

Chapter 2715

Scarlett only saw Harvey as a useless kept man.

Thus, she thought that she had a chance to make a comeback if she could break up Harvey and Yoana.

Harvey chuckled, amused.

“You can’t possibly think there’s a point to agitate me with those words, right?” he asked coolly.

“If I wanted you dead, you would’ve been dead by now. Why would I keep you waiting?”

“What the hell do you want?!”

Scarlett’s expression changed slightly.

“Simple. Tell me who ordered you to kill me. I’ll need to have a word with whoever that is.”

Harvey smiled.

“I know that it’s most likely that idiot Vince...”

“But if you want to let the Five Virtues Temple take the blame, I don’t have any objections either.”

“After all, I’ve been thinking about visiting them for a long time now.”

Harvey appeared calm and casual.

Scarlett’s expression changed immediately.

“You’re trying to hurt Vince?!”

Harvey laughed again.

“What’s with that surprise? He’s been sending so many people after me. It’s only natural I get him back, right?”

“That said, you really are one poor woman.”

“Not only did he play with your body, but you also had to be his scapegoat. You’re planning to betray your own master for a man that doesn’t even care about you?”

“I’m curious, Scarlett. What did Vince promise you to make you so loyal?”

“Did he promise you his love, saying that he only has you in his heart? Or did he promise you the position as the lady of the York family?”

“Don’t you think you’re terribly dumb for believing his words? Aren’t you just stupid?”

Scarlett’s eyes twitched uncontrollably after hearing Harvey’s taunts.

Harvey seemed to have seen through everything. Every single word pierced Scarlett’s heart, making her doubt everything that she had done before.

Seeing her doubt herself while fear slowly filled her, Harvey clapped his hands softly.

“Alright. The sun’s almost up. I have to drink my morning tea.”

“I’ll give you one minute to make up your mind.”

“Are you going to call out the Five Virtues Temple, or the Yorks from Hong Kong?”

“I’m fine with either.”

Scarlett’s eyes twitched. In a fit of anger, she stomped on the ground. Shattered tiles flew all over the place immediately after.

The elites instinctively dodged them.

Smoke and dust thickened the air. Scarlett took advantage of this and leapt toward Harvey, aiming her gun at him.

“If I kill you, no one will need a statement!” she screamed.

Bang!

Scarlett pulled the trigger, her beautiful face twisted in a look of wretched fury.

Clack!

A shame she missed completely.

Before she could pull the trigger again, Harvey's hand was already on the warm barrel.

The barrel slowly turned toward Scarlett's head. Fear colored her face.

“Talk.”

“Who ordered you to do this?”

“Or rather, are you ready to sell out your training ground or your man?”

“Maybe even both?”

“Neither!”

Scarlett shot him a hateful look, her face ugly and horrid. She pulled the trigger again, determination coloring her eyes.

Bang!

A pool of red splashed all over the place.

Chapter 2716

When Yoana arrived with her subordinates at the hotel, the place was already cleaned up. Even the blood between the floor tiles was long gone.

Air fresheners had been mixed in the air along with the scent of sunlight, covering up quite a bit of murderous intent and the blood that had seeped in the air.

In the garden, a long table filled with pastries stood in front of Harvey. The smell alone was refreshing and hunger-inducing.

Harvey had no appetite for food, but he was calmly sipping his black tea.

He gestured to Yoana to sit down after seeing her arrival.

Harvey met quite a lot of women in both Hong Kong and Las Vegas. Zina, Leslie, Irene, and many others...

But out of every single one of them, only Yoana could be considered to be his most trusted comrade.

Yoana was very decisive in her actions. Harvey admired that fact.

It was also why only people of the Dragon Palace's branch showed up to help.

Harvey believed Yoana would be able to deal with the situation properly, without him having to worry about anything.

“What do you think about what happened yesterday?” Harvey asked calmly before pouring Yoana a cup of tea.

Yoana didn't hesitate to answer him.

