

Chapter 2621

“I’m at the parking lot of the Marine Park!”

Rupert Howell’s voice was filled with deep fear.

“I’m hiding behind a container... They’re still looking for me. I don’t want to move around too much...”

“Ms. Johnson’s been taken away!”

“You need to come quickly...”

“Right. Wait for me. I’ll be right there.”

Harvey York hastily stood up.

After throwing a few paper bills to the waiter, Harvey called a cab and swiftly headed to the Hong Kong Marine Park.

Not long after Harvey left, a shadow walked out of the street and pulled out a walkie-talkie.

“The target fell for our trap...”

***

Around ten minutes later, Harvey arrived at the Marine Park. After paying the fare, he went down the escalator.

Soon after, Harvey came to a corner of the park.

A few strong, suited men were all dangling their cigars from their mouths while forcing a man into a corner...

The suited men were beating up the man with things like steel pipes and baseball bats. Screams of pain could be heard moments after.

Not far away from them, a woman dressed in a gown could be seen sitting cross-legged on the hood of a Jeep Wrangler.

She was in excellent shape. Her posture was upright while a cold gaze could be seen on her face. She was twirling the gun around her finger, as if she was some sharpshooter.

Her cold gaze shifted toward Harvey after seeing him walk forward. She seemed a little perplexed for a moment before a fierce look replaced her expression.

She pointed her firearm right at Harvey's head before shooing him away.

Harvey could not help but chuckle at the woman trying to intimidate him.

Did they really think that Harvey could not see through their bluff?

He only showed up here to see who was trying to play tricks on him.

Ignoring the woman in a gown, Harvey walked forward before finally seeing Rupert, who was completely beaten up in the corner.

His face was swollen with bruises all over. Blood was trickling all over his cracked head. There was no way to tell that he was a rich heir at that time.

The suit he was wearing looked tattered. A foul stench could even be smelled wafting from him occasionally.

The suited men chuckled wretchedly while hearing Rupert's cries.

“Not bad! Not bad! Your screams sound really nice!

“You're pretty bold, trying to save the damsel in distress like that!

“You must have a death wish or something!

“Say, if I sent a picture of your sorry state to that b*tch, Irene Johnson, do you think she's going to care?!

“I don’t think she would!

“After all, a sweet talker like you won’t be able to get anything in the end anyway!”

The strong man leading the group made a gesture while he was talking before hitting Rupert in the head with a baseball bat.

Rupert wailed in pain while blood was mixed with his tears. He fell to the ground, unconscious soon after.

Harvey squinted at the sight for a moment.

“Alright. That’s enough. Stop right there,” said Harvey calmly.

Rupert’s body trembled after hearing Harvey’s voice while showing a thankful look on his face.

“Sir York...” he muttered instinctively.

Judging by how he looked, he probably was not involved with the scheme.

Chapter 2622

Around eight burly men turned around and furiously glared at Harvey York after hearing someone calling them out behind their backs.

The woman dressed in a gown coldly chuckled with a pleased look on her face.

She seemed pretty satisfied with Harvey's appearance at this moment.

“You bastard! Don't you know we're filming here?!”

The strong man leading the group squinted at Harvey before he coldly laughed.

“Get out of here already!

“And forget whatever you saw today!

“If not, I'll make you one of the main characters too!”

“I’m sorry. I can’t just leave right now.”

Harvey chuckled.

“The man you beat up is acquainted with me. Since he’s asking me for help, I can’t just ditch him and leave, right?”

“For my sake, why don’t you let him go?”

Harvey showed a smile.

The strong man froze slightly after hearing Harvey’s words, then burst into laughter.

“You must have a death wish or something, Kid!

“Do you know who we are?!

“You’re asking us to respect you?!

“You think you have the right to ask for that here?!

“Get out! Right now!

“If not, I’ll make your life a living Hell!”

The strong man waved his hand before his subordinates walked forward with wretched smiles while cracking their necks.

