

Chapter 2701

The man was wearing a robe from Nanyang and exuded an aura of unspeakable elegance.

He crossed his arms and glared coldly at his surroundings.

“Break one of your arms and then get out of here. If you do, I’ll spare your life,” he spat, his tone ice.

He was none other than the Nanyang God of War, Dean Cobb!

“Dean Cobb?!”

Several guests from Hong Kong instinctively trembled after seeing the old man.

‘The legendary Nanyang God of War?’

‘Why is he here?’

‘Judging from his appearance, he must’ve recovered his peak strength!’

‘The invincible God of War of the southeast waters actually showed up here... I can’t believe it ...!’

Those who were familiar with him were in utter disbelief. They couldn’t believe their eyes.

“Dean Cobb? The Nanyang God of War?”

Mitchell laughed coldly, unruffled.

“I remember now! You’re that cripple, aren’t you?”

“How dare a mere cripple like you stand up for Harvey? You must have a death wish, don’t you?”

“Yeah! An outsider like you has no right to be involved with the matters pertaining to Longmen’s Law Enforcement!”

“Piss off! If you don’t, Head Bauer will spin your head around until you pass out!”

The elites of the Longmen's Law Enforcement began screaming in unison. In their eyes, a silly old man wouldn't have the power to do anything here.

Yet, he had the gall to demand everyone to break their own arms?

Was he even worthy?

What a joke!

Dean, however, ignored the clowns and nodded at Harvey. There was a smile on Dean's face.

Harvey himself didn't expect Dean to actually stand up for him at such a crucial time, either.

Still, this wasn't time for a chat. Harvey nodded back without saying anything else, preferring to remain silent.

Scarlett, whose face had lost some color, suddenly walked up with a smile.

“Long time no see, Elder Cobb.”

“The Five Virtues Temple is in charge of today’s problem. Please do not get yourself involved.”

“After all, we’re dealing with a scumbag of Country H’s martial arts world.”

“You’re Nanyang’s God of War. It’s inappropriate for you to intervene.”

When Daito and his men heard that Dean was from Nanyang, a mocking smirk reached their lips and they scrutinized Dean with disdainful gazes.

In the Islanders’ eyes, Nanyang was a country for the weak.

Surely, the Nanyang God of War meant nothing!

A man from such a tiny country had no right to show off here, anyway.

What was he thinking?!

Safe to say, no one aside from Scarlett, Mitchell and Daito could care less about Dean's appearance.

Daito, unable to stop himself, stepped forward boldly and pointed a rude finger at Dean. He was especially insulting when he saw how old Dean was.

“You dare tell us to break our arms and then make us leave?”

“Are you even worthy?”

“Do you think you have the right to order us like that?!”

“You think you can just pretend to be an expert just because you're wearing a fancy robe?”

“Say, aren’t you afraid of looking like an idiot after showing off too much?!”

“Even Harvey wouldn’t dare show off in such a way before us all! Yet you think you have what it takes?”

Dean simply glanced at Daito with calm eyes. Then, he said in an equally calm tone, “If that’s not enough, then you can break both your arms.”

“Dean Cobb!”

Daito let out a haughty chuckle.

“I’ve heard about you before! You’re the Nanyang God of War from ten years ago! The invincible man that completely dominated the southeast waters!”

“But aren’t you already crippled ten years ago?”

“You’re dragging your useless and crippled body here to threaten us? You’re not very bright, are you?!”

“Let me warn you: if you know what’s best for you, then get out of here right now. If we see each other again later on, I might still call you the Nanyang God of War!”

“But if you keep meddling in our business, then don’t blame us for what happens next!”

Chapter 2702

Daito despised people from Nanyang with all his heart.

While Dean had the title of God of War, Daito refused to believe such an old and worn-out man was anything special.

However, Dean smiled gently.

“It looks like after I went in hiding for ten whole years, everyone’s forgotten what the Nanyang God of War represents,” he remarked coolly.

Boooooom!

