband?”

The Jian family asked me to come back to arrange a marriage for me. How can I have a husband?” Alora looked up.

Han Yun knocked on his forehead.

He still felt unwilling. The man took out his phone and searched for a long time. He found a photo of a man and put it in front of Alora. “Do you know him?”

The man in the photo had a cold face and delicate facial features. He was dressed in a black suit and looked aloof and cold. The man in the photo matched the man who abandoned her in the fire in her mind...

“.. Wait for me to come back...” “... Don’t look for your child. They will never recognize you in this life.”

“... You only provided your stomach. Do you really think that they will marry you and take you seriously...”

“... Don’t blame us for treating you like this. It was your child’s father who asked for it. He doesn’t want you to leave alive...” The fragments of pain and suffering in her mind gradually pieced together and became the face of the man in front of her. She stared at the photo, the hatred in her eyes growing deeper and deeper.

Finally, she raised her head coldly. “Where is he?”

Seeing that she had a reaction to Samir’s photo, Han Yun was immediately overjoyed.

“You still remember him, right?”

“I know him even if he turned into ashes.”

“Where is he?” she asked, raising her eyes.

“He is not in a good condition right now. He is unconscious every day and his life is uncertain..” Han Yun sighed.

Originally, he thought that Alora would be sad and worried if he said so.

However, she only faintly frowned. “It would be a pity to die like this.” Han Yun’s body stiffened.

“A person like him should be hacked into a thousand pieces.”

Han Yun, “..”

He raised his head and realized that Alora’s eyes were filled with hatred when he mentioned Samir.

This...

“You don’t like him anymore?” he asked weakly. “How could I like him?”

“Take my child away and let me wait in the fire.”

“I waited until I was unconscious, but he never came to me again.” “He locked me up in a mental hospital and tortured me every day. He didn’t let me see my child. I almost lost my life several times.”

“In the end, he injected me with the medicine that lost my memory. He was afraid that I would miss my child and that I would take the child away.”

With that, she looked up coldly at Han Yun. “Such a man, I wish I could tear him to pieces!”

“Bang!” Han Yun fell limply to the ground. He had not used the wrong medicine.

Alora had indeed remembered the memories she had lost in the past few years.

However, there was still a problem with the medicine.

She had forgotten everything related to Samir. Her feelings for Samir had changed from liking and love to disgust and hatred.

This...

If he started running for his life now, would he be able to avoid Samir’s pursuit?

At this time, the butler pushed open the door and entered. “Doctor Han, what’s wrong?”

“How is our young miss now?” The butler smiled and helped him up. “Housekeeper Shen.”

Before Han Yun could speak, Alora, who was sitting on the bed, gave him a cold look.

The woman’s voice was cold. “Did you do everything possible to tie me back from Banyan City just to lock me up in the room as a doll?”

The tone of her voice and the look in her eyes were completely different from before!

“Young miss, you finally admit that you are the young miss of our Jian family?” Butler Shen greeted her in surprise.

“Are you still not going to untie me?” Alora nodded. “Hurry, hurry, untie the young miss!” “Go!” he ordered the servant behind him excitedly. “There’s no need for them. You can do it yourself.” Alora glanced at him coldly. Housekeeper Shen hesitated for a moment. Leaning against the bed, the woman smiled at him. “Why? As the eldest daughter of the Jian family, can’t I order you, a housekeeper, to serve me?” Housekeeper Shen paused, then took a deep breath and walked over with a smile. “It’s my honor to serve the eldest daughter.”

As he spoke, he took the key and quickly opened the chains.

The moment he opened the chain, a cold light flashed in Alora’s eyes. The next second, the woman’s hand accurately grabbed the housekeeper’s neck and pressed him directly against the wall.

Her movements were so fast that no one had time to react. When she came back to her senses, Housekeeper Shen had already been controlled by her. “You’ve been hiding your strength all this time. Do you think I’m easy to bully?” “Tie me up with chains?” “Believe it or not, I’ll take your life now!” Looking at Alora like this, Han Yun, who was sitting on the ground, subconsciously moved his body backward. He had caused a huge mess.

The little sheep had been turned into a little pepper by the antidote he had given her.

“Young... Young miss.”

The butler was stuck in the neck by Alora, and his face turned purple. “You...”

“Spare me...”

“Now you know to spare me?”