Harvey sighed and stepped forward, immediately appearing in front of the strong man.

His movements were too swift! The strong man could not even react to it at that moment!

“Look out!” The woman in a gown yelled after changing her expression slightly.

The strong man came back to his senses before instinctively trying to back off, but he was still too slow compared to Harvey.

The moment he thought of something, Harvey’s right hand was already out.

“Bastard, you...” the strong man bellowed.

Clack!

Before he could even finish his sentence, Harvey grabbed him by the neck and lifted him slowly.

The scene looked just like a movie straight out of Hollywood. The strong man was frantically gasping for air while his face had lost all color. Death could be felt roaming around at this very moment.

“Let go of our brother!”

“Let go right now!”

“Or we’ll drop you!”

The other strong men froze over before coming back to their senses and pulling out their firearms.

The strong man in Harvey’s clutches came back from shock. He furiously glared at Harvey and bellowed, “How dare you lay your hands on me, you bastard?!

“Don’t you know who I am?!

“When I’m in Hong Kong, even the police station and the Briewood Gang would have to pay their respects to me!

“I have immense support behind my back too! If you so much as dare to touch me, you must be ready for your entire family to go down with you!”

The strong man straightened his back after thinking of the support behind his back.

“I’ll give you three seconds! Put me down! Kneel, apologize, then break one of your arms! I’ll pretend this never happened if you do all that!

“If not, you’ll die a very horrible death!”

Even though the strong man was held up by the neck, it did not stop him from being extremely arrogant.

The woman dressed in a gown walked forward with her firearm also pointed at Harvey. A very disdainful expression could be seen on her face.

“You better do as he says. If not, you’ll end up in a worse state...”

Chapter 2623

“Fine. I can let him go.”

Harvey York smiled before throwing the strong man to the ground.

The moment the man slammed to the ground, his throat became sore, and his eyes blacked out. Utter despair could be seen on his face at that time.

At the same time, blood could be seen spurting out of his mouth. It was a horrible sight.

He tried to gasp for air, but he could not as if someone was choking him.

The strong man fainted on the ground, filled with shock and resentment. He could not believe that Harvey would actually do something like this to him.

Bang!

Harvey kicked the man toward the woman in a gown and said, "I let him go. Satisfied?"

Rupert Howell could not help but let out a smirk after seeing what had happened.

This was precisely what he wanted.

"All together!"

The other strong men looked at each other before screaming their hearts out while running toward Harvey.

Their boss was taken out. If they did not deal with Harvey, their end would be worse than death.

Slap slap slap!

Harvey steadily moved forward and slapped those men without showing any mercy.

They were all sent flying in mere seconds before smashing to the ground. Their faces were utterly swollen, while their orifices were bleeding profusely. An unspeakable fear flashed in their eyes.

They never thought that the man in front of them would be this terrifying.

They could not even dodge his attacks, let alone hit him back.

The eyes of the woman dressed in a gown lit up.

“You’ve done it now, Harvey!” she screamed.

Slap!

Harvey walked toward her before slapping her in the face.

The woman yelped in pain. Before she could even crawl back up, Harvey took a step forward and stepped on her head.

“Talk. Who are you? Who sent you here to screw with me?”

Harvey took out some tissues and thoroughly wiped his fingers.

“What do you mean screw with you?! You’re the one screwing with us! Do you have a death wish or something!”

The woman desperately tried to grab the firearm not too far away from her...

But, before she could do that, Harvey immediately stepped on her fingers. A resounding crack could be heard at that moment.

“Aaaaaaagh!”

“I don’t even know you! You’ll pay for this!”

Bang bang bang!

Harvey stomped on the woman’s face a couple of times.

“You don’t know me? Then, how come you know my name?” exclaimed Harvey coldly.

“Weren’t you the one who used Rupert to lure me here?”

“What? Can’t you admit it?”

“Or are you scared of your master killing you off if you speak up?”

