

Chapter 2647

“Let me tell you! If I say that your family is guilty of a crime, then that’s the only truth!”

“You dare go against my will?”

“Who do you think you are?!”

“Even God won’t be able to save your family now!”

“For supporting Harvey, you’re all dead!”

At these words, more disciples stepped forward with wretched smiles.

They had suffered great losses against Harvey previously, but now, they were brimming full of vigor. Their only thought was to redeem their pride by destroying the Johnsons.

Boom!

Right as the disciples were about to take action, the door was immediately kicked open.

The ancient bronze door flew out, smashing to the ground. A man emerged, his arms crossed over his chest in a gesture of dominance.

“I heard that Longmen’s Law Enforcement charged me for conspiring with outsiders while I’m gone.”

“You even tried to get the Johnsons to frame me.”

“Was the lesson I taught you all before not enough for you?”

“Do you have a death wish?”

Right after the door was broken, Harvey made his entrance.

His slim yet powerful frame shone under the bright lights. The imposing aura seeping from his body could be felt from a mile away.

His cold gaze scanned his entire surrounding, so cold that everyone found themselves shivering instinctively.

The Johnsons had seen pictures of Harvey. The moment they saw him here, they all dipped into respectful bows.

“Branch Leader York!”

Everyone was puzzled to see Harvey here.

Before, the Johnson family didn't want Morgan to stand up for Harvey.

Yet now, he was the one to save them when Morgan's whereabouts were completely unknown.

They were at a loss.

“You're finally here, Harvey! I thought you wouldn't even dare come out of the Dragon Palace's branch after all that happened.”

Carrie was shocked after seeing Harvey's appearance. After all, the man had slapped her twice, hard.

She didn't even expect that Harvey would show up.

At first, she sounded flustered...

Yet, she came back to her senses soon after. She was confident. She was a lot different than before.

This time, she had the support of Young Master Bauer.

No matter how powerful Harvey was, he was obviously no match for Young Master Bauer.

No longer hesitating, Carrie took a deep breath and regained her high and mighty attitude. She narrowed her eyes menacingly at Harvey.

“Are you finally here to confess your sins to us,

Harvey?”

“You really disappoint me! Did you give up after hearing that the son of Longmen’s Law Enforcement head is coming to Hong Kong and Las Vegas to call the shots?”

“You coward!”

“The head’s son? Who’s that?”

Harvey frowned.

Carrie chuckled.

“What are you still pretending, Harvey?”

“Ken Bauer, or Young Master Bauer, is extremely well-known throughout Flutwell. Not only is he related to one of the top ten families, the Bauer family, but his father is also the mighty head of Longmen’s Law Enforcement!”

“Now that he’s here, he represents the highest authority of Longmen’s Law Enforcement!”

“You’ll definitely kneel in the face of Young Master Bauer!”

“Let me warn you right now: if you don’t kneel, you’ll die a very horrible death!”

Carrie flashed Harvey a contemptuous smirk, confident in herself.

Even if Morgan wouldn’t even pay Samuel any respects, he would still stop at nothing to please Ken when the two eventually meet.

No matter how powerful Harvey was, there was no way for him to outmatch Ken.

Thus, Carrie stood in front of Harvey with haughty arrogance. She was certain that she had the upper hand.

Chapter 2648

Harvey remained emotionless despite her threat. He casually sent a text to George to look into Ken's background.

When Carrie saw Harvey nonchalantly tapping his phone while completely ignoring her, her face twisted in an ugly look of disdain.

“Enough, Harvey. Stop playing around!”

“Nobody can try to stop Young Master Bauer!”

“There's no one you can call for aid!”

“Since you're here already, you'll follow me to the Imperial Prison!”

“We'll see what happens when Young Master Bauer's done toying around. He'll drag you out for questioning!”

“You best not resist. You had the identity of the branch leader protecting you before, but...”

“If you disobey Young Master Bauer, even the master of Longmen might not be able to protect you!”

“You’re just a man Elder Bauer looks up to, not a relative to the family!”

“You should know who’s more important in his heart, Harvey!”

Carrie shot Harvey a mocking stare as she kept reminding Harvey of his differences compared to Ken.

Normally, people would fear Harvey as he had the support of Longmen’s master. However, such a thing was meaningless to Ken.