Dean took a step forward. After a good night’s rest, he had regained his peak strength.

In just a single moment, a powerful aura that was even more terrifying than the Sword Saint’s seeped out of his body.

Cracks resembling haphazard spider webs instantly formed on the ground.

Suffice to say, the sight was an extremely horrifying one.

Many changed their expressions immediately after seeing what happened.

There was a loud splash, and the onmyoji, who was floating in midair, coughed out blood the moment he felt the aura's pressure. A second later, he passed out and smashed straight into the ground, not even getting the chance to fight back. Nobody could be certain whether he was alive or not.

The same terrifying aura had also forced the ninjas to show themselves. In an instant, all of them were sent flying in an instant. Blood spurted out of their mouths as they landed on the ground. None of them had the strength to get back up.

At the same time, Daito and the rest of his men were struck by a sudden pang of fatigue. Unable to stand, they fell and slammed their knees on the ground.

They didn't want to kneel, but none of them could handle Dean's explosive power that he had stored for ten whole years.

He was strong!

Too strong!

Daito's face completely lost all color. Cold sweat drenched his back.

Not far away from him, Mitchell stumbled a few steps back.

Even though he wasn't directly targeted by Dean, his throat had dried from sheer fear. He had something to say, but quickly discovered that he couldn't even let out a sound.

Scarlett and the rest of the women were as pale as a sheet. They covered their mouths, stopping themselves from making even a squeak.

All of them took in what had just happened with utter disbelief.

They refused to believe that Harvey won against the Sword Saint and convinced themselves he had used sly tricks. With that, they could at least have the excuse to still throw around insults...

Yet, Dean was able to completely suppress Daito and everyone else with his aura alone. This was simply unbelievable!

Daito was the top talent of the Shindan Way, after all!

His strength was said to be immense, and he was also considered to be invincible among all Kings of Arms. He was so close to being a God of War, too...

Despite that, he knelt in an instant when facing the Nanyang God of War!

Was the legendary man really this strong?!

Scarlett's expression fluctuated constantly. She was well aware Dean Cobb represented the Nanyang Gang and the forces of both Hong Kong and Las Vegas, all of which were not to be trifled with.

After making such a strong comeback, Dean immediately stood by Harvey. Scarlett was certain that Vince's plans would be forced to change after this.

Harvey narrowed his eyes at Dean, full of admiration.

This man was crippled for ten whole years, yet he never gave up.

But if he did, he wouldn't be able to regain this much strength immediately right after the poison was removed.

Judging from his prowess, Harvey would need to be a little serious if he ever had to fight Dean.

Since Dean decided to support Harvey, Harvey would gladly accept the old man's help.

In a place like Hong Kong and Las Vegas that was riddled with powerful forces, Harvey knew it would be better if more people stood by his side.

Dean glared coldly at Daito as he expressed his full might.

“Tell me, you bastard...” he began slowly.

“Do I need you to go easy on me?”

Chapter 2703

“I-I’m sorry, God of War!” Daito replied, frantic.

“I’m sorry for offending you today! Please forgive me, for the sake of Shinkage Way!”

“We’ll leave right now! Right now, yes!”

Daito desperately tried to please Dean.

Initially, he assumed that the crippled God of War was only fierce on the outside...

But now that he was standing in front of Dean, he realized that Dean was on another level even amongst other Gods of War.

Only Daito’s own father could be a match against Dean...

Daito would be going against overwhelming odds if he fought against Dean. It would be a death wish.

Daito was arrogant, but he wasn't stupid. He wouldn't do something so reckless.

“Isn't it a little too late to beg for forgiveness?”

Dean scoffed coldly before taking a step forward.

Crackle!

Rocks on the ground flew forward in an instant. It was a nightmarish sight!

Pew, pew, pew!

The experts of Shinkage Way all dropped in the pool of blood. None of them had a chance to react to Dean's attack.

Scarlett and the others instinctively trembled as they watched in horror.

The legendary Nanyang God of War was more terrifying than they initially thought...!