“Don’t worry. If you tell me who your master is, I’ll make sure they’re as good as dead.”

“Then, you’ll be perfectly safe!”

The woman’s expression changed slightly after hearing Harvey’s words. She knew that her careless words had exposed her identity.

Her face was filled with resentment when she looked at the demon, Harvey.

“I don’t know what you’re talking about!” she exclaimed while gritting her teeth.

“I’m Rina French from the Emerald Club! If you even so as touch me, you’re dead!”

Bang!

Harvey stepped on her head once again.

“I did it again,” said Harvey calmly.

“What now?”

“You’re going to bite me?”

Rina’s body was shuddering frantically before she blacked out on the spot.

Chapter 2624

After dealing with the matter, Harvey York then gave Edwin Mendoza a call so he could clean up the mess at the Marine Park.

Harvey wanted to call Leslie Clarke, but he stopped after thinking that it was quite inappropriate for a woman to handle these things.

Not long after, Rupert Howell was sent to a nearby hospital for his treatment.

Edwin stood behind Harvey with a frown on his face. Naturally, he recognized Rina French, who was unconscious at this moment.

“What? Is there a problem?” Harvey asked after seeing the troubled look on Edwin’s face.

Edwin nodded.

“There might be, yes. This woman’s from the Emerald Club.

“The Emerald Club is one of the top four families of Hong Kong, the Parson family’s territory.

“You provoked Kaitlyn Parson before this, and now the Emerald Club. I’m sure they won’t let you off the hook that easily at this point...”

“The Parson family?”

Harvey burst out laughing.

“Are you sure that I’m the one who provoked them and not the other way around?”

Edwin froze before pondering about the situation.

“What about the thing I asked you to investigate? Did Irene Johnson really get kidnapped?”

Harvey changed the subject almost immediately.

“She did. According to my intel, Irene was invited by the Parson family for a peace negotiation, even though it was still a little forced.

“What about Morgan Johnson? Does he know?” asked Harvey.

“It seemed like he was taken away by the Law Enforcement of Longmen for questioning. Nobody was able to contact him.

“And at such a crucial moment, Irene was asked to come over to the Emerald Club. This is bad!

“But Morgan’s always been neutral. Why would he even provoke the Parson family?”

Clearly, Edwin did not know about yesterday’s incident. That was why he got confused.

“Because I stood up for him.”

Harvey stood indifferently.

“The Parson family’s coming for me! That’s why they took action against the Johnson family.

“Come on. We’re heading to the Emerald Club.

“If we can’t bring Irene back in one piece, no one’s going to sponsor me in Hong Kong or Las Vegas in the future.”

Edwin stood frozen slightly before he realized what Harvey really meant.

This was a scheme.

On the one hand, the enemy had Irene as a hostage. On the other hand, Harvey’s information was relayed through Rupert.

Under these circumstances, Harvey would fall right into the enemy’s trap no matter whatever he did.

What an elaborate scheme, indeed.

***

Vroom!

A few Toyota Prados with three different license plates arrived at the Emerald Club at dusk.

Edwin had been trying to convince Harvey to stay away while they were on the road.

Even though he knew that Harvey was practically invincible, there were still so many things that could not be solved just by killing.

Besides, Harvey had made a lot of enemies during his recent days in Hong Kong and Las Vegas.

Experts from the Island Nations were closely eyeing Harvey.

Vince York and his men also wanted him dead.

That was why Edwin thought it would be better for Harvey to make friends with a top-rated family like the Parsons.

Even if he could do not that, it would be in his best interest if he made peace, not fight them to the death.

Even though Harvey felt that the so-called peace talk was just some big joke...

And that peace had always been fought for and not negotiated on...

Edwin still insisted that he talk with them.

Harvey obliged, but on the condition that he followed Edwin inside.

After all, rumors said that Irene was taken to the Emerald Club. If the peace talk were to fail, he could save Irene immediately after.
