

Chapter 2711

At three o'clock in the morning, when everyone was still sleeping in the dark...

Several Tesla X's stopped quietly in front of the Three Seasons Hotel.

Men and women in black were inside the cars, their faces expressionless.

They sat with their backs straight, their gazes were as cold as ice.

Scarlett was the one leading them. She deliberately changed into a sneaking suit that night, one that clearly showed her enchanting figure.

A shame the people under her were all focused on killing. They couldn't care less about her beauty.

After letting out a small sigh, Scarlett brought out a laptop and checked the data inside.

Other than the rooftop garden, only the presidential suite was on the top floor of the Three Seasons Hotel.

Following Yoana's arrangements, the entire place was filled with elites of the Dragon Palace's branch. They were stationed there to keep Harvey safe.

Harvey, who just had an intense battle against the Sword Saint, must've been terribly exhausted.

If they wanted him dead, now would be the best time.

Scarlett's eyes shone with a cold light. She then glanced at the ancient building in front of her.

There was a vengeful look on her face when she recalled the slap Harvey gave her the other day.

“I’ll make you feel the humiliation I went through, Harvey! I’ll give it back to you tenfold! No, a hundredfold!”

“With the Yorks’ Shadow Guards, I’ll definitely have your head!”

“I’ll rip every single one of your limbs apart and throw you to the fishes! I want you to beg me to kill you!”

According to the rules of the Five Virtues Temple, Scarlett wasn’t allowed to intervene with matters pertaining to outsiders.

But for Vince and her position as the future lady of the Yorks, she disregarded that and gave it her all to complete the task he gave her.

After all, the Five Virtues Temple would most likely give Dean and Harvey a statement after three days.

It would be too late for her to take action if that were to happen.

Only by killing Harvey would she have a chance of survival.

As soon as the cars were parked, Scarlett made a gesture signaling her subordinates.

The killers took out longswords and handguns from the trunks.

At the same time, a man in a suit jogged toward Scarlett from a twenty-four hour cafe.

“M’lady!” he exclaimed, bowing respectfully.

Scarlett was filled with utter joy when she heard his way of address. The last bit of fear and caution in her vanished completely.

Vince must’ve told his subordinates about Scarlett’s new title. What else was there for her to doubt?

In addition, the person in front of her was one of Vince's most trusted subordinates.

She put up a strong front and asked in a whisper, "How is it? Is that bastard still inside the presidential suite?"

"He's always been there. He seems extremely tired as well. I got someone to hack into the hotel's surveillance cameras and saw him ordering a bowl of beef noodles. He slept without even taking a single bite, though. He must've been really exhausted!" the subordinate replied.

"That said, there are at least a dozen elites from the Dragon Palace's branch. These people are pretty strong. We can't underestimate them."

"Their surveillance systems are all completely destroyed, so it shouldn't be hard to get inside. We only need to worry about those elites."

Chapter 2712

The subordinate brought out his phone as he spoke. There was quite a lot of footage inside.

Not only were there clips of Harvey ordering food, he was even seen lying in his room without even putting the drapes on his windows down.

There were also videos of the elites' patrol path, clearly showing their positions.

“Good! Very good!”

“You think you're that great, Harvey?”

“Didn't you beat the Sword Saint and take Head Bauer's place?”

“Why do you seem so tired now?!”

“Without Dean's support, I'd like to see how he can still put up a front!”

Scarlett made another gesture, and everyone got out of their cars in an instant.

Scarlett pointed at two of the team leaders.

“Number One, take a few people with you to get in through the fire exits. Make sure you keep them covered.”

“Number Two, take your people and guard the dedicated elevator. Nobody gets in or out.”

“The rest, come with me to the rooftop garden to deal with those elites!”

“We need that bastard Harvey alive! I want him to suffer!”

“Yes, M'lady!” the Shadow Guards said.

Scarlett was utterly exhilarated by the way they addressed her. Pumped up, she shouted her order.

“Let’s move!”

She held her longsword and entered the Three Seasons Hotel, filled with excitement, resentment, and rage. Despite that, she remained calm.

Since it was three o’clock in the morning, only a few staff on duty were left in the lobby.

None of them were a match for the York family’s elites. They instantly fell to the ground, unconscious, after Scarlett and her subordinates broke through.

Then, they got past several floors worth of security before reaching the rooftop garden.

The entire process was as smooth as butter.

They acted as if they were trained mercenaries.

Throughout the way there, they encountered little to no resistance.

Scarlett's mind was too occupied with Harvey's destruction...

So much that she didn't realize the rooftop garden was just too quiet.

Swish!

There was a strange, quiet whisper. Several Shadow Guards who were tasked to hide in the shadows outside the entrance felt chills down their spine.

Before they could react or make a sound, they were already lying unconscious on the ground.

The others who were in charge of blocking the fire exits and the elevator were met with the same fate.

If it weren't for the piles of blood on the ground, it was hard to believe that these people were dead so suddenly.

Clack!

Edwin calmly locked the entrance after noticing Scarlett's group moving toward the presidential suite.

He seemed highly impressed by Harvey.

'As expected from the Head Coach! The moment he left the Budokan, he had already planned for this. The prey's finally here...'

'He told me smart hunters always like to pretend to be prey...'

'So this is what he meant...'

Edwin chuckled after remembering Harvey's lessons. He then took a step forward with his sword in hand.

"It's the enemy!"

When Scarlett and the others arrived at the presidential suite, the elites who were posted in front started shouting.