Alora snorted coldly and continued to exert his strength.

“Alora!” Seeing that the butler was about to roll his eyes, Han Yun, who was behind him, hurriedly called out her name.

Only then did the woman narrow her eyes slightly. She raised her long leg and kicked the butler hard on the leg, releasing him.

The butler was in pain and had no strength. In the end, he fell to the ground, leaning against the wall.

Alora turned around and returned to the bed. He crossed his legs and sat there gracefully, looking down at the butler.

“Now do you know who is the master and who is the servant in this family?”

The butler held his neck that was painfully pinched and said with difficulty, “I... I know.”

“Very good.”

The woman stared coldly at the housekeeper’s face. “I have a task for you.”

“Please speak.”

“I have three children.”

“Two sons and one daughter.” Alora raised her hand and gently played with her hair.

“Now their age should be...”

“They should be five years old,” she said as she glanced at the time.

“What was the name of the man in the photo just now?” she asked.

“Samir.” Han Yun was stunned.

“Yes.”

“The father of the children is called Samir.” The woman looked at the housekeeper indifferently.

“He has two sons. One daughter needs to be found.”

“I’ll give you a week to bring my children back.”

The housekeeper covered his neck and raised his head with difficulty. “Miss, you... you came back this time to marry the Ji family and let our Jian family get the investment...”

“Isn’t it inappropriate for you to look for your child so openly?” “When did I agree to your marriage?” Alora raised his eyebrows.

“If you don’t get married, our Jian family...”

The woman sneered.

“In your eyes, other than getting married, there is no other way to get your family out of trouble?”

“Don’t forget, I am Ruyan Liu’s daughter.” Her mother was able to rely on her own strength to make the Jian family stand strong in the European business world after her father died. She could also do it!

Thinking of this, Alora raised his eyebrows lightly. “I can do what she can do.” The butler still looked hesitant, “But...”

“But what is!”

“You won’t listen to what I say?” Alora glared at him.

“No, I won’t dare.”

“Then why aren’t you going?”

“A week later, I want to see my three children,” the woman said, glaring at the housekeeper.

After that, she thought about it again. “Bring Samir here as well.” “Why did you bring Samir here?” Han Yun immediately coughed.

If Samir knew that Alora was like this because there was something wrong with the medicine he gave her... he would probably cut him into eight pieces on the spot. “Of course, I’ll catch him and beat him up.” Alora looked at him coldly.

After she finished speaking, she suddenly thought of something and turned to look at Han Yun indifferently. “Is this Samir married?”

If she remembered correctly, that woman had come up with such a method because she wanted to marry Samir but had no fertility.

Han Yun hesitated for a moment.

The target was the one in front of him. “I really love his wife.”

“What are you still doing here? Get out and find someone!” Alora yawned and glared at the butler coldly.

The butler paused for a moment, then crawled up from the ground and quickly left the room.

“Butler Shen, are you really... going to help First Miss find her child and the one with the surname Qin?”

Coming out of Alora’s room, a group of servants followed behind the butler and bowed to hand him tissues.

Butler Shen took the tissue and gave the man a cold look. “Why did you find them? Do you want her to recover her memory?”

After saying that, she took a tissue and wiped the cold sweat on her forehead. “I knew this Han Yun would be troublesome. I specially found someone to change his medicine.” “In order not to be discovered, I did not have a large dose.” He looked ahead, his eyes deep and cold. “But it seems that it is enough for now.” “But Butler Shen...”

The servant behind her hesitated for a moment, then said, “Why do I feel that the current First Miss is better than the First Miss who has not lost her memory...”

Although Alora was also noisy before she lost her memory, she was not so violent. Now that she has lost her memory, her personality seems to have changed.

“What is the use?” Butler Shen sneered.

“Let her make a scene first. When the wedding is over, knock her out and send her to the Ji family.”

“Once the marriage is over, she will be a member of the Ji family.”

After Ruyan Liu became a vegetable, the LY Group glared at her. The outer members of the Jian family always wanted to take over the Jian family and swallow the Jian family. Now the Jian family was under the enemy.

Although the Jian family had married the Second Young Miss to the Second Young Master of the Ji family not long ago, this was far from enough.

The real rich and powerful family of the Ji family was the First House of the Ji family.