Longmen’s Law Enforcement disciples glared at Harvey contemptuously after hearing Carrie’s haughty exclamations.

The man standing before them dared to challenge them, their leader Carrie, and the vice head Haider ...

If Harvey wasn't completely dealt with, and if he didn't have a taste of true pain...

The dignity of Longmen's Law Enforcement would be tarnished!

This was the main reason the head of Longmen's Law Enforcement called Ken to Hong Kong.

"Branch Leader Johnson is my good friend."

"His family is mine as well."

"You beat up my allies while constantly nagging in front of my face, and then charge me for conspiring with outside forces..."

Harvey narrowed his eyes coldly at Carrie, his gaze flashing in warning.

“Looks like the two lessons I gave you before weren’t enough. That’s why you still have the courage to stir trouble here.”

“Shut up! How dare filth like you lecture me?!”

“Are you insulting me?! Do you have a death wish?!”

Carrie’s face was ugly after hearing Harvey’s words.

The incidents at the Grand Hotel and the Clarke family’s rooftop garden were the most humiliating things she had ever experienced.

She wasn’t strong enough. She didn’t have enough power, nor did she have the connections to do anything significant. That was why she gave in.

But it was different now.

With Ken’s support, she could ignore almost every single person within Longmen.

Even the thirty-six branch leaders of Longmen were nothing in her eyes!

She truly believed that Harvey only dared to talk big, but he'd have no chance to do anything else.

Her disdainful glare fell on Harvey, who was still acting stubborn.

“Alright, Harvey! Enough talk.”

“Kneel and slap yourself in the face a hundred times! The more you miss, the more of your bones I'll break!” Carrie shouted.

“That's my order! You hear me?!”

“And what if I say no?” Harvey countered calmly.

“You bastard! You think you can keep showing off in front of Longmen's Law Enforcement just with your title of branch leader?” a disciple sneered, stepping forward with a cold chuckle.

“How dare you talk to Senior Kennedy like that?!”

“I’ll slap the sh*t out of you! Let me tell you...!”

The disciple couldn’t finish as he immediately fell dead silent.

Harvey suddenly appeared in front of him in an instant and slapped him on the face.

The disciple was sent flying in the next instant, passing out before even landing on the ground.

Chapter 2649

Carrie squinted slightly at the sight. The desire to kill flashed in her eyes.

She couldn't believe that Harvey dared to defy Ken's will!

He was the man who represented both the Bauer family and Longmen!

Vince himself would need to pay respects to Ken. He even sent Ken quite the hefty gift.

How was Harvey capable of defying Ken?!

The other disciples exchanged glances. Then, a man with a crew cut walked forward with a wretched grin.

“How dare you lay your finger on one of ours?!”

“Why don't you try killing one of us instead if you're so tough?!”

“That one slap doesn’t mean anything, anyway!”

“If you can kill me, I’ll give up!”

He was confident that Harvey was just trying to intimidate them, and that Harvey only dared to attack them without actually killing them.

Crack!

Harvey took a step forward and twisted the arrogant disciple’s head with powerful force.

There was a loud crack, and the disciple’s body lay flat on the ground. He wasn’t breathing.

Disbelief and shock were written all over the face of his corpse. In his final moments, he still couldn’t believe that Harvey was bold enough to actually kill him.

Everyone was stunned, their faces scrunched in horror.

“Do you want to die, Harvey?! How dare you kill a disciple of the Longmen’s Law Enforcement!”

Carrie howled, livid.

At her furious howl, her subordinates pulled their firearms out and aimed them at Harvey.

But Harvey was unperturbed. His face devoid of emotions, he took a step forward and made a tile on the ground crack. Immediately, its shards flew everywhere.

“Aaaaaaaagh!”

Carrie’s subordinates wailed in pain as the shards cut into them. They clutched their throats and fell to the ground, defeated.

In just a single moment, many people died with one swift move. Carrie’s haughty face changed into anger and horror.

“You dare kill my men, Harvey?”

“Who gave you that courage?!”

“You’re finished! We don’t need any evidence! We can just kill you right now!”

Harvey, however, ignored Carrie and swung his palm forward emotionlessly.

Carrie instinctively pulled out her longsword and tried thrusting forward, but she was much too slow.

Slap!

There was a loud, crisp slap that shook the air. Carrie’s body was sent flying before smashing right into a wall nearby. Weakened, she coughed out blood.