It was scary enough that he could kill so many people in an instant, but he seemed so casual about it. He acted as if he was just crushing a bunch of ants.

Daito's head turned numb, his eyes twitching frantically.

He finally understood. If he didn't handle the situation well, he would lose his life on the spot!

He shifted his gaze toward Mitchell and Scarlett, as if he was begging for their help.

Mitchell looked away, pretending that he didn't see anything.

Scarlett's breathing suddenly grew rapid.

After thinking about the task at hand, she gritted her teeth and took a step forward.

“Please stop for the sake of the Five Virtues Temple, Elder Cobb!” she screamed.

“The Island Nations have been on the same boat with Country H for the longest time! Offending them would be the same as offending us. If you go against the Shinkage Way, you go against the Five Virtues Temple!”

“I know you’re extremely powerful, but please think twice before going against us!”

Scarlett was still quite fearful, but she managed to say everything she wanted while maintaining an prideful look of superiority.

The name of the Five Virtues Temple alone was enough to give her courage.

In her mind, the support of the sacred martial arts training ground would force even the God of War to pay his respect.

Slap!

Against all expectations, Dean swung his backpalm across Scarlett's face without an ounce of hesitation.

“Stop nagging!”

Scarlett was instantly sent flying, and let out a scream of pain. She was filled with resentment and hate as she landed back on the ground, yet she dared not say another word.

Mitchel's eyes were twitching frantically as he stood mutely at the side. He discreetly inched away to a corner, his head held low, pretending as if he wasn't a part of this at all.

Dean glanced at Daito and said calmly, “Break both your arms and grovel in front of Sir York. I'll spare your life if you do.”

Sensing danger, Daito wouldn't dare waste another second.

He gritted his teeth and broke his arms at that very instant, and then slammed his knees on the ground.

“I’m so sorry, Sir York! I was ignorant!”

“Please let me go! Please pretend that I said nothing!”

This was extremely humiliating!

The top talent of the Island Nations had to kneel and beg for forgiveness! It was beyond embarrassing!

Scarlett and the others began to shiver uncontrollably.

It was at this moment that they finally understood how domineering the invincible Nanyang God of War was...

Chapter 2704

Slap!

Dean walked forward and kicked Daito to the ground, looking aloof all the while.

“Tell Akio that from now on, Sir York has my support!”

“If he touches Sir York, he’s going against me!”

“Got it?!”

Cold sweat trickled down Daito’s head, drenching it. Frightened, he stumbled his way out.

He knew full well that he was only alive because Dean needed a messenger.

If he didn’t get out immediately, Dean might change his mind and end Daito’s life then and there.

As for how to deal with Harvey, he would have to explain the entire situation to his father first.

He believed that his father, Akio Yashiro, would definitely have the strength to reclaim their dignity.

At the same time, he stole an opportunity to shoot Harvey a cold glare.

The grudges he had for Harvey filled him with hatred.

When the Islanders left, a huge group of people showed up at the entrance.

Members of the Dragon Palace's branch, the Nanyang Gang, and those from Hong Kong and Las Vegas' Longmen branch were there.

Yoana, Katy, Leslie, and Irene showed up as well.

They were all relieved when they saw that Harvey was in one piece.

But as soon as the women looked at each other, fear filled them instantly.

They were all distinguished ladies from the upper social circle. As such, they knew full well that a man like Harvey was extremely hard to come by!

It seemed that everyone was competing to have him!

Harvey's eyes twitched slightly after seeing such a big reunion.

Even the Sword Saint himself wasn't that scary compared to what was happening before him.

Mitchell and Scarlett's expressions changed immediately when they saw Harvey's women show up one after another.

They couldn't accept the fact that Harvey could worm out of the situation unscathed and managed to humiliate them at the same time, all because Dean appeared!

Mitchell grit his teeth loudly and glared scornfully at Harvey. He wanted to kill the man who ended his son's life so badly...

But with Dean there, he wouldn't dare do such a thing.