“You shouldn't have killed Scarlett, Sir York.”

“I didn't, though.”

Harvey shrugged.

“She killed herself. She wanted to die for what she believed in. Nobody could stop her.”

“Everyone here can vouch for me.”

Yoana sighed.

“All of them are our people. Their testimonies have no worth.”

“The surveillance systems were all completely hacked, too. At this point, we can't prove that you didn't kill Scarlett at this point.”

Harvey smiled.

“What?”

“Are Vince and the Five Virtues Temple going to call the cops on me?”

“Are they planning to deal with me using the law?”

Yoana massaged her temples, frowning.

“If they’re only planning to use the cops, there wouldn’t be a problem for us.”

“But after Scarlett’s death, it’ll be hard to find proof that Vince was the one who coerced the Sword Saint into challenging you.”

“Don’t we still have Mitchell?” Harvey asked.

“He’s dead.”

Yoana’s face was ugly.

“He died in prison last night after leaving his last words. He wrote that he’s always been loyal to Longmen, and that the organization would die in your hands sooner or later.”

“He’s a small fry, but he’s still willing to die for his cause.”

Yoana pulled out the letter Mitchell had written and set it in front of Harvey. The letter was filled with words of confidence, along with blatant threats.

After reading it for a moment, Harvey flicked the paper and turned it into dust.

He glanced at Edwin and said, “Send word to Longmen’s Law Enforcement. Tell everyone that Mitchell ended his own life for fear of his impending punishment, and that he listed every single person that he conspired with on a piece of paper.”

“Tell them that if anyone from Longmen’s Law Enforcement turns themselves in, they’ll be given lenient punishment.”

“And if they resist, then they should dig themselves a hole to lie in first.”

“Of course!”

Edwin swiftly carried out Harvey's order.

Several Longmen disciples followed him, guaranteeing that the message would be sent to Rachel and the rest as soon as possible.

Yoana was shocked by Harvey's decisiveness. He was extremely quick to come up with a plan to deal with such trouble.

No matter how Mitchell died...

Harvey would still be able to use the opportunity to take control of Longmen's Law Enforcement while also establishing his dominance within the organization.

It didn't matter if Mitchell ended his own life, or if someone else got to him first. At this very moment, none of that mattered...

Chapter 2717

”We’re done with Mitchell, but regarding Scarlett...”

Yoana knew Harvey had a way to fix this, but she still had to say it.

“Everyone knows Vince is involved in this,” Harvey said calmly.

“But there’s no point looking for him with this corpse.”

“Judging from what we know about him, he’s definitely a shallow man who says whatever that benefits him. He won’t confess.”

“He might even turn around and frame all of us while he’s at it. There’ll be bigger trouble if that happens.”

“So, you mean...”

Yoana frowned while her eyes frantically twitched.

She had figured out what Harvey wanted to do, but the knowledge left her shocked.

Harvey flicked a USB from his hand onto Scarlett's corpse. "Even though the surveillance systems are completely destroyed, one of ours happened to take a video proving that Scarlett killed herself."

"We'll send the corpse right to the Five Virtues Temple and upload the video."

"I think they'll give us a fair statement soon enough."

Harvey appeared calm, but Yoana was filled with joy.

If the footage were to be uploaded, the Five Virtues Temple's reputation would suffer a huge blow.

Judging from how they worked, they definitely wouldn't rest until the situation was resolved.

Harvey was the victim of the incident. Unless the Five Virtues Temple was unwilling, they would surely go for the instigator.

And since the instigator went against the Five Virtues Temple, it would be extremely hard for Vince to sit as the head of the Yorks.

No longer hesitant, Yoana flashed Harvey a warm smile.

“What a well-laid plan, Sir York.”

“I'm impressed.”

Harvey poured her another cup of tea.

“Hurry and finish up your business,” he said.

“I have to treat another person to a meal soon.”

Yoana froze slightly.

“You’re treating someone? Who?”

