

Chapter 2603

Rupert Howell, who was still furious just now, suddenly became timid after hearing the two words, Kaitlyn Parson. He immediately sat down awkwardly, lowered his head, and did not even dare to speak any further.

As for the other second generations, they exchanged glances with each other and did not know what to do.

Kaitlyn Parson, not only was she the eldest young lady of one of the four top-class families in Hong Kong, the Parsons...

It was also said that she was very close to Young Lord York of the Yorks of Hong Kong and Las Vegas, Vince York.

Offending Kaitlyn was equivalent to offending Vince!

The second generations there immediately chickened out after hearing Vince's name. They did not even dare to offend him.

“Ms. Johnson, now that you know Ms. Parson is coming, you should know what to do, right?”

Mabel Anderson put up a meaningful smile and looked at Irene Johnson.

“If there isn't any problem, you may move to the table beside the restroom in the hall.

“I'll let someone send some beers and drinks over in a while. Don't worry. There'll be enough for everyone.”

Harvey York slightly squinted at Mabel, who had a half-smile on her face.

This woman was certainly ruthless.

If Irene were really frightened by the two words “Kaitlyn Parson” tonight, it would be extremely embarrassing for the Johnsons and the Dragon Palace's branch.

Just when Harvey thought Irene was frightened and was about to stand up, he saw a smile gradually appearing on her pretty face.

She then walked before Mabel with her hands behind her back.

“Manager Anderson, since you are the manager of this restaurant, then you should know who the owner is, right?” asked Irene with a smile.

Mabel said mockingly, “Sure. It seems that the Johnsons did hold some shares, but...”

Slap!

Irene had already slapped her in the face without even waiting for Mabel to finish her words.

“You know who the owner is, yet you dare to act boorishly here?!”

“Raising a lackey for too long and trying to outshine the master? Do you think you are the owner?”

“Ah!”

Mabel held her face while staggering back. A red palmprint instantly appeared on her pale face, and the foundation on her face seemed to fade away gradually.

Other than that, there was a trickle of blood at the corner of her mouth, and she looked extremely miserable at that moment.

Mabel incredulously shouted while holding her red face, “Irene! How dare you hit me?!”

Meanwhile, Mabel was still in shock. She could not believe what had just happened.

She never expected that Irene would actually dare to hit her.

This was because Morgan Johnson was too low-key, and also, the shares of the Emerald House had been transferred.

In Mabel's opinion, the Johnsons were on the brink of collapse.

All this eldest young lady of the Johnsons, Irene, had was only her fierce attitude.

Her annual salary as the manager of the Emerald House was hundreds of thousands of dollars. Her status was obviously higher than that of Irene's.

However, this little b*tch actually dared to hit her at this moment?

Moreover, she had even mentioned Kaitlyn's name, but Irene still did not take the hint and left the premises.

Could it be that she did not know that she could not afford to offend Kaitlyn?

This scene was literally beyond Mabel's imagination, and the slap was also a big blow to her ego.

Mabel glared at Irene while holding her face. She said, "B*tch, do you know what you are doing?"

Slap!

Irene slapped her again.

"Are you blind? Can't you see what I'm doing?"

Slap!

"We, the Johnsons, raised a lackey that would dare to bark at the master. I just slapped her, so what?"

Slap!

"Who gave you the guts to come here— Emerald House to drive me out?"

Slap!

“Who gave you the right to challenge the Johnsons?”

Chapter 2604

Irene Johnson slapped her repeatedly to vent her anger, bruising Mabel Anderson's face, and she kept screaming.

“Is it because the Johnsons have always maintained a low profile these years? So, do you people think that you could casually insult the Johnsons?!”

“Is it because my grandfather is too kind? And that makes you think that we have no authority?!”

“Is it because you think you could cling onto the other masters, so you don't have to respect us?!”

Slap!

“Get lost!”

Irene's last slap sent Mabel flying. “I'll give you a chance. Pack your things and get out.

“I’ll kill you the next time I see you in the Emerald House!”

Mabel’s hair was messy, and her face was swollen. She no longer had the arrogance when she first entered the room.

She was only left with unspeakable misery and embarrassment.

Harvey felt indifferent. Instead, he just stared at Irene in admiration.

As the eldest granddaughter of Branch Leader Johnson, if she acted cowardly, Harvey would instantly despise her.