The Young Master of the First House, Leo, had not only been engaged to Alora since he was a child, but also had a heavy relationship. If Alora married over earlier, the Jian family would be saved! Thinking of this, Butler Shen frowned. “Oh right, did the Ji family reply?” The servant paused, “Yes...”

“They said that Young Master Leo went back to Banyan City overnight. It seems that something happened to the girl he likes...” Butler Shen frowned.

“The Ji family did not say how long it would take for him to return?” “It is said that it will take one to two weeks...”

One to two weeks. Faintly, Steward Shen remembered that Alora had given him a week to bring the three children back. After a long silence, he glanced at the servant and said,

“Let’s pretend to look around first. Don’t let her find any flaws.”

If he didn’t do anything, he was afraid that he would be strangled to death by her before Leo came back.

“Do you think that Housekeeper Shen will really help you find the children?” Standing in Alora’s bedroom, Han Yun looked at the back of Housekeeper Shen in the distance and asked the woman behind him with a frown. “Of course he can’t really help me, but at least he has to put on a show.” Han Yun paused and quickly turned back. “Then what are you going to do? Don’t you want to find him?” “Of course not.” Alora lowered his eyes and stared at the shining blade. “I plan to go back to Banyan City to find them after deal with the Jian family.” Seeing her sharpening the blade, Han Yun subconsciously took a step back. “That will take a long time, right?”

“Do you have a better way?” Alora looked up at him.

Han Yun was silent for a while. After a while, he raised his head. “Why don’t we let Samir bring the child over himself?” “Are they willing to come obediently?” Alora smiled.

“I can contact Rowan family,” Han Yun nodded.

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 197

Chapter 197 I Want to Make a Deal with You

"Then contact me." Alora glanced at him indifferently.

Han Yun took out his phone.

He remembered that he had saved Rowan family's number, but no matter how he searched in his phone, he only found one Qin Lingyi.

The man frowned and thought about it.

Qin Ling could do the same.

After all, they were all Rowan family's people.

Taking a deep breath, he walked out of the room and dialed Qin Ling Yi's number in the corridor.

Banyan City Central Hospital.

After a whole night of coma, Samir finally woke up.

When he woke up, it was early in the morning, and it was quiet everywhere.

There were two beds in the ward. He was lying on one bed, and three little guys were lying on the other bed.

Looking at the three of them hugging each other and sleeping together, the man sighed helplessly.

He did not want to disturb them, so he held the bed with difficulty and walked out of the ward with his cane.

"Sir!"

Mathias had been napping on the bench in the corridor. Seeing that Samir had come out, the man directly jumped up. Samir gestured for him to keep quiet. Mathias glanced back at the three sleeping children in the ward and lowered his voice. "They have been guarding you for a day and night. They are very tired."

"When did you wake up? How do you feel now?" He quickly helped Samir up.

"I'm fine."

"Is there any news about her?" Samir asked carefully as he sat down on the bench.

The man's question made Mathias fall silent.

After a long time, he sighed. "No," he said. "We have searched all of Banyan City's airports and stations."

"We have checked almost all the surveillance cameras. We could not find any traces of Madam leaving the city." "But she is definitely no longer in Banyan City." "We have also checked the cities in the country, but we did not find Madam's entry records..." Mathias carefully looked at Li Jingchuan's face. "So... should we use the manpower in Europe."

"We can search for another day in the country. If we can't find it, let's start over there."

Samir closed his eyes. "Okay." Mathias nodded.

After talking about finding Alora, Mathias was silent for a while. "What about Nancy?"

"After Madam took her back, we locked her up. She has been locked up for several days now." "Second Young Master came to see you yesterday. He seems to be here to plead for leniency..."

Samir rubbed his eyebrows.

"Lock her up first."

"When she comes back... let her deal with it herself."

The one that Nancy hurt was Alora. ,

The one who was sorry was also Alora.

The one who even caught her was also Alora.

Although Alora was not with Banyan City now, he believed that she would come back eventually.

“Samir.”

At this time, a man’s deep voice came from the end of the corridor.

Samir raised his head.

What met his eyes was Qin Ling’s smiling eyes. At this moment, the sky was bright. The tall and straight Qin Ling was wearing a trench coat, holding a fruit basket and flowers as he strode towards him. Samir narrowed his eyes. The image of six years ago, after the fire, Qin Ling also went to the hospital to see him. “Don’t worry, we have already buried the child’s mother.” “You have already tried your best. Don’t blame yourself too much.” “In the future, you have to live well with the children.”