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>

Chapter 2713

“Contact Head York right now!”

“Quick! Call the cops!”

The elites stumbled to the inner parts of the building. When Scarlett saw this, she smirked.

‘As expected for Harvey to be this useless!’

‘Even the guards around him are cowards! They didn’t even come at us themselves, but they chose to call the cops?’

‘How useless must they be to say something like that?’

Scarlett wasted no time to swing the longsword in her hand. A cold smile hung on her lips.

“Go!”

Around thirty people unsheathed their longswords from their waists before pouncing forward.

The presidential suite, located at the top of the Three Seasons Hotel, was about a thousand six hundred square feet.

Scarlett and her subordinates surrounded the place in an instant.

At this very moment, she felt that Harvey was just a lone fish in the barrel.

But after suffering so many losses, Scarlett didn't lose her caution completely. She gestured to everyone to pull out their handguns, before pulling out her own and taking the safety off. Then, a few of them wasted no time to kick the door down.

After looking at the elites of the Dragon Palace's branch inside, Scarlett's face revealed a look of conceit.

“Get Harvey out here right now!”

“If not, I’ll kill every single one of you!”

Scarlett displayed the full force of her domineering and fierce attitude.

It was as if she had no choice but to show this side of her, all in order to reclaim the reputation she lost in the Budokan.

It was a shame. Her pupils shrunk before she could even finish talking.

Harvey walked out calmly after pushing the bedroom door open. He then took a seat on the couch casually, not even batting an eye toward Scarlett.

At the same time, an opera song could be heard playing from the living room. The music was truly moving.

But when Scarlett heard the high notes in the background, her expression changed instantly.

“Death on Two Legs?!”

Harvey was surprised. He didn't think that someone who was only good for her looks would have any sort of cultural knowledge

However, Scarlett sensed the ridicule in his eyes and completely lost control.

Rage and fear occupied her mind. She raised her gun and screamed furiously at Harvey.

“Kill them! Do it now!”

“Kill every last one of them! Leave Harvey alive!”

At Scarlett's order, the Shadow Guards pounced forward, swords in hand.

Alas, the massacre did not end the way Scarlett imagined.

The seemingly frightened elites went back to Harvey.

Right behind Scarlett, a man with a sword approached her calmly.

The moment the Shadow Guards looked back, they were filled with shock. Their comrades were all lying in a pool of blood.

Their brothers and sisters died in an instant without making a single sound...

The Shadow Guards were filled with horror. Their only instinct was to turn around and run.

Swish!

Before they could react, Edwin already took a step forward and appeared in front of them in a flash. Without hesitating, he swung his sword.

Chapter 2714

A Shadow Guard swung his sword forward with all his might.

Clang!

Edwin did not try to dodge. He used both hands to swing his sword again. As he did so, a bright light resembling the moon's glare flashed in the air.

The Shadow Guard's longsword split in half. Almost instantly, red spread all over his throat.

The others gasped in horror at the terrifying sight. They instinctively tried to back away and use their firearms.

Bang, bang, bang!

Edwin slashed forward, emotionless.

The Shadow Guards didn't get a chance to run away, even with their firearms. Every single one of them covered their throats, eyes filled with disbelief, before falling flat on the ground.

Edwin was unimaginably powerful.

Dealing with so many experts with such ease wasn't something an ordinary King of Arms could do.

At this very moment, Edwin had finally stepped into the realm of being a God of War.

After dealing with the guards, Edwin didn't continue his rampage. He only glanced at Scarlett with a mocking look.

The entire place was dead silent once again.

“Edwin!” Scarlet screamed furiously, glaring at Edwin.

“How dare you?!”

“How dare you kill so many of my men?”

“Do you know who these people are?!”

“Do you want to stay in Hong Kong and Las Vegas or not?”

“Is your family prepared to die with this bastard?!”

“You have a death wish!”

Scarlett was boiling with anger.

These people were all elites Vince provided for her. Scarlett was extremely satisfied when they addressed her as “M’lady.”

She was even thinking of rewarding them as soon as she became the lady of the York family...

Yet, they were all killed off in an instant.

Edwin snapped his fingers without giving any reply. Footsteps could be heard from outside the room right after.

Corpses were thrown in, and the elites from the Dragon Palace's branch, armed with firearms, blocked every single escape route possible.

At this moment, Scarlett's power was completely robbed away from her.

She grew frantic, but couldn't help herself and blurted out...

“Tell me! Who betrayed me?!”

“Betrayed you?”

Harvey almost let out a laugh as he sipped his tea.

“You really think you're worth betraying?”

Harvey flashed her a disdainful look.

“A dumb woman like you can only be someone else's scapegoat. You're not even worthy of being betrayed!”

“But since you’re here, I won’t have to do as much.”

“Not only was the great disciple of the Five Virtues Temple conspiring with the enemy, she even brought a huge group of killers to assassinate me!”

“I’m afraid the Five Virtues Temple will have to give me a statement for this as well.”

Scarlett’s mouth and eyes twitched frantically at those words.

“Everything I did had nothing to do with the Five Virtues Temple!” she snarled.

“I’m just pissed off because you had Dean’s support!”

“That’s it!”

“I’m impressed, Harvey. I can’t believe you’re actually this much of a kept man! You must be the one and only in the entire world!”

“Yoana planned for all this, didn’t she?”

“She knew I’d come for you, so she got her dear brother to protect you!”

“She loves you so dearly, yet you have so many women around you?!”

“You’ve really let her down!”

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>