However, acting so ruthlessly without tolerating any mistakes, she certainly had the aura of a chivalrous lady, which made Harvey think a little highly of her.

As for the other second generations, all of them were in a trance as they looked at Irene.

Apparently, they never thought that Irene, who had always been polite and quiet, would have such a strong aura if she became furious.

Irene certainly stood out at this moment.

“Ms. Johnson, you aren’t the sole owner of the Emerald House. Did you hit the Emerald House manager without getting the approval of other shareholders and even want to dismiss her?”

“This is inappropriate, right?”

Just when Mabel was about to leave, footsteps came from the door. Then, more than ten men and women in oriental clothing came in.

The woman walking at the forefront looked pretty, and she had a gorgeous body.

Although she was not old, mainly about twenty-three or four years old, she exuded an aura of a noble lady.

She was wearing a new seasonal Givenchy mini dress and walking in Jimmy Choo's customized high heels, casually wearing a Van Cleef & Arpels watch on her wrist, making her exude a fairy-like aura.

Her fair legs and the cleavage on her chest were so alluring.

It could only be said that this woman's temperament and aura were incomparable to those of ordinary women.

Kaitlyn Parson from the Parsons of Hong Kong.

Harvey lifted his head and squinted at this woman. He had to admit that he also showed a look of admiration.

This woman was gorgeous, and she knew how to accentuate the most charming parts of her body.

In short, this was a scheming b*tch.

Just by how she dressed up, she was indeed on another level from those ordinary women.

Mabel acted as if it was her last resort when she saw Kaitlyn. She struggled to get up at this moment and said in a grievance, “Ms. Parson!”

The other second generations who were there exchanged glances with one another. Regardless of their gender, they stood up tremblingly and greeted, “Ms. Parson.”

Irene was the only one who looked at Kaitlyn indifferently. She coldly spoke, “Ms. Parson, do I have to ask for your permission to teach my lackey a lesson?”

“This has nothing to do with the Parsons.

“Don’t you think that your meddling has gone too far?!”

“Already acting like this even before becoming the first-in-command of Hong Kong. If you really take over that position, how would that be?”

Irene knew that the other party was coming after her at this moment.

Thus, her words became very harsh.

Chapter 2605

“Tsk, tsk, tsk, Irene Johnson, what are you talking about?”

“Have you forgotten that the Johnsons only hold thirty percent of shares of the Emerald House!?”

“And we, the Parsons, hold forty percent of the shares!”

Kaitlyn Parson brought her people and walked before Irene. She sized her up carefully and said indifferently, “In short, the Parsons are the true owners of the Emerald House!

“Manager Anderson is the manager we hired!

“Is she someone you can hit, insult, or even ask to leave?”

Mabel Anderson instantly put up a condescending and complacent look on her bruised face when she heard those words.

Apparently, she thought she could suppress Irene with Kaitlyn's support.

"You, the Parsons, are the owner?" Irene sneered, "Kaitlyn, I suggest you'd better go see a doctor first and let the doctor check your brain. You can come out again after that!

"In case you become a shame right now and disgrace the Parsons!

"Don't forget that we've made things clear back when we transferred the shares. We, the Johnsons, will always have the final say in the affairs of the Emerald House!"

"Made things clear?

"Always have the final say?"

Kaitlyn chuckled after hearing that.

"Irene, this isn't the first day in this society.

Why are you still so naïve?

“In this world, only promises in writing are valid. Verbal promises could never be taken into account.

“You said that previously we’ve made it clear that the Johnsons will have the final say back?”

“Then, I can also say that previously we’ve made it clear that the Johnsons will no longer meddle in the affairs of the Emerald House!

“Moreover, the Johnsons didn’t send anyone to manage the Emerald House over the years. The Parsons have handled the recruitment of staff and the other affairs all along!

“In short, apart from getting the dividends from the thirty percent shares every year, the Johnsons have no say in the Emerald House!

“Hence, you’d better apologize to Manager Anderson and take back what you just said.

“Otherwise, the Johnsons will also look bad once the matter escalates!

“I’m doing this for your good, sis!

“Do you understand what I mean?”

Irene asked coldly, “Dividend?”

“Kaitlyn, if you didn’t mention about the dividend, I initially intend to let it pass!