The words that Qin Ling said in front of his bed back then seemed to still echo in his ears. Back then, he was still the same as before. He felt that his eldest brother was distant, and his second brother was the one who truly loved him.

He believed that he was true and treated him as his closest relative.

But now.

He watched Qin Ling walk towards him step by step, and felt that it was ironic.

Qin Ling clearly knew everything.

Back then, he had told Samir that he had found Chen Qian, the girl who he had inadvertently slept with and was pregnant.

Back then, he was also the one who said that Chen Qian’s corpse was properly buried.

But the result...

Five years later, when Qin Ling saw Alora standing beside him, he chose to remain silent and say nothing.

While Alora was desperately searching for the non-existent Chen Qian, he was still silent and secretly helped Nancy

His brother, who he thought was closest to, was only protecting Nancy from beginning to end.

“Samir.”

Qin Ling also stood in front of Samir and looked at him with concern in his eyes. “How is she? Is she well?” “I also asked my friend who works in the police station to investigate the matter of Alora’s disappearance...” “Will you worry about her?”

“You should wish that she would never come back, right?” Samir looked up and glanced at Qin Ling Yi’s face coldly.

The man’s words made Qin Ling silent for a moment.

“I know that Alora is missing, and you are in a bad mood.”

“But second brother is indeed worried about her and you.”

“You are worried about Nancy, aren’t you?” Samir snorted. “Nancy has done something wrong. I am willing to apologize for her.” Qin Ling smiled faintly and sat down on the bench next to Samir.

“She is just too willful...”

Samir narrowed his eyes. He turned to look at Qin Ling and then looked up at the front.

“One wilfulness can be educated, two wilfulness can be protected, but three?” “It was the first time that Nancy asked Alora to replace her and set me up.” “It was the second time I set a fire when I first met Alora.” “I specially hired a killer to kill her while she was filming in the mountain village. It was the third time.”

After that, the man turned to look at Qin Lingyi again. “Do you have no bottom line to shield her?”

“But I’m sorry, I have.”

“I didn’t know what she did to Alora the previous two times.”

“If I knew, I wouldn’t have let her live for the third time!” The man’s words made Qin Lingyi’s face turn slightly pale. “Nancy has indeed done a lot of wrong things...” “It was my sister who taught her well.” Qin Ling also closed his eyes.

“If you marry Samir, then my plan will progress a lot faster,” he said in front of Nancy. Because of this sentence, Nancy became like this.

She had always wanted to be on par with him and become his right-hand man. He always knew. Thinking of this, Qin Ling sighed, “Samir, I’m not here to quarrel with you.” “I’m here... to make a deal with you.”

Samir frowned and turned to stare at him coldly, not saying a word.

The air in the corridor quieted down. “I found Alora’s whereabouts,” Qin Ling coughed. “But in exchange, I hope you can release Nancy and let me take her away.”

Chapter 198 Get Ready, Set off Tomorrow

The air in the hospital corridor suddenly became quiet. The atmosphere began to tense up.

Samir frowned and turned to look at the ward behind him.

There was already a gap in the originally closed door.

He sighed lightly and looked up at Qin Lingyi coldly. “Second brother.”

“Is Nancy that important to you?”

“That depends on how important Alora is in your heart.” Qin Lingyi chuckled.

“Alora is important to me because she is my wife, the mother of my child, and the woman I love most in my life.” Samir changed to a comfortable position and leaned against the bench. “In that case, what is Nancy to you?”

“Perhaps, it is also your favorite.”

“I only want to ask you if you are willing to make this deal.”

“You must have tried your best to find it. How many clues have you found?” he said, looking at Samir.

“My information will allow you to immediately grasp Alora’s movements. If you had known earlier, she would have easily returned to your side.” “Do you want to make this deal or not...”

“Up to you.”

Samir narrowed his eyes.

Qin Ling was deliberately provoking him.

The man took a deep breath, and his eyes were cold. “Since second brother can find news about Alora, I believe that I can find it with my own ability.” After that, he smiled coldly. “I think that even if Alora knows, she will support my decision.” “She will not hope that I will let go of the person she personally caught in order to get news of her.”