She didn’t understand why Harvey would still have the urge to treat someone for food after all that had happened.

Or rather, who in Hong Kong or Las Vegas even had the right to be asked out by this man?

Harvey took out his phone and showed a picture of an elegant woman in a gown.

The woman was nearing her forties, though her face had little to no wrinkles.

Yoana’s jaw hung when she saw the picture.

“The current lady of the Yorks, Selena Judd?!”

“That’s her,” Harvey said.

“Not only is she the current lady of the family,

she's also the lady of Wolsing's Judd family.”

“I think it's time for us to meet.”

Yoana was distressed.

“Why, Sir York?”

“Lady Judd isn't someone we can meet as we please.”

“I heard that even for the Yorks, only a few have the right to see her.”

“And because she doesn't have an heir, Madam York has been trying to force Vince under her Lady Judd's name so he can be the next head of the family.”

“That's why the Yorks from Hong Kong, Madam York, and even Vince are treating Lady Judd's home like a forbidden area.”

“If anyone dares to even get close, they'll be killed on the spot!”

“It’ll be hard for anyone to see her!”

“Even if it’s us, we won’t be able to do it. In the first place, we can’t even get close to her home ...”

Chapter 2718

“Why should we get close, and not the other way around?” Harvey said, still calm.

“Help me send an invitation to her, saying that the prince of South Light is asking Lady Judd out for a meal.”

Yoana froze slightly at Harvey’s look of determination.

She couldn’t help but frown.

“I don’t understand why we need to see Selena at such a crucial moment, Harvey.”

“Because it’s almost Madam York’s birthday, the Yorks have been keeping a close eye on Lady Judd. She won’t be allowed to go anywhere.”

“They need to make sure that she’ll acknowledge Vince as her son.”

“Forgive me for being frank, but you’re only challenging the Yorks from Hong Kong by inviting Lady Judd out right now.”

“I don’t recommend this.”

“It doesn’t matter,” Harvey replied.

“Even if we do nothing, that doesn’t stop Vince from trying to kill us.”

“Precisely because of Madam York’s birthday that he might not do anything rash, all so he can keep his position.”

“But once he rises to power, he’ll definitely come at me with all his might.”

Harvey shrugged. He had seen through everything.

“So, you mean...” Yoana trailed.

“If I remember correctly, the Yorks from South

Light are also a branch of the Yorks from Hong Kong,” Harvey said.

“As the prince of South Light, I’m only asking Lady Judd to have a meal after coming here for so long.”

“That’s completely reasonable, right?”

“I guess.”

Yoana chuckled bitterly.

“That said, Vince is about to get a huge headache ...”

Yoana started pitying Vince.

From the very start, Harvey wasn’t interested in the Yorks of Hong Kong.

Yet Vince kept provoking him without fail, giving him the urge to take the initiative.

Plus, Harvey and Selena meeting was something that Vince would never allow.

After all, Yoana could more or less figure out if the so-called prince of South Light had any connection with the Yorks from Hong Kong.

“He’ll be fine,” Harvey said.

“This is his territory, after all.”

“If I take action, judging from his power and identity, he’ll surely get tons of people to cause me trouble.”

Yoana sighed. At this point, she stopped trying to convince Harvey.

Because of the Longmen Budokan’s incident, Vince’s actions to conspire with the enemy had most likely crossed Harvey’s bottom line.

Other than venting out his anger, Harvey probably didn’t want an ancient family like the Yorks to fall into the hands of a scumbag like Vince.

Right when Yoana was pitying Vince's self-made mishaps, Harvey's phone suddenly rang.

This was an unknown number, an untraceable number without an origin.

A text was sent through this very number.

"Vince is planning to kill Helena Hoffman." 1

Harvey's pupils shrunk after seeing the message. He was confused.

Immediately after he decided to go for Selena Judd, someone sent a text like this to him...

What did this mean?!

Was there another force other than Vince in Hong Kong or Las Vegas who was trying to get ahold of power?!
