

Chapter 2513

Several Dragon Palace branch elites who stood behind Harvey also took out their firearms and aimed at the Briewood elites, their faces filled with derision.

In all honesty, they would probably lose if they started shooting.

However, they had no other choice at the moment.

In their minds, they were cursing Harvey's recklessness.

Did he think that Briewood was a reasonable place that abided by the rules, like Dragon Palace branch was?

Did he actually intend to suppress Briewood by just using a handful of people?

What was he thinking?

Clang, clang, clang!

Meanwhile, the Edwin and Lion King exchanged another barrage of attacks. Lion King's calm expression grew slightly unhinged the longer the battle went. She quietly took out a dagger that she kept close by her side.

She rolled over at the same time, closing the distance between her and Edwin. Crimson flashed her cold eyes as she swung her dagger, trying to stab Edwin.

It seemed like a random move, but her attack was perfectly thought out. She was in truth aiming for his weakest point.

The dagger shone with a faint blue glow. If her attack connected, it would undoubtedly kill Edwin.

Her move was lightning fast, as she intended to kill him with a single shot.

Ordinary people might not be able to avoid her attack, and would instead be frightened out of their wits.

Edwin's face turned grim. He gripped his sword with both hands and slashed downward as hard as he could.

If this was how things would turn out, then they would perish together!

If Lion King continued attacking, then he would hack her into two pieces the moment her fatal stab reached him.

Such decisive swordsmanship horrified Lion King, whose murderous expression turned into a look of shock. She then cast a hateful glance at Harvey, furious.

This wasn't how Edwin fought moments ago.

Harvey's earlier words seemed to have driven Edwin in desperation.

While Edwin was determined to sacrifice himself, she didn't share the same sentiment.

She was a great master in Briewood who lived in the lap of luxury. How could someone of her impressive stature die with this snot-nosed brat?

Left with no choice, Lion King was forced to change her moves. She kept swinging the dagger in her hand, but all of her slashes were instantly blocked by Edwin's sword.

Clang, clang, clang!

The sounds of their clash rang out dangerously in the air. The two were locked in a stalemate, and after a while, they crashed backward at the same time.

“Arghhh!”

When Edwin landed, he spurted a mouthful of blood. His face was pale.

As for Lion King, she forcibly swallowed a mouthful of blood, gasping for dear breath as she landed.

Never in her wildest dreams did she imagine a greenhorn like Edwin would be able to fight her to this point. This was a lose-lose situation.

To have honed such skills at such a young age, he was certainly astounding!

However, Lion King was also ruthless. She wouldn't allow a brat like Edwin to overpower her.

She wiped the blood from the corner of her mouth and ordered the Briewood elites, “He's injured. Shoot him!”

Briewood mustn't be disgraced!

She must get back this territory, no matter the cost.

The elites of Briewood hurriedly aimed their firearms, about to rain bullets into Edwin.

Harvey took one step forward, instantly appearing in front of Lion King before any of them could take action.

He moved very quickly, and was much faster than both Edwin and Lion King combined.

“I'm sorry, but I won't give you a chance.”

Slap!

Before Lion King could react, Harvey slapped her.

The next second, the stunned Lion King was thrown into the air before slamming into a wall with a sickening thud.

She slid down the wall, and everyone could see that her head had been twisted 360 degrees, forced into a grotesque angle. As she died, shock and disbelief colored her pale face. Black blood dripped from the corners of her lips.

Did Harvey just murdered the powerful Lion King with just one slap?!

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>

Chapter 2514

Silence filled the entire place. It was so quiet, even the sound of soft breathing was audible.

Everyone was dazed, overwhelmed by shock. They couldn't believe their eyes.

Everything that had taken place seemed so surreal.

None of them expected the mighty Lion King would meet her end at Harvey's hands, and with just a slap to boot.

She wasn't an ordinary person. She was the great master of Briewood, for crying out loud!

A powerful existence in both Hong Kong and Las Vegas!

Yet, someone as great as her met such a ridiculous end.

Her death was humiliating and disgraceful!

Harvey's slap not only killed Lion King, but also trampled Briewood's reputation.

The armed Briewood elites were neither agitated nor were they vengeful.

Instead, their fingers on their firearms felt suddenly cold.

A chill ran down their spine, and their bodies stiffened from fear. Their fear was such that they didn't even dare to blink.

“Kill! Kill him!”

“Shoot him and avenge Lion King!”

After a long while, Carol regained her senses. However, the shock of Lion King had affected her badly and she lost her mind. Without regard for anything, she screamed out her orders.