Qin Lingyi’s eyes suddenly turned cold.

“Samir, do you have to go against second brother like this?”

“Second brother, do you have to indulge Nancy like this?” Samir sneered, After saying that, he changed to a comfortable position and leaned against the bench. “Or, Nancy has done so many things. You are not indulging her...”

“Is he ordering her?”

Qin Ling narrowed his eyes and smiled. “I just think she is a little girl.” “If you are not willing to make this deal, forget it. I have a way to make you hand over Nancy obediently.”

After saying this, he stood up and looked down at Samir, who was sitting on the chair.

“But, whether you can find Alora or not, or if she is still your wife when you find Alora, it is uncertain.”

After saying that, the man lifted his leg and strode away.

Samir leaned against the chair and closed his eyes silently.

When Qin Ling also walked to the elevator door, he called out to him lightly, “Second Brother.”

The man stopped in his tracks. Qin Ling looked back at him coldly. “What is it?”

“Going back on your word?” “The relationship between brothers can’t compare to that of a scheming Nancy?” Samir frowned.

He knew that no matter whether he agreed to Qin Lingzhi or not, his brothers would never be the same as before.

“Who is your brother?” Qin Ling paused and smiled.

He looked at Samir with a cruel coldness in his eyes. “My mother is the official wife of the old man. Do you remember what your mother is?”

“Do you deserve to call me brother?”

After saying this, Qin Ling sneered and stepped into the elevator.

Watching his figure disappear into the elevator, Samir clenched his uninjured hand into a fist.

He, Qin Jian’an and Qin Lingyi were indeed not born of the same mother.

Qin Jian’an and Qin Lingyi’s mother were the old man’s original wife.

And Samir was born from a young and beautiful woman brought back by the old man after Mrs. Qin died.

She was only two years older than Old Master Rowan’s eldest son, Qin Jian’an. Rowan family would not allow the old man to marry her.

She stayed by the old man’s side silently, maintaining this relationship that no one thought highly of.

Not long after giving birth to Samir, she died of depression. The relationship between Rowan family’s three brothers was actually not as good as it seemed on the surface.

But all along, Qin Jianan was the only one who had shown obvious disgust towards Samir.

Qin Ling had always appeared in the image of an amiable second brother.

When he was young, he treated himself well, which made Samir always feel that Qin Ling was different from Qin Jian’an.

But now...

He looked at Qin Ling Yi’s back and narrowed his eyes slightly.

No wonder Nancy was so good at pretending.

It turned out that he had a good teacher to teach him.

“Daddy.”

Just as the man was silent, the door of the ward behind him opened.

“Daddy, come in!” James poked his head out of the door of the ward and looked at Samir excitedly.

Only then did Samir come back to his senses and push the door open to enter the ward. James silently closed the door behind him. On the two beds in the ward, Steve and Stella, who were holding their notebooks and typing away at lightning speed, were sitting.

“How is it?” Samir frowned and walked over.

“I tracked him down.”

Taking a deep breath, Stella took the lead and said, “When you were dealing with that person just now, Brother Steve and I had already started to locate the person he was closest to.”

“According to the data analysis, an hour before he came here, he received a call.”

“The source of the call came from...”

Stella widened her eyes. After a while, she raised her head and opened her big watery eyes. “From the second family in Europe, the Jian family.”

The Jian family.

Samir frowned. He had heard of the Jian family.

The Jian family was once the number one family in Europe. Later, the head of the Jian family passed away and the Jian family began to be controlled by his wife, Ruyan Liu. After Ruyan Liu took over, the Jian family changed from the number one family in Europe to the second family.

But although it was the second family, the Jian family had always maintained a good relationship with the first family, and the marriage of a marriage had been involved for many years. “The owner of the number that called Second Uncle has been locked. His name is Han Yun.” “He contacted Mommy before and went abroad to look for the genius doctor who saved her amnesia,” Steve said.

Samir frowned. The Jian family

Han Yun.

A bad feeling rose from the bottom of his heart... “Recently, the news from Europe about the Jian family is that the Jian family has found the eldest daughter of the Jian family who has been lost many years ago.” “If this eldest daughter of the Jian family returns to the Jian family, she will abide by the agreement and marry the eldest young master of the Ji family, Leo. From now on, the Jian family will be protected by the Ji family and will not be swallowed up by competitors.” “Daddy, what are you going to do?” Steve looked up at Samir. What to do...