For the time being, Mitchell's only plan was to get more reinforcements.

He firmly believed that Dean would be completely suppressed if the Elder Group was present.

"It's good that everything's solved. But since I'm here for Sir York, there are some things that need to be straightened out," Dean said calmly.

"Tell the Five Virtues Temple to give Sir York a fair statement about today's incident."

Dean's calm words were enough to seal Scarlett's future.

Her face displayed an ugly look.

She knew full well that at the end of the day, she was just an ordinary disciple of the Five Virtues Temple.

She was only flaunting her strength because of the temple's reputation.

And since a powerful and influential man like Dean demanded a statement from the temple, the temple would surely do as he asked without fail.

The simplest action for the temple would be to abandon Scarlett, who was but a lowly disciple.

In short, Scarlett was done for!

“You can't do this!”

Scarlett's expression turned as cold as ice.

“I didn't do anything wrong, and the same can be said about the Five Virtues Temple!”

“What gives you the right to demand a statement from us?!”

“Because,” Dean replied calmly. “Sir York is my brother.”

“This is a sacred martial arts training ground, where a battle between two countries was held ...”

“Yet not only were you supporting the enemy by abandoning your own dignity...”

“But you were also trying to humiliate Country H's top talent just to please them!”

“In spite of that, you still think you didn't do anything wrong?!”

“If I’m the grandmaster, I would’ve slapped a humiliating disciple like you into oblivion!”

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>

Chapter 2705

“You think you can do whatever you want just because you’re from the Five Virtues Temple?!”

“God is always watching you!”

Scarlett’s expression grew even more horrible. Incensed, she began to scream.

“At the end of the day, this is still none of your business!”

“You’re a God of War, but you’re from Nanyang!”

“Why’s an outsider like you even interfering with Country H’s matters?!”

“I don’t care if you’re going to humiliate other people!” Dean hollered back.

“I don’t care if you want to beat someone’s brains out, either!”

“But if you try to frame and embarrass Harvey, I’ll definitely get myself involved!”

“Are you going to meddle in my business to deal with Country H’s problem?!” Scarlett exclaimed, gritting her teeth.

“Are you really going to go against the Five Virtues Temple and the entire country?!”

“You overestimate yourself, Scarlett.”

“People who conspire with outside forces to shame someone from the country have no right to represent the Five Virtues Temple, let alone the country as a whole!”

“Don’t you feel ashamed for spewing rubbish like that?!”

“As a disciple from a sacred martial arts training ground, you’ve been constantly putting down one of your own while licking the boots of your enemies!”

“After the Head Coach made such a big name for himself during the Euro-American Battlefield, Country H stood on the peak of this world!”

“As someone from Country H, you’re just embarrassing your entire country!”

“I don’t understand why the Five Virtues Temple would even want someone like you as a disciple!”

“Thank goodness you’re not from my country. If you are, you would’ve been dead by now!”

Scarlett gritted her teeth in rage.

“We don’t need a man from Nanyang to teach us how to do things!”

“You don’t have the right!”

Dean scoffed. He couldn’t bother arguing against Scarlett any longer.

Harvey, still aloof, stepped forward.

“Since you said that the Nanyang God of War has no right, I’ll demand a statement from the Five Virtues Temple instead.”

“Today’s battle has shown that both countries clearly have different goals.”

“Mitchell, the head of Longmen’s Law Enforcement, and you, the representative of Country H’s sacred martial arts training ground ...”

“Not only do you disregard the country’s pride ...”

“Not only do you ignore the hearts of your people...”

“Not only are you neglecting right from wrong ...”

“But you’re also helping the enemies’ aspirations while suppressing your own people!”

“In your eyes, the Islanders only lost because I was supposedly using underhanded tricks.”

“But if I were to lose, all of you would've rejoiced by now, wouldn't you?”

“I'm curious. It's been so many years since the Whip Dynasty was destroyed. Why aren't you all standing up for yourselves?”

“Did you get used to kneeling to others?”