She knew very well that this scene tonight had ruined her life completely.

Ryuichi Furuta and Lion King were dead. As for Naoto Takei, well, he was probably dead too.

These losses would weigh heavily on her. She would have to pay a huge price!

If Harvey didn't die, then she must die in his place.

Unfortunately, her orders were useless. The Briewood elites were trembling, not daring to take the chance to point their firearms at Harvey.

Harvey's slap just had sent the dumbstruck.

Even the elites of Dragon Palace branch were shocked.

They never imagined Harvey's skills would be terrifying to this extent.

Now, they understood how Harvey was able to take over Dragon Palace branch and forced Madam York out.

His attack explained it all.

When Carol saw the Briewood trembling, despair hit her like a giant tidal wave.

Furious, she abandoned all reason and grabbed a short-handled firearm, instantly aiming it at Harvey. Without warning, she pulled the trigger.

“I’m going to kill you! I must kill you!”

Bang, bang, bang!

Following her banshee-like screech were the earth-shattering sounds of gunshots.

However, all the bullets dropped to the ground.

Harvey remained unscathed, as if Carol hadn’t done anything.

He walked indifferently and lifted Carol's chin with his right hand, smiling coldly. "See? Even if you have a firearm, you don't dare to shoot me."

"You're afraid, and you know it very well."

"If you don't shoot me, you can still live."

"If you shoot me, you'll die."

"Since you're so afraid of me, why don't you just admit it?"

"Stop pretending!"

Harvey's smile was gentle, yet his words were anything but.

Every word he said struck a fearful shiver down Carol's spine.

Harvey wasn't killing her, but he was torturing her. The pain was so much more compared to simple, quick death.

Slap!

Harvey slapped her, instantly throwing her to the ground. He said indifferently, “Go back and tell the don of Briewood this. If he provokes me again, both he and Briewood will die at my hands.”

Harvey’s eyes fell on Vince, who had been watching everything in silence. He flashed the latter a smile that didn’t reach his eyes and said lightly, “You must be Vince York, Young Lord York from the Yorks of Hong Kong and Las Vegas. Am I right?”

“I heard you’re the number one person of the younger generation in both cities. Not only do you have outstanding skills, but you also represent fairness and justice in the two cities.”

“Having watched this charade for so long, have you ever thought of reporting it to the authorities?”

Chapter 2515

“Presumptuous!”

“Son of a b*tch!”

“How dare you speak so rudely to Young Master York! Do you want to die?!”

Several men and women in Chinese outfits behind Harvey glared at him fiercely.

Sure, Harvey's skills were terrifying. He even managed to kill Lion King with only one slap...

But for these big shots from the upper circle of Hong Kong and Las Vegas, it didn't matter how good Harvey was. In the end, he was just a violent thug.

Before their noble background and influence, he was no better than garbage!

No matter how good Harvey was, could he fight the government's wrath?

This wasn't the era where one could wander around with just a sword.

Combat skills were indeed very rare in this era, but still, it was nothing special.

Vince waved his hand to stop the crowd from turning hostile. He leveled Harvey with a thoughtful look and said, "Do you want to take me down with you?"

Harvey smiled. "What are you talking about, Young Lord York? What do you mean, taking you down with me?"

"After all, a clean hand wants no washing. You represent the justice in the two cities, Hong Kong and Las Vegas. You're also about to take over the position of the Chief Instructor of the top nine troops. Who could take you down?"

Interest colored Harvey's face when he mentioned “the Chief Instructor of the top nine troops”.

He wanted to see if Vince dared to use this title to act pretentiously.

Vince took a deep look at Harvey. Finally, he replied noncommittally, “Those are all rumors.”

“Really?”

Harvey looked indifferent.

Now, he could see it clearly. Vince might not claim that he was going to become the Chief Instructor of the top nine troops, but he didn't deny it.

The scheming Young Lord York wanted to use this to cement his status as the head of the Yorks of Hong Kong and Las Vegas.

He was about to ascend into that position soon and became the new head of the Yorks, after all.

For such a manipulative snake like him, wouldn't he use that title to deceive others?

At this moment, Harvey understood Vince much more clearly.

What a man! He was willing to use unscrupulous means to achieve his goals.

Vince stared at Harvey with a penetrating gaze, yet said nothing. After a while, he turned to leave.

However, Harvey stepped forward and blocked Vince's path.

"Do you have anything else to say, Young Master York?" Vince frowned slightly, puzzled by Harvey's behavior.

He refused to believe that Harvey dared to do anything to him right now.