“Mathias, get ready. I’m going to Europe.” Samir narrowed his eyes and picked up his phone.

“I’m going too.”

“I’m Uncle Leo’s adopted daughter. I’m more familiar with that area.” Stella blinked her big eyes and raised her hand carefully “Bring me along too.” “I can help you crack a lot of computer mechanisms,” Steve said as she closed her laptop silently. “The Jian family has many traps. I can’t do without me.”

Seeing that his brother and sister had said so, James could only silently raise his hand, “That... I can help you lie. My mouth is still quite powerful..”

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 199

Chapter 199 Can You Hug Me

At the Jian family mansion.

Alora sat in the study, flipping through the books of economics that she could not understand while listening to the teacher in front of her telling her the basics of economics.

It had been three days since Han Yun called Rowan family.

She did not have much hope on Housekeeper Shen's side, but there was no movement from Han Yun.

The woman frowned tightly, and a trace of helplessness appeared between her brows. In these three days, she tried to escape from the Jian family several times, but she failed every time. Either she was caught by someone, or she didn't escape at all. She bit the pencil and stared at the book in the hands of the teacher in front of her, lost in thought.

In the beginning, she had threatened Housekeeper Shen and said that she could also restore the Jian family to its glory like Ruyan Liu. But when she really started class and understood the business of the Jian family, she knew one thing – she was not this material.

But it was even more impossible for her to marry a stranger.

To her, the Jian family was just a family that had just returned.

She did not have a sense of belonging to the Jian family, nor did she feel that she was a member of the Jian family. She would not waste her happiness for the Jian family.

The only thing she wanted to do now was to go to Banyan City and find her three children. Then, she would grab Samir and make him kneel in front of her to apologize to her.

Thinking of this, the woman could not help but turn her head to look at the scenery outside the window, wanting to find another way to escape from the garden.

Not long after, the class was over.

The teacher looked at Alora helplessly as he packed his things. "Miss, with your learning attitude, it is impossible for you to become an outstanding successor of the Jian family." Alora rolled her eyes at him. "Who said that I am going to become an outstanding successor of the Jian family?" She did not want to inherit at all!

The teacher in charge of teaching her sighed, shook his head and left.

Alora did not even look at it. She continued to sit by the window and look at the small garden outside.

Not long after, she found a small gap in the north of the small garden.

Although the gap was not big, she was thin. It should not be a problem to pass through there. The woman continued to look forward.

The gap leads to...

It's the road outside!

Alora jumped up from the chair excitedly.

Just as she was about to go to the gap in the back garden to investigate, a small black figure came in through the gap.

Alora was too far away to see the other person's face clearly.

But she could see that it was a little boy who was dressed in black and looked only five or six years old.

After the little fellow walked in from the outside, he looked around the back garden like a thief.

And only a fake mountain was separated from him. Housekeeper Shen and a few bodyguards were hurriedly walking forward. In other words, as long as Housekeeper Shen and the others turned around, they would be able to see the little fellow who had just barged in! Sitting at the window of the study on the second floor, Alora frowned and hesitated for a long time. In the end, he still opened the window a second before the housekeeper and the others turned.

“Housekeeper Shen!”

The woman’s crisp voice caused Housekeeper Shen and the others to pause. In the distance, the little boy in black also looked up at her in shock.

Feeling the shock in the little guy’s eyes, Alora gave him a look that told him to leave quickly. Then, he leaned on the window and looked at Housekeeper Shen with a smile,

“My class today is over.”

Steward Shen frowned and chuckled with some disdain. “Then, Young Miss, have you learned it?”

“It’s just so-so. There’s a question that I’m not clear about. I want to ask you for advice.”

“I’ll go deal with the matter now. I’ll come and answer your questions after I’m done.”

After he finished speaking, he turned around and left with a group of attendants.

After the housekeeper left, Alora let out a long sigh of relief and looked in the direction of the little boy.

The little guy in black was already squatting on the rockery and waving at her with a smile, indicating for her to go over.

Alora frowned.

According to her current personality, for a strange little boy, it was already the limit for her to help him before Steward Shen and the others found him.

But...

The woman pondered in the study for a long time, but in the end, she still lifted her legs and went downstairs to the small garden.