“You’ve been cooking the books over the years. The annual dividend you gave us is less than fifteen thousand dollars.

“Since both the Johnsons and the Parsons are members of the upper circle, we didn’t want to ruin your reputation, so we just closed one eye to this matter.

“Well, as you can see, it’s getting worse!

“So, do you still want to seize power from the Johnsons?”

Irene looked cold and indifferent. “Okay, since you wanted it in writing, then I’ll put it in writing!

“I’ll give the Emerald House three days. The Johnsons will send an accountant over to audit your account after three days.

“I want to check and see how much dividend the Johnsons should get from the Emerald House over the years!”

Mabel’s expression instantly changed after listening to Irene’s words.

Most of the dividends that belonged to the Johnsons had been taken away by the Parsons over the years.

Although Mabel did make some adjustments while doing the accounts, if some professionals came to audit, they would still be able to discover the problem.

Meanwhile, Mabel unconsciously glanced at Kaitlyn, asking for help.

Kaitlyn's smile disappeared a little. Then, she stared at Irene coldly and said indifferently, "The dividends have been given to you. There is nothing else to check."

Chapter 2606

“Moreover, the Johnsons didn’t care about the affairs of the Emerald House over the years. And still, wanting to get the dividend of the thirty percent shares every year when you have done practically nothing?”

“I think you, the Johnsons, are taking this awfully easy!

“Let me enlighten you. The dividends that belong to you are all in our hands!

“Paying you fifteen thousand dollars every year is already doing you a favor!

“If you are unconvinced, you can report to the police and sue us. I want to see who would suffer the humiliation as the matter escalates!”

Kaitlyn Parson looked serious.

“Really? So, the dividends that belong to the Johnsons over the years are in the hands of the Parsons?”

Irene Johnson was not angry. Instead, she smiled and said, “Then we truly have to thank you for helping us keep the money.

“How about this? I’ll just charge a ten percent interest on the fee every year.

“No matter how much money you’ve kept for us over the years, you’ll have to add a ten percent interest on it for each year.

“I’ll give you a week. You’d better give back the exact amount of money to us by that time.

“The Parsons is a big household and runs a huge business. I’m sure you’ll give us all the money, right?

“As for reporting to the police? Disgrace? The Johnsons don't care about this.

“However, I heard that the Parsons will be competing to be the next Governor.

“A family with no credibility still wants to run for Governor?”

“Do you think that the members of Parliament will still vote for you at that time if this matter escalates?”

Irene looked indifferent, but her words were vicious, instantly pointing out the Parsons' critical part.

“Enough! Irene! Stop talking nonsense here!”

Kaitlyn's smile disappeared a little. She then said sternly at this moment, “I'm telling you. The profit the Emerald House has earned over the years belongs to the Parsons. It has nothing to do with the Johnsons!

“Just stop dreaming and thinking about this money!

“Moreover, just with the shares, the Johnsons don't have the right to meddle in the affairs of the Emerald House!

“If you are clever, tell Senior Johnson to quickly transfer the remaining thirty percent shares to us, the Parsons!

“In this case, no one would look bad!

“Also, it would be better if you, the Johnsons don't proclaim yourself as the owner of the Emerald House!

“I'll let today's matter pass for Branch Leader Johnson's sake!

“If I find out that you call yourself the owner of the Emerald House the next time, I'll rip your mouth off myself, do you understand?

“I’ll give you one minute from now to get out from the Heavenly Box.

“Otherwise, we’ll leave no mercy!”

Kaitlyn narrowed her eyes and then clapped her hands. Suddenly, a few towering bodyguards walked behind her, and all of them were staring coldly at Irene.

The Johnsons mainly managed the Dragon Palace’s branch. Sure enough, they were very influential.

However, not only were the Parsons one of the top four families of Hong Kong, but they also had the Yorks of Hong Kong and Las Vegas supporting them.

If things truly escalated, the Parsons were not afraid of the Johnsons.

Irene looked at Kaitlyn, who was murderous at the moment, and her face turned extremely cold.

“Kaitlyn, since both our families have known for two years, I’m warning you!

“Today, I’m treating Young Master York to a meal on behalf of my grandfather!

“If you are being sensible, get out right now!

“Also, send back all the interest to the Johnsons within a week!

“Otherwise, don’t blame us for being rude!”