“If people like you can represent Longmen’s Law Enforcement, then there’s no need for the organization to exist anymore.”

The so-called Longmen’s Law Enforcement was said to represent justice and dignity within the organization. It was a weapon to keep the thirty-six branch leaders in check.

But to Harvey, at this very moment, it had turned into a tool for personal abuse.

Harvey would spare people like this no mercy.

Almost at the same time, Edwin had already dealt with the disciples guarding outside.

Carrie, who came with such a threatening force, was suddenly all alone.

The Johnsons now held their heads up high. They were all screaming with excitement, without any care for the injuries they sustained.

“Yeah! Let’s go!”

“You’re crazy! You’re actually crazy!”

Carrie was filled with rage and fear, yet she refused to back down.

“You killed the people in the same organization! This is a heinous crime! Don’t even think of staying as a branch leader anymore, Harvey!”

“Just wait till you die with your entire family!”

“Even your pet dog will die!”

“Are these your final words?” Harvey asked, calm as ever.

Chapter 2650

“You...”

Carrie choked, but she quickly snapped back to her senses.

Her subordinates were all dead, but she was still alive.

It seemed Harvey was truly afraid of her identity and support. Yes, that's it! That was why he didn't kill her.

Carrie, whose unease had grown, regained her prideful attitude.

“If you touch me, Morgan dies!” she snarled.

“To tell you the truth, he's already locked behind bars in the Imperial Prison. It's all because he sided with you!”

“I also heard that you had a date with Irene before! I already sent her right to Young Master Bauer's bed half an hour ago!"

"If you disobey me, I'll kill her too after he's done playing with her!"

"Your people are all in my hands, and you can't do anything about it!"

"So stop trying to intimidate me already! You can't even kill me!"

"If you don't kill me, those two might have a small chance to survive. But if you kill me and anger Young Master Bauer, the entire Johnson family will die with you when he goes on a killing spree!"

Harvey leveled her with an icy glare. He didn't expect so many things to happen in just a single night.

"If you lay a finger on me, they die."

Carrie's threatening manner was showing.

Harvey, however, laughed calmly. A second later, he stopped and threw her a sinister look colder than ice.

“Cripple her.”

Harvey gestured, his words just as cold.

Edwin moved forward and immediately broke all four of Carrie's limbs. Fear colored her eyes, and she began to scream.

“Aaaaaagh!”

Her agonized wails filled the air, and her pained body was shivering to no end.

“W-What are you doing?!”

“Young Master Bauer will never let you go for breaking my limbs...!”

“I’m keeping you alive because I want you to see how I’ll kill your dear Young Master Bauer,” Harvey explained calmly, as if nothing horrific was happening.

“I never went against the Longmen’s Law Enforcement, yet you people kept coming at me for trouble.”

“If that’s the case, I’ll do Haider a favor and clean up the entire organization for him.”

Vroooooom!

A Toyota Prado swiftly drove toward the direction of Hong Kong and Las Vegas’s Longmen Budoukan.

Harvey was inside the car, and he casually dialed a number he got from Carrie.

After ten whole beeps, a loud clamor could be heard. Then, an annoyed voice sounded from the speakers.

“What’s the matter with you, Carrie?”

“Don’t you know that I’m about to enjoy myself?”

“Do you have a death wish?”

Clearly, the man on the other side of the phone was annoyed.

“Remember to make the Johnsons confess, then take Harvey down. Got it?”

“If he resists, take all of the disciples from Longmen’s Hong Kong and Las Vegas branch to kill him.”

“There’s no way he can outmatch so many people!”

“We can even drown him in our spit at this point!”

“Ken Bauer, right? It’s me, Harvey,” Harvey said calmly.

His expression didn’t change at all even after hearing everything Ken had said.

“I called to tell you something.”

“If either Branch Leader Johnson or Ms. Johnson is in trouble, you’ll be in hot water.”

“Lay a finger on them, and I’ll break all your limbs.”

“I’ll make your life a living Hell!”

“H-Harvey?!”

Ken, who was on the other side of the phone, froze. He was shocked that Harvey was the one who called, rather than Carrie.

“Filth! You’re still showing off when you can’t even protect yourself?!” Ken exclaimed after a good chuckle.

“What the hell are you thinking?!”