There was a small cave in the rockery, and there were stone stools in the small cave.

When Alora arrived at the rockery, the little fellow in black was sitting on the stone bench and looking at her with a smile.

“I knew you would come to see me.”

The little guy who looked five or six years old blinked and looked at Li Yue with a smile.

Li Yue frowned.

This little guy looked a little familiar.

However, she could not remember when she had seen him before.

Taking a deep breath, the woman stared at him. “What is your name?”

“My name is James.”

“You are my mommy,” the little fellow said smilingly as he sat on the stone bench.

Alora was stunned.

A moment later, she shook her head helplessly and smiled.

She indeed had two sons and one daughter, but her two sons were both with Banyan City and Samir.

How could they come to the Jian family?

"It's possible."

"Daddy knows that you are in the Jian family, so we came here without stopping."

James sighed.

"After we came to Europe, we found Doctor Han Yun. We knew that you lost your memory and didn't remember us."

"But I am your real son!" As the little fellow spoke, she took out a crumpled DNA report from her pocket. "This is a photocopy. It clearly states that my mommy is you and daddy is Samir." Alora frowned, took the piece of paper, and opened it. "According to the appraisal, the possibility of James and Alora being mother and son is 99.99."

Looking at the number on the appraisal report, Alora paused. "Are you really my son?" she asked, raising her head. "Of course!"

"Then..." "Where are your brothers and sisters?" she asked, glancing in the direction of the gap.

"They are at the hotel!" "Daddy took us to the hotel and said that he would visit the Jian family tomorrow." James smiled and looked at Alora. "But I missed you so much that I secretly came to find you." After saying that, the little fellow took a deep breath, stood up, and walked to Alora's side.

He stood in front of the woman and silently stretched out his arms. "Can you hug me?"

"I miss you so much." Looking at the little fellow's big black eyes in front of him, Alora's heart fiercely moved. This little fellow's eyes were too beautiful.

It was so beautiful that she felt that if she did not agree to hug him today, it would all be unpardonable.

The woman took a deep breath and reached out to hold James in her arms. But what she did not expect was that when her body and James were hugging each other, she suddenly felt a pain in her back!

She quickly let go of him and found that the little fellow was holding a blood needle in his hand!

And the blood on the needle was inserted in her body!

Happy Mommy Happy Daddy Chapter 200

Chapter 200 I Am the Boss of Our Family!

"Little thing, you hurt me!"

Alora grabbed James by the neck and pressed him against the wall. "Who are you?"

The coldness in her eyes stunned James for a few seconds. A few seconds later, the little fellow began to struggle. "I am... your son." "Mommy, I am... testing whether you are my biological mother or not." Alora frowned.

Looking at the little fellow's big black eyes, she was silent for a moment and loosened her grip. But her face was still cold and she stared at him coldly. "Speak clearly!" "It's like this..." "Have you ever heard that old saying?" James asked, holding her finger. "A tiger doesn't eat its own children." "Even if you don't remember us now, as long as you admit that we are your children, you will not hurt us." Alora narrowed her eyes. "A tiger would never eat its own child if it were poisonous. The premise was that the tiger's son would not hurt her!" After saying that, she glanced at James' little face. "If the needle you just used was a poisonous needle would I still be alive now?"

"Of course I do."

"Aren't you still alive and well?" James blinked her big eyes at him.

Alora frowned, and the coldness in his eyes increased. "What I said is, if that was a poison needle just now, I am now..." Before she finished speaking, she suddenly felt her body go soft, her legs went limp, and her entire body was floating...

All the strength in her body seemed to have been taken away.

At the same time, she loosened her grip on James.

The little guy grabbed her hand and tried his best to support her soft body. "Mommy, the one I just pricked you with is a poison needle."

Alora's eyes became colder and more hateful, "Who the hell are you..."

The little guy said something in her ear again. She was already unconscious and could not hear anything clearly

"You are still watching the show. Come and help!"

When Alora completely fainted, James frowned and struggled to support her body while shouting into the headphones.

"We'll be there soon!"

"Second Brother, you really know how to lie!" Stella's smiling voice came from the headphones. "Stop talking nonsense, I'll be discovered by the Jian Family later!" James rolled his eyes. "No, I won't."