Even if Harvey was extremely skilful, hurting him without reason would give the Yorks of Hong Kong and Las Vegas a reason to dispatch their troops and ruin Harvey completely.

“I have nothing to say. I simply feel that you owe me an explanation tonight.”

“Of course, you won’t admit it, Young Lord York.”

“Thus, I’m going to settle this myself.”

Harvey took out his phone and dialed a number right after. “Is this Hong Kong and Las Vegas Police Station? I’d like to make a report. An incident has just happened in Kowloon City.”

“I think I’ve killed someone.”

“Hello, is this Hong Kong Straits Times?”

“I have important news. You should be interested!”

“The title is: Vince York, The Head of the Yorks, Instigated Sister Thirteen and the Disciples of the Shinkage Way Of Island Nation to Suppress the People but Humiliated Himself in the End.”

“What? The title’s too long, you say?”

“Then, just make it: “The Yorks of Hong Kong and Las Vegas Were Humiliated. How about it?”

Vince, who was about to leave, suddenly turned and glared at Harvey. His face was dark with rising fury.

<https://t.me/HarveyVolkEnglish>

Chapter 2516

Ten minutes later, a large group of inspectors with live ammunition rushed in and instantly controlled the entire crowd.

More than ten media reporters arrived as well, like sharks that had sensed blood in the water.

The Yorks of Hong Kong and Las Vegas, Briewood, Shinkage Way and others were involved in the night's big news.

Any of the labels Harvey said were enough to make the news a major headline. Not to mention, there were many elements involved.

The Hong Kong and Las Vegas Police Station didn't dare to bend the law for personal gain, and knew that they must handle this matter impartially.

Even Vince York, who had an extremely high status in Hong Kong and Las Vegas, couldn't escape and was taken away for questioning.

The inspectors of the Hong Kong and Las Vegas Police Station didn't dare harbor any bad intentions. All of them ensured that everything was done impartially under the supervision of the media.

Nearly a hundred of the people present were sent to Kowloon City Police Station.

All of them went through rigorous interrogation and faced thorough questioning. Even the injured weren't spared.

Harvey was also taken to the Kowloon City Police Station, but he remained composed the entire time.

He deliberately pulled a fast one on Vince.

Apart from wanting to see exactly how powerful the Yorks of Hong Kong and Las Vegas were, he also wanted to see whether these two cities abided by the law..

Early in the next morning, Yoana strode into the interrogation room with an exquisite Hong Kong -style morning tea.

She set up the drinks for Harvey before chuckling softly, “Young Master York, your phone call last night has opened Pandora's box!”

“Grandma York of the Yorks of Hong Kong and Las Vegas was said to be furious! She called the first-in-command of the Hong Kong Government, Toby Clarke, and demanded to know why Vince was detained.”

Harvey ate some wonton noodles, and then asked nonchalantly, “Did that legendary governor wuss out?”

“How could he do that when the media is watching? Did he not want to be the first-in-command anymore?”

Yoana grinned, positively delighted.

“He replied to Grandma York that he was just doing his job, and that was to handle the matter impartially.”

“The people of Briewood surrounded the Kowloon City Police Station all night last night.”

“They demanded the police to release their people and also want to personally deal with you, the culprit. Unfortunately, the evidence is against them.”

“The young lady of the Hamiltons was drugged. The people of Briewood are helping the Island Nation. The people of Shinkage Way of Island Nation were initially driven out, but are still causing trouble.”

“And Vince York seems to be the mastermind behind all these!”

“In short, all these things have been found out by several media outlets. Now, there are rumors brewing everywhere in the entire Hong Kong.”

“I’m guessing the Hong Kong and Las Vegas Police Station wants to kill you now.”

“Unfortunately, they’re afraid that doing so would earn them infamy.”

Yoana went on, smiling all the way. Her amusement was evident.

Her father was the first-in-command of Las Vegas. Thus, she knew very well how complicated the matter was.

Although the two phone calls Harvey made seemed like nothing, they managed to put the first-in-command of Hong Kong in a very difficult situation.

If he didn’t handle this well, he would raise the ire of many and earn the media and the public's hate.

In short, Harvey's purpose in making this move was to force the first-in-command of Hong Kong to handle this impartially.

He also intended to raise a wave of disruption in the seemingly calm circle of the two cities, Hong Kong and Las Vegas.

Harvey put down his chopsticks and took out a tissue to wipe the corners of his mouth. "I believe that the first-in-command of Hong Kong will try his best to give me justice. After all, I never broke the law. Instead, I saved someone."

"I'm sure the Hong Kong government can distinguish between right and wrong. You won't disappoint a good citizen like me, will you?"