“Can people like you represent Longmen and Five Virtues Temple?”

“This must be a joke!”

Scarlett was both fearful and enraged. Yet, she still glared defiantly at Harvey.

“You only won because Dean's supporting you!”

“What are you showing off for?!”

“Everything I’ve done was to protect the relationship between the Island Nations and Country H!”

“A peaceful diplomatic relationship can’t be ruined by some scumbag like you!”

“Can you even bear the consequences of breaking up the two countries?!”

“Don’t try to frame me for anything,” Harvey shot back.

“In this world, there is only hard-fought peace. Peace can’t be earned by begging for mercy, nor can you kneel for it!”

“You can’t stand on your own two feet, yet you’re still hoping for someone else to show you respect?!”

“If everyone from the Five Virtues Temple really is as shameless as you...”

“Then I’ll destroy them myself!”

“A place like that isn’t worthy to be called sacred!”

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>

Chapter 2706

“How dare you, Harvey?!”

“How dare you insult the Five Virtues Temple like that!”

Scarlett was filled with rage.

“You scurry around and use dirty tricks to win your battle! Do you think you’re strong because of that?!”

“Do you think you’re invincible?!”

“Come back when you beat the Island Nations’ God of War fair and square!”

Harvey glanced at Scarlett and threw her a faint smile.

“Are you a complete fool, Scarlett?”

“Whose rule was it that I’m only allowed to fight head-on?”

“Who was the one that said dodging isn’t a skill?”

“If we go by what you said, then if I put this gun on one of their heads, they’re not allowed to dodge it! Right?”

“If they did, it’d be considered witchcraft, right? And for some reason, this is a heinous tactic for you?!”

“Are you insulting your own intelligence or the Islanders’ when you spout garbage like that?!”

“As a representative of the Five Virtues Temple, how do you not understand that speed always wins against all forms of martial arts?”

“Speed is a basic form of martial art! This is my skill!”

“Why is it that when you see it, you call it

witchcraft?”

“What’s the point of you practicing martial arts for so many years?”

“If this is the standard of the Five Virtues Temple, then I suggest you tell your grandmaster to shut it down immediately.”

“This is just embarrassing!”

Harvey flashed her a look of pure disdain.

“Of course, you can say that’s unfair too.”

“If you really think so, then by all means! Expose me to the media, or try to frame me with a bunch of ghostwriters.”

“I’ll wait!”

“But if the Five Virtues Temple doesn’t give me a fair statement after three whole days...”

“I’ll come to you myself!”

Scarlett's eyes twitched frantically. She didn't expect Harvey could be this aggressive.

If it were any other day, she'd still be able to talk her way out of the situation...

But facing Harvey's barrage of insults, she felt utterly helpless.

Besides, Dean Cobb was fully supporting Harvey.

Scarlett wasn't scared of Harvey, but she was terrified of Dean.

The title of Nanyang's God of War wasn't just made up. He clearly earned it!

Slap!

Harvey took a step forward and sent Scarlett flying with a slap across the face.

“Get out of here right now! Stop embarrassing yourself!”

Dean was filled with admiration at Harvey's decisive action.

Seeing Harvey treat someone from the Five Virtues Temple with such dominance was enough proof of his resolve.

Leslie, Yoana, and the others were a little worried, but none of them said anything.

They knew full well that they would've ended up far worse if Harvey was defeated by Miyata.

“How dare you act so arrogantly with someone else's support, Harvey?! When I tell the Elder Group about this, your end will be gruesome!”

Mitchell's eyes twitched uncontrollably after seeing Scarlett's sorry state. He then pointed at Harvey before making a gesture, signaling the other disciples to take Scarlett and leave as quickly as possible.

A wise man knows when to give up. Mitchell didn't have any intention to challenge Harvey, especially when Harvey was getting back-up from a God of War.

The elites of the Longmen's Law Enforcement were brimming full of hate.

They couldn't believe they had to leave after suffering such a big loss. It was truly an embarrassing sight!