"Everyone in the Jian Family is in my surveillance range. Butler Shen has been pinned down by Daddy. Don't worry."

"Don't be so fierce to Stella," Steve said again after a pause. "She is my sister."

James curled his lips.

He was just too anxious and his tone was a little heavy. How could he be so fierce to Stella?

It had only been a few days since his sister came back, but his big brother seemed to no longer love him!

Just as he was thinking this, Han Yun's low voice came from behind him. "Little James, I'm here."

"Come help." James supported Alora and let Han Yun carry her. Under the cover of several bodyguards, they left through the gap behind the garden. After Han Yun carried the car, James did not forget to tell the bodyguards, "Seal this gap and do not let the Jian family see it."

After making the arrangements, James took a deep breath and got into the car.

It was a limousine.

Han Yun put Alora down on the bed in the middle of the RV and then tied her up with a belt.

"Mommy, are you really so scary now?" Stella asked as she rested her chin on her hands and looked at the woman who was still tied up.

"Yes!" Han Yun quickly nodded.

With Alora's current strength, if he did not use this kind of coaxing and deception method, there was no way for her to obediently follow them!

This woman's temper was very explosive right now!

"That's for you," Steve said as she lowered her head and tapped on her computer.

"Maybe Mommy won't treat us." "When she was chatting with James just now, her attitude was very good." "Maybe losing her memories will cause a person's temperament to change greatly, but her attitude towards her family will not change.” Stella sat at the side and silently read Steve’s words.

Relatives...

She finally had relatives...

Subconsciously, the little girl reached out and held Alora’s finger.

“Mommy, you have to get better soon.”

She still wanted to go to the beach with the gentle Alora from before and do a lot of things she dreamed of but never did.

The little girl’s words made the air in the car suddenly silent.

James sighed, walked over and gently hugged Stella’s shoulder. “She will get better. Trust me.” Steve frowned slightly and did not say anything. The car started to drive.

However, their car was forced to stop after two intersections from the Jian family.

“Someone is blocking the way.”

“Young masters, what should we do?” the driver asked.

James frowned and subconsciously looked at the front of the car.

They saw a pure black car parked in front of their RV.

A middle-aged man in black and black pants opened the door and stood in front of the car indifferently. He looked up at them.

Han Yun looked up and his pupils suddenly enlarged. “The clothes on his body... are from the Jian Family!”

“Didn’t you say that everything went smoothly? Didn’t Samir hold back Housekeeper Shen...”

Why is this man in front of me...

Steve looked up indifferently..

Then, the little guy lowered his head and continued his work.

“James, take Stella down and explain it to him.”

Stella looked at him in surprise. “What we should do now should be to escape.” Why was he so calm?

“He’s my grandfather.”

“Or rather, my grandfather from before,”

“He is not a bad person.” Steve’s voice was still calm and composed.

“Maybe, when Mommy was still very young, he was the only one who hoped that Mommy could live healthily.”

“Yes!” As soon as Steve finished speaking, James directly held Stella’s hand. “Let’s go down.”

The little girl’s eyes were a little timid.

However, the hand that was held by her brother was extremely warm.

She bit her lips and gently held James’ hand back.

“With my brothers here, I’m not afraid!”

In the past, it was not like Stella had never imagined being able to reunite with her family.

However, she always felt that even if she found her family, it would be difficult for her to quickly integrate into her family.

After all, she had been separated from her family for five years.

But now...

Her two brothers were very warm.

The eldest brother did not like to talk, but he always took care of her silently.

The second brother spoke a lot, but he had a sharp mouth and a soft heart. Although he spoke fiercely, he was actually a sister-con.

Daddy...

She was a little unfamiliar with Daddy, but he was also a good person.

If Mommy could get better, then she would really be too happy!

Thinking of this, the little girl took a deep breath and firmly stepped out of the car with James. "Second Brother, let us fight for Mommy!"

Steve, "..."

James: "Have you read too many comics and novels recently?"

Stella rolled his eyes, grabbed James' hand, and got out of the car in three or two steps.

Justin did not expect that the people in the car had discussed for so long, and the last to get off were actually two brats.

"Tell the adults in the car to come down," he said with his hands crossed over his chest.

"The adults in the car have to listen to us."

"Grandpa, if you have anything to say, just tell me." Stella raised his head and looked at him fearlessly.

"I am the boss of our family!